<sup>7</sup>“For the LORD your God has blessed you in all the work of your hand. He knows your <sup>2</sup>trudging through this great wilderness. <sup>8</sup>These forty years the LORD your God has been with you; you have lacked nothing.”

<sup>16</sup>“So it was, when all the men of war had finally perished from among the people, <sup>17</sup>that the LORD spoke to me, saying: <sup>18</sup>‘This day you are to cross over at Ar, regret but not true repentance. we will go up and fight: Their confidence was in themselves. They still would not follow God’s commands.

1:42, 43 I am not among you: The Lord would not protect them. Therefore, victory was out of the question. presumptuously: The people were arrogant. They did not submit to the Lord.

1:44, 45 As bees do is an expression that signifies alarming pursuit by a swarm of menacing enemies (ex. 23:28; ps. 118:12; is. 7:18).

Hormah, a name meaning “destruction,” probably refers to a site south of the Amorite hill country by Kadesh Barnea that came to be called subsequently by that name. wept: The tears were of regret, not repentance.

2:2 the LORD spoke to me: We see regularly in Genesis through deuteronomy that Moses reported God’s very words to him.

2:4 The descendants of Esau are the edomites (Gen. 36:1-8).

2:5 I have given . . . to Esau: God had extended His blessing to the edomites by giving them land, just as He was about to give Israel the promised land. All lands are His to give and to take (ex. 19:5; ps. 50:12).

2:6 The Israelites could not take food or water by force, beg for it, or steal it. God demanded that they pay the expenses of their journey through Edom. The term money indicates not coinage but silver that was weighed out.

2:8 Away from Elath and Ezion Geber refers to turning away from the way of the Red Sea, on which these cities were located.

The Wilderness of Moab was the area east of Moab (n um. 33:44).

2:9 The Moabites were related to the Israelites through Lot (see Gen. 19:37). Ar is a synonym for the region of Moab. The Lord had given land to both Edom and Moab. However, His principal gift of land was to Israel. (God had also made provision for the people of Ammon, v. 19.)

2:13 The Valley of the Zered was east of the Dead Sea at the border between Edom and Moab.

2:15 When God saved His people, it was by His hand (ex. 15:6). Sadly, it was by His hand that He brought judgment on them as well. The term hand suggests God’s personal involvement in both acts of deliverance and chastening. until they were consumed: The Lord is a consuming fire (Heb. 12:29), by whom the generation perished (Jude 5).

the boundary of Moab. <sup>19</sup>And when you come near the people of Ammon, do not harass them or meddle with them, for I will not give you any of the land of the people of Ammon as a possession, because I have given it to s the descendants of Lot as a possession.”

<sup>20</sup>(That was also regarded as a land of g giants; giants formerly dwelt there. But the Ammonites call them t Zamzummin, <sup>21</sup>u a people as great and numerous and tall as the Anakim. But the LORD destroyed them before them, and they dispossessed them and dwelt in their place, <sup>22</sup>just as He had done for the descendants of Esau, v who dwelt in Seir, when He destroyed w the Horites from before them. They dispossessed them and dwelt in their place, even to this day. <sup>23</sup>And x the Avim, who dwelt in villages as far as Gaza—y the Caphtorim, who came from Caphtor, destroyed them and dwelt in their place.)

<sup>24</sup>“Rise, take your journey, and z cross over the River Arnon. Look, I have given into your hand a Sihon the Amorite, king of Heshbon, and his land. Begin g to possess it, and engage him in battle. <sup>25</sup>b This day I will begin to put the dread and fear of you upon the nations l under the whole heaven, who shall hear the report of you, and shall c tremble and be in anguish because of you.”

King Sihon Defeated

King Og Defeated

3 “Then we turned and went up the road to Bashan; and a Og king of Bashan came out against us, he and all his people, to battle b at Edrei. <sup>2</sup>And the LORD said to me, ‘Do not fear him, for I have delivered him and all his people and his land into your hand; you shall do

2:20 The Zamzummin were a people who lived in the Ammonite territory, possibly the Zuzim (Gen. 14:5).

2:23 The Avim lived in villages between the Jordan and the Mediterranean coast. Gaza was a philistine city on the Mediterranean coast. The Caphtorim were a group of the tribes that came by sea to the coasts of canaan and egypt. Caphtor is possibly the same as crete (see Gen. 10:14).

2:24 The River Arnon was the traditional border between Moab and Ammon. Heshbon refers both to the city and the territory ruled by sihon.

2:25 The mighty acts of God through israel would fill the nations with dread and fear (ex. 15:14–16; Josh. 2:9). The deliverance of israel from egypt and God’s subsequent acts of protection were known abroad. The fear of the nations would soften them for the time of conquest. But the dissemination of knowledge about God’s works would glorify Him (4:6).

2:26 The Wilderness of Kedemoth was a desert within the territory of sihon, located on its eastern border, east of the dead sea. words of peace: israel made an offer of peaceful passage (vv. 27–29).

2:31, 32 Jahaz was located north of Kedemoth (is. 15:4).

2:33 our God delivered . . . we defeated him: God gave israel the victory, but the israelites still had to fight courageously.

2:34, 35 By the law of the ban, every living thing, human and animal, was to be utterly destroyed—that is, put to death (7:1, 2; 20:17). exceptions could be made, but only when permitted by the Lord. in this case, the israelites took livestock and property as spoil. The ban included fighting men and civilians, males and females, adults and children. God used the people of israel to punish the canaanites for their continual wickedness through the generations. further, the destruction of the canaanites was designed to protect israel from following the canaanites’ evil practices. israel’s failure to destroy all of the canaanites in the subsequent conquests led finally to their own undoing.

2:36, 37 Aroer was a city on the northern bank of the river Arnon at the border between sihon’s territory and the Moabite kingdom. Gilead was the northern boundary of sihon’s kingdom. Jabbok was the river Jacob crossed on his way back to canaan (Gen. 32:22).

3:1–3 Bashan was the region east of the sea of Galilee. Og: The territory of og may have extended south of the river Yarmuk into Gilead. The account of the victory over og is similar to that of sihon (2:26–37), but significantly shorter.

to him as you did to ‘Sihon king of the Amorites, who dwelt at Heshbon.’

<sup>3</sup>“So the LORD our God also delivered into our hands Og king of Bashan, with all his people, and we <sup>1</sup>attacked him until he had no survivors remaining. <sup>4</sup>And we took all his cities at that time; there was not a city which we did not take from them: sixty cities, <sup>d</sup>all the region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan. <sup>5</sup>All these cities were fortified with high walls, gates, and bars, besides a great many rural towns. <sup>6</sup>And we utterly destroyed them, as we did to Sihon king <sup>e</sup>of Heshbon, utterly destroying the men, women, and children of every city. <sup>7</sup>But all the livestock and the spoil of the cities we took as booty for ourselves.

The Land East of the Jordan Divided

Then each of you may <sup>b</sup>return to his possession which I have given you.’

<sup>21</sup>“And <sup>c</sup>I commanded Joshua at that time, saying, ‘Your eyes have seen all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings; so will the LORD do to all the kingdoms through which you pass. <sup>22</sup>You must not fear them, for <sup>d</sup>the LORD your God Himself fights for you.’

Moses Forbidden to Enter the Land

3:8 The territory of Sihon and Og extended from the River Arnon to Mount Hermon (2:24—3:7). Mount Hermon is the mountain range in the north between Canaan and Lebanon.

3:9–11 The Sidonians were the Phoenicians. Salcah was a city located at the eastern border of Bashan. Bedstead could also be translated “sarcophagus,” that is, stone coffin. Rabbah was on the site of the capital of modern Jordan, Amman. Nine cubits is about 13 feet, and four cubits is about 6 feet, according to the standard cubit (about 18 inches).

3:14 Jair had captured these settlements (num. 32:41). The Geshurites lived east of the sea of Galilee and south of Mt. Hermon. The Maachathites were descended from Abraham’s brother Nahor (Gen. 22:24) and lived north of the Geshurites.

3:15–17 The northernmost section of Gilead was given to Machir (num. 32:39), son of Manasseh (Gen. 50:23). The southern section was given to Reuben and Gad. Chinnereth is another name for the sea of Galilee.

3:18, 19 The LORD . . . has given: The text regularly emphasizes that the land was God’s gift (1:39). men of valor: Women, children, and animals were not to be put in danger during the conquest. The battle would be fought by armed men under the command of God (ex. 15:3).

3:21 Joshua, as one of the original spies (num. 13; 14), had a great advantage. Along with Caleb, he had seen the land, had spied it out, and would be able to use his knowledge to prepare his military strategy. Joshua also had witnessed the victories the LORD had given east of the Jordan. Those experiences encouraged him when he led the Israelites across the river.

3:22 your God Himself fights: The LORD is the divine Warrior who delivers and fights for His faithful people (ex. 15:3).

3:23 Moses pleaded with God. But God refused to answer Moses’ prayer, not because Moses lacked faith, but because Moses had disobeyed God and had not treated Him as holy (num. 20:12).

3:24 O Lord God: The Hebrew has the word for “lord” or “Master” followed by the personal name of God, Yahweh. This phrase indicates the depth of Moses’ relationship with the LORD (9:26). what god is there . . . mighty deeds: Moses began his prayer with praise for God’s holiness and power (ex. 15:11). God is incomparable; there is none like Him (is. 40:25, 26).

who can do anything like Your works and Your mighty deeds?<sup>25</sup> I pray, let me cross over and see <sup>h</sup>the good land beyond the Jordan, those pleasant mountains, and Lebanon.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>26</sup>“But the LORD <sup>i</sup>was angry with me on your account, and would not listen to me. So the LORD said to me: ‘Enough of that! Speak no more to Me of this matter.’<sup>27j</sup> Go up to the top of Pisgah, and lift your eyes toward the west, the north, the south, and the east; behold it with your eyes, for you shall not cross over this Jordan.<sup>28</sup> But <sup>k</sup>command <sup>6</sup>Joshua, and encourage him and strengthen him; for he shall go over before this people, and he shall cause them to inherit the land which you will see.<sup>2</sup>

3:25 let me cross over: The verb is charged with energy expressing Moses’ deep emotion. Moses did not ask that Joshua be removed as leader of the nation. He merely requested to see the land that God had promised. The good land is a lovely expression for the land that God had promised His people (4:21).

3:26–28 Enough: God ordered Moses not to ask Him about it again. But God showed His mercy to Moses by showing him the land from a distance (34:1–3). Moses was not to wallow in self-pity, but was to encourage Joshua as his replacement in leading the israelites.

3:29 Beth Peor was a pagan site dedicated to Baal of peor (num. 25:3, 5) and was the scene of israel’s first disastrous encounter with the sexually-centered worship of Baal (4:3).

4:1 The exhortation to listen includes an encouragement to obey (5:1; 6:3, 4; 9:1; 20:3; 27:9). you may live: in contrast, Moses could not enter the land (v. 22). But for the people, God’s gift of His I law was designed for their good. By obeying the I law, the people could experience a fruitful life (6:1–3).

4:2 not add . . . nor take from it: The israelites had to learn to live by God’s word without trying to justify their disobedience or explaining away God’s clear commands (r ev. 22:18, 19).

4:3 Baal Peor: see 3:29. Twenty-four thousand were executed there by plague (num. 25:9). That name reminded the israelites of the terror of God’s judgment.

4:5 Moses was the mediator of God’s word, not its originator (compare 2 pet. 1:20, 21). my God commanded me: Throughout deuteronomy, Moses always deferred to the I ord as the source of his message.

4:6–8 in the sight of the peoples: By living in obedience to God,

Important Commands in Deuteronomy

God is to us, for whatever reason we may call upon Him?<sup>8</sup> And what great nation is there that has such statutes and righteous judgments as are in all this law which I set before you this day?<sup>9</sup> Only take heed to yourself, and diligently <sup>g</sup>keep yourself, lest you <sup>h</sup>forget the things your eyes have seen, and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life. And <sup>i</sup>teach them to your children and your grandchildren,<sup>10</sup> especially concerning <sup>j</sup>the day you stood before the LORD your God in Horeb, when the LORD said to me, ‘Gather the people to Me, and I will let them hear My words, that they may learn to fear Me all the days they live on the earth, and that they may teach their children.’

<sup>11</sup>“Then you came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, and the mountain burned with fire to the midst of heaven, with darkness, cloud, and thick darkness.<sup>12</sup> <sup>k</sup>And the LORD spoke to you out of the midst of the fire. You heard the sound of the words, but saw no <sup>l</sup>form; <sup>m</sup>you only heard a voice.<sup>13</sup> <sup>n</sup>So He declared to you His covenant which He commanded you to perform, <sup>o</sup>the Ten Commandments; and <sup>p</sup>He wrote them on two tablets of stone.<sup>14</sup> And <sup>q</sup>the LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, that you might <sup>r</sup>observe them in the land which you cross over to possess.

israel would become a countercultural force by its manner of life, government, and society (see r om. 12:2). God’s blessings on israel would cause the nations to seek to learn about Him. since God was so near and had promised to respond to their prayers, the israelites could approach the Lord with all kinds of requests. statutes . . . judgments: I living so close to God meant that the israelites were especially obligated to live for Him, in the way revealed in His covenant with them.

4:9 Moses warned against the sin of presumption. your eyes have seen: The people had witnessed God’s redemption, His revelation, and the giving of His gracious covenant. now, they had to adhere to the covenantal regulations and teach their children the story of God’s saving acts and His promises to israel. Heart refers to the center of one’s being, the source of direction for one’s thoughts, actions, and speech (Matt. 12:34; 15:18, 19).

4:10 My words are the Ten commandments (v. 13).

4:11 The appearance of God is often described as accompanied by darkness and fire (ex. 19:18). The fire speaks of His holiness, majesty, and transcendence, but also of His judgment against evil (v. 24). The darkness speaks of His unapproachable nature, of our sin, and of the possibility of impending judgment.

4:12 heard . . . but saw no form: The Lord revealed His glory to the israelites, but they saw no visual image other than darkness and fire. They did hear God’s voice, however (v. 15). This verse reminds us that God is spirit (John 4:24).

4:13 obedience to God’s commandments was an expression of loyalty to and love for the Lord who had initiated a covenant with israel. The Ten Commandments were given in the form of two tablets of stone (ex. 31:18), each containing a full and complete copy of the commandments.

4:14 teach: Moses mediated God’s revelation to the people. As their teacher, he applied the law (ex. 20:19).

4:15, 16 There was no way of describing or of giving shape with any image to the experience of God’s presence at sinai (ex. 20:18). since israel had not seen the form of God, they could not represent Him in any way. likeness of male or female: Although people were created in the likeness of God, no image created in human likeness could represent God (Gen. 1:26, 27).

4:17–19 likeness of any animal: Animals were created by God (Gen. 1:20–25). They cannot serve as a medium for spiritual awareness or as a representation for God. sun . . . host of heaven: furthermore, heavenly bodies were created by God. They could not serve as representation of the creator (Gen. 1:14–19; ps. 19:1).

4:20 This verse forms a “slogan of redemption.” taken you and brought you: God chose israel to be His people and to have a covenant with Him. Iron furnace refers to the period of affliction in egypt (is. 48:10; Jer. 11:4). inheritance: The people redeemed by the Lord belonged to Him and had a glorious future with Him.

4:21, 22 I must die: How hard these words must have been for Moses! He had to encourage the people to enter the same land which he himself would not enter.

4:24 God is a consuming fire. He is free to destroy disobedient and rebellious people. israel had witnessed His righteous anger during the wilderness journey as well as in canaan (Heb. 12:29). Jealous may also be translated as “zealous.” God is zealous for His holiness. Both in His wrath and in His love, the Lord remains holy.

4:25 Children and grandchildren is a reference to a future rebellion, when a generation would disobey the Lord.

4:26 Heaven and earth signifies all creation. witness against you: creation would act as God's witness against a rebellious and obstinate people (30:19; is. 1:2). utterly perish . . . be utterly destroyed: The curses of the covenant would overtake the israelites (ps. 1:6). The Lord would discipline them and exile them from the land.

4:27 Scatter you among the peoples is a prophetic warning of the exiles that would take place in 722 and 586 B.C.

4:28, 29 Moses warned against the folly of idolatry. Neither see . . . nor smell declares the impotence of idols (see ps. 115:6; is. 40:19, 20; 41:7, 22-24). These "gods" were not merely lesser gods. They did not exist at all; they were dead. Hence turning from the living God to false, nonexistent "gods" was in effect moving from life to death (1 Thess. 1:9, 10). But seeking the living God and Him alone brought life.

4:30 All these things refers to the curses of the covenant. The latter days simply means "in the future." But the prophets developed this phrase into a more technical designation for a new era characterized by God's blessings, the age of Messiah. turn to the LORD: God would bless the nation when they returned to Him.

4:31 merciful God: The future of God's people depends on God's love. The emphasis on God's mercy in this verse is a necessary balance to the emphasis that Moses placed on God's refining wrath (v. 24). not forsake . . . nor forget: The Lord was free to scatter His people. But after His discipline, He would regather them and show them His favor. God was and is faithful to His promises. The covenant of your fathers is God's solemn commitment to fulfill the promises He made to the patriarchs (Gen. 17:6-8; 22:16, 17; ex. 3:15-17).

4:32-34 The creator of all the earth is the same God who spoke to the israelites at Mt. Sinai. By trials . . . and by great terrors, the creator had demonstrated His power in Egypt and had used it to save the israelites.

4:35 there is none other besides Him: Moses emphasizes the theme that the living God is the only one there is (see 4:39; 5:7; 6:4; 32:39).

4:36 God's revelation to the israelites was intended to graciously instruct, guide, and discipline the israelites in the way of righteousness (compare 2 Tim. 3:16, 17).

4:38 nations greater and mightier: The scriptures have two different ways of regarding the size of the nation of Israel at the time of the exodus. God is praised for the miraculous growth of Israel's family during their sojourn in Egypt (ex. 1:7, 9, 10). On the other hand, the nation of Israel is described as small in number compared to the other nations around her. Hence, God deserves the glory for Israel's victories.

4:39 God in heaven . . . there is no other: since no other God was ## evil

(Heb. ra') (4:25; Gen. 2:9; Job 1:1; ps. 141:4; Jer. 3:5; 4:14) strong's #7451

evil is primarily a force that opposes God and His work of righteousness in the world (rom. 7:8-19). The word is also used for any disturbance to the harmonious order of the universe, such as disease (ps. 41:8). But the Bible makes it plain that even these so-called "physical evils" are the result of a far more serious moral and spiritual evil that began with the fall of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden (Gen. 3). evil comes from the hearts of people (Mark 7:20-23), but the ultimate source of evil in the world is Satan (Matt. 13:19; 1 uke 8:12). The Christian believer can rest assured that Jesus will triumph at the end of time, when Satan will be cast into a lake of fire and brimstone and evil will be overcome (r ev. 20:10).

is God in heaven above and on the earth beneath; there is no other. <sup>40f</sup>You shall therefore keep His statutes and His commandments which I command you today, that <sup>3</sup>it may go well with you and with your children after you, and that you may <sup>4</sup>prolong your days in the land which the LORD your God is giving you for all time.”

Cities of Refuge East of the Jordan

<sup>41</sup>Then Moses <sup>g</sup>set apart three cities on this side of the Jordan, toward the rising of the sun, <sup>42h</sup>that the manslayer might flee there, who kills his neighbor unintentionally, without having hated him in time past, and that by fleeing to one of these cities he might live: <sup>43i</sup>Bezer in the wilderness on the plateau for the Reubenites, Ramoth in Gilead for the Gadites, and Golan in Bashan for the Manassites.

Introduction to God's Law

The Ten Commandments Reviewed

5 And Moses called all Israel, and said to them: “Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your hearing today, that you may learn them and be careful to observe them. <sup>2a</sup>The LORD our God made a covenant with us in Horeb. <sup>3</sup>The LORD <sup>b</sup>did not make this covenant with our fathers, but with us, those who are here today, all of us who are alive. <sup>4c</sup>The LORD talked with you face to face on the mountain from the midst of the fire. <sup>5d</sup>I stood between the LORD and you at that time, to declare to you the word of the LORD; for <sup>e</sup>you were afraid because of the fire, and you did not go up the mountain. He said:

- <sup>6</sup> f ‘I am the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of <sup>1</sup>bondage.
<sup>8</sup> h ‘You shall not make for yourself a carved image—any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth; <sup>9</sup>you shall not <sup>i</sup>bow<sup>3</sup> down to them nor serve them. For I, the creator, Lord of history, Teacher, and the Lover of His people, Israel had to respond to God alone.

4:40 The promise of blessing in the land was conditional—it required obedience (5:29; 6:24; 14:23; 19:9; 28:29, 33).

4:41–43 The regulations concerning the cities to which a person guilty of manslaughter could flee are further developed in 19:1–13. The narrative concerning the division of the land (3:12–20) resumes with the appointment of the three cities of refuge east of the Jordan (num. 35:9–28; Josh. 20). Ramoth was located between the Yarmuk and the Jabbok in Gilead. The locations of Bezer and Golan are uncertain.

4:44 The law refers to the commandments detailed in chs. 5–26. Law basically means “instruction.” God points out the path of righteousness for His covenant people.

4:45 These are . . . the judgments: This law is the same as that given to the previous generation at Mt. Sinai. Deuteronomy is a second delivery of the law to those who would occupy the land.

4:46–49 in the land of Sihon . . . of Og: Israel had recently acquired this land east of the Jordan and was now preparing to cross the river and enter Canaan.

5:3, 4 Did not make this covenant with our fathers, but with us emphasizes the privileged position of the present generation as they were preparing to enter Canaan. Face to face indicates intimacy. Moses stressed the special relationship the people had with the living God.

5:5 I stood between the Lord and you reflects Moses’ role as mediator of the covenant (ex. 20:18–21).

5:7 no other gods: Many ancient Middle Eastern cultures absorbed other gods into their own belief systems, modifying and using these new gods for their own purposes. But the Israelites were unique: They served only one God, who would not allow any rivals.

5:8–10 even when an image functioned as a symbol for deity, it led worshipers away from the true worship of the living God. visiting the iniquity: God would discipline the sinner. to the third and fourth generations: even as God would bless generation upon #### statutes

(Heb. choq) (5:1; ex. 18:16) strong’s #2706

The word conveys a variety of meanings in the OT, including: a “portion” or “ration” of food (Gen. 47:22); the “boundary” or “limit” of the sea (Prov. 8:29); and an “allotment” of the sacrifices for the priests (1 ev. 10:13). This term is derived from a verb that means “to decree,” or “to inscribe” (Prov. 8:15; 1s. 10:1; 49:16). The term often refers to commands, civil enactments, legal prescriptions, and ritual laws decreed by someone in authority—whether by humans (Mic. 6:16) or by God Himself (6:1). The law of Moses includes commandments (miswah), judgments (mispah), and statutes (choq) (4:1, 2). Israel was charged to obey God’s statutes, and they had pledged to do so (26:16, 17). Accordingly, God’s judgment was meted out against the Israelites when they disobeyed them (Amos 2:4; Ezek. 11:12; Mal. 3:7).

generation for their true worship of Him, He would also punish generation upon generation for faithlessness to Him. Mercy to thousands refers to thousands of generations in contrast to the three and four generations that would be punished. The comparison between four and thousands is a proportional measurement of God's mercy. His grace is far more expansive than His wrath.

5:11 Take . . . in vain refers to the abuse, misuse, blasphemy, cursing, or manipulation of the Lord's name. no wonder the ancient israelites developed the practice of not pronouncing the sacred name aloud. Yet God delights in those who love and respect His name.

5:12–15 These verses contain the positive command to regard the sabbath as holy—separated for God's purposes. as . . . commanded you: The Lord did so at Mt. sinai (ex. 20:8–11). the Sabbath of the Lord: The primary significance of the sabbath was that it belonged to the Lord. you shall do no work . . . rest: on this Lord's day, the israelites were to rest from work and celebrate God's good gifts. remember that you were a slave: The israelites were to remember israel's past oppression and celebrate their current freedom. christians differ as to how this commandment relates to believers in Jesus christ. The sabbath was saturday, the seventh day of the week. christians generally worship God on sunday, the first day of the week, because it was on a sunday that the Lord rose from the dead. even so, christians follow the principle of this command.

5:16 Honor your father and your mother: respect for parents would build strong families. strong, godly families, in turn, would teach children the ways of God, and the covenant community dedicated to serving and worshiping God would remain intact. The benefits of respecting one's parents would be long life and success.

A Day of Rest

When God "rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had done" (Gen. 2:2), He was modeling for humanity His intention for a weekly day of rest. clearly He did this for the sake of Adam and eve (and for us), because God Himself does not tire or need to "rest," as people do. in what sense, then, did He "rest" from His labors, and in what sense should we "rest" from ours?

The term Sabbath has the root meaning of "cessation." on the seventh day God ceased His work of creating the world (ex. 20:8–11). However, He did not cease His work of sustaining and maintaining the world (ps. 145:15, 16; col. 1:17). This distinction helps to clarify the significance of the sabbath, a day which God set aside (or sanctified) and blessed. His clear intention was that people would emulate Him by pausing from their labors—the exercise of their dominion over the creation (Gen. 1:28–31)—for one day out of seven.

Was this day of "rest" given merely as a day off? no, one of the most important purposes of the sabbath was to provide a day for believers to worship and focus on God, as individuals and communities (is. 58:13, 14). it is not that we are free to ignore God on the other six days; every day belongs to Him. But by designating one day as a special opportunity to come before the Lord, we demonstrate our dependence on Him as creator and our obedience to Him as Lord.

This means that the sabbath—or in nT times, the Lord's day—was not intended simply as a "day off" to catch up on chores or pursue leisure activities. not that these are wrong, but the point of the day is to "stir up love and good works, not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the manner of some, but exhorting one another" (Heb. 10:24, 25).

There is an obvious tension here regarding how we should treat the Lord's day as a christian sabbath. in deciding the issue, it is worth remembering that Jesus pointed out that God established a day of rest for the sake of people, not the other way around (Mark 2:27). sabbath observance is not to become a legalistic obligation. in fact, conditions occasionally require work on the sabbath: an ox can get stuck in a ditch, and must be gotten out (l uke 14:5). likewise, human beings have basic needs even on sundays. of course, the spirit of sabbath observance implies that we should take steps to prevent finding ourselves routinely stuck in the ditch with the ox on the sabbath, and that we use our abilities on the other six days to meet the needs of people.

When God rested on the seventh day and set it aside, He did not intend to turn sabbath-keeping into a strangling rule. The sabbath was meant to provide true freedom—freedom from turning work into tyranny, and freedom to enjoy fellowship with God, our neighbors, and our loved ones.

5:17 premeditated murder was the concern of this law. f or commands concerning other forms of homicide, see chs. 19–21. The basis of respect for life lay in God’s act of creating humans in His image (Gen. 9:6).

5:18 Adultery was a betrayal not only of a commitment, but of a relationship. Anyone who treated marriage lightly would also treat his or her relationship with God lightly.

5:19 not steal: stealing could take many forms: illegitimate removal of property, kidnapping, manipulation of a person and his property to one’s advantage, and so on.

5:20 not bear false witness: This included any testimony that falsely incriminated someone or negatively affected someone’s reputation, such as gossip and slander.

5:21 You shall not covet: The only command that specifically prohibited an attitude. desiring what someone else possessed was self-interestedness. This attitude was the opposite of a concern for the other person’s welfare. The law can be summed up in the last and first commandments: A person must truly love God and truly be concerned for his or her neighbor (compare Mark 12:28–31).

5:22 He wrote them on two tablets: The two tablets were two complete copies of the law. Usually, two copies were made of ancient Middle eastern treaties. one was retained by each of the two contracting parties as a witness to the agreement. But with the Ten commandments, both copies were placed before God. not only did the lord covenant with the israelites, He also witnessed the agreement.

5:23–31 Because of their rebellious and sinful nature, the israelites feared God’s holy presence and were unprepared to face Him.

subsequently, they asked Moses to serve as their spokesman before the lord, and God approved their request. Moses became the mediator of the covenant between God and His people. He not only communicated God’s ways to the people, but he begged God to show His mercy to them.

5:25, 26 why should we die . . . living God: The israelites’ fear was necessary. The people needed to realize that the living God was powerful, great, and demanded perfection, so that they as sinners would recognize their need for His mercy.

5:27 we will hear and do it: God’s awe-inspiring revelation of Himself prompted the people to express their willingness to comply with the lord’s commands. However, their steadfastness to their promise would be tested.

5:29 The people were impressed with what they saw and heard, but their heart was unchanged.

5:32, 33 in all the ways . . . God has commanded you: out of all the nations, God had chosen israel to be instructed in His law. But the real test of the distinctiveness of these people was their response to God’s revelation. and that it may be well with you, and that you may prolong your days: These promises, attached to the fifth commandment, were applicable to all of the commandments.

6:1 The commandment refers to the instruction to love the lord (v. 5). commanded to teach you: Moses was God’s instrument in giving His law to israel (5:22, 23). it was not really “the law of Moses” but the law of God.

6:2 The fear of the lord includes awe for His greatness and holiness, love for Him, and submission to His will. initially, the fear of God may

The Mezuzah

The mezuzah is a small case containing a parchment which contains the text of 6:4–9 and 11:13–21. even today each mezuzah parchment is carefully written by qualified scribes, using the same strict procedures they use in writing the laws. it is then tightly rolled and placed in its case so that the word shaddai (“Almighty”) appears through a small hole near the top. A special prayer is read when the mezuzah is attached near the top of the right-hand doorpost. Though the popularity of the mezuzah has diminished in recent years, many Jews still kiss the mezuzah by touching their lips with their fingers and raising the fingers to a mezuzah when entering or leaving the home. At the same time, they recite ps. 121:8, “The LORD shall preserve your going out and your coming in from this time forth, and even forevermore.”

involve fright. Yet it leads to a sense of wonder, a commitment to worship, and delight in knowing God. you . . . and your grandson: since God promised to bless generation after generation (Gen. 17:7, 8), He expected His people to follow His ways from generation to generation as well.

6:3 that it may be well with you: God instructed His people so they might live good lives full of meaning and peace. They would live in His glorious presence. A land flowing with milk and honey indicates a fruitful and blessed land (11:9; 26:9, 15; 27:3; 31:20). The land promised to the israelites was better than the land of egypt to which they had wanted to return (n um. 16:12–14).

6:4 This verse is the celebrated shema, the basic confession of faith in Judaism (see Matt. 22:37, 38; Mark 12:29, 30; 1 uke 10:27). Hear: The Hebrew word is שמע. The verse starts with a command for the people to respond properly to God. They must listen and obey. The LORD our God indicates the people’s relationship with the living God. He had come into the lives of His people; it was not that they had ascended to Him. He had saved them from slavery in egypt, guided them through the wilderness, and given them His instructions. <sup>f</sup>urther, He was about to give them His land. The LORD is one means “the I ord alone.” There is only one God.

6:5 Moses repeatedly exhorted the israelites to respond to God’s love with devotion. in this context, the word translated as love may mean “to make one’s choice in.” God commanded His people to choose Him with all their being, and in the process to deny all other supposed deities.

6:7 talk of them when you sit . . . and when you rise up: God’s revelation should be so central to a godly family that they should naturally talk about Him while they perform other activities.

6:8, 9 a sign . . . frontlets: in later years the Jews interpreted these instructions in a physical way. They instructed men to wear phylacteries, boxes containing passages of a scripture, when they prayed (Matt. 23:5). in any case the idea is that God’s laws should be close to the mind and hands of His people at all times (compare ex. 13:9, 16; prov. 3:3; 6:21). write them on the doorposts: Jewish custom is to attach a small vessel called a mezuzah to the doorpost. in it is placed a small scroll containing the text of deut. 6:4–9; 11:13–21 and God’s name shaddai.

6:10–12 Moses warned the people not to forget that their possessions were God’s gifts. God had not only saved their ancestors from slavery, but He had also given them a good land. The israelites needed continually to praise and thank God for His mercy toward them.

6:13–15 serve: The I ord demanded absolute commitment to Himself. out of gratitude, the people were to do this willingly. oaths in His name: The fact that God had revealed His name assures the people of God’s goodness to them. He wanted them to look to Him alone for refuge and sustenance. Jesus quoted this text when satan was tempting Him (Matt. 4:10).

<sup>6</sup> “For you are a <sup>2</sup>holy people to the LORD your God; i the LORD your God has chosen you to be a people for Himself, a special treasure above all the peoples on the face of the earth. <sup>7</sup> The LORD did not set His j love on you nor choose you because you were more in number than any other people, for you were h the least of all peoples; <sup>8</sup> but l because the LORD loves you, and because He would keep m the oath which He swore to your fathers, n the LORD has brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you from the house of <sup>3</sup>bondage, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> “Therefore know that the LORD your God, He is God, o the faithful God p who keeps covenant and mercy for a thousand generations with those who love Him and keep His commandments; <sup>10</sup> and He

6:16-19 God may test His children, but they may never test or tempt Him by their rebelliousness or sin (see Matt. 4:7; 1 uke 4:12). f or the incident at Massah, see ex. 17:1-7. keep . . . do what is right and good: Moses applied a lesson from the past and exhorted the new generation to be faithful to God (4:1, 5; 5:29; 6:1). to cast out all your enemies: canaan’s false worship and its immorality could no longer influence the israelites if the canaanites were entirely thrown out of the land.

6:20-24 your son asks: Moses commanded the israelites to teach their children the significance of their ritual. in the same way, christians should make sure their children know the meaning of their practices. The answer to the israelite child’s question would include four components: (1) We were slaves . . . in Egypt; (2) the LORD brought us out . . . with a mighty hand; (3) to give us the land; and (4) we have a challenge to responsible action.

6:25 Moses did not offer the people a works righteousness by keeping the law. Righteousness is a right relationship with God. God initiates this relationship, and His children respond to it as an expression of love.

7:1 The Hittites came originally from Asia Minor (see Gen. 23:10). The Girgashites are an unknown people mentioned also in Gen. 10:16 and 1 chr. 1:14. The Amorites were the native population of canaan that had settled in the mountains. The Canaanites were the native population that had settled in the coastlands. The

Perizzites were the native population that had settled in the hill country. The Hivites were the native population settled south of the I ebanon mountains. The Jebusites (perhaps an offshoot of the Hittites) were the native population settled near what later became Jerusalem.

7:2 Covenant refers to any treaty with the canaanite nations that might undermine God’s covenant with israel.

7:3 intermarriage with the canaanite population would have tempted the israelites to adopt a canaanite culture. This would have threatened israel’s ability to be a countercultural force. They were not to “blend in.” similarly, the christian church is called to demonstrate God’s love to the world like sheep in the midst of wolves (Matt. 10:6; rom. 12:2; phil. 2:14-16; 1 pet. 2:9).

7:5 destroy . . . break down: The destruction of idolatrous sites was meant to keep the israelites from imitating and borrowing false pagan practices (12:2; 16:21, 22).

7:7 The israelites had no reason for pride, for they were the least of all peoples. Whatever privileges or possessions they enjoyed were due to God’s grace.

7:8 The biblical authors verbally paint a wonderful picture of God: the powerful God extending His mighty hand to save His people.

7:9, 10 faithful God . . . for a thousand generations: Throughout all time, God has remained true to His commitment made to Abraham, isaac, and Jacob. He is a faithful God (ex. 20:6; Heb. 13:5).

repays those who hate Him to their face, to destroy them. He will not <sup>4</sup>be <sup>q</sup>slack with him who hates Him; He will repay him to his face. <sup>11</sup>Therefore you shall keep the commandment, the statutes, and the judgments which I command you today, to observe them.

Blessings of Obedience

<sup>12</sup>“Then it shall come to pass, because you listen to these judgments, and keep and do them, that the LORD your God will keep with you the covenant and the mercy which He swore to your fathers. <sup>13</sup>And He will <sup>r</sup>love you and bless you and <sup>5</sup>multiply you; <sup>s</sup>He will also bless the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your land, your grain and your new wine and your oil, the increase of your cattle and the offspring of your flock, in the land of which He <sup>6</sup>swore to your fathers to give you. <sup>14</sup>You shall be blessed above all peoples; there shall not be a male or female <sup>t</sup>barren among you or among your livestock. <sup>15</sup>And the LORD will take away from you all sickness, and will afflict you with none of the <sup>u</sup>terrible diseases of Egypt which you have known, but will lay them on all those who hate you. <sup>16</sup>Also you shall <sup>7</sup>destroy all the peoples whom the LORD your God delivers over to you; your eye shall have no pity on them; nor shall you serve their gods, for that will <sup>v</sup>be a snare to you.

8 “Every commandment which I command you today <sup>a</sup>you must <sup>1</sup>be careful to observe, that you may live and <sup>b</sup>multiply, <sup>2</sup>and go in and possess the land of which the LORD <sup>3</sup>swore to your fathers. <sup>2</sup>And you shall remember that the LORD your God <sup>c</sup>led you all the way these forty years in the wilderness, to humble you and <sup>d</sup>test you, <sup>e</sup>to know what was in your heart, whether you would keep His commandments or not. <sup>3</sup>So He humbled you, <sup>f</sup>allowed you to hunger, and <sup>g</sup>fed you with manna which you did not know nor did your fathers know, that He might make you know that man shall <sup>h</sup>not live by bread alone; but man lives by every

love Him and keep His commandments: Loving God always finds expression in doing His will. The Lord is a God of justice. He will repay those who rebel against Him.

7:13–16 bless the fruit . . . increase: God’s blessings extended to the quality of life, with the assurance of children, health, food, drink, and peace.

7:16 The people’s immediate responsibility was to destroy the Canaanites’ wicked presence and influence in the land (2:34).

7:17–19 you shall remember: The past saving acts of God demonstrated His nature and power. The people were to remember the details of His actions so that they could face the present moment in the light of eternity.

7:20, 21 The hornet (ex. 23:28; Josh. 24:12) may refer to a dramatic act of God, such as a violent storm or a plague of insects. It may refer to campaigns by other armies that weakened the Canaanites before the Israelites arrived. Since the great and awesome God made the nations fear, why then should His own people be terrified (ex. 15:14; Josh. 2:10, 11)? God was on their side and was even among them!

7:22 little by little: The conquest of the land was in two stages: (1) a rapid, broad conquest under Joshua; (2) a gradual, area-by-area, city-by-city conquest that followed. God’s plan was that not all of the promised land would fall to Israel at once. Indeed, much of the land remained to be conquered after Joshua (Josh. 13:1–6).

8:1 Live, in this context, has the same meaning as saving one’s soul in James 1:21; 5:20.

8:2 remember: reflecting on the past acts of God encouraged loyalty and devotion to Him. forty years . . . to humble you and test: The Lord taught Israel to rely on Him alone during the wilderness journey. know what was in your heart: The response to God’s testings helped determine the people’s inner nature.

8:3 God supplied His people with food in the wilderness (see ex. 16) so that they would learn that man shall not live by bread alone. Humans have a spiritual nature that can be satisfied only by the spiritual nutrients of God’s Word. man lives by every word . . . from the mouth of the Lord: Jesus affirmed this truth by using these words to resist Satan (Matt. 4:4; 1 uke 4:1–4).

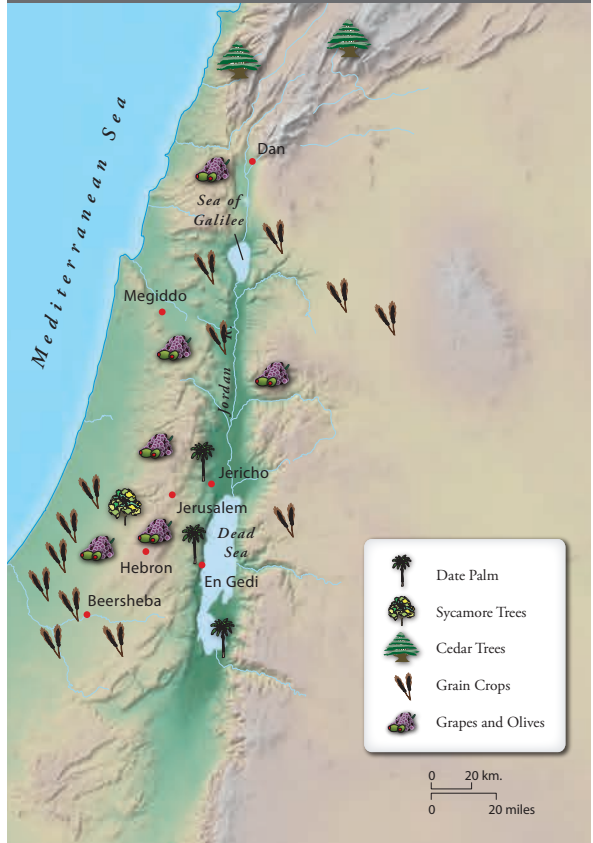

word that proceeds from the mouth of the LORD. <sup>4i</sup>Your garments did not wear out on you, nor did your foot swell these forty years. <sup>5j</sup>You should <sup>4</sup>know in your heart that as a man chastens his son, so the LORD your God chastens you.

<sup>11</sup>“Beware that you do not forget the LORD your God by not keeping His commandments, His judgments, and His statutes which I command you today, <sup>12n</sup>lest—when you have eaten and are <sup>5</sup>full, and have built beautiful houses and dwell in them; <sup>13</sup>and when your herds and your flocks multiply, and your silver and your gold are <sup>6</sup>multiplied, and all that you have is multiplied; <sup>14o</sup>when your heart <sup>7</sup>is lifted up, and you <sup>p</sup>forget the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage; <sup>15</sup>who <sup>q</sup>led you through that great and terrible wilderness, <sup>r</sup>in which were fiery serpents and scorpions and thirsty land where there was no water; <sup>s</sup>who brought water for you out of the flinty rock; <sup>16</sup>who fed you in the wilderness with <sup>t</sup>manna, which your fathers did not know, that He might humble you and that He might test you, <sup>u</sup>to do you good in the end— <sup>17</sup>then you say in your heart, ‘My power and the might of my hand have gained me this wealth.’

8:4 in addition to providing manna and water, the Lord made the clothing and shoes of the people last for 40 years!

8:7-9 The land had everything necessary to sustain life and develop an economy: water, crops, and metals for industry (11:8-12). The various water sources contrasted with the Nile, the only source of water the people knew in Egypt (11:10). The varied forms of plant life were surprising to the people who came from the wilderness.

8:10-14 bless the Lord: The proper response to plenty is thanksgiving and worship. It is Jewish custom to pray after certain festive meals because of the phrase when you have eaten and are full. In the absence of proper worship, people would forget, become complacent and greedy, and even deny that God provided for them (v. 17). your heart is lifted up: in the enjoyment of God's blessings, the people to their own detriment might think that they were self-sufficient.

8:14-16 God who brought . . . who led you . . . who brought water . . . who fed: These four historical allusions recall (1) the redemption from Egypt, (2) the presence of God in the wilderness, (3) the provision of water, and (4) the provision of manna.

humble . . . test: Through the whole experience in Egypt and the wilderness, the Lord was leading His children into decisions that would bring out their true nature. to do you good in the end: difficult as the tests were, the Lord was a good teacher because He had the future of His people in mind.

8:17 Moses warned the people that prosperity and wealth often leads to an exaltation of self and a rejection of God.

8:18 God's power is different from human manipulation, power politics, competition, and other ways of getting ahead. God gives grace.

8:19, 20 The threat was that the people would perish in the same manner as the nations whom they had come to drive out.

Israel's Rebellions Reviewed

9 “Hear, O Israel: You are to cross over the Jordan today, and go in to dispossess nations greater and mightier than yourself, cities great and fortified up to heaven, <sup>2</sup>a people great and tall, the <sup>a</sup>descendants of the Anakim, whom you know, and of whom you heard it said, ‘Who can stand before the descendants of Anak?’ <sup>3</sup>Therefore understand today that the LORD your God is He who <sup>b</sup>goes over before you as a <sup>c</sup>consuming fire. <sup>d</sup>He will destroy them and bring them down before you; <sup>e</sup>so you shall drive them out and destroy them quickly, as the LORD has said to you.

<sup>4f</sup>“Do not think in your heart, after the LORD your God has cast them out before you, saying, ‘Because of my righteousness the LORD has brought me in to possess this land’; but it is <sup>g</sup>because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is driving them out from before you. <sup>5h</sup>It is not because of your righteousness or the uprightness of your heart that you go in to possess their land, but because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD your God drives them out from before you, and that He may <sup>1</sup>fulfill the <sup>i</sup>word which the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. <sup>6</sup>Therefore understand that the LORD your God is not giving you this good land to possess because of your righteousness, for you are a <sup>j</sup>stiff-necked <sup>2</sup>people.

lets of stone, the tablets of the covenant which the LORD made with you, then I stayed on the mountain forty days and <sup>o</sup>forty nights. I neither ate bread nor drank water. <sup>10p</sup>Then the LORD delivered to me two tablets of stone written with the finger of God, and on them were all the words which the LORD had spoken to you on the mountain from the midst of the fire <sup>q</sup>in <sup>3</sup>the day of the assembly. <sup>11</sup>And it came to pass, at the end of forty days and forty nights, that the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant.

<sup>12</sup>“Then the LORD said to me, <sup>r</sup>‘Arise, go down quickly from here, for your people whom you brought out of Egypt have acted corruptly; they have <sup>s</sup>quickly turned aside from the way which I commanded them; they have made themselves a molded image.’

<sup>15y</sup>“So I turned and came down from the mountain, and <sup>z</sup>the mountain burned with fire; and the two tablets of the covenant were in my two hands. <sup>16</sup>And <sup>a</sup>I looked, and behold, you had sinned against the LORD your God—had made for yourselves a molded calf! You had turned aside quickly from the way which the LORD had commanded you. <sup>17</sup>Then I took the two tablets and threw them out of my two hands and <sup>b</sup>broke them before your eyes. <sup>18</sup>And I <sup>c</sup>fell <sup>5</sup>down before the LORD, as at the first, forty days and forty nights; I neither ate bread nor drank water, because of all your sin which you committed in doing wickedly in the sight of the LORD, to provoke Him to anger. <sup>19d</sup>For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure with which the LORD was angry with you, to destroy you. <sup>e</sup>But the LORD listened to me at that time also. <sup>20</sup>And the LORD was very angry with Aaron and would have destroyed him; so

9:1-3 Hear, O Israel: Moses called on the people to see the future occupation of the land as a gift of divine grace, not the result of any righteousness of their own. The future was open to them if only they could learn from the past. understand today: wisdom from above begins with a confession of dependence on the Lord.

9:4-6 possess their land: The reasons for the conquest of the promised land were (1) the immorality of its inhabitants and (2) the promises God made to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (Gen. 15:18-21).

stiff-necked people: Israel's history demonstrated how often the people grumbled, complained, and disobeyed. Moses hoped they would not forget their unworthiness before God, or think that they deserved His gracious gifts (vv. 7-14).

9:7 in addition to remembering the grace of God, the people also had to remember how vulnerable they were to apostasy (1:6-3:29). rebellious: The people were characteristically stubborn. They continued to test the Lord (v. 27).

9:9 A person cannot go more than about three days without water and survive. God supernaturally preserved Moses during the forty days.

9:10 the LORD delivered to me . . . finger of God: God initiated the covenant with His people and gave Moses His laws. With God's approval, Moses taught the Law to the people.

9:19 the LORD listened to me: For Moses' prayer, see vv. 26-29. Daniel's prayer for the nation resembles Moses' intercession (dan. 9:3-23).

I prayed for Aaron also at the same time. <sup>21</sup>Then I took your sin, the calf which you had made, and burned it with fire and crushed it and ground it very small, until it was as fine as dust; and I <sup>f</sup>threw its dust into the brook that descended from the mountain.

<sup>25</sup>m“Thus I <sup>7</sup>prostrated myself before the LORD; forty days and forty nights I kept prostrating myself, because the LORD had said He would destroy you. <sup>26</sup>Therefore I prayed to the LORD, and said: ‘O Lord God, do not destroy Your people and <sup>n</sup>Your inheritance whom You have redeemed through Your greatness, whom You have brought out of Egypt with a mighty hand. <sup>27</sup>Remember Your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; do not look on the stubbornness of this people, or on their wickedness or their sin, <sup>28</sup>lest the land from which You brought us should say, “Because the LORD was not able to bring them to the land which He promised them, and because He hated them, He has brought them out to kill them in the wilderness.” <sup>29</sup>Yet they are Your people and Your inheritance, whom You brought out by Your mighty power and by Your outstretched arm.’

The Second Pair of Tablets

10 “At that time the LORD said to me, <sup>1</sup>‘Hew for yourself two tablets of stone like the first, and come up to Me on the mountain and make yourself an <sup>a</sup>ark of wood. <sup>2</sup>And I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets, which you broke; and <sup>b</sup>you shall put them in the ark.’

hewed two tablets of stone like the first, and went up the mountain, having the two tablets in my hand. <sup>4</sup>And He wrote on the tablets according to the first writing, the Ten <sup>2</sup>Commandments, <sup>c</sup>which the LORD had spoken to you in the mountain from the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly; and the LORD gave them to me. <sup>5</sup>Then I turned and <sup>d</sup>came down from the mountain, and <sup>e</sup>put the tablets in the ark which I had made; <sup>f</sup>and there they are, just as the LORD commanded me.”

The Essence of the Law

<sup>12</sup>“And now, Israel, <sup>q</sup>what does the LORD your God require of you, but to fear the LORD your God, to walk in all His ways and to <sup>r</sup>love Him, to serve the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, <sup>13</sup>and to keep the commandments of the LORD and His statutes which I command you today <sup>s</sup>for your <sup>6</sup>good? <sup>14</sup>Indeed heaven and the highest heavens belong to the <sup>t</sup>LORD your God, also the earth with all that is in it. <sup>15</sup>The LORD delighted only in your fathers, to love them;

9:22, 23 see num. 11; 13.

9:25–29 Moses took God’s judgment seriously. Nevertheless, he did not resign himself to God’s justice, but appealed to God’s faithfulness, mercy, and honor. He reminded God of (1) His redemption of the israelites from slavery, (2) His promises, (3) His reputation among all the nations, and (4) His election of Israel.

10:2 I will write: The condescension of the Lord is almost beyond belief. He prepared the tablets a second time, even after the first set was broken.

10:3 The acacia tree is still found in the Sinai peninsula, but in smaller numbers than when the israelites passed through.

10:4 He wrote . . . according to the first writing: The Lord did not add to or take away from the commandments.

10:6–9 Levi: The responsibilities of the Levites included: (1) care for the ark (num. 3); (2) service in offering, worship, teaching, and legal matters (18:1–8); and (3) blessing Israel (num. 6:22–27). The phrase to this day suggests that this explanation was written after Moses’ death.

10:14, 15 heaven and the highest heavens: The sky and the whole universe belong to God. love . . . chose: The creator sovereignly and graciously involved Himself with Abraham and his descendants.

and He chose their <sup>7</sup>descendants after them, you above all peoples, as it is this day. <sup>16</sup>Therefore circumcise the foreskin of your <sup>u</sup>heart, and be <sup>v</sup>stiff-necked<sup>8</sup> no longer. <sup>17</sup>For the LORD your God is <sup>w</sup>God of gods and <sup>x</sup>Lord of lords, the great God, <sup>y</sup>mighty and awesome, who <sup>z</sup>shows no partiality nor takes a bribe. <sup>18</sup><sup>a</sup>He administers justice for the fatherless and the widow, and loves the stranger, giving him food and clothing. <sup>19</sup>Therefore love the stranger, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt. <sup>20</sup><sup>b</sup>You shall fear the LORD your God; you shall serve Him, and to Him you shall hold fast, and take oaths in His name. <sup>21</sup>He is your praise, and He is your God, who has done for you these great and awesome things which your eyes have seen. <sup>22</sup>Your fathers went down to Egypt with seventy persons, and now the LORD your God has made you as the stars of heaven in multitude.

Love and Obedience Rewarded

11 “Therefore you shall love the LORD your God, and keep His charge, His statutes, His judgments, and His commandments always. <sup>2</sup>Know today that I do not speak with your children, who have not known and who have not seen the <sup>1</sup>chastening of the LORD your God, His greatness and His mighty hand and His outstretched arm— <sup>3</sup>His signs and His acts which He did in the midst of Egypt, to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to all his land; <sup>4</sup>what He did to the army of Egypt, to their horses and their chariots: <sup>a</sup>how He made the waters of the Red Sea overflow them as they pursued you, and how the LORD has destroyed them to this day; <sup>5</sup>what He did for you in the wilderness until you came to this place; <sup>6</sup>and <sup>b</sup>what He did to Dathan and Abiram the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben: how the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up, their households, their tents, and all the substance that was <sup>2</sup>in their possession, in the midst of all Israel— <sup>7</sup>but your eyes have <sup>c</sup>seen every great <sup>3</sup>act of the LORD which He did.

10:16 circumcise the foreskin of your heart: circumcision was a physical sign of the covenant; faith and repentance were spiritual signs. since the canaanite worship system involved sexual excess, the distinctive sign on the body of the male Hebrew would be a significant reminder not to participate in the rituals of the canaanites. But circumcision was to be done within as well as without. Marking the body as a sign of dedication to the Lord is unimportant unless there is a change of heart. The covenant administered by Moses required a spiritual change (30:6).

10:17, 18 Moses proclaims that the God of Israel alone is God, the sovereign Lord, the just and great King of all. The proper response to this God is awe, love, and service. fatherless . . . stranger: God uses His power to uphold justice—especially for those have no powerful ally (1:16; 24:17–22). food and clothing: God freely gives to all who are needy—even as He did to Israel in the wilderness (8:3, 4).

10:19 God’s good provision for their own needs should have motivated the Israelites to love the stranger among them. To love and provide for the disadvantaged was in fact following God’s example.

10:21 He is your praise: reflecting on the creator-redeemer—whose love, justice, and power extended beyond the covenant people—leads to worship, love, and obedience.

10:22 stars of heaven: God faithfully fulfilled His promise to Abraham (Gen. 15:5, 6).

11:2–7 Moses traced the mighty acts of God in order to encourage his hearers to respond to God’s revelation. Acts and words go together, as do obedience and love.

11:6 Dathan and Abiram rebelled against Aaron’s priesthood and lost their lives (num. 16).

11:9–12 not like the land of Egypt: Agriculture in Egypt depended on irrigation, the annual flooding of the Nile (8:7–9). land for which the LORD your God cares: God would sovereignly control the seasons and rains to provide for His people (vv. 14, 15).

11:13–17 The early rain encouraged the sprouting of seed and new growth. The latter rain brought the crops to maturity. LORD’S anger: God is gracious and loving, but also just when provoked by arrogant people. To shut up the heavens means “to withhold rain,” as God did to Ahab (1 Kin. 17:1; 18:1).

words of mine in your heart and in your <sup>1</sup>soul, and <sup>2</sup>bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. <sup>19</sup><sup>v</sup> You shall teach them to your children, speaking of them when you sit in your house, when you walk by the way, when you lie down, and when you rise up. <sup>20</sup><sup>w</sup> And you shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates, <sup>21</sup> that <sup>x</sup>your days and the days of your children may be multiplied in the land of which the LORD swore to your fathers to give them, like <sup>y</sup>the days of the heavens above the earth.

11:26 The opposite of a blessing is a curse. As God’s blessing brings vitality, so His curse takes it away. people become sick, suffer, and die (1 cor. 11:30; James 1:13–15).

11:29 Gerizim . . . Ebal: see Josh. 8:30–35.

12:1 giving you to possess: God was about to give the people the land. Yet He demanded their obedience as a condition for occupancy and enjoyment of it (chs. 28; 29).

12:2 mountains: The canaanites built their temples on high places,

Rainfall Patterns

The pattern of rainfall dictated the way a season would develop. steady rainfall, coming at critical times, produced better crops than heavy, intermittent rainfall. A farmer in palestine had to contend with a five-month rainless summer (May–october); if the following autumn rains were sporadic, the results could be disastrous. Three months without rain during autumn would destroy most crops. The “early” rains were the first autumn showers and the “latter” rains were the last spring showers. Between these were the rains of January. The “early” rains prepared the soil for the seed and the “latter” rains filled out the crops for harvest. The amount of rain received in different locations varied greatly. for example, in modern palestine, Jericho receives 5.5 inches of rainfall per year while areas in upper Galilee have gotten 47 inches per year.

The worship of the true God with any pagan ritual or reminder of paganism violated the Ten commandments (5:8–10).

12:5 seek: Whatever one seeks is the object of one’s desire and devotion (ps. 122:9). place where the LORD your God chooses: The central place of worship was God’s to choose (ps. 132:13, 14). God blessed His people with His presence in the tabernacle in the wilderness and later at shiloh, in the temple in Jerusalem, and finally through Jesus christ (John 2:18–22). out of all your tribes: The presence of God was for the benefit of all of the people without preference for any one tribe. God’s name signifies His ownership. dwelling place: The Lord graciously agreed to live among His people.

12:6 The Hebrew word for sacrifices always designates an offering of an animal. Often the word is used to describe a sacrifice offered to the Lord but eaten by the people. The heave offering was a communal offering, which the priest lifted up to signify that it was a gift to the Lord (ex. 29:27, 28; 1 ev. 7:34). The priest took his due (1 ev. 7:14, 32, 34), while the worshiper and his family ate the rest of the offering. A vowed offering was made in fulfillment of a vow (1 ev. 7:16, 17; 22:21; n um. 6:21; 15:3–16; 30:11). A freewill offering was voluntary (23:23; ex. 35:27–29; 36:3; 1 ev. 7:16; eze. 46:12).

12:7 eat . . . rejoice: The communal offerings were to be eaten and enjoyed by those who offered them. It was a time of celebration before the Lord. blessed: God favored His people by giving them children, flocks, and the crops of the land. His blessing brought vitality, enrichment of life, and happiness to His people.

12:8 every man . . . own eyes: In the wilderness, the people did not develop a common focus on the Lord and become a body of believers. Moses challenged the new generation to repent and return to the Lord.

12:9, 10 Moses envisioned a future state of rest for the people. rest would mean that God’s people would enjoy His blessings and live together in unity, free from fear of assault (ps. 133; Jer. 31:2; Heb. 4:8–11).

12:12 you . . . and the Levite includes all israelites—women and men, slaves and free, Levites and tribes with land. The Hebrew word for rejoice describes a deep enjoyment by the entire community of God’s good gifts. God gave the law to the people for their good—even for their enjoyment.

12:15 slaughter . . . meat: Butchering and eating meat was permitted wherever the israelites settled. gazelle . . . deer: Many animals not suited for sacrifice to the Lord were still permitted for food.

12:16 The prohibition of eating or drinking blood in any form was an important restriction. Since blood represented life, the israelites were to show respect for the vital fluids of animals (Gen. 9:4; 1 ev. 17:11).

12:17, 18 within your gates: Aspects of God’s worship that were designed for community celebration were not to be done in the privacy of the home. Instead, God would designate the place where He would be worshiped. In a similar way, the NT places a strong emphasis on the community of believers. rejoice: God’s prohibitions were designed for the mutual pleasure of God and the people.

12:19 The Levite received no tribal inheritance in the land and was dependent on the people for food.

12:20 enlarges your border: Moses emphasized the potential greatness of God’s blessings on the people. The land might become so large that for many people frequent journeys to the central sanctuary would be impossible. In this case, provisions were made for the enjoyment of meat at home.

<sup>32</sup>“Whatever I command you, be careful to observe it; <sup>g</sup>you shall not add to it nor take away from it.

Punishment of Apostates

13 “If there arises among you a prophet or a <sup>a</sup>dreamer of dreams, <sup>b</sup>and he gives you a sign or a wonder, <sup>2</sup>and <sup>c</sup>the sign or the wonder comes to pass,

12:28 that it may go well: The Lord promised His blessing to all those who responded to His benevolent instructions. and your children: God’s blessing extended to the succeeding generations (Gen. 1:27, 28; 9:1, 7; 17:19). Yet the israelites did not gain their salvation through obedience, instead they found favor with God because of His mercy. He had chosen them to be His people.

12:29–31 The Lord would remove the temptation of the canaanite nations, but the israelites were responsible for not imitating their practices (see rom. 12:2; phil. 2:14–16).

12:29, 30 God cuts off: The conquest was God’s, but the israelites were His responsible agents (v. 2). take heed: Unfortunately, israel did follow pagan religious ways.

12:31 God hated the canaanite practices and was concerned that His children would be enticed by them (1 ev. 18:21; 20:2–5). Abomination indicates the strongest form of revulsion and distaste. burn . . . sons and daughters: This is an example of one of the worst canaanite practices, in which the israelites later joined (2 Kin. 21:1–9; 2 chr. 28:1–4).

12:32 not add to it nor take away from it: The Word of God is not subject to whim, taste, or passing fancy.

13:1, 2 a prophet or a dreamer: Both prophecy and dreams were legitimate forms of revelation. The fulfillment of a prophecy, a sign, or a wonder ordinarily validated the entire message of the prophet (18:22). let us serve them: even if a wonder accompanied the israel was on the verge of a momentous occasion. not only were they preparing to enter the promised land and conquer its inhabitants, they were also preparing to establish a brand new culture. The primary focus of this new culture would be on the living God. every part of it would reflect His nature.

God’s commandments gave the israelites a concrete expression of how God wanted the people to live. in short, He wanted a people that loved and worshiped Him alone. By keeping a number of purity laws, the israelites were to demonstrate their commitment to Him by keeping ritually clean. ideally, this outward purity would reflect inward purity. since God was perfect, He wanted His people to resist the immoral practices of the neighboring nations. But He not only wanted them to resist evil, He also wanted them to reflect His loving and compassionate nature by helping strangers, widows, orphans, and the poor. By following God’s extensive instructions, the israelites could establish their society on the just laws of the living God.

Many parts of the israelite culture were distinctive in the ancient world—such as prohibitions against eating pork. These outward distinctives were a sign that the israelites were set apart to God’s holy purposes. However, the most prominent distinctive was israel’s absolute allegiance to one God. israel’s entire society—its legal system, economic structure, family life, and individual and communal ethics—reflected this allegiance. While the nations that surrounded israel worshiped a variety of gods at numerous shrines located all over the landscape, the israelites (ideally) worshiped one God in one way at one place—the place He would choose.

in the promised land, God planned to bless the israelites abundantly. in turn, He expected the israelites to live responsibly, in a culture unlike any that had preceded it.

of which he spoke to you, saying, ‘Let us go after other gods’—which you have not known—and let us serve them; <sup>3</sup> you shall not listen to the words of that prophet or that dreamer of dreams, for the LORD your God <sup>d</sup> is testing you to know whether you love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul. <sup>4</sup> You shall <sup>e</sup> walk <sup>l</sup> after the LORD your God and fear Him, and keep His commandments and obey His voice; you shall serve Him and <sup>f</sup> hold fast to Him. <sup>5</sup> But <sup>g</sup> that prophet or that dreamer of dreams shall be put to death, because he has spoken in order to turn you away from the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt and redeemed you from the house of bondage, to entice you from the way in which the LORD your God commanded you to walk. <sup>h</sup> So you shall <sup>2</sup> put away the evil from your midst.

And if it is indeed true and certain that such an <sup>6</sup> abomination was committed among you, <sup>15</sup> you shall surely strike the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying it, all that is in it and its livestock—with the edge of the sword. <sup>16</sup> And you shall gather all its plunder into the middle of the street, and <sup>7</sup> completely <sup>p</sup> burn with fire the city and all its plunder, for the LORD your God. #### Improper Mourning message, a prophet who led the people away from the living God was a false prophet. Just like the israelites, christians today need to discern false teaching (Acts 20:28–31; Gal. 1:8; 1 John 4:1).

13:3 The revelation of God through Moses was the test of any sign or message. When the message deviated from God’s prior revelation, israel had to discern the false teaching. testing: Just as the Lord had tested the people in the wilderness, He would continue to see whether they believed Him (8:2). love . . . heart and . . . soul: True faith is a commitment of one’s whole being to the true God.

13:5 The offense was serious and so was the punishment, death. It was better for a false prophet to be executed than for one to escape judgment and mislead the people. So you shall put away the evil from your midst: discipline, punishment, and testing were God’s means of keeping His people pure. Having withstood the test, they could more easily resist the temptations of other evildoers.

13:9, 10 your hand shall be first: The relative who brought the charge would lead in the capital punishment of the relative who suggested the idolatrous practices. to entice you away: With unforgettable words, Jesus emphasized the severity of this offense. such a person should not have been born. He would be better off if he were thrown into the sea with a millstone around his neck (Matt. 18:6, 7).

13:13 The term translated corrupt men denotes wicked, depraved people who oppose the will and work of God.

13:14 inquire . . . ask diligently: proper investigation before a public trial guaranteed justice for everyone.

13:15 strike the inhabitants: The people of the city, who were responsible for letting evil get out of hand, became subject to punishment. They were no better than the immoral canaanites who were under God’s present judgment (7:2; 12:2, 3).

13:17, 18 compassion . . . to keep all His commandments: The seemingly harsh judgment of evil was an act of obedience. God required the harsh punishment of evildoers so that immoral practices would not spread throughout the land. Then the israelites could be completely devoted to Him, and He could remain among them and bless them. sin disrupted this relationship with the Holy God.

14:1 children of the Lord: The motivation for israel’s distinct ethics and practices lay in the nation’s special relationship to the Lord (1:31; 8:5). cut . . . nor shave: pagan mourning rituals encouraged physical abuse. These practices were a form of magic by which people sought to exercise control over their well-being and over the gods (1 Kin. 18:28).

14:2 As a holy people, the israelites were set apart to the Lord, separated from the nations, and chosen to practice the will of God on earth. The Hebrew word translated holy means “to be separate” or “to be distinct.”

chosen you to be a people for Himself, a special treasure above all the peoples who are on the face of the earth.

Clean and Unclean Meat

<sup>9g</sup>“These you may eat of all that are in the waters: you may eat all that have fins and scales. <sup>10</sup>And whatever does not have fins and scales you shall not eat; it is unclean for you.

Tithing Principles

14:3 not eat: The dietary regulations set Israel apart from the nations (l ev. 11). Most likely, God prohibited certain animals from being eaten in order to distinguish the practices of Israel from those of neighboring nations. With this physical sign, God symbolized Israel’s holiness. Israel was dedicated to His purposes, not the world’s. God usually referred to pagan practice as detestable, a word indicating strong repugnance.

14:4–8 Animals prohibited for food either did not have cloven hooves or did not chew the cud (l ev. 11).

14:12–18 These unclean birds were mainly birds of prey and scavengers. They were associated with dead flesh and were likely carriers of disease.

14:19 Creeping thing that flies refers to insects that could not be eaten.

14:20 may eat: some of God’s laws prohibit, while others permit.

14:21 not boil . . . in its mother’s milk: Unlike the Canaanites who boiled young goats alive in the milk of their mothers as a sacrifice to fertility gods, Israel was to practice a more humane method of animal sacrifice. Israel was to be different from its neighbors—that is, holy.

14:22–29 The laws of the tithe covered all agricultural products. In giving a tithe (the gift of one tenth to the Lord), the Israelites acknowledged that the land was the Lord’s and that the benefits of the land were theirs only because of God’s blessing. The tithe was to be enjoyed in the presence of the Lord, unless the people had come from a great distance. Then they could exchange it for silver and purchase food and drink with it in Jerusalem.

14:25 Money refers to uncoined silver. coins were not struck until the Persian period.

14:28, 29 Every third year the tithe was given to the Levites and the poor.

chosen

(Heb. bachar) (7:6, 7; 14:2; neh. 9:7; is. 14:1; Hag. 2:23) strong’s #977

The Hebrew word translated “chosen” implies a decision made after close inspection. Thus in the OT, the word is used to describe the careful action of “selecting” or “accepting.” sometimes the word is used for the choice of an object (1 sam. 17:40) or of doing good (is. 7:15, 16). in the OT, it is often God who chooses. The Lord chose Abraham (neh. 9:7), the nation of Israel (4:37), and finally David’s family (2 sam. 6:21). He chose, or elected, these people so that He could accomplish His will, the salvation of the world, through them (is. 49:6). This choice was founded on His own love (4:37).

Debts Canceled Every Seven Years

15 “At the end of <sup>a</sup>every seven years you shall grant a <sup>1</sup>release of debts. <sup>2</sup>And this is the form of the release: Every creditor who has lent anything to his neighbor shall <sup>2</sup>release it; he shall not <sup>3</sup>require it of his neighbor or his brother, because it is called the LORD’s release. <sup>3</sup>Of a foreigner you may require it; but you shall give up your claim to what is owed by your brother, <sup>4</sup>except when there may be no poor among you; for the LORD will greatly <sup>b</sup>bless you in the land which the LORD your God is giving you to possess as an inheritance— <sup>5</sup>only if you carefully obey the voice of the LORD your God, to observe with care all these commandments which I command you today. <sup>6</sup>For the LORD your God will bless you just as He promised you; <sup>c</sup>you shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow; you shall reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over you.

Generosity to the Poor

The Law Concerning Bondservants

<sup>12</sup>“If your brother, a Hebrew man, or a Hebrew woman, is <sup>m</sup>sold to you and serves you six years, then in the seventh year you shall let him go free from you. <sup>13</sup>And when you <sup>7</sup>send him away free from you, you shall not let him go away empty-handed; <sup>14</sup>you shall supply him liberally from your flock, from your threshing floor, and from your winepress. From what the LORD your God has <sup>n</sup>blessed you with, you shall give to him. <sup>15</sup><sup>o</sup>You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you; therefore I command you this thing today. <sup>16</sup>And <sup>p</sup>if it happens that he says to you, ‘I will not go away from you,’ because he loves you and your house, since he prospers with you, <sup>17</sup>then you shall take an awl and thrust it through his ear to the door, and he shall be your servant forever. Also to your female servant you shall do likewise. <sup>18</sup>It shall not seem hard to you when you send him away free from you; for he has been worth <sup>q</sup>a double hired servant in serving you six years. Then the LORD your God will bless you in all that you do.

15:1 every seven years: God taught His people to think in cycles of holy time: six days of work and the seventh of rest; six years of business and the seventh of giving freedom to the poor; six years of agricultural cultivation and the seventh of rest (ex. 23:10, 11; l ev. 25:1-7). Debts were suspended as described in vv. 2-6.

15:2 creditor . . . release it: The debtor could not repay in the seventh year because the fields could not be cultivated (l ev. 25:1-7). if creditors demanded repayment, the poor would sink even further into debt. in this, God showed His care and concern for the poor.

15:4, 5 no poor among you: God promised to bless every individual among His people. only: This promise was conditional. The Israelites had to obey.

15:6 lend . . . not borrow: God’s blessing would bring a surplus. israel’s wealth and prominence among the nations would grow. This occurred during the reign of solomon. reign over many nations: instead of being subject to other nations, israel’s position would be that of leader among the nations (is. 55:4, 5).

15:7 not harden: The people’s attitude toward the poor should have been a reflection of their gratitude for God’s gifts to them.

15:9 The creditor might have been wary of lending anything to the poor because the seventh year was approaching, the year that all debts were erased. even though the creditor would not benefit from the loan, he was encouraged to lend to those in need.

15:11 The poor will never cease is a realistic statement compared with the ideal expressed in v. 4 (see Matt. 26:11).

15:12 When a poor man lost all his property, he could sell himself for work for six years. let him go free: The year of release canceled debts and freed the debtor (ex. 21:2).

15:14 supply him liberally: The debtor-slave had been an instrument by which God had blessed the master. Upon the slave’s departure, the slave would receive his or her due. in this way, the master acknowledged both the work of the slave and the sovereignty of the l ord.

15:15 remember that you were a slave: God’s grace to the israelites in freeing them from egyptian slavery was a model for all israelites to follow in relation to the poor. only when the israelites remembered their former poverty, thanked God for their riches, and assisted the poor would they be able to enjoy God’s gifts to them.

The Law Concerning Firstborn Animals

<sup>19r</sup>“All the firstborn males that come from your herd and your flock you shall <sup>s</sup>sanctify to the LORD your God; you shall do no work with the firstborn of your herd, nor shear the firstborn of your flock. <sup>20s</sup>You and your household shall eat it before the LORD your God year by year in the place which the LORD chooses. <sup>21t</sup>But if there is a defect in it, if it is lame or blind or has any serious defect, you shall not sacrifice it to the LORD your God. <sup>22</sup>You may eat it within your gates; <sup>u</sup>the unclean and the clean person alike may eat it, as if it were a gazelle or a deer. <sup>23</sup>Only you shall not eat its blood; you shall pour it on the ground like water.

The Passover Reviewed

16 “Observe the <sup>a</sup>month of Abib, and keep the Passover to the LORD your God, for <sup>b</sup>in the month of Abib the LORD your God brought you out of Egypt by night. <sup>2</sup>Therefore you shall sacrifice the Passover to the LORD your God, from the flock and <sup>c</sup>the herd, in the <sup>d</sup>place where the LORD chooses to put His name. <sup>3</sup>You shall eat no leavened bread with it; <sup>e</sup>seven days you shall eat unleavened bread with it, that is, the bread of affliction (for you came out of the land of Egypt in haste), that you may <sup>f</sup>remember the day in which you came out of the land of Egypt all the days of your life. <sup>4g</sup>And no leaven shall be seen among you in all your territory for seven days, nor shall any of the meat which you sacrifice the first day at twilight remain overnight until <sup>h</sup>morning.

<sup>5</sup>“You may not sacrifice the Passover within any of your gates which the LORD your God gives you; <sup>6</sup>but at the place where the LORD your God chooses to make His name abide, there you shall sacrifice the Passover <sup>i</sup>at twilight, at the going down of the sun, at the time you came out of Egypt. <sup>7</sup>And you shall roast and eat it <sup>j</sup>in the place which the LORD your God chooses, and in the morning you shall turn and go to your tents. <sup>8</sup>Six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and <sup>k</sup>on the seventh day there shall be a <sup>l</sup>sa-

The Jewish Calendar

The Jews used two kinds of calendars:

Civil Calendar—official calendar of kings, childbirth, and contracts.

Sacred Calendar—from which festivals were computed.

Names of Months	Corresponds with	No. of Days	Month of Civil Year	Month of Sacred Year
Tishri	sept.–oct.	30	1st	7th
Heshvan	oct.–nov.	29 or 30	2nd	8th
Chislev	nov.–dec.	29 or 30	3rd	9th
Tebeth	dec.–Jan.	29	4th	10th
Shebat	Jan.–feb.	30	5th	11th
Adar	feb.–Mar.	29 or 30	6th	12th
Nisan (Abib)	Mar.–Apr.	30	7th	1st
Iyar	Apr.–May	29	8th	2nd
Sivan	May–June	30	9th	3rd
Tammuz	June–July	29	10th	4th
Ab	July–Aug.	30	11th	5th
*Elul	Aug.–sept.	29	12th	6th

*Hebrew months were alternately 30 and 29 days long. Their year, shorter than ours, had 354 days. Therefore, about every 3 years (7 times in 19 years) an extra 29-day month, Veadar, was added between Adar and Nisan.

The Feast of Weeks Reviewed

<sup>9</sup>“You shall count seven weeks for yourself; begin to count the seven weeks from the time you begin to put the sickle to the grain. <sup>10</sup>Then you shall keep the <sup>l</sup>Feast of Weeks to the LORD your God with the tribute of a freewill offering from your hand, which you shall give <sup>m</sup>as the LORD your God blesses you. <sup>11</sup><sup>n</sup>You shall rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, the Levite who is within your gates, the stranger and the fatherless and the widow who are among you, at the place where the LORD your God chooses to make His name abide. <sup>12</sup><sup>o</sup>And you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and you shall be careful to observe these statutes.

15:19 The owners of firstborn males could not profit from the firstborn because they belonged to the Lord and were to be presented as an offering to Him once a year (v. 20). The basis for this law was the death of the Egyptians' firstborn and the preservation of the firstborn of the Israelites (ex. 12:12, 29; 13:2). God had saved the firstborn, so they belonged to Him.

15:21 if there is a defect in it: God expected the best from the Israelites. He was their King, their father, and their God (Mal. 1:8). To sacrifice one's best to the Lord was a leap of faith. One had to believe that God would bless one's flock despite the absence of its very best.

16:1 Passover was observed on the fourteenth day (ex. 12:18) of Abib or Nisan, which corresponds to our March–April. see ex. 12:1–28; 13:1–16; l ev. 23:5–8; num. 28:16–25.

16:6 The twilight sacrifice was in commemoration of the exodus, which had occurred at that time (ex. 12:29).

16:8, 9 The last day of the feast of Unleavened Bread was marked by a final sacred assembly of God's people, putting the sickle to the grain took place on the second day of the feast of Passover.

The Feast of Tabernacles Reviewed

<sup>13p</sup>“You shall observe the Feast of Tabernacles seven days, when you have gathered from your threshing floor and from your winepress. <sup>14</sup>And <sup>q</sup>you shall rejoice in your feast, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant and the Levite, the stranger and the fatherless and the widow, who are within your <sup>2</sup>gates. <sup>15r</sup>Seven days you shall keep a sacred feast to the LORD your God in the place which the LORD chooses, because the LORD your God will bless you in all your produce and in all the work of your hands, so that you surely rejoice.

Justice Must Be Administered

So you shall put away the evil from among <sup>j</sup>you.

16:13–15 The Feast of Tabernacles was a harvest festival (ex. 23:16; 34:22), during this pilgrimage, God’s people joined together to celebrate God’s goodness and to remember how they had once lived in tents (tabernacles or booths) during the wilderness wanderings. Today this festival is known as succhoth, from the Hebrew word translated booths. The feast lasted seven days, with a closing ceremony on the eighth (l ev. 23:36).

16:14 rejoice: sometimes modern people perceive the israelites’ worship as excessively burdened with details, ritual, and regulations, and imagine that the israelites’ worship experience must have been unpleasant. But sincere worshipers rejoiced in God’s detailed instructions and enjoyed the symbols and ritual which reminded them of God’s delightful characteristics. Then as now, worshiping God was a celebration.

16:16, 17 These verses summarize the regulations for the three annual pilgrimages to the central place of worship (ex. 23:17; 34:23).

16:18 in all your gates: The areas framed by the towers in the gateways of ancient cities were the centers of community life and the places where the judges of the city would sit. just judgment: The Lord loves justice and hates discrimination.

16:19 Justice is the quality of dealing with people fairly. Judges particularly were expected to reflect God’s just nature (32:4) by not dealing with the accused on the basis of discrimination, false witness, or hearsay. A bribe is any gift that might change the balance in favor of the giver, thus tipping the scales of justice (ex. 23:8).

16:20 follow: Godliness is to imitate God in a love for what is just and true. live and inherit: God’s intention in all His instructions was for the good of His people.

16:21, 22 The canaanites used certain trees and wooden images as representations of fertility gods. The Hebrew word translated wooden image is the Hebrew name for the canaanite goddess of fertility, Asherah.

17:1 Sacrifice in Israel was never to be regarded as a means of dumping the unwanted or the unneeded. It showed faith that as one gave one’s best to the Lord, He would make what remained suitable and plentiful for one’s needs.

17:2 The Hebrew verb for transgressing is used elsewhere to indicate the crossing of a border or a stream. Here the word is used to indicate “crossing over” the boundaries that God had set for His people. someone who served other gods had crossed over the boundary set by the first commandment.

17:4–6 inquire diligently: An investigation, rather than gossip, determined the truth of any report of idolatry. The guilty was condemned to death only after guilt was established by two or three witnesses (compare Matt. 18:16; 2 cor. 13:1; 1 Tim. 5:19; Heb. 10:28). The first commandment was not limited by gender. either a man or woman could be executed for this crime against God.

17:7 hands . . . first: The witnesses participated in the stoning of the guilty because they were responsible for the person’s condemnation. Jesus’ words about throwing the “first stone” referred to this practice (John 8:7).

17:8 The more complex cases were sent to a higher court. Degrees another, or between one punishment or another, matters of controversy within your gates, then you shall arise and go up to the <sup>l</sup>place which the LORD your God chooses. <sup>9</sup>And <sup>m</sup>you shall come to the priests, the Levites, and <sup>n</sup>to the judge there in those days, and inquire of them; <sup>o</sup>they shall pronounce upon you the sentence of judgment. <sup>10</sup>You shall do according to the sentence which they pronounce upon you in that place which the LORD chooses. And you shall be careful to do according to all that they order you. <sup>11</sup>According to the sentence of the law in which they instruct you, according to the judgment which they tell you, you shall do; you shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left from the sentence which they pronounce upon you. <sup>12</sup>Now <sup>p</sup>the man who acts presumptuously and will not heed the priest who stands to minister there before the LORD your God, or the judge, that man shall die. So you shall put away the evil from Israel. <sup>13q</sup>And all the people shall hear and fear, and no longer act presumptuously.

Principles Governing Kings

<sup>14</sup>“When you come to the land which the LORD your God is giving you, and possess it and dwell in it, and say, “I will set a king over me like all the nations that are around me,” <sup>15</sup>you shall surely set a king over you <sup>s</sup>whom the LORD your God chooses; one <sup>t</sup>from among your brethren you shall set as king over you; you may not set a foreigner over you, who is not your brother. <sup>16</sup>But he shall not multiply <sup>v</sup>horses for himself, nor cause the people <sup>w</sup>to return to Egypt to multiply horses, for <sup>u</sup>the LORD has said to you, “You shall not return that way again.” <sup>17</sup>Neither shall he multiply wives for himself, lest his heart turn away; nor shall he greatly multiply silver and <sup>y</sup>gold for himself.

Horses

The most striking feature in the biblical notices of the horse is the exclusive application of it to warlike operations; in no instance was it employed for the purposes of ordinary locomotion or agriculture (except for is. 28:28). The Hebrews in the patriarchal age, as a pastoral race, did not need horses, and for a long period after their settlement in canaan they dispensed with it, partly in consequence of the hilly nature of the country, which only allowed chariots to be used in certain areas, and partly in consequence of the prohibition in 17:16. david first established a force of cavalry and chariots, but it was solomon who established a very active trade in horses, which were brought by dealers out of egypt and resold, at a profit, to the Hittites. saddles were not used until a late period and there were no horseshoes.

17:9 The descendants of the family of Aaron were the priests of israel. The Levites were the other descendants of Levi, who served in the tabernacle.

17:12 The man who acts presumptuously is one who knows, but turns away from priestly instructions.

17:13 To hear God is to acknowledge Him, to respond to Him, and to obey Him (6:4). To fear God is to reverence Him and to worship Him (6:2). The idea here is responsible reverence (13:11; 19:20; 21:21).

17:14 The regulations that follow anticipate the request that the israelites would make for a king. At the time of Moses, israel was privileged in being different from the nations because God was their King (ex. 15:18; num. 23:21). As problems arose during the period of the judges, some attempted to establish a kingship (Judg. 9:1-6). Gideon refused such an offer (Judg. 8:23). With saul's kingship, God finally granted israel's request for a national king (1 sam. 8:4-9).

Although saul's reign ended in disaster, the Lord chose to anoint david and promise him a lasting kingship (2 sam. 7:16; ps. 89:3, 4).

17:15-17 These regulations limited the power and splendor of the future king. He would not be dependent on military power and riches. He was exhorted not to entangle the nation in political alliances that would expose israel to pagan worship. Instead, he was exhorted to guide the nation into obedience to God's law.

17:18 a copy of this law: The true king of israel would be bound to God's instructions. He would not be a tyrant, but a king who ruled in accordance with God's revealed will.

17:19, 20 fear: only if the king lived in proper reverence of God would the people follow suit. If the king were impious, the people's decline into evil practices would be accelerated. heart may not be lifted: By reading and obeying God's law, the king would be reminded that he was to be a man of the people. He was no different than anyone else—except that God had chosen him to guide the nation in righteousness.

he may learn to fear the LORD his God and be careful to observe all the words of this law and these statutes, <sup>20</sup> that his heart may not <sup>5</sup> be lifted above his brethren, that he <sup>b</sup> may not turn aside from the commandment to the right hand or to the left, and that he may <sup>6</sup> prolong his days in his kingdom, and his children in the midst of Israel.

The Portion of the Priests and Levites

18:1 A portion of the dedication offerings was taken by the priests for their sustenance.

18:2 Unlike the other tribes, the Levites did not have a land inheritance in Canaan. They were to regard God as their inheritance. In other words, they had a special relationship with God that would be better than any grant of property. (Obviously, the Levites enjoyed the benefits of the lands surrounding the Levitical villages, v. 8.)

kingdom

(Heb. mamlakah) (17:18–20; ex. 19:6; 2 sam. 5:12; 7:12, 13, 16) strong’s #4467

The word denotes a region and people that were ruled over by a king. His office was usually hereditary and his authority derived from it. God had promised Abraham that kings would come from him (Gen. 17:6). The same promise was given to Jacob (Gen. 35:11). David was clearly God’s choice to be king (1 sam. 16:7, 12, 13). The hereditary kingship, therefore, began with him; from him would descend Jesus Christ, “the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the root of David” (r ev. 5:5). In the light of the Messiah’s descent from David, the meaning of God’s covenant with David becomes clear: “I will establish the throne of my kingdom forever” (2 sam. 7:13; also ps. 2; 110; is. 11:1–4).

18:5 to minister: The priests were God’s servants mediating between Him and the people (10:8; 21:5).

18:6 All the desire of his mind indicates wholehearted devotion. The suggestion is that there might have been people from the tribe of Levi who were not worthy to minister before the Lord. Their ancestry alone could not qualify them.

18:8 equal portions: The priests and Levites, who served before the Lord, were honored for that noble work.

18:10, 11 some ancient pagan customs demanded that a son or daughter be offered as a sacrifice in order to learn about the future or to seek favor from a supposed deity. calls up the dead: Apart from His revelation, God prohibited any attempts to know the future. Saul’s attempt to seek guidance apart from God’s Word resulted in God’s judgment of him (1 sam. 28).

18:12 The pagan practices were an abomination to the LORD because they were based on an attempt to circumvent His revelation. The Lord is never a god among others; He alone is God!

18:13 Blameless indicates integrity and dependence on the Lord alone. Blamelessness characterized Abraham’s life (Gen. 17:1) and is still the standard for Christians today (eph. 1:4; 5:27).

18:14 Israel was to be distinct among the nations. Israel constituted a holy people—not only in what they ate, but in their faith toward God.

18:15 All true prophets among the Hebrew people were raised up by the LORD. No one could become a true prophet by self-will or desire.

17 “And the LORD said to me: <sup>s</sup> ‘What they have spoken is good. <sup>18</sup> <sup>t</sup> I will raise up for them a Prophet like you from among their brethren, and <sup>u</sup> will put My words in His mouth, <sup>v</sup> and He shall speak to them all that I command Him. <sup>19</sup> <sup>w</sup> And it shall be that whoever will not hear My words, which He speaks in My name, I will require it of him. <sup>20</sup> But <sup>x</sup> the prophet who presumes to speak a word in My name, which I have not commanded him to speak, or <sup>y</sup> who speaks in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die.’ <sup>21</sup> And if you say in your heart, ‘How shall we know the word which the LORD has not spoken?’— <sup>22</sup> <sup>z</sup> when a prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, <sup>a</sup> if the thing does not happen or come to pass, that is the thing which the LORD has not spoken; the prophet has spoken it <sup>b</sup> presumptuously; you shall not be afraid of him.

Three Cities of Refuge

19 “When the LORD your God <sup>a</sup> has cut off the nations whose land the LORD your God is giving you, and you dispossess them and dwell in their cities and in their houses, <sup>2</sup> <sup>b</sup> you shall separate three cities for yourself in the midst of your land which the LORD your God is giving you to possess. <sup>3</sup> You shall prepare roads for yourself, and divide into three parts the territory of your land which the LORD your God is giving you to inherit, that any manslayer may flee there.

slips from the handle and strikes his neighbor so that he dies—he shall flee to one of these cities and live; <sup>6</sup> <sup>d</sup> lest the avenger of blood, while his anger is hot, pursue the manslayer and overtake him, because the way is long, and kill him, though he was not deserving of death, since he had not hated the victim in time past. <sup>7</sup> Therefore I command you, saying, ‘You shall separate three cities for yourself’

<sup>8</sup> “Now if the LORD your God <sup>e</sup> enlarges your territory, as He swore to <sup>f</sup> your fathers, and gives you the land which He promised to give to your fathers, <sup>9</sup> and if you keep all these commandments and do them, which I command you today, to love the LORD your God and to walk always in His ways, <sup>g</sup> then you shall add three more cities for yourself besides these three, <sup>10</sup> <sup>h</sup> lest innocent blood be shed in the midst of your land which the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance, and thus guilt of bloodshed be upon you.

<sup>11</sup> “But <sup>i</sup> if anyone hates his neighbor, lies in wait for him, rises against him and strikes him mortally, so that he dies, and he flees to one of these cities, <sup>12</sup> then the elders of his city shall send and bring him from there, and deliver him over to the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die. <sup>13</sup> <sup>j</sup> Your eye shall not pity him, <sup>k</sup> but you shall <sup>2</sup> put away the guilt of innocent blood from Israel, that it may go well with you.

Property Boundaries

<sup>14</sup> <sup>l</sup> “You shall not remove your neighbor’s landmark, which the men of old have set, in your inheritance which you will inherit in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess.

18:22 does not happen: The test of a true prophet was the fulfillment of his words. However, there was one type of prophecy announced by a true prophet that might not occur. A prophecy of divine judgment might be averted because of the people’s repentance in response to the proclamation. Both Jonah and Micah experienced this.

19:1 Deuteronomy was written in anticipation of the conquest of Canaan, God’s gift to His people. The cities of the land would become the possession of the people of Israel. The Israelites were not to destroy the cities in conquest, but to destroy the people who lived in them by waging war on the battlefield. Only Jericho and Hazor were to be burned. The burning of Ai was a consequence of sin.

19:2 Three cities of refuge would be selected in Canaan, to be added to the three that were east of the Jordan.

19:3, 4 The cities of refuge were intertribal cities. Anyone from any tribe could flee to the city that was closest to him. manslayer: Use of these cities for refuge was restricted to cases of unintentional homicide.

19:5 goes to the woods: An example is given of a situation that might lead to unintentional homicide.

19:6 The avenger of blood was possibly a relative commissioned by the elders of the city to execute justice. This Hebrew word sometimes translated kinsman redeemer and here translated avenger means “protector of family rights.” This was the individual who stood up for the family, either to redeem property and persons or to obtain vengeance. The glory of Israel was that its Avenger and Kinsman redeemer was God Himself (Is. 41:14).

19:8 enlarges your territory: God placed before the people not only the immediate prospect of the conquest of Canaan, but also the expansion of territory beyond the initial borders (12:20).

19:10 The shedding of innocent blood brought the guilt of bloodshed on the land. As in the case of Abel, whose innocent blood cried out to the Lord from the ground (Gen. 4:10), a nation of murderers would come under the judgment of God.

19:11, 12 For a person guilty of premeditated murder, there was no provision for refuge in the cities. He would be delivered over to the avenger of blood.

19:13 That it may go well with you indicates that God’s concern was for the good of the community.

19:14 Removing a landmark was far more than moving a stone. It was changing a property line and in effect cheating some family out of the inheritance of land that God had given them.

The Law Concerning Witnesses

<sup>15m</sup>“One witness shall not rise against a man concerning any iniquity or any sin that he commits; by the mouth of two or three witnesses the matter shall be established. <sup>16</sup>If a false witness <sup>n</sup>rises against any man to testify against him of wrongdoing, <sup>17</sup>then both men in the controversy shall stand before the LORD, <sup>o</sup>before the priests and the judges who serve in those days. <sup>18</sup>And the judges shall make careful inquiry, and indeed, if the witness is a false witness, who has testified falsely against his brother, <sup>19p</sup>then you shall do to him as he thought to have done to his brother; so <sup>q</sup>you shall put away the evil from among you. <sup>20r</sup>And those who remain shall hear and fear, and hereafter they shall not again commit such evil among you. <sup>21s</sup>Your eye shall not pity: ‘life shall be for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.”

Principles Governing Warfare

20“When you go out to battle against your enemies, and see <sup>a</sup>horses and chariots and people more numerous than you, do not be <sup>b</sup>afraid of them; for the LORD your God is <sup>c</sup>with you, who brought you up from the land of Egypt. <sup>2</sup>So it shall be, when you are on the verge of battle, that the priest shall approach and speak to the people. <sup>3</sup>And he shall say to them, ‘Hear, O Israel: Today you are on the verge of battle with your enemies. Do not let your heart faint, do not be afraid, and do not tremble or be terrified because of them; <sup>4</sup>for the LORD your God is He who goes with you, <sup>d</sup>to fight for you against your enemies, to save you.’”

19:15 r equiring two or three witnesses was a safeguard against the dangerous lies of an individual.

19:16, 17 The prospect of a false witness was chilling, particularly if it was a matter of one person’s word against another’s. before the LORD: At the tabernacle, the place of the higher court, the God of all truth would reveal the liar (17:8–13).

19:21 life . . . for life . . . foot for foot: The law of retribution established the principle that the punishment should fit the crime (ex. 21:23–25; 1 ev. 24:17–20). The greater the crime, the harsher the penalty.

20:1 The Lord’s presence is much greater than the enemy’s military advantage of horses and chariots (ps. 20:7). God the divine Warrior would fight for His people (ex. 15:3).

20:5 The owner of a new house was exempt from battle duty. dedicate it: This was not a formal ceremony, but the act of occupying a house.

20:6 The vine dresser was exempt from battle. It took as many as five years for a vineyard to begin to produce. A man who had waited for several years for the first produce from his vines was allowed to oversee the vines until they produced grapes.

20:7 betrothed: Betrothal was a commitment to be married; it was more binding than an engagement today. The betrothed man was exempt from battle. This exemption also applied to the newly married (24:5).

20:8 fearful and fainthearted: The man who was nervous or who did not trust the Lord (v. 3) was exempt from battle. since the battle was God’s, the number of warriors was not nearly as important as the army’s belief that God was fighting for them.

20:10, 11 This offer of peace specified that the people surrender, open up the city, and accept whatever conditions were laid down.

serve you: The people of the city would become second-class citizens, on whom the israelites could impose taxes and labor requirements.

20:12 not make peace: some cities would refuse the terms of the treaty and come out in battle, as sion did.

20:13, 14 The reprisals for refusal were severe. strike every male: The men of war of the city were to be killed, for they posed a threat as long as they were able to bear arms. Women and little ones were to be spared, though they would become the property of the victors.

20:15, 16 The rules of the spoil (vv. 13, 14) applied only to distant cities. different rules applied to the cities of canaan (vv. 17, 18). They were to destroy the people of canaan as part of God’s judgment on those immoral peoples. But of the cities of these peoples: The people who lived in canaan had practiced disgusting religious and social perversions for centuries. God had given them time to repent, but their judgment had come.

<sup>16</sup>“But <sup>1</sup>of the cities of these peoples which the LORD your God gives you as an inheritance, you shall let nothing that breathes remain alive, <sup>17</sup>but you shall utterly destroy them: the Hittite and the Amorite and the Canaanite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite, just as the LORD your God has commanded you, <sup>18</sup>lest <sup>m</sup>they teach you to do according to all their <sup>2</sup>abominations which they have done for their gods, and you <sup>n</sup>sin against the LORD your God.

<sup>19</sup>“When you besiege a city for a long time, while making war against it to take it, you shall not destroy its trees by wielding an ax against them; if you can eat of them, do not cut them down to use in the siege, for the tree of the field is man’s food. <sup>20</sup>Only the trees which you know are not trees for food you may destroy and cut down, to build siegeworks against the city that makes war with you, until it is subdued.

The Law Concerning Unsolved Murder

21 “If anyone is found slain, lying in the field in the land which the LORD your God is giving you to possess, and it is not known who killed him, <sup>2</sup>then your elders and your judges shall go out and measure the distance from the slain man to the surrounding cities. <sup>3</sup>And it shall be that the elders of the city nearest to the slain man will take a heifer which has not been worked and which has not pulled with a <sup>a</sup>yoke. <sup>4</sup>The elders of that city shall bring the heifer down to a valley with flowing water, which is

Female Captives

<sup>10</sup>“When you go out to war against your enemies, and the LORD your God delivers them into your hand, and you take them captive, <sup>11</sup>and you see among the captives a beautiful woman, and desire her and would take her for your <sup>g</sup>wife, <sup>12</sup>then you shall bring her home to your house, and she shall <sup>h</sup>shave her head and trim her nails. <sup>13</sup>She shall put off the clothes of her captivity, remain in your house, and <sup>i</sup>mourn her father and her mother a full month; after that you may go in to her and be her husband, and she shall be your wife. <sup>14</sup>And it shall be, if you have no delight in her, then you shall set her free, but you certainly shall not sell her for money; you shall not treat her brutally, because you have <sup>j</sup>humbled her.

20:17, 18 utterly destroy: The Hebrew text uses two forms of the same verb to emphasize complete destruction of the canaanites. This was not just a symbolic war; the entire canaanite population was to be destroyed.

20:18 lest they teach you: The principal concern of the Lord was for the welfare of His people. The canaanite population in the land was like a deadly tumor that eats away at the body. If the tumor was cut out, the body could live. So it was with the canaanites. If the canaanites were cut out of the land, the israelites could thrive in the land by obeying God. Otherwise, the immoral canaanite practices might slowly spread throughout the land.

20:19, 20 Trees, a part of God’s creation, were useful for food, shade, and building material. In a long siege, the armies of Israel were not to cut down the trees and destroy the land. Only non-fruit bearing trees were to be used for making siege machines.

21:1, 2 killed: The death may have been due to accidental or intentional homicide. This is a case of unsolved murder. measure the distance: As in our own day, the question of jurisdiction was important in criminal cases.

21:3, 4 heifer: The people of the nearest city were responsible for initiating a rite that established the people’s innocence of the murder.

21:6, 7 The elders of the city bore the responsibility for the murder, even though they were not personally guilty. It was up to them to seek atonement for the murder.

21:8 Breaking the heifer’s neck did not provide atonement. It was symbolic of the horrendous crime. God Himself graciously forgave.

21:9 Killing an innocent person was an extremely serious offense in ancient Israel. Unless the crime was solved or the rite was performed, there would be no real rest for the community.

21:10 Presumably the enemies were from distant cities (20:13–15), since the israelites took captives. God had commanded the utter destruction of enemies within the promised land.

21:12 shave her head: This ritual was intended to give the woman time to adjust to the new culture and to mourn over the forceful separation from her family. It was also a symbol of cleansing. She was preparing to become part of a new community.

21:13 Since a foreign woman’s distinctive clothes might have associations with the idolatrous practices of her former family, these clothes were taken from her. The woman was about to become part of God’s covenant community. She was not allowed to keep anything that she might use to tempt the israelites to worship false gods. your wife: After these precautions, the captive woman was given the status of any other married woman in Israel.

21:14 if you have no delight in her: The reason is not stated. The man might have experienced rejection in the marriage relationship.

Firstborn Inheritance Rights

<sup>15</sup>“If a man has two wives, one loved <sup>k</sup> and the other unloved, and they have borne him children, both the loved and the unloved, and if the firstborn son is of her who is unloved, <sup>16</sup>then it shall be, <sup>l</sup>on the day he bequeaths his possessions to his sons, that he must not bestow firstborn status on the son of the loved wife in preference to the son of the unloved, the true firstborn. <sup>17</sup>But he shall acknowledge the son of the unloved wife as the firstborn <sup>m</sup>by giving him a double portion of all that he has, for he <sup>n</sup>is the beginning of his strength; <sup>o</sup>the right of the firstborn is his.

The Rebellious Son

<sup>18</sup>“If a man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will not obey the voice of his father or the voice of his mother, and who, when they have chastened him, will not heed them, <sup>19</sup>then his father and his mother shall take hold of him and bring him out to the elders of his city, to the gate of his city. <sup>20</sup>And they shall say to the elders of his city, “This son of ours is stubborn and rebellious; he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton and a drunkard.” <sup>21</sup>Then all the men of his city shall stone him to death with stones; <sup>p</sup>so you shall put away the evil

Miscellaneous Laws

22 “You <sup>a</sup>shall not see your brother’s ox or his sheep going astray, and <sup>1</sup>hide yourself from them; you shall certainly bring them back to your brother. <sup>2</sup>And if your brother is not near you, or if you do not know him, then you shall bring it to your own house, and it shall remain with you until your brother seeks it; then you shall restore it to him. <sup>3</sup>You shall do the same with his garment, and so shall you do with his garment; with any lost thing of your brother’s, which he has lost and you have found, you shall do likewise; you <sup>2</sup>must not hide yourself.

perhaps the woman would not convert to the true worship of the Lord. perhaps she was unable to conceive a child. in any event, the man was given permission to divorce her or set her free, you have humbled her: The woman had been dishonored by removal from her country and compulsory marriage. she was to be treated with some dignity in the event of an incompatible marriage.

21:15 two wives: polygamy was commonly practiced in the cultures of the ancient Middle east and was assumed in the Law of Moses. in some cases, polygamy may have been a necessity in ancient israel (25:5–10).

21:16 A father was expected to show consideration for the firstborn child, regardless of his attitude toward the child’s mother.

21:17 Ancient Middle eastern custom approved preferential treatment of the firstborn son. The double portion was a mark of the father’s blessing. Among the sons of Jacob, it was actually Joseph who received the double portion (Gen. 48:8–22; 49:22–26). reuben had forfeited his right as the firstborn by his disreputable behavior (Gen. 49:3, 4).

21:18 The stubborn and rebellious son was not an “ordinary” rebellious youth, but one who had been immoral over a long period of time.

21:19 his father and his mother: The parents were responsible to the community for their children. The elders bore the responsibility for the actions of the community as a whole.

21:20 they shall say: The parents presented the charge, though the behavior of the child would undoubtedly have been widely known. A glutton and a drunkard is an expression for “a good-for-nothing.”

21:21 All the men of the community shared in the responsibility for executing the rebellious youth. capital punishment seems harsh to the modern reader. Yet the community could not allow the rebellious youth to spread his immoral practices. They were God’s holy people.

21:22, 23 hang: The guilty person was not hanged by the neck; this form of execution was not practiced in ancient israel. The hanging was actually an impaling of the corpse for public viewing after death by stoning. everyone would know that individual had brought guilt on the community. The exposure of the corpse was limited to one day. for that day, it reminded people of God’s judgment on the sinner.

22:1 hide yourself from them: israelites could not ignore problems or misfortunes of their neighbors. every individual in the community bore a responsibility to uphold justice within that community (compare Gal. 6:2).

22:2, 3 it shall remain with you: community responsibility included taking care of lost property, whether animals or objects. Hide yourself means to ignore the problem or turn away.

The usual method of capital punishment in Bible times, especially among the Hebrew people, was stoning, not hanging (ex. 19:13). occasionally the Hebrews hung the corpses of lawbreakers on trees, although they were to be removed before nightfall (21:22, 23). in egypt, a beheaded corpse was occasionally left hanging for a longer period of time (Gen. 40:19). The persians hanged persons by impaling them on a stake (ezra 6:11; esth. 6:4). in the Bible only Ahithophel (2 sam. 17:23) and Judas iscariot committed suicide by hanging, possibly by strangulation. Jesus’ apostles applied the phrase “hanging on a tree” and the curse connected with it (21:23) to Jesus’ death (Acts 5:30; Gal. 3:13). Jesus transformed this dishonorable and shameful fate into a picture of God’s sacrificial and redeeming love.

<sup>8</sup>“When you build a new house, then you shall make a parapet for your roof, that you may not bring guilt of bloodshed on your household if anyone falls from it.

Laws of Sexual Morality

gave my daughter to this man as wife, and he detests her. <sup>17</sup>Now he has charged her with shameful conduct, saying, “I found your daughter was not a virgin,” and yet these are the evidences of my daughter’s virginity. And they shall spread the cloth before the elders of the city. <sup>18</sup>Then the elders of that city shall take that man and punish him; <sup>19</sup>and they shall fine him one hundred shekels of silver and give them to the father of the young woman, because he has brought a bad name on a virgin of Israel. And she shall be his wife; he cannot divorce her all his days.

<sup>22m</sup>“If a man is found lying with a woman married to a husband, then both of them shall die—the man that lay with the woman, and the woman; so you shall put away the evil from Israel.

22:5 c cross-dressing was forbidden by God in ancient israel. in the ancient Middle east, dressing in the clothing of the opposite sex was a magical practice intended to bring harm to people. f for example, a transvestite male would predict that the soldiers of another army would be as weak as females.

22:6, 7 The eggs or young of a nest could be eaten for food. But the mother had to be freed because she perpetuated the species.

22:8 A parapet was a barrier erected on a roof to keep people from stepping or falling off. The roof of an ancient israelite house was used like another room, particularly during warm weather.

22:9–11 Most likely, these regulations were based on the same principle as that of dietary restrictions. The israelites were to be different from their neighbors in all aspects of life in order to show their separation to the living God.

22:13 Detests indicates a loathing following the consummation of the marriage because the husband found out that his new bride was not a virgin.

22:14 Charges her indicates a public accusation. in ancient times, virginity was highly regarded. The indisputable legitimacy of children was vital to ancient society and inheritance rights. Joseph’s actions when he learned of Mary’s pregnancy can be explained by these laws (Matt. 1:18–25). Because of Joseph’s love for Mary, he did not want to make a public accusation. At the same time, he was not prepared to marry a woman who he thought had been immoral.

22:15 The father and mother would come to defend the girl and protect their name.

22:18, 19 A false accusation would be punished. A man was not permitted to bring a frivolous charge against his wife. c compare the penalty for a false accusation with the penalty recorded in v. 29.

22:20, 21 if the woman was not a virgin, she would be punished for her immorality. the door of her father’s house: The parents also shared in her punishment. They were publicly disgraced because they did not dissuade her from such actions.

22:22 Both the man and the woman had to die (l ev. 18:20; 20:10).

22:23, 24 bring them both out: Both parties were presumed guilty in this instance. in this situation, the woman could have screamed for help since she was in a city. The gate of the city was the place for legal proceedings and executions.

22:25–27 no sin deserving of death: The woman was presumed innocent by virtue of the isolated place where she could not receive help no matter how much she resisted.

woman; there is in the young woman no sin deserving of death, for just as when a man rises against his neighbor and kills him, even so is this matter. <sup>27</sup>For he found her in the countryside, and the betrothed young woman cried out, but there was no one to save her.

Cleanliness of the Camp Site

<sup>9</sup>“When the army goes out against your enemies, then keep yourself from every wicked thing. <sup>10</sup><sup>i</sup>If there is any man among you who becomes unclean by some occurrence in the night, then he shall go outside the camp; he shall not come inside the camp. <sup>11</sup>But it shall be, when evening comes, that <sup>j</sup>he shall wash with water; and when the sun sets, he may come into the camp.

<sup>12</sup>“Also you shall have a place outside the camp, where you may go out; <sup>13</sup>and you shall have an implement among your equipment, and when you sit down outside, you shall dig with it and turn and cover your refuse. <sup>14</sup>For the LORD your God <sup>k</sup>walks in the midst of your camp, to deliver you and give your enemies over to you; therefore your camp shall be holy, that He may see no unclean thing among you, and turn away from you.

Miscellaneous Laws

22:28, 29 This law warned young men that they would be made responsible for their actions. A young woman was not freely available merely because she was not betrothed.

22:30 Uncover his father’s bed is a euphemism for sexual relations (1 ev. 18:8). This was the sin of r euben, who slept with the mother of his brothers (Gen. 35:22).

23:1 Emasculated means that all or part of the sexual organs had been removed. This was done to men who were put in charge of harems to prevent intercourse with the women. It was also a pagan religious practice. Genital mutilation was prohibited in Israel. Assembly of the LORD indicates the people on whom the LORD had bestowed His special grace, with whom He had made a covenant, and to whom He had given the promises. In Deuteronomy, the word often refers to those gathered before Sinai (5:22; 9:10; 18:16). Exclusion from the assembly means restriction from full participation in religious rites.

23:2 Illegitimate birth may refer to the offspring of an illicit cultic union, such as the child of a temple prostitute (vv. 17, 18). The tenth generation most likely means “forever.”

23:3–5 Since the Ammonites and Moabites showed hostility to the Israelites, they were not allowed to become citizens and participate in the worship of the LORD (see Num. 22–24). curse you: God’s loyalty to His people would not allow Him to listen to Balaam. Instead, the LORD turned Balaam’s curse into His own blessing on the Israelites. Here, the LORD excluded those who had sought to curse the Israelites from full participation in the community of faith.

23:6 You shall not seek their peace is a prohibition against making any treaty with these nations. Moab and Ammon were persistent enemies of Israel.

23:8 third generation: While the people of Moab and Ammon were excluded from the congregation, the people of Edom and Egypt had an opportunity to join the true worshipers of the living God. The provision for the Egyptians might have been due to their initial kindness to Jacob’s family in letting them move to Goshen (Gen. 47). The provision for the Edomites was based on the close ties they had with the Israelites. They were descendants of Jacob’s brother, Esau.

23:9–11 A wicked thing was a cause for individual and communal uncleanness. Soldiers had to maintain their purity, for the Holy One was in their camp. Unclean by some occurrence in the night possibly refers to an involuntary emission (1 ev. 15:16) or urination. Even though God’s standards for purity were high, He provided a way for an unclean person to become clean. The person could go outside the camp until the next evening and wash.

23:12, 13 Digging latrines was a part of military life. Such attention to cleanliness not only promoted ritual purity, but also proper hygiene to prevent disease from spreading through the camp.

23:14 your God walks in the midst of your camp: The Holy One was present with Israel’s soldiers whenever they went to war. It would never do for His soldiers to tolerate unhealthy living conditions in camp.

23:15, 16 The slave presumably entered Israel’s territory from another country.

ter to you. <sup>16</sup>He may dwell with you in your midst, in the place which he chooses within one of your gates, where it <sup>2</sup>seems best to him; <sup>m</sup>you shall not oppress him.

<sup>21</sup><sup>s</sup>“When you make a vow to the LORD your God, you shall not delay to pay it; for the LORD your God will surely require it of you, and it would be sin to you. <sup>22</sup>But if you abstain from vowing, it shall not be sin to you. <sup>23</sup><sup>t</sup>That which has gone from your lips you shall keep and perform, for you voluntarily vowed to the LORD your God what you have promised with your mouth.

23:17 The Hebrew word translated here as ritual harlot is a form of the word meaning “holy” or “separate.” The ritual harlot was regarded by the canaanites as one “set apart” for the worship of gods and goddesses of fertility. In a canaanite religious fertility rites, men lay with cultic prostitutes. The canaanites believed that this act would bring fertility to their families, fruitful fields, and growth of their herds. This debased system of worship was evidently one of the reasons God brought such strong judgment against the canaanites. The perverted one was a male prostitute.

23:19 Interest in the ancient Middle east was very high. Borrowing inevitably led to greater debt and sometimes to the enslavement of the debtor (ex. 22:25–27; 1 ev. 25:36). Your brother refers to a fellow israelite.

23:21, 22 A vow was a commitment to show one’s love for the Lord in a particular way. Though a vow was voluntary, one was obligated to fulfill it once it was made. God expected His people to keep their commitments (compare Matt. 5:37). A failure to fulfill a vow was regarded as sin (eccl. 5:4–6). But vowing was purely voluntary and not necessary for the development of godliness.

23:24, 25 A traveler was permitted to eat grapes or grain while passing a field, but harvesting or storing the food for use at a later time was clearly prohibited. When Jesus and His disciples picked grain in open fields, they were following the common practice allowed by this regulation. However, the pharisees challenged Jesus because they did it on the sabbath (Mark 2:23–28).

24:1, 2 uncleanness: The nature of the problem is not specified, though it would have been clear in the original context. It could have been a physical problem, such as the inability to bear children. The certificate of divorce was a legal document that provided rights to the divorcee (1 ev. 21:7, 14; 22:13; num. 30:9; Matt. 19:3–9). such a certificate allowed the woman to remarry.

24:4 defiled: returning to her first husband after an intervening marriage might have placed the woman in the same position as an unfaithful wife.

24:6 A millstone was a stone used for grinding grain into flour. The combination of the two stones constituted an essential household instrument for the daily provision of food. The principle is clear: A family was not to be deprived of the necessities of daily life.

24:8, 9 Leprosy refers to a variety of infectious skin diseases. The disease known today as leprosy, Hansen’s disease, is different from the diseases referred to here.

24:10–13 A pledge was a token that a debt would be repaid, since this involved the poor within the covenant community, the practically every family in israel owned a piece of land, and many families farmed a small area of their own. o outside the cities, most israelites lived in villages rather than on farms. c ultivated land usually was outside the village, situated near the water supply or on western or northern slopes where rainfall was greatest. crops included wheat, barley, grapes, olives, and figs. f arm animals lived in the houses with the families. All but the poorest owned at least one ox or donkey as a work animal. c attle, sheep, and goats were common, providing milk products as well as skins for clothes. r icher families and royal estates employed farm managers and workers (1 c hr. 27:25–31) and hired laborers for special tasks, particularly at harvest time (Matt. 20:1–16). f requent difficulties, such as hilly ground, stony soil, and unpredictable rainfall, did not make farming easy.

24:14, 15 The following laws allowed property owners and laborers to receive a due profit from their properties and their labor. At the same time, both the owners and the laborers were to resist any greedy actions that would prevent a reasonable provision for the disadvantaged people in their communities. f or instance, the poor needed daily payment of wages for daily subsistence. To be able to pay their wages and not do so was a sin against the LORD.

24:18, 19 The passage exhorts the israelites to remember their people’s own slavery in egypt (v. 22). Just as God showed compassion on them when they were oppressed (15:15), they were to show compassion on those who were now disadvantaged. God may bless: Ultimately, it is in one’s own best interest to have a concern for the interest of others.

25:3 A rod was probably used for the beating (ex. 21:20). Forty blows: Later Jewish law restricted the number to 40 minus one (2 cor. 11:24) to make sure that the authorities remained within the

Marriage Duty of the Surviving Brother

<sup>5h</sup>“If brothers dwell together, and one of them dies and has no son, the widow of the dead man shall not be married to a stranger outside the family; her husband’s brother shall go in to her, take her as his wife, and perform the duty of a husband’s brother to her. <sup>6</sup>And it shall be that the firstborn son which she bears <sup>i</sup>will succeed to the name of his dead brother, that <sup>j</sup>his name may not be blotted out of Israel. <sup>7</sup>But if the man does not want to take his brother’s wife, then let his brother’s wife go up to the <sup>k</sup>gate to the elders, and say, ‘My husband’s brother refuses to raise up a name to his brother in Israel; he will not perform the duty of my husband’s brother.’ <sup>8</sup>Then the elders of his city shall call him and speak to him. ### Offerings of Firstfruits and Tithes

26“And it shall be, when you come into the land which the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance, and you possess it and dwell in it, <sup>2a</sup>that you shall take some of the first of all the produce of the ground, which you shall bring from your land that the LORD your God is giving you, and put it in a basket and <sup>b</sup>go to the place where the LORD your God set limits. brother be humiliated: The offender was still a brother whose dignity in the community was to be preserved.

25:4 not muzzle an ox: Muzzling kept the animal from eating while it worked. This law encouraged kindness and consideration for animals. I later the apostle paul used this law as an analogy to the principle of supporting ministers of the Gospel (1 cor. 9:9, 10; 1 Tim. 5:17, 18).

25:5 The ancients greatly feared having no heirs to carry on the family’s name. f furthermore, a widow with no children to take care of her would quickly become a beggar. Taking a brother’s widow as a second wife protected her and preserved the name, memory, and interests of the deceased brother. The dead brother would be acknowledged as the legal father of the firstborn son of that marriage. This practice is called levirate marriage, from the Latin word for brother-in-law.

25:7-10 f or his own reasons, a man might decide not to fulfill these obligations (see Gen. 38:8-10). he will not perform: l egally, the brother-in-law was bound to keep the family name alive. His refusal was not merely a private matter, but also a public issue. f or his insistence on his rights over the widow’s rights he deserved to be publicly disgraced.

25:8 The accusation of the widow had to be validated by the elders of the city.

25:9, 10 To remove one’s sandal was a sign of the loss of one’s rights in the community; perhaps it was also a loss of the right to walk on one’s own land (r uth 4:7). To spit in someone’s face was an act of strong, public contempt. s uch a public disgrace discouraged men from shrinking from their duty as a brother-in-law. since the living brother refused to maintain the name of his deceased brother, he was in danger of losing the memory of his own name in the community.

25:13, 14 A merchant could defraud a customer by using different-sized weights, depending on whether he was selling or buying, to tilt the scales to his advantage (see Amos 8:5).

25:15 Perfect and just refers to weights that were exact.

25:17, 18 israel was to tell the story of what Amalek had done and never to forget it (ex. 17:8-16; num. 14:39-45). He did not fear God is a way of saying that he had no regard for the special status of God’s people.

25:19 blot out the remembrance of Amalek: The Amalekites would in effect come under the ban which God had placed over the people of canaan (1 ev. 27:29; Josh. 6:17, 18).

26:1 into the land: The author of deuteronomy is always anticipating God’s gift of canaan to the israelites (19:1).

26:2 The israelites were to offer to God the fruit that ripened first, even though there was always a possibility that the rest of the crop would not ripen or be harvested because of some unforeseen circumstance. By offering the first of the produce to the Lord, the people expressed their trust in God’s provision and their gratitude for His good gifts.

26:3 I have come: during the years that the people were in egypt, whatever they raised was on soil that did not belong to them. during the years that they were in the wilderness, they were away from fertile land on which to grow things. But in the land that God planned to give them, crops, orchards, and vineyards would be theirs to enjoy. God had exceedingly blessed them, and they were to express their thanks.

26:4 even before the temple was built, there was always an altar for sacrifices.

26:5 My father was a Syrian (Aramean) is a reference to Jacob, whose parents’ ancestral home was in Aram (Gen. 24:1–10). about to perish: Jacob’s family suffered from the famine that struck canaan, and they survived by fleeing to egypt (Gen. 46:3–7). few in number: Jacob’s family numbered 70 when they moved to egypt (Gen. 46:8–27; ex. 1:1–5). A nation, great, mighty, and populous is a reference to the great increase God gave His people while they were in egypt (ex. 1:5, 7).

26:7 the LORD heard: God’s response to His people was one of the great manifestations of His grace, mercy, and care (ex. 2:23–25). He cared enough to answer their cries.

26:8 mighty hand . . . outstretched arm: This phrasing celebrates the direct involvement of the Lord in the salvation of the israelites from slavery. terror . . . signs and wonders: This phrasing is regularly repeated to describe God’s miraculous works during the exodus (4:34; 34:11, 12). God with his own hand demonstrated His power to the egyptians and delivered the israelites.

26:10 I have brought the firstfruits: The worshiper needed to say aloud what he was doing as he did it. doing this added solemnity and dignity to the offering.

26:11 and the stranger: When people came to live with israel in the land, they were instructed in the worship of God.

26:13, 14 you shall say: As in the case of the firstfruits (vv. 1–11), the spoken word accompanied the act to reinforce the significance and purpose of the offering. I have not: The worshiper was to acknowledge that nothing had been held back or used for selfish reasons.

26:15 Your holy habitation: people direct their prayers to heaven, acknowledging at the same time that God is everywhere (is. 66:1, 2).

26:16 The demands of obedience are found throughout deuteronomy. To observe or do the will of God was not meant to be the means by which a person would be made righteous before God. instead it would be part of a loving response to God’s gracious covenant. all your heart and . . . soul: This is also a regular emphasis in deuteronomy, a command to the whole person to respond fully to God.

26:17 The first generation had declared their loyalty to God at

worship

(Heb. shachah) (26:10; Gen. 23:7; 37:7, I ev. 26:1) strong’s #7812

The most common Hebrew word for worship literally means “to cause oneself to lie prostrate.” in ancient times, a person would fall down before someone who possessed a higher status. people would bow before a king to express complete submission to his rule. Joseph’s brothers recognized the cultural significance of “bowing down” when they reacted so vehemently against Joseph’s dream (Gen. 37:5–8). Bowing down to Joseph meant they were submitting to his authority. following the example of the ancient people of faith, true christian worship must express more than love for God, it must also express submission to His will.

claimed the LORD to be your God, and that you will walk in His ways and keep His statutes, His commandments, and His judgments, and that you will <sup>u</sup>obey His voice. <sup>18</sup>Also today <sup>v</sup>the LORD has proclaimed you to be His special people, just as He promised you, that you should keep all His commandments, <sup>19</sup>and that He will set you <sup>w</sup>high above all nations which He has made, in praise, in name, and in honor, and that you may be <sup>x</sup>a <sup>8</sup>holy people to the LORD your God, just as He has spoken.”

The Law Inscribed on Stones

27 Now Moses, with the elders of Israel, commanded the people, saying: “Keep all the commandments which I command you today. <sup>2</sup>And it shall be, on the day <sup>a</sup>when you cross over the Jordan to the land which the LORD your God is giving you, that <sup>b</sup>you shall set up for yourselves large stones, and whitewash them with lime. <sup>3</sup>You shall write on them all the words of this law, when you have crossed over, that you may enter the land which the LORD your God is giving you, <sup>c</sup>“a land flowing with milk and honey; just as the LORD God of your fathers promised you. <sup>4</sup>Therefore it shall be, when you have crossed over the Jordan, that <sup>d</sup>on

<sup>9</sup>Then Moses and the priests, the Levites, spoke to all Israel, saying, “Take heed and listen, O Israel: <sup>h</sup>This day you have become the people of the LORD your God. <sup>10</sup>Therefore you shall obey the voice of the LORD your God, and observe His commandments and His statutes which I command you today.”

Curses Pronounced from Mount Ebal

Mt. Sinai (ex. 24:7). in this covenant renewal ceremony, the new generation confirmed their commitment to God. To confess that the LORD was their God implied a commitment to live by His revelation.

26:18 The Hebrew word for special people speaks of God’s great delight and pleasure in His people. They are like a very special jewel, an adornment that He treasures. The word denotes an elect people, set apart by the LORD to Himself, committed to the LORD and His revelation, and exalted above the nations (ex. 19:5; Mal. 3:17).

26:19 closeness to the LORD meant separation from the nations. in praise . . . in honor: The future of God’s people was in His hands. He had promised to bestow honor on them (compare Gen. 12:2, 3; is. 60; rom. 8:18, 19). in a similar manner, the LORD has lifted up the people of His church, separating them from the nations and regarding them as a holy people (1 pet. 2:9).

27:1 The elders of Israel joined Moses at this point. This joint declaration demonstrated the validity of God’s revelation through Moses, even after Moses’ death.

27:2 The large stones were memorial stones on which the law of God was to be written (v. 8). whitewash them with lime: These stones were coated with a plaster background so that the writing would be more visible.

27:4 Mount Ebal was north of Mount Gerizim (vv. 12, 13). Between the two mountains was the city of Shechem (Gen. 12:6, 7; 33:18–20). Shechem and its two mountains are roughly in the center of the land of Canaan.

27:5 altar of stones: The LORD gave the Israelites specific instructions on how they could approach Him. forging iron was not a skill as characteristic of Israel as of some other Middle Eastern peoples. The LORD rejected an impressive altar for a humble altar of whole stones, that is, uncut stones. perhaps an impressive altar would have diverted the worshippers’ attention from God (ex. 20:25).

27:7 Peace offerings were occasions of great joy, celebrations of belonging to God, sensing His presence, and remembering and thanking Him for His good gifts. rejoice: The joy came from recognizing their special place in God’s gracious covenant (v. 9).

27:8 write very plainly: The words of God’s law had to be easily read. They were not to be obscured by ornamentation or trivialized by carelessness.

27:9, 10 The authority of the priests and Levites came from their close association with Moses. They were the guardians and interpreters of the law and stood together with Moses at this solemn moment. I command you: since Moses was the mediator of the covenant, the commands he gave the people were actually God’s commandments.

27:11–14 during the covenant renewal ceremony with the second generation of Israel, the LORD used the topography of the land for dramatic, visual effect. Mount Ebal, because of topographical and climatic conditions, is normally a barren peak while Mount Gerizim

burnt offering

in Hebrew, this word means “holocaust,” an offering that is completely destroyed by fire. By burning the best of their offerings on God’s altar, the Israelites expressed their dedication and gratitude to God, who had supplied all their needs. Many different types of burnt offerings were offered: bulls (1 ev. 1:3–5), sheep or goats (1 ev. 1:10), and birds (1 ev. 1:14). if the burnt offering was presented as a sin offering, the worshiper would place his hands on the animal’s head to show the transfer of sin to the animal. The animal was then killed by the priest. The priest collected the animal’s blood and presented it to the LORD by sprinkling it on the altar. pieces of the sacrifice were then placed on the altar and completely burned. These sacrifices were necessary until Christ offered Himself as a sacrifice for the sins of all.

is usually covered with vegetation. c onsequently, Mt. ebal was an ideal place for the curses to be recited, and Mt. Gerizim was suitable for the blessings. The association of the place and the word would have been unforgettable. f urthermore, the two mountains are quite close, so they would serve as a natural amphitheater for the recitation of the curses and blessings by the Levites.

27:15, 16 The first curse pertained to idolatry. A carved or molded image defied the first or second commandment or both (5:7–9). Amen was an expression of approval and submission to God’s Word. The second curse pertained to an infraction of the fifth commandment (5:16; 21:18–21).

27:17 The third curse pertained to justice and greed. landmark: Moving the stone with the intent of extending the boundary of one’s land enhanced one’s own personal prosperity at the expense of someone else (19:14).

27:18 The fourth curse required the humane treatment of disabled people. blind: The underlying assumption is that only a person of great cruelty and no love for God would take advantage of a disabled person.

27:19 The fifth curse had to do with compassion to those who were defenseless. The stranger, the fatherless, and widow did not have the legal and social resources to defend themselves.

27:20–23 The sixth through the ninth curses covered sexual morality. sexual relations with animals (bestiality) and incest were strictly prohibited (ex. 22:19; 1 ev. 18:23; 20:15, 16).

Covenant Renewal

At Sinai, God for the first time announced His covenant to the entire nation of Israel (5:22–33). Although this generation of Israelites witnessed God’s awe-inspiring revelation of Himself, they still did not trust Him. Because of their rebellion, they were barred from entering the promised land. Now the second generation was preparing to enter the promised land, just as God had promised. Before they entered, Moses gathered the people together to renew their commitment to the covenant.

The covenant renewal involved two stages. The first stage was performed by Moses on the plains of Moab (chs. 27–30). In this ceremony, Moses presented the people two separate ways. One way led to God’s curses and ultimately to death. The other way led to God’s blessing and to life. Then Moses challenged the new generation to choose the way of life, and he exhorted them to follow God’s law and teach it to their children. That way would lead to God’s abundant blessings for Israel. On the other hand, worshipping dead idols would lead to destruction and death. Since Moses himself could not enter the promised land, he publicly recognized Joshua as his successor at this ceremony.

The second stage of the covenant renewal ceremony was performed by Joshua in the promised land itself (27:1–26; Josh. 8:30–35). After the conquest of Canaan, the Israelites gathered between the mountains of Ebal and Gerizim. For dramatic effect, the curses for abandoning God were announced on the barren mountaintop of Ebal, while the blessings for following God were announced on the green slopes of Gerizim. There, the Israelites renewed their commitment to the Lord, who had fulfilled His promises to Abraham by giving them the land.

Curses on Disobedience

15 “But it shall come to pass, <sup>t</sup>if you do not obey the voice of the LORD your God, to observe carefully all His commandments and His statutes which I command you today, that all these curses will come upon you and overtake you:

16 “Cursed shall you be in the city, and cursed shall you be in the country.

17 “Cursed shall be your basket and your kneading bowl.

18 “Cursed shall be the <sup>5</sup>fruit of your body and the produce of your land, the increase of your cattle and the offspring of your flocks.

27:24, 25 The tenth and eleventh curses addressed justice when a homicide occurred. secretly: The murderer might have escaped detection, but God saw his vile act. bribe . . . innocent person: Both a hired assassin and the person who did the hiring would have been guilty.

27:26 The twelfth curse was an all-encompassing one. A curse was on anyone who broke any part of the law. The Lord expected not only full submission to the law, but also a love for Him. Paul quoted this verse to emphasize the impossibility of keeping the law (Gal. 3:10). The blessings that would have corresponded to these 12 curses are not recorded here.

28:1-9 This passage repeatedly emphasizes the Israelites' responsibility to obey. if you diligently obey: Israel could never earn salvation through obedience. God had already chosen to save them from slavery and make them His people. He had already promised to be their God and give them the promised land. Yet God demanded diligent obedience from the Israelites in order for them to receive all of God's rich blessings in the land (is. 48:17-19). overtake you: The Lord's blessings would be the source of the people's joy (ps. 23:6).

28:10 afraid: The nations would see God's presence and His blessing on His people and would stand in awe of the greatness of the Lord. name of the Lord: Here the name Yahweh is used for God. This indicates God's unique relationship with the Israelites. He had revealed to them His glorious name.

28:12 God gave graciously to the Israelites from the good treasure that He had stored up for them. The people received God's blessings solely because of His grace. rain . . . season: The Canaanites believed that Baal was the giver of dew and rain (1 Kin. 17:1). But God assured Israel that He controlled the heavens and would make their lands fruitful (ps. 104:3, 13). lend . . . borrow: God's blessing on Israel would be so great that Israel would become the leader of the nations.

28:13 The phrase the head and not the tail indicates that Israel will rise to a place of honor among the nations.

28:14 not turn . . . to the right or the left: since the Lord alone was the source of blessing, the Israelites had to follow Him alone in the pursuit of their happiness. They could not look in any other direction for insight.

28:15 if you do not obey: God's promises of the fullness of His blessing were dependent upon the obedience of His people. His curses were His reluctant—but certain—punishment for disobedience.

<sup>20</sup>“The LORD will send on you <sup>u</sup>cursing, <sup>v</sup>confusion, and <sup>w</sup>rebuke in all that you set your hand to do, until you are destroyed and until you perish quickly, because of the wickedness of your doings in which you have forsaken Me. <sup>21</sup>The LORD will make the <sup>6</sup>plague cling to you until He has consumed you from the land which you are going to possess. <sup>22</sup><sup>x</sup>The LORD will strike you with consumption, with fever, with inflammation, with severe burning fever, with the sword, with <sup>y</sup>scorching, <sup>7</sup> and with mildew; they shall pursue you until you perish. <sup>23</sup>And <sup>z</sup>your heavens which are over your head shall be bronze, and the earth which is under you shall be iron. <sup>24</sup>The LORD will change the rain of your land to powder and dust; from the heaven it shall come down on you until you are destroyed.

28:20 cursing, confusion, and rebuke: The coming of God’s curse would lead to despair. hand: The curse would affect all human activities so that they would come to nothing (ps. 112:10). The fruitfulness that came with God’s abundant blessings would disappear.

28:21, 22 Plague refers to devastations from pestilence and contagious diseases. consumption . . . burning fever: The diseases cannot easily be identified, but they have in common a fever or inflammation of body organs.

28:26 carcasses: The idea of birds eating the flesh of the dead was particularly repugnant in ancient times. The lack of proper burial was a mark of terrible disregard for the person who had died (1 sam. 31:11–13).

28:27, 28 boils of Egypt: The disease inflicted on the Egyptians (ex. 9:10) would now be visited on the people of God for their disobedience. If the people obeyed God’s laws, He promised to deliver them from such diseases (ex. 15:26). Tumors may refer to hemorrhoids (1 sam. 5:6, 12). scab: These skin diseases not only brought great distress, but also rendered a person unclean, unfit for the worship of God (n um. 5:1–4). madness . . . confusion of heart: These symptoms may indicate an advanced case of syphilis.

28:30–32 betroth a wife . . . build a house . . . plant a vineyard: The momentous events of life could not be enjoyed because of disasters and wars. Your ox . . . Your sons: property and children alike would be taken from the people, and there would be no strength to recover what was lost.

28:35 Severe boils refers to skin diseases, such as Job experienced (Job 2:7).

28:37–43 The curses on the Israelites for disobedience were the direct opposite of the blessings the Israelites would receive for obedience. an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword: contrast this repugnance of the Israelites with the honor promised in v. 13. lower and lower: contrast this with the promise of v. 13; where the people of Israel would once be exalted, they would now be debased.

cursed

(Heb. arar) (27:15; 28:16; Jer. 17:5) strong’s #779

The word literally means “to bind with a curse.” A curse is the opposite of a blessing, it wishes or prays for ill or injury on a person or an object. God cursed the serpent and the ground after the sin of Adam and Eve (Gen. 3:14, 17). Jeremiah, in despair, cursed the man who brought news of his birth (Jer. 20:14, 15). The seriousness of God’s covenant with His people is illustrated by the threat of a curse on any who violate it (28:60, 61). In the NT, Paul taught that Jesus Christ became a “curse” for us, so that we might be freed from the curses of the Law (Gal. 3:13).

vineyards and tend them, but you shall neither drink of the wine nor gather the grapes; for the worms shall eat them.

<sup>40</sup>You shall have olive trees throughout all your territory, but you shall not anoint yourself with the oil; for your olives shall drop off. <sup>41</sup>You shall beget sons and daughters, but they shall not be yours; for they shall go into captivity.

<sup>44</sup>He shall lend to you, but you shall not lend to him; he shall be the head, and you shall be the tail.

<sup>45</sup>“Moreover all these curses shall come upon you and pursue and overtake you, until you are destroyed, because you <sup>4</sup>did not obey the voice of the LORD your God, to keep His commandments and His statutes which He commanded you.

<sup>51</sup>And they shall eat the increase of your livestock and the produce of your land, until you are destroyed; they shall not leave you grain or new wine or oil, or the increase of your cattle or the offspring of your flocks, until they have destroyed you.

28:46, 47 The disasters would be a sign that would remind the people of their disobedience. serve . . . with joy . . . for the abundance: The expected response to God’s goodness was joy and a heartfelt willingness to do His will. The absence of these responses incurred God’s wrath.

28:48 Yoke of iron is an expression of servitude and enslavement.

28:49, 50 The enemy nation is compared to a soaring eagle that swoops down on its prey (Jer. 48:40; Hos. 8:1). The enemy would show no compassion on the people whether old or young.

28:52–57 besiege you: Moses forewarned the people of the terrible stresses of sieges (see 2 Kin. 6:24–31; I am. 2:20; 4:10). The horrors of siege, hunger, and deprivation would lead people to behave in ways that they otherwise could never imagine. she will eat them: nothing could compare to the horror of a mother eating her own children.

28:58 The Hebrew words translated glorious and awesome together mean “overwhelmingly awesome.” The name of the Lord inspired awe and fear because He had abundantly demonstrated His power in both Egypt and the wilderness. The phrase THE LORD YOUR GOD brought together God’s awesome majesty and His personal care for His people.

28:59–68 The following verses are a summary of all the curses that would fall upon disobedient Israel. Many are reversals of the blessing list in vv. 1–14. Other curses are plagues that the Israelites had been spared from during the exodus (v. 60, 61). back to Egypt: This would be a tragic reversal of God’s redemptive plan for Israel. God had saved the Israelites from slavery, but now God would send them back into Egyptian servitude.

not obey the voice of the LORD your God. <sup>63</sup> And it shall be, that just as the LORD <sup>n</sup> rejoiced over you to do you good and multiply you, so the LORD <sup>o</sup> will rejoice over you to destroy you and bring you to nothing; and you shall be <sup>p</sup> plucked<sup>3</sup> from off the land which you go to possess.

<sup>68</sup> “And the LORD <sup>x</sup> will take you back to Egypt in ships, by the way of which I said to you, <sup>y</sup> ‘You shall never see it again.’ And there you shall be offered for sale to your enemies as male and female slaves, but no one will buy you.”

The Covenant Renewed in Moab

29 These are the words of the covenant which the LORD commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab, besides the <sup>a</sup> covenant which He made with them in Horeb.

<sup>2</sup> Now Moses called all Israel and said to them: <sup>b</sup> “You have seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh and to all his servants and to all his land— <sup>3</sup> <sup>c</sup> the great trials which your eyes have seen, the signs, and those great wonders. <sup>4</sup> Yet <sup>d</sup> the LORD has not given you a heart to <sup>1</sup> perceive and eyes to see and ears to hear, to this very day.

29:1 The Hebrew phrase translated as these are the words of the covenant can be interpreted as a conclusion to the previous chapters or as an introduction to chs. 29–32. In the land of Moab is a reference to the beginning of deuteronomy (1:1–5).

29:2–8 <sup>o</sup>nce again, Moses reviewed the history of God’s merciful acts to the people of Israel. <sup>f</sup>or a more complete history see 1:30; 2:32–3:6; 4:34; 5:1; 7:18, 19; 8:2–4; 11:2–7.

29:2–5 Great trials . . . great wonders refers to the miraculous acts of God in Egypt, the wilderness, and the land east of the Jordan. Moses pointed out that God had supported the Israelites even in less dramatic ways, such as seeing that their clothes and sandals were not worn out.

29:6 Although the people did not eat bread in the wilderness, God had supplied them with bread from heaven, manna.

29:7, 8 The winning of the area east of the Jordan (2:26–3:22) was the glorious beginning of the conquest of the land. But there was still greater glory to come—the winning of the territory west of the river.

29:9–13 the words of this covenant: The members of the covenant community included all adults, children, and strangers who had joined the Israelites, as well as those yet to be born. a people for Himself: The central purpose of the covenant was to bind two parties, God and His people, together.

29:18 every individual man and woman was responsible to the community as a whole for his or her relationship to God. since the entire community was covenanted to God Himself, every individual had to follow Him. bitterness or wormwood: Tolerance for idolatry and pagan practices would always corrupt the community, and therefore the covenant relationship with God.

ness or wormwood; <sup>19</sup>and so it may not happen, when he hears the words of this curse, that he blesses himself in his heart, saying, 'I shall have peace, even though I <sup>3</sup>follow the <sup>v</sup>dictates of my heart'—<sup>w</sup>as though the drunkard could be included with the sober.

The Blessing of Returning to God

30 “Now <sup>a</sup>it shall come to pass, when <sup>b</sup>all these things come upon you, the blessing and the <sup>c</sup>curse which I have set before you, and <sup>d</sup>you <sup>1</sup>call them to mind among all the nations where the LORD your God drives you, <sup>2</sup>and you <sup>e</sup>return to the LORD your God and obey His voice, according to all that I command you today, you and your children, with all your heart and with all your soul, <sup>3f</sup>that the LORD your God will bring you back from captivity, and have compassion on you, and <sup>g</sup>gather you again from all the nations where the LORD your God has scattered you. <sup>4h</sup>If any of you are driven out to the farthest parts under heaven, from there the LORD your God will gather you, and from there He will bring you. <sup>5</sup>Then the LORD your God will bring you to the land which your fathers possessed, and you shall possess it. He will prosper you and multiply you more than your fathers. <sup>6</sup>And <sup>i</sup>the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your descendants, to love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live.

29:19 he blesses himself: The self-absorbed person would consider himself worthy of the blessings of God; the righteous person would live by God’s grace and gratefully obey His commands.

29:20 for the memory of a person’s name to be lost was considered a terrible fate in the ancient Middle eastern culture. for God to record and remember their names was a glorious hope for the ancient israelites (see ps. 87).

29:22, 23 God’s judgments on a disobedient israel would be a sign of His holiness for the future generation and for other nations. Brimstone, salt, and burning are images reminiscent of God’s judgment of sodom and Gomorrah (Gen. 19:24–29), with which Admah and Zeboiim were also destroyed (Gen. 10:19; 14:2, 8; Hos. 11:8).

29:24–26 The lesson of the faithless israel would become known among the nations, even as the deliverance of israel was to be known by them (2:25). The nations were supposed to learn about God’s grace from israel’s example; what a shame if they were to learn of His wrath instead!

29:28 This day refers to the day of God’s judgment on His people.

29:29 The secret things refers to the future, as well as the way in which the curses would come to pass. The will of God had been revealed in the Law. if these revelations were acted upon, the people would receive God’s great blessing. To ignore the express commandments of God would be folly. similarly, the christian has God’s revealed will in the Bible. To ignore that while chasing after the things God has left secret is pure folly.

30:1 When all these things come upon you refers to the blessings and curses detailed in ch. 28, particularly the curses. God allowed Moses to foresee israel’s future apostasy and God’s dispersal of the people among the nations. These words should have been terribly upsetting to the people because they were spoken on the eve of their conquest of the land.

30:2–6 not only did Moses foresee the future apostasy and captivity of israel, he also saw israel’s future repentance and return to the land (see the Book of ezra). This passage could also await a future fulfillment.

30:6 circumcise your heart: God Himself would work in the hearts of His people so that they would love Him (10:16). God would extend the benefits of His work to the descendants of these people. He would create a community of faith that would worship Him from generation to generation. all your heart and . . . soul: God’s intentions for His people have always been for the whole person to respond to Him. outward symbols such as circumcision were always intended by God to be marks of inner realities.

30:7 God did not abandon His principle of reward and punishment for the nations (and for the individuals) based on their treatment of His covenant people (compare Gen. 12:3; 2 Thess. 1:5–10). He would repay israel’s enemies.

those who hate you, who persecuted you. <sup>8</sup>And you will <sup>k</sup>again obey the voice of the LORD and do all His commandments which I command you today. <sup>9</sup><sup>1</sup>The LORD your God will make you abound in all the work of your hand, in the <sup>2</sup>fruit of your body, in the increase of your livestock, and in the produce of your land for good. For the LORD will again <sup>m</sup>rejoice over you for good as He rejoiced over your fathers, <sup>10</sup>if you obey the voice of the LORD your God, to keep His commandments and His statutes which are written in this Book of the Law, and if you turn to the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

The Choice of Life or Death

<sup>11</sup>“For this commandment which I command you today <sup>n</sup>is <sup>3</sup>not too mysterious for you, nor is it far off. <sup>12</sup><sup>o</sup>It is not in heaven, that you should say, ‘Who will ascend into heaven for us and bring it to us, that we may hear it and do it?’ <sup>13</sup>Nor is it beyond the sea, that you should say, ‘Who will go over the sea for us and bring it to us, that we may hear it and do it?’ <sup>14</sup>But the word is very near you, <sup>p</sup>in your mouth and in your heart, that you may do it.

<sup>15</sup>“See, <sup>q</sup>I have set before you today life and good, death and evil, <sup>16</sup>in that I command you today to love the LORD your God, to walk in His ways, and to keep His commandments, His statutes, and His judgments, that you may live and multiply; and the LORD your God will bless you in the land which you go to possess. <sup>17</sup>But if your heart turns away so that you do not hear, and are drawn away, and worship other gods and serve

Joshua the New Leader of Israel

31 Then Moses went and spoke these words to all Israel. <sup>2</sup>And he said to them: “<sup>1</sup>*a*am one hundred and twenty years old today. I can no longer <sup>b</sup>go out and come in. Also the LORD has said to me, “You shall not cross over this Jordan.” <sup>3</sup>The LORD your God <sup>d</sup>Himself crosses over before you; He will destroy these nations from before you, and you shall dispossess them. <sup>e</sup>Joshua himself crosses over before you, just <sup>f</sup>as the LORD has said. <sup>4</sup><sup>g</sup>And the LORD will do to them <sup>h</sup>as He did to Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites and their land, when He destroyed them. <sup>5</sup><sup>i</sup>The LORD will give them over to you, that you may do to them according to every commandment which I have commanded you. <sup>6</sup><sup>j</sup>Be strong and of good courage, <sup>k</sup>do not fear nor be afraid of them; for the LORD your God, <sup>l</sup>He is the One who goes with you. <sup>m</sup>He will not leave you nor forsake you.”

30:8 The oT tends to focus on the disobedience of God’s people to His revelation. But there were periods of national faithfulness to God, and there were always individuals who were faithful.

30:10 This Book of the Law is the Book of deuteronomy (31:24, 26). God’s blessing would come to those who obeyed the law.

30:11–14 Mysterious means “difficult.” Moses reminded the israelites that obedience to God was not a complicated issue. not in heaven . . . Nor is it beyond the sea: o b edience to the law did not require a superhuman effort, because God had revealed the law to the israelites (r om. 10:6–10). the word is very near you: When God’s law was internalized by the working of the Holy spirit, the believer loved God’s instructions and sought to carry them out (ps. 119:97–104). The believer would obey God’s law in response to God’s love, not as a way of earning God’s love or of deserving His forgiveness.

30:15 Moses challenged the people to determine what path they would follow. o ne way led to life (ps. 1:6; John 14:6) because God’s blessings rested on it (ps. 23:6). The other way led to death and evil because God’s curses rested on it. I ikewise, Jesus in His ministry challenged the people to determine what path they would take (Matt. 7:13, 14).

30:18 The emphasis on today is remarkable in this passage. Moses establishes here the best pattern for the preaching of the Word of God. r esponses to God should not be delayed. Assuming that there will be a later day to respond to Him is dangerous thinking.

30:19 heaven and earth as witnesses: All of creation witnessed Moses’ instruction, his challenge to the israelites to love and obey God, and the people’s response (32:1). choose . . . that both you and your descendants may live: The present generation’s choice would determine the direction of future generations.

30:20 if the people loved God they would find true life, because God is the source of all life. By rejecting God and His ways, the israelites would by default choose the way of death. The people were on the verge of entering the land that had been promised them for so long. Before they made their way across the Jordan to begin their holy campaign of conquest, they needed to know what the stakes were and what was necessary not just to enter the land, but to remain in the land with God’s enduring blessing.

31:2, 3 Again Moses regretfully spoke of God’s refusal to permit him to enter the promised I and (1:37, 38; 3:23–29). Yet he encouraged the people that God Himself would still protect them and fight for them. instead of Moses, Joshua would lead the people into battle.

31:6 The l ord was the divine Warrior, the commander-in-chief of israel’s forces. He will not leave you nor forsake you: Moses reminded the people that God had promised to remain with them, to protect them, bless them, and fight for them (Josh. 1:5; 1 Kin. 8:57). Joshua used the same language to assure the people of the continuity of God’s presence and of godly leadership (Josh. 1:6, 7, 9). Jesus made the same promise to His church (Matt. 28:20).

7 Then Moses called Joshua and said to him in the sight of all Israel, <sup>n</sup>“Be strong and of good courage, for you must go with this people to the land which the LORD has sworn to their fathers to give them, and you shall cause them to inherit it. <sup>8</sup>And the LORD, <sup>o</sup>He is the One who goes before you. <sup>p</sup>He will be with you, He will not leave you nor forsake you; do not fear nor be dismayed.”

The Law to Be Read Every Seven Years

Prediction of Israel's Rebellion

<sup>14</sup>Then the LORD said to Moses, <sup>a</sup>“Behold, the days approach when you must die; call Joshua, and present yourselves

BIBLE TIMES & CULTURE NOTES

Biblical Law—Public Law

Biblical law was public law, and this was an important difference from the pagan laws of the Middle east. in many nations of the ancient Middle east, the king carried the laws in his head, as they were his personal possession. He did not publish them until he was ready to give up his throne. Thus a person could be arrested for breaking a law he had never known. The laws were kept secret, even when a person was put on trial for breaking them. (There are few instances in which anyone cited the royal codes in a court case.) But in Israel, the leaders of government read God's law to the people at regular times of the year (31:10–13). Thus every citizen could learn the laws he had to obey. o ther peoples of the ancient Middle east obeyed laws because they were enforced by the royal establishment; disobedience meant punishment. But God's people were to obey His law because they loved Him (cf. 6:5, 20–25).

So Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves in the tabernacle of meeting. <sup>15</sup>Now <sup>c</sup>the LORD appeared at the tabernacle in a pillar of cloud, and the pillar of cloud stood above the door of the tabernacle.

31:7, 8 With encouraging and challenging words, Moses publicly transferred his authority to Joshua (1:38; 31:14, 23; 32:44; 34:9). He is the One who goes before you: Moses applied the promise given to Israel (v. 6) to Joshua.

31:9 Moses wrote this law and delivered it: in accordance with ancient Middle eastern practices concerning international treaties, Moses made provisions for the future reading of the law and instruction in it. The ark was called the ark of the covenant because it was the depository for the tablets of the law.

31:11, 12 you shall read this law: specifically, the priests were given the responsibility of reading the law and instructing the people (neh. 8:1–6; Mal. 2:4–9). men and women and little ones, and the stranger: The Word of God was for all to hear.

31:14 The words the days approach must have brought a renewed heaviness to Moses. He was ready to die, but his heart yearned to see the promised land. I may inaugurate him: The Lord's words to Joshua are recorded in v. 23 (compare num. 27:18–23).

31:15 The pillar of cloud was the symbol of the presence of God during the wilderness journey (ex. 13:21, 22).

31:16 The phrase rest with your fathers suggests that the body of the person would be laid to rest in a tomb. After the flesh had decayed, the bones would be placed with the bones of one's ancestors. Thus the person's remains were “with his fathers.” But the phrase may also refer to the intermediate state of the soul between death and resurrection. The Lord predicted Israel's future rebelliousness, apostasy, and breach of the covenant. The expression play the harlot speaks both of spiritual adultery and physical acts of sexual immorality that were performed in association with the worship of Baal and Asherah, the gods of Canaan (12:1–5).

feast

(Heb. chag) (16:10, 13; 31:10; ex. 12:14) strong's #2282

The word feast, or “festival-gathering,” is related to the verb that means “to make a pilgrimage” or “to keep a pilgrim feast” (ps. 84:5). The Hebrews were commanded to observe three pilgrim feasts a year (16:16; ex. 23:14). These sacred feasts were celebrated by all people and were joyous expressions of gratitude to God (2 chr. 30:21). They included processions, dancing, and the enjoyment of food and drink (1 ev. 23:40, 41; Judg. 21:19–21). God intended that Israel's religious feasts be worship events, a celebration of the joy God had given them (1 ev. 23:7, 21, 24, 36). The OT prophets, however, condemned the feasts because the Hebrews were desecrating these holy convocations with sacrilegious behavior (is. 1:12–15; Amos 5:21). Zechariah prophesied of a time in the future when all nations would keep the “pilgrim-feast” before the Lord (Zech. 14:16).

17 Then My anger shall be <sup>h</sup>aroused against them in that day, and <sup>i</sup>I will forsake them, and I will <sup>j</sup>hide My face from them, and they shall be <sup>3</sup>devoured. And many evils and troubles shall befall them, so that they will say in that day, <sup>k</sup>“Have not these evils come upon us because our God is <sup>l</sup>not among us?” <sup>18</sup> And <sup>m</sup>I will surely hide My face in that day because of all the evil which they have done, in that they have turned to other gods.

<sup>24</sup> So it was, when Moses had completed writing the words of this law in a book, when they were finished, <sup>25</sup> that Moses commanded the Levites, who bore the ark of the covenant of the LORD, saying:

And <sup>b</sup>evil will befall you <sup>c</sup>in the latter days, because you will do evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke Him to anger through the work of your hands.”

The Song of Moses

<sup>30</sup> Then Moses spoke in the hearing of all the assembly of Israel the words of this song until they were ended:

- 32 “Give <sup>a</sup>ear, O heavens, and I will speak;
 And hear, O <sup>b</sup>earth, the words of my mouth.
 My speech distill as the dew,
 And as showers on the grass.
 For all His ways are justice,
 Righteous and upright is He.
 They are not His children,

31:17, 18 I will forsake them: should the worst occur, the anger of God would be aroused as was described in chs. 28; 29. to other gods: The principal reason for God’s judgment on His people was their continual idolatry. They abandoned His grace and willingly embraced the evil religious practices of the canaanites.

31:19 This song is the song of Moses recorded in 31:30—32:43. God commanded Moses and Joshua to teach this song to the israelites.

31:22 Moses wrote . . . and taught it: These words create an anticipation of v. 30. psalm 90 is attributed to Moses as well.

31:23 Be strong and of good courage: God encouraged Joshua with the same words that Moses used to encourage the people (v. 6). I will be with you: God assured Joshua of His presence during the conquest (Josh. 1:5; Hag. 2:4).

31:26 This Book of the Law is the Book of Deuteronomy. This book would be a witness against israel when they turned from the living God to worship other gods. Then the book that originally had been a book of God’s loving instructions to His people would unfortunately become a charter of His wrath.

31:29 For I know: it is unclear whether Moses’ words here were based on his own experience with the people or on a revelation from the Lord. perhaps both were at work.

32:1 O heavens . . . O earth: isaiah similarly called on heaven and earth to witness (is. 1:2).

32:2 my teaching: The song is an expression of wisdom (see prov. 1:5; 4:2; 9:9). rain . . . dew . . . raindrops . . . showers: These four similes express the refreshing and invigorating nature of the instruction.

32:3 Ascribe greatness to our God: True wisdom and obedience always lead to the praise of God (ps. 145:3; 150:2).

32:4 Unlike the powerless gods of the nations (v. 37), God gives life, stability, and happiness to His people (vv. 15, 18, 30, 31). The joyful life that He gives is based on His perfect works. I like a firm Rock that stands against the raging waters of a stormy sea, God and His works stand firm against the chaos produced by sinful lives. He is the sure foundation for all truth in a world of deception. Thus He will never let lies pervert justice (Zeph. 3:5). instead, as a righteous Judge, He will protect those who have been oppressed. right before the israelites entered the land of canaan in order to establish a new nation, Moses extolled the God who is the perfect foundation for any society.

32:5 perverse and crooked generation: Moses contrasted the israelites with their faithful God. compared to the perfect God of truth, they were corrupt, blemished, and deceptive (v. 20).

- Because of their blemish:
A <sup>l</sup>perverse and crooked generation.

- 18<sup>h</sup> Of the Rock who begot you, you are

And have <sup>i</sup>forgotten the God who fathered you.

32:6 The ancient israelites knew God was their Father (see is. 63:16; 64:8), but they rarely confessed this great truth. Thus these words are unusually striking because they express the israelites' close relationship with God while at the same time castigating the people for abandoning their father. God had chosen them, loved them, and cared for them. He had brought them out of egypt and had even established them as a nation by giving them detailed instructions.

32:7 Remember . . . they will tell you: Here the song uses the language of wisdom literature to exhort the israelites to search out God's ways. The scriptures repeatedly emphasize that wisdom is based on the God of all truth.

32:8, 9 Most High: This designation for God's supremacy is unique to d euteronomy. He is the sovereign God over all, even the boundaries of the nations. the LORD's portion: While it is the LORD's will for many nations to exist, He has favored israel with His special grace, promises, and covenant.

32:10 In a desert land is a poetic reference to egypt. He instructed him: God gave israel His revelation and His laws in order to lead them in all truth. Kept him as the apple (or pupil) of His eye is a symbol of tender loving care for a precious object in need of protection.

32:11 The eagle is a bird of prey commonly found in desert regions. The song compares God's actions towards israel with the care a mother bird showers on her young. God not only protected His children, He provided for them, got them moving, watched over them, and guided them to the promised land (and ex. 19:4). in all these actions He proved Himself to be a loving father to the israelites (v. 6).

32:12 the LORD alone . . . no foreign god: d euteronomy is an extended argument against idolatry and paganism. clearly the israelites had no reason to abandon the God of grace and love who had given them all they needed.

32:13, 14 He made him ride in the heights of the earth: The LORD had great plans for His people (is. 48:17–19). produce . . . honey . . . oil: The LORD had promised to supply His people with crops, rich food, olive oil, and even dairy products in the promised land—all of which the people lacked in the wilderness. wheat . . . the blood of the grapes: Grain and wine were also promised, symbols of God's mercy.

32:15, 16 Jeshurun, a pet name for israel, means "Uprightness." This part of the song contrasts what israel should have been and what they became. since the nation had received God's revelation and His instruction, it should have become upright (v. 4). instead, the nation would grow fat and rebel. scornfully esteemed the Rock of his salvation: even though the israelites would grow rich off God's blessing, they would reject the source not only of those blessings, but also of their salvation. instead, they would embrace foreign gods that had done nothing for israel (v. 12).

32:17 rarely in the o T (ps. 106:37; see also Amos 2:1) are references made to demons and demonic powers. Although the scriptures make it clear that the false gods do not exist as such, this passage identifies the power behind these gods: demons.

32:18 Fathered literally means "gave birth." This is one of several places where God is portrayed in terms that liken His role to that of a nurturing, life-giving mother (compare is. 66:13).

19<sup>a</sup> And<sup>j</sup> when the LORD saw it, He spurned them, Because of the provocation of His sons and His daughters.

20 And He said: ‘I will hide My face from them,
I will see what their end will be,
For they are a perverse generation,
<sup>k</sup>Children in whom is no faith.

21 <sup>l</sup>They have provoked Me to jealousy by what is not God;
They have moved Me to anger <sup>m</sup>by their <sup>n</sup>foolish idols.
But <sup>n</sup>I will provoke them to jealousy by those who are not a nation;
I will move them to anger by a foolish nation.

22 For <sup>o</sup>a fire is kindled in My anger,
It shall consume the earth with her increase,
And set on fire the foundations of the mountains.

Devoured by pestilence and bitter destruction;

When He sees that their power is gone,
And <sup>g</sup>there is no one remaining, bond or free.

37 He will say: <sup>h</sup>“Where are their gods,
The rock in which they sought refuge?”

32:20 I will see what their end will be: even though Israel would reject Him, God would be patient with His rebellious children.

32:24 hunger . . . pestilence . . . destruction: instead of blessing His chosen people, God would send curses on them in order to discipline them. teeth of beasts . . . poison of serpents: creation would also turn against the people.

32:25 young man . . . virgin: The pairings of opposites in this verse indicate that God’s judgment would be comprehensive. It would affect all of society. Similar pairings in Joel 2:28, 29 speak of the comprehensiveness of God’s blessing.

32:28 This verse anticipates God’s judgment of Israel and Judah in the days of Isaiah (Is. 1:3; 6:9, 10).

32:29, 30 Often the phrase latter end is understood as “glorious future”; here it speaks of “ruinous future” for the rebellious Israelites.

Unless their Rock had sold them: God’s protection of His people was so certain that their conquest by enemies could occur only if it were He who gave them over.

32:32, 33 The enemy nations were like the people of Sodom and Gomorrah—cruel, immoral, and oppressive.

32:34–36 laid up in store . . . Sealed: God’s sure plan and purposes are hidden. Vengeance is Mine . . . judge His people: Only the God who is completely just can judge and make right all the wrongs committed. See r om. 12:19; Heb. 10:30. There will be a time for God’s vindication. compassion on His servants: God would discern one day between the righteous and the wicked (Mal. 3:16). He would deal kindly with the remnant that loved and followed Him. This is the basis for all of the prophetic messages about the remnant of Israel.

32:37, 38 Where are their gods: The song mocks those who follow false gods. They abandoned the rock of truth for a rock that was not even a pebble. When the fat was burned and the wine was poured out on the altars of the false gods, the gods were believed to eat and drink these offerings. Yet these gods did not even exist, so they neither ate nor drank.

38 Who ate the fat of their sacrifices,
And drank the wine of their drink offering?
Let them rise and help you,
And be your refuge.

39 ‘Now see that <sup>i</sup>I, even I, am He,
And <sup>j</sup>there is no God besides Me;
<sup>k</sup>I kill and I make alive;
I wound and I heal;
Nor is there any who can deliver from My hand.

40 For I raise My hand to heaven,
And say, “As I live forever,

And My hand takes hold on judgment,
I will render vengeance to My enemies,
And repay those who hate Me.

42 I will make My arrows drunk with blood,
And My sword shall devour flesh,
With the blood of the slain and the captives,
From the heads of the leaders of the enemy.”

<sup>n</sup>people;
For He will <sup>o</sup>avenge the blood of His servants,
And render vengeance to His adversaries;
He <sup>p</sup>will provide atonement for His land and His people.”

of Nun and spoke all the words of this song in the hearing of the people. <sup>45</sup>Moses finished speaking all these words to all Israel, <sup>46</sup>and he said to them: <sup>p</sup>“Set

Moses to Die on Mount Nebo

<sup>48</sup>Then the LORD spoke to Moses that very same day, saying: <sup>49</sup>s “Go up this mountain of the Abarim, Mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab, across from Jericho; view the land of Canaan, which I give to the children of Israel as a possession; <sup>50</sup>and die on the mountain which you ascend, and be <sup>4</sup>gathered to your people, just as <sup>t</sup>Aaron your brother died on Mount Hor and was gathered
against Me among the children of Israel at the waters of <sup>5</sup>Meribah Kadesh, in the Wilderness of Zin, because you <sup>v</sup>did not

Israel. <sup>52</sup>w Yet you shall see the land before you, though you shall not go there, into the land which I am giving to the children of Israel.”

Moses' Final Blessing on Israel

33 Now this is <sup>a</sup>the blessing with which Moses <sup>b</sup>the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death. <sup>2</sup>And he said:

“The LORD came from Sinai,
And dawned on them from <sup>d</sup>Seir;
He shone forth from <sup>e</sup>Mount Paran,
And He came with <sup>f</sup>ten thousands of saints;
Came a fiery law for them.
3 Yes, <sup>g</sup>He loves the people;
They <sup>i</sup>sit down at Your feet;
Everyone <sup>j</sup>receives Your words.
4 <sup>k</sup>Moses <sup>1</sup>commanded a law for us,
Jacob.

32:39 I, even I, am He is a glorious affirmation of the incomparability of God (ps. 113:4-6). God alone controls human existence. Because He is totally free to do what He wants, only He can either curse or bless, wound or heal, kill or give life.

32:40 I raise My hand to heaven: God made an oath to Himself that He would avenge His people (Gen. 22:16; Heb. 6:13-18). He would make right all wrongs.

32:43 Rejoice, O Gentiles, with His people: God in this song given to Moses invited all nations to join in the worship of the living God, to praise Him for promising to restore justice.

32:46 Law here may signify the song of Moses or deuteronomy as a whole (compare 31:26).

32:47 prolong your days: The intention of God's instruction was to show the israelites the path that leads to fullness of life and rich blessing.

32:48, 49 Mount Nebo is a mountain peak near Heshbon about ten miles east of the northern end of the dead sea.

32:50-52 you did not hallow Me: Moses did not completely obey

God's instructions at Kadesh. Because of this, Moses could not enter the promised land (1:37; 3:23-26; 4:21, 22; 31:2; n um. 20:10-13). Yet God would graciously allow Moses to see the land (34:1-8).

33:1 Moses is to be remembered for his faithfulness in spite of his failure (Heb. 3:1-6). scriptures describe him as a servant of God (n um. 12:6-8), a friend of God (ex. 33:11), and a man of God.

33:2 came from . . . dawned . . . shone forth: These verbs reminded the israelites of the awe-inspiring revelation of God in all of His glory. God came down to israel and revealed His covenant and law to them at Mt. Sinai. poetically, Moses referred to Seir and Paran located northeast of Mt. Sinai. With these references, Moses implied that God's revelation took place throughout the whole wilderness journey (Judg. 5:4, 5). ten thousands of saints: Angelic beings attended the giving of the law (compare Acts 7:53; Gal. 3:19; Heb. 2:2).

33:4, 5 heritage: What made israel unique was its reception of the law of God mediated through Moses. God had chosen israel alone to receive His instructions. The lord alone was the King over His people. At the same time, He as the creator ruled over all He had made.

When the leaders of the people were gathered,
All the tribes of Israel together.

6 “Let <sup>o</sup>Reuben live, and not die, Nor let his men be few.”

7 And this he said of <sup>p</sup>Judah:

“Hear, LORD, the voice of Judah,
And bring him to his people;
<sup>q</sup>Let his hands be sufficient for him,
And may You be <sup>r</sup>a help against his enemies.”

8 And of <sup>s</sup>Levi he said:

“Let Your <sup>2</sup>Thummim and Your Urim
be with Your holy one,
<sup>u</sup>Whom You tested at Massah,
And with whom You contended at the waters of Meribah,

9 <sup>v</sup>Who says of his father and mother,
‘I have not <sup>w</sup>seen them’;
<sup>x</sup>Nor did he acknowledge his brothers,
Or know his own children;
For <sup>y</sup>they have observed Your word
And kept Your covenant.

10 <sup>z</sup>They shall teach Jacob Your judgments,
And Israel Your law.
They shall put incense before You,
altar.

11 Bless his substance, LORD,
And <sup>b</sup>accept the work of his hands;
Strike the loins of those who rise against him,
And of those who hate him, that they rise not again.”

12 Of Benjamin he said:

“The beloved of the LORD shall dwell in safety by Him,
Who shelters him all the day long;

Together with them

<sup>k</sup>He shall push the peoples
To the ends of the earth;

Ephraim,
And they are the thousands of Manasseh.”

18 And of Zebulun he said:

And Issachar in your tents!

19 They shall <sup>n</sup>call the peoples to the mountain;

There <sup>o</sup>they shall offer sacrifices of righteousness;

For they shall partake of the abundance of the seas

And of treasures hidden in the sand.”

33:6 Let Reuben live . . . men be few: Moses predicted that the Reubenites would have a future, but not a glorious one. settled east of the dead sea, the Reubenites would eventually isolate themselves from the other tribes (Judg. 5:15, 16).

33:7 Moses prayed that the LORD would be present with Judah in its military leadership and would give it success in battle. hands be sufficient: Moses prayed that God would give adequate strength to the tribe.

33:8, 9 Moses prayed for God’s guidance to rest on the Levites, who were responsible for judging cases. The Urim and Thummim (ex. 28:30) were God’s appointed instruments for deciding innocence or guilt and for guiding His people. holy one: A term for the Levites who were separated from the other tribes to serve in the tabernacle. Massah . . . Meribah: The Levites passed the test when the other tribes failed to believe in the Lord’s ability to provide and care for His people (6:16; 9:22). Moses commended the Levites for their loyalty to God’s word and covenant.

33:10 teach: The Levites were charged with the responsibility of instructing the Israelites. They had modeled loyalty (v. 9). Now they had to help Israel understand how to live by God’s revelation. In this way, they continued the ministry of Moses. incense: The Levites were also responsible for the worship of God at the tabernacle (ex. 30:7).

33:12 As the beloved son of Jacob, Benjamin was also the beloved of the LORD (Gen. 44:20). The Lord would give the tribe of Benjamin peace and safety. shelters . . . dwell between His shoulders: The Lord would provide Benjamin with His personal protection.

33:17 glory . . . horns: God would give Ephraim and Manasseh prowess in battle and victory in warfare. Like oxen, these two tribes would push their enemies away from them. ten thousands of Ephraim . . . thousands of Manasseh: In keeping with Jacob’s blessing of Joseph’s younger son Ephraim, Moses exalted him above Manasseh (Gen. 48:8–20).

33:19 The tribe of Zebulun would be located by the seas. The seas and their shores were God’s appointed place for the tribe’s prosperity.

20 And of Gad he said:

“Blessed is he who <sup>p</sup>enlarges Gad;
He dwells as a lion,
And tears the arm and the crown of his head.

21 <sup>q</sup>He provided the first part for himself,
Because a lawgiver’s portion was reserved there.
<sup>r</sup>He came with the heads of the people;
He administered the justice of the LORD,
And His judgments with Israel.”

22 And of Dan he said:

“Dan is a lion’s whelp;

23 And of Naphtali he said:

“O Naphtali, <sup>t</sup>satisfied with favor,
And full of the blessing of the LORD,
“Possess the west and the south.”

24 And of Asher he said:

<sup>v</sup>“Asher is most blessed of sons;
Let him be favored by his brothers,
And let him <sup>w</sup>dip his foot in oil.

Moses Dies on Mount Nebo

34 Then Moses went up from the plains of Moab <sup>a</sup>to Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, which is across from Jericho. And the LORD showed him all the land of Gilead as far as Dan, <sup>2</sup>all Naphtali and the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, all the land of Judah as far as the <sup>1</sup>Western Sea, <sup>3</sup>the South, and the plain of the Valley of Jericho, <sup>b</sup>the city of palm trees, as far as Zoar. <sup>4</sup>Then the LORD said to him, “This is the land of which I swore to give Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, saying, ‘I will give it to your descendants.’ <sup>d</sup>I have caused you to see it with your eyes, but you shall not cross over there.”

<sup>5</sup>So Moses the servant of the LORD died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>And He buried him in a valley in the land of Moab,

33:20, 21 Moses compared Gad’s military role to the power of a ravenous lion and predicted that this tribe would readily join the others in the conquest of Canaan (Josh. 22:1–6).

33:22 Lion’s whelp may refer to the small size of the tribe of Dan. Though Dan’s land inheritance was close to Judah by the coastal plains, the tribe would not be able to keep their inheritance because of the hostility of the Philistines. Therefore, the Danites would one day migrate to the region of the Bashan, south of Mt. Hermon (Judg. 18).

33:23 Moses’ blessing on Naphtali indicates that this tribe would enjoy God’s blessings of abundance. The tribe would inherit the land west and south of the sea of Galilee.

33:24, 25 Dip his foot in oil is an image of God’s rich blessing to Asher (ps. 133:2).

33:26, 27 There is no one like: This negative phrase is a Hebraic way of expressing a strong positive: “The God of Jeshurun alone will help.” rides the heavens . . . the clouds: Like a soldier, the Lord is constantly on the lookout for ways to defend His people from attack. The divine Warrior is always providing protection because He is eternal. God is a refuge or fortress for the people to flee to in times of distress (ps. 90:1; 91:9). everlasting arms: The God who redeemed Israel with His strong arm will always be with His people in love and power.

33:28 Then Israel will dwell in safety: Moses affirmed the truth of the promise God gave through the pagan prophet Balaam (n um. 23:9).

33:29 Who is like you: The question is actually a declaration: “There is no people like you.” shield . . . sword: These military images point to God, the source of all human protection. He would fight Israel’s battles. tread down their high places: God would break down with His own feet the places of idolatrous worship, the pagan sites that defiled the nations (Mic. 1:3).

34:1 Moab was where Moses had given Israel an explanation of the law (1:5) and had led them in a covenant renewal ceremony (29:1–28). Jericho was the first city in Canaan to be conquered. And the LORD showed him: Though he was still in Moab, Moses was granted by God a close-up view of the land. How sad that his feet were not able to walk where his eyes danced! Dan was the territory below Mt. Hermon that was later conquered by the tribe of Dan (Judg. 18).

34:2 Judah refers to the highlands west of Jericho and of the dead sea. The Western Sea is the Mediterranean.

34:3, 4 South refers to the Negev, the dry county south of Judah. The plain is the region around the dead sea, from the valley of Jericho to Zoar, the city in the southern plain where Lot escaped with his daughters (Gen. 19:22). I swore: God had promised this territory to Abraham long ago (Gen. 15:18–21; 17:1–8; ex. 33:1).

34:5 Moses remained God’s faithful servant. A servant of God is a person who has a close and trusted relationship with God, such as Abraham (Gen. 26:24) and David (2 sam. 7:5).

34:6, 7 No one knows his grave: God took care of Moses’ funeral. If his burial place had been known, some people most likely would opposite Beth Peor; but <sup>f</sup>no one knows his grave to this day. <sup>7g</sup>Moses was one hundred and twenty years old when he died. <sup>h</sup>His <sup>2</sup>eyes were not dim nor his natural vigor <sup>3</sup>diminished. <sup>8</sup>And the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab <sup>i</sup>thirty days. So the days of weeping and mourning for Moses ended.

Israel heeded him, and did as the LORD had commanded Moses.

have made it a shrine and begun to worship there. God graciously concealed the burial site of Moses. not dim . . . diminished: Moses died because it was God's will and not because of normal physical deterioration associated with old age (31:2).

34:8 Thirty days was the customary period of mourning. Though Moses was buried alone, he was not forgotten by his people.

34:9 Joshua was recognized for his wisdom as he followed the call of the Lord in his life.

34:10–12 A prophet like Moses: As important as Joshua was, he should not be confused with the one who would fulfill God's promise of a prophet who would have an even greater status than Moses (18:15). Face to face describes the unusual intimacy between Moses and the Lord (ex. 33:11; num. 12). Like Moses, Jesus of Nazareth performed signs and wonders when He began His ministry on earth (Matt. 4:23–25; John 5:46). Moses performed: The miraculous works accomplished by Moses were God's works through Moses' hand. In these engaging words of testimony to the significance of Moses as the servant of God, Deuteronomy comes to its grand conclusion.

THE BOOK OF JOSHUA

THE BOOK OF JOSHUA describes the Israelites' conquest of Canaan—from the initial invasion across the Jordan River to the final division of the land. Like most military histories, Joshua focuses on the commander. Yet for this unique war, the commander was God Himself (5:15). The book repeatedly emphasizes that the Israelites' victories were due to God's intervention (chs. 10; 11). The extraordinary victory over Jericho dramatically demonstrated this (ch. 6). Now God was decisively acting on the promises that He had made to Abraham: He was giving the land of Canaan to His people! The Book of Joshua describes a God who faithfully fulfills His promises.

Author and Title This book is named for the man who figures most prominently in it, Moses' successor and Israel's leader during the conquest of Canaan. Appropriately, Joshua's name in Hebrew means "The Lord Saves" or "May the Lord Save."

The Book of Joshua does not state who wrote it. Joshua himself undoubtedly wrote portions of the book, since 24:26 states, "Then Joshua wrote these words in the Book of the Law of God." But it is uncertain how much of the rest of the book he wrote. As for the date of composition, 6:25 reports that Rahab was living in Israel "to this day." This may indicate that portions of the book (if not all of it) were written shortly after the events recorded. But it could also mean that Rahab's descendants were still living in Israel at the time of writing.

Date of the Events The events in Joshua occurred within a time span of less than a decade, 40 years after the Exodus, probably around 1406 B.C. Caleb stated (14:7–10) that it had been 45 years since he had been sent out from Kadesh Barnea to spy out the land (Num. 13). Since the Israelites spent 38 years wandering in the wilderness (Deut. 2:14), the time from when they crossed the Jordan River till the time of Caleb's speech was seven years. Most of the events in the book probably occurred within that period.

Many scholars have suggested that the conquest of Canaan took place between 1250 and 1150 B.C. because there is archaeological evidence of the destruction of Canaanite cities around that time. However, there are problems with this view, the most significant of which is that the Israelites destroyed only three cities—Jericho, Ai, and Hazor—during their conquest. God had promised that they would live in cities they had not built, enjoy fields they had not planted, and harvest fruit they had not tended (Deut. 6:10, 11). Therefore, the Israelites fought most of their battles in the fields outside the cities. The widespread destruction of Canaanite cities found by archaeologists may date to the time of the judges. During this period, God allowed many foreign invasions to devastate the countryside and the cities in order to discipline His rebellious people.

Nature of the Events Brief summaries contained in Joshua often give the impression that the campaign of conquest was one in which the Israelites overwhelmed the Canaanites with a superior force, inflicting a series of total defeats. Chapter 10 is an example. But the Book of Joshua as a whole does not describe Israel as winning a frontal offensive attack by means of a superior force. Rather, under God's direction, Israel used various means such as ambushes and diversionary tactics to defeat its enemies. The Israelites are said to have destroyed only three cities: Jericho, Ai, and Hazor. Furthermore, Joshua 16:10 and Judges 1 suggest that Israel's victory over the Canaanites was incomplete. There were Canaanites still living in the land. Nevertheless, God did give the greater part of the land of Canaan into the Israelites' hands through a series of dramatic battles in a relatively short period of time. God was faithful to his promises.

Themes The two most prominent themes in Joshua are the possession of the land and the covenant. God had repeatedly promised the land of Canaan to a braham (Gen. 12:7; 13:14, 15, 17; 15:18–21; 17:8; 22:17), to Isaac (Gen. 26:3, 4), to Jacob (Gen. 28:4, 13; 35:12), and to the succeeding generations (Gen. 48:4–22; 50:24). The Book of Joshua emphasizes that the conquest of Canaan was a direct fulfillment of that promise. God was fighting for the Israelites and giving them the land in the process. since God was demonstrating his faithfulness to Israel, he expected Israel to be faithful to his covenant with them. Possessing the land was based on their obedience to his law (23:9–13, 15, 16; Deut. 4:1, 25–27, 40; 6:17, 18). In fact, the Book of Joshua portrays the complete possession of the land as the result of Joshua's obedience to God's commands (10:40; 11:20, 23; 23:9–13).

Conquering the land enabled Israel to experience God's rest, which he had promised to the Israelites from the beginning (1:13, 15; 11:23; 14:15; 21:44; 22:4; 23:1). "The LORD gave them rest all around, according to all that he had sworn to their fathers" (21:44). The author of Hebrews equates this Old Testament concept of rest with entering into Christ's rest, that is, his kingdom (Heb. 3:4).

In addition to emphasizing the importance of faithfulness to the covenant (1:7, 8; 22:5; 23:6, 16; 24:15), Joshua records two ceremonies dedicated to the renewal of the covenant. The first was at Mount Ebal. There Joshua built an altar to the Lord, offered sacrifices, and copied and read the law of Moses (8:30–35). The second was at Shechem (ch. 24), where Joshua wrote the words of Israel's covenant renewal in "the Book of the Law of God" and erected a large stone as a witness and memorial to the agreement (24:25–27). Both ceremonies impressed on the people's minds and hearts their responsibility to follow God alone and to keep his instructions. at the end of the conquest, the Israelites had a new challenge before them. The intensity of the battle was gone. Now the Israelites had to demonstrate their faithfulness to God in the ordinary activities of everyday life.

CHRIST IN THE SCRIPTURES

Although there are no specific prophecies of Jesus in this book, Joshua himself is an obvious representation of the coming savior. his name, which means "The Lord saves," is the Hebrew equivalent of "Jesus" (a Greek name). as Joshua leads the nation of Israel across the Jordan River into their promised inheritance, he foreshadows the one who will bring "many sons to glory" (Heb. 2:10). The apostle Paul recalls Joshua's role when he writes, "Now thanks be to God who always leads us in triumph in Christ" (2 Cor. 2:14).

When Joshua encounters the "Commander of the army of the LORD" outside the walls of Jericho (5:13–15), he is actually in the presence of a pre-incarnate appearance of Jesus. When Joshua sent two spies into Jericho prior to Israel's invasion, a prostitute named Rahab provided them secret shelter. To show their thanks, the spies promised her family would not be attacked if she displayed a scarlet cord in her window to set her home apart (2:17–20). The blood-colored cord that Rahab hung from her window to guarantee deliverance from the advancing troops is a sure sign of the salvation from future judgment that Jesus' blood provides.

1:1 Joshua begins where Deuteronomy ends, after the death of Moses. Moses is the central figure in the narrative spanning exodus through Deuteronomy. He is called the servant of the LORD, a title that was first given to him at the end of his life (Deut. 34:5). In Joshua, Moses is called by this title 15 times. In the Hebrew scriptures it is a special title given only to Moses, Joshua (24:29; Judg. 2:8), David (Ps. 18:1; 36:1), and the Messiah (Is. 42:19). Joshua the son of Nun: Identifying someone by adding the name of his father was the Hebrew equivalent of a last name. Joshua was Moses' assistant (ex. 24:13; Num. 11:28). The Hebrew word used for assistant usually refers to service in worship, but it can also mean service to an individual, as it does here (see 1 Kin. 19:21 for Elijah's assistant). Joshua is not identified as the “servant of the LORD” here, probably to show that he had not yet “filled Moses' shoes.” He needed to grow into the job. Yet Deut. 34:9 hints that Joshua would do just that: “Now Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom, for Moses had laid his hands on him; so the children of Israel heeded him, and did as the LORD had commanded Moses.”

1:2-9 God's speech encouraging Joshua is a warmhearted, tender speech, assuring Joshua of his care, protection, and presence, and urging him to obey his law. It is a model of God graciously encouraging his servants, and its exhortations are still of value today; true success in life cannot occur apart from knowing and doing the will of God.

1:2 the land which I am giving: The land of Canaan had first been promised to Abraham hundreds of years before (Gen. 12:7; 13:14, 15, 17; 15:18-21; 17:8; 22:17). even though God would allow Abraham's descendants to be slaves in a foreign land (Gen. 15:13), he nevertheless promised to bring them back to their own land (Gen. 15:16). This promise was never rescinded. In fact, it was repeated many times (ex. 6:4, 8; Deut. 1:6-8; 4:38, 40; 5:31; 7:13; 8:1-10; 9:4-6; 11:8-12, 17; 26:1, 9; 32:49, 52; 34:4).

1:3 You here is plural, referring to all Israel. sometimes (as in v. 2), the land is pictured as in the process of being given to Israel (“I am giving to them”). In other places, as here, it is pictured as already having been given. This manner of speaking reflects the notion that Israel already had legal title to the land, even if the people had not yet actually taken possession of it. This is also the language of Gen. 15:18. as I said to Moses: God keeps his promises.

1:4 This description of the land gives its southern and northern extremities, and its western border; the eastern border is not mentioned, probably because it extended to where Joshua was standing on the plains of Moab, east of the Jordan River. The land of Canaan here is designated by one of its prominent ethnic groups, the Hittites (Deut. 7:1). a great hittite kingdom in Asia Minor (modern Turkey), dating to around 1800-1200 B.C., has been identified. The relationship between the Hittites in Canaan and the ones in Asia Minor is unclear. The Great Sea is the Mediterranean sea.

1:5 God's great promise to Moses I will be with you (ex. 3:12) is now given to Joshua (1:9; 3:7). of special comfort to Joshua would

A Comparison of Moses and Joshua

Joshua had the privilege and challenge of filling the shoes of Moses—the man whom the Lord knew face to face. As Moses' assistant for many years, Joshua had watched Moses at work. With this preparation he led Israel in much the same way Moses did.

this Jordan, to go in to possess the land which the LORD your God is giving you to possess.”

<sup>16</sup>So they answered Joshua, saying, “All that you command us we will do, and wherever you send us we will go. <sup>17</sup>Just as we heeded Moses in all things, so we will heed you. Only the LORD your God <sup>s</sup>be with you, as He was with Moses. <sup>18</sup>Whoever rebels against your command have been the fact that God would be with him in the same way he had been with Moses. Joshua had been present during the many demonstrations of God’s presence in Moses’ life and would have known how significant this promise was.

1:6 The command to be strong and of good courage was for Joshua’s encouragement, and God repeated these words three times (vv. 6, 7, 9). The people later affirmed Joshua using these precise words (v. 18). David would later encourage his son Solomon with these words (1 Chr. 22:13; 28:20). you shall divide: This is the first notation of what Joshua’s actual duties would be, that of giving the land to Israel on God’s behalf.

1:7 very courageous: The instructions to Joshua here do not address military matters at all. This might seem surprising given the battles ahead. But his success depended more on his spiritual state and his degree of obedience to God than on any military strategy. The spiritual demands preceded the martial ones. the law which Moses . . . commanded you: some scholars have questioned whether Moses gave the law to Israel, arguing that the laws found in the Pentateuch come from a much later time. This passage, along with many others (8:31–35; Deut. 31:24–26), states that Moses did indeed give the law to Israel. The term translated prosper means much more than mere financial success. It includes spiritual well-being.

1:8 To meditate means much more than just contemplation. The idea here is that one should reflect upon God’s Word in a thoughtful way, appropriating its truths personally and applying them to life (Ps. 1:2, 3).

1:10 The officers were officials who helped in the organization of Israel’s affairs. The Egyptian pharaoh had appointed similar officials over Israel (ex. 5:14, 15).

1:11 Provisions referred to the food needed for the next several days as the Israelites prepared themselves to cross the Jordan. within three days: During these three days, the Israelites prepared themselves to enter the land. These were the same three days that the spies hid in the hills outside of Jericho (mentioned in 2:16, 22). After the spies returned, the Israelites waited another three days before crossing the Jordan (3:2).

1:12–15 Joshua reminded the two and one-half tribes that were settling east of the Jordan that they had promised to fight with the rest of the Israelites for the land across the river. Here Joshua quotes Moses’ words to these tribes almost verbatim (compare vv. 13–15 with Deut. 3:18–20). These tribes were granted the right to settle east of the Jordan if they maintained covenant solidarity with their brethren by fighting beside them (Num. 32:1–42; Deut. 2:26–3:20). The account in Joshua indicates that they kept their promise. In fact, at the end of the book Joshua blesses them for their faithfulness in this matter (22:1–34).

1:13, 15 The promise of rest echoes Num. 32:20–22; Deut. 3:18–20. See also the promises of rest in ex. 33:14; Deut. 12:9, 10. This rest was God’s gift to Israel. In Joshua, it primarily means rest from conflict with enemies. Other accounts in Joshua make mention of Israel or the land having rest (11:23; 14:15; 21:44; 22:4; 23:1).

1:14 The Hebrew word for armed is related to the numbers five and 50; it probably means “lined up in battle array in groups of 50.” Mighty men of valor were the elite of the military. Joshua chose thirty thousand of these men to lie in ambush against Ai (8:3) and also took them into battle at Gilgal (10:7).

1:16–18 The people affirmed Joshua warmly and enthusiastically, echoing elements of God’s charge to Joshua in vv. 1–9. Compare v. 5 with v. 17 and note the fourth occurrence of the exhortation to be strong and of good courage (vv. 6, 7, 9). The pledges of obedience and loyalty to Joshua certainly must have been encouraging to this new leader.

1:16 The text does not say clearly who answered Joshua, the officers of the people (v. 10) or the tribes from east of the Jordan (v. 12). From vv. 10, 12 it appears that Joshua’s words to the officers in v. 11 and to the tribes in vv. 13–15 are part of one event. The response in vv. 16–18 is therefore probably that of all Israel. In this way, the entire nation affirmed Joshua’s leadership at the beginning of his duties as leader.

1:17 The LORD your God be with you: The Israelites affirmed Joshua in the same terms that God himself used in promising to be with him.

Jericho

Jericho is one of the oldest inhabited cities in the world, situated in the wide plain of the Jordan valley at the foot of the ascent to the Judean mountains, Jericho lies about eight miles northwest of the site where the Jordan River flows into the Dead sea, some five miles west of the Jordan. since it is approximately 800 feet below sea level, Jericho has a tropical climate. only a few inches of rainfall are recorded at Jericho each year, but the city is a wonderful oasis, known as “the city of palm trees” (Deut. 34:3) flourishing with date palms, banana trees, balsams, sycamores, and henna (song 1:14; Luke 19:4).

There have been three different Jerichos throughout its long history, but by far the most imposing site of the three was oT Jericho, a pear-shaped mound about 400 yards long, north to south, 200 yards wide at the north end, and some 70 yards high.

So they went, and <sup>b</sup>came to the house of a harlot named <sup>c</sup>Rahab, and <sup>2</sup>lodged there. <sup>2</sup>And <sup>d</sup>it was told the king of Jericho, saying, “Behold, men have come here tonight from the children of Israel to search out the country.”

2:1–7 Joshua sent out two spies to explore the land, especially Jericho. They went to a place where news would be easily available, a prostitute’s house (v. 1). News reached the local king, and he sent men to apprehend the spies (vv. 2, 3). Yet Rahab protected the spies by sending the king’s men on a futile chase (vv. 4–7).

2:1 The Acacia Grove was the place east of the Jordan River where the Israelites had been encamped for some time (Num. 25:1). In some translations of the Bible this place is called by its transliterated Hebrew name shittim, which means “The acacia Trees.” a cacia Grove was probably some distance from the Jordan because it took a few days to get there. Rahab was a Canaanite prostitute, and yet her story is one of the most inspiring stories in the Bible. her actions in caring for the Israelite spies in enemy territory demonstrated a faith in Israel’s God that is praised in the NT (heb. 11:31; James 2:25). The term translated harlot is the word for a common prostitute, not a cultic prostitute. It is possible that Rahab had been reduced to prostitution by the death of her husband and by the needs of her impoverished family (6:23 does not mention her husband). In any case, out of all the populace of Jericho, only she reached out to the living God, and he in turn saved her (6:25).

2:2 it was told: Despite the secrecy of the spies (v. 1), news of their arrival in Jericho traveled fast. The king of Jericho ruled over a small kingdom that included his city and the territory around it. a is often the case in the ancient world, his “kingdom” was actually a city-state. Compare the reference to “Jabin king of hazor” in 11:1. 2:4–6 Rahab lied to the men searching for the Israelite spies, but this does not constitute an endorsement for lying as such. The scriptures clearly condemn lying (Lev. 19:11; Prov. 12:22). Rahab did the best she could to save the men sent by Joshua.

2:5 all major cities in Canaan were walled and had a large gate for protection. excavations at Jericho have uncovered strong walls from different periods of the city’s existence.

2:6 Like most houses, Rahab’s had a flat roof. she hid the men there where she had laid out stalks of flax for drying. <sup>f</sup> flax is the oldest textile fiber known. It was used to make linen fabric for clothes.

2:7 The Jordan River was nearly a hundred feet wide near Jericho, and from five to 12 feet deep. There were no bridges, and shallow fords were used for crossing.

2:9 Rahab’s use of God’s personal name Yahweh, translated here as LORD, indicates that she had come to faith in the living God (v. 11). God had graciously opened the heart and mind of a foreign prostitute to accept him as Lord. the terror of you has fallen on us: Israel’s reputation went before them. God already had dramatically delivered the Israelites in many ways, and the report had been spread throughout the nations. Rahab mentioned two miraculous deliverances: the crossing of the Red sea and the victories over two kings east of the Jordan, siron and og (v. 10; see ex. 14; Num. 21:21–35).

fallen on us, and that all the inhabitants of the land <sup>i</sup>are fainthearted because of you. <sup>10</sup>For we have heard how the LORD <sup>j</sup>dried up the water of the Red Sea for you when you came out of Egypt, and <sup>k</sup>what you did to the two kings of the Amorites who were on the other side of the Jordan, Sihon and Og, whom you <sup>l</sup>utterly destroyed. <sup>11</sup>And as soon as we <sup>m</sup>heard these things, <sup>n</sup>our hearts melted; neither did there remain any more courage in anyone because of you, for <sup>o</sup>the LORD your God, He is God in heaven above and on earth beneath. <sup>12</sup>Now therefore, I beg you, <sup>p</sup>swear to me by the LORD, since I have shown you kindness, that you also will show kindness to <sup>q</sup>my father's house, and <sup>r</sup>give me <sup>3</sup>a true token, <sup>13</sup>and <sup>s</sup>spare my father, my mother, my brothers, my sisters, and all that they have, and deliver our lives from death."

<sup>14</sup>So the men answered her, "Our lives for yours, if none of you tell this business of ours. And it shall be, when the LORD has given us the land, that <sup>t</sup>we will deal kindly and truly with you."

<sup>15</sup>Then she <sup>u</sup>let them down by a rope through the window, for her house was on the city wall; she dwelt on the wall. <sup>16</sup>And she said to them, "Get to the mountain, lest the pursuers meet you. Hide there three days, until the pursuers have returned. Afterward you may go your way."

<sup>17</sup>So the men said to her: "We will be <sup>v</sup>blameless <sup>4</sup>of this oath of yours which you have made us swear, <sup>18</sup><sup>w</sup>unless, when we come into the land, you bind this line

<sup>21</sup>Then she said, "According to your words, so be it." And she sent them away, and they departed. And she bound the scarlet cord in the window.

<sup>22</sup>They departed and went to the mountain, and stayed there three days until the pursuers returned. The pursuers sought them all along the way, but did not find them. <sup>23</sup>So the two men returned, descended from the mountain, and crossed over; and they came to Joshua the son of Nun, and told him all that had befallen them. <sup>24</sup>And they said to Joshua, "Truly <sup>z</sup>the LORD has delivered all the land into our hands, for indeed all the inhabitants of the country are fainthearted because of us."

Israel Crosses the Jordan

3 Then Joshua rose early in the morning; and they set out <sup>a</sup>from <sup>1</sup>Acacia Grove and came to the Jordan, he and all the children of Israel, and lodged there before they crossed over. <sup>2</sup>So it was, <sup>b</sup>after three days, that the officers went through

2:11 here Rahab made a dramatic statement of her faith in the Lord. He is God in heaven: she affirmed God's sovereignty over heaven and earth in language reminiscent of the Psalms (compare Ps. 113:5, 6) and not unlike the confession of Melchizedek to a bram (Gen. 14:19, 20). The fact that non-Israelites came to true faith indicates that God's great mercy reached other nations. neither did there remain any more courage: The phrase suggests their breath was taken away; the people of Jericho were left breathless, and their hearts melted from fear of the Israelites.

2:12 Rahab asked the spies to swear to her. even though to swear in God's name was a serious matter, the spies agreed to Rahab's request (vv. 14, 17, 20).

2:15 The hebrew phrase translated her house was on the city wall suggests that Rahab's house was in the city wall rather than on top of it. The phrase might be rendered "in the double walls." This refers to a kind of defensive wall found around many cities in biblical times. The walls were built double and connected by cross-walls between them. The resulting spaces could be used for storage or as living quarters. Rahab's family may have lived in one of these residences. a dwelling in the wall would be a humble dwelling, just the spot for a poor prostitute . . . and for God's grace.

2:16 Get to the mountain: The only hills near Jericho are to the west. This is the opposite direction from the route the pursuers had taken; they had gone east, down to the Jordan (v. 7).

2:18, 21 The spies gave Rahab a line of scarlet cord to hang out the window as a sign of the agreement they had made. This is probably not the same rope she used to let the spies down, since the words are different. The cord's color is undoubtedly significant; it represents the color of the blood of atonement (ex. 12:7, 13). It also alludes to the story of Tamar, since a scarlet thread was tied to the wrist of her first son (Gen. 38:28, 30). Both of these women were non-Israelite ancestors of Jesus (Matt. 1:3, 5).

2:22 a "day" for the ancient Israelites could mean any portion of a day. Thus three days would refer to parts of three days, as in "part of today, tomorrow, and part of the next day."

2:24 fainthearted: The spies reported to Joshua exactly what Rahab had said to them (v. 9).

3:1 The location of Acacia Grove is unknown today, but it was where Israel had been camped for some time after arriving at the plains of Moab, at the northern end of the Dead sea (Num. 22:1; 25:1). It was where Israel was when Balaam came with the intent of cursing Israel (Num. 22-24), and where many Israelites had gone after prostitutes among the Moabite women (Num. 25:1-3). The day after the spies returned from Jericho, Joshua led the people from this place to the Jordan.

3:2 After three days, the officers went through the camp with instructions about the crossing itself. These instructions (v. 3) were different from the instructions given in 1:11, and this three-day period started on the day after the spies returned from Jericho. The previous three-day period in 1:11 (and 2:22) began when the spies went into Jericho to begin with. after these two three-day periods, the Israelites crossed the Jordan on the next day, the seventh day after the book's action begins (3:5). This seven-day period immediately precedes the dedication of Israelite males in

So they took up the ark of the covenant and went before the people.

ch. 5. It is then followed by another seven-day period of marching around Jericho.

3:3 Chapter 3 emphasizes the significance of the ark of the covenant, mentioning it more than 11 times. The priests were responsible for carrying it (v. 3) in accordance with the rules given to Moses (Deut. 10:8; 31:9). They were to carry the ark with poles and not to touch it (ex. 25:12, 13; 37:3–5; Num. 4:4–15). The ark symbolized God’s presence. everyone had to be careful to keep a healthy distance from it (3:4). The priesthood was restricted to Levites in general, and more specifically to aaron’s family (Num. 25:7–13; Deut. 18:1, 5), all priests were Levites, but not all Levites were priests. In later times Zadok, who was descended from aaron through his third son, eleazar (1 Chr. 6:1–8, 50–53), became a prominent priest. From that time on, Zadok’s descendants became responsible for the temple service (ezek. 44:15–31).

3:4 The hebrew word for yet is emphatic and might be translated “be very sure.” This emphasizes the importance of the command to keep one’s distance from the ark. Two thousand cubits was more than half a mile.

3:5 Sanctify yourselves: The Book of Joshua emphasizes the idea of holiness. The basic meaning of holiness is separation from things that are unclean or common. Wonders translates the hebrew word for what today are called miracles. These mighty acts of God astonished people and prompted them to praise him (Ps. 9:1; 96:3). In ch. 3, God performs the miracle of stopping the waters of the Jordan (vv. 14–17).

3:7 With the words I will begin to exalt you, God reaffirmed Joshua’s place as successor to Moses (1:5, 9), that they may know: God revealed miracles not only to bring about certain events but to reveal himself to his people.

3:9 here, Joshua functions as a prophet of God, even though he is never specifically called a prophet, because he stood before the people as spokesman for God.

3:10 The miraculous events that follow not only brought the Israelites across the Jordan; they also attested to the fact that the living God was with them (4:24). Canaanites . . . Jebusites: This text mentions seven people groups. Canaanites sometimes denoted anyone living in Canaan, regardless of their ethnic identity (Gen. 36:2, 3; Judg. 5:19). In this case the Canaanites were probably the peoples living near the sea (5:1) who were known later as the Phoenicians. Their largest cities were Tyre and sidon. a s for the Perizzites, we know little about them. They appear to have lived in the forested areas of central Palestine (Gen. 13:7). Amorites is sometimes a synonym for Canaanites in its broader usage (Gen. 15:16; Judg. 1:34, 35), sometimes the name refers to the peoples living in the cities in the central hill country of Canaan (Num. 13:29; Deut. 1:7), or to kingdoms east of the Jordan (13:10, 21), here the name probably refers to inhabitants of the central hill country. The Jebusites lived in Jerusalem (15:8; 18:28).

3:12 twelve men: one man from each tribe was selected. The hebrew emphasizes that it was to be only one from each tribe; it literally states “one man, one man per tribe.”

3:13 The reference to the ark here parallels the phrase in v. 11. The reference to the LORD, the Lord of all the earth uses both his name and his title. Much as “Baal” was the name of the Canaanites’ most important god, “the LORD” (Yahweh) is God’s personal name. This was the name God revealed to Moses at the burning bush (ex. 3:13–15; 6:2, 3). The term translated Lord means “master.” It refers to God’s status as sovereign of the universe.

3:15 The parenthetical statement for the Jordan overflows is significant because it makes the point that a great miracle was involved. God did not merely slow the Jordan to a trickle during a time of drought; rather, he stopped the waters when the river was high. during the whole time of harvest: This phrase refers to the early summer harvest. at this time, the river was still swollen from the spring melting and rains. The Israelites crossed on the tenth day of the first month (4:19), which corresponds to March–a pril.

3:16 Adam: a city about 18 miles north of Jericho, near where the Jordan and Jabbok Rivers converge. The Jordan flows between high limestone cliffs near Jericho. sometimes parts of these cliffs collapse into the river causing the waters to back up. God could have miraculously caused such a slide to occur at precisely the moment when the Israelites needed to cross over. The Sea of the Arabah is the Dead sea, into which the Jordan flows from the north. The upstream stood still, and rose in a heap very far away <sup>5</sup>at Adam, the city that is beside <sup>z</sup>Zaretan. So the waters that went down <sup>y</sup>into the Sea of the Arabah, <sup>z</sup>the Salt Sea, failed, and were cut off; and the people crossed over opposite Jericho. <sup>17</sup>Then the priests who bore the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firm on dry ground in the midst of the Jordan; <sup>a</sup>and all Israel crossed over on dry ground, until all the people had crossed completely over the Jordan.

The Memorial Stones

4 And it came to pass, when all the people had completely crossed <sup>a</sup>over the Jordan, that the LORD spoke to Joshua, saying: <sup>2b</sup>“Take for yourselves twelve men from the people, one man from every tribe, <sup>3</sup>and command them, saying, ‘Take for yourselves twelve stones from here, out of the midst of the Jordan, from the place where <sup>c</sup>the priests’ feet stood firm. You shall carry them over with you and leave them in <sup>d</sup>the lodging place where you lodge tonight.’”

<sup>4</sup>Then Joshua called the twelve men whom he had appointed from the children of Israel, one man from every tribe; <sup>5</sup>and Joshua said to them: “Cross over before the ark of the LORD your God into the midst of the Jordan, and each one of you take up a stone on his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Israel, <sup>6</sup>that this may be <sup>e</sup>a sign among you <sup>f</sup>when your children ask in time to come, saying, ‘What do

<sup>8</sup>And the children of Israel did so, just as Joshua commanded, and took up twelve stones from the midst of the Jordan, as the LORD had spoken to Joshua, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Israel, and carried them over with them to the place where they lodged, and laid them down there. <sup>9</sup>Then Joshua set up twelve stones in the midst of the Jordan, in the place where the feet of the priests who bore the ark of the covenant stood; and they are there to this day.

<sup>10</sup>So the priests who bore the ark stood in the midst of the Jordan until everything was finished that the LORD had commanded Joshua to speak to the people, according to all that Moses had commanded Joshua; and the people hurried and crossed over. <sup>11</sup>Then it came to pass, when all the people had completely crossed over, that the <sup>i</sup>ark of the LORD and the priests crossed over in the presence of the people. <sup>12</sup>And <sup>j</sup>the men of Reuben, the men of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh crossed over armed before the children of Israel, as Moses had spoken to them. <sup>13</sup>About forty thousand <sup>l</sup>prepared for war crossed over before the arabah itself is the region of the Jordan valley, running from the sea of Galilee in the north to the Dead sea in the south. The Dead sea is the lowest place on earth, 1286 feet below sea level. The phrase Salt Sea is added to the name because the sea has no outlet; it loses its water by evaporation. The concentration of salt and other minerals is so high that nothing can live in it.

3:17 a synonym for the term translated dry ground is found in 4:22, as well as in ex. 14:16, 22, 29 where it refers to the dry ground of the bottom of the Red sea. This crossing of the Jordan was similar to the crossing of the Red sea. The miracle was so effective in both cases that the Israelites crossed on dry ground, not mud or shallow water.

4:3 The twelve stones (one stone per tribe) would mark the spot where God performed his wonderful miracle in stopping the waters of the Jordan so the Israelites could cross. The stones would remind the people of the great event and serve as conversation starters with their children, who would ask what they symbolized (vv. 6, 21).

4:6 The hebrew term for sign can mean “miracle” (ex. 7:3), but here it means “memorial marker.” The same idea is found in ex. 12:13, 14; 13:8, 9, where there are instructions for celebrating the Passover and the feast of unleavened Bread. These observances were signs to the Israelites and their children that God had miraculously delivered them out of egypt. when your children ask: The stones would inevitably stimulate a child’s questions in the same way that the Passover and feast of unleavened Bread would. These questions would be opportunities for instruction (ex. 12:26, 27; 13:8; compare Deut. 6:20–24).

4:8 the children of Israel did so: a standard feature of hebrew narratives is repetition. This verse repeats almost verbatim the instructions given in v. 5. far from being an unimaginative feature of a primitive storytelling style, such repetitions are a sophisticated literary device. often they show that instructions, usually God’s or those of his representatives, were carried out exactly, “to the letter.” The pattern is for a character in the story to give the instructions and then for the narrator to confirm, using the same words, that the instructions were carried out. The phrase as the LORD had spoken to Joshua confirms the obedience of the Israelites even further. This literary device is used to highlight the importance of obedience to the words of God.

4:10 the people hurried and crossed over: This paragraph represents something of a flashback, since 3:17 and 4:1 have already stated that the crossing was completed. The purpose is to look back and reflect upon the people’s obedience.

4:11 The priests who were standing on dry ground in the middle of the river (3:17) were finally able to cross over themselves with the ark. This foreshadows the more detailed account of the priests’ coming out of the water in v. 18.

4:12 The men of the tribes east of the Jordan acted exactly as Moses had spoken—that is, in direct obedience to the instructions Moses gave when Israel was still on the Plains of Moab (Num. 32:20–22; Deut. 3:18–20).

4:13 The number of warriors from Reuben, Gad, and half of Manasseh is forty thousand, much smaller than that listed in Num. 26. There the warriors from Reuben alone number 43,730 (Num. 26:7). The number here was most likely a portion of the warriors from the three tribes; the rest probably stayed with the women, children, and elderly to protect them. The reference to Jericho (the first in the book) foreshadows the dramatic events to follow in ch. 6. Jericho was six miles west of the Jordan, ten miles northwest of the

Conquest of Canaan

1 ENTRY INTO CANAAN

When the Israelite tribes approached Canaan after four decades of wilderness existence, they had to overcome two Amorite kingdoms on the Medeba plateau and in Bashan. Under Moses' leadership, they also subdued the Midianites in order to consolidate their control over the Transjordanian region.

The conquest of Canaan followed a course that in retrospect appears as though it had been planned by a brilliant military strategist. Taking Jericho gave Israel control of its strategic plains, fords, and roads as a base of operations. When Israel next gained control of the Bethel, Gibeon, and upper Beth Horon regions, it dominated the center of the north-south Palestinian ridge. Subsequently, Israel was able to break the power of the allied urban centers in separate campaigns south and north (for the northern campaign, see map, p. 353).

2 THE CENTRAL CAMPAIGN

The destruction of both Jericho and Ai led to a major victory against the Canaanites in the Valley of Ajalon — the battle of the long day (see Josh. 10:12–14)—which then allowed Joshua to proceed against the cities of the western foothills.

Archaeological evidence for the conquest is mixed, in part because the chronological problems are unsolved. On the one hand, clay tablets containing cuneiform letters to the Egyptian court have been found at Tell el-Amarna in Egypt from c. 1375 B.C. These mention bands of Hapiru that threaten many of the cities of Canaan and create fear among the Canaanite inhabitants.

On the other hand, numerous towns were destroyed c. 1230 B.C. by unknown assailants, presumably the “sea Peoples,” but possibly including the Israelites as well. The biblical chronology based on 1 Kin. 6:1 seems to demand an even earlier dating, near the end of the fifteenth century.

3 THE SOUTHERN CAMPAIGN

Azeka, Libnah, Lachish, Eglon, and Debir were all captured by Joshua in his campaign against the southern coalition of Canaanite cities that was led by the king of Jerusalem.

Several of these towns, most notably Lachish, contain destruction evidence that might possibly be correlated with the Israelite conquest, but with Jericho and Ai the historical implications are not clear.

LORD for battle, to the plains of Jericho. <sup>14</sup>On that day the LORD <sup>k</sup>exalted <sup>2</sup>Joshua in the sight of all Israel; and they feared him, as they had feared Moses, all the days of his life.

until we had crossed over, <sup>24<sup>t</sup></sup>that all the peoples of the earth may know the hand of the LORD, that it is <sup>u</sup>mighty, that you may <sup>v</sup>fear the LORD your God <sup>3</sup>forever.”

5 So it was, when all the kings of the Amorites who were on the west side of the Jordan, and all the kings of the Canaanites <sup>a</sup>who were by the sea, <sup>b</sup>heard that the LORD had dried up the waters of the Jordan from before the children of Israel until <sup>l</sup>we had crossed over, that <sup>2</sup>their heart melted; <sup>c</sup>and there was no spirit in them any longer because of the children of Israel.

northern end of the Dead sea. It was near a large freshwater spring 825 feet below sea level.

4:14 the LORD exalted Joshua: once again, God affirmed Joshua’s place as Moses’ successor (1:5, 17; 3:7). In this context, they feared him indicates respect, reverence, or awe, not terror. The Israelites obeyed Joshua in the same way they had obeyed Moses.

4:16 The Hebrew word for Testimony also means “reminder,” and it is used in ex. 31:18 to refer to the tablets on which the Ten Commandments were written, “the two tablets of the Testimony.” “The tablets of the covenant” are mentioned in Deut. 9:11, which shows that “testimony” and “covenant” are closely related ideas. The ark is called “the ark of the Testimony” because it contained the two stone tablets on which were written the Ten Commandments (ex. 40:20; Deut. 10:1-5).

4:18 This verse is a mirror image of 3:15. This neatly concludes the miraculous episode, showing the forces of nature resuming their natural course and reminding us of the marvelous nature of the miracle of God stopping the waters.

4:19 The crossing of the Jordan was on the tenth day of the first month, that is, the month of Nisan (a bib), corresponding to March–April. This was an important day because it coincides with the day that the Passover lamb was selected (ex. 12:3). It foreshadows the keeping of the Passover in 5:10, on the fourteenth day of the month, when the lamb is actually killed (ex. 12:6, 18). The location of Gilgal is uncertain; it was somewhere east of Jericho in the Jordan valley. At Gilgal, the Israelites celebrated several religious rituals, including circumcision and Passover (ch. 5). There also a sanctuary and an altar were built for God (9:23, 27).

4:20 The stones which the Israelites had brought up out of the Jordan River (v. 8) were now set up permanently at Gilgal.

4:21-24 The 12 stones were a memorial for them and their children, as had been stated earlier (vv. 6, 7). The crossing of the Jordan has many similarities to the crossing of the Red sea. The text makes this explicit in 4:23. that all the peoples . . . may know: The miracle was performed for a greater purpose than merely getting the Israelites across the Jordan River. It also was a sign to all peoples that God was powerful. Indeed the inhabitants of Jericho had heard about how great Israel’s God was (2:10, 11).

5:1 God’s drying up the waters of the Jordan caused the inhabitants of Canaan to fear Israel greatly. Such reactions of fear or opposition were common as Israel entered the land (see 9:1-4; 10:1-2; 11:1-5). The language here especially recalls the same thought expressed earlier by Rahab (2:10, 11). This verse forms a transition between the Jordan crossing in chs. 3; 4 and the adversaries to be encountered later in chs. 6-12.

5:2 Flint is a rock found in abundance in biblical lands, and its use is known from almost all periods of ancient history; many flint knives have been found in excavations. Flint was gradually replaced by metals, such as copper, bronze, and iron. Only in two places in the OT is the Hebrew word flint found, here and in ex. 4:26, both in connection with circumcision. This they had to do again the second time (vv. 4, 5). The males of the generation that left Egypt in the exodus had all been circumcised. However, that generation died in the wilderness and the practice had been neglected. Thus it was necessary to perform it again, especially before the important celebration of Passover. The original instructions for Passover had emphasized the importance of circumcising all participants before the ceremony (ex. 12:44, 48).

5:6, 7 God would deny covenant benefits (Gen. 12:1-3; 15:18-21; 17:1-8) to individuals who did not obey him. Anyone who was not circumcised was to be cut off from enjoying the blessings of God’s people (Gen. 17:14). God’s promises to Abraham’s descendants would be fulfilled to the nation as a whole, but not every individual would automatically participate: faith and obedience were required.

Egypt, were <sup>4</sup> consumed, because they did not obey the voice of the LORD—to whom the LORD swore that <sup>8</sup>He would not show them the land which the LORD had sworn to their fathers that He would give us, <sup>h</sup>“a land flowing with milk and honey.” <sup>7</sup>Then Joshua circumcised <sup>i</sup>their sons whom He raised up in their place; for they were uncircumcised, because they had not been circumcised on the way.

<sup>8</sup>So it was, when they had finished circumcising all the people, that they stayed in their places in the camp <sup>j</sup>till they were healed. <sup>9</sup>Then the LORD said to Joshua, “This day I have rolled away <sup>k</sup>the reproach of Egypt from you.” Therefore the name of the place is called <sup>l</sup>Gilgal<sup>5</sup> to this day.

And Joshua <sup>q</sup> fell on his face to the earth and <sup>r</sup> worshiped, and said to Him, “What does my Lord say to His servant?”

<sup>15</sup>Then the Commander of the LORD’s army said to Joshua, <sup>s</sup> “Take your sandal off your foot, for the place where you stand is holy.” And Joshua did so.

The Destruction of Jericho

6 Now <sup>a</sup>Jericho was securely shut up because of the children of Israel; none went out, and none came in. <sup>2</sup>And the LORD said to Joshua: “See! <sup>b</sup>I have given Jericho into your hand, its <sup>c</sup>king, and the mighty men of valor. <sup>3</sup>You shall march around the city, all you men of war; you shall go all around the city once. This you shall do six days. <sup>4</sup>And seven priests shall bear seven <sup>d</sup>trumpets of rams’ horns before the ark. But the seventh day you shall march around the city <sup>e</sup>seven times, and <sup>f</sup>the priests shall blow the trumpets. <sup>5</sup>It shall come to pass, when they make a long blast with the ram’s horn, and when you hear the sound of the trumpet, that all the people shall shout with a great shout; then the wall of the city will fall down flat. And the people shall go up every man straight before him.”

This truth is emphasized in 5:7 with the statement that God raised up another generation to replace the one he had consigned to perish in the wilderness. The land God had promised to Israel was no wilderness, but a land flowing with milk and honey, a fertile land ready to supply all the Israelites’ needs. God had described the land this way to Moses decades before (ex. 3:8); the phrase appears 15 times in the Pentateuch.

5:10 The Israelites celebrated the Passover on the fourteenth day of the month, four days after they crossed the Jordan River (4:19), at twilight. The Israelites scrupulously kept the instructions concerning the Passover (see ex. 12:6).

5:11, 12 The celebration of the Passover marked a significant turning point in Israel’s life: right after this they began to live from the land they were about to possess. The miraculous provision of manna in the wilderness stopped.

5:14 The stranger did not respond to Joshua’s question, but instead identified himself. he was the Commander of the army of the LORD. This elicited a response of humble worship from Joshua. Rather than any further questions about this Man’s loyalties, Joshua asked how he could serve this one greater than him: What does my Lord say to His servant? The Book of Job ends in a similar manner. God did not answer Job’s questions either. There as here it was the encounter with God that mattered most (Job 42:5, 6). Questions were silenced, and humble worship was evoked.

5:15 The command given to Joshua to take your sandal off your foot is virtually identical with the one given to Moses at the burning bush (ex. 3:5). This reinforces the theme developed in the Book of Joshua about Joshua’s filling of Moses’ role as leader of Israel. Joshua was confronted with the living God, just as Moses had been (ex.

33:9–11). John 1:18 strongly implies that appearances such as this were preincarnate appearances of the savior Jesus, and not of God the father, who cannot be seen (John 6:46).

6:2 The verb have given communicates that something has already happened, emphasizing the role of God in Israel’s victories (2:24).

6:3 The site of Jericho measured less than half a mile in circumference, only about seven acres, so the march around the city would have been completed quickly. The phrase men of war (also found in 5:4, 6; 10:24) is essentially synonymous with “mighty men of valor” (v. 2). It is used several times in the Pentateuch to refer to the adult males who came out of Egypt but who were not allowed to enter the Promised Land (Num. 31:28, 49; Deut. 2:14, 16). Now a new generation of warriors, ready to fight the Lord’s battles, was called by this phrase.

6:4 The number seven figures prominently in this passage: seven priests, seven trumpets, seven days, and seven trips around the city. seven is a significant number in the scriptures, beginning with the seven days of creation. It is a number that signifies completion. Its use here helps to demonstrate that the conquest of Jericho was part of a larger spiritual exercise that sanctified the people and the land for God. another reminder of the spiritual significance of the event is the presence of the ark with the people. see ch. 3 for the importance of the ark in the crossing of the Jordan River.

6:5 The terms ram’s horn and trumpet refer to the same kind of instrument. These terms refer to a horn that could produce only a few notes; it was used mainly as a signal. here it both signaled God’s presence and announced Jericho’s impending doom. It is the most commonly mentioned instrument in the OT.

<sup>6</sup>Then Joshua the son of Nun called the priests and said to them, “Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams’ horns before the ark of the LORD.” <sup>7</sup>And he said to the people, “Proceed, and march around the city, and let him who is armed advance before the ark of the LORD.”

<sup>8</sup>So it was, when Joshua had spoken to the people, that the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams’ horns before the LORD advanced and blew the trumpets, and the ark of the covenant of the LORD followed them. <sup>9</sup>The armed men went before the priests who blew the trumpets, <sup>9</sup>and the rear guard came after the ark, while the priests continued blowing the trumpets. <sup>10</sup>Now Joshua had commanded the people, saying, “You shall not shout or make any noise with your voice, nor shall a word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I say to you, ‘Shout!’ Then you shall shout.” <sup>11</sup>So he had <sup>h</sup>the ark of the LORD circle the city, going around it once. Then they came into the camp and <sup>l</sup>lodged in the camp.

ing of the day, and marched around the city seven times in the same manner. On that day only they marched around the city seven times. <sup>16</sup>And the seventh time it happened, when the priests blew the trumpets, that Joshua said to the people: “Shout, for the LORD has given you the city! <sup>17</sup>Now the city shall be <sup>j</sup>doomed by the LORD to destruction, it and all who are in it. Only <sup>k</sup>Rahab the harlot shall live, she and all who are with her in the house, because <sup>l</sup>she hid the messengers that we sent. <sup>18</sup>And you, <sup>m</sup>by all means abstain from the accursed things, lest you become accursed when you take of the accursed things, and make the camp of Israel a curse, <sup>n</sup>and trouble it. <sup>19</sup>But all the silver and gold, and vessels of bronze and iron, are <sup>2</sup>consecrated to the LORD; they <sup>3</sup>shall come into the treasury of the LORD.”

<sup>20</sup>So the people shouted when the priests blew the trumpets. And it happened when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that <sup>o</sup>the wall fell down flat. Then the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city. <sup>21</sup>And they <sup>p</sup>utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, ox and sheep and donkey, with the edge of the sword.

<sup>22</sup>But Joshua had said to the two men who had spied out the country, “Go into the harlot’s house, and from there bring out the woman and all that she has, <sup>q</sup>as you swore to her.” <sup>23</sup>And the young men who had been spies went in and brought out Rahab, <sup>r</sup>her father, her

6:9 Armed men is another military term. It means “men equipped for war,” emphasizing their strength as they prepared for battle. The term rear guard is rare, found only in vv. 9, 13, in Num. 10:25, and figuratively of God in Is. 52:12. The contingent of warriors assigned to the ark is indeed impressive: first the armed men (vv. 7, 9), next the priests blowing horns, then the ark itself carried by priests (v. 8), and finally the rear guard (v. 9).

6:11 he had the ark . . . circle the city: The narrative continues placing the ark in a prominent position. The people circled the city as well, but the focus is on the ark.

6:12 The phrase rose early in the morning is found in 3:1; 6:15; 7:16; 8:10; 8:14, as well as several times in Judges. It indicates a good start to a day. In this case, the task at hand would not consume much time, but it was of such spiritual significance that Joshua in his eagerness made an early start.

6:17, 18 The important Hebrew word translated as doomed . . . to destruction, accursed, or curse occurs in these two verses five times. This word indicates that the city of Jericho, along with its inhabitants and everything in it, was to be completely destroyed as an offering to the Lord. The concept was related to warfare—things would be offered to the Lord by being utterly destroyed. This was not limited to Jericho, however—it could happen anywhere, with respect to material wealth (7:1, 11), people (10:28, 35, 39, 40; 11:11, 20), or even entire cities (8:26; 10:1, 37; 11:12, 21). God wanted Israel to keep itself undefiled in order to reflect his holiness. In this particular circumstance, it was vital that the Israelites not be tempted by the pagan worship practices of the Canaanites. God’s command that they devote the city of Jericho to him was similar to his command to give him the firstfruits of the harvest. Whenever Israel disobeyed this command, the effects were disastrous (see ch. 7). The word trouble foreshadows the problems a chan would bring on the community (7:16–24).

6:19 The word translated consecrated means “holy.” The valuable metal objects were not to be destroyed, but rather to be set apart for the Lord.

6:20 With a great blast of the horns and a great shout from the people, God miraculously delivered Jericho into their hands: the wall fell down flat (“under itself”). The account of the taking of Jericho in vv. 8–20 is related in a slow, climax-building style. This first great obstacle to Israel’s possession of the land fell merely at a shout of the people. The fact that it was utterly destroyed in a moment illustrates God’s complete and effortless mastery over all his people’s opponents.

6:23 The two spies who had visited Rahab’s house went into her home and rescued her and her entire family. These two men mother, her brothers, and all that she had. So they brought out all her relatives and left them outside the camp of Israel. <sup>24</sup>But they burned the city and all that was in it with fire. Only the silver and gold, and the vessels of bronze and iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the LORD. <sup>25</sup>And Joshua spared Rahab the harlot, her father's household, and all that she had. So <sup>s</sup>she dwells in Israel to this day, because she hid the messengers whom Joshua sent to spy out Jericho.

Defeat at Ai

saying, “Go up and spy out the country.” So the men went up and spied out Ai. <sup>3</sup>And they returned to Joshua and said to him, “Do not let all the people go up, but let about two or three thousand men go up and attack Ai. Do not weary all the people there, for the people of Ai are few.” <sup>4</sup>So about three thousand men went up there from the people, <sup>d</sup>but they fled before the men of Ai. <sup>5</sup>And the men of Ai struck down about thirty-six men, for they chased them from before the gate as far as Shebarim, and struck them down on the descent; therefore <sup>e</sup>the <sup>4</sup> hearts of the people melted and became like water.

6:25 she dwells in Israel to this day: This may indicate that this portion of the Book of Joshua, if not the entire book, was written within the lifetime of Rahab.

6:26 Joshua charged them: Literally “caused them to take an oath.” The word cursed is one of the common Hebrew words for cursing; it is the opposite of blesed. Joshua cursed any attempts at rebuilding Jericho. The city was occupied sporadically after that (18:21; Judg. 3:13; 2 sam. 10:5), but never to the previous extent. Joshua’s curse found a dramatic fulfillment many centuries later when Hiel of Bethel laid its foundation and rebuilt its gates at great personal cost (1 kin. 16:34). The language of the 1 Kings account consciously echoes that of this passage.

6:27 as a result of this first dramatic conquest in the land of Canaan, it was apparent that the Lord was with Joshua, and news of this spread far and wide.

7:1 This verse is a transition between the story of the conquest of Jericho and that of the defeat at Ai. It sets up the next chapter (especially vv. 20, 21). The phrase committed a trespass means “committed a treacherous violation.” The names of Achan and his forebears in this verse are found again in 1 Chr. 2:6, 7, usually whenever the anger of the Lord burned against Israel; he raised up an adversary against the nation to threaten and overpower it. Here God used the small army of Ai. The Lord’s anger did not subside until Achan and his family had been punished (7:26).

7:2 Ai, which is beside Beth Aven, on the east side of Bethel: That is, Ai was a small city west of Jericho. spy out: The Hebrew word for spies (see 2:1) and spying is related to the word for “feet.” The spies investigated the land by going through it on foot.

7:4 Israel’s force of three thousand men was a very small contingent indeed compared to the totals that they had available.

according to 4:13, the number of warriors from east of the Jordan alone was 40,000.

7:5 Israel suffered thirty-six casualties before retreating. Although minor, this was Israel’s first defeat in the land and a great surprise, especially after the inspiring events of the siege of Jericho. the descent: The topography west of Jericho rises sharply up out of the Jordan valley. It appears that the men of Ai chased the Israelites eastward, down the steep hills, toward Jericho, from where they had come. the hearts of the people melted: In an ironic twist, the very words that Rahab used to describe the inhabitants of Jericho’s fears in the face of the Israelites (2:11) are now used of the Israelites’ fears of the men of tiny Ai. The effects of sin are often very demoralizing.

7:6 tore his clothes, and fell to the earth . . . put dust on their heads: The actions of mourning here are much more dramatic than typical mourning customs in the modern world. However, these were common actions in Israel and the ancient Middle East. Other mourning customs in Israel included weeping (Ps. 6:6), beating the chest (Is. 32:12), lifting up of the hands (ezra 9:5; Ps. 141:2), lying or sitting in silence (Judg. 20:26; 2 sam. 12:16), bowing the head (Lam. 2:10), fasting (2 sam. 3:35), wearing sackcloth (Gen. 37:34), and sprinkling ashes, dust, or dirt (2 sam. 15:32). However, the Israelites were strictly prohibited from practicing some pagan mourning rites, such as cutting the body or shaving the beard (Lev. 19:28; Deut. 14:1; Jer. 16:6).

7:7 Joshua’s bitter words echoed various complaints by the Israelites in the wilderness (ex. 16:3; 17:3; Num. 11:4–6; 14:2, 3; 20:3–5). The certainty of the past was often preferable to the difficulties of the present and the uncertainty of the future. Joshua’s desire to have remained on the other (east) side of the Jordan demonstrated his selective memory, since that spot had problems of its own. Indeed the Israelites had at times wanted to return to Egyptian slavery (Num. 11:4–6)!

7:9 Despite Joshua’s shortsightedness in v. 7, here he showed that he was aware of the larger issue at stake: God’s great name—his reputation.

The Sin of Achan

<sup>10</sup>So the LORD said to Joshua: “Get up! Why do you lie thus on your face? <sup>11</sup>Israel has sinned, and they have also transgressed My covenant which I commanded them. <sup>k</sup>For they have even taken some of the <sup>7</sup>accursed things, and have both stolen and <sup>l</sup>deceived; and they have also put it among their own stuff. <sup>12m</sup>Therefore the children of Israel could not stand before their enemies, but turned their backs before their enemies, because <sup>n</sup>they have become doomed to destruction. Neither will I be with you anymore, unless you destroy the accursed from among you. <sup>13</sup>Get up, <sup>o</sup>sanctify<sup>8</sup> the people, and say, <sup>p</sup>“Sanctify yourselves for tomorrow, because thus says the LORD God of Israel: “There is an accursed thing in your midst, O Israel; you cannot stand before your enemies until you take away the accursed thing from among you.” <sup>14</sup>In the morning therefore you shall be brought according to your tribes. And it shall be that the tribe which <sup>q</sup>the LORD takes shall come according to families; and the family which the LORD takes shall come by households; and the household which the LORD takes shall come man by man. <sup>15r</sup>Then it shall be that he who is taken with the accursed thing shall be burned with fire, he and all that he has, because he has <sup>s</sup>transgressed<sup>9</sup> the covenant of the LORD, and because he <sup>t</sup>has done a disgraceful thing in Israel?”

and brought Israel by their tribes, and the tribe of Judah was taken. <sup>17</sup>He brought the clan of Judah, and he took the family of the Zarahites; and he brought the family of the Zarahites man by man, and Zabdi was taken. <sup>18</sup>Then he brought his household man by man, and Achan the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, <sup>u</sup>was taken.

7:10–15 God’s response to Joshua and the elders’ mourning reinforced the importance of holiness. Israel—not just a chan—had sinned, and God would not tolerate it. This passage also shows that God had consistent standards for both Israel and the Canaanites. he had ordered Israel to exterminate the Canaanites because of their sin; he could not allow Israel to accommodate corruption, even that of one man, especially when the instructions concerning the infraction were so clear (v. 11; Deut. 7:26).

7:11 hebrew has several words for sin. Sinned means “missing the mark” of a standard set by God; transgressed means “crossing a boundary” set by God. This verse highlights the seriousness of a chan’s offense, attributed here to the nation Israel, by referring to the sin in various ways: Israel had (1) sinned, (2) transgressed the Lord’s covenant, (3) taken some of the accursed things, (4) stolen, (5) deceived, and (6) put the things among their own stuff. The quick, staccato accumulation of these verbs accentuates the severity of the action, since it was essentially one act. My covenant: The word covenant refers to many different dealings of God with his people at different times. here the specific reference appears to be to the portion of the covenant that referred to the annihilation of the Canaanites (Deut. 20:10–20).

7:12 That God would declare the people of Israel doomed to destruction, as Jericho had been, because of their sin was a serious statement. It meant God would no longer be with Israel until the sin was removed from the camp. God had specifically promised to be with his people (1:5, 9). This threat to withdraw his presence emphasizes once again God’s absolute standards and his demand for holiness.

7:13 The relationship between obedience and blessing and disobedience and cursing is well illustrated here: Israel would have no further successes until the sin had been uncovered.

7:15, 16 The hebrew word translated a disgraceful thing denotes a blatant and senseless disregard for God’s will. The text does not say by what method God indicated that the tribe of Judah was taken and the guilty party found out.

7:19 give glory to the LORD . . . and make confession . . . and tell me: These three actions commanded by Joshua are aspects of one event. By telling Joshua his sin, a chan was confessing to God, and by his confession, he was indeed glorifying God. We too dishonor God when we hide our sins from him, and we honor him when we confess them.

7:21 a beautiful Babylonian garment: Literally, “one beautiful garment of shinar.” The land of shinar is mentioned in Gen. 11:2 as the place where men built the Tower of Babel. two hundred shekels of silver: The shekel was the basic unit of weight for silver, and it was slightly more than four-tenths of an ounce. The total weight of the silver was considerable—more than 80 ounces. The gold a chan took weighed fifty shekels, or about 20 ounces. coveted: a chan’s actions, besides violating God’s instructions, also were a violation of the tenth commandment (ex. 20:17). a chan had made fruitless attempts to hide his sin from God, from whom nothing can be hidden (Ps. 139:7–12).

7:24 a chan was brought out to be stoned, not only with each of the items he had stolen, but also with all that he had and his entire household. This was a severe punishment, but it illustrated God’s firm insistence on holiness. a chan’s sin had infected all Israel (7:1), and ridding Israel of the stain of this sin required the annihilation of everything with which a chan had intimate contact. Ironically for a chan, God allowed the Israelites to take the spoil in the next victory, at the second battle of ai (8:2); a chan’s greed was his own downfall.

The Fall of Ai

and seize the city, for the LORD your God will deliver it into your hand. <sup>8</sup>And it will be, when you have taken the city, that you shall set the city on fire. According to the commandment of the LORD you shall do. <sup>9</sup>See, I have commanded you.”

<sup>9</sup>Joshua therefore sent them out; and they went to lie in ambush, and stayed between Bethel and Ai, on the west side of Ai; but Joshua lodged that night among the people. <sup>10</sup>Then Joshua rose up early in the morning and mustered the people, and went up, he and the elders of Israel, before the people to Ai. <sup>11</sup><sup>h</sup>And all the people of war who were with him went up and drew near; and they came before the city and camped on the north side of Ai. Now a valley lay between them and Ai. <sup>12</sup>So he took about five thousand men and set them in ambush between Bethel and Ai, on the west side of <sup>1</sup>the city. <sup>13</sup>And when they had set the people, all the army that was on the north of the city, and its rear guard on the west of the city, Joshua went that night into the midst of the valley.

<sup>14</sup>Now it happened, when the king of Ai saw it, that the men of the city hurried and rose early and went out against Israel to battle, he and all his people, at an appointed place before the plain. But he <sup>i</sup>did not know that there was an ambush against him behind the city. <sup>15</sup>And Joshua and all Israel <sup>j</sup>made as if they were beaten before them, and fled by the way of the wilderness. <sup>16</sup>So all the people who were in Ai were called together to pursue them. And they pursued Joshua and were drawn away from the city. <sup>17</sup>There was not a man left in Ai or Bethel who did not go out after Israel. So they left the city open and pursued Israel.

8:1 The words Do not be afraid, nor be dismayed echo the words God used to encourage Joshua in 1:9. The sins of a chan had broken the special relationship God had established with his people, and so God reiterated his encouragement to Joshua. These words reinforce the statement of 7:26 that God had forgiven Israel, that he had “turned from the fierceness of his anger.” people of war: The usual term is “men of war” (5:4, 6). This phrase seems to emphasize the unity of the entire nation in doing battle, even though it was most likely only the men who actually engaged in the battles. I have given: The conquest of the city was certain because God had willed it.

8:2 booty for yourselves: In contrast to the instructions concerning Jericho (6:17–19), this time the Israelites were allowed to take and keep spoils of war for themselves. had a chan been less greedy, he could have participated in this as well. however, the Israelites were still to kill the inhabitants of a i.

8:4 a select group of men was to lie in ambush . . . behind the city, that is, to the west. The main group of people would then be stationed north of the city (vv. 12, 13).

8:7 the LORD your God will deliver it into your hand: here as elsewhere in the historical books, military victories are attributed to God. Israel was to depend completely upon him for its successes.

8:8 commandment: a after the disobedience in ch. 7, strict obedience was important here. Joshua urged obedience to God’s commands, and the people complied (vv. 2, 8, 27).

8:13 The phrase its rear guard refers to the ambush forces stationed to the west of the city (vv. 3, 12). The largest contingent of warriors was stationed to the north. It appears that Joshua spent the night with the people, across the valley from a i (v. 11), but late in the night he got up and went into the valley in preparation for the day’s events (v. 13).

8:15 the way of the wilderness: This may indicate merely that the men of a i fled in disarray into the wilderness. The same phrase is found again in a similar context, where a coalition of Israelites set an ambush for the Benjamites at Gibeah (Judg. 20:42). The phrase occurs one other place, at ex. 13:18, referring to the route that Israel took from egypt through the desert.

8:17 Bethel is an important city in the Bible. It has a fine pedigree that goes back to patriarchal times, when a braham offered a sacrifice to God there (Gen. 13:3) and Jacob had a dream from God there (Gen. 28:10–22). Bethel was near a i to the west (7:2), although its exact site is disputed. The inhabitants of Bethel came out of their city to help the men of a i. since the Israelite ambush was stationed between Bethel and a i, they may have felt threatened by the Israelites. o r it may be that a i was a small outpost for the larger city of Bethel (7:3) and an attack on a i was understood to be an attack on <sup>18</sup>Then the LORD said to Joshua, “Stretch out the spear that is in your hand toward Ai, for I will give it into your hand.” And Joshua stretched out the spear that was in his hand toward the city. <sup>19</sup>So those in ambush arose quickly out of their place; they ran as soon as he had stretched out his hand, and they entered the city and took it, and hurried to set the city on fire. <sup>20</sup>And when the men of Ai looked behind them, they saw, and behold, the smoke of the city ascended to heaven. So they had no power to flee this way or that way, and the people who had fled to the wilderness turned back on the pursuers.

<sup>21</sup>Now when Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had taken the city and that the smoke of the city ascended, they turned back and struck down the men of Ai. <sup>22</sup>Then the others came out of the city against them; so they were caught in the midst of Israel, some on this side and some on that side. And they struck them down, so that they <sup>k</sup>let none of them remain or escape. <sup>23</sup>But the king of Ai they took alive, and brought him to Joshua.

<sup>24</sup>And it came to pass when Israel had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Ai in the field, in the wilderness where they pursued them, and when they all had fallen by the edge of the sword until they were consumed, that all the Israelites returned to Ai and struck it with the edge of the sword. <sup>25</sup>So it was that all who fell that day, both men and women, were twelve thousand—all the people of Ai. <sup>26</sup>For Joshua did not draw back his hand, with which he stretched out the spear, until he had <sup>l</sup>utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai. <sup>27</sup><sup>m</sup>Only the livestock and the spoil of that city Israel took as booty for themselves, according to the word of the LORD which He had <sup>n</sup>commanded Joshua. <sup>28</sup>So Joshua burned Ai and made it <sup>o</sup>a heap forever, a desolation to this day. <sup>29</sup><sup>p</sup>And the king of Ai he hanged on a tree until evening. <sup>q</sup>And as soon as the sun was down, Joshua commanded that they should take his corpse down from the tree, cast it at the entrance of the gate of the city, and <sup>r</sup>raise over it a great heap of stones that remains to this day.

Joshua Renews the Covenant

Bethel. The text does not record Bethel's defeat, although its king is listed among those conquered by Joshua (12:16). It may be that in the defeat of ai, Bethel was also defeated and no further reference was needed.

8:18 God told Joshua to stretch out the spear toward the city to begin the attack. evidently this signal was relayed in some way to those lying in ambush (v. 19).

8:19 set the city on fire: a mong all the cities that the Israelites captured, only three are said to have been burned: Jericho (6:24), ai (8:19), and hazor (11:11). The people of Israel were to live in and enjoy the cities of the land. Most of Israel's battles were in the field; they generally did not have to destroy the cities.

8:23 The Israelites were to treat the king of Ai exactly as they had the king of Jericho (v. 2). Chapter 6 does not specify what they did to the king of Jericho, but we can infer from 8:29 that they killed him and exposed his body in a humiliating way.

8:26 Joshua did not draw back his hand: This verse shows Joshua maintaining his arm outstretched, with his spear in hand, until the defeat of ai was completed. The upraised spear was more than a signal to start the battle; it was also a symbol of God's presence and help in the battle (v. 1). This episode closely parallels that in ex. 17:8-16, where the Israelites battled the amalekites, and Moses stretched out his hand with “the rod of God” in it (ex. 17:9). In that account, Moses' outstretched arm stood for God's presence, because the battle went in Israel's favor when Moses' hands were up, and against Israel when he tired and dropped his hands. This episode in Joshua shows yet another way in which Joshua was the worthy successor to Moses (see 1:1, 5; 24:29). Note that Joshua was the military leader when Moses stretched out his hand, and now Joshua was in Moses' position while others carried on the battle.

8:27 according to the word of the LORD: God had specified that the Israelites could take the city's possessions and livestock, but nothing else (v. 2), and this verse indicates that they carried out his instructions. This undoubtedly includes their treatment of the king of ai (v. 29).

8:28 The word heap refers to a mound of ruins. a ncient cities were usually built on high points of land near water supplies, and when a city was destroyed a new city was built on the same site atop the packed and settled debris from the former city. Thus, over time, cities came to be on top of high mounds of compacted ruins. a i was not rebuilt; therefore it remained a heap of ruins. The hebrew word (tel) for heap is found in only a few places in the Bible (8:28; Deut. 13:16; 11:13; Jer. 30:18; 49:2), and in such place names in the Bible as Tel Melah and Tel harsha (ezra 2:59) or Tel a bib (ezek. 3:15). The equivalent a rabic word tell is used today as part of the names of many sites in Israel. ai's very name means “The Ruin,” so the judgment implicit in its name is now made explicit in this wordplay.

8:29 a s God instructed (v. 27), Joshua executed the king of ai and exposed his body on a tree (see the similar action in 10:26). But he took down the body at sundown in accordance with the injunction in Deuteronomy that a body could not remain exposed overnight (Deut. 21:22, 23). In these texts, hanged means exposing the dead body on a sharpened stake as a mark of shame and horror, not hanging by the neck. a great heap of stones: a different hebrew word for “heap” is used here from the one in v. 28, but the connection is clear. The king's fate here is exactly the same as a chan's fate in 7:26. God would not favor his own people when they blatantly disobeyed, any more than he would favor wicked Canaanites; for his sin a chan was expelled from Israel and treated like a Canaanite.

8:30 Mount Ebal is mentioned only here and in Deut. 11:29; 27:4, 13. It and Mount Gerizim, directly south of it, were the sites to be used for proclaiming blessings and curses when the Israelites came into the land; specifically, ebal was to be the site of the curses (Deut. 11:29). here it was the site of an altar. ebal and Gerizim are two important peaks in central Canaan flanking an east-west pass through the north-central hill country. a most the entire Promised Land is visible from the top of Mount ebal.

8:31 Moses . . . had commanded this in Deut. 27:2-10. This is another example of the explicit fulfillment of God's words; the Israelites had disobeyed enough that they wanted to make doubly sure they did it right this time. An altar of whole stones refers to unfinished stones (Deut. 27:4), which was in accord with God's whole stones over which no man has wielded an iron tool.” And <sup>u</sup>they offered on it burnt offerings to the LORD, and sacrificed peace offerings. <sup>32</sup>And there, in the presence of the children of Israel, <sup>v</sup>he wrote on the stones a copy of the law of Moses, which he had written. <sup>33</sup>Then all Israel, with their elders and officers and judges, stood on either side of the ark before the priests, the Levites, <sup>w</sup>who bore the ark of the covenant of the LORD, <sup>x</sup>the stranger as well as he who was born among them. Half of them were in front of Mount Gerizim and half of them in front of Mount Ebal, <sup>y</sup>as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded before, that they should bless the people of Israel. <sup>34</sup>And afterward <sup>z</sup>he read all the words of the law, <sup>a</sup>the blessings and the cursings, according to all that is written in the <sup>b</sup>Book of the Law. <sup>35</sup>There was not a word of all that Moses had commanded which Joshua did not read before all the assembly of Israel, <sup>c</sup>with the women, the little ones, <sup>d</sup>and the strangers who were living among them.

The Treaty with the Gibeonites

And Joshua said to them, “Who are you, and where do you come from?”

<sup>9</sup>So they said to him: <sup>k</sup>“From a very far country your servants have come, because of the name of the LORD your God; for we have <sup>l</sup>heard of His fame, and all that He did in Egypt, <sup>10</sup>and <sup>m</sup>all that He did to the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan—to Sihon king of Heshbon, and Og king of Bashan, who was at Ashtaroath. <sup>11</sup>Therefore our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spoke to us, saying, ‘Take provisions with you for the journey, and go to meet earlier instructions about making altars (ex. 20:25). The unfinished stones would have contrasted with the finished stones found in many Canaanite altars. This was a reminder that, even in such rituals as offering sacrifices, the Israelites were to be different or distinct from their neighbors. Burnt offerings were sacrifices in which the animals were entirely consumed (7:1–10; ex. 29:18; Lev. 1:1–17). Peace offerings were offerings in which portions of the sacrificial animals were to be joyfully eaten by the ones presenting them (7:11–21; Lev. 3:1–17).

8:32 Joshua publicly wrote a copy of the law on stones, which echoed the instructions for a king in Deut. 17:18. While Joshua was not a king, several indications in the book show him in a kingly light, acting with the authority of a king and in ways in which kings were supposed to act (1:5–9; Deut. 17:14–20).

8:33 This Hebrew word for stranger could more precisely be translated “resident alien.” It refers to those foreigners who lived as permanent residents within Israel. These were different from foreigners or outsiders who had incidental contact with Israel, such as travelers or traders, who had few rights within Israel (ex. 12:43; Lev. 22:10, 25). Resident aliens were allowed to take gleanings from the fields (Lev. 19:10; 23:22), and the Israelites were repeatedly instructed to give special care to them, along with the poor, the widow, and the orphan (ex. 22:21; 23:9; Deut. 10:17–22). This special concern for aliens within Israel’s borders was rooted in Israel’s own alien status in Egypt, which God wanted them to remember (ex. 22:21; 23:9; Deut. 10:17–22; 23:7). This is part of the missionary message of the OT: Israel was to treat aliens within its own borders in such a way that they would want a relationship with Israel’s God. In this passage we see aliens participating right along with the rest of the Israelites in the covenant affirmation ceremony.

8:34, 35 This was the first public reading of the Book of the Law, the entire body of the Law given by Moses, mentioned after Moses’ death.

9:1, 2 Though a coalition of Canaanite kings banded together to oppose Israel, the text does not say whether this coalition ever actually fought Israel. It disappears from the scene after v. 2. Six ethnic groups in Canaan, who often are mentioned together (3:10), are listed here. God told Israel to destroy these nations, and he did not want Israel to become allies with them under any circumstances (ex. 23:28–33; Deut. 7:1–5; 20:16–18).

9:3 Gibeon was relatively close to a and about five miles northwest of Jerusalem. It is known mainly for the deceit of its inhabitants described in this chapter.

9:6 The Gibeonites went to great lengths to make it look as though they had come from a far country. Israel was allowed to make treaties with cities that were far from them (ex. 34:11, 12; Deut. 20:10–18). Thus if the Gibeonites’ claim of v. 6 had been truthful, the treaty that the Israelites made with them would have been permissible. A covenant was a legal treaty. The literal wording in Hebrew is “cut a covenant,” which may have referred to the ancient custom of sacrificing an animal to ratify it (Gen. 15:10).

9:7 The people of Gibeon are called Hivites, and were among the groups slated for destruction (ex. 34:11; Deut. 20:17). Israel should not have made a treaty with them. This verse shows that the Israelites were initially suspicious of the Gibeonites.

9:9, 10 The fame of the Israelites’ victories had preceded them among the Gibeonites, in the same way that it did among the inhabitants of Jericho earlier (2:9, 10).

them, and say to them, “We are your servants; now therefore, make a covenant with us.”<sup>12</sup> This bread of ours we took hot for our provision from our houses on the day we departed to come to you. But now look, it is dry and moldy.<sup>13</sup> And these wineskins which we filled were new, and see, they are torn; and these our garments and our sandals have become old because of the very long journey.”

<sup>16</sup>And it happened at the end of three days, after they had made a covenant with them, that they heard that they were their neighbors who dwelt near them. <sup>17</sup>Then the children of Israel journeyed and came to their cities on the third day. Now their cities were <sup>p</sup>Gibeon, Chephirah, Beeroth, and Kirjath Jearim. <sup>18</sup>But the children of Israel did not <sup>b</sup>attack them, <sup>q</sup>because the rulers of the congregation had sworn to them by the LORD God of Israel. And all the congregation complained against the rulers.

<sup>19</sup>Then all the rulers said to all the congregation, “We have sworn to them by the LORD God of Israel; now therefore, we may not touch them. <sup>20</sup>This we will do to them: We will let them live, lest <sup>r</sup>wrath be upon us because of the oath which we swore to them.” <sup>21</sup>And the rulers said to them, “Let them live, but let them be <sup>s</sup>woodcutters and water carriers for all the congregation, as the rulers had <sup>t</sup>promised them.”

<sup>24</sup>So they answered Joshua and said, “Because your servants were clearly told that the LORD your God <sup>x</sup>commanded His servant Moses to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land from before you; therefore <sup>y</sup>we were very much afraid for our lives because of you, and have done this thing. <sup>25</sup>And now, here we are, <sup>z</sup>in your hands; do with us as it seems good and right to do to us.”<sup>26</sup> So he did to them, and delivered them out of the hand of the children of Israel, so that they did not kill them. <sup>27</sup>And that day Joshua made them <sup>a</sup>woodcutters and water carriers for the congregation and for the altar of the LORD, <sup>b</sup>in the place which He would choose, even to this day.

The Sun Stands Still

10 Now it came to pass when Adoni-Zedek king of Jerusalem <sup>a</sup>heard how Joshua had taken <sup>b</sup>Ai and had utterly destroyed it—<sup>c</sup>as he had done to Jericho and its king, so he had done to <sup>d</sup>Ai and its king—and <sup>e</sup>how the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel and were among them, <sup>2</sup>that they <sup>f</sup>feared greatly, because Gibeon was a great city, like one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than Ai, and all its men were mighty. <sup>3</sup>Therefore Adoni-Zedek king of Jerusalem sent to Hoham king of Hebron,

9:14 The Israelites took some of the Gibeonites’ provisions in order to inspect them, to confirm the Gibeonites’ words. significantly, the Israelites did not ask counsel of the LORD, contrary to God’s explicit instructions to Joshua (Num. 27:21). The Israelites’ confirmation of the Gibeonites’ claim was purely in their own strength and on their own initiative. The mistake on Israel’s part was not so much that they were deceived, but that they did not ask for the Lord’s counsel. similarly, many Christians have found themselves in difficult or disastrous circumstances because they rushed to a decision without properly consulting the Lord, his scriptures, and his people for guidance.

9:15 Joshua made peace with them: The treaty made in this chapter has much in common with typical ancient Middle eastern treaties of the times. a subordinate group makes the agreement with a more powerful party in order to receive protection. Its binding nature (v. 18) forms the basis for the actions taken in 10:1–27, where the Gibeonites found themselves threatened by a Canaanite coalition and appealed to the Israelites for help.

9:17 Chephirah, Beeroth, and Kirjath Jearim were all towns near Gibeon. The first two were in Benjaminite territory (18:25, 26), and the third was on its border (18:14, 15).

9:20 the oath which we swore: oath taking and swearing were solemn affairs. To take an oath was to give a sacred and unbreakable word to follow through on what was promised. from time to time, even God swore by himself or his holiness or his great name to take certain actions (Gen. 22:16–18; Ps. 89:35; Jer. 44:26). swearing falsely was a grave sin (ezeq. 17:16–21; Zech. 5:3, 4; Mal. 3:5). Because of the sacred, unbreakable nature of an oath, this covenant the Israelites made with the Gibeonites could not be revoked, even though it was obtained under false pretenses.

9:24 The report that reached the Gibeonites concerning the Israelites (v. 3) frightened them so much that they conjured up this deception. Their words your servants were clearly told bear witness to the great events of the exodus that were not forgotten even 40 years after the event (Deut. 1–3).

9:27 The phrase the place which He would choose is particularly important in Deuteronomy. it indicates that the Gibeonites were to serve only at sanctioned Israelite worship centers and not Canaanite ones. until the Jerusalem temple was built, these centers included shiloh (18:1) and Gibeon itself (1 Chr. 16:39). That they did so to this day (a phrase also found in 4:9; 5:9; 7:26; 8:29) shows that the Gibeonites did indeed continue this service for some time, although it is not specifically mentioned again in the o T.

10:2 Political and military calculations led the five Canaanite kings to conclude that if such a great city as Gibeon had to make peace with the seemingly invincible Israelites, their only option was to band together and attack (v. 5). Ai was a strong city, a fact to which Israel closed their eyes when they became overconfident in themselves (7:3).

Piram king of Jarmuth, Japhia king of Lachish, and Debir king of Eglon, saying, <sup>4</sup>“Come up to me and help me, that we may attack Gibeon, for <sup>g</sup>it has made peace with Joshua and with the children of Israel.” <sup>5</sup>Therefore the five kings of the <sup>h</sup>Amorites, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon, <sup>i</sup>gathered together and went up, they and all their armies, and camped before Gibeon and made war against it.

“Is this not written in the Book of Jasher? So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and did not hasten to go down for about a whole day. <sup>14</sup>And there has been <sup>v</sup>no day like that, before it or after it, that the LORD heeded the voice of a man; for <sup>w</sup>the LORD fought for Israel.

The Amorite Kings Executed

<sup>18</sup>So Joshua said, “Roll large stones against the mouth of the cave, and set men by it to guard them. <sup>19</sup>And do not stay there yourselves, but pursue your enemies, and attack their rear guard. Do not allow them to enter their cities, for the LORD your God has delivered them into your hand.” <sup>20</sup>Then it happened, while Joshua and the children of Israel made an end of slaying them with a very great slaughter, till they had finished, that those who escaped entered fortified cit-

10:5 The name Amorites probably refers to the inhabitants of the central mountain region of Palestine, although only Jerusalem and Hebron are really in the hill country. The king of Jerusalem was leader of a coalition of five kings against Gibeon. The events at a i had struck fear into the kings’ hearts, especially now that Gibeon, a prominent city, had made a treaty with Israel (ch. 9). Gibeon’s treaty with Israel may have been a renunciation of one with Jerusalem. This could explain the special concern of the king of Jerusalem.

10:7 Joshua ascended from Gilgal because Gilgal and Jericho were in the deep Jordan valley; he would have had to go up into the hill country in the central portion of Canaan to help the Gibeonites.

10:9 for Joshua’s men to have marched all night from Gilgal and then attacked speaks well of their stamina. Their night march covered about 20 miles up steep terrain, with gear, under stress, in the middle of the night, and with a battle still before them.

10:10 This verse summarizes the victory; vv. 11–13 give the details. the LORD routed them: Despite Joshua’s presence with his warriors (v. 7), it was God who gave the victory and God who received the credit. the road that goes to Beth Horon: one escape route for the Canaanite kings went northwest, down from the hill country toward the coast. Azekah was a town over the hills to the southwest of Gibeon, some distance away. That some were fleeing in this direction while others were fleeing toward Beth horon indicates the completeness of the rout. The location of Makkedah is unknown, but presumably it was somewhere near a zekah.

10:12 In the sight of Israel, Joshua commanded the Sun and the Moon to stand still over Gibeon until the Israelites completed their task. The words of this verse form a two-part section of well-balanced poetry, and the words in v. 13 comment on them with a three-part echo.

10:13 The Book of Jasher (mentioned again in 2 sam. 1:18) confirms what the Book of Joshua reports here. It is not part of the Bible, and no part of it has survived.

10:14 the LORD heeded: This is the climax of the section. The author of Joshua marvels (perhaps quoting from the Book of Jasher), not that a miracle happened, but that God listened to the voice of one man and fought on Israel’s behalf so grandly. This is plain proof that one person can gain God’s attention in prayer.

10:19 delivered them into your hand: a gain Joshua gave God credit for the Israelites’ victory. enter their cities: The fortified cities of Canaan offered some protection to their people. That is why the ambush at a i was designed to draw the people out of the city (8:17). In v. 20, we see that some people escaped into the fortified cities.

10:20, 21 The slaughter of the Canaanites was great, but some escaped. This explains why there were still people in these towns later (see especially vv. 31–37). No one moved his tongue: Literally, “sharpened his tongue.” It means “to criticize” or “to slander.”

ies. <sup>21</sup> And all the people returned to the camp, to Joshua at Makkedah, in peace.

<sup>22</sup> Then Joshua said, “Open the mouth of the cave, and bring out those five kings to me from the cave.” <sup>23</sup> And they did so, and brought out those five kings to him from the cave: the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon.

<sup>24</sup> So it was, when they brought out those kings to Joshua, that Joshua called for all the men of Israel, and said to the captains of the men of war who went with him, “Come near, put your feet on the necks of these kings.” And they drew near and <sup>z</sup> put their feet on their necks. <sup>25</sup> Then Joshua said to <sup>2</sup> them, <sup>a</sup> “Do not be afraid, nor be dismayed; be strong and of good courage, for <sup>b</sup> thus the LORD will do to all your enemies against whom you fight.” <sup>26</sup> And afterward Joshua struck <sup>3</sup> them and killed them, and hanged them on five trees; and they <sup>c</sup> were hanging on the trees until evening. <sup>27</sup> So it was at the time of the going down of the sun <sup>that</sup> Joshua commanded, and they <sup>d</sup> took them down from the trees, cast them into the cave where they had been hidden, and laid large stones against the cave’s mouth, which remain until this very day.

10:24 Joshua told the captains to put their feet on the necks of these kings as a clear declaration of victory. see Ps. 110:1: “I [will] make Your enemies Your footstool”; and 1 Cor. 15:25–27, where God places Jesus’ enemies “under his feet” (Ps. 8:6). ancient sculptural reliefs show a ssyrian kings doing this to their vanquished enemies. 10:25 be strong and of good courage: Joshua encouraged the people in the same terms God had used to encourage him (1:6, 9; 10:8). Now Joshua had the authority to give this exhortation to others.

10:26 hanged them on five trees . . . until evening: Joshua did to these five kings what he had earlier done to the king of ai (8:29). as before, he took the bodies down before sundown in accordance with Mosaic legislation (8:29).

Miracles

open the Bible wherever you like and you will soon find the mention of an event that only God could do. These stories of God’s intervention in nature occur without apology throughout the Bible. But the Bible usually gives the barest of details. sometimes the reader is left wondering exactly what happened.

The account of Israel’s victory over the five kings of the amorites is a perfect example. Joshua 10:13 says that in response to Joshua’s prayer, “the sun stood still, and the moon stopped.” This miraculous event played a key role in Israel’s victory that day. even accepting this as a miracle, which the narrative surely bids us to do, leaves some questions unanswered. We know that the sun does not move around the earth, so it was not the sun that literally stopped, but what took place that day? and how did it help Israel?

some take the text to mean that God stopped the earth’s rotation. “The sun stood still” means that the position of the sun in the sky remained constant. since the sun’s position is determined by the earth’s rotation, the earth’s rotation must have stopped. This delay gave the Israelites the daylight they needed to finish routing their enemies rather than letting them escape.

others suggest that God caused an unusual refraction of light in the earth’s atmosphere that caused the sun to remain visible for a very lengthy period of time. The sun appeared to stop, but without any change in the rate of the earth’s rotation. a gain, this gave Israel time to finish their rout.

others reinterpret the miracle. The verb translated “stand [stood] still” in verses 12, 13 can also be translated “cease, stop.” some scholars therefore say that Joshua was asking that the sun stop shining, not that it stop moving. The long night’s march, largely uphill and with full battle gear, left his troops tired. Joshua asked God to stop the sun from beating down on his troops before exhaustion overcame them. Joshua was seeking a cooler day, not a longer one.

of course, we do not know exactly what happened. What we know for sure is that God intervened in the normal course of nature at exactly the right moment to give the Israelites victory over their enemies. as the writer of Joshua points out, the greatest marvel lies not in the occurrence of the miracle itself but that “the LORD heeded the voice of a man” (Josh. 10:14).

Joshua prays for the sun to stand still.

<sup>28</sup>On that day Joshua took Makkedah, and struck it and its king with the edge of the sword. He utterly <sup>e</sup>destroyed <sup>4</sup>them—all the people who were in it. He let none remain. He also did to the king of Makkedah <sup>f</sup>as he had done to the king of Jericho.

<sup>29</sup>Then Joshua passed from Makkedah, and all Israel with him, to <sup>g</sup>Libnah; and they fought against Libnah. <sup>30</sup>And the LORD also delivered it and its king into the hand of Israel; he struck it and all the people who were in it with the edge of the sword. He let none remain in it, but did to its king as he had done to the king of Jericho.

<sup>31</sup>Then Joshua passed from Libnah, and all Israel with him, to Lachish; and they encamped against it and fought against it. <sup>32</sup>And the LORD delivered Lachish into the hand of Israel, who took it on the second day, and struck it and all the people who were in it with the edge of the sword, according to all that he had done to Libnah. <sup>33</sup>Then Horam king of Gezer came up to help Lachish; and Joshua struck him and his people, until he left him none remaining.

<sup>34</sup>From Lachish Joshua passed to Eglon, and all Israel with him; and they encamped against it and fought against it. <sup>35</sup>They took it on that day and struck it with the edge of the sword; all the people who were in it he utterly destroyed that day, according to all that he had done to Lachish.

fought against it. <sup>37</sup>And they took it and struck it with the edge of the sword—its king, all its cities, and all the people who were in it; he left none remaining, according to all that he had done to Eglon, but utterly destroyed it and all the people who were in it.

<sup>38</sup>Then Joshua returned, and all Israel with him, to <sup>i</sup>Debir; and they fought against it. <sup>39</sup>And he took it and its king and all its cities; they struck them with the edge of the sword and utterly destroyed all the people who were in it. He left none remaining; as he had done to Hebron, so he did to Debir and its king, as he had done also to Libnah and its king.

The Northern Conquest

11 And it came to pass, when Jabin king of Hazor heard these things, that he <sup>a</sup>sent to Jobab king of Madon, to the king <sup>b</sup>of Shimron, to the king of Achshaph, <sup>2</sup>and to the kings who were from the north, in the mountains, in the 10:28–43 after the in-depth account of the battle in 10:1–27, the narrative now moves quickly to summarize the Israelites' southern campaign in Canaan. The kings and people of seven southern cities are mentioned in a series of similar accounts. The Israelites had entered Canaan in the middle, at Jericho, subsequently their campaigns went through the middle first, turning south (ch. 10) and then north (ch. 11). The fact that exactly seven cities are listed suggests that this may be a summarizing account, describing the destruction of representative cities. Only bare details of their destructions are given, and the successive accounts contain many repeated phrases. Three of the cities (Lachish, Eglon, and Hebron) are ones whose kings had already opposed the Israelites (v. 3). The picture in this section is unequivocally one of complete and swift annihilation of the people throughout the entire region. However, the work was not complete. 10:28 The first city mentioned is the one toward which the Canaanite coalition had fled, Makkedah (vv. 10, 16). The five kings had fled and hidden themselves in a cave.

10:30 here and in vv. 32, 42, we are reminded that the LORD was Israel's warrior.

10:33 The account of the capture of Gezer is mentioned only incidentally to the account of the capture of Lachish. According to 10:10, Canaanites were still (or again) living in Gezer some time later.

10:40 This verse presents the first conclusion to the accounts that had begun in 9:1, 2. Here we see that Joshua was victorious over all who lived in the mountain country (the word is the same as "hills" in 9:1) and the South and the lowland and the wilderness slopes. The word for South is "Negev," which refers to the desert in the southern part of the land. The wilderness slopes are either the western slopes leading down to the lowland near the Mediterranean sea or else the steep slopes going down to the Dead Sea to the east of the central mountainous area. This summary statement covers the central and southern portions of the land of Canaan, but it does not include the coastlands (13:2–6).

10:41 Neither Kadesh Barnea nor Gaza has been mentioned previously in Joshua; their inclusion here marks the southernmost limits of the land conquered. Gaza was a Philistine city, unconquered in 13:3. Goshen, even as far as Gibeon marks the southern and northern limits of this conquest. Goshen here is not the area in the northeastern Nile delta where the Israelites had lived before (Gen. 45:10; 46:28; ex. 8:22; 9:26), but rather the city in the southern hill country of Canaan mentioned in 11:16; 15:51.

11:1–23 after conquering the southern coalition arrayed against them, Israel now faced a hostile coalition in the north as well, which it defeated (vv. 1–15).

11:1 Hazor was a large and strategic city in northern Israel; it is called "the head of all those kingdoms" in v. 10.

11:2 The geographical description here names areas rather than cities. Chinneroth is another name for the sea of Galilee (see 12:3). There was also a town called Chinnereth on the northwest side of the sea (19:35). the heights of Dor on the west: Dor was a seaport on the Mediterranean, and no hills are nearby; some commentators understand this to mean "the dunes of Dor."

The Northern Campaign

Late Bronze age hazor was burned by Joshua (Josh. 11:13). excavations have revealed three clearly datable destruction layers, one of which may provide the strongest evidence yet for a historically verifiable date for the conquest.

The excavator thought Joshua burned the latest level (c. 1230 B.C.), but others argue that it must actually have been the earliest of the three levels, c. 1400 B.C.

the Perizzite, the Jebusite in the mountains, <sup>f</sup>and the Hivite below <sup>g</sup>Hermon <sup>h</sup>in the land of Mizpah. <sup>4</sup>So they went out, they and all their armies with them, as many people <sup>i</sup>as the sand that is on the seashore in multitude, with very many horses and chariots. <sup>5</sup>And when all these kings had <sup>1</sup>met together, they came and camped together at the waters of Merom to fight against Israel.

11:3 The inclusion of the Jebusite, that is, the inhabitants of Jerusalem, is striking because Jerusalem was south of Jericho. evidently, the Canaanites so feared the Israelite threat that they sought help from far and wide. Mount Hermon in the land of Mizpah was in the far north, the highest point in northern Palestine. Mizpah was a name of several cities in Israel’s history, including one near Lachish (15:38), one in Benjamin in the south (18:26), and another one in Gilead east of the Jordan (Judg. 10:17).

11:4 Horses at this time were for pulling chariots. These vehicles accompanied the infantry and carried a rider with a bow or a supply of spears. The Canaanite armies did not use mounted warriors. These armies came well-armed to fight the Israelites, but it did not matter. God still defeated them (vv. 6–9). Only in the battles of Jericho and Ai did the Israelites initiate the action. here, as in the other battles described in Joshua, the enemy—usually well-armed and in great numbers—attacked the Israelites. God limited the size of the Israelite army so that the Israelites would not trust their military power. similarly, the instructions for a king in Deut. 17:14–20 explicitly state that the king was not to “multiply horses for himself” (17:16); that is, not to depend on his military might, but rather on God.

11:6 God promised to deliver Israel’s enemies into their hands by tomorrow about this time. This is especially significant in light of the impressive numbers arrayed against Israel. These are the same words used many years later by elisha to predict the escape of samaria from a siege imposed by the syrians (2 kin. 7:1). In both cases God’s promise came true.

11:8 Greater Sidon was a Phoenician city on the Mediterranean coast, and the Brook Misrephoth was south of it. The defeat of the Canaanites described here shows them fleeing in all directions in a total rout.

11:9 as the LORD had told him: Joshua was careful to do exactly as instructed (see v. 6).

11:10 Hazor was formerly the head: This is probably why Joshua struck at hazor first, and why the text details its destruction. excavation of hazor has shown several destructions in the Late Bronze age, one from about 1400 B.C. that could easily be attributed to Joshua.

11:11 Jericho and Ai were the only other cities burned. Most of the cities of Canaan were taken without being destroyed; their armies were defeated on the battlefield. In this way, most of the cities could be inhabited by Israel without rebuilding.

mountain country, all the South, <sup>v</sup>all the land of Goshen, the lowland, and the Jordan <sup>6</sup>plain—the mountains of Israel and its lowlands, <sup>17</sup><sup>w</sup>from <sup>7</sup>Mount Halak and the ascent to Seir, even as far as Baal Gad in the Valley of Lebanon below Mount Hermon. He captured <sup>x</sup>all their kings, and struck them down and killed them. <sup>18</sup>Joshua made war a long time with all those kings. <sup>19</sup>There was not a city that made peace with the children of Israel, except <sup>y</sup>the Hivites, the inhabitants of Gibeon. All the others they took in battle. <sup>20</sup>For <sup>z</sup>it was of the LORD <sup>8</sup>to harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battle, that He might utterly destroy them, and that they might

11:14 here, as with a i, the Israelites were allowed to take all the spoil for themselves (8:2, 27). Their treatment of the inhabitants was the pattern for all their Canaanite targets: They left none breathing, but killed everyone (6:21; 8:22; 10:28, 30, 32, 33, 35, 37, 39, 40; 11:8, 11, 12). This complete annihilation of a population group has posed a significant problem for some people, who have felt that Joshua showed unjustified bloodthirstiness. Yet God had told Moses why Israel was to carry out this destruction in Canaan (Deut. 7:2-11; 20:16-18): the Canaanites were being judged by God for their wickedness.

11:16, 17 These verses summarize both the northern campaign and this entire section of the book (chs. 9-11). Verse 16 mentions many of the same territories as does 10:40, 41. The southern limit of the conquest is given here; Mount Halak is near kadesh Barnea (10:41), and Seir is the hill country of edom, southeast of the Dead sea. Baal Gad . . . Mount Hermon: This is the northern limit of the conquest. Baal Gad was in the Lebanon valley, northwest of Mount hermon. 11:20 to harden their hearts: The persons whose hearts God hardened were not good people, but were people already committed to doing evil (Ps. 14:1-3; Rom. 3:10-18). The marvel is that stereotypes, fiction though they are, sometimes have one foot in reality. That is why many people believe them. stereotypes arise from headlines that, to an extent, tell some of the story. But they fudge on the details. and in the final analysis, stereotypes fail to justly describe their subjects. Concerning the o T, nowhere has this been more of a problem than in the stereotyping of God's judgment on the Canaanites.

of Israel's attacks on the northern part of Canaanite cities, the Bible states, "But they struck every man with the edge of the sword until they had destroyed them, and they left none breathing. as the LORD had commanded Moses his servant, so Moses commanded Joshua, and so Joshua did" (11:14, 15). God clearly commanded Israel to annihilate the Canaanites, and that is exactly what Joshua did.

headlines such as this have caused many people to question God's basic justice. how can a holy, just, and loving God command such extreme violence? Indeed, many have thought of this issue as the o T's biggest challenge to modern readers. some have gone so far as to allege that there is no connection between the "God of the o ld Testament" and the "God of the New Testament revealed in Jesus."

however, this stereotype breaks down under examination. The Bible gives reasons for the Canaanites' destruction—and these reasons are in concert with the whole tenor of the Bible in both Testaments.

The primary reason for the Canaanites' destruction was that they were guilty of gross sin. a braham got a preview of this when God promised him the land. God said fulfillment of the promise would be delayed in part because "the iniquity of the a morites is not yet complete" (Gen. 15:16; the a morites were the Canaanites). f or many years, the Canaanites' sins would not justify annihilation. But that time would arrive, and it did arrive by the time of Joshua.

What were the sins of the Canaanites? The gruesome list in Lev. 18 gives some of the details, including incest, adultery, child sacrifice, homosexuality, and bestiality. of course, every person has sinned in some fashion (Ps. 14:3). on this level, the Canaanites only received what all peoples deserved; others were spared only by God's grace. But Canaan was not a community of upstanding citizens. It was a thoroughly debased society, hostile to all God's ways (Deut. 9:4, 5).

To a lesser degree, God was merely protecting his people. God promised a braham that he would curse anyone who cursed Israel (Gen. 12:3). The Canaanites sought to destroy Israel on at least two occasions (Josh. 9:1, 2; 11:1-5), and God would not allow that.

The stereotype also breaks down because it overlooks the highly localized nature of the judgment on Canaan. The Israelites did not have a license to kill. They had no right to do the same to whatever peoples they encountered, at any time or in any place. This destruction targeted the sinful Canaanites of that time only. as harsh as it may seem to us, the Canaanites brought God's judgment on themselves by their own sin.

The New Testament states that one day Jesus Christ will judge the wicked nations of the earth (Matt. 25:31-46). God once judged all the wicked with an overwhelming flood (Gen. 6-9), and the same God will one day again judge everyone who has ever lived (2 Pet. 3:10-13). The judgment against the Canaanites is merely one instance of his judgment on the wicked even as he extends forgiveness to others.

receive no mercy, but that He might destroy them, <sup>a</sup> as the LORD had commanded Moses.

archaeologists have found that the Indo-aryans (a group of non-semitic people originally from the plateau of Iran) exerted a strong influence upon Palestine, introducing many new weapons and tools. They brought horse-drawn chariots, the composite bow, and new types of city fortifications. They outfitted nearly every major city from central syria to the Nile Delta with a defensive wall called a glacis. The glacis contained alternating layers of pounded earth, clay, and gravel, covered with plaster. It sloped down from the rock city walls to a dry moat below. Perhaps it was designed to frustrate cavalrymen and battering rams. The Indo-aryan cities also had huge cyclopean walls—a row of boulders leaning against a massive earthen fill. The city of hazor provided a superb example of this.

11:21, 22 The destruction of the Anakim from the hill country was especially significant. Their fearsome presence had caused the Israelites to rebel against God’s command to enter Canaan many years before (Num. 13:22, 28, 32, 33). But as this generation learned, their size did not matter.

11:23 This verse ends this section (chs. 9–11). It is a transitional verse, looking back to summarize the conquests and looking forward to anticipate the inheritance of the land. The statement the land rested from war draws the first section of the book to a close. The next section before the distribution of Israel’s inheritance is the list of defeated Canaanite kings (ch. 12). The idea of rest for the entire nation is found in such passages as Deut. 12:10; 25:19, and it is echoed in the summarizing passages of Joshua, 21:44; 23:1.

12:1–6 The Israelites’ earlier conquests east of the Jordan are mentioned here, their victories over Sihon, king of heshbon, and Og, king of Bashan. The Israelites defeated them under Moses’ leadership and took possession of their land at that time (Num. 21:21–35). The detailed description of the territory they ruled makes more impressive the victory Israel had won. Verse 6 confirms that this indeed had been given as an inheritance to the two and one-half tribes who settled there.

12:6, 7 The language of these verses makes it plain that Joshua succeeded Moses in his various roles, first as conqueror and second as giver of the land. The two men are described in the same way: as conquerors, Joshua and the children of Israel (v. 7), follow Moses . . . and the children of Israel (v. 6). as land-giver, Joshua gave (v. 7), as Moses . . . had given (v. 6).

The Land Divided East of the Jordan

(heb. nachalah) (13:7; Deut. 4:20; Ps. 16:5; 94:14) strong's #5159

The word inheritance, meaning “possession” or “property,” is linked to the promises of God, particularly those involving the Promised Land (Gen. 13:14–17). When this word is used of the Promised Land, it does not merely refer to what a person wills to his children. Rather God, the owner of the entire world, had granted his people a specific parcel of ground. He had fixed its boundaries and promised to deliver it to them. However, the concept of Israel’s inheritance transcends a simple association with the land. David and Jeremiah both affirm that God himself is the real inheritance of his people (Ps. 16:5; Jer. 10:16). God’s people can find joy and fulfillment in their relationship with God. Nothing this world can offer as an inheritance compares with God himself (1 Pet. 1:4).

13:1–7 Despite the picture of complete victory in chs. 10; 11, God told Joshua that there remains very much land yet to be possessed. This included territories of the Philistines and their neighbors to the south, the Phoenician coastland to the north, and the northern, mountainous territories of Lebanon. The famous five cities of the Philistines are mentioned (Gaza, a shdod, a shkelon, Gath, and ekron), a hint that their territory remained to be taken appears already in 11:22, in the references to Gaza, Gath, and a shdod. But Joshua was too old to command the remaining struggle for the land. God himself would drive out the remaining inhabitants; Joshua merely had to apportion the land to the nine and one-half tribes west of the Jordan.

13:3 the five lords of the Philistines: The word lords here translates a Philistine word, not a Hebrew word; it is the only clearly Philistine word recorded in the Bible. It is related to the Greek word that means “tyrant.”

13:14 to the tribe of Levi He had given no inheritance: This is an important concept in the Book of Joshua. Here, previous directives about the Levites’ inheritance were obeyed (Num. 18:20–24;

The Land of Reuben

The Land of Gad

of Gad according to their families, the cities and their villages.

Half the Tribe of Manasseh (East)

The Land Divided West of the Jordan

Deut. 10:8, 9; 18:1-5). <sup>o</sup> originally, the tribe of Levi was sentenced to be landless for its violent behavior (Gen. 49:5-7), but later the Levites redeemed themselves (ex. 32:25-28) and were promised a blessing (Deut. 33:8-11), <sup>o</sup> f the original 12 sons of Jacob, Joseph's inheritance was divided between his 2 sons, ephraim and Manasseh. This would make 13 tribes, but excluding Levi from land inheritance kept the number to 12 (14:3, 4). The Levites did have cities in the territories of each tribe (21:1-42). Instead of a land inheritance, the sacrifices of God would be their privileged inheritance.

13:22 Balaam was the pagan fortune-teller who had been hired by Balak, king of Moab, to curse the Israelites in the wilderness (Num. 22-24). he found that he could speak only what God told him to, yet he sinned by inciting the Moabite women to seduce the Israelite men (Num. 25:1-9; 31:16). hence, the children of Israel also killed ... Balaam. This record of Balaam's death echoes the notice found at Num. 31:8. The story of how God turned Balaam's desire to curse Israel into a blessing instead is celebrated in several passages (24:9, 10; Deut. 23:4, 5; Neh. 13:2; Mic. 6:5).

13:23 Large Canaanite cities such as Jericho were typically protected by walls. But there were many smaller villages around the cities. Thus the cities and their villages made up the small city-states typical of Canaan at this time. The villages were permanent settlements without walls, outlying farming villages.

13:33 Levi ... as He had said to them: This verse reiterates the information about the Levites' landless inheritance (compare v. 14); here, however, the inheritance is said to be God himself and not the sacrifices. Because of their unique position, the Levites' relationship with God would be special.

14:2 God's place as the giver of the land is also highlighted by mention of the lot. God had commanded the casting of lots to determine Israel's inheritance (Num. 26:55). Thus that their inheritance was by lot does not mean that it was by chance, but that God himself determined who got what land (18:6, 8, 10; Prov. 16:33). The lot is also mentioned in 15:1; 16:1; 17:1.

their property. <sup>5f</sup>As the LORD had commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did; and they divided the land.

Caleb Inherits Hebron

<sup>6</sup>Then the children of Judah came to Joshua in Gilgal. And Caleb the son of Jephunneh the <sup>g</sup>Kenizzite said to him: “You know <sup>h</sup>the word which the LORD said to Moses the man of God concerning <sup>i</sup>you and me in Kadesh Barnea. <sup>7</sup>I was forty years old when Moses the servant of the LORD <sup>j</sup>sent me from Kadesh Barnea to spy out the land, and I brought back word to him as it was in my heart. <sup>8</sup>Nevertheless <sup>k</sup>my brethren who went up with me made the <sup>l</sup>heart of the people melt, but I wholly <sup>l</sup>followed the LORD my God. <sup>9</sup>So Moses swore on that day, saying, <sup>m</sup>‘Surely the land <sup>n</sup>where your foot has trodden shall be your inheritance and your children’s forever, because you have wholly followed the LORD my God.’ <sup>10</sup>And now, behold, the LORD has kept me <sup>o</sup>alive, <sup>p</sup>as He said, these forty-five years, ever since the LORD spoke this word to Moses while Israel <sup>2</sup>wandered in the wilderness; and now, here I am this day, eighty-five years old. <sup>11q</sup>As yet I am as strong this day as on the day that Moses sent me; just as my strength was then, so now is my strength for war, both <sup>r</sup>for going out and for coming in. <sup>12</sup>Now therefore, give me

The Land of Judah

14:6 Caleb is described here and elsewhere as the Kenizzite (14:14; Num. 32:12). The kenizzites were a non-Israelite group descended from esau through kenaz (Gen. 15:19; 36:11, 15, 42). some of this group had apparently associated themselves with Judah at an early stage (Num. 13:6). It seems that Caleb, one of the most faithful to God of his time, was just a generation removed from a non-Israelite family.

14:7–9 These verses review events recorded in Num. 13; 14. The promise of Caleb’s inheritance mentioned in v. 9 refers to God’s words in Num. 14:24.

14:10 The span of eighty-five years indicates the period of time covered by most of the Book of Joshua. according to v. 7, Caleb was 40 when he was sent in to spy out the land. Now it was 45 years later. since 40 years were spent in the wilderness, the conquest occupied 5 years.

14:12 It was the Anakim who had frightened 10 of the Israelite spies 45 years before, triggering Israel’s rebellion against God (Num. 13). Caleb was no more afraid of them now than he had been then, even though he was now considerably older. as he says, it may be that the LORD will be with me—a use of understatement to express certainty.

14:13 Joshua blessed him: To bless others in the name of the Lord expresses the desire for them to experience God’s best (Gen. 27:27–29; 47:10; 49:1–28; Judg. 5:24; Neh. 11:2). It is more than wishful thinking, because blessing in the name of God taps into the power and resources of God. In the Bible, blessings include children (Gen. 1:28; 28:3), land (Gen. 26:3; 28:4), wealth (Gen. 28:12–14), and a good reputation among others (Gen. 12:3; 22:18). When people are said to bless God, it means they are worshiping him, ascribing worth to him and his name (Ps. 104:1), and identifying him as the source of their good (Ps. 103:1, 2).

14:14 Caleb’s wholehearted devotion to God was never in question, even in the wilderness: He wholly followed the LORD (v. 8). as a result, he received the land that he requested. In the Bible, people are sometimes rewarded in this life for their faithfulness to God, but not always (heb. 11:32–40). The believer’s ultimate blessing will come in eternity. Those who set their hope on that promise will lose nothing, no matter what they suffer in this life.

14:15 Kirjath Arba: This was the former name of the city of hebron (Gen. 23:2); it means “city of arba.” arba was the founding ancestor of the anakim and is mentioned only here and in 15:13; 21:11. the land had rest from war: This comment echoes 11:23, which concludes the account of the southern and northern campaigns.

15:1–12 The boundaries of Judah in southern Canaan are now described in detail. This reinforces the importance of the inheritance and the exact location that each tribe received.

(heb. shaqat) (11:23; 14:15) strong’s #8252

This hebrew word translated rest means “to be at peace.” It implies a freedom from anxiety and conflict. God had promised the Israelites rest in the Promised Land (ex. 33:14; Deut. 3:1–20; 12:9, 10). for the nomadic Israelites, this meant freedom from wandering and fighting. In the Book of Joshua, the idea of rest is related specifically to the conflicts and hostilities Israel had with their neighbors. God promised his people a peaceful place to settle. obtaining this rest depended on Israel’s complete obedience to God’s command to drive out the Canaanites (11:23; 14:15). The NT writers also speak of the concept of rest. Christians are told that heaven will bring them rest from death, pain, sin, and all other earthly struggles (heb. 4:1; Rev. 21:4).

Azmon and went out to the Brook of Egypt; and the border ended at the sea. This shall be your southern border.

And the <sup>f</sup>border on the northern quarter began at the bay of the sea at the mouth of the Jordan. <sup>6</sup>The border went up to <sup>g</sup>Beth Hoglah and passed north of Beth Arabah; and the border went up <sup>h</sup>to the stone of Bohan the son of Reuben. <sup>7</sup>Then the border went up toward <sup>i</sup>Debir from <sup>j</sup>the Valley of Achor, and it turned northward toward Gilgal, which is before the Ascent of Adummim, which is on the south side of the valley. The border continued toward the waters of En Shemesh and ended at <sup>k</sup>En Rogel. <sup>8</sup>And the border went up <sup>l</sup>by the Valley of the Son of Hinnom to the southern slope of the <sup>m</sup>Jebusite city (which is Jerusalem). The border went up to the top of the mountain that lies before the Valley of Hinnom westward, which is at the end of the Valley <sup>n</sup>of <sup>2</sup>Rephaim northward. <sup>9</sup>Then the border went around from the top of the hill to <sup>o</sup>the fountain of the water of Nephtoah, and extended to the cities of Mount Ephron. And the border went around <sup>p</sup>to Baalah (which is <sup>q</sup>Kirjath Jearim). <sup>10</sup>Then the border <sup>3</sup>turned westward from Baalah to Mount Seir, passed along to the side of Mount Jearim on the north (which is Chesalon), went down to Beth Shemesh, and passed on to <sup>r</sup>Timnah. <sup>11</sup>And the border went out to the side of <sup>s</sup>Ekron northward. Then the border went around to Shicron, passed along to Mount Baalah, and extended to Jabneel; and the border ended at the sea.

Caleb Occupies Hebron and Debir

to the inhabitants of Debir (formerly the name of Debir was Kirjath Sefher).

The Cities of Judah

15:13–19 This second passage about Caleb’s inheritance (see 14:6–15 for the first one) explains how he also took Debir, another city that originally had been taken by Joshua (10:38, 39) but which had evidently fallen back into Canaanite hands. This section closely parallels Judg. 1:12–15.

15:20–63 The cities that Judah inherited number more than a hundred and include their surrounding villages. The list has four parts: (1) cities in the south (vv. 21–32); (2) cities in the lowland (vv. 33–47); (3) cities in the mountain country (vv. 48–60); and (4) cities in the wilderness near the Dead sea (vv. 61, 62).

Jebusites

ancient Jerusalem was once called Jebus, and its original inhabitants were called the Jebusites. When the Israelites invaded Palestine under the leadership of Joshua, the Jebusites were ruled by a doni-Zedek, one of five Amorite kings who resisted the Hebrew conquest. These five kings were defeated and slain by Joshua, but the Jebusites were not driven out of Jebus (Jerusalem). After David was anointed king, he led his army against the Jebusites. His military commander, Joab, apparently entered the city through an underground water shaft and led the conquest (2 sam. 5:6–9; 1 Chr. 11:4–8). The site on which Solomon's temple was built in Jerusalem was previously a threshing floor that belonged to a Jebusite by the name of a Raunah (2 sam. 24:16–24), or Oman (1 Chr. 21:24, 25). David refused to accept this property as a gift from a Raunah and paid him 50 shekels of silver for the land.

Ephraim and West Manasseh

15:63 The Jebusites, who inhabited Jerusalem before the Israelites arrived, stubbornly held on to Jerusalem because the tribe of Judah did not destroy them completely. God did not want Israel to make peace with the inhabitants of the land, but instead to drive them out and utterly destroy them (Num. 33:52–55; Deut. 7:1–5; 20:16–18). Judg. 1:21 repeats this verse almost verbatim, except that it states that Benjamin (not Judah) failed to drive out the Jebusites. This is because Jerusalem sat astride the boundary between Benjamin and Judah. In the early period, Jerusalem did not strictly belong to either tribe. The tribe of Judah did capture Jerusalem later (Judg. 1:8), but Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites in their portion (Judg. 1:21). Apparently Judah took the unfortified southwestern hill, while the tribe of Benjamin failed to take the walled city on the eastern hill. The details are not entirely clear, but it is stated that Jebusites and Israelites lived together (15:63; Judg. 1:21). The city effectively belonged to the Jebusites until the time of David (2 sam. 5:5–10). 16:1–4 a single lot determined the inheritance of both of the tribes of Joseph—Ephraim and Manasseh. That these two tribes together received only one lot caused them later to complain (17:14–18).

16:9 The separate cities: some of Ephraim's cities were actually part of Manasseh's inheritance (see also 17:9). The reason for this is not clear, but it may have its basis in the greater blessing extended to Ephraim by Jacob (Gen. 48). Manasseh also inherited towns from the territories of two other tribes, Issachar and Asher (17:11).

16:10 they did not drive out the Canaanites: This previews the many statements about incomplete conquests in Judg. 1. forced laborers: The status of the Canaanites in Gezer was somewhat similar to that of the Gibeonites (9:27), except that there was no treaty involved here, so the status of these Canaanites was somewhat lower.

The Other Half-Tribe of Manasseh (West)

17 There was also a lot for the tribe of Manasseh, for he was the <sup>a</sup>first-born of Joseph: namely for <sup>b</sup>Machir the firstborn of Manasseh, the father of Gilead, because he was a man of war; therefore he was given <sup>c</sup>Gilead and Bashan. <sup>2</sup>And there was a lot for <sup>d</sup>the rest of the children of Manasseh according to their families: <sup>e</sup>for the children of <sup>1</sup>Abiezer, the children of Helek, <sup>f</sup>the children of Asriel, the children of Shechem, <sup>g</sup>the children of Hephher, and the children of Shemida; these were the male children of Manasseh the son of Joseph according to their families.

<sup>10</sup>Southward it was Ephraim’s, northward it was Manasseh’s, and the sea was its border. Manasseh’s territory was adjoining Asher on the north and Issachar on the east. <sup>11</sup>And in Issachar and in Asher, <sup>o</sup>Manasseh had <sup>p</sup>Beth Shean and its towns, Ibleam and its towns, the inhabitants of Dor and its towns, the inhabitants of En Dor and its towns, the inhabitants of Taanach and its towns, and the inhabitants of Megiddo and its towns—three hilly regions. <sup>12</sup>Yet <sup>q</sup>the children of Manasseh could not drive out the inhabitants of those cities, but the Canaanites were determined to dwell in that land. <sup>13</sup>And it happened, when the children of Israel grew strong, that they put the Canaanites to <sup>r</sup>forced labor, but did not utterly drive them out.

More Land for Ephraim and Manasseh

<sup>15</sup>So Joshua answered them, “If you are a great people, then go up to the forest country and clear a place for yourself there in the land of the Perizzites and the giants, since the mountains of Ephraim are too confined for you.”

17:1 Manasseh’s firstborn child Machir (Gen. 50:23; Num. 26:29) had already received a separate portion, Gilead and Bashan—that is, Manasseh’s portion east of the Jordan (13:29–31). The rest of Manasseh’s portion was west of the Jordan (vv. 2–13).

17:3–6 here Joshua faithfully carried out the commands of God through Moses in the matter of the inheritance of Zelophehad, who had no sons (Num. 26:33; 27:1–11). Joshua made sure that the daughters received their inheritance as promised. This brief narrative emphasizes once again how God keeps his promises, a persistent theme throughout the Book of Joshua. The faith of the daughters of Zelophehad in claiming the land recalls that of Caleb, who also claimed land on the basis of God’s promise (14:6–15).

17:14–18 The episode here revives the complaint of the two tribes of Joseph that they together had received only one lot. Joshua encouraged them to take land in the hill country despite their fears of the Canaanites there (vv. 15, 17, 18; Num. 13:28–33). The episode presents a sharp contrast to Caleb’s willingness to take the initiative in claiming his land (14:6–15). It also reminds us that plenty of land remained to be taken (see 13:1).

18:1 up to this point, Israel’s central encampment in the land had of meeting there. And the land was subdued before them. <sup>2</sup>But there remained among the children of Israel seven tribes which had not yet received their inheritance.

<sup>3</sup>Then Joshua said to the children of Israel: <sup>c</sup>“How long will you neglect to go and possess the land which the LORD God of your fathers has given you? <sup>4</sup>Pick out from among you three men for each tribe, and I will send them; they shall rise and go through the land, survey it according to their inheritance, and come back to me. <sup>5</sup>And they shall divide it into seven parts. <sup>d</sup>Judah shall remain in their territory on the south, and the <sup>e</sup>house of Joseph shall remain in their territory on the north. <sup>6</sup>You shall therefore <sup>1</sup>survey the land in seven parts and bring the survey here to me, <sup>f</sup>that I may cast lots for you here before the LORD our God. <sup>7g</sup>But the Levites have no part among you, for the priesthood of the LORD is their inheritance. <sup>h</sup>And Gad, Reuben, and half the tribe of Manasseh have received their inheritance beyond the Jordan on the east, which Moses the servant of the LORD gave them.”

<sup>8</sup>Then the men arose to go away; and Joshua charged those who went to <sup>2</sup>survey the land, saying, “Go, walk <sup>i</sup>through the land, survey it, and come back to me, that I may cast lots for you here before the LORD in Shiloh.” <sup>9</sup>So the men went, passed through the land, and <sup>3</sup>wrote the survey in a book in seven parts by cities; and they came to Joshua at the camp in Shiloh. <sup>10</sup>Then Joshua cast <sup>j</sup>lots for them in Shiloh before the LORD, and there <sup>k</sup>Joshua divided the land to the children of Israel according to their <sup>4</sup>divisions.

The Land of Benjamin

been at Gilgal, near Jericho, where they had observed several religious ceremonies (4:19, 20; 5:2–12; 9:6). Now the entire congregation moved to Shiloh, about 15 miles northwest of Jericho, where they set up the tent of meeting. This would remain an important Israelite religious center for several hundred years (19:51; 21:2; Judg. 18:31; 21:12; 1 sam. 1:9) until the taking of Jerusalem in David’s day. The ark was kept there (1 sam. 3:3), and it was brought into battle against the Philistines, who captured it when samuel was judge (1 sam. 4). soon after this, shiloh was destroyed (Ps. 78:60; Jer. 7:14). tabernacle of meeting: This is the first of two references to the tabernacle in this book; the other reference is in 19:51. The tabernacle was an elaborate portable tent that served as God’s “home” when the Israelites were in the wilderness. The name tabernacle or tent of meeting usually means this tabernacle.

18:3 How long will you neglect to go: Joshua’s rebuke of the seven tribes shows that it was not enough to defeat the inhabitants of the land; they also had to take possession of it. The Israelites had easily defeated the Canaanites (chs. 9–11) but they did not diligently follow up on their victories and occupy all of the land. This laziness disobeyed God’s instructions in 13:1 and showed a lack of faith in his promises.

18:9 wrote the survey in a book: see 18:11—19:51.

and Kirjath: fourteen cities with their villages. This was the inheritance of the children of Benjamin according to their families.

Simeon's Inheritance with Judah

The Land of Issachar

19:1, 9 Simeon did not get an independent inheritance, but rather inherited scattered lands within Judah's allotment. Their father Jacob had predicted this (Gen. 49:5-7). Later simeon and Judah acted together (Judg. 1:3). In 1 Chr. 4:24-27 simeon is described as a much smaller tribe than Judah.

Naphtali according to their families, the cities and their villages.

The Land of Dan

Joshua's Inheritance

<sup>49</sup>When they had <sup>8</sup>made an end of dividing the land as an inheritance according to their borders, the children of Israel gave an inheritance among them to Joshua the son of Nun. <sup>50</sup>According to the word of the LORD they gave him the city which he asked for, <sup>2</sup>Timnath <sup>a</sup>Serah in the mountains of Ephraim; and he built the city and dwelt in it.

<sup>51b</sup>These were the inheritances which Eleazar the priest, Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel divided as an inheritance by lot <sup>c</sup>in Shiloh before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of meeting. So they made an end of dividing the country.

The Cities of Refuge

cities of refuge, of which I spoke to you through Moses, <sup>3</sup>that the slayer who kills a person accidentally or unintentionally may flee there; and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood. <sup>4</sup>And when he flees to one of those cities, and stands at the entrance of the gate of the city, and <sup>2</sup>declares his case in the hearing of the elders of that city, they shall take him into the city as one of them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them. <sup>5b</sup>Then if the avenger of blood pursues him, they shall not deliver the slayer into his hand, because he struck his neighbor unintentionally, but did not hate him beforehand. <sup>6</sup>And he shall dwell in that city <sup>c</sup>until he stands before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the one who is high priest in those days. Then the slayer may return and come to his own city and his own house, to the city from which he fled.”

Cities of the Levites

19:47 Dan's capture of Leshem is recounted also in Judg. 18, which gives more detail (in that account the city is called Laish). The Danites were forced out of their territory in the south (Judg. 1:34) and migrated north (Judg. 18:27-31), where they captured Leshem and renamed it Dan.

19:49, 50 The section ends, appropriately enough, with Joshua receiving his inheritance in ephraim. According to the word of the LORD: The Bible does not record the command granting Joshua this particular inheritance, though the promise to Caleb and Joshua in Num. 14:30 did guarantee both of these faithful spies an inheritance in the land.

19:51 This is a summary statement about the allotments for each tribe, echoing elements from 14:1; 17:4; 18:6, 10. It is a fitting summary to the entire section of chs. 13-19. The involvement of Eleazar the priest, Joshua, . . . and the heads of the . . . tribes, as well as the mention of the tabernacle at Shiloh, all lend an air of importance and solemnity. The entire distribution of the land had taken place under God's watchful eye, decently and in order. The land was God's to give, and he had now given it.

20:3 accidentally or unintentionally: Literally, “through error and without knowing.” God's law made allowance for motives and intent just as modern criminal codes distinguish unintentional killing from murder. The word translated avenger in avenger of blood is translated close relative in Ruth 3:13; 4:1. The basic meaning of the word is “protector of family rights.” Num. 35 gives the demands and limitations on the avenger of blood, but it does not give license to take revenge—God clearly reserved that task for himself alone (Deut. 32:35; Is. 34:8; Rom. 12:19). God's provision of the cities of refuge put a limit on private acts of vengeance.

20:7, 8 The cities of refuge were evenly distributed so that none was more than a day's journey from any part of Israel's land. Golan, Ramoth Gilead, and Bezer were on the east side of the Jordan River, and kedesh, shechem, and kirjath arba (hebron) were on the west. Despite their importance here and in the Pentateuch, cities of refuge as such are not mentioned again in the Bible.

21:1-3 The Levites came to Joshua to claim their rightful share of territory, which included cities throughout the territories God had of Israel. <sup>2</sup>And they spoke to them at <sup>c</sup>Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, <sup>d</sup>“The LORD commanded through Moses to give us cities to dwell in, with their common-lands for our livestock.” <sup>3</sup>So the children of Israel gave to the Levites from their inheritance, at the commandment of the LORD, these cities and their common-lands:

promised (Num. 35:1–8). The common-lands refers to land that surrounded each city.

21:4–8 here the Levitical cities are determined by the lot. The word lot occurs five times in these five verses; in this case it was a God-directed method of choosing the cities. God was in control of every aspect of the inheritance process.

21:4, 9–42 The priestly branch of the Kohathites, descended through aaron, received 13 cities from Judah, simeon, and Benjamin. Thus the aaronic priests were strategically located to serve in the temple and in the territory that remained in the hands of descendants of Judah through the years before and following the Babylonian exile. some of the cities were not actually in Israel's possession at this time (for example, Gezer, v. 21), and some appear never to have been in Israel's control for any length of time (for example, the Philistine cities of eltekeh and Gibbethon, v. 23). These names may simply reflect the actual allotments in Joshua's day. Much land remained to be taken even after it had been allotted (13:1; 15:63; 16:10; 17:12, 13).

cities of the Gershonites according to their families were thirteen cities with their common-lands.

The Promise Fulfilled

22 Then Joshua called the Reubenites, the Gadites, and half the tribe of Manasseh, <sup>2</sup> and said to them: “You have kept <sup>a</sup> all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, <sup>b</sup> and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you. <sup>3</sup> You have not <sup>1</sup> left your brethren these many days, up to this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the LORD your God. <sup>4</sup> And now the LORD your God has given <sup>r</sup> rest to your brethren, as He promised them; now therefore, return and go to your tents and to the land of your possession, <sup>d</sup> which Moses the servant of the LORD gave you on the other side of the Jordan. <sup>5</sup> But <sup>e</sup> take <sup>2</sup> careful heed to do the commandment and the law which Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, <sup>f</sup> to love the LORD your God, to walk in all His ways, to keep His commandments, to hold fast to Him, and to serve Him with all your heart and with all your soul.” <sup>6</sup> So Joshua <sup>g</sup> blessed them and sent them away, and they went to their tents.

21:43–45 This glorious conclusion to these two chapters and to the entire section (chs. 13–21) celebrates the fact that all came to pass exactly as God promised. What has been visible all along is now said plainly—the God of Israel is a promise-keeping God, who gave Israel the land in accordance with the promises he had made with its ancestors, including Moses and the patriarchs, and in addition to giving them the land, he also granted them rest.

22:2, 3 The obedience to Moses and Joshua of the tribes settled east of the Jordan is commended here. The issue of the unity of the nation had arisen at the beginning, and these tribes had proven faithful.

22:4 rest . . . as He promised: This idea of rest as a gift from God is part of the fabric of the Book of Joshua. It had been promised by God (1:13, 15), and once again God fulfilled his promises.

22:5 The passionate exhortation to take careful heed captures the heart of this chapter. The words echo the call to faithfulness in Deut. 4:29; 6:5; 10:12, 13; 11:13. The verbs in this verse give a comprehensive picture of what a proper relationship to God includes: to love God, to walk in his ways, to hold fast (or cling) to him, and to serve him. This is the essence of the “first and great commandment,” to love God wholeheartedly (Deut. 6:5; Matt. 22:37). Loving God is much more than an affirmation or a feeling; it is obedience, loyalty, and service to God above all else.

22:6 Joshua blessed them: The blessing here involves many riches from the spoils of the land (v. 7).

(heb. halak) (22:5; Gen. 17:1; Deut. 10:12; Ps. 119:3) strong's #1980

Walk can mean, literally, to move at a pace slower than a run or, figuratively, one's conduct of life. The literal sense predominates in the oT, but the figurative meaning of the word does occur (Gen. 5:24; 6:9; eccl. 11:9). In the NT the word usually is used literally in the Gospels, while it is usually used figuratively in Paul and John's letters. The figurative sense has decidedly spiritual overtones. o ne either walks (conducts his life) as a Christian or as a non-Christian (Rom. 8:4; eph. 2:2, 10; 1 John 1:6, 7). The believer can walk “in darkness” or “in the light,” and constantly is urged to choose the latter; only such a path is “worthy of the calling with which you were called” (eph. 4:1).

An Altar by the Jordan

for yourselves an altar, <sup>q</sup>that you might rebel this day against the LORD? <sup>17</sup>Is the iniquity <sup>r</sup>of Peor not enough for us, from which we are not cleansed till this day, although there was a plague in the congregation of the LORD, <sup>18</sup>but that you must turn away this day from following the LORD? And it shall be, if you rebel today against the LORD, that tomorrow <sup>s</sup>He will be angry with the whole congregation of Israel. <sup>19</sup><sup>7</sup>Nevertheless, if the land of your possession is unclean, <sup>then</sup> cross over to the land of the possession of the LORD, <sup>t</sup>where the LORD’s tabernacle stands, and take possession among us; but do not rebel against the LORD, nor rebel against us, by building yourselves an altar besides the altar of the LORD our God. <sup>20</sup><sup>u</sup>Did not Achan the son of Zerah <sup>8</sup>commit a trespass in the <sup>9</sup>accursed thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Israel? And that man did not perish alone in his iniquity?”

22:11 have built an altar: The account does not reveal why this altar was built until after the events have developed into a full-blown crisis. see vv. 21–29.

22:12 God had commanded Israel not to offer burnt offerings or sacrifices at any location except the tabernacle (see Lev. 17:8, 9) and not to worship other gods (Deut. 13:12–15). The punishment for violating both laws was death, and this is why Israel gathered . . . to go to war against their brethren.

22:13, 14 everything was done “by the book.” first, the nine and a half tribes west of the Jordan acted in perfect unity, carefully choosing one representative each, the highest ranking ruler from each tribe. second, they sent the priest Phinehas to head up the delegation, reflecting their concern that true worship and ritual be maintained. All present probably remembered the tragedy at Baal Peor (Num. 25), when drastic actions had to be taken to stop the plague (v. 17).

22:16 We know how serious Phinehas and his companions considered the offense—if it were indeed such an offense—from the term he used for it, treachery. This is the same Hebrew word used of a chan’s sin in v. 20 (see 7:1).

22:17 The iniquity of Peor included the fact that the Israelites worshiped the Moabite gods and committed immoral acts with the women of Moab. The tribes west of the Jordan feared that this could happen again. The phrase not cleansed till this day implies that Israel had never completely rid itself of this sin, that it always flirted with, and at times participated in, the idolatry and attractions of neighboring pagan religious systems.

22:18 He will be angry with the whole congregation: No one can sin alone. If the tribes east of the Jordan were indeed sinning, then the entire nation would feel the effects, as in the case of a chan’s sin (v. 20; 7:1).

22:22 The repetition of the LORD God of gods reveals the deep emotion in the response of the tribes east of the Jordan. In an agitated state of mind, their words came out somewhat awkward, yet completely sincere. They firmly maintained their innocence and tried to convince their fellow countrymen of it.

22:23–25 The tribes from east of the Jordan were afraid that geographical distance would isolate them and in time cause the Israelites west of the Jordan to reject them. Thus they built the altar to prevent the existing unity from being lost.

LORD.” So your descendants will make our descendants cease fearing the LORD.<sup>26</sup> Therefore we said, ‘Let us now prepare to build ourselves an altar, not for burnt offering nor for sacrifice,<sup>27</sup> but that it may be<sup>a</sup> a<sup>3</sup> witness between you and us and our generations after us, that we may<sup>2</sup> perform the service of the LORD before Him with our burnt offerings, with our sacrifices, and with our peace offerings; that your descendants may not say to our descendants in time to come, “You have no part in the LORD.”’<sup>28</sup> Therefore we said that it will be, when they say this to us or to our generations in time to come, that we may say, ‘Here is the replica of the altar of the LORD which our fathers made, though not for burnt offerings nor for sacrifices; but it is a witness between you and us.’<sup>29</sup> Far be it from us that we should rebel against the LORD, and turn from following the LORD this day,<sup>4</sup> to build an altar for burnt offerings, for grain offerings, or for sacrifices, besides the altar of the LORD our God which is before His tabernacle.”

<sup>32</sup> And Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, and the rulers, returned from the children of Reuben and the children of Gad, from the land of Gilead to the land of Canaan, to the children of Israel, and brought back word to them.<sup>33</sup> So the thing pleased the children of Israel, and

Joshua’s Farewell Address

23 Now it came to pass, a long time after the LORD<sup>a</sup> had given rest to Israel from all their enemies round about, that Joshua<sup>b</sup> was old, advanced in age.<sup>2</sup> And Joshua<sup>c</sup> called for all Israel, for their elders, for their heads, for their judges, and for their officers, and said to them:

“I am old, advanced in age.<sup>3</sup> You have seen all that the<sup>d</sup> LORD your God has done to all these nations because of you, for the<sup>e</sup> LORD your God is He who has fought for you.<sup>4</sup> See, <sup>f</sup>I have divided to you by lot these nations that remain, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from the Jordan, with all the nations that I have cut off, as far as the Great Sea westward.<sup>5</sup> And the LORD your God<sup>g</sup> will expel them from before you and drive them out of your sight. So you shall possess their land,<sup>h</sup> as the LORD your God promised you.<sup>6</sup> <sup>i</sup> Therefore be very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, <sup>j</sup>lest you turn aside from it to the right hand or to the left,<sup>7</sup> and lest you<sup>k</sup> go<sup>1</sup> among these nations, these who remain among you. You shall not<sup>l</sup> make mention of the name of their gods, nor cause anyone to<sup>m</sup> swear by them; you shall not<sup>n</sup> serve them nor bow down to them,<sup>8</sup> but you shall<sup>o</sup> hold fast to the LORD your God, as you have done to this day.<sup>9</sup> <sup>p</sup> For the LORD has<sup>2</sup> driven out from before you great and strong nations; but as for you, no one has been able to stand against you to this day.<sup>10</sup> <sup>q</sup> One man of you shall chase a thousand, for the LORD your God is He who fights for you,<sup>r</sup> as He

22:28 Here is the replica: The eastern tribes chose their words carefully; the word replica clearly shows that they never intended this altar to be a substitute for the true altar at the tabernacle. Rather, they intended it only to serve as a witness. The same Hebrew word is used elsewhere for the pattern for the tabernacle given to Moses (ex. 25:9, 40) and the “plans” of the temple that David gave to Solomon (1 Chr. 28:11).

22:30–34 The eastern tribes’ impassioned defense quickly defused the crisis, satisfying the people’s representatives. The representatives’ response occupies only one verse, an abrupt ending to a crisis that is described in 20 preceding verses (vv. 10–29). The western tribes accepted the words of the tribes east of the Jordan on this matter, and the altar remained.

22:34 The climax of the chapter asserts that the altar was a witness . . . that the LORD is God. Previously, the chapter indicated only that it was to be a witness (vv. 27, 28), without saying what it would be a witness of. In a similar vein, Jesus told his disciples that people would know they were his disciples by seeing their love for each other; that is, their love would point people to Christ (John 13:35).

23:3 He who has fought for you: a reminder that the land belonged to the Lord and that he gave it to Israel, even to the extent of fighting on their behalf (1:3; 8:7; 10:14, 19, 42).

23:6 be very courageous: a gain, Joshua used the same words that God had spoken to him years earlier when he commissioned him (1:7–9). see also Joshua’s words to the eastern tribes in 22:5.

23:9 That no one has been able to stand against the tribes of Israel was a fulfillment of God’s promise in 1:5.

23:10 One man . . . shall chase a thousand: These words are similar to the promises in Lev. 26:7, 8. The power God’s people had over their enemies was so dramatic it had to be miraculous.

promised you. <sup>11s</sup>Therefore take careful heed to yourselves, that you love the LORD your God. <sup>12</sup>Or else, if indeed you do <sup>t</sup>go back, and cling to the remnant of these nations—these that remain among you—and <sup>u</sup>make marriages with them, and go in to them and they to you, <sup>13</sup>know for certain that <sup>v</sup>the LORD your God will no longer drive out these nations from before you. <sup>w</sup>But they shall be snares and traps to you, and scourges on your sides and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from this good land which the LORD your God has given you.

<sup>14</sup>“Behold, this day <sup>x</sup>I <sup>3</sup> am going the way of all the earth. And you know in all your hearts and in all your souls that <sup>y</sup>not one thing has failed of all the good things which the LORD your God spoke concerning you. All have come to pass for you; not one word of them has failed. <sup>15z</sup>Therefore it shall come to pass, that as all the good things have come upon you which the LORD your God promised you, so the LORD will bring upon you <sup>a</sup>all harmful things, until He has destroyed you from this good land which the LORD your God has given you. <sup>16</sup><sup>4</sup>When you have transgressed the covenant of the LORD your God, which He commanded you, and have gone and served other gods, and bowed down to them, then the <sup>b</sup>anger of the LORD will burn against you, and you shall perish quickly from the good land which He has given you.”

So I delivered you out of his hand. <sup>11</sup>Then <sup>v</sup>you went over the Jordan and came to Jericho. And <sup>w</sup>the men of Jericho fought against you—also the Amorites, the Perizzites, the

23:11 The exhortation to love the LORD your God comes from Deut. 6:5.

23:12 The word translated cling is the same word translated hold fast in v. 8, bringing the different instances of clinging into sharp contrast. God wanted his people to cling to him, not to the Canaanites they were driving out. This required, among other things, that they not make marriages with unbelieving foreigners under any circumstances (ex. 34:11-16; Deut. 7:1-4). Years later Solomon ignored this command and proved how destructive the sin of intermarriage could be (1 kin. 3:1; 11:1-8; 2 Cor. 6:14).

23:13, 14 they shall be snares and traps: see ex. 23:33; Num. 33:55; Deut. 7:16. not one thing has failed: a strong affirmation of God’s faithfulness, one of the book’s main themes.

23:16 you shall perish quickly from the good land: This indeed happened to Israel in its later history. This warning saw its most dramatic fulfillment when Judah was carried into Babylonian captivity because of its repeated rebellion against God (2 kin. 25). But Israel’s rebellion began almost immediately, during the period of the judges, when Israel began to do precisely what was warned against here (Judg. 2:16-23; 3:1-6).

24:1 Shechem is a site with an ancient tradition of religious significance and covenant making in Israel, going back to a braham’s day (8:30-35; Gen. 12:6; 33:18-20; 34:1-31; 37:12-17; Deut. 11:26-32; 27:1-26; Judg. 9:31-57). A archaeological excavation has uncovered a series of temples, sanctuaries, and ceremonial standing stones from almost every period of its existence.

24:2 Israel’s ancestors did not worship the true God at first; until God called them, a braham and his relatives had served other gods (Gen. 31:1-4, 19, 34, 35). The words of this verse are used in the Passover celebration of the Jews all over the world today. When they recite these words, those who celebrate confess that the Lord’s choice of their fathers was not because of an innate superiority in a braham. a braham and others were mere idolaters. But God chose a braham and sarah to be his special people for reasons known only to him. Likewise in our case, it is not because of something wonderful in ourselves that God has reached out to us, but because of his loving, sovereign, gracious choice.

24:5 Afterward I brought you out: God’s review of his gracious actions on behalf of his people (vv. 2-5) included Joshua’s generation. God did not just make himself known in ages past; he also worked mightily and graciously for the people of Joshua’s day. Christians today are part of a long lineage of the people of faith (heb. 11).

24:10 I would not listen to Balaam: for the full story on Balaam, see Num. 22-24.

Canaanites, the Hittites, the Gergashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. But I delivered them into your hand. <sup>12</sup> I sent the hornet before you which drove them out from before you, also the two kings of the Amorites, but <sup>13</sup> not with your sword or with your bow. <sup>13</sup> I have given you a land for which you did not labor, and <sup>14</sup> cities which you did not build, and you dwell in them; you eat of the vineyards and olive groves which you did not plant.

And they said, “We are witnesses!”

24:12 God’s use of the hornet to aid Israel fulfilled the promise of ex. 23:28. The hornet may be: (1) symbolic of the pharaoh of Egypt, whose symbols were a bee or hornet; (2) symbolic of God’s terror or panic among the Canaanites (2:9–11, 24; 5:1; 6:27; ex. 15:14–16); or (3) actual hornets. Whatever the case, the point is that God fought for Israel. The phrase two kings refers to Sihon and Og, whom Israel had defeated in the wilderness (Num. 21:21–35). These victories were God’s, not dependent upon Israel’s military power. The sword and bow are mentioned in connection with the first Israelite capture of Shechem by Jacob (Gen. 48:22).

24:13 A land for which you did not labor fulfills the promises given by Moses in Deut. 6:10, 11. The land was God’s gracious gift to his people.

24:14, 15 Joshua’s words in these verses contain a rare appeal to Israel to choose between God and the many false substitutes. If Israel would not choose to serve the Lord, they would have to choose between the gods that their ancestors worshiped and the gods of the Amorites (that is, the Canaanites). Of course, the appeal is rhetorical; from God’s perspective there is only one option. With his famous words, Joshua clearly and unambiguously took his stand on the side of the living God. Joshua modeled a perfect leader’s actions: a leader must be willing to move ahead and commit himself to the truth regardless of the people’s inclinations. Joshua’s bold example undoubtedly encouraged many to follow with the affirmations of vv. 16–18.

24:16–18 In their response to Joshua’s challenge, the people acknowledged their debt to God for all their good fortune. This was a crucial point: as long as they remembered what God had done for them, they would be inclined to serve him. Moses had said this many years before (Deut. 8:11–17).

24:19 Immediately after Joshua exhorted the Israelites to serve God (v. 14), he stated you cannot serve the Lord! This use of exaggeration emphasizes the gravity of the obligation to which the people committed themselves. Theirs was not to be a nominal, superficial faith. Subsequent history shows that Israel’s record was poor in this regard. Joshua’s challenge is also for Christians. Although salvation is God’s free gift through Jesus Christ to those who believe, truly following Christ is the difficult way of the cross (Matt. 16:24; John 1:12; 1 Cor. 15:1–5).

24:22–27 Joshua and the people sealed their covenant to serve the Lord by writing these words in the Book of the Law of God and by erecting a large stone under an oak tree, the same tree that Jacob had encountered when he came to Shechem. This tree was near the Lord’s sanctuary, which was probably not a formal building or temple but the “holy place” created at Shechem by the act of bringing the tabernacle there. The reference to the people presenting themselves “before God” (v. 1) may indicate that the tabernacle was there. The stone under the oak tree functioned as a legal reminder or witness of the covenant just entered into by the people. Now the stone and the people were both witnesses. This echoes the function of the altar built by the tribes that settled east of the Jordan, which also was a witness (22:34). A large standing stone that dates to the Late Bronze Age (that is, roughly the time represented in this story) has been found at Shechem, and is possibly the stone mentioned here.

24:28 When Joshua dismissed the people, it was each to his own inheritance, fittingly closing this section with a reminder of one of the book’s major themes.

Death of Joshua and Eleazar

24:29 This first reference to Joshua as the servant of the Lord shows clearly how Joshua had “grown into the job” that Moses had vacated. Now the book comes full circle, recalling the references in 1:1 to Moses as the servant of the Lord and to Joshua as merely Moses’ assistant.

24:30 Joshua was buried on his own land, in the city he had asked for and built, Timnath serah (19:50).

24:32 The brief account of the transfer of Joseph’s body to Canaan from Egypt notes the fulfillment of Joseph’s prophecy given hundreds of years earlier (Gen. 50:24, 25).

24:33 Eleazar the high priest had figured significantly in the land distribution, and now he too received a decent burial in his own land.

THE BOOK OF JUDGES

THE BOOK OF JUDGES is a historical narrative that contrasts God’s faithfulness with Israel’s apostasy. Despite the repeated falling away of His people, God provided deliverers—namely, the judges—time and again. He did not do this unthinkingly or mechanically, nor was He manipulated by Israel’s cries for help (3:9, 15; 4:3; 6:6; 10:10). He did not spare Israel from the consequences of its actions, as its constant trouble with foreign oppressors indicates. Rather, God delivered Israel from oppression because of His promises to Abraham and his descendants. He remembered His vow to give the land of Canaan to Israel. Thus the preservation of God’s people was not due to their merit or goodness, nor even to their willingness to repent. Rather, God demonstrated His compassion and pity on a wayward people who grieved Him continually (2:16, 18) by providing bold leaders to rescue them. In fact, the real hero of Judges is God Himself, who alone remains faithful despite the failings of His people—and even of the judges.

Author and Date The author of this collection of historical writings about the judges who ruled Israel during a span of several centuries is never identified. Neither are there any clues elsewhere in Scripture. Late Jewish tradition ascribed its authorship to Samuel. This is certainly possible, but there is no way of knowing for sure.

Certainly the book was written after the last events recorded in it (about 1050 B.C.). The reference in 18:30 to “the day of the captivity of the land” refers most likely to the Babylonian exile (sixth century B.C.). This suggests that a later version of the book may have been compiled during the Exile or afterward. However, the reference to Jebusites living in Jerusalem “to this day” (1:21) suggests that a portion of the book may have been written prior to David’s capture of Jerusalem around 1000 B.C. It would seem likely that Jebusites who survived the battle would have left voluntarily or been expelled. Yet a few scriptural references suggest that some Jebusites remained in Jerusalem after David’s conquest (2 Sam. 24:16), so this is not a conclusive argument. If one believes that Judges was written sometime late in the eleventh century B.C., then it becomes more credible to suggest that Samuel wrote most or all of the book. Yet, like the question of authorship, the approximate date of the composition of Judges remains cloaked in uncertainty.

Purpose Judges was written to show the consequences of disobedience to God and the necessity of summoning a righteous king who would lead the people to God. In contrast to the serene way in which the Book of Joshua ends, with Israel in harmony with God’s commands, Judges reveals that Israel began to disobey God even in the time of Joshua, and that this disobedience grew more serious—and more debased—over time. Judges 2:16–23 establishes the cyclical pattern of sin, slavery, and salvation that would dominate the time of the judges. However, the book makes clear that the cycle had a downward spiral. Each new outbreak of disobedience and idolatry took Israel further away from God and deeper into sin and misery. By the end of the book, it is clear that Israel had violated its covenant with God in almost every imaginable way.

The purpose of the message is supported by the structure of the book itself. A close examination of chapters 17–21 leads to the conclusion that they are out of sequence with the events in the earlier chapters. Clues within the text support the theory that the events described in these latter chapters actually took place early in the period of the judges. For instance, we see the near unanimous action of Israel's tribal convocation, which successfully unites to take punitive action against Benjamin in chapter 20. This tribal league was clearly active during the time of Phinehas and in Joshua's day (Josh. 22:9–34). In these chapters, the Philistines are not mentioned as a military threat; the military campaigns described in chapters 20; 21 would have been unlikely in later times, when the Philistines dominated much of Israel's territory. Furthermore, Bethel and Mizpah are both named as sites of a major religious sanctuary (20:1, 18, 31; 21:1) rather than Shiloh, which was a more prominent religious center in the Philistine period (1 Sam. 1:3, 9; 3:21; 4:4).

This arrangement of the narrative, while not strictly chronological, reinforces the theme that the period of the judges was one of steep decline. The sordid events in these last chapters, while they may have occurred early in the period, are purposely placed at the end of the book as a fitting epitaph to a degenerate time.

CHRIST IN THE SCRIPTURES

In stark contrast to the Book of Joshua, Judges does not offer a complimentary picture of God's people. Instead of obedient men and women conquering a land by trusting God's power, we see an idolatrous nation disobeying God and tasting continual defeat. But thankfully, this book also provides a glimpse of what Jesus would do for all of us who, like the ancient Jews, struggle with disobedience. Each one of the 17 judges is a kind of "savior." (Fourteen are listed in Judges and three more in 1 Samuel.) They rule with a hand on the gavel and an eye toward God. Thus, like Jesus, they provide spiritual direction and restore the guilty into fellowship with God. Also like Jesus they invite those for whom they came to follow them (Judg. 3:28; Mark 1:17).

The Continuing Conquest of Canaan

<sup>3</sup> So Judah said to <sup>e</sup> Simeon his brother, “Come up with me to my allotted territory, that we may fight against the Canaanites; and <sup>f</sup> I will likewise go with you to your allotted territory.” And Simeon went with him. <sup>4</sup> Then Judah went up, and the LORD delivered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hand; and they killed ten thousand men at <sup>g</sup> Bezek. <sup>5</sup> And they found Adoni-Bezek in Bezek, and fought against him; and they defeated the Canaanites and the Perizzites. <sup>6</sup> Then Adoni-Bezek fled, and they pursued him and caught him and cut off his thumbs and big toes. <sup>7</sup> And Adoni-Bezek said, “Seventy kings with their thumbs and big toes cut off used to gather scraps under my table; <sup>h</sup> as I have done, so God has repaid me.” Then they brought him to Jerusalem, and there he died.

Canaan

Canaan, the land bridge of the ancient world, linked Egypt and Mesopotamia. Thus this region became an incredible melting pot of peoples and religions. The Canaanites were culturally united but without any political identity. They lived mainly along the coastline. The Amorites occupied the hill country and had arrived in the land during the time of Abraham, around 2090 B.C. The Hittites usually represented the non-Semitic elements in the population. The Perizzites and the Hivites (which also included the Girgashites and the Jebusites) were the descendants of an old Hurrian immigration which had arrived in Canaan between 1700 and 1500 B.C. The Sidonians were the forefathers of the Phoenicians and lived along the coastline. Finally, the Philistines were “the peoples of the sea” who arrived in Palestine following the dissolution of the Greek Mycenaean empire after the Trojan War. They brought with them superior weapons and a more sophisticated culture.

city on fire. <sup>9j</sup> And afterward the children of Judah went down to fight against the Canaanites who dwelt in the mountains, in the <sup>1</sup> South, and in the lowland. <sup>10</sup> Then Judah <sup>2</sup> went against the Canaanites who dwelt in <sup>k</sup> Hebron. (Now the name of Hebron was formerly <sup>l</sup> Kirjath

1:1–2:5 The introductory passage of Judges shows continuing military activity (1:1–26), which indicates that all military conquests had not been completed during Joshua’s day. It then explicitly details the incomplete conquests of several tribes (1:27–36). That Israel had disobeyed God’s directions for conquest is evident in 2:1–5, where the angel of the Lord makes such an accusation. In sharp contrast to the peaceful and unified picture of Israel at the end of the Book of Joshua, the breakdown of Israelite society is already evident.

1:1–21 Judges begins with a record of conquests in southern Palestine. The tribe of Judah assumed leadership and allied with Simeon in campaigns against the Canaanites who had not been driven out of their respective territories. They fought a series of successful campaigns, “going up” against Bezek and Jerusalem, “going down” against Hebron, Debir, and Zephath, and concluding with an invasion of Philistine territory. They had mixed success against the Canaanites, but their successes (vv. 4–18, 20) outweighed their failures (vv. 19, 21).

1:1 Now after the death of Joshua it came to pass that: Judges begins as the Book of Joshua does, with reference to the death of the previous leader—Moses in Josh. 1:1, Joshua here. Yet no new leader was commissioned to lead Israel after Joshua; rather, the tribe of Judah was designated to lead in the fight against the Canaanites (1:1–4). The choice of Judah was the first hint that Jacob’s prediction for Judah (Gen. 49:8–12) was coming to pass. The prophecy would come to fruition with the establishment of the monarchy under David and his descendants; David was from the tribe of Judah.

1:3 history bound the tribes of Judah and Simeon together. They were both descended from the same mother (Gen. 29:33, 35), and Simeon had inherited land in Judah’s territory (Josh. 19:1, 9). Theirs was a natural alliance.

1:4 the Canaanites and the Perizzites: see Josh. 3:10. The site of the battle of Bezek between Israelites and Canaanites is unknown. Many scholars believe that it took place near present-day

Khirbet Bezqa, about three miles northeast of Gezer, northwest of Jerusalem. However, 1 Sam. 11:8–11 mentions a town called Bezek northeast of Shechem in the territory of Manasseh, where Saul took a census of the people. Considering that Judah was leading a campaign on behalf of all Israel (vv. 1, 2), a battle in Manasseh’s territory is quite possible. Later, Judah spearheaded a campaign in its own territory (vv. 8–19).

1:6, 7 Adoni-Bezek: The name of this minor king means “Lord of Bezek.” To cut off his thumbs and big toes would prevent a doni-Bezek from ever engaging in battle again, since a thumb was needed to hold a sword and the big toes were necessary for running. The practice of mutilating vanquished enemies is recorded in ancient sources found in Mesopotamia and Greece and was practiced by a doni-Bezek himself. As a result of his wounds, however, a doni-Bezek died.

1:8, 9 After the battle at Bezek, Judah pressed the campaign against the Canaanites elsewhere in Jerusalem and the mountains, the southland, and the lowland. Jerusalem was captured and burned, but not settled. Verse 21 states that Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites from the city. For more on this differing account, see Josh. 15:63. The complete conquest and settlement of Jerusalem was not accomplished until David’s day (2 Sam. 5:6–10).

1:10–15 The capture of Hebron and Debir appears as a new conquest, but these victories had already been recounted in Josh. 15. This passage is probably a reference to the earlier victory (or else the passage in Joshua is anticipating the victories to come). The account in vv. 11–15 is taken almost verbatim from Josh. 15:15–19, and it is the third account of Caleb’s inheritance (the other account is found in Josh. 14:6–15).

1:10 The name Hebron means “Confederacy.” This city’s name was formerly Kirjath Arba (literally “city of four”). Arba was also the name of a leader of the a nakim (Josh. 14:15). From the names it is conjectured that Hebron was originally a close-knit alliance of Arba.) And they killed Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmai.

And she dismounted from her donkey, and Caleb said to her, “What do you wish?” <sup>15</sup> So she said to him, <sup>q</sup> “Give me a blessing; since you have given me land in the South, give me also springs of water.”

1:11 Debir was the next city captured by the Israelites. Its former name kirjath sepher means “City of the Book”; it may have been an administrative center where records were kept. However, the modern archaeological site, Tell Beit Mirsim, has not yielded any great library or records. Nevertheless, archaeologists have uncovered a strongly fortified city, which was destroyed close to 1200 B.C. 1:14, 15 as a dowry, Caleb’s daughter asked for springs of water in addition to the land he had given her. Land without fresh water was almost worthless, so her request was an astute one.

Five Cities of the Philistines

Gaza, a shkelon, a shdod, ekron, and Gath comprise a list of familiar biblical names. Each of these cities was a commercial emporium with important connections both north (as far as Mesopotamia) and south (as far as Egypt) by way of the coastal highway that served as one of the major highways of the ancient world. Also the ships of Phoenicia, Cyprus, Crete, and the Aegean called at Philistia’s seaports. Among these seaports was a place today called Tel Qasile on the Yarkon River (the “Brook Kanah” of Josh. 16:8; 17:9) just north of modern Tel Aviv. A Philistine temple has been found at Tel Qasile.

The Philistine plain itself was an arid, loam-covered lowland between the Mediterranean sea and the foothills of the Judahite plateau on the east. To the south lay a stretch of undulating sand dunes adjacent to the sea. No area in biblical history was more frequently contested than the western foothills, lying on the border between Judah and Philistia. Originally a part of Judah’s tribal allotment, the coastal area was never totally wrested away from the Philistines. Beth Shemesh, Timnah, a zekah, and Ziklag were among the towns coveted by both Israelites and Philistines, and they figure in the stories of Samson, Goliath, and David. The area to the north of Philistia, the plain of Sharon, was also contested at various periods. During Saul’s reign the Philistines even held Beth Shean and the Valley of Jezreel. Later, from about the time of Baasha on, a long border war was conducted by the Israelites at Gibbethon.

(The name of the city was formerly <sup>e</sup> Luz.) 24 And when the spies saw a man coming out of the city, they said to him, “Please show us the entrance to the city, and <sup>f</sup> we will show you mercy.” 25 So he showed them the entrance to the city, and they struck the city with the edge of the sword; but they let the man and all his family go. 26 And the man went to the land of the Hittites, built a city, and called its name Luz, which is its name to this day.

27<sup>g</sup> However, Manasseh did not drive out the inhabitants of Beth Shean and its villages, or <sup>h</sup> Taanach and its villages, or

1:16 References to the South (that is, the Negev) in vv. 9, 15 included mention of the descendants of the Kenite, Moses' father-in-law, Jethro (ex. 3:1). This family connection had led to friendly relations between the Israelites and the kenites, who were Midianites, in the wilderness (Num. 10:29–32). Their harmonious settling with Judah fulfilled Moses' words of Num. 10:29. City of Palms is a reference to Jericho (Deut. 34:3; 2 Chr. 28:15), nestled deep in the Jordan valley, northeast of Jerusalem.

1:18 Gaza . . . Ashkelon . . . Ekron were three of five major cities in the Philistine kingdom (the other two were a shdod and Gath: see Josh. 13:2, 3). Israel was not able to hold these cities for very long. By samson's day, all three cities were in Philistine hands again (14:19; 16:1; 1 sam. 5:10).

1:19 they could not drive out the inhabitants of the lowland: since the three Philistine cities mentioned in v. 18 were in the lowlands, this verse must mean that the Israelites had no success beyond these three cities, and perhaps even means that they lost control of them very quickly. Chariots of iron were effective on the flat coastal plains but not in the hill country of Canaan. Thus the Israelites, who did not have chariots, were better matched against the mountaineers.

1:21 Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites: This verse duplicates Josh. 15:63 almost exactly, except that the tribe of Judah is held responsible there for not driving out the Jebusites from Jerusalem. Note also that, in 1:8, the account states that Judah did capture Jerusalem. see Josh. 15:63.

1:22–36 In contrast to their successes in the south (vv. 1–21), the Israelites suffered more failures in the north. They initially seized Bethel (formerly Luz), a major city in ephraimite territory (vv. 22–26), but advanced little after that. six tribes—Manasseh, ephraim, Zebulun, a sher, Naphtali, and Dan—failed to drive the Canaanites from their territories.

1:22 The house of Joseph was ephraim and Manasseh (Gen. 48:5, 6; Deut. 33:17), who had split the inheritance of their father. They are the next two tribes mentioned in this passage in Judges (vv. 27, 29). Bethel means “The house of God.” It was a site with an honored history, beginning with a braham's first sacrifice to God (Gen. 13:3–4) and Jacob's revelation from God there (Gen. 31:13). Joshua had captured the city (Josh. 12:16), perhaps as part of the defeat of a i (Josh. 8:17).

1:23 Luz means “Deceit” or “Perversion,” but Jacob had changed its name to Bethel many years earlier after his encounter with God there.

1:26 land of the Hittites: archaeologists have unearthed a great hittite kingdom in a sia Minor (present-day Turkey), dating from about 1800 to 1200 b.c. however, the relationship between the hittites of Canaan and the hittites of this discovery is unclear.

1:27 Manasseh did not drive out: here begins a long record of disobedience that began when the Israelites failed to uproot the Canaanites (see Josh. 10:28–43). That failure resulted in much grief in the years following. Besides the tribe of Manasseh, Benjamin (v. 21), ephraim (v. 29), Zebulun (v. 30), a sher (v. 31), Naphtali (v. 33), and

The Pattern of Bochim

God told the Israelites to dispossess the Canaanites by taking over their cities, destroying their idols and altars, and refusing to enter into agreements with them (2:2). The people had disobeyed, so the angel of the Lord came with words of discipline (2:1).

The timing of the sermon was important. The days of Israel's conquest of Canaan were drawing to a close, yet many cities remained in the hands of, or at least were still influenced by, the Canaanites (1:27–35). Joshua's life was over (2:8), and a new generation was coming into power (2:10).

The people's spiritual failures were a serious matter, setting a dangerous precedent of idolatry that persisted from that day forward (2:3), as the Book of Judges shows. apparently the people tearfully repented of their wrongs and, in the presence of Joshua, offered a sacrifice to atone for their sins (2:5, 6). But the pattern of spiritual adultery was established.

unbelievers today are free to worship whatever “gods” they will. But God's people cannot adapt to their ways. Like Israel, believers may need to limit their neighborliness if necessary to preserve their own faith and godliness. They must allow nothing to distract them from unswerving allegiance to the Lord. otherwise they invite a host of thorny issues and a legacy of tears.

the inhabitants of <sup>i</sup>Dor and its villages, or the inhabitants of Ibleam and its villages, or the inhabitants of Megiddo and its villages; for the Canaanites were determined to dwell in that land. <sup>28</sup> And it came to pass, when Israel was strong, that they put the Canaanites <sup>7</sup>under tribute, but did not completely drive them out.

<sup>31</sup> Nor did Asher drive out the inhabitants of Acco or the inhabitants of Sidon, or of Ahlab, Achzib, Helbah, Aphik, or Rehob. <sup>32</sup> So the Asherites <sup>m</sup>dwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land; for they did not drive them out.

<sup>33</sup> Nor did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Beth Shemesh or the inhabitants of Beth Anath; but they dwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land. Nevertheless the inhabitants of Beth Shemesh and Beth Anath were put under tribute to them.

Israel's Disobedience

2 Then the Angel of the LORD came up from Gilgal to Bochim, and said: <sup>a</sup>“I led you up from Egypt and <sup>b</sup>brought you to the land of which I swore to your fathers; and <sup>c</sup>I said, ‘I will never break My covenant with you. <sup>2</sup> And <sup>d</sup>you shall make no <sup>1</sup>covenant with the inhabitants of this land; <sup>e</sup>you shall tear down their altars.’ <sup>f</sup>But you have not obeyed My voice. Why have you done this? <sup>3</sup>Therefore I also said, ‘I will not drive them out before you; but they shall be <sup>g</sup>thorns<sup>2</sup> in your side, and <sup>h</sup>their gods shall <sup>3</sup>be a <sup>i</sup>snare to you.” <sup>4</sup>So it was, when the Angel of the LORD spoke these words to all the children of Israel, that the people lifted up their voices and wept.

<sup>5</sup>Then they called the name of that place <sup>4</sup>Bochim; and they sacrificed there to the LORD. <sup>6</sup>And when <sup>j</sup>Joshua had dismissed the people, the children of Israel went each to his own inheritance to possess the land.

Death of Joshua

Dan (v. 34) also did not do as God had commanded. We then see in ch. 2—and indeed throughout the rest of the book—the effects this had on Israel’s life: The people turned to the gods of the Canaanites and abandoned the Lord. Moreover, the Canaanites were determined to dwell in that land and relied on their superior weaponry (v. 19) to intimidate the Israelites. Yet that difficulty could have been removed had the Israelites exercised their faith more completely.

1:28 They put the Canaanites under tribute means they forced their captives to work as involuntary, unpaid laborers. David, Solomon, and other kings continued this practice (2 sam. 20:24). The Israelites enslaved the Canaanites in many areas (vv. 30, 33, 35; Josh. 16:10; 17:13).

1:34 Amorites were Canaanite peoples living in the central hill country of Canaan, and they blocked Dan’s entry into this region. eventually, the Danites were forced to migrate northward (18:1; Josh. 19:47). For more on the Amorites, see Josh. 3:10.

2:1 The Angel of the LORD appears as God’s representative here, speaking authoritatively to the people about their covenant disobedience. Gilgal was the site where Israel had first encamped west of the Jordan (Josh. 4:19). Bochim was possibly near Bethel. I led you up from Egypt: see ex. 23:20–23. The reference to you is plural, indicating that the angel is addressing the entire nation.

2:2, 3 you shall make no covenant: God’s commands to make no covenants with pagan nations and to tear down their altars are found in ex. 23:32; 34:13; Deut. 12:3. Verses 1, 2 here contain a string of commands that God had given Israel under Moses, but Israel’s disobedience meant that these nations would become snares to them, just as God had warned (ex. 23:33; Num. 33:55; Josh. 23:13). an example of a pagan ritual that ensnared Israel is given in Judg. 8:27.

2:6–3:6 This section constitutes a second introduction to the book after the prologue in 1:1–2:5. It depicts the political and spiritual conflicts of the period and elaborates on the moral breakdown presented in ch. 1. The recurring pattern presented in 2:16–23 owed much to the disobedience chronicled in ch. 1; each time the nation lapsed, it found itself oppressed by enemies. The final section (3:1–6) emphasizes God’s purposes in testing Israel (2:22; 3:1, 4).

2:6–10 The author identifies the death of Joshua as a starting point for the trouble to come. This passage closely follows Josh. 24:28–30, in some places word for word, which suggests that the proper paragraph break here should be between vv. 5 and 6. Joshua’s death is mentioned in v. 8, although according to 1:1 it has already occurred. The grammatical construction in 1:1 is a common one, and it is clear that the events of ch. 1 are events that followed Joshua’s death. Most likely the reference to Joshua’s death in 1:1 is correctly placed and this subsequent passage has been inserted by the author out of sequence. It is a “flashback” that leads into the second major section of the book (2:6–3:6). Its resemblance to Josh. 24:28–30 is meant to tie the events of Joshua’s era to those of the next generation.

2:10 Another generation arose . . . who did not know the LORD: The peaceful resolution that characterized the end of the nor the work which He had done for Israel.

Israel's Unfaithfulness

and bowed down to them. They turned quickly from the way in which their fathers walked, in obeying the commandments of the LORD; they did not do so. <sup>18</sup> And when the LORD raised up judges for them, <sup>b</sup>the LORD was with the judge and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge; <sup>c</sup>for the LORD was moved to pity by their groaning because of those who oppressed them and harassed them. <sup>19</sup> And it came to pass, <sup>d</sup>when the judge was dead, that they reverted and behaved more corruptly than their fathers, by following other gods, to serve them and bow down to them. They did not cease from their own doings nor from their stubborn way.

Book of Joshua gave way to an ominous future. The meaning of did not know is that the people deliberately refused to acknowledge God's authority. It is not simply that they were ignorant, but that they were in unbelief.

2:11 The children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD is a statement also found in 3:7, 12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6; 13:1 and in 1 and 2 Kings. Israel would stray frequently from the Lord. Only God's grace and the leadership of a few godly men and women spared the nation from complete corruption. served the Baals: see 3:7.

2:13 This verse is almost identical to the second half of 3:7. the Ashotheths: a shotheth (a starte) was a female fertility goddess and a goddess of love and war, closely associated with Baal (10:6; 1 Sam. 7:4; 12:10). she is not mentioned very often in Canaanite texts, but she appears by the name of Ishtar in Mesopotamian texts. The ashotheths mentioned here were local shrines of this far-flung cult (3:7).

2:15 As the LORD had sworn refers to God's promise to deliver Israel into their enemies' hands if they forsook him (Deut. 28:25; Josh. 23:13).

2:16 The LORD raised up judges: The judges of Israel did not normally hold court, listen to complaints, or make legal decisions (except for Deborah, see 4:4, 5). Rather, they were political leaders who delivered Israel from foreign threat or oppression. Yet the message conveyed is that the Lord alone is the true Judge of his people (11:27), and he hands out blessing and punishment. six of the judges (shamgar, Tola, Jair, Ibbzan, elon, and a bdon) are known as "minor" judges because of the few details given about them in the narrative. The "major" judges—o thniel, ehud, Deborah, Gideon, Jephthah, and samson—were distinguished by their military prowess or heroic deeds. Many scholars have suggested that the major judges rescued Israel from enemies, while the minor judges worked in the court as magistrates. however, this judgment is misleading. for instance, the two minor judges shamgar (3:31) and Tola (10:1, 2) clearly were military heroes. Deborah, a major judge, was a war leader but settled disputes between the Israelites as well.

2:17 Played the harlot is a powerful and familiar metaphor used to describe Israel's unfaithfulness to God. ezeziel and hosea, in particular, would later use this comparison to describe Israel's unfaithfulness.

2:18 The hebrew verb translated moved to pity is elsewhere translated relent (1 sam. 15:29; Jon. 3:10). here, the idea is that God changed his course (that is, relented) because of his compassion for the suffering Israelites (see 10:16).

2:19 Their fathers refers to those of the preceding generation, whereas in v. 17 fathers refers to those of Joshua's day.

2:20 this nation: hebrew writers rarely used the word nation to refer to Israel. The phrase here has a contemptuous ring. usually the word was used for Israel's neighbors, while Israel itself was called the people. The choice of the impersonal word nation reflects the distance between God and his people.

2:21 I also will no longer drive out . . . any of the nations: This fulfilled a promise that God had made to the Israelites through Joshua. see vv. 15, 23.

(heb. shaphat) (2:16; 15:20; 1 sam. 7:15) strong's #8199

The hebrew word for judge means "to deliver" or "to rule." The judges of Israel had a wide range of responsibilities. Like their modern counterparts, o T judges could decide controversies and hand down verdicts (ex. 18:16). These judges were also involved in the execution of their judgment in both vindicating the righteous (Ps. 26:1) and destroying the wicked (ex. 7:3). Many judges were God's appointed military leaders who, empowered by God's spirit (6:34; 15:14), fought Israel's oppressors and thereby delivered the people. Later, Israel's king functioned as the national judge (1 sam. 8:5). ultimately, Israel's perfect Judge is God. he alone is capable of perfectly judging the wicked and delivering the righteous (Is. 11:4).

The Nations Remaining in the Land

Othniel

3:1–6 This concluding passage demonstrates that God intended to test Israel (2:22; 3:1, 4). The ultimate result of being approved after testing (2 Tim. 2:15) is the reward of his kingdom (2 Tim. 2:12; James 1:12). The stage is now set for the accounts of the judges who would deliver Israel.

3:1 that He might test Israel: This trial was a testing by fire, so to speak. The idea of testing implies difficulty and adversity; elsewhere the same word refers to God's testing of a braham (Gen. 22:1) and hezekiah (2 Chr. 32:31). here God was testing Israel to refine it.

3:3 five lords of the Philistines: see Josh. 13:3. Sidonians: sidon was a port city northwest of Israel, in what today is Lebanon. These people were part of the broader Canaanite culture and worshiped the same gods. Little is known about the Hivites. From the geographical description in this verse, it appears that they lived in northern Palestine (Josh. 9:7). Mount Lebanon was beyond the northern borders of Israel. evidently, hostile nations surrounded Israel on every side.

3:5 Canaanites: on the various peoples in this verse, see Josh. 3:10.

3:7–16:31 The main part of the Book of Judges concerns 12 people whom God appointed to deliver Israel from various crises.

3:7–11 The first judge was othniel, who delivered Israel from Cushan-Rishathaim, king of Mesopotamia. Verses 7 and 8 repeat much of the material from 2:11–14. Because of the Israelites' sin, God allowed them to slip under foreign control for eight years.

The Canaanite Gods

el was the chief god of the Canaanites. according to legend, he was the father of all gods and mortals. although he was the first of the gods, his power was relatively weak and unimpressive. asherah was el's wife, the mother of the gods and the goddess of the sea. her name appears frequently in the o T, and so do the "wooden images" (in hebrew literally "asherahs") associated with her cult. Baal was the Canaanite storm-god. he was the most powerful deity in Canaanite cosmology, probably because of his association with fertility. a shtoreth was a female fertility goddess and a goddess of love and war, closely associated with Baal. she also appears to have had some association with the stars. anath, Baal's sister and wife, was also a goddess of love and war. In the Canaanite texts about Baal, she exhibited a rather bloodthirsty personality.

3:7 the Baals and Asherahs: The plural is used for both gods because each was worshiped in different forms in the different local communities. In Num. 25:5, the Baal of Peor is mentioned. Place names such as Mount Baal hermon (3:3), Baal Gad (Josh. 11:17), Baal hazor (2 sam. 13:23), and Baal hamon (song 8:11) occur with some frequency. Baal-Berith (that is, "The Baal of the Covenant") was another Baal manifestation worshiped by the Israelites (8:33). on a shtoreth, another Canaanite goddess, see 2:13.

3:8 Cushan-Rishathaim was from much farther away than Israel's other enemies. It is remarkable that othniel, who was from Judah, a region far to the south, was chosen to lead in this campaign. Cushan-Rishathaim's name means "Cushan of Double Wickedness"; this may not have been his actual name, but instead a name pinned on him by the author of Judges for ridicule. Note that this name is found four times in two verses (vv. 8, 10), which may support the point that the author was mocking the king.

3:9 Othniel was the hero who captured the city of kirjath s epher (1:13; Josh. 15:17). he was from Judah and was Caleb's near kinsman and son-in-law. The spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he prevailed against Cushan-Rishathaim.

3:11 The land had rest for forty years is the first of several references to 40-year or 80-year periods of peace in the Book of Judges (3:30; 5:31; 8:28).

3:12–30 The second judge was ehud, who delivered Israel from

He said, “Keep silence!” And all who attended him went out from him.

through the porch and shut the doors of the upper room behind him and locked them.

Shamgar

eglon king of Moab. Verses 12–14 give us the familiar background, beginning with Israel's apostasy and the resulting conquest by eglon, lasting 18 years (v. 14 echoes v. 8). The story of eglon's death is both graphic and hair-raising, reflecting the violence and chaos of this period in Israel's history. Yet it is also a literary masterpiece, skillfully weaving details together in a compelling narrative.

3:12 Moab was a plateau southeast of the Dead sea. It was populated by nomadic herders and farmers in small agrarian settlements but had no large cities. It sat on either side of the king's highway, an important north-south trade route. The ancestor of the Moabites was the offspring of Lot's incestuous relationship with his older daughter (Gen. 19:37), so the Moabites and Israelites were distantly related. The Bible frequently mentions conflict between the two peoples, except for the Book of Ruth, the events of which occurred during a time of stable relations between Moab and Israel. The Moabites worshiped Chemosh and his consort a shtar, as well as Baal.

3:13 The City of Palms was Jericho (1:16). It is the only city on record that eglon captured, although he ruled the Israelites 18 years (v. 14). The reference to Jericho is surprising since one might assume the city had been completely destroyed by Joshua. However, the Israelites may have rebuilt the site because of its plentiful water supply and strategic location, advantages that eglon certainly would have noticed.

3:19 The Hebrew word for images is used many times to refer to idols made of wood, stone, or metal (Deut. 7:5, 25; Is. 10:10; Hos.

11:2). These images were clearly important in this passage—and prominent enough to be landmarks—since they appear again in v. 26, bracketing the account of ehud's murder of eglon. Gilgal had been the site of the Israelites' first encampment in Canaan and was an important religious center (Josh. 4:19).

3:20 upstairs in his cool private chamber: In ancient cities, the coolest place in the house was on the roof (compare the small upper room that a shunammite woman and her husband made for the prophet elisha, 2 kin. 4:10).

3:26 Seirah is mentioned only here in the Bible, and its location is unknown.

3:27 The trumpet described here is the ram's horn, which could sound only a few notes. Ram's horns were used to signal others (Josh. 6:5).

3:31 Shamgar is mentioned only here and in 5:6. This short passage does not fit the pattern usually associated with the rise of the judges. Missing is the customary prelude of apostasy and sin. Chronologically this verse may be out of place. The next chapter begins with the death of ehud, the previous judge. Moreover, shamgar delivered Israel but did not judge it, even the name shamgar is not Hebrew. Yet he was the son of Anath—clearly a Semitic name. This may mean that he was from the town of Beth-anath in Galilee; more probably, however, anath is derived from the name of the Canaanite warrior goddess. If so, then it is ironic that God used a foreign warrior to deliver Israel.

<sup>8</sup>And Barak said to her, “If you will go with me, then I will go; but if you will not go with me, I will not go!”

<sup>9</sup>So she said, “I will surely go with you; nevertheless there will be no glory

<sup>14</sup>Then Deborah said to Barak, <sup>4</sup>“Up! For this is the day in which the LORD has delivered Sisera into your hand. <sup>u</sup>Has not the LORD gone out before you?” So Barak went down from Mount Tabor with ten thousand men following him. <sup>15</sup>And the LORD routed Sisera and all his chariots and all his army with the edge of the sword before Barak; and Sisera alighted from his chariot and fled away on foot. <sup>16</sup>But Barak pursued the chariots and the army as far as Harosheth Hagoyim, and all the army of Sisera fell by the edge of the sword; not a man was <sup>v</sup>left.

4:1—5:31 The fourth judge was Deborah, whose triumphs—along with Barak’s—make up the first extended account in the Book of Judges. Unique to this episode is the poetic victory hymn (ch. 5) that follows the narration of the Israelite victory.

4:1–3 This new chapter follows the pattern of the Book of Judges by echoing the events of ch. 3. A gain the people sinned and suffered oppression, this time enduring 20 years of Canaanite rule.

4:2 Jabin king of Canaan, who reigned in Hazor: Years earlier Joshua had defeated a king of hazor named Jabin (Josh. 11:1–15). Probably Jabin was a title rather than a proper name, resembling the use of the title a bimelech among the Philistines (Gen. 20:2; 26:1) or Ben-hadad among the kings of Damascus. The name Jabin has been found in a text from Mari, an archaeological site on the Euphrates River. The system of small rival kingdoms prominent in Joshua’s day still prevailed during the period of the judges (Josh. 2:2), but Jabin was clearly more powerful than most. Hazor, having been destroyed earlier (Josh. 11:11), had now been rebuilt. The site of Sisera’s headquarters, Harosheth Hagoyim, is unknown, but the ensuing battle was played out in northern Israel around Mt. Tabor (v. 6) and the River Kishon (v. 7).

4:4–10 The campaign of the Israelite tribes began with the introduction of Deborah. This episode also demonstrated widespread cooperation between the tribes. In response to the threat in the north, Deborah, who lived in the south of Ephraim near the territory of Judah (v. 5), ordered the Israelites to send troops against Sisera. At least six tribes contributed soldiers: Naphtali, Zebulun, Ephraim, Benjamin, western Manasseh (Machir), and Issachar (v. 6; 5:14, 15).

4:4 Deborah is one of five women to be called a prophetess in the OT. The others are Miriam (ex. 15:20), Huldah (2 kin. 22:14; 2 Chr. 34:22), Isaiah’s wife (Is. 8:3), and Noadiah, a false prophetess (Neh. 6:14).

4:5 Ramah and Bethel were in the southern part of the land, near Judah. Ramah was in the territory of Benjamin (Josh. 18:25), and Bethel was near the border between Benjamin and Ephraim (Josh. 8:17; 18:13).

4:6, 7 Deborah summoned Barak from Kedesh in Naphtali, a settlement southwest of the sea of Galilee. The soldiers were to gather at Mt. Tabor, where the territories of Issachar, Naphtali, and Zebulun met (v. 6). The battle would be fought along the River Kishon, which flows northwest into the Mediterranean, south of Mt. Tabor.

4:8, 9 Barak hesitated to lead the Israelites in battle. His lack of nerve forced Deborah to go with him, and subsequently the glory for the victory would go to a woman. We naturally assume that Deborah would be this woman, but we discover later that Jael, a Kenite woman, killed the notorious Sisera (vv. 17–22). Both women were heroines in a time when Israel’s leadership was mostly bankrupt. In fact, Deborah is shown in the best light of all the judges in the book. She is called a prophetess (v. 4), and many sought out her decisions (v. 5). For this reason, she is called “a mother in Israel” (5:7). She is probably included among the “leaders” in Israel (5:2), and she instructed Barak in the strategy of the battle (4:9, 14). She also was a prominent author of the victory song (5:1) and gave her name to a place in Israel, the palm tree of Deborah (v. 5).

4:11–16 The details of the victory are now recounted. Verse 11 anticipates the narrative in vv. 17–22 by introducing Heber, Jael’s husband, who lived near Kedesh and who was distantly related to the Israelites. The emphasis in vv. 12–16 is on God’s power and his work.

4:13 The centerpiece of Sisera’s impressive army was nine hundred chariots of iron; they were swift, maneuverable weapons of war. However, the chariots seem to have become mired in the waters of the River Kishon (5:19–22).

<sup>17</sup> However, Sisera had fled away on foot to the tent of <sup>w</sup> Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite; for there was peace between Jabin king of Hazor and the house of Heber the Kenite. <sup>18</sup> And Jael went out to meet Sisera, and said to him, “Turn aside, my lord, turn aside to me; do not fear.” And when he had turned aside with her into the tent, she covered him with a <sup>5</sup> blanket.

<sup>19</sup> Then he said to her, “Please give me a little water to drink, for I am thirsty.” So she opened <sup>x</sup> a jug of milk, gave him a drink, and covered him. <sup>20</sup> And he said to her, “Stand at the door of the tent, and if any man comes and inquires of you, and says, ‘Is there any man here?’ you shall say, ‘No.’”

<sup>21</sup> Then Jael, Heber’s wife, <sup>y</sup> took a tent peg and took a hammer in her hand, and went softly to him and drove the peg into his temple, and it went down into the ground; for he was fast asleep and weary. So he died. <sup>22</sup> And then, as Barak pursued Sisera, Jael came out to meet him, and said to him, “Come, I will show you the man whom you seek.” And when he went into her tent, there lay Sisera, dead with the peg in his temple.

4:17–24 The details of sisera’s death are told in the slow, suspenseful manner that characterized the story of eglon’s death (3:12–30). The story’s conclusion is that God himself subdued Jabin.

5:1–31 This chapter contains the victory song of Deborah and Barak. The hymn praises God for his triumph over the Canaanites and bears the hallmarks of very archaic hebrew. Its vivid descriptions of the events seem as if they might have come from eyewitnesses to them, which Deborah and Barak were.

5:1 The verb sang here is in a feminine singular form, which supports the point made earlier about Deborah’s prominence over Barak (4:8, 9).

5:2–9 The introduction to the hymn is set off by calls to worship at the beginning and end—Bless the LORD! (vv. 2, 9). Verse 3 also contains a call to worship similar to that found in many psalms.

5:2 When leaders lead: The phrase literally means “the long-haired ones who let their hair hang loose.” The precise meaning of the phrase is obscure, but it may mean that loosed locks or flowing hair were signs of great strength or leadership. People willingly offer themselves tells of the glad cooperation of the Israelites. The hebrew term is related to the noun for “voluntary offerings” (Lev. 7:16; 22:23).

5:4, 5 a brief historical review now follows the calls to worship in vv. 2, 3. These verses refer to the Lord’s marching from seir and edom, which likely refers to God’s transferring his “abode” from the wilderness (Mt. sinai, v. 5) into Canaan, by way of the land of edom. This corresponds to the movement of his people from sinai (kadesh) northward into Canaan (Num. 10:12; 20:22).

5:6–8 a nother historical review now follows the first one, detailing the bleak state of affairs before the battle until Deborah arose as a deliverer (vv. 6, 7). Israel had even chosen new gods, resulting in divine judgment (v. 8; 10:14).

5:7 The phrase a mother in Israel occurs twice in the o T, here and 2 sam. 20:19. The title is given to Deborah as one of honor, respect, and prominence.

5:10–18 This section begins again with calls to worship in vv. 10–12. Verse 13 describes the battle in very general terms. Verses 14, 15, 18 praise the tribes who heeded Deborah’s call. Ten of the twelve tribes are mentioned here, five and a half favorably, because they responded to Deborah and Barak's summons. four and a half tribes are criticized because they did not join their countrymen: Reuben (vv. 15, 16), Gad and eastern Manasseh (Gilead), Dan, and a sher (v. 17). Judah and simeon are not mentioned in the song or in ch. 4. 5:10 This verse calls all classes of society to bear witness to the mighty acts of God, from the ruling classes, those riding on white donkeys, to the lowest classes, those who walk along the road. 5:14 Machir is identified here with western Manasseh, in whose territory the battle took place. elsewhere Machir is identified with eastern Manasseh (Josh. 13:30, 31). Machir was a noted warrior (Josh. 17:1). 5:17 The reference to Dan remaining on ships probably reflects the location of their original inheritance, which was along the south-central coastal plain where they would have had access to the sea (Josh. 19:40–46). Later they migrated northward, having been forced out of their territory (1:34; 18:1; Josh. 19:47). some scholars connect this tribe with the Danunians, a sea people who invaded the eastern Mediterranean shortly after 1200 B.C. however, the Bible clearly establishes the existence of the tribe of Dan many years earlier (Gen. 30:6; 49:16–18).

This hebrew word usually refers to singing which exalts God, sometimes to singing accompanied with a musical instrument (Ps. 98:5; 149:3). In the scripture, such singing is frequently addressed to the Lord and is an expression of gratitude for something he has done for the worshiper (Ps. 9:11; 105:2) or for his mercy and justice (Ps. 101:1). This word often is used as a summons for God’s people to praise him (5:3; Is. 12:5). The english word psalm is derived from the Greek translation of this hebrew word.

5:19–23 The victory proper is now described in vivid terms, and a curse is pronounced on Meroz, a site otherwise unknown (v. 23). The stars themselves were fighting against sisera (v. 20), a vivid metaphor of God's intervention. The prose account says, "and the LORD routed sisera and all his chariots and all his army with the edge of the sword before Barak" (4:15). The frantic pounding of the horses' hooves, their galloping, galloping, suggests the chaos caused by the waters of the River kishon (vv. 21, 22; see 4:7).

5:24–30 The poem now contrasts the two women who waited on sisera: Jael, who killed him (vv. 24–27), and his mother, who longed for his return (vv. 28–30). sisera's mother appears for the first time; in her futile waiting, she and her companions delude themselves as they dream up imagined glories that he was taking part in.

5:26 The poem speaks of Sisera sinking and falling at Jael's feet as she strikes his head, while the prose account tells us he was already lying down when she struck him (4:21). The poem is using graphic, emotive language, which it repeats several times to make the point. sisera's death probably was a bloodier affair than the prose account indicates.

27 At her feet he sank, he fell, he lay still;
 At her feet he sank, he fell;
 Where he sank, there he fell <sup>w</sup> dead.

28<sup>a</sup> “The mother of Sisera looked through the window,
 And cried out through the lattice,
 ‘Why is his chariot so long in coming?
 Why carries the clatter of his chariots?’

29 Her wisest <sup>8</sup> ladies answered her,
 Yes, she <sup>9</sup> answered herself,

30 ‘Are they not finding and dividing the spoil:
 To every man a girl or two;
 For Sisera, plunder of dyed garments,
 Plunder of garments embroidered and dyed,
 Two pieces of dyed embroidery for

 But let those who love Him be <sup>y</sup> like caves, and the strongholds which are in had sown, Midianites would come up; also Amalekites and the <sup>d</sup> people of the East would come up against them.

<sup>4</sup> Then they would encamp against them and <sup>e</sup> destroy the produce of the earth as far as Gaza, and leave no sustenance for Israel, neither sheep nor ox nor <sup>f</sup> donkey.
<sup>5</sup> For they would come up with their livestock and their tents, coming in as numerous as locusts; both they and their camels were <sup>1</sup> without number; and they would enter the land to destroy it. <sup>6</sup> So Israel was greatly impoverished because of the Midianites, and the children of Israel
<sup>g</sup> cried out to the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> And it came to pass, when the children of Israel cried out to the LORD because of the Midianites, <sup>8</sup> that the LORD sent a prophet to the children of Israel, who said to them, “Thus says the LORD of the hand of the Egyptians and out of

 But you have not obeyed My <sup>k</sup> voice.’”

Gideon

<sup>11</sup> Now the Angel of the LORD came and sat under the terebinth tree which was in Ophrah, which belonged to Joash

5:28–30 The point of this pathetic story of sisera’s mother is not to elicit sympathy for her, but rather to remind us of Jael’s stunning accomplishment. sisera’s mother expected her son to shower his people with great plunder; instead, sisera lay dead at Jael’s feet. Three times in the OT we read of women who looked through the window: sisera’s mother, saul’s daughter Michal (2 sam. 6:16), and Jezebel (2 kin. 9:30). all three opposed God’s will and suffered accordingly.

5:31 The hymn concludes with praise to the Lord, as many psalms do. The prose account resumes with another period of 40 years of rest (3:11).

6:1–8, 32 The fifth judge was Gideon, who twice fought the Midianites, first under God’s instructions and later on his own initiative. Gideon’s story is the second major account in the Book of Judges. In this narrative—along with the subsequent tragedy of a bimelech that follows in ch. 9—we can see, in ways not evident previously, the continuing deterioration of Israel’s spiritual state. first, God now rebuked Israel when it called upon him (6:7–10). second, the judge himself contributed to the spiritual decline (8:24–27). Third, Israel’s tribes fought among themselves for the first time (8:16, 17; 9:23–54), prior to an even worse dissension later (12:1–6; 20:1–48). Despite God’s continued intervention and Gideon’s flashes of righteousness, Israel eroded spiritually and politically.

6:1 Midian was located in the arabian peninsula, southeast of Israel and east of the sinai peninsula. The Midianites were descendants of a braham through his wife keturah (Gen. 25:1, 2), so they were distantly related to the Israelites. Midianites bought Joseph from his brothers (Gen. 37:25–36), welcomed Moses in the wilderness (ex. 2:15–21), and hired Balaam to curse Israel (Num. 22:7). Generally speaking, Israel counted Midian among its foes. In this account, the Midianites were menacing Israel, burning, looting, and leaving many near starvation (6:4, 5).

6:2 the dens, the caves: Caves were not used for permanent dwellings in OT times. That the Israelites were forced to abandon their homes and live in caves indicates the desperate straits they were in.

6:3 The Amalekites were a nomadic people who lived in the sinai desert and the Negev, the desert south of Israel. They were descendants of esau (Gen. 36:12) and here joined the Midianites against Israel. People of the East were unspecified nomads who also plundered Israel. These easterners are also mentioned in several prophetic contexts (Is. 11:14; Jer. 49:28; ezek. 25:4).

6:5 as numerous as locusts: Locust plagues were—and still are—a fairly common occurrence in the Middle east. In the prophet Joel’s day, such an attack would be prophesied as a punishment upon the land (Joel 1:4, 15–17; 2:1–11).

6:8 the LORD sent a prophet: Rather than sending a deliverer, God sent a prophet to condemn his people. This prophet reminded the Israelites of God’s faithfulness, and how the people had nevertheless rejected him (vv. 8–10).

6:11–40 Gideon’s call is the centerpiece of ch. 6. It begins with the appearance of the angel of the Lord to Gideon (vv. 11–24), followed by an account of Gideon’s destruction of an altar of Baal (vv. 25–35), after which we see Gideon’s wavering faith (vv. 36–40). Through it all, Gideon was ambivalent about being called to deliver Israel, much as Moses had been years earlier.

6:11 The Palestinian terebinth tree is a large tree with a thick trunk and heavy branches, sometimes confused with the oak. It can grow

<sup>13</sup>Gideon said to Him, “O <sup>3</sup>my lord, if the LORD is with us, why then has all this happened to us? And <sup>p</sup>where are all His miracles <sup>q</sup>which our fathers told us about, saying, ‘Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt?’ But now the LORD has <sup>r</sup>forsaken us and delivered us into the hands of the Midianites.”

<sup>17</sup>Then he said to Him, “If now I have found favor in Your sight, then <sup>w</sup>show me a sign that it is You who talk with me. <sup>18x</sup>Do not depart from here, I pray, until I come to You and bring out my offering and set it before You.”

And He said, “I will wait until you come back.”

<sup>19y</sup>So Gideon went in and prepared a young goat, and unleavened bread from an ephah of flour. The meat he put in a basket, and he put the broth in a pot; and he brought them out to Him under the terebinth tree and presented them. <sup>20</sup>The Angel of God said to him, “Take the meat and the unleavened bread and <sup>z</sup>lay them on this rock, and <sup>a</sup>pour out the broth.” And he did so.

<sup>21</sup>Then the Angel of the LORD put out the end of the staff that was in His hand, and touched the meat and the unleavened bread; and <sup>b</sup>fire rose out of the rock and consumed the meat and the unleavened bread. And the Angel of the LORD departed out of his sight.

<sup>25</sup>Now it came to pass the same night that the LORD said to him, “Take your father’s young bull, the second bull of seven years old, and <sup>g</sup>tear down the altar of <sup>h</sup>Baal that your father has, and <sup>i</sup>cut down the <sup>7</sup>wooden image that is beside as high as 25 feet. The terebinth figures in the stories of a braham, who pitched his tent near the terebinth trees of Mamre (Gen. 13:18; 18:1), and of Jacob, who hid a treasure beneath a terebinth tree (Gen. 35:4). The exact location of Ophrah is unknown, but it was a city somewhere in the territory of Manasseh. It is not the same as the Benjaminite city of the same name (Josh. 18:23; 1 sam. 13:17). Abiezrite: see v. 24. a winepress was a square or circular pit carved into rock in which grapes were crushed (Is. 16:10; Jer. 48:33). Wheat was usually separated on open threshing floors so the wind could carry away the chaff in the winnowing process (2 sam. 24:18). The fact that Gideon was forced to thresh wheat hidden inside a winepress—despite the fact that he had access to a threshing floor (v. 37)—shows again the desperate state the Israelites were in.

6:13 My lord was a polite form of address, but the LORD is the personal name of God (Yahweh), the full meaning of which was revealed to Moses at Mt. Sinai (ex. 3:13-16). The Hebrew word for miracles means “wonderful things,” and it is translated elsewhere as wonders (ex. 3:20; Josh. 3:5).

6:15 I am the least in my father’s house: Gideon’s objection is reminiscent of the words spoken by Moses (ex. 3:11) and Jeremiah (Jer. 1:6).

6:16 I will be with you was God’s great promise of his presence that he had given to Moses and Joshua previously (ex. 3:12; Josh. 1:5, 9). This should have greatly encouraged Gideon, but he still expressed doubts (vv. 17, 36-40). Often we are quick to judge those who doubt God even when they have firsthand evidence of his mighty works. But we all fail to trust God fully at times. God accomplished his will despite Gideon’s weakness, and he can do the same through us.

6:17 Gideon’s faith needed such bolstering that he asked God for a sign. Here as elsewhere, Gideon was slow to respond to God (vv. 39, 40).

6:19 An ephah of flour was two-thirds of a bushel, or about 20 pounds of flour.

6:22 Gideon perceived: When the Angel of the Lord vanished, then Gideon realized who it was and feared for his life. This reaction of fear appears to have been rooted in the knowledge that anyone who gazed upon God would die. In ex. 33:20, God, speaking to Moses, says, “You cannot see My face; for no man shall see Me, and live.” The context of ex. 33:18-23 suggests that it was the fullness of God’s glory that Moses could not see, since Moses did speak with God and know him “face to face” (ex. 33:11; Num. 12:8; Deut. 34:10), and he even beheld the form of God himself (Num. 12:8). Yet Gideon’s fear was a proper response for those who found themselves in the presence of God’s Angel. This was also Manoah’s reaction when the Angel visited him (13:21, 22).

6:24 To this day: This expression, especially common in the Books of Joshua and Judges (1:21, 26; 15:19; Josh. 4:9; 5:9; 6:25; 7:26), lends authenticity to the account. It is the author’s way of declaring to later generations that they could verify the story by going and seeing this altar themselves. Abiezrites were descendants of Joseph through his son Manasseh. They were part of the tribe of Manasseh that settled west of the Jordan River (Num. 26:30 [Jeezer]; Josh. 17:1, 2).

6:25-35 Gideon’s first test was to topple the local shrines to Baal and Asherah, replacing them with an altar to the Lord. Gideon obeyed, but his fearfulness caused him to do this by night (v. 27). His forthcoming military tests are foreshadowed in the text (vv. 33-35). The battle he would lead would take place in the central highlands of northern Israel (Ophrah, Gideon’s hometown, was in the Jezreel Valley, southwest of the sea of Galilee).

6:25 The Hebrew word for wooden image here is a sherah, the name of the Canaanite goddess. Sacred wooden poles were erected at places where she was worshipped. The widespread worship of this goddess is attested to in 3:7 and elsewhere (1 kin. 15:13; 18:19). The second bull is not a second animal, but a phrase by which the Lord was specifying more clearly to Gideon which bull should it; <sup>26</sup>and build an altar to the LORD your God on top of this <sup>8</sup>rock in the proper arrangement, and take the second bull and offer a burnt sacrifice with the wood of the image which you shall cut down.” <sup>27</sup>So Gideon took ten men from among his servants and did as the LORD had said to him. But because he feared his father’s household and the men of the city too much to do it by day, he did it by night.

Gideon Destroys the Altar of Baal

<sup>28</sup>And when the men of the city arose early in the morning, there was the altar of Baal, torn down; and the wooden image that was beside it was cut down, and the second bull was being offered on the altar which had been built. <sup>29</sup>So they said to one another, “Who has done this thing?” And when they had inquired and asked, they said, “Gideon the son of Joash has done this thing.” <sup>30</sup>Then the men of the city said to Joash, “Bring out your son, that he may die, because he has torn down the altar of Baal, and because he has cut down the wooden image that was beside it.”

encamped in <sup>l</sup>the Valley of Jezreel. <sup>34</sup>But <sup>m</sup>the Spirit of the LORD came upon Gideon; then he <sup>n</sup>blew the trumpet, and the Abiezrites gathered behind him. <sup>35</sup>And he sent messengers throughout all Manasseh, who also gathered behind him. He also sent messengers to <sup>o</sup>Asher, <sup>p</sup>Zebulun, and Naphtali; and they came up to meet them.

The Sign of the Fleece

<sup>36</sup>So Gideon said to God, “If You will save Israel by my hand as You have said— <sup>37</sup><sup>q</sup>look, I shall put a fleece of wool on the threshing floor; if there is dew on the fleece only, and it is dry on all the ground, then I shall know that You will save Israel by my hand, as You have said.” <sup>38</sup>And it was so. When he rose early the next morning and squeezed the fleece together, he wrung the dew out of the fleece, a bowlful of water. <sup>39</sup>Then Gideon said to God, <sup>r</sup>“Do not be angry with me, but let me speak just once more: Let me test, I pray, just once more with the fleece; let it now be dry only on the fleece, but on all the ground let there be dew.” <sup>40</sup>And God did so that night. It was dry on the fleece only, but there was dew on all the ground.

Gideon’s Valiant Three Hundred

7 Then <sup>a</sup>Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) and all the people who were with him rose early and encamped beside the well of Harod, so that the camp of the Midianites was on the north side of them by the hill of Moreh in the valley.

<sup>2</sup>And the LORD said to Gideon, “The people who are with you are too many be sacrificed. The need to specify the bull underscores Gideon’s continued reluctance (v. 17).

6:26 The wood of the image means literally “the wood of the a sherah” (vv. 28, 30). The proper sacrifice that Gideon was to offer would be burnt with the wood of the destroyed idol.

6:28 The phrase early in the morning occurs at 6:28, 38; 7:1; 9:33; 19:5, 8, 9; 21:4.

6:31 Would you plead for Baal: Joash’s questions are rhetorical. he refused to put his son to death, arguing that Baal should be able to take care of himself if he were indeed a god. o ther examples of rhetorical questions are found at 9:2, 28; 11:25; 18:3; 20:28.

6:32 Gideon’s father called him Jerubbaal to deride those who would put their trust in Baal. The name means “Let Baal Plead,” and it echoes the question of v. 31. Thus Gideon became a living reminder of Baal’s impotence.

6:35 Gideon sent messengers through the territories of four northern tribes adjacent to each other: Manasseh, a sher, Zebulun, and Naphtali.

6:36–40 Before the fight itself, Gideon asked for signs to “test” God’s guidance once more.

6:39 Let me test: The word translated test is the same one used when God tested Israel (2:22; 3:1). Gideon’s desire to test God’s sign could have been a violation of the law which prohibited people from testing God (Deut. 6:16; the hebrew word translated tempt is the same word translated test here). Gideon himself was aware that he was doing something unwise, if not sinful, since he asked God not to be angry with him.

6:40 Despite Gideon’s lack of faith, God did so that night. That is, he accommodated both of his requests. Many people have relied on Gideon’s example as a way of seeking guidance from the Lord, “putting out a fleece” in some way. o ccasionally God has chosen to answer such requests, even as he did for Gideon. Nevertheless, Gideon already knew God’s will for his life (vv. 14–16, 36). his requests only made evident his weak faith. Isaiah modeled a proper response to God’s clearly revealed will: he said “h ere am I! send me” (Is. 6:8). so too did the disciples, who dropped their nets immediately and followed Jesus (Mark 1:18–20).

7:1–8:3 God figures prominently in Gideon’s victory over the Midianites, especially in the amazing story of the 300 men who would subdue their numerically superior foes. The reassurances from God that Gideon had received before the encounter were now reinforced by a dream (7:9–15). The battle itself did not involve any significant combat, for God himself provided the victory (7:16–25). The Israelites blew horns, broke jars, and shouted, causing the enemy to kill each other in their confusion. The survivors fled across the Jordan with the Israelites in pursuit.

7:2 lest Israel claim glory for itself: Right from the beginning, God made it clear that the glory for this victory was to be his. This for Me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel <sup>b</sup>claim glory for itself against Me, saying, ‘My own hand has saved me.’ <sup>3</sup>Now therefore, proclaim in the hearing of the people, saying, ‘Whoever is fearful and afraid, let him turn and depart at once from Mount Gilead.’” And twenty-two thousand of the people returned, and ten thousand remained.

people are still too many; bring them down to the water, and I will test them for you there. Then it will be, that of whom I say to you, ‘This one shall go with you,’ the same shall go with you; and of whomever I say to you, ‘This one shall not go with you,’ the same shall not go.” <sup>5</sup>So he brought the people down to the water. And the LORD said to Gideon, “Everyone who laps from the water makes even more incredible the Israelites’ request that Gideon rule over them because he had “delivered us from the hand of Midian” (8:22, 23).

7:3 When Gideon allowed those who were fearful to leave, more than two-thirds departed, leaving only ten thousand. Mosaic law allowed military exemptions for several classes of people, including those who had just built a home, those who had just planted a vineyard, those engaged to be married, and those who were fearful (Deut. 20:5–8).

7:4, 5 Gideon thinned his army even more by employing a strange distinction, namely, how his men drank water from a brook. Some commentators have suggested that the men who did not get down on their knees were maintaining a higher degree of military readiness by drinking out of their hands. However, they may be reading too much into the account, for the text does not indicate any reason for Gideon’s preference. The reference to the way a dog laps might even be derogatory since dogs were despised creatures in the ancient world (1 Sam. 17:43; 2 Kin. 8:13; Matt. 7:6). If so, God’s role in the victory becomes even more apparent, since the three hundred who were left were the ones who did not even have the common sense to drink in a normal fashion. God’s comment in v. 7 seems to reinforce this suggestion.

Determining God’s Will

Christians believe that they should carefully obey God’s will. But how can we know what his will is? How should we go about making decisions that honor the Lord?

The example of Gideon is frequently cited as a model for godly decision-making. Before acting, Gideon carefully considered whether the Lord wanted him to rally an army and attack the Midianites. Twice he set out a fleece (a clump of wool) to make sure of God’s intentions (6:36–40). On this basis, some have argued that before Christians make major decisions with long-range consequences, they should “put out a fleece before the Lord,” seeking some tangible sign that indicates his will with certainty.

Is that an appropriate way to know God’s will? In considering the question, it is important to note that this is the only occasion in the Bible when God revealed his will through a fleece. It is also worth noting Gideon’s extreme hesitation, doubt, and fear. The Lord had already told him what to do through the angel of the Lord (6:11–16). In fact, the angel had already given Gideon a confirming sign (6:17–22).

In light of these facts, Gideon’s use of the fleece would appear to demonstrate a lack of faith more than any zeal to be certain of God’s will. Fortunately, God was very patient with him and granted his request for a confirming sign. But it seems that using a fleece to determine God’s will was the exception rather than the rule, and thus does not serve as the best pattern for how we can depend on God for guidance.

Is there a more reliable way? Yes, God has clearly and objectively told us what he wants throughout the Bible. For example, the Ten Commandments give straightforward instructions to guide our behavior in numerous areas of life. Likewise, one of the New Testament letters to the Thessalonians says plainly, “This is the will of God” (1 Thess. 4:3). The passage then goes on to outline some of God’s will in regard to sexuality.

Thus when it comes to making choices in life, God calls us to clear thinking—thinking that is based on our relationship with him and our allegiance to his values, which are clearly spelled out in scripture. God has made us to be thinking, discerning, analytical persons who assume responsibility for working our way through life in accordance with his general plans and purposes. He challenges us to learn all that we can about any situation, relationship, responsibility, or opportunity that we have, weigh it in light of his precepts and principles, and then act. As we act, we can take comfort from the fact that he is at work within us, “both to will and to do for his good pleasure” (Phil. 2:13).

with his tongue, as a dog laps, you shall set apart by himself; likewise everyone who gets down on his knees to drink.”<sup>6</sup> And the number of those who lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, was three hundred men; but all the rest of the people got down on their knees to drink water.<sup>7</sup> Then the LORD said to Gideon,<sup>d</sup> “By the three hundred men who lapped I will save you, and deliver the Midianites into your hand. Let all the other people go, every man to his <sup>1</sup>place.”<sup>8</sup> So the people took provisions and their trumpets in their hands. And he sent away all the rest of Israel, every man to his tent, and retained those three hundred men. Now the camp of Midian was below him in the valley.

into your hand.<sup>10</sup> But if you are afraid to go down, go down to the camp with Purah your servant,<sup>11</sup> and you shall <sup>f</sup>hear what they say; and afterward <sup>2</sup>your hands shall be strengthened to go down against the camp.” Then he went down with Purah his servant to the outpost of the armed men who were in the camp.<sup>12</sup> Now the Midianites and Amalekites, <sup>g</sup>all the people of the East, were lying in the valley <sup>h</sup>as numerous as locusts; and their camels were <sup>3</sup>without number, as the sand by the seashore in multitude.

<sup>13</sup>And when Gideon had come, there was a man telling a dream to his companion. He said, “I have had a dream: To my surprise, a loaf of barley bread tumbled into the camp of Midian; it came to a tent and struck it so that it fell and overturned, and the tent collapsed.”

7:10 Ironically, Gideon himself was afraid, but he had not been dismissed to go home as had the other men (v. 3).

7:12 This verse notes again the strength of Israel’s enemies, including their intimidating numbers and their innumerable camels (6:3–5).

7:13 Tumbled in this context literally means “overturned.” The word is also used in Genesis to describe the sword “which turned every way” at the entrance to the Garden of eden (Gen. 3:24) and the destruction of sodom and Gomorrah (Gen. 19:25, 29), here, the loaf “overturned” the Midianite camp.

7:14, 15 The sword of Gideon is the key to the interpretation of the dream. Coming from the mouth of one of Israel’s enemies, it provided the confirmation that Gideon needed, in light of his earlier fear (v. 10), as a result, he worshiped God for being so patient with his wavering faith (v. 15).

Gideon’s Battles

The story of Gideon begins with a graphic portrayal of one of the most striking facts of life in the fertile Crescent: the periodic migration of nomadic peoples into the settled areas of Canaan. Each spring the tents of the bedouin herdsmen appeared virtually overnight, scattered on the hills and fields of the farming districts. Conflict between these two ways of life (herdsmen and farmers) was inevitable.

1 In the biblical period, the vast numbers and warlike practice of the herdsmen reduced the village people to near vassalage. God’s answer was twofold: (1) religious reform, starting with Gideon’s own family; and (2) military action, based on a coalition of northern Israelite tribes. The location of Gideon’s hometown, “ophrah of the abiezrites” (6:24), is not known with certainty, but it probably was ancient a per (modern a fula) in the Valley of Jezreel.

2 The battle at the well of harod is justly celebrated for its strategic brilliance. Denied the use of the only local water source, the Midianites camped in the valley and fell victim to the small band of Israelites that attacked them from the heights of the hill of Moreh.

3 The main battle took place north of the hill near the village of en Dor at the foot of Mount Tabor. <sup>f</sup>fleeing by way of the Jordan valley, the Midianites were trapped when the ephraimites seized the fords of the Jordan from below Beth shean to Beth Barah near a dam.

said, “This is nothing else but the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, a man of Israel! Into his hand <sup>i</sup>God has delivered Midian and the whole camp.”

<sup>15</sup>And so it was, when Gideon heard the telling of the dream and its interpretation, that he worshiped. He returned to the camp of Israel, and said, “Arise, for the LORD has delivered the camp of Midian into your hand.” <sup>16</sup>Then he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put a trumpet into every man’s hand, with empty pitchers, and torches inside the pitchers. <sup>17</sup>And he said to them, “Look at me and do likewise; watch, and when I come to the edge of the camp you shall do as I do: <sup>18</sup>When I blow the trumpet, I and all who are with me, then you also blow the trumpets on every side of the whole camp, and say, ‘The sword of the LORD and of Gideon!’”

<sup>19</sup>So Gideon and the hundred men who were with him came to the outpost of the camp at the beginning of the middle watch, just as they had posted the watch; and they blew the trumpets and broke the pitchers that were in their hands. <sup>20</sup>Then the three companies blew the trumpets and broke the pitchers—they held the torches in their left hands and the trumpets in their right hands for blowing—and they cried, “The sword of the LORD and of Gideon!” <sup>21</sup>And <sup>j</sup>every man stood in his place all around the camp; <sup>k</sup>and the whole army ran and cried out and fled. <sup>22</sup>When the three hundred <sup>l</sup>blew the trumpets, <sup>m</sup>the LORD set <sup>n</sup>every man’s sword against his companion throughout the whole camp; and the army fled to <sup>4</sup>Beth Acacia, toward Zererah, as far as the border of <sup>o</sup>Abel Meholah, by Tabbath.

They killed Oreb at the rock of Oreb, and Zeeb they killed at the winepress of Zeeb. They pursued Midian and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon on the <sup>v</sup>other side of the Jordan.

Gideon Subdues the Midianites

8 Now <sup>a</sup>the men of Ephraim said to him, “Why have you done this to us by not calling us when you went to fight with the Midianites?” And they reprimanded him sharply.

<sup>7</sup>So Gideon said, “For this cause, when the LORD has delivered Zebah and Zalmunna into my hand, <sup>j</sup>then I will tear your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briars!” <sup>8</sup>Then he went up from there <sup>k</sup>to Penuel and spoke to them in the same way. And the men of Penuel

7:16 The ram’s-horn trumpet was used as a signal call. see 3:27 and Josh. 6:5.

7:19 middle watch: according to Jewish tradition the nighttime hours were divided into three watches, which would put the time of this attack at roughly 10:00 P.M.

7:20 The sword of the LORD and of Gideon: here the full version of the war cry is given. a more literal rendering of the hebrew is “a sword for the LORD and for Gideon!”

7:23 The same tribes mentioned in 6:35 now pursued the Midianites, with the exception of Zebulun, which is not mentioned. ephraim also joined in the pursuit (v. 24).

7:24, 25 The watering places probably refer to small tributaries that flowed into the Jordan River. seizing them would seal off the enemy’s escape routes. The other side of the Jordan is the east side of the Jordan, where the Israelites caught the enemy (Josh. 13:32; 18:7).

8:1–3 The men of ephraim complained to Gideon that they had been called out late (v. 1). Gideon’s flattering response had a calming effect on these men.

8:4–28 Gideon followed up the victory with a second military campaign, one which contrasts dramatically with the first. he pursued the two Midianite kings until he caught and killed them, and he punished the towns of succoth and Penuel. In this account, there is no indication of God’s involvement as there had been previously; rather, Gideon is merely settling a private score (vv. 18, 19).

8:5 Succoth was east of the Jordan, near the Jabbok River. Zebah and Zalmunna are unflattering names meaning “Victim” and “Protection Refused.” They may be wordplays on the real names of these kings, much like the name Cushan-Rishathaim (3:8). Yet the author may have had more sympathy for these two kings than for Cushan-Rishathaim, since Gideon is cast in a poor light in this chapter.

answered him as the men of Succoth had answered. <sup>9</sup>So he also spoke to the men of Penuel, saying, “When I <sup>l</sup>come back in peace, <sup>m</sup>I will tear down this tower!”

<sup>13</sup>Then Gideon the son of Joash returned from battle, from the Ascent of Heres. <sup>14</sup>And he caught a young man of the men of Succoth and interrogated him; and he wrote down for him the leaders of Succoth and its elders, seventy-seven men. <sup>15</sup>Then he came to the men of Succoth and said, “Here are Zebah and Zalmunna, about whom you <sup>t</sup>ridiculed me, saying, ‘Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in your hand, that we should give bread to your weary men?’” <sup>16</sup>And he took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderness and briers, and with them he <sup>u</sup>taught the men of Succoth. <sup>17</sup>And he tore down the tower of <sup>v</sup>Penuel and killed the men of the city.

So they answered, “As you are, so were they; each one resembled the son of a king.”

<sup>19</sup>Then he said, “They were my brothers, the sons of my mother. As the LORD lives, if you had let them live, I would not kill you.” <sup>20</sup>And he said to Jether his firstborn, “Rise, kill them!” But the youth would not draw his sword; for he was afraid, because he was still a youth.

<sup>21</sup>So Zebah and Zalmunna said, “Rise yourself, and kill us; for as a man is, so is his strength.” So Gideon arose and <sup>x</sup>killed Zebah and Zalmunna, and took the crescent ornaments that were on their camels’ necks.

Gideon’s Ephod

<sup>22</sup>Then the men of Israel said to Gideon, <sup>y</sup>“Rule over us, both you and your son, and your grandson also; for you have <sup>z</sup>delivered us from the hand of Midian.”

<sup>23</sup>But Gideon said to them, “I will not rule over you, nor shall my son rule over you; <sup>a</sup>the LORD shall rule over you.”

<sup>24</sup>Then Gideon said to them, “I would like to <sup>b</sup>make a request of you, that each of you would give me the earrings from his plunder.” For they had golden earrings, <sup>b</sup>because they were Ishmaelites.

<sup>25</sup>So they answered, “We will gladly give them.” And they spread out a garment, and each man threw into it the earrings from his plunder. <sup>26</sup>Now the weight of the gold earrings that he requested was one thousand seven hundred shekels of gold, besides the crescent ornaments,

8:11, 12 Gideon’s aggression contrasts sharply with the caution and fear so evident in ch. 6.

8:14 he wrote down for him the leaders: Literacy in early civilizations was at first limited to an educated elite, as in Mesopotamia and Egypt. Their writing systems were complex and only a tiny portion of the population could read and write. However, the spread of alphabetic systems vastly simplified the task of reading and writing. Hundreds of potsherds from throughout Palestine have simple inscriptions on them, indicating that some degree of literacy had become widely accessible by Gideon’s day, even a youth whom Gideon happened upon wrote down for Gideon the names of 77 men.

8:18 The killings to which Gideon refers do not appear anywhere else in the text. The answer from the two kings was flattering:

As you are, so were they; they compared Gideon to the son of a king. Gideon, despite his refusal of a kingship, was not immune to the vanity that royalty encouraged. By naming one of his sons a bimelech, which means “My father is king” (v. 31), he may have succumbed to the temptation of exalting himself as a king over Israel.

8:21 As a man is, so is his strength was a challenge to Gideon’s manhood, and Gideon responded by killing the two kings himself.

Crescent ornaments have been found at many sites in Palestine, but they are mentioned again only one other time in the Bible (Is. 3:18).

8:22 Immediately following his execution of the two kings, Gideon’s men asked him to rule over them. This request, while understandable from a human perspective (v. 18), failed to acknowledge that it was God, not Gideon, who had delivered his people.

8:23 Gideon’s answer was theologically correct: the LORD shall rule over you. The word order of the Hebrew makes it clear that God’s claim was exclusive; it might be paraphrased, “It is the LORD, and no one else, who shall rule over you.” This statement is widely assumed to indicate that God intended that Israel should never have a king, but that he would be their only king. However, God had promised a brahm and his descendants that they would count kings among their descendants (Gen. 17:6, 16; 35:11; 49:10). When the people of Israel asked Gideon to rule because of his military success, Gideon could only refuse, since their motivation was flawed and shortsighted.

8:24–27 Despite Gideon’s theologically correct answer in v. 23, these verses show that he was not careful to lead Israel in true worship of the LORD. By making the ephod, he encouraged idolatry. The total weight of the offerings brought for making the ephod—one thousand seven hundred shekels—was impressive, a summing the unit of weight here to be the shekel (it is not specified in the Hebrew text), the total weight was more than 42 pounds of gold (a shekel was about two-fifths of an ounce). The original ephod was an ornate ceremonial garment worn by the high priest (ex. 28; 39). Some scholars believe that the ephod made by Gideon resembled an idol, but there is no clear indication here that this was the case. By placing the ephod in his own city, Gideon might have been “playing” at being judge. Perhaps tellingly, nowhere are we told that he “judged” Israel, whereas we read this of several of the other judges. After Gideon another man also made an ephod, with equally dismal results (17:5). It became a snare recalls the narrator’s introductory comment in 2:3.

pendants, and purple robes which were on the kings of Midian, and besides the chains that were around their camels' necks. <sup>27</sup>Then Gideon *c*made it into an ephod and set it up in his city, <sup>d</sup>Ophrah. And all Israel *e*played the harlot with it there. It became *f*a snare to Gideon and to his house.

<sup>28</sup>Thus Midian was subdued before the children of Israel, so that they lifted their heads no more. <sup>g</sup>And the country was quiet for forty years in the days of Gideon.

Death of Gideon

Abimelech's Conspiracy

9 Then Abimelech the son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem, to <sup>a</sup>his mother's brothers, and spoke with them and with all the family of the house of his mother's father, saying, <sup>2</sup>“Please speak in the hearing of all the men of Shechem: ‘Which is better for you, that all <sup>b</sup>seventy of the sons of Jerubbaal reign over you, or that

<sup>3</sup>And his mother's brothers spoke all these words concerning him in the hearing of all the men of Shechem; and their heart was inclined to follow Abimelech, for they said, “He is our <sup>d</sup>brother.” <sup>4</sup>So they gave him seventy shekels of silver from the temple of *e*Baal-Berith, with which Abimelech hired <sup>f</sup>worthless and reckless men; and they followed him. <sup>5</sup>Then he went to his father's house <sup>g</sup>at Ophrah and <sup>h</sup>killed his brothers, the seventy sons of Jerubbaal, on one stone. But Jotham the youngest son of Jerubbaal was left, because he hid himself. <sup>6</sup>And all the men of Shechem gathered together, all of Beth Millo, and they went and made Abimelech king beside the terebinth tree at the pillar that was in Shechem.

The Parable of the Trees

<sup>7</sup>Now when they told Jotham, he went and stood on top of <sup>i</sup>Mount Gerizim, and lifted his voice and cried out. And he said to them:

“Listen to me, you men of Shechem,
 That God may listen to you!

<sup>8</sup> “The <sup>j</sup>trees once went forth to anoint a king over them.

And they said to the olive tree,

<sup>9</sup> But the olive tree said to them,
 ‘Should I cease giving my oil,
<sup>l</sup>With which they honor God and men,
 And go to sway over trees?’

<sup>10</sup> “Then the trees said to the fig tree,
 ‘You come and reign over us!’

<sup>11</sup> But the fig tree said to them,
 ‘Should I cease my sweetness and my good fruit,
 And go to sway over trees?’

8:29–32 This transitional section tells of Gideon's death, but also introduces Gideon's fateful legacy: his son a bimelech, whose violent story is told in ch. 9.

8:31 Although Gideon had 70 sons (v. 30), only Abimelech is mentioned by name. The name means “My father is king.” Some scholars argue that Gideon did, in fact, become king, at least in practice if not in name, for he gave his son a royal name and acted as the people's leader (vv. 24–27).

8:33 Baal-Berith means “Baal of the Covenant,” an ironic contrast to the covenant God of Israel whom the Israelites should have been worshiping. This god is also called “el-Berith” (9:46).

9:1–57 a bimelech's violent grab for power is the theme of ch. 9. The seeds of his offense were sown in Israel's persistent infidelity to God, which led to another rejection of the Lord (8:22, 24–27, 33–35).

9:1–6 a bimelech killed his own brothers to strengthen his royal claims. he began by traveling to shechem, where ironically, Israel had reaffirmed the covenant years earlier (Josh. 24). he earned the trust of the shechemites (v. 2) and hired men to kill all his brothers but one. a bimelech was then made king at shechem (v. 6).

9:4 The temple of Baal-Berith was a pagan sanctuary, a vivid sign of Israel's continuing apostasy (8:33). worthless and reckless men: a bimelech's character can certainly be judged by the company that he kept. The same can be said of Jephthah (11:3).

9:6 sadly, the coronation took place at the terebinth tree where Jacob had put away his foreign gods many years before (Gen. 35:4). here too, Joshua had commemorated his covenant with God (Josh. 24:26).

9:7–21 Jotham, the only brother of a bimelech who escaped, condemned a bimelech's treachery publicly by telling a fable—a story in which creatures take on human characteristics. In this fable, the noble trees of the forest reject a call to kingship, which is finally conferred on the lowly bramble bush (vv. 8–15). The fable indicts the shechemites for choosing the ignoble a bimelech as king. The story is not an indictment of kings in general (8:23).

12<sup>a</sup> Then the trees said to the vine,
 ‘You come and reign over us!’
 13 But the vine said to them,
 ‘Should I cease my new wine,
<sup>m</sup>Which cheers both God and men,
 And go to sway over trees?’
 14<sup>a</sup> Then all the trees said to the bramble,
 ‘You come and reign over us!’
 15 And the bramble said to the trees,
 ‘If in truth you anoint me as king
 over you,
 Then come and take shelter in my <sup>n</sup>shade;
 But if not, <sup>o</sup>let fire come out of the
 And devour the <sup>p</sup>cedars of Lebanon!’

16 “Now therefore, if you have acted in truth and sincerity in making Abimelech king, and if you have dealt well with Jerubbaal and his house, and have done to him <sup>q</sup>as <sup>l</sup> he deserves— <sup>17</sup>for my <sup>r</sup>father fought for you, risked his life, and <sup>s</sup>delivered you out of the hand of Midian; <sup>18</sup>but you have risen up against my father’s house this day, and killed his seventy sons on one stone, and made Abimelech, the son of his <sup>u</sup>female servant, king over the men of Shechem, because he is your brother— <sup>19</sup>if then you have acted in truth and sincerity with Jerubbaal and with his house this day, then <sup>v</sup>rejoice in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice in you. <sup>20</sup>But if not, <sup>w</sup>let fire come from Abimelech and devour the men of Shechem and Beth Millo; and let fire come from the men of Shechem and from Beth Millo and devour Abimelech!”
 21 And Jotham ran away and fled; and he went to <sup>x</sup>Beer and dwelt there, for fear of Abimelech his brother.

9:20 let fire come: Jotham issued a warning to the people of shechem—fire would devour them and a bimelech too if they had not acted properly. The threat was fulfilled when fire devoured a large number of shechemites and a bimelech was killed by a shechemite woman (vv. 49, 54).

9:22–55 Very quickly the harmony between the shechemites and a bimelech disintegrated. a bimelech, who relied on the shechemites to rise to power, now became the target of their lawlessness (vv. 22–25). This discord spread into open revolt under Gaal son of ebed (vv. 26–33). a bimelech quelled the revolt and leveled shechem in the process (vv. 34–45). he also burned shechem’s stronghold, its tower (vv. 46–49). a bimelech himself came to a violent end at nearby Thebez (vv. 50–55).

9:23 A spirit of ill will can be translated literally “an evil spirit.” The only other person in scripture whose affliction is described with these words is saul (1 sam. 16:14, 15, 16, 23; 18:10; 19:9). here, the spirit causes dissension between a bimelech and the shechemites. some scholars think God sent a demon to possess saul and to afflict a bimelech and the shechemites, but this goes against our understanding of God’s nature. The most probable explanation is that God was responsible for the estrangement between the two sides, because both parties had sinned (9:1–6) and merited judgment. a bimelech had made himself king through a treacherous act, and he exercised authority poorly when in power. saul, too, came to power because of the ill-advised wishes of the people of Israel, and he quickly demonstrated his unsuitability for the office despite his clear anointing. significantly, it is the next king, David, who holds up the standard for Israel’s future rulers.

(heb. tamim) (9:16, 19; Gen. 6:9; Deut. 18:13) strong’s #8549

This word means “unblemished,” “blameless,” or “perfect.” The Lord required that offerings dedicated to him be unblemished (Lev. 22:21; Num. 6:14). The term can also be used to describe a people (2 sam. 22:24; Ps. 119:80) or a course of action (Prov. 11:20; 28:18) that is blameless. The Bible describes Noah this way (Gen. 6:9), although he was not completely without fault (Gen. 9:21). In declaring his covenant to a braham, the Lord commanded his servant to be blameless (Gen. 17:1). In his farewell discourse, Moses gave the charge to the children of Israel to be blameless (Deut. 18:13). Many years later Joshua did likewise, exhorting the people to serve the Lord in sincerity and in truth (Josh. 24:14).

his anger was aroused. <sup>31</sup> And he sent messengers to Abimelech secretly, saying, “Take note! Gaal the son of Ebed and his brothers have come to Shechem; and here they are, fortifying the city against you. <sup>32</sup> Now therefore, get up by night, you and the people who are with you, and <sup>6</sup> lie in wait in the field. <sup>33</sup> And it shall be, as soon as the sun is up in the morning, that you shall rise early and rush upon the city; and when he and the people who are with him come out against you, you may then do to them <sup>7</sup> as you find opportunity.”

<sup>34</sup> So Abimelech and all the people who were with him rose by night, and <sup>8</sup> lay in wait against Shechem in four companies. <sup>35</sup> When Gaal the son of Ebed went out and stood in the entrance to the city gate, Abimelech and the people who were with him rose from lying in wait. <sup>36</sup> And when Gaal saw the people, he said to Zebul, “Look, people are coming down from the tops of the mountains!”

But Zebul said to him, “You see the shadows of the mountains as if they were men.”

<sup>38</sup> Then Zebul said to him, “Where indeed is your mouth now, with which you <sup>h</sup> said, ‘Who is Abimelech, that we should serve him?’ Are not these the people whom you despised? Go out, if you will, and fight with them now.”

And he looked, and there were the people, coming out of the city; and he rose against them and <sup>2</sup> attacked them. <sup>44</sup> Then Abimelech and the company that was with him rushed forward and stood at the entrance of the gate of the city; and the other two companies rushed upon all who were in the fields and killed them. <sup>45</sup> So Abimelech fought against the city all that day; <sup>i</sup> he took the city and killed the people who were in it; and he <sup>j</sup> demolished the city and sowed it with salt.

<sup>50</sup> Then Abimelech went to Thebez, and he <sup>5</sup> encamped against Thebez and took it. <sup>51</sup> But there was a strong tower in the city, and all the men and women—all the people of the city—fled there and shut themselves in; then they went up to the top of the tower. <sup>52</sup> So Abimelech came as far as the tower and fought against it; and he drew near the door of the tower to burn it with fire. <sup>53</sup> But a certain woman <sup>m</sup> dropped an upper millstone on Abimelech’s head and crushed his skull. <sup>54</sup> Then <sup>n</sup> he called quickly to the young man, his armorbearer, and said to him, “Draw your sword and kill me, lest men say of me, ‘A woman killed him.’” So his young man thrust him through, and he died. <sup>55</sup> And when the men of Israel saw

9:37, 38 the Diviners’ Terebinth Tree: o n trees as landmarks, see 6:11. Where indeed is your mouth now is Zebul’s challenge to Gaal, taunting him to back up the boastful words he had uttered earlier (v. 28).

9:43 Interestingly, a bimelech divided his forces into three companies to attack shechem, perhaps in conscious imitation of his father’s success with three companies of men (7:16).

9:45 sowing shechem with salt turned it into a barren, uninhabitable desert. see the association of salt and barrenness in Jer. 17:6.

9:46 the temple of the god Berith: In hebrew, the last phrase reads “el-Berith.” El can be translated “god,” but it was also the name of a well-known Canaanite god, the father of Baal. The “god Berith” means el-Berith, the Baal-Berith named in 8:33.

9:48 The location of Mount Zalmon is uncertain. some scholars identify it with Mount ebal, just northwest of shechem. o thers identify it with Mount Gerizim, also near shechem. The snow-covered Mount Zalmon mentioned in Ps. 68:14 appears to be a different place.

9:53 an upper millstone: Mills used for grinding grain were typically made with two large stones. The upper one was moved back and forth or rotated on the lower one, and the grain was ground between them. a n upper millstone would have easily crushed a bimelech’s skull, as this verse asserts.

9:54 kill me: Being killed by a woman was a disgrace to a warrior.

that Abimelech was dead, they departed, every man to his <sup>6</sup>place.

Tola

10 After Abimelech there <sup>a</sup>arose to save Israel Tola the son of Puah, the son of Dodo, a man of Issachar; and he dwelt in Shamir in the mountains of Ephraim. <sup>2</sup>He judged Israel twenty-three years; and he died and was buried in Shamir.

Jair

Moab, the gods of the people of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines; and they forsook the LORD and did not serve Him. <sup>7</sup>So the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel; and He <sup>h</sup>sold them into the hands of the <sup>i</sup>Philistines and into the hands of the people of <sup>j</sup>Ammon. <sup>8</sup>From that year they <sup>2</sup>harassed and oppressed the children of Israel for eighteen years—all the children of Israel who <sup>were</sup> on the other side of the Jordan in the <sup>k</sup>land of the Amorites, in Gilead. <sup>9</sup>Moreover the people of Ammon crossed over the Jordan to fight against Judah also, against Benjamin, and against the house of Ephraim, so that Israel was severely distressed.

9:56–57 The key to understanding a bimelech’s fate may be found in the comments in vv. 23, 24, 56, 57. he was not a true king; he had established his reign through murder. God actively intervened against a bimelech, repaying his evil act of murdering his brothers. Note that his sin was murder (v. 56), not declaring himself king. Jotham’s use of the fable proved to be prophetic: the fire that devoured the cedars (vv. 15, 20) would burn up both shechem and a bimelech (vv. 49, 53).

10:1, 2 Tola was the sixth judge, the second of the minor judges (shamgar was the first). he arose to save Israel, perhaps a necessary deed after the reign of a bimelech. This brief account echoes the time of Deborah in several ways (compare 4:4, 5; 5:7).

10:3–5 Jair was the seventh judge, the third minor judge, and he judged Israel for 22 years. he was rather well off (v. 4), and he lived in Gilead, east of the Jordan, as would the next judge, Jephthah (11:1). Jair’s abundance of children forms a sharp contrast with Jephthah’s childlessness in the next chapter. (see also 12:8–10.)

10:4 thirty donkeys . . . thirty towns: Literally, the hebrew has “thirty donkeys . . . thirty donkeys.” however, the word used here for donkeys is an unusual one that resembles the hebrew word for towns. a later scribe mistakenly repeated the word for donkey.

10:6–12:7 Jephthah was the eighth judge. Like those of Deborah and Gideon, his story is relatively detailed. Jephthah freed Israel from a mmonite oppression, but suffered a personal tragedy of his own making in the process.

10:6–18 a lengthy introduction precedes the story of Jephthah. These verses repeat the themes of apostasy and God’s unfailing mercy. a new theme here is the emphasis on Israel’s confession and repentance (vv. 10, 15, 16).

10:6 The gods of Syria . . . Sidon . . . Moab . . . Ammon . . . the Philistines demonstrate the extent of Israel’s idolatry. Not only did the people worship the major Canaanite gods (Baal, a sherah, a shtoreth), but they also absorbed the religions of other groups. The more extensive list here indicates the depths of Israel’s decline. The lists earlier in the book merely mention the Baals, a shtoreths, and a sherahs (for example, at 2:13; 3:7). seven gods are mentioned here, a symbolic number that forms a counterpoint to the seven nations mentioned in vv. 11, 12.

10:7 The Philistines and . . . the people of Ammon were the Israelites’ principal adversaries at this time. The next two major judges—Jephthah and samson—were God’s instruments against these two groups, Jephthah against the ammonites and samson against the Philistines.

10:11, 12 In these two verses, we find seven peoples from whom God had already delivered the Israelites: Egyptians: God had dramatically saved Israel from egyptian oppression (ex. 14; 15); Amorites: God had rescued his people from sion and o g, kings of the amorites (Josh. 2:10); Ammon: The ammonites had been part of a coalition under eglon, whom ehud defeated (3:13); Philistines: shamgar had already won a victory over the Philistines (3:31); Sidonians: There is no record of a previous triumph, but these people were among Israel’s oppressors (3:3), and they might well have been part of the Canaanite coalition mentioned in 4:2. Amalekites: They had already opposed the Israelites in the time of the judges (3:13; 6:3), and their enmity with Israel went back much further (ex. 17:8–16). God had given relief in each case. The Maonites appear later in Israel’s history as adversaries (2 Chr. 20:1; 26:7 [Meunites]), but they are not mentioned earlier. Possibly what is meant is the Midianites, a people who had been defeated by Gideon (chs. 7; 8). The symbolic number seven, representing completeness, is probably the most important element here, especially when we note that seven groups of gods are mentioned in v. 6.

10:14 The gods which you have chosen is a response of confrontation. The Israelites “chose new gods” at the time of Deborah LORD, “We have sinned! <sup>w</sup>Do to us whatever seems best to You; only deliver us this day, we pray.” <sup>x</sup>So they put away the foreign gods from among them and served the LORD. And <sup>y</sup>His soul could no longer endure the misery of Israel.

<sup>17</sup>Then the people of Ammon gathered together and encamped in Gilead. And the children of Israel assembled together and encamped in <sup>z</sup>Mizpah. <sup>18</sup>And the people, the leaders of Gilead, said to one another, “Who is the man who will begin the fight against the people of Ammon? He shall <sup>a</sup>be head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.”

Jephthah

11 Now <sup>a</sup>Jephthah the Gileadite was <sup>b</sup>a mighty man of valor, but he was the son of a harlot; and Gilead begot Jephthah. <sup>2</sup>Gilead’s wife bore sons; and when his wife’s sons grew up, they drove Jephthah out, and said to him, “You shall have <sup>c</sup>no inheritance in our father’s house, for you are the son of another woman.” <sup>3</sup>Then Jephthah fled from his brothers and dwelt in the land of <sup>d</sup>Tob; and <sup>e</sup>worthless men banded together with Jephthah and went out raiding with him.

<sup>4</sup>It came to pass after a time that the *f*people of Ammon made war against Israel. <sup>5</sup>And so it was, when the people of Ammon made war against Israel, that the elders of Gilead went to get Jephthah from the land of Tob. <sup>6</sup>Then they said to Jephthah, “Come and be our commander, that we may fight against the people of Ammon.”

<sup>7</sup>So Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, <sup>g</sup>“Did you not hate me, and expel me from my father’s house? Why have you come to me now when you are in <sup>1</sup>distress?”

<sup>8</sup>And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, “That is why we have <sup>i</sup>turned <sup>2</sup>again to you now, that you may go with us and fight against the people of Ammon, and be <sup>j</sup>our head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.”

<sup>9</sup>So Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, “If you take me back home to fight against the people of Ammon, and the LORD delivers them to me, shall I be your head?”

<sup>10</sup>And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, <sup>k</sup>“The LORD will be a witness between us, if we do not do according to your words.” <sup>11</sup>Then Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people made him <sup>l</sup>head and commander over them; and Jephthah spoke all his words <sup>m</sup>before the LORD in Mizpah.

<sup>12</sup>Now Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the people of Ammon, saying, <sup>n</sup>“What do you have against me, that you have come to fight against me in my land?”

(5:8). When Israel cried out to God, he reminded them again of their faithless ways. Other examples of confrontation include the angel’s indictment (2:1–5) and the prophet’s message (6:7–10).

10:16 Not only is God a God of great justice; he is a God of great mercy, as the phrase His soul could no longer endure the misery of Israel reminds us. Despite their constant sinning and backsliding, God still loved the Israelites and shared their misery, much as parents are moved by their children’s suffering.

11:1–3 Jephthah, like Jair before him (10:3), was from Gilead. he was a “mighty man of valor,” but he was illegitimate, which caused his half brothers to expel him from his father’s house. Like a bimelech before him (9:4), he attracted “worthless men” (v. 3), which did not bode well for his future. The territory of Gilead was in the northern part of the territory east of the Jordan (Josh. 17:1, 3; 5:17). The Gileadites were descended from a man named Gilead (Num. 26:29, 30; 27:1; 36:1), as was Jephthah himself. In this passage and in Josh. 17:1, 3, the term refers both to a region and a person. mighty man of valor: see Josh. 1:14. The land of Tob is probably an area east of Gilead. Ironically, its name means “Good,” a quality that Jephthah certainly lacked.

11:4–6 After negotiations and consultation with God, Jephthah was commissioned as head and commander over Israel. after a time: We return to the narrative left off in 10:17, 18 (see 11:1–3). Come and be our commander: here we see a leader for Israel being commissioned by the people. God is given little place in the proceedings other than to confirm the choice (v. 10), another sign of spiritual deterioration. a commander was someone who performed some of the functions of a judge, but it is perhaps significant that the word judge is not used here since God was the only one who raised up judges.

11:8 That you may go with us and fight is almost the same phrase that the Israelites used when they asked samuel for a king in 1 sam. 8:20: “that our king may . . . go out before us and fight.” In both cases, even though God gave them the permission they sought, the request was improper.

11:10 The LORD will be a witness: Literally, “The LORD will be listening.” This is not the normal Hebrew word for “witness” used in covenant-making ceremonies (Deut. 30:19; Josh. 24:22), but the sense is the same. God is called to be a witness to the covenant agreement (1 sam. 20:12).

11:11 The people made Jephthah head and commander because he had demanded somewhat opportunistically to be their “head” as the price for helping them as “commander,” so in the end he was made both. Jephthah’s words before the LORD are a strange mixture of faith and foolishness. While Jephthah did acknowledge God here and later (11:21, 23, 27, 30, 31; 12:3), his self-interest and foolishness often overruled his faith. The Book of Hebrews has a more positive view of Jephthah than does Judges: Gideon, Barak, samson, and Jephthah, along with others, are listed as examples of those “who through faith subdued kingdoms, worked righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions” (heb. 11:32, 33). undoubtedly they demonstrated faith that allowed God to “subdue kingdoms” through them, but just as clearly the Book of Judges reveals some of their less-than-admirable characteristics.

11:12–28 a lengthy account now covers diplomatic negotiations between Jephthah and the ammonites, consisting largely of an impressive speech from Jephthah through messengers to the king of ammon. Interestingly enough, Jephthah’s name means “he opens.” Israel took away my land: The ammonites claimed that Israel had taken their land. Jephthah responded with a careful rebuttal. he declared that the LORD God of Israel himself had dispossessed these peoples (vv. 21, 23, 24) and that Israel was not an aggressor

the territory of the Amorites, from the Arnon to the Jabbok and from the wilderness to the Jordan.

<sup>23</sup>“And now the LORD God of Israel has <sup>4</sup>dispossessed the Amorites from before His people Israel; should you then possess it? <sup>24</sup>Will you not possess whatever <sup>f</sup>Chemosh your god gives you to possess? So whatever <sup>g</sup>the LORD our God takes possession of before us, we will possess. <sup>25</sup>And now, are you any better than <sup>h</sup>Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab? Did he ever strive against Israel? Did he ever fight against them? <sup>26</sup>While Israel dwelt in <sup>i</sup>Heshbon and its villages, in <sup>j</sup>Aroer and its villages, and in all the cities along the banks of the Arnon, for three hundred years, why did you not recover them within that time? <sup>27</sup>Therefore I have not sinned against you, but you wronged me by fighting against me. May the LORD, <sup>k</sup>the Judge, <sup>l</sup>render judgment this day between the children of Israel and the people of Ammon.” <sup>28</sup>However, the king of the people of Ammon did not heed the words which Jephthah sent him.

Jephthah's Vow and Victory

<sup>29</sup>Then <sup>m</sup>the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jephthah, and he passed through Gilead and Manasseh, and passed through Mizpah of Gilead; and from Mizpah of Gilead he advanced toward the people of Ammon. <sup>30</sup>And Jephthah <sup>n</sup>made a vow to the LORD, and said, “If You will indeed deliver the people of Ammon into my hands, <sup>31</sup>then it will be that whatever comes out of the doors of my house to meet me, when I return in peace from the people of Ammon, <sup>o</sup>shall

but merely a recipient of the Lord's generosity. The Ammonites had brought their misfortune upon themselves by hindering Israel's advance into the Promised Land. Israel would not have taken an Ammonite land, since God had expressly commanded them not to (Deut. 2:19). Later, Sihon king of the Amorites had taken some Ammonite territory (Num. 21:26), and then Israel had taken Sihon's land (Num. 21:25). Thus the Ammonites were only indirectly affected by Israel's expansion. In addition, the Ammonites never really had true claim to the land to begin with; it was in fact the land of the Amorites (vv. 19–22; Num. 21:24 also rebuts the Ammonites' claim). Also, Israel had occupied the land in dispute for at least 300 years, long enough to make a legitimate claim on it (v. 26). Jephthah ended his speech with an appeal to God to judge the opposing claims (v. 27).

11:24 Whatever Chemosh your god gives you was a derisive jab at the Ammonites' deity. Jephthah's point was that Israel's God had given his people much territory, whereas Chemosh, the god of the Ammonites, had done very little for them. The reference to Chemosh as an Ammonite god is unexpected, since elsewhere the Ammonites' god is named Molech (1 kin. 11:7) or Milcom (1 kin. 11:5, 33; 2 kin. 23:13). Chemosh is customarily associated with the Moabites (1 kin. 11:7, 33). However, Ammon and Moab lived side by side and shared a common heritage, both nations having descended from Lot (Gen. 19:37, 38). The two are often mentioned together

(see 3:12, 13; Deut. 2:18, 19; 23:3–5), including in v. 15 in this chapter. It is likely that the two nations shared cultural and religious ideas, including the worship of Chemosh.

11:26 Three hundred years may be an approximation, but it still gives us an important clue for determining the date of the exodus and understanding how long the period of the judges lasted.

11:27 the LORD, the Judge: This is the only place in the Book of Judges where a single individual is specifically called a judge. Significantly, it is a name of God. He ultimately was—and is—the source of all justice. He has the right to judge every man and woman. With his divine authority and power, God always judges with justice, while at the same time He is loving, compassionate, and perfect.

11:29–40 The conflict with the Ammonites escalated, ending with Jephthah's victory aided by the spirit of the Lord (vv. 29, 32, 33). However, the narrative focuses on his rash vow (vv. 30, 31, 34–40). To induce God to help him, Jephthah promised to sacrifice to the Lord whatever came out of his house to meet him upon his victorious return. This misguided pledge demonstrated a clear lack of faith, since earlier Jephthah had indicated that he believed God would intervene on his behalf (vv. 9, 27). Note that the spirit of the Lord had come upon him before he made his vow (v. 29). The tragic result of Jephthah's vow was the sacrifice of his only child—his daughter.

11:31 Some have interpreted Jephthah's vow whatever comes out of the doors as a clear intention to offer a human sacrifice. His surprise then is not that he had to sacrifice a human being, but that surely be the LORD's, <sup>p</sup> and I will offer it up as a burnt offering."

Jephthah's Daughter

<sup>36</sup> So she said to him, "My father, if you have given your word to the LORD, <sup>w</sup> do to me according to what has gone out of your mouth, because <sup>x</sup> the LORD has avenged you of your enemies, the people of Ammon." <sup>37</sup> Then she said to her father, "Let this thing be done for me: let me alone for two months, that I may go and wander on the mountains and <sup>9</sup> bewail my virginity, my <sup>1</sup> friends and I."

<sup>38</sup> So he said, "Go." And he sent her away for two months; and she went with her friends, and bewailed her virginity

And it became a custom in Israel <sup>40</sup> that the daughters of Israel went four days each year to <sup>3</sup> lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite.

Jephthah's Conflict with Ephraim

12 Then <sup>a</sup> the men of Ephraim <sup>1</sup> gathered together, crossed over toward Zaphon, and said to Jephthah, "Why did you cross over to fight against the people of Ammon, and did not call us to go with you? We will burn your house down on you with fire!"

<sup>2</sup> And Jephthah said to them, "My people and I were in a great struggle with the people of Ammon; and when I called you, you did not deliver me out of their hands. <sup>3</sup> So when I saw that you would not deliver me, I <sup>b</sup> took my life in my hands and crossed over against the people of Ammon; and the LORD delivered them into my hand. Why then have you come up to me this day to fight against me?" <sup>4</sup> Now Jephthah gathered together all the men of Gilead and fought against Ephraim. And the men of Gilead defeated Ephraim, because they said, "You Gileadites <sup>c</sup> are fugitives of Ephraim among the Ephraimites and among the Manassites." <sup>5</sup> The Gileadites seized the <sup>d</sup> fords of the Jordan before the Ephraimites arrived. And when any Ephraimite who escaped the unfortunate person was his daughter. The phrase to meet me seems to refer more appropriately to a human than to an animal, and it is difficult to see why Jephthah would try to persuade God by offering a common animal sacrifice. undoubtedly, Jephthah knew that human sacrifice was strictly forbidden in Israel (Lev. 18:21; 20:2; Deut. 12:31; 18:10; Jer. 19:5; ezek. 20:30, 31; 23:37, 39), but his foolishness and lack of faith impelled him to make a reckless vow in order to try to manipulate God (11:39).

11:35 I have given my word is literally "I have opened my mouth." In light of his eloquent speech to the ammonites (vv. 15–27), it is ironic that he "opened his mouth" once too often in making this vow. But did Jephthah have to follow through on his vow? ordinarily the answer would be yes. Vows were made only to God, and they were solemn pledges that had to be kept. People were not forced to take them, but if they did, they had to be honored (Deut. 23:21–23; Ps. 15:4; eccl. 5:4, 5). But Jephthah had vowed something sinful in itself if his intent was to make a human sacrifice in the literal sense. 11:39 Those who believe that Jephthah intended to sacrifice a human being must also ponder whether Jephthah carried out his vow. The text does not explicitly say that he killed his daughter, only that he carried out his vow. When the verse goes on to say that she knew no man, some take this to mean that she was "sacrificed" by being dedicated to a life of perpetual virginity. several arguments can be made for this interpretation. first, human sacrifice was contrary to the law of Moses (Lev. 18:21; 20:2–5; Deut. 12:31; 18:10). second, the great respect that Jephthah had for God surely would have prevented him from making such a perverse offering. Third, the fact that Jephthah permitted his daughter to bewail her virginity (vv. 37, 38) for two months fits an explanation of perpetual virginity better than human sacrifice. fourth, the indication that his daughter "knew no man" also seems to be a detail that would support the idea of celibacy. fifth, the Bible provides evidence that such devoted service for women did exist at the central sanctuary (ex. 38:8; 1 sam. 2:22; Luke 2:36, 37). sixth, the conjunction in Jephthah's pivotal statement in v. 31, that whatever or whoever came out of the door "shall be the LORD's, and I will offer it up as a burnt offering" could be translated or. Thus, if a person came out first, he would dedicate that person to the Lord, or if an animal came out first, he would offer the animal as a burnt sacrifice.

12:1–7 a final episode, in which the tribe of ephraim sulks because they were left out of the battle, is similar to an incident when the same tribe challenged Gideon (8:1–3). however in the first incident, Gideon placated ephraim, whereas in the second, Jephthah did not, and a civil war erupted. The ephraimites were defeated, and that tribe does not play an important role in Israel's subsequent history. 12:4 You Gileadites are fugitives of Ephraim is the taunt that triggers the civil war. The insult may have its roots in the division of the nation into eastern and western groups (5:17; Josh. 1:12–15). Despite the emphasis in Joshua on the unity of all the tribes (Josh. 1:12–15; 22:1–34), the practical reality in the period of the judges was dramatically different. as in so many other ways, the life of the tribes deteriorated here also.

12:5 The fords of the Jordan were crossing points of strategic military value. earlier on, the Israelites under ehud had seized the fords and held them against the Moabites (3:28, 29). under Gideon they had seized the "watering places," another name for the same place (7:24).

said, “Let me cross over,” the men of Gilead would say to him, “Are you an Ephraimite?” If he said, “No,” <sup>6</sup> then they would say to him, “Then say, ‘Shibboleth!’” <sup>2</sup> And he would say, “Sibboleth,” for he could not <sup>3</sup> pronounce it right. Then they would take him and kill him at the fords of the Jordan. There fell at that time forty-two thousand Ephraimites.

<sup>7</sup> And Jephthah judged Israel six years. Then Jephthah the Gileadite died and was buried among the cities of Gilead.

Ibzan, Elon, and Abdon

<sup>8</sup> After him, Ibzan of Bethlehem judged Israel. <sup>9</sup> He had thirty sons. And he gave away thirty daughters in marriage, and brought in thirty daughters from elsewhere for his sons. He judged Israel seven years. <sup>10</sup> Then Ibzan died and was buried at Bethlehem.

<sup>11</sup> After him, Elon the Zebulunite judged Israel. He judged Israel ten years. <sup>12</sup> And Elon the Zebulunite died and was buried at Aijalon in the country of Zebulun.

<sup>13</sup> After him, Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite judged Israel. <sup>14</sup> He had forty sons and thirty grandsons, who <sup>f</sup> rode on seventy young donkeys. He judged Israel eight years. <sup>15</sup> Then Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite died and was buried in Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, <sup>g</sup> in the mountains of the Amalekites.

12:6 Shibboleth . . . Sibboleth: This test devised by the Gileadites to catch the ephraimites is the most famous example in the Bible of linguistic differences between the tribes. Today the english word shibboleth means an otherwise minor difference that becomes a sticking point because it distinguishes one side from another. The Gileadites chose this word because the “s” sound at the beginning was pronounced “sh” by one side and “s” by the other.

12:8–10 Ibzan was Israel's ninth judge. he allowed his 30 sons and 30 daughters to marry foreigners (v. 9). It is interesting to note that the judges who immediately preceded and followed the childless Jephthah both had 30 sons.

12:11, 12 Elon was the tenth judge.

12:13–15 Abdon was the eleventh judge, and like Jair and Ibzan had many children. he too possessed some wealth (vv. 13–15).

13:1—16:31 samson, the last of the judges, lived at the beginning of the eleventh century b.c. he was unusual among the judges in many ways. he did not lead an army, but carried on his campaign against the Philistines single-handed. he is mentioned in heb. 11:32 in the list of judges who accomplished great things through faith. The Book of Judges, in contrast, paints a darker picture of a man who violates a number of the Ten Commandments as well as his Nazirite vow (13:5). samson's story brings the accounts of the judges to an end. his checkered history of heroism and moral failure resembles Israel's troubles during the time of the judges. although we can find instances of obedience and humility in his life (15:18; 16:28, 30), for the most part his life was a string of careless adventures, with no true concern for following the Lord.

13:1–25 The story of samson opens typically with a statement about sinful conditions in Israel, but the rest of ch. 13 continues with a long introduction to the life of samson. The chapter details the encounter between samson's parents and the angel of the Lord, who announces samson's birth and mission. The angel emphasizes the requirements of the Nazirite vow that samson is to observe in his life. It is as if the narrator wants to make sure the reader understands that samson's life and accomplishments were under God's protection, provision, and guidance.

13:2 Zorah was in the foothills west of Jerusalem, near Philistine territory, in the lowlands that separated the Philistine plain from the hill country of Judah. Manoah, samson's father, was from the tribe of Dan, in whose territory Zorah lay (Josh. 19:41). Zorah is also mentioned among the inheritance of Judah (Josh. 15:33), indicating that it was along the border between the two tribes.

13:3 The Angel of the Lord made a supernatural appearance, described here as “very awesome” (v. 6). Manoah's wife recognized him as “a Man of God” (v. 6). however, his essential character, embodied in his Name, was not to be revealed to them (vv. 6, 17, 18).

are barren and have borne no children, but you shall conceive and bear a son. <sup>4</sup>Now therefore, please be careful <sup>e</sup> not to drink wine or similar drink, and not to eat anything unclean. <sup>5</sup>For behold, you shall conceive and bear a son. And no <sup>f</sup>razor shall come upon his head, for the child shall be <sup>g</sup>a Nazirite to God from the womb; and he shall <sup>h</sup>begin to deliver Israel out of the hand of the Philistines.”

<sup>8</sup>Then Manoah prayed to the LORD, and said, “O my Lord, please let the Man of God whom You sent come to us again and teach us what we shall do for the child who will be born.”

<sup>9</sup>And God listened to the voice of Manoah, and the Angel of God came to the woman again as she was sitting in the field; but Manoah her husband was not with her. <sup>10</sup>Then the woman ran in haste and told her husband, and said to him, “Look, the Man who came to me the other day has just now appeared to me!”

<sup>11</sup>So Manoah arose and followed his wife. When he came to the Man, he said to Him, “Are You the Man who spoke to this woman?”

And He said, “I am.”

<sup>12</sup>Manoah said, “Now let Your words come to pass! What will be the boy’s rule of life, and his work?”

<sup>13</sup>So the Angel of the LORD said to Manoah, “Of all that I said to the woman let her be careful. <sup>14</sup>She may not eat anything that comes from the vine, <sup>l</sup> nor may she drink wine or similar drink, nor eat anything unclean. All that I commanded her let her observe.”

<sup>15</sup>Then Manoah said to the Angel of the LORD, “Please <sup>m</sup> let us detain You, and we will prepare a young goat for You.”

<sup>16</sup>And the Angel of the LORD said to Manoah, “Though you detain Me, I will not eat your food. But if you offer a burnt offering, you must offer it to the LORD.” (For Manoah did not know He was the Angel of the LORD.)

<sup>17</sup>Then Manoah said to the Angel of the LORD, “What is Your name, that when Your words come to pass we may honor You?”

<sup>18</sup>And the Angel of the LORD said to him, <sup>n</sup> “Why do you ask My name, seeing it is wonderful?”

<sup>23</sup>But his wife said to him, “If the LORD had desired to kill us, He would not have accepted a burnt offering and a grain offering from our hands, nor would He

This could mean that the angel was God himself (ex. 3:14, 15) or his divine representative (2:1).

13:5 The angel declared that the woman’s son should be a Nazirite from birth and for the rest of his life. The regulations of the Nazirite vows are found in Num. 6:1–21. The vow was voluntary (Num. 6:2), had limited duration (Num. 6:5, 8, 13, 20), and included three provisions: (1) abstinence from wine, strong drink, and the fruit of the vine; (2) not cutting the hair; and (3) no contact with the dead (Num. 6:3–8). a Nazirite who became unclean went through elaborate cleansing rituals (Num. 6:9–21). Note that both samson’s mother and samson himself were to follow the regulations (13:4, 5, 7). samson’s Nazirite service was remarkable in three ways. <sup>f</sup> first, he did not take his vow voluntarily; it was his before birth (vv. 5, 7). <sup>s</sup> econd, his service was to be lifelong, not temporary (vv. 5, 7). <sup>t</sup> hird, he eventually broke every one of its stipulations: his head was sheared (16:17, 19); he associated with the dead (14:6–9; 15:15); and he drank at his wedding feast (14:10–20). (The hebrew word for feast in 14:10 is related to the word that means “drink.”) The announcement that he shall begin to deliver Israel was welcome news. The Philistines had been a thorn in Israel’s side for many years. Yet samson’s successes would prove to be temporary.

13:6 Man of God was a term used for prophets elsewhere in the oT, including Moses (Deut. 33:1; Josh. 14:6), an anonymous prophet who spoke to eli about his sons (1 sam. 2:27), samuel (1 sam. 9:6–10), elijah (1 kin. 17:18, 24), elisha (about 35 times), and others. at first, samson’s mother may have thought she was talking to a prophet, but his radiant appearance convinced her otherwise. Throughout this entire episode the Man of God did not tell . . . His name (vv. 16–18).

13:14 The requirements for samson’s Nazirite vow were somewhat irregular (v. 5). samson’s mother was also required to observe a strict ritual (v. 4).

13:18 it is wonderful: The word used here is related to the word for “wonders” (6:13). The angel’s name is too wonderful to comprehend, and so he does not reveal it to samson’s parents. Immediately afterward, the angel did a “wondrous thing” by ascending into the heavens in a flame (vv. 19, 20).

13:21, 22 When Manoah discovered that it was the Angel of the LORD, he feared for their lives because he and his wife had seen God. Gideon expressed a similar fear when he recognized the angel of the Lord (6:22).

have shown us all these things, nor would He have told us such things as these at this time.”

Samson's Philistine Wife

14 Now Samson went down <sup>a</sup> to Timnah, and <sup>b</sup>saw a woman in Timnah of the daughters of the Philistines. <sup>2</sup>So he went up and told his father and mother, saying, “I have seen a woman in Timnah of the daughters of the Philistines; now therefore, <sup>c</sup>get her for me as a wife.”

<sup>3</sup>Then his father and mother said to him, “Is there no woman among the daughters of <sup>d</sup>your brethren, or among all my people, that you must go and get a wife from the <sup>e</sup>uncircumcised Philistines?”

And Samson said to his father, “Get her for me, for <sup>f</sup>she pleases me well.”

<sup>4</sup>But his father and mother did not know that it was <sup>f</sup>of the LORD—that He was seeking an occasion to move against the Philistines. For at that time <sup>g</sup>the Philistines had dominion over Israel.

<sup>5</sup>So Samson went down to Timnah with his father and mother, and came to the vineyards of Timnah.

Now <sup>to his</sup> surprise, a young lion <sup>came</sup> roaring against him. <sup>6</sup>And <sup>h</sup>the Spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him, and he tore the lion apart as one would have torn apart a young goat, though <sup>he had</sup> nothing in his hand. But he did not tell his father or his mother what he had done.

<sup>7</sup>Then he went down and talked with the woman; and she pleased Samson well. <sup>8</sup>After some time, when he returned to get her, he turned aside to see the carcass of the lion. And behold, a swarm of bees and honey <sup>were</sup> in the carcass of the lion. <sup>9</sup>He took some of it in his hands and went along, eating. When he came to his father and mother, he gave <sup>some</sup> to them, and they also ate. But he did not tell them that he had taken the honey out of the <sup>i</sup>carcass of the lion.

13:24 The name Samson is related to the hebrew word for sun. The story makes no comment on the meaning of his name. The choice of name may have been influenced by the fact that there was a town named Beth-shemesh near samson's hometown of Zorah, or the name may be related to the name of a sun-god, shamash. The LORD blessed him is one of the few editorial comments by the narrator of samson's story (see also the comments at 14:4; 15:20; 16:20; 16:31). f for the most part, the narrator is content to tell the story without comment, letting the details speak for themselves.

13:25 the Spirit of the LORD began to move upon him: The hebrew verb translated move can also be translated impel. The spirit of the LORD was pushing samson toward doing the work that God wanted him to do (14:4). The verb here is different from the one in 14:6 that is translated came mightily.

14:1—16:31 The actual exploits of samson fall into two parts (14:1—15:20 and 16:1—31), each climaxing with a mass destruction of Philistines. In the first part, the spirit of the LORD comes “mightily upon him” three times. significantly, this fails to happen in ch. 16, when samson was acting more on his own and falling out of favor with God.

14:1—15:20 The episodes in this first section concern samson's marriage to a Philistine woman and the cycle of offense and retaliation that surrounds it. such marriages with foreigners were prohibited for Israelites (ex. 34:16; Deut. 7:3). samson's request for a wife defied the tradition that allowed the parents to arrange the marriage (14:2, 3). Despite samson's disobedient and careless life, God intended to use him for his own purposes against the Philistines (v. 4), who were ruling over Israel at that time. It was the LORD (and no other) who ultimately was to rule over Israel.

14:1 Timnah was a town on the northwest border of Judah (Josh. 15:10) and was counted in the allotment of the tribe of Dan (Josh. 19:43). By samson's day it was occupied by the Philistines. samson's saga unfolds on the coastal plain where the Philistines lived, and in the lowlands and foothills near Jerusalem.

14:3 The Philistines were Israel's neighbors but were almost always at war with them. They did not practice the ceremony of circumcision. Being uncircumcised appears as a cause for disdain or derision several times in scripture (15:18; 1 sam. 14:6; 17:26, 36; 18:25; 31:4; 2 sam. 1:20; 1 Chr. 10:4). She pleases me well is literally “she is right in my eyes.” The phrase is usually used to describe a person or action that is right in the Lord's eyes (see Deut. 6:18; 12:25). samson's words revealed his self-centered attitude. Instead of seeking to serve God, he was seeking to please himself. samson's comment here foreshadows the author's summary of the entire period of the judges in 17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25.

14:4 The narrator adds that samson's parents did not know that it was of the LORD. God would use samson's defiant wish as a way of defeating the Philistines and providing relief for his people. f for the five major cities of the Philistines and their rulers, see Josh. 13:3.

14:5–20 at his wedding feast, samson challenged his 30 companions with a riddle. The riddle was based upon his astounding feat of killing a lion with his bare hands. When the guests could not solve it, they enlisted the help of samson's wife, and she extracted the answer. In a rage, samson killed 30 Philistines in a shkelon to obtain the garments he needed to pay his companions. But in his absence, his wife was given to his best man.

14:6 the Spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him: In the o T as a whole, there are 39 references to “the spirit of the LORD” or “the spirit of God,” as well as various other references such as “his spirit” or “Your spirit” or “the spirit.” The o T speaks numerous times of God's spirit coming mightily upon individuals, usually to empower them physically for great feats of strength. o ther judges received this power: o thniel (3:10), Gideon (6:34), and Jephthah (11:29). Yet the spirit empowered others for the important task of speaking God's word (Gen. 41:38; Num. 24:2; 1 sam. 10:6, 10; 19:20, 23; 2 sam. 23:2). Probably the most important manifestation of the spirit in the o T was the spirit's ongoing presence. *f*irst s amuel 16:13 states that the spirit lived with David from that day forward, and this is confirmed by David's statement in Ps. 51:11: “Do not cast me away from Your presence, and do not take Your holy spirit from me.” This type of ongoing presence of the spirit is something the NT emphasizes.

14:8, 9 Touching the dead lion violated samson's Nazirite vow (13:5).

14:10 The word translated feast denotes a banquet with considerable drinking, another violation of samson's Nazirite vow (13:5).

brought thirty companions to be with him.

Now for three days they could not explain the riddle.

<sup>16</sup>Then Samson’s wife wept on him, and said, p“You only hate me! You do not love me! You have posed a riddle to the sons of my people, but you have not explained it to me.”

And he said to her, “Look, I have not explained it to my father or my mother; so should I explain it to you?” <sup>17</sup>Now she had wept on him the seven days while their feast lasted. And it happened on the seventh day that he told her, because she pressed him so much. Then she explained the riddle to the sons of her people. <sup>18</sup>So the men of the city said to him on the seventh day before the sun went down:

“What is sweeter than honey?
And what is stronger than a lion?”

And he said to them:

“If you had not plowed with my heifer,
You would not have solved my riddle!”

<sup>19</sup>Then *q*the Spirit of the LORD came upon him mightily, and he went down to Ashkelon and killed thirty of their men, took their apparel, and gave the changes of clothing to those who had explained the riddle. So his anger was aroused, and he went back up to his father’s house. <sup>20</sup>And Samson’s wife *r*was given to his companion, who had been *s*his best man.

Samson Defeats the Philistines

15 After a while, in the time of wheat harvest, it happened that Samson visited his wife with a *a*young goat. And he said, “Let me go in to my wife, into her room.” But her father would not permit him to go in.

14:12 The hebrew phrase let me pose a riddle to you literally reads “let me riddle you a riddle,” using repetition to grab the reader’s attention. The hebrew word for linen garments is not the usual word for clothes, but appears only three times in the Bible, here and in two others. In Prov. 31:24; Is. 3:23, it refers to fine linens worn or sold by women. samson’s offer was extravagant given the value of such finery. The hebrew for changes of clothing is used in Gen. 45:22; 2 kin. 5:22 in reference to valuable gifts.

14:14 This is the best example of a riddle in the scriptures. The hebrew word for riddle occurs 21 times in the oT, 11 of them in ch. 14. The queen of sheba posed riddles to solomon (1 kin. 10:1), and Daniel had skill in “interpreting dreams, solving riddles, and explaining enigmas” (Dan. 5:12).

14:17 samson’s wife pleaded with him for seven days to get the secret of the riddle, knowing the threat she faced from the young men.

14:18 The hebrew word for sun is not the one commonly used. Perhaps the unusual word was chosen in order to avoid confusion with samson’s name, which resembles the common hebrew word for sun (13:24). samson’s statement expresses his outrage that the men had not played fairly with him but had consulted his wife.

14:19 Ashkelon was one of the five main cities of the Philistines.

14:20 his companion . . . his best man: The hebrew words here are the same, meaning “friend.” The same man is referred to in 15:2.

15:1–20 When samson could not gain access to his wife, he retaliated by burning the Philistines’ fields, using three hundred foxes (vv. 1–5). In response, the Philistines chosen to death his wife and father-in-law. Then samson killed more Philistines (vv. 6–8). The cycle of retaliation escalated, with the Philistines raiding Judah (vv. 9, 10). The men of Judah, not wanting to be involved in what they saw as a private dispute, delivered samson to the Philistines (vv. 11–13). The first section ends with the spirit of the Lord coming upon samson, empowering him to break his bonds and kill a thousand Philistines (vv. 14–17). after this, samson called upon the Lord for the first time, and the Lord answered his call, giving him water to drink (vv. 18, 19).

15:1 The time of wheat harvest was late May or early June. The wheat harvest was associated with the second of the three great festivals in Israel, the feast of Weeks, also known as Pentecost (Lev. 23:15–22; Deut. 16:9–12). samson came to visit his wife with a young

riddle

(heb. chidah) (14:12, 19; Prov. 1:6; hab. 2:6) strong’s #2420

The core meaning of this word is “an enigmatic saying.” In samson’s story, the riddle is used in a contest of wits. Proverbs attributes enigmatic sayings to the wise (1:6). When the queen of sheba tested solomon’s wisdom, her questions are described by this same hebrew word (1 kin. 10:1; 2 Chr. 9:1). In the Lord’s confrontation with Miriam and aaron, God describes himself as speaking in “dark sayings” (the same hebrew word) to the prophets, but to Moses face-to-face (Num. 12:6–8). Perhaps Paul had this last concept in mind when he admonished the Corinthians that even someone with the ability to understand all mysteries would not amount to anything if that person did not possess the love of God (1 Cor. 13:2).

<sup>3</sup>And Samson said to them, “This time I shall be blameless regarding the Philistines if I harm them!” <sup>4</sup>Then Samson went and caught three hundred foxes; and he took torches, turned the foxes tail to tail, and put a torch between each pair of tails. <sup>5</sup>When he had set the torches on fire, he let the foxes go into the standing grain of the Philistines, and burned up both the shocks and the standing grain, as well as the vineyards and olive groves.

<sup>6</sup>Then the Philistines said, “Who has done this?”

And they answered, “Samson, the son-in-law of the Timnite, because he has taken his wife and given her to his companion.” <sup>c</sup>So the Philistines came up and burned her and her father with fire.

<sup>7</sup>Samson said to them, “Since you would do a thing like this, I will surely take revenge on you, and after that I will cease.” <sup>8</sup>So he attacked them hip and thigh with a great slaughter; then he went down and dwelt in the cleft of the rock of <sup>d</sup>Etam.

<sup>9</sup>Now the Philistines went up, encamped in Judah, and deployed themselves <sup>e</sup>against Lehi. <sup>10</sup>And the men of Judah said, “Why have you come up against us?”

So they answered, “We have come up to <sup>f</sup>arrest Samson, to do to him as he has done to us.”

<sup>11</sup>Then three thousand men of Judah went down to the cleft of the rock of Etam, and said to Samson, “Do you not know that the Philistines <sup>g</sup>rule over us? What is this you have done to us?”

And he said to them, “As they did to me, so I have done to them.”

<sup>12</sup>But they said to him, “We have come down to arrest you, that we may deliver you into the hand of the Philistines.”

Then Samson said to them, “Swear to me that you will not kill me yourselves.”

<sup>13</sup>So they spoke to him, saying, “No, but we will tie you securely and deliver you into their hand; but we will surely not kill you.” And they bound him with two <sup>g</sup>new ropes and brought him up from the rock.

“With the jawbone of a donkey,
 Heaps upon heaps,
 With the jawbone of a donkey
 I have slain a thousand men!”

<sup>17</sup>And so it was, when he had finished speaking, that he threw the jawbone from his hand, and called that place <sup>3</sup>Ramath Lehi.

<sup>18</sup>Then he became very thirsty; so he cried out to the LORD and said, <sup>j</sup>“You have given this great deliverance by the hand of Your servant; and now shall I die of thirst and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?” <sup>19</sup>So God split the hollow place that is in <sup>4</sup>Lehi, and water came out, and he drank; and <sup>k</sup>his spirit returned, and he revived. Therefore he called its name <sup>5</sup>En Hakkore, which is in Lehi to this day. <sup>20</sup>And <sup>l</sup>he judged Israel <sup>m</sup>twenty years <sup>n</sup>in the days of the Philistines.

goat, meant as a gift. Tamar also received such a gift before she had sexual relations with Judah (Gen. 38:17).

15:4 The three hundred foxes were probably jackals. The two animals are similar, and the same Hebrew word is used for both. *f*oxes are solitary animals, but jackals travel in packs and large numbers of them could be caught more easily.

15:5 the shocks and the standing grain: shocks are bundles of wheat stacked together in the fields. samson’s jackals burned whole crops of grain, grapes, and olives. This damage naturally outraged the Philistines. according to the law, anyone who burned someone else’s fields had to pay restitution (ex. 22:6). at another time, a balsam set fire to Job’s fields in order to attract his attention and gain an audience with the king; Job reacted with anger (2 s am. 14:28–32).

15:6 the Philistines . . . burned her: The Philistines held samson’s wife and father-in-law responsible for the deed and killed them both. samson’s wife had earlier escaped such a death by telling samson’s companions the answer to a riddle (14:15).

15:8 The exact meaning of the phrase he attacked them hip and thigh is obscure. The following phrase—with a great slaughter—perhaps gets us closer to the meaning, suggesting that he not only killed but dismembered them. It may be that the expression hip and thigh originated in the art of wrestling, where brute strength like samson’s would have been a great help. Etam is otherwise unknown, but samson obviously found a secure place to hide, perhaps a cave that was accessible only through a narrow fissure in the rocky crags near Zorah.

15:13 two new ropes: Ropes were made of leather, hair, or plant fibers; one common fiber was flax (Josh. 2:6). The reference in v. 14 to the ropes becoming like burned flax suggests that this was the fiber. Being new, these ropes were the strongest possible.

15:15 A fresh jawbone would have been tough, resilient, and virtually unbreakable.

15:16 Heaps upon heaps is a wordplay, since the Hebrew word for heaps resembles the word for donkey. a double expression similar to the one used here is found in ex. 8:14, where the frogs of the second plague were piled in heaps.

Samson and Delilah

16 Now Samson went to <sup>a</sup>Gaza and saw a harlot there, and went in to her. <sup>2</sup>When the Gazites were told, “Samson has come here!” they <sup>b</sup>surrounded the place and lay in wait for him all night at the gate of the city. They were quiet all night, saying, “In the morning, when it is daylight, we will kill him.” <sup>3</sup>And Samson lay low till midnight; then he arose at midnight, took hold of the doors of the gate of the city and the two gateposts, pulled them up, bar and all, put them on his shoulders, and carried them to the top of the hill that faces Hebron.

<sup>4</sup>Afterward it happened that he loved a woman in the Valley of Sorek, whose name was Delilah. <sup>5</sup>And the lords of the Philistines came up to her and said to her, <sup>d</sup>“Entice him, and find out where his great strength lies, and by what means we may overpower him, that we may bind him to afflict him; and every one of us will give you eleven hundred pieces of silver.”

<sup>6</sup>So Delilah said to Samson, “Please tell me where your great strength lies, and with what you may be bound to afflict you.”

<sup>7</sup>And Samson said to her, “If they bind me with seven fresh bowstrings, not yet dried, then I shall become weak, and be like any other man.”

<sup>8</sup>So the lords of the Philistines brought up to her seven fresh bowstrings, not yet dried, and she bound him with them. <sup>9</sup>Now men were lying in wait, staying with her in the room. And she said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” But he broke the bowstrings as a strand of yarn breaks when it touches fire. So the secret of his strength was not known.

<sup>10</sup>Then Delilah said to Samson, “Look, you have mocked me and told me lies. Now, please tell me what you may be bound with.”

<sup>11</sup>So he said to her, “If they bind me securely with <sup>e</sup>new ropes <sup>f</sup>that have never been used, then I shall become weak, and be like any other man.”

<sup>12</sup>Therefore Delilah took new ropes and bound him with them, and said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” And men were lying in wait, staying in the room. But he broke them off his arms like a thread.

And he said to her, “If you weave the seven locks of my head into the web of the loom”—

16:1–31 Chapter 16 presents the conclusion of the samson stories. samson’s involvement with two more Philistine women is detailed here. Verses 1–3 tell of a dalliance with a prostitute in Gaza, followed by another display of strength. Verses 4–22 chronicle his foolish affair with Delilah, which led to his downfall. Yet the story ends with samson’s destruction of the Philistines in their pagan temple.

16:1 Gaza is one of the five major Philistine cities, three miles inland from the Mediterranean coast. a harlot: Two hebrew words are commonly used for prostitutes. one refers to priests and priestesses who performed sexual acts in the service of pagan gods (1 kin. 14:24; hos. 4:14). The other word refers to a common prostitute, such as the one samson was consorting with.

16:2 At the gate reads literally “in the gate.” The gates of the early Iron Age were at least two stories high, with guard rooms on either side of a narrow opening. The Philistines waited in the recesses of the gate, hoping to trap samson. he evidently slipped through unnoticed while they waited in one of the rooms.

16:3 Given the large size of city gates, samson’s feat was astounding. hebron is 40 miles east of Gaza. samson’s trip to the top of a hill that faces Hebron would have taken the better part of a day.

16:4–22 The account of samson’s downfall shows Delilah acting in cooperation with the leaders of the Philistines who were seeking to capture him. after three unsuccessful efforts, she succeeded in persuading him to reveal the source of his strength: his uncut hair. When he broke the final stipulation of the Nazirite vow by allowing his hair to be cut, the Lord led him (v. 20), and he was captured.

16:4 Delilah was the third Philistine woman that samson entangled himself with (14:1; 16:1).

16:5 Eleven hundred pieces of silver was a large sum of money; the same price would be paid to make two idols (17:2). This price was multiplied by five (each of the five lords offered the same amount). The total reward probably weighed more than a hundred pounds.

16:7 The first test of samson’s strength was breaking seven fresh bowstrings of animal gut. Newer animal strings would be stronger than old ones. samson was showing contempt for his adversaries, who wanted to capture him quickly.

16:11 In this second test, samson toyed with the Philistines, suggesting they use the new ropes that had proven worthless on an earlier occasion (15:13).

16:13 The third test involving the web of the loom got closer to revealing samson’s secret, since his hair was involved. The loom that held samson’s hair was likely an upright one, supported by two posts that were firmly anchored in the ground. This was a more difficult test of strength for samson, but he passed this one easily, too.

16:14 she wove it tightly samson was about to be fastened with a household implement, just as Jael had earlier “fastened” siserah with a tent peg (4:21). samson was able to free himself in this case, but like siserah he eventually would fall victim to a woman’s plot.

The basic meaning of this term is “victory” or “safety.” In the scriptures, deliverance is almost always credited to God, who is frequently praised by the psalmists for his miraculous accomplishments (Ps. 51:14, 15; 71:14, 15). elsewhere God’s people are reminded that deliverance is not found in horses (Ps. 33:17) or in the capabilities of people (Ps. 108:12; 146:3); salvation is found only in the Lord (Lam. 3:26; Jer. 3:23). a day is coming when the Lord will provide everlasting salvation for his people (Is. 45:17). Placing our hope in the Lord and in that final day of justice is never inappropriate, for he will provide deliverance for his people.

<sup>15</sup> Then she said to him, f“How can you say, ‘I love you,’ when your heart is not with me? You have mocked me these three times, and have not told me where your great strength lies.” <sup>16</sup> And it came to pass, when she pestered him daily with her words and pressed him, so that his soul was <sup>2</sup>vexed to death, <sup>17</sup> that he *g*told her all his heart, and said to her, h“No razor has ever come upon my head, for I have been a Nazirite to God from my mother’s womb. <sup>18</sup> When Delilah saw that he had told her all his heart, she sent and called for the lords of the Philistines, saying, “Come up once more, for he has told me all his heart.” So the lords of the Philistines came up to her and brought the money in their hand. <sup>19</sup> i Then she lulled him to sleep on her knees, and called for a man and had him shave off the seven locks of his head. ### Samson Dies with the Philistines

“Our god has delivered into our hands Samson our enemy!”

<sup>24</sup> When the people saw him, they <sup>m</sup> praised their god; for they said:

“Our god has delivered into our hands our enemy,
 The destroyer of our land,
 And the one who multiplied our dead.”

<sup>25</sup> So it happened, when their hearts were <sup>n</sup> merry, that they said, “Call for Samson, that he may perform for us.” So they called for Samson from the prison, and he performed for them. And they stationed him between the pillars. <sup>26</sup> Then Samson said to the lad who held him by the hand, “Let me feel the pillars which support the temple, so that I can lean on them.” <sup>27</sup> Now the temple was full of men and women. All the lords of the Philistines were there—about three thousand men and women on the <sup>o</sup> roof watching while Samson performed.

<sup>28</sup> Then Samson called to the LORD, saying, “O Lord God, <sup>p</sup> remember me, I pray! Strengthen me, I pray, just this

16:16 Delilah pestered him, just as samson’s wife had done earlier (14:17). samson’s foolishness prevented him from learning the lesson of his earlier experience.

16:17, 18 a razor in samson’s day would have been like a bronze knife with a handle of wood or bone. a Nazirite to God: see 13:5. he had told her all his heart: Delilah knew that samson was finally telling the truth. This reference contrasts with the one in v. 15, where he withheld his heart from Delilah.

16:20, 21 He did not know is another editorial comment by the narrator. see similar comments in 13:16; 14:4. the Lord had departed from him: see 14:6. They shackled samson’s hands or feet with a pair of bronze fetters. samson became a grinder, forced to grind grain, most likely with a hand mill. Larger, animal-driven mills were not used until several centuries later. Grinding was typically a woman’s job (9:53), so this only added to samson’s humiliation.

16:23–31 samson’s story ends with a measure of vindication: the Philistines and their gods were toppled at the hands of God. samson’s hair had begun to grow again (v. 22), and his second prayer to the Lord—his first was in 15:18—resulted in a great slaughter of his enemies, some three thousand people, more than he had killed during his entire life. his call to the Lord is somewhat ambiguous; it appears to be more earnest than his first, but his motive—revenge for his blindness—is less than exemplary. samson was buried with his father, following his 20 years of judging Israel (15:20). samson’s life is ultimately a story about God’s faithfulness in spite of human weakness. God’s hand can be seen throughout the story. When the Philistines captured samson, they attributed this to their god and celebrated his victory (16:23, 24). We know, however, that it was God who had allowed it (v. 20), and that it was God who gained the ultimate triumph against Dagon and the Philistine rulers (vv. 27, 30).

16:23 Dagon was the principal Philistine god. he is known as Dagan in syrian and Mesopotamian inscriptions. Temples dedicated to him have been unearthed at ugarit in northern syria, dating to the centuries just before samson, and at Mari on the euphrates River in syria, dating to the eighteenth century b.c. a Philistine temple for Dagon was at Beth shan, in northern Israel, in the days of saul (1 sam. 31:9, 10; 1 Chr. 10:10), and it was in another such temple that the Philistines stored the ark of the covenant for a time (1 sam. 5:1–7). Dagon was once commonly thought to be a fish god, but modern excavations have shown that he was a god of grain. In fact, one of the hebrew words for grain is dagan. Our god has delivered: The Philistine hymn of triumph reminds us of the language found in the Psalms.

16:26, 27 the pillars which support the temple: Numerous temples from this era with the supporting pillars described here have been excavated. Many were built around a courtyard. The roof, supported by the pillars, was where the spectators gathered. a crowd straining to see the spectacle of samson would put considerable pressure on the structure of the building.

16:28 samson demonstrated faith in calling upon God and in believing that God would help him. This is consistent with the praise of samson in heb. 11:32. Yet samson’s plea was basically a desire for revenge against the Philistines.

The Philistines

During the time of the judges, the Philistines emerged for the first time as a distinct people on the southwest coast of Canaan. The Philistines who are mentioned in the Pentateuch are not the same people, but an earlier group of egean settlers. The Philistines of Canaan migrated inland, manufacturing their own crude but distinctive pottery, carrying on a limited overseas trade, and eventually developing superior iron weapons, which they used to their advantage against the Israelites. The Bible pictures the Philistines as a coarse, “uncircumcised” people (14:3; 15:18). Recent archaeological discoveries have shown that initially the Philistines had their own highly developed culture. Yet they quickly followed the practices of the Canaanites and lost their true distinctives within a couple of centuries. Their major god was Dagon (known from Mesopotamian and syrian sources as Dagan).

ed the temple, and he braced himself against them, one on his right and the other on his left. <sup>30</sup>Then Samson said, “Let me die with the Philistines!” And he pushed with all his might, and the temple fell on the lords and all the people who were in it. So the dead that he killed at his death were more than he had killed in his life.

Micah’s Idolatry

17 Now there was a man from the mountains of Ephraim, whose name was <sup>a</sup>Micah. <sup>2</sup>And he said to his mother, “The eleven hundred shekels of silver that were taken from you, and on which you <sup>b</sup>put a curse, even saying it in my ears—here is the silver with me; I took it.”

And his mother said, <sup>c</sup>“May you be blessed by the LORD, my son!” <sup>3</sup>So when he had returned the eleven hundred shekels of silver to his mother, his mother said, “I had wholly dedicated the silver from my hand to the LORD for my son, to <sup>d</sup>make a carved image and a molded image; now therefore, I will return it to you.” <sup>4</sup>Thus he returned the silver to his mother. Then his mother <sup>e</sup>took two hundred shekels of silver and gave them to the silversmith, and he made it into a carved image and a molded image; and they were in the house of Micah.

16:31 The story of the judges concludes with final editorial comments. samson, the last judge, had been empowered by God’s spirit, just as the first had been. Despite the manifold failings of the judges themselves, God had delivered Israel and caused other nations to bow before him.

17:1—21:25 The book closes with two appendices, the first in chs. 17; 18 and the second in chs. 19–21. They seem to be unrelated to the material preceding them and to each other. For instance, these chapters do not describe the cyclical pattern of sin, servitude, and salvation seen in the earlier chapters. While chs. 2–16 describe foreign threats to Israel, these last chapters show an internal breakdown of Israel’s worship and unity. Furthermore, the events in these chapters appear to have taken place early in the period of the judges. Note that Phinehas, the grandson of aaron who had figured in earlier events (Num. 25:6–15; 31:6; Josh. 22:30, 31), was still ministering before the ark at the time of the events of chs. 19–21 (20:28). The whole episode of the Danite migration (ch. 18) logically fits in the progression of events described in 1:34, during which the morites forced the Danites out of their allotted territory. Their migration in search of new land probably would have come soon after this, not some three centuries or more later. Thus these chapters may have been written independently of the book’s earlier chapters.

Yet there is a certain logic to placing them at the end of the book. For one, the structure highlights the theme of the disintegration of Israel. The many violations of Mosaic law receive only minimal comments. However, a muted note of disdain for Israel’s wanton behavior is evident in places.

17:2, 3 These eleven hundred shekels of silver cannot help but remind us of the reward that the Philistine lords gave to Delilah. Micah, an ephraimite, had stolen some silver from his mother, which he later returned to her. We learn that she had dedicated this silver to the Lord, but returned it to Micah so that he could make a carved image and a molded image. a carved image would be made of wood or rock. Carved is the same hebrew word used in the Ten Commandments: “You shall not make for yourself a carved image.” a molded image was one cast from a mold (2 kin. 17:16). Micah’s mother approved of his action, claiming that these images would be offered on the Lord’s behalf. Today the temptation to mix elements of true worship of God with practices unacceptable to him remains with us, albeit in different ways.

So he said to him, “I am a Levite from Bethlehem in Judah, and I am on my way to find a place to stay.”

<sup>10</sup>Micah said to him, “Dwell with me, <sup>m</sup>and be a <sup>n</sup>father and a priest to me, and I will give you ten shekels of silver per year, a suit of clothes, and your sustenance.” So the Levite went in. <sup>11</sup>Then the Levite was content to dwell with the man; and the young man became like one of his sons to him. <sup>12</sup>So Micah <sup>o</sup>consecrated <sup>2</sup>the Levite, and the young man <sup>p</sup>became his priest, and lived in the house of Micah. <sup>13</sup>Then Micah said, “Now I know that the LORD will be good to me, since I have a Levite as <sup>q</sup>priest!”

The Danites Adopt Micah's Idolatry

18 In <sup>a</sup>those days there was no king in Israel. And in those days <sup>b</sup>the tribe of the Danites was seeking an inheritance for itself to dwell in; for until that day their inheritance among the tribes of Israel had not fallen to them. <sup>2</sup>So the children of Dan sent five men of their family from their territory, men of valor from <sup>e</sup>Zorah and Eshtaol, <sup>d</sup>to spy out the land and search it. They said to them, “Go, search the land.” So they went to the mountains of Ephraim, to the <sup>e</sup>house of Micah, and lodged there. <sup>3</sup>While they were at the house of Micah, they recognized the voice of the young Levite. They turned aside and said to him, “Who brought you here? What are you doing in this place? What do you have here?”

<sup>4</sup>He said to them, “Thus and so Micah did for me. He has <sup>h</sup>hired me, and I have become his priest.”

<sup>5</sup>So they said to him, “Please <sup>g</sup>inquire <sup>h</sup>of God, that we may know whether the journey on which we go will be prosperous.”

<sup>7</sup>So the five men departed and went to <sup>j</sup>Laish. They saw the people who were there, <sup>k</sup>how they dwelt safely, in the manner of the Sidonians, quiet and secure. There were no rulers in the land who might put them to shame for anything. They were far from the <sup>l</sup>Sidonians, and they had no ties <sup>2</sup>with anyone.

17:5 a shrine: Literally “a house of God.” This was a perversion of the true sanctuary where all worship was to take place. at this time, “the house of God” was at shiloh (18:31). Micah also made an ephod (8:27) and various household idols. The word for idols is the same one used in Gen. 31:19, the story of Rachel’s theft of Laban’s household gods. such idols are condemned in 1 sam. 15:23. Micah further violated the law by appointing his own son as his private priest. Micah sinned because his son had not descended from aaron (as priests were supposed to be) nor was he even a Levite (ex. 28:1; 40:12–15; Num. 16:39, 40; 17:8).

17:6 what was right in his own eyes: This editorial comment is echoed in the last verse of the book (21:25). The author suggests that times were so bad that people did whatever they wanted, not what was right in the Lord’s eyes (14:3). We may infer that a king who focused Israel’s attention on the Lord would have prevented the outbreaks of sin and oppression so prevalent during the time of the judges.

17:9 The Levite from Bethlehem in Judah had been living there as a resident alien. Levites did not have a permanent land inheritance, but they had been granted 48 cities, scattered throughout the other tribes’ territories (Josh. 21). however, Bethlehem was not one of these cities, and this Levite was seeking a place to settle down. he was only too happy to accept Micah’s offer (vv. 10, 11).

17:10 be a father and a priest to me: To be called a father was a title of honor (see the reference to Deborah as a “mother in Israel” in 5:7). Micah wanted the Levite to be his priest, since his priestly background would lend legitimacy to his service. Micah thought this would bring him God’s favor (v. 13). In later years, prophets were occasionally referred to as “fathers” (2 kin. 6:21; 8:9; 13:14).

18:1 The Danites were looking for a place to settle because they had been unable to settle effectively in their allotted territory. Compare their allotment in Josh. 19:41–47 and their failure to capture it all in 1:34, 35.

18:2 The Danites decided to spy out the land, recalling the 12 spies who infiltrated Canaan in Moses’ day (Num. 13) and the two spies that Joshua sent into Jericho (Josh. 2). The hebrew word for spy is related to the word for foot, the idea being that spies went quietly on foot, scouting what they could see.

18:3 The Danite spies asked rapid-fire questions. o ther places in Judges feature similar quick questioning (see 6:31).

18:7 The Danite spies found the city of Laish an attractive place to live and decided to seize it (vv. 7–10). The city was later renamed Dan (Josh. 19:47). the Sidonians, quiet and secure: o n the sidonians, see 3:3. The word for quiet is the same one that describes the “rest” that covered the land periodically (3:11). however, the word can also be rendered “unsuspecting.”

<sup>14</sup> Then the five men who had gone to spy out the country of Laish answered and said to their brethren, “Do you know that <sup>v</sup> there are in these houses an ephod, household idols, a carved image, and a molded image? Now therefore, consider what you should do.” <sup>15</sup> So they turned aside there, and came to the house of the young Levite man—to the house of Micah—and greeted him. <sup>16</sup> The <sup>w</sup> six hundred men armed with their weapons of war, who were of the children of Dan, stood by the entrance of the gate. <sup>17</sup> Then <sup>x</sup> the five men who had gone to spy out the land went up. Entering there, they took <sup>y</sup> the carved image, the ephod, the household idols, and the molded image. The priest stood at the entrance of the gate with the six hundred men who were armed with weapons of war.

<sup>18</sup> When these went into Micah’s house and took the carved image, the ephod, the household idols, and the molded image, the priest said to them, “What are you doing?”

<sup>19</sup> And they said to him, “Be quiet, <sup>z</sup> put your hand over your mouth, and come with us; <sup>a</sup> be a father and a priest to us. Is it better for you to be a priest to the household of one man, or that you be a priest to a tribe and a family in Israel?”

<sup>20</sup> So the priest’s heart was glad; and he took the ephod, the household idols, and the carved image, and took his place among the people.

Micah, the men who were in the houses near Micah’s house gathered together and overtook the children of Dan. <sup>23</sup> And they called out to the children of Dan. So they turned around and said to Micah, <sup>b</sup> “What ails you, that you have gathered such a company?”

<sup>24</sup> So he said, “You have <sup>c</sup> taken away my <sup>4</sup> gods which I made, and the priest, and you have gone away. Now what more do I have? How can you say to me, ‘What ails you?’”

<sup>25</sup> And the children of Dan said to him, “Do not let your voice be heard among us, lest <sup>5</sup> angry men fall upon you, and you lose your life, with the lives of your household!” <sup>26</sup> Then the children of Dan went their way. And when Micah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back to his house.

Danites Settle in Laish

<sup>27</sup> So they took the things Micah had made, and the priest who had belonged to him, and went to Laish, to a people quiet and secure; <sup>d</sup> and they struck them with the edge of the sword and burned the city with fire. <sup>28</sup> There was no deliverer, because it was <sup>e</sup> far from Sidon, and they had no ties with anyone. It was in the valley that belongs <sup>f</sup> to Beth Rehob. So they rebuilt the city and dwelt there. <sup>29</sup> And <sup>g</sup> they called the name of the city <sup>h</sup> Dan, after the name of Dan their father, who was born to Israel. However, the name of the city formerly was Laish.

The Levite’s Concubine

19 And it came to pass in those days, <sup>a</sup> when there was no king in Israel, that there was a certain Levite staying in

18:11 Six hundred men was either a small part of the Danite army or a remnant that had survived recent fighting. Compare this figure with the 62,700 Danite soldiers in Num. 1:38, 39 and the 64,400 in Num. 26:42, 43.

18:15–20 Rather than condemning Micah’s idolatry, the Danites took the gods for themselves. They then made Micah’s Levite their tribal priest.

18:19 The Danites’ offer to Micah’s Levite—be a father and a priest to us—was the same plea Micah had made earlier (17:10). Yet their offer was more attractive, for it allowed him to be priest over an entire tribe. The Levite’s cynical acceptance of this opportunity for greater prestige indicates further how debased conditions had become. Even Levites were selling false spiritual services to the highest bidder.

18:30 The Danites’ priest and his descendants served the tribe for many years. This notice, written much later than the book’s events, is a subtle reminder of Dan’s later apostasy. Jeroboam I would establish idolatrous shrines in Dan and Bethel (1 kin. 12).

18:31 Micah’s image remained while the house of God was at Shiloh. Therefore, these events took place sometime before about 1050 B.C. when Shiloh was destroyed (Ps. 78:60; Jer. 7:12, 14; 26:6).

19:1–21:25 The concluding section is apparently unrelated to any preceding story. It concerns the brutal rape and murder of a concubine and the bloody events that followed. The story resembles that of the assault on Lot’s home in Sodom (Gen. 19).

19:1 A concubine was a female servant regarded as part of the family, often chosen to bear children. Several of the patriarchs had children with concubines: a braham with Hagar (Gen. 16); Jacob with Bilhah and Zilpah (Gen. 30:4–13).

in the remote mountains of Ephraim. He took for himself a concubine from <sup>b</sup>Bethlehem in Judah. <sup>2</sup>But his concubine played the harlot against him, and went away from him to her father's house at Bethlehem in Judah, and was there four whole months. <sup>3</sup>Then her husband arose and went after her, to <sup>c</sup>speak <sup>1</sup>kindly to her and bring her back, having his servant and a couple of donkeys with him. So she brought him into her father's house; and when the father of the young woman saw him, he was glad to meet him. <sup>4</sup>Now his father-in-law, the young woman's father, detained him; and he stayed with him three days. So they ate and drank and lodged there.

<sup>5</sup>Then it came to pass on the fourth day that they arose early in the morning, and he stood to depart; but the young woman's father said to his son-in-law, <sup>d</sup>"Refresh your heart with a morsel of bread, and afterward go your way."

<sup>6</sup>So they sat down, and the two of them ate and drank together. Then the young woman's father said to the man, "Please be content to stay all night, and let your heart be merry." <sup>7</sup>And when the man stood to depart, his father-in-law urged him; so he lodged there again. <sup>8</sup>Then he arose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart, but the young woman's father said, "Please refresh your heart." So they delayed until afternoon; and both of them ate.

<sup>9</sup>And when the man stood to depart— he and his concubine and his servant— his father-in-law, the young woman's father, said to him, "Look, the day is now drawing toward evening; please spend the night. See, the day is coming to an end; lodge here, that your heart may be merry. Tomorrow go your way early, so that you may get <sup>2</sup>home."

<sup>10</sup>However, the man was not willing to spend that night; so he rose and departed, and came opposite <sup>e</sup>Jebus (that is, Jerusalem). With him were the two saddled donkeys; his concubine was also with him. <sup>11</sup>They were near Jebus, and the day was far spent; and the servant said to his master, "Come, please, and let us turn aside into this city <sup>f</sup>of the Jebusites and lodge in it."

<sup>12</sup>But his master said to him, "We will not turn aside here into a city of foreigners, who are not of the children of Israel; we will go on <sup>g</sup>to Gibeah." <sup>13</sup>So he said to his servant, "Come, let us draw near to one of these places, and spend the night in Gibeah or in <sup>h</sup>Ramah." <sup>14</sup>And they passed by and went their way; and the sun went down on them near Gibeah, which belongs to Benjamin. <sup>15</sup>They turned aside there to go in to lodge in Gibeah. And when he went in, he sat down in the open square of the city, for no one would <sup>i</sup>take them into his house to spend the night.

<sup>18</sup>So he said to him, "We are passing from Bethlehem in Judah toward the remote mountains of Ephraim; I am from there. I went to Bethlehem in Judah; now I am going to <sup>k</sup>the house of the LORD. But there is no one who will take me into his house, <sup>19</sup>although we have both straw and fodder for our donkeys, and bread and wine for myself, for your female servant, and for the young man who is with your servant; there is no lack of anything."

Gibeah's Crime

19:3–9 obliged by custom, the Levite stayed in the home of his concubine's father for five days. strict codes of hospitality still prevail in many Middle eastern tribal cultures.

19:10 Jebus (that is, Jerusalem): The city of Jerusalem was at this time in the hands of the Jebusites, and it is called "a city of foreigners" in v. 12. <sup>f</sup>or more on the city and its early history, see Josh. 15:63.

19:12 Gibeah was four miles west of Jerusalem. Because it was in Benjamin, the Levite thought it would be a safer place to spend the night—a fatal misjudgment.

19:15, 16 The open square of the city was a public area just inside the city gate. a traveler could expect an invitation to stay the night, but none was forthcoming from any inhabitant of Gibeah. an old man: The Levite received kindness from an outsider, an old man who was passing through Gibeah. Like the Levite, he was from the hill country of ephraim.

19:18, 19 The people of Gibeah were cold, even though the Levite had all that he needed with him, and even more than enough: he offered to take care of the old man and his servants, too.

19:22–26 The welcome offered by Gibeah was no hospitality at all; it was the hospitality of sodom (see Gen. 19), an outrageous affront to the Levite and especially to his concubine. The men of Gibeah demanded to have sexual relations with the old man's guest. offered the Levite's concubine instead, they assaulted her until she was half dead. This section closely resembles Gen. 19:4–9; indeed, the author may have written this story to make the comparison with beat on the door. They spoke to the master of the house, the old man, saying, <sup>s</sup>“Bring out the man who came to your house, that we may know him carnally!”

<sup>26</sup> Then the woman came as the day was dawning, and fell down at the door of the man’s house where her master was, till it was light.

<sup>29</sup> When he entered his house he took a knife, laid hold of his concubine, and <sup>z</sup>divided her into twelve pieces, <sup>5</sup>limb by limb, and sent her throughout all the territory of Israel. <sup>30</sup> And so it was that all who saw it said, “No such deed has been done or seen from the day that the children of Israel came up from the land of Egypt until this day. Consider it, <sup>a</sup>confer, and speak up!”

Israel’s War with the Benjamites

congregation gathered together as one man before the LORD <sup>d</sup>at Mizpah. <sup>2</sup> And the leaders of all the people, all the tribes of Israel, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of God, four hundred thousand foot soldiers <sup>e</sup>who drew the sword. <sup>3</sup> (Now the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel had gone up to Mizpah.)

Then the children of Israel said, “Tell us, how did this wicked deed happen?”

<sup>8</sup> So all the people arose as one man, saying, “None of us will go to his tent, nor will any turn back to his house; <sup>9</sup>but now this is the thing which we will do to Gibeah: We will go up <sup>l</sup>against it by lot. <sup>10</sup> We will take ten men out of every hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, a hundred out of every thousand, and a thousand out of every ten thousand, to make provisions for the people, that when they come to Gibeah in Benjamin, they may repay all the vileness that they have done in Israel.” <sup>11</sup> So all the men of Israel were gathered against the city, united together as one man.

sodom unmistakable, as if to say, “Things are as bad now as they were in the days of sodom and Gomorrah!”

19:22 Perverted men is literally the “sons of Belial,” a phrase describing wicked or worthless people. The name Belial came to designate satan, as it is used in 2 Cor. 6:15. That we may know him means that the men of Gibeah wanted to sodomize the Levite. The same expression is found in Gen. 19:5, where the men of sodom wanted to force homosexual relations on Lot’s guests.

19:27–30 The Levite’s indifferent reaction to his concubine’s collapse is followed by a gruesome deed: after carrying her away, he cut her body into 12 pieces, sending a piece to each tribe. This gesture was practically a call to arms; saul did the same with oxen (1 sam. 11:7).

19:30 The phrase no such deed has been done is ambiguous; it is uncertain whether they were horrified by discovering the dismembered body or by learning about the cruel rape and murder.

20:1–48 an assembly of all Israel convened at Mizpah and decided to unite against Benjamin (vv. 1–11). The Benjamites, who apparently were not at the assembly (v. 3), responded by joining the men of Gibeah for battle (vv. 12–17). After withstanding two assaults, Benjamin was routed and its cities obliterated. The spiritual decay of Israel had resulted in the destruction of its own people with a vengeance once reserved for pagan peoples.

20:1 From Dan to Beersheba is a common expression for the full extent of the land of Israel from north to south (1 sam. 3:20; 2 sam. 24:2; 1 kin. 4:25).

20:2 The assembly usually means the congregation of Israel as assembled for a religious event (1 Chr. 28:8) or a military campaign (Num. 22:4; 1 sam. 17:47).

20:9, 11 The tribes agreed to send a tenth of their men (v. 10), choosing them by lot. God’s role is not mentioned here. To their credit, the Israelite tribes were united together as one man, a quality notably absent up to this point in the Book of Judges.

who are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death and <sup>o</sup>remove the evil from Israel!” But the children of Benjamin would not listen to the voice of their brethren, the children of Israel. <sup>14</sup>Instead, the children of Benjamin gathered together from their cities to Gibeah, to go to battle against the children of Israel. <sup>15</sup>And from their cities at that time <sup>p</sup>the children of Benjamin numbered twenty-six thousand men who drew the sword, besides the inhabitants of Gibeah, who numbered seven hundred select men. <sup>16</sup>Among all this people were seven hundred select men who were <sup>q</sup>left-handed; every one could sling a stone at a hair’s breadth and not miss. <sup>17</sup>Now besides Benjamin, the men of Israel numbered four hundred thousand men who drew the sword; all of these were men of war.

The LORD said, “Judah first!”

<sup>26</sup>Then all the children of Israel, that is, all the people, <sup>x</sup>went up and came to <sup>3</sup>the house of God and wept. And the LORD said, “Go up, for tomorrow I will deliver them into your hand.”

20:16 The Benjamites counted on seven hundred select men who were left-handed, an advantage since their shots would come from unaccustomed angles. Ironically, the name Benjamin means “son of the Right hand.”

20:18 Judah first: The book begins and ends with Judah in this prominent position (1:1, 2). This is no accident, since the end of the book points toward the monarchy, whose true expression would come out of Judah.

20:23 Go up against him: The Lord graciously answered the Israelites twice when they called upon him (v. 18).

20:26 The Israelites suffered a second major defeat (v. 25). The result drove them to fasting and sacrificing at Bethel, something done very rarely in this period. The house of God literally reads “Bethel,” and probably the town is meant. Bethel was a Benjamite town that had been religiously prominent since Jacob met God there (Gen. 28:16–19).

20:28 Phinehas was the one who had stopped the plague at Peor (Num. 25:6–11). The fact that he was still alive shows that the organization of the Book of Judges is not strictly chronological. The author likely placed this account at the end of the book to make the point even more strongly about the spiritual deterioration of the nation.

20:31 The highways were probably made of stone or gravel. The Hebrew word means “something raised,” that is, a roadway elevated above the normal ground level (Is. 49:11).

20:35 The Lord defeated Benjamin as punishment for the heinous crimes committed in Gibeah (ch. 19) and for disrupting Israel’s unity, which he valued.

stroyed that day twenty-five thousand one hundred Benjamites; all these drew the sword.

Wives Provided for the Benjamites

21 Now <sup>a</sup>the men of Israel had sworn an oath at Mizpah, saying, “None of us shall give his daughter to Benjamin as a wife.” <sup>2</sup>Then the people came <sup>b</sup>to <sup>1</sup>the house of God, and remained there before God till evening. They lifted up their voices and wept bitterly, <sup>3</sup>and said, “O LORD God of Israel, why has this come to pass in Israel, that today there should be one tribe missing in Israel?”

<sup>4</sup>So it was, on the next morning, that the people rose early and <sup>c</sup>built an altar there, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. <sup>5</sup>The children of Israel said, “Who is there among all the tribes of Israel who did not come up with the assembly to the LORD?” <sup>d</sup>For they had made a great oath concerning anyone who had not come up to the LORD at Mizpah, saying, “He shall surely be put to death.” <sup>6</sup>And the children of Israel grieved for Benjamin their brother, and said, “One tribe is cut off from Israel today. <sup>7</sup>What shall we do for wives for those who remain, seeing we have sworn by the LORD that we will not give them our daughters as wives?”

20:38–42 The burning of Gibeah and the resulting rout of the Benjamites are almost an exact replay of the ambush of a i (Josh. 8:17–22). 20:47 Six hundred men of Benjamin survived the rout. They would become the remnant that would carry on the tribe’s name (21:12–23).

21:1–25 After the devastating defeat of Benjamin, the remaining Israelites were struck with remorse because Benjamin faced almost certain extinction (vv. 1–7). Thus ch. 21 tells of the provisions they made for the tribe’s survival, though the means they chose were questionable or even brutal.

21:1 The details of an oath at Mizpah appear for the first time. It was presumably made when the people assembled at Mizpah before attacking Benjamin.

21:5 The great oath sworn by the Israelites provided the justification for punishing Jabesh Gilead and for providing wives for the Benjamites. Every tribe was expected to heed the Levite’s call, since he had sent the concubine’s corpse “throughout all the territory of Israel” (19:29).

21:8 Jabesh Gilead was a town east of the Jordan.

21:11 The phrase utterly destroy is found numerous times in the Book of Joshua in regard to the conquest of the Canaanites. However, there is no hint that God supported the bloodbath at Jabesh Gilead.

timately.”<sup>12</sup> So they found among the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead four hundred young virgins who had not known a man intimately; and they brought them to the camp at <sup>h</sup>Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

<sup>13</sup> Then the whole congregation sent word to the children of Benjamin <sup>i</sup>who were at the rock of Rimmon, and announced peace to them. <sup>14</sup> So Benjamin came back at that time, and they gave them the women whom they had saved alive of the women of Jabesh Gilead; and yet they had not found enough for them.

<sup>16</sup> Then the elders of the congregation said, “What shall we do for wives for those who remain, since the women of Benjamin have been destroyed?” <sup>17</sup> And they said, “There must be an inheritance for the survivors of Benjamin, that a tribe may not be destroyed from Israel.” <sup>18</sup> However, we cannot give them wives from our daughters, <sup>k</sup>for the children of Israel have sworn an oath, saying, ‘Cursed be the one who gives a wife to Benjamin.’” <sup>19</sup> Then they said, “In fact, there is a yearly <sup>l</sup>feast of the Lord in <sup>m</sup>Shiloh, which is north of Bethel, on the east side of the <sup>n</sup>highway

21:12 Four hundred young virgins were captured to become wives for the six hundred survivors of Benjamin (20:47). still, four hundred were not enough, and the Israelites contrived to take more from shiloh (vv. 19–22).

21:19 some scholars believe that the yearly feast of the Lord in Shiloh was the Passover, held in the spring because of the dancing associated with it (vv. 21, 23); they point to the dancing of Miriam and the Israelite women after they had crossed the Red sea as evidence for this practice (ex. 15:20). however, the celebration was more likely the feast of Tabernacles, celebrated in the fall, since vineyards are mentioned (vv. 20, 21). The grape harvest came in the early fall. This may have been the same event that drew samuel’s parents every year to shiloh (1 sam. 1:3).

21:20–23 The Benjamites were allowed to abduct enough women from shiloh to supply every man with a wife. No justification is given except for the supposed needs of the Benjamites. To sidestep their oath, Israelites allowed the Benjamites to capture the young women. In this way, they could not be held responsible for giving brides to the six hundred, which they swore at Mizpah they would never do (v. 1).

21:24 every man to his inheritance: The hebrew words here are the same as those found at the end of the Book of Joshua (24:28). however, the book’s final comment (v. 25) indicates that times were far worse than they had been in Joshua’s day.

THE BOOK OF RUTH

THE BOOK OF RUTH is a beautiful story of love, loyalty, and redemption. One of only two books in the Bible named after a woman, this narrative masterpiece tells the story of the salvation of Ruth, the Moabitess. Through her relationship with her mother-in-law Naomi, Ruth learned about the living God and became His devoted follower. Abandoning her family and homeland, she demonstrated both her love for her widowed mother-in-law and her faith in Israel's God. Her faith was well placed, for God not only provided for her; He also placed her in the messianic family line.

Author Traditionally, Samuel has been identified as the author of Ruth. However, some Jewish rabbis have ascribed the writing to Naomi. If the references to David in Ruth 4:17, 22 are an integral part of the original book and not a later appendix, then the book was not written by either since both died before David's birth.

Some evidence in Ruth points to the conclusion that the book was written during David or Solomon's reign. First, the genealogy of David in 4:18–22 indicates this. Second, the first verse of Ruth implies that the book was written after the time of the judges. Third, the fact that the narrator had to explain ancient customs to the intended readers in 4:7 indicates that the book was not written at the time of the events. All this evidence may point to the authorship of Ruth during Solomon's reign—a time regarded as the golden age of Hebrew writing.

Historical Setting The story of Ruth takes place during the time of the judges—a period characterized by extreme spiritual and moral decay in Israel (c. 1380–1050 B.C.). The beautiful love story of Ruth contrasts strongly with the pervasive depravity of the period, giving a rare glimmer of hope in an otherwise bleak era.

The story itself reflects ordinary small town and rural life in Israel—specifically around Bethlehem. Details of cultural elements, such as the description of the barley harvest (1:22), the mention of the threshing floor (3:6), and the events at the city gate (4:1), add plausibility to the story. It is possible that the story was first circulated in Bethlehem by Naomi and her circle of women friends. Later, the author of Ruth retained some of the lovely feminine touches that grace this story.

Themes The Book of Ruth underscores an overarching theme of the Bible: God desires all to believe in Him, even non-Israelites. This was God's plan from the beginning. He had covenanted with Abraham and his descendants in order to bless other nations through the Israelites and draw all nations to Himself (Gen. 12:1–3).

While demonstrating this one significant theme, the Book of Ruth makes some distinctive contributions of its own. First of all, the important idea of loyal love is evident in the book. The Hebrew word translated as kindly in 1:8 means "loyal love" or "covenantal love." This was a genuine love that keeps promises. When the word is used of God, it refers to God's loving faithfulness to His promises. Even though Ruth was a foreigner and was not familiar with God's law, she displayed this type of love and loyalty to her mother-in-law Naomi. She left her homeland in order to be with Naomi in a time of need. Boaz also showed the same noble quality by protecting and providing for Ruth, a widow of one of his relatives. Yet the story of Ruth ultimately illustrates how God Himself demonstrated such love. He rewarded Ruth for her loyalty to Him by giving her an honored place in the community of faith. he blessed her with a child who would become the ancestor of king David and later of the promised Messiah.

The second concept that the Book of Ruth emphasizes is redemption. God's providential hand in redeeming Ruth and Naomi from poverty is evident. he controlled circumstances so that Ruth and Boaz would meet, and he prompted Boaz to fulfill the responsibilities of the "close relative" or the kinsman-redeemer (3:9). The kinsman-redeemer was "the defender of family rights." This individual was a close relative who had the financial resources to rescue a poverty-stricken family member, stepping in to save that relative from slavery or from having to sell the family's ancestral land. In the story of Ruth, Boaz redeemed the land that Naomi was about to sell. he also took on another of the kinsman-redeemer's responsibilities—the obligation of providing an heir for Ruth's deceased husband, Mahlon. Dying without an heir was considered a tragedy in the ancient Middle east. To rectify this situation, the brother of a deceased man was expected to marry the widow in order to produce a child, who would be considered the heir of the deceased. This was called a levirate marriage. Boaz willingly took on this duty, even though he was not the nearest relative (3:12, 13). he bought the land from Naomi, married Ruth, and carried on the family name through the birth of their son. Through all these actions, Boaz exemplified the compassion and love of a redeemer. his life is an illustration for us of the compassion of Jesus, who is our Redeemer (Gal. 3:13).

CHRIST IN THE SCRIPTURES

In this short book, the hebrew word goel is used 13 times. It means "close relative" (3:9) and conveys the concept of kinsman-redeemer. That's exactly who Jesus turned out to be: the kinsman-redeemer for the human race, one who became part of our "family" and who also became our advocate. according to ancient hebrew law, a person must fulfill certain requirements in order to qualify as a "kinsman-redeemer." and the requirements anticipate what Jesus himself did for us.

for one thing, this kinsman-redeemer must be a relative of those he redeems (Deut. 25:5, 7-10; John 1:14; Rom. 1:3; Phil. 2:5-8; heb. 2:14, 15). This family member must also be able to pay the price of redemption (Ruth 2:1; 1 Pet. 1:18, 19) and be willing to redeem the individual who is about to be claimed by another (Ruth 3:11; Matt. 20:28; John 10:15, 18; heb. 10:7). one final requirement is that the kinsman-redeemer must himself be free and not in debt. Because Jesus was sinless, he was free from the curse of sin. The kinsman-redeemer is a clear picture of the role Jesus would play for us.

Naomi Returns with Ruth

1:1 when the judges ruled: The events of the Book of Ruth took place before the establishment of the monarchy in Israel. The judges were God’s servants, who established the teachings of God’s law and righteousness during a time of political, spiritual, and moral degeneracy. The story shines as a bright spot during a dark age in Israel’s history. Moab is located east of the Dead sea. The Moabites descended from Lot as a result of his incestuous relation with his older daughter (Gen. 19:30–37). The famine in Israel extended to Bethlehem even though its very name means “house of Bread.”

1:2 Due to the famine, Elimelech, whose name means “God Is king,” journeyed to Moab with his wife and two sons. The names of the two sons Mahlon and Chilion mean “sickly” and “failing.” The early deaths of these two sons in Moab showed that their names were appropriate (v. 5). Ephrathites: ephrathah was another name for the region of Bethlehem (Gen. 48:7; Mic. 5:2).

1:4 The Moabite name Ruth connotes “friendship.” While the Law of Moses did not prohibit Israelite men from marrying Moabite women, it did exclude Moabites from the congregation of Israel for ten generations (Deut. 23:1–4).

1:6 the LORD: This is the first mention of God’s name in the story. God himself is at the center of the book. This verse illustrates the mercy of the Lord, who supported even his disobedient people with food. he visited his people both for blessing, as in this verse, and for discipline (ex. 20:5).

1:8 The hebrew word translated as kindly is often used to describe God, and means “loyal love.” The word expresses both God’s loyalty to his covenant and his love for his people. here Naomi expressed the hope that the Lord’s covenantal love would extend to her daughters-in-law, who were outside the land of Israel and were not Jewish.

1:9 The concept of rest referred to here is the security that is found in marriage.

The Book of Ruth

set in the dark and bloody days of the judges, the story of Ruth is silent about the underlying hostility and suspicion the two peoples—Judahites and Moabites—felt for each other. The original onslaught of the invading Israelite tribes against towns that were once Moabite had never been forgotten or forgiven, while the hebrew prophets denounced Moab’s pride and arrogance for trying to bewitch, seduce, and oppress Israel from the time of Balaam on. The Mesha stele (c. 830 B.C.) boasts of the massacre of entire Israelite towns.

Moab encompassed the expansive, grain-rich plateau between the Dead sea and the eastern desert on both sides of the enormous rift of the arnon River gorge. Much of eastern Moab was steppe land—semi-arid wastes not profitable for cultivation, but excellent for grazing flocks of sheep and goats. The tribute Moab paid to Israel in the days of a hab was 100,000 lambs and the wool of 100,000 rams.

their voices and wept. <sup>10</sup> And they said to her, “Surely we will return with you to your people.”

<sup>11</sup> But Naomi said, “Turn back, my daughters; why will you go with me? Are there still sons in my womb, <sup>m</sup> that they may be your husbands? <sup>12</sup> Turn back, my daughters, go—for I am too old to have a husband. If I should say I have hope, if I should have a husband tonight and should also bear sons, <sup>13</sup> would you wait for them till they were grown? Would you restrain yourselves from having husbands? No, my daughters; for it grieves me very much for your sakes that <sup>n</sup> the hand of the LORD has gone out against me!”

“Entreat <sup>5</sup> me not to leave you,
Or to turn back from following after

And there will I be buried.
<sup>t</sup> The LORD do so to me, and more also,
If anything but death parts you and me.”

<sup>19</sup> Now the two of them went until they came to Bethlehem. And it happened, when they had come to Bethlehem, that <sup>v</sup> all the city was excited because of them; and the women said, <sup>w</sup> “Is this Naomi?”

<sup>20</sup> But she said to them, “Do not call me <sup>7</sup> Naomi; call me <sup>8</sup> Mara, for the Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me. <sup>21</sup> I went out full, <sup>x</sup> and the LORD has brought me home again empty. Why do you call me Naomi, since the LORD has testified against me, and <sup>9</sup> the Almighty has afflicted me?”

Ruth Meets Boaz

2 There was a <sup>a</sup> relative of Naomi’s husband, a man of great wealth, of the family of <sup>b</sup> Elimelech. His name was

1:10–13 Naomi’s daughters-in-law insisted on returning with her. In response, Naomi pointed out that she could not provide husbands for them and expressed concern for their happiness. Her love for them is evidenced by the use of the personal words my daughters in vv. 11, 13.

1:13 grieves: Naomi was bitter that she was without husband and sons and attributed her circumstances to God’s discipline.

1:14 In this verse, the responses of Orpah and Ruth are contrasted. Orpah did the expected thing and returned home. Yet Ruth unexpectedly stayed with her impoverished mother-in-law. Though understandable, Orpah’s action meant that she had left the Israelites and their God. On the other hand, Ruth’s action brought her into the Messiah’s family line (4:18–22).

1:15 Naomi tried one last time to convince Ruth to return to Moab.

glean

(heb. laqat) (2:2; Lev. 19:10; 23:22) strong’s #3950

The Hebrew word used here means “to gather together” or “to pick up.” In the OT, people are described as gleaning a variety of objects: stones (Gen. 31:46), money (Gen. 47:14), manna (ex. 16:4, 5, 26), and even worthless men (Judg. 11:3). The prophet Isaiah used this word to describe how the Lord would “gather up” his people from among all the nations and restore them to their own land (Is. 27:12). The verb occurs 34 times in the OT, with 12 instances here in ch. 2. In this passage, Ruth makes use of the stipulations the Lord gave to Moses. God had told the Israelites not to completely harvest their fields; instead they were to leave some unharvested so that the poor and strangers in the land could gather it up for their survival (Lev. 19:9, 10; 23:22).

The word for gods refers to the deities of Moab. Here we are reminded that coming to Israel was also coming to the one Lord; remaining outside of Israel was remaining away from the covenant community.

1:16, 17 In a beautiful, emotionally charged poetic response, Ruth described her determination to remain with Naomi. Her assertion that Naomi’s God would be her God is especially striking. This is an affirmation of faith in the Lord, the God of Israel. Ruth’s use of the divine name Yahweh translated as the Lord in an oath indicates her commitment to the living God. She was choosing to cling not only to Naomi, her land, and her people, but also to her God. In effect, Ruth was forsaking all that she had ever known to follow the one true God. She was following in the footsteps of a Abraham, who had forsaken his family and his homeland in response to God’s command (Gen. 12:1, 4).

1:20 Naomi temporarily forgot or ignored the courageous and loyal commitment of Ruth. She wanted her name to reflect her bitterness over her circumstances so she named herself Mara, meaning “Bitter.”

1:21 The concepts of fullness and emptiness appear here. Naomi left for Moab complete, with a husband and two sons. But now she returned to Bethlehem empty. She had no family except for Ruth.

1:22 The theme of return is prominent in this chapter. The word is even used of Ruth—an unusual word for the narrator to use since there is no indication that Ruth had ever been to Israel. Ruth the Moabitess: as the story explains, God extended his protection to Ruth even though she was a foreigner. Ruth and Naomi arrived at the beginning of barley harvest. Barley was the first crop to ripen, and this period would be the beginning of the harvest season. The fact that there was a harvest season indicates that the famine in Israel had ended (1:1, 6).

2:1 Boaz was related to Naomi’s husband, Elimelech. This notice suggests the possibility of a solution for the distressed situation in which Naomi and Ruth found themselves. The status of a widow in the ancient Middle East was difficult at best. In times of trouble, the

And she said to her, “Go, my daughter.”

And they answered him, “The LORD bless you!”

<sup>5</sup>Then Boaz said to his servant who was in charge of the reapers, “Whose young woman is this?”

<sup>6</sup>So the servant who was in charge of the reapers answered and said, “It is the young Moabite woman <sup>g</sup>who came back with Naomi from the country of Moab. <sup>7</sup>And she said, ‘Please let me glean and gather after the reapers among the sheaves.’ So she came and has continued from morning until now, though she rested a little in the house.”

<sup>8</sup>Then Boaz said to Ruth, “You will listen, my daughter, will you not? Do not go to glean in another field, nor go from here, but stay close by my young women. <sup>9</sup>Let your eyes be on the field which they reap, and go after them. Have I not commanded the young men not to touch you? And when you are thirsty, go to the vessels and drink from what the young men have drawn.”

to the ground, and said to him, “Why have I found <sup>i</sup>favor in your eyes, that you should take notice of me, since I am a foreigner?”

<sup>11</sup>And Boaz answered and said to her, “It has been fully reported to me, <sup>j</sup>all that you have done for your mother-in-law since the death of your husband, and how you have left your father and your mother and the land of your birth, and have come to a people whom you did not know before. <sup>12</sup><sup>k</sup>The LORD repay your work, and a full reward be given you by the LORD God of Israel, <sup>l</sup>under whose wings you have come for refuge.”

<sup>13</sup>Then she said, <sup>m</sup>“Let me find favor in your sight, my lord; for you have comforted me, and have spoken <sup>l</sup>kindly to your maidservant, though I am not like one of your maidservants.”

<sup>14</sup>Now Boaz said to her at mealtime, “Come here, and eat of the bread, and dip your piece of bread in the vinegar.” So she sat beside the reapers, and he passed parched grain to her; and she ate and <sup>o</sup>was satisfied, and kept some back.

<sup>17</sup>So she gleaned in the field until evening, and beat out what she had gleaned, and it was about an ephah of <sup>p</sup>barley. <sup>18</sup>Then she took it up and went into the city, and her mother-in-law saw what she widow's situation was intolerable. That was why God commanded his people to care for the widow and the orphan (Deut. 24:19–22). as a relative, Boaz could stand up for the rights of these two women. he was described as a man of great wealth, a person of noble character and of high standing in the community. The name Boaz probably means “swift strength.”

2:2 The Law of Moses allowed the poor to glean in the farmers' fields (Lev. 23:22).

2:3 happened to come: Though Ruth did not intentionally go to the field of Boaz, the Lord providentially directed her steps.

2:7 The sheaves refer to bundles of grain. Ruth was not presumptuous here but in gentleness asked for a favor that she might have claimed as an entitlement. Yet as an alien, her opportunities for gleaning in the fields of Judea may have been severely limited.

2:8, 9 Boaz demonstrated extraordinary concern for Ruth's provision and protection. he even thought of Ruth's need for water in the heat of the day.

2:11, 12 Boaz explained that he favored Ruth because she had shown “loyal love” to her mother-in-law, Naomi. he then gave her a blessing, asking that God would abundantly reward Ruth for her remarkable loyalty. Boaz expressed the idea of God's protection by saying that Ruth had come under God's wings.

2:13 Now Ruth called herself the maidservant of Boaz. she no longer called herself a foreigner as she had in v. 10.

2:14–16 Boaz repeatedly demonstrated God's compassion toward the Moabite woman. Boaz went beyond the letter of the Law. he not only let Ruth glean; he also amply supplied her with food. here we see how the Law could function in the lives of godly people. It was a guide to righteous living.

2:17 The amount of barley that Ruth gleaned was more than half a bushel, more than would normally be expected for a day's work. The generosity of Boaz and the labor of Ruth produced this substantial supply. Boaz exhibited the highest form of charity by giving in secret so as not to shame the recipient.

foreigner

(heb. nokri) (2:10; Gen. 31:15; ex. 2:22; Deut. 17:15; Is. 28:21) strong's #5237

a foreigner is a person whose citizenship and loyalty belong to a different country. Because Israel was to be a special nation, there was a great danger that the Israelites would be influenced by the ways of other nations and, in the process, lose something of their special identity. That is why foreigners or outsiders were not permitted to take part in Israel's worship (ex. 12:43; eze. 44:9). on the other hand, among the prophecies of a glorious future for Israel are some in which foreigners who come to worship the Lord are given an honored place (Is. 56:3–8). In NT times, the apostle Paul insisted that the barriers between Jews and foreigners had been broken down in Jesus Christ (eph. 2:11–3:6).

had gleaned. So she brought out and gave to her <sup>q</sup> what she had kept back after she had been satisfied.

<sup>19</sup> And her mother-in-law said to her, “Where have you gleaned today? And where did you work? Blessed be the one who <sup>r</sup> took notice of you.”

So she told her mother-in-law with whom she had worked, and said, “The man’s name with whom I worked today is Boaz.”

<sup>21</sup> Ruth the Moabitess said, “He also said to me, ‘You shall stay close by my young men until they have finished all my harvest.’”

Ruth’s Redemption Assured

3 Then Naomi her mother-in-law said to her, “My daughter, <sup>a</sup> shall I not seek <sup>b</sup> security <sup>1</sup> for you, that it may be well with you? <sup>2</sup> Now Boaz, <sup>c</sup> whose young women you were with, is he not our relative? <sup>6</sup> So she went down to the threshing floor and did according to all that her mother-in-law instructed her. <sup>7</sup> And after Boaz had eaten and drunk, and <sup>e</sup> his heart was cheerful, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of grain; and she came softly, uncovered his feet, and lay down.

So she answered, “I am Ruth, your maidservant. <sup>f</sup> Take <sup>2</sup> your maidservant under your wing, for you are <sup>g</sup> a <sup>3</sup> close relative.”

<sup>10</sup> Then he said, <sup>h</sup> “Blessed are you of the LORD, my daughter! But if he does not want to perform the duty for you, then I will perform the duty for

2:20 Naomi praised the Lord for his kindness, his “loyal love.” God had not abandoned Ruth and Naomi. Instead, he had faithfully provided for their needs. A fter utter despair, Naomi once again placed her hope in God.

3:1 Once again, Naomi returned to the subject of security or rest, which she addressed in 1:9. In the first instance, she had asked God to provide her daughters-in-law the “rest” of marriage. Now she was determined to seek this rest for Ruth.

3:2 The threshing floor was located in a public place. These animals would trample the husks in order to separate the grain. Then the mixture would be tossed in the air so the wind would blow away the chaff. Boaz had to stay the night to guard his grain from thieves.

3:3 best garment: This probably referred to an outer garment that Ruth wore to keep warm in the night. eating and drinking: festivity accompanied the end of the harvest.

3:4 uncover his feet: Ruth would remove the edge of Boaz’s outer garment from his feet and lie down by his uncovered feet. holding his feet was an act of submission. This was a daring and dramatic action that would call for a decision on his part to be her protector—and, likely, her husband.

3:7, 8 Ruth came softly, that is, secretly, so that no one would see her. That she came at night was also a means of protecting Boaz from embarrassment in case he decided not to exercise his duty as a close relative.

3:9 your wing: Ruth deliberately used the same word that Boaz used in reference to God in 2:12. Though she spoke here of the edge of the garment of Boaz, she was clearly asking him for protection and security in the same way that Boaz spoke of Ruth seeking God’s protection. The final phrase, for you are a close relative, shows that she was seeking his refuge in the sense of requesting him as her marriage partner. since her husband had died without giving her a child, it was the responsibility of a close relative to marry her in order to provide an heir for her deceased husband.

3:10, 11 Boaz understood that Ruth was making a marriage proposal and praised her for not seeking younger men to marry. he knew that Ruth’s initiative was in keeping with the Law. a levirate marriage would provide her deceased husband with an heir (Deut. 25:5–10). In the ancient Middle east, not having an heir was considered a tragedy for the family. The particular kindness that Boaz spoke of was Ruth’s loyal love toward Naomi in choosing to remain with her even though she faced poverty. virtuous woman: The high praise of Boaz shows that Ruth as a godly woman had not compromised herself.

3:12 The suspense in the narrative increases when Boaz announces that there is a relative closer than he. The nearest relative would have the opportunity to carry out that responsibility first.

3:13 Boaz wanted to take immediate responsibility for Ruth and Naomi, so he asked her to stay with him so she would not be exposed to any danger by returning to her home in the middle of the night. The statement as the Lord lives reinforces the resolve of Boaz to take responsibility for Ruth.

you, <sup>n</sup>as the LORD lives! Lie down until morning.”

<sup>14</sup>So she lay at his feet until morning, and she arose before one could recognize another. Then he said, <sup>o</sup>“Do not let it be known that the woman came to the threshing floor.” <sup>15</sup>Also he said, “Bring the <sup>4</sup>shawl that is on you and hold it.” And when she held it, he measured six ephahs of barley, and laid it on her. Then <sup>5</sup>she went into the city.

<sup>16</sup>When she came to her mother-in-law, she said, <sup>6</sup>“Is that you, my daughter?”

Then she told her all that the man had done for her. <sup>17</sup>And she said, “These six ephahs of barley he gave me; for he said to me, ‘Do not go empty-handed to your mother-in-law.’”

<sup>18</sup>Then she said, <sup>p</sup>“Sit still, my daughter, until you know how the matter will turn out; for the man will not rest until he has concluded the matter this day.”

Boaz Redeems Ruth

4 Now Boaz went up to the gate and sat down there; and behold, <sup>a</sup>the close relative of whom Boaz had spoken came by. So Boaz said, “Come aside, <sup>1</sup>friend, sit down here.” So he came aside and sat down. <sup>2</sup>And he took ten men of <sup>b</sup>the elders of the city, and said, “Sit down here.” So they sat down. <sup>3</sup>Then he said to the close relative, “Naomi, who has come back from the country of Moab, sold the piece of land <sup>c</sup>which belonged to our brother Elimelech. <sup>4</sup>And I thought to <sup>2</sup>inform you, saying, <sup>d</sup>“Buy it back <sup>e</sup>in the presence of the inhabitants and the elders of my people. If you will redeem it, redeem it; but if <sup>3</sup>you will not redeem it, then tell me, that I may know; <sup>f</sup>for there is no one but you to redeem it, and I am next after you.”

And he said, “I will redeem it.”

<sup>5</sup>Then Boaz said, “On the day you buy the field from the hand of Naomi, you must also buy it from Ruth the Moabite, the wife of the dead, <sup>g</sup>to <sup>4</sup>perpetuate the name of the dead through his inheritance.”

<sup>6</sup>And the close relative said, “I cannot redeem it for myself, lest I ruin my own inheritance. You redeem my right of redemption for yourself, for I cannot redeem it.”

<sup>7</sup>Now this was the custom in former times in Israel concerning redeeming and exchanging, to confirm anything: one man took off his sandal and gave it to the other, and this was a confirmation in Israel.

<sup>8</sup>Therefore the close relative said to Boaz, “Buy it for yourself.” So he took off his sandal. <sup>9</sup>And Boaz said to the elders and all the people, “You are witnesses this day that I have bought all that was Elimelech’s, and all that was Chilion’s

3:14 before one could recognize another: Ruth left at early dawn, in order to avoid anyone who might recognize her. Boaz probably did not want anyone to misconstrue what had taken place.

3:15 a gain Boaz demonstrated loyal love or kindness by his gift of barley grain to Ruth and Naomi. laid it on her: Boaz probably helped raise the barley to Ruth’s head in order for Ruth to carry it home to Naomi.

3:16 Is that you: These words are possibly a comment on the radiance of the woman whose life was about to change so radically.

3:17 empty-handed: The theme of emptiness and fullness is repeated here (1:21).

3:18 Naomi was confident that Boaz would see the matter through to its conclusion the same day. Boaz had repeatedly demonstrated that he was an upright and compassionate man by his continuing provision for the two women.

4:1, 2 official and legal business typically occurred at the gate of a city, so it was natural for Boaz to speak with the other close relative there in the presence of the elders of the community. During the time of the kings, a ruler might come to the city gate to proclaim a public judgment.

4:3 one of the duties of the close relative was to redeem land that had been sold by the family due to poverty. sold: This verb could be translated “about to sell.” Verse 5 indicates that the sale was still in the future, and v. 9 states that Boaz purchased the land from Naomi.

4:4 Boaz offered the land to the closer relative first; this man initially agreed to purchase it. The Law provided for land to stay within a family, even if it had to be sold temporarily due to poverty. The seller could redeem the land later, or a close relative could redeem it. If neither of these alternatives was possible, the land would be returned to the family in the Year of Jubilee, every fiftieth year. Land was not sold permanently because it ultimately belonged to God (Lev. 25:23).

4:5 To perpetuate the name of the dead makes it clear that the close relative was needed to buy the land but also to take Ruth as his wife. This was in accordance with the levirate law, which provided for an heir for the deceased. here the dead relative was Mahlon, Ruth’s husband (4:10). In carrying on the name of Mahlon, the line of elimelech would continue.

4:6 When the close relative discovered that he was expected to marry Ruth, he declined his right of redemption because his own inheritance might be ruined. he apparently did not want the double responsibility of buying the field and supporting Naomi and Ruth. In addition, he did not want the field to be inherited by Ruth’s future son instead of members of his own family.

4:7, 8 The removal of a sandal was part of a legal transaction in ancient Israel (Deut. 25:8–10). It would parallel the modern custom of concluding a transaction by signing a document or handing over a set of keys. By handing over his shoe, the close relative was symbolically handing over his right to walk on the land that was being sold.

4:9 The witnesses at the gate played a significant role in validating

The hebrew word refers to a relative who acted as a protector or guarantor of the family rights. he could be called upon to perform a number of duties: (1) to buy back property that the family had sold; (2) to provide an heir for a deceased brother by marrying that brother’s wife and producing a child with her; (3) to buy back a family member who had been sold into slavery due to poverty; and (4) to avenge a relative who had been murdered by killing the murderer. The scripture calls God the Redeemer or the “close relative” of Israel (Is. 60:16), and Jesus the Redeemer of all believers (1 Pet. 1:18, 19).

the transaction. Chilion and Mahlon: elimelech's sons would have been the heirs of their father's land. from the hand of Naomi: The land was bought from elimelech's widow, Naomi.

4:10 acquired: In addition to redeeming the land, Boaz also redeemed Ruth by taking her as his wife. In contrast to the land, Ruth was not bought. <sup>s</sup>he did not require a purchase price nor was Boaz required to redeem her. <sup>h</sup>e willingly chose to be her redeemer. Boaz was a blood relative of elimelech, and he was financially able to take on the responsibilities of redemption. Mahlon: This verse adds the detail that Ruth had been the wife of the brother named Mahlon, a detail omitted from ch. 1.

4:11 The people and the elders affirmed the legal proceeding with their response, we are witnesses. Then the crowd gave Ruth a remarkable blessing by asking that the LORD make her like Rachel and Leah, Israel's founding mothers (Gen. 35:23–26), even though Ruth was a Moabite, she was fully and eagerly accepted by the Israelites. The Law of Moses demanded the exclusion of the Moabites from the congregation of Israel for ten generations (1:22). In this exceptional case we see a beautiful example of the spirit of the Law being maintained. Ruth loyally loved Naomi by leaving her homeland and serving her mother-in-law even in the worst of circumstances. In turn, God rewarded Ruth by extending his loyal love to her. <sup>h</sup>e gave this foreigner a godly husband, accepted her as one of his people, and gave her a child who would be an ancestor of king David and ultimately of Jesus (vv. 13, 22).

4:12 The Book of Ruth is replete with allusions to the Pentateuch. Here the name of Tamar refers to another story about the spirit of the Law (Gen. 38). Certainly Tamar's behavior would not normally be commended. Yet she was desperate because her husband's brothers would not fulfill their responsibility to her, and in the end Judah praised her as more righteous than himself (Gen. 38:26), even in Tamar's deplorable situation, God mercifully blessed her with a son, and this son Perez was an ancestor to king David (v. 18). Like Ruth, Rahab was a Gentile woman. Yet God extended his loyal love to Rahab because of her faith in him and included her in the messianic line.

4:13 the LORD gave her conception: Children are a gift from God. <sup>h</sup>e fashions every person in the womb of the mother (Ps. 139:13).

4:14, 15 here the close relative is not Boaz but his newborn son, the grandson of Naomi. The women praised God for his provision for Naomi. They offered a blessing for the child, asking that his fame be extended throughout Israel and that he would comfort Naomi and nourish her in her old age. Naomi's emptiness had been replaced with fullness through the birth of this boy. <sup>s</sup>ons were considered a great reward, so for the women to state that Ruth is better to Naomi than seven sons was considerable praise for Ruth.

4:17 The theme of Naomi's fullness continues to dominate as the neighbor women declared that a child was born to Naomi. his name was Obed, signifying "one Who serves." The author at last reveals how Ruth, a Moabite woman, had become part of the royal Davidic line and, thus, the messianic line (see Matt. 1:5).

4:18–22 The story concludes with David's genealogy, beginning with Perez, the son of Judah and Tamar. This genealogy could have been added to the book long after the original writing was complete, but more probably the book as a whole was composed at a later date than the events described. The genealogy of David is not really an appendix, but an essential element demonstrating the author's purpose—and the purpose of the Lord in the building of the family line of king David and the Messiah. The story of Boaz's redemption of a foreign woman points to Jesus' great redemption of all those who believe in him.

THE FIRST BOOK OF SAMUEL

FIRST SAMUEL RECOUNTS King Saul's extraordinary rise to power and influence and his subsequent tragic fall. In this sense, the book reads like a classic Greek tragedy or Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman. Saul's good looks, his physical size, and his success in war made him an obvious choice to be first king of Israel. But the author of 1 Samuel highlights Saul's tragic flaw—his disobedience of God's commands (13:7–12; 15:10–26). Because of his disobedience, God rejected him. Abandoned by God, Saul quickly lost his courage, became jealous of David's success, and eventually lost his mind. From the ashes of this tragedy, God raised up another king who would obey the directives of the one true King, the God of Israel.

Title First Samuel is appropriately named after Samuel, the principal character of the early narratives and the one who anointed Israel's first two kings, Saul and David.

First and Second Samuel were originally one book, "The Book of Samuel" in the Hebrew Scriptures. When these Scriptures were translated into Greek, around 150 B.C., Samuel and Kings were brought together into a complete history of the Hebrew monarchy. This unit of Scripture was divided into four sections: First, Second, Third, and Fourth Kingdoms. Samuel and Kings were later separated again, but the divisions of the Greek translation persisted. The result was a 1 and 2 Samuel and a 1 and 2 Kings.

Author and Date The Jewish tradition suggests that Samuel was the author of the first part of the book (chs. 1–24), and that the prophet Nathan and the seer Gad were the authors of the remainder, including 2 Samuel. Another editor at a later date could have taken the memoirs of Samuel, Nathan, Gad, and others and woven them under the guidance of the Holy Spirit into the wonderfully unified book we have today.

A number of critical scholars have dated the book around the middle of the sixth century—much later than the lives of Samuel and Nathan (c. 1100–1010 B.C.). It is obvious that at least some parts of the book were written after the death of Samuel (25:1; 28:3), and perhaps even after the division of the monarchy (27:6). However, there is no reference to the fall of Samaria to the Assyrians (722 B.C.), and it is reasonable to assume that the book was complete by the last quarter of the eighth century B.C. The eighth-century author used documents dating back to David's reign or shortly after (1025–900 B.C.). The author included eyewitness accounts, and the antiquity of some linguistic features indicate that parts of the book were written at an early period.

Historical Setting At the beginning of 1 Samuel, the nation of Israel was at a religious low point. Even the priesthood was corrupt (2:12–17). To make things worse, Samuel's sons who served as judges in Beersheba were also dishonest (8:2, 3). With such evil leaders as models, the people of Israel showed open disdain for the word of God and refused to listen to His prophet Samuel (8:19).

Yet in the midst of widespread corruption and apostasy, there was a righteous remnant of Israelites who faithfully worshiped God (1:3). The worship center of Israel at this time was located at Shiloh, where the tabernacle was set up (1:3; Josh. 18:1). However, even the contents of the tabernacle were not left undisturbed during these tumultuous and evil times. The ark of the covenant was captured by the Philistines (4:11). After a seven-month sojourn among the Philistine cities (5:1—6:16), the ark was returned to Beth shemesh (6:19) and then kept at Kirjath Jearim (7:1) until David brought it to Jerusalem (2 sam. 6:1–17).

During this time, the Israelites became dissatisfied with the abusive rule of the judges (8:3). The people longed for the glories of a monarchy such as they saw in the surrounding nations. So the Lord allowed the Israelites to have their way. He gave them a king like the other nations: the handsome and tall King Saul (10:1). Although Saul appeared to be well suited for leading a nation, his reign ended in tragedy because he ignored the word of God. Much of the action of 1 Samuel is associated with the tumultuous life, reign, and decline of Saul, contrasted with the rapid rise of the young and faithful David.

During this early period of the Israelite monarchy (c. 1050–970 B.C.), the great empires of the ancient Middle East were in a state of weakness. The Hittites of Asia Minor had passed into insignificance. Assyria was in a state of decline, and Egypt was weakened by internal conflict. The Philistines constituted Israel's main threat during this period. Their skill in working iron had given them a decided military and economic advantage over Israel. Yet the threat of the Philistines had a positive impact on Israel's political situation. It caused the infant nation to unite under the leadership of its first kings, Saul and David.

Purpose and Literary Form The purpose of 1 Samuel is to provide an official account of the rise of the monarchy during the time of Samuel and the development of it under Saul and David. The book particularly focuses on the rise of David during this period.

In fact, the second half of the book and first half of 2 Samuel amount to an apology for David's rise to the throne. The similarities of this section to the Apology of Hattusilis, a thirteenth-century B.C. writing, are remarkable. In this ancient document, a Hittite king outlined the reasons for the legitimacy of his rule. Such an apology was particularly important in the case of a king—like David—who founded a new dynasty. Hattusilis's dynastic defense included the following elements:

1. a detailed description of the disqualifications of the preceding ruler (compare 1 sam. 15:1–35).
2. an extended history of events leading up to the new king's accession (compare 1 sam. 16:1 and 2 sam. 5:17).
3. a defense of the new king's ability to rule, as evidenced by military achievements (compare 1 sam. 17:1–58).
4. a record of the new king's leniency on political foes, in contrast to usurpers, who typically assassinated the former king (compare 24:1–10; 26:1–9).
5. a report of the new king's interest in religion (compare 2 sam. 6:1–19; 7:1–29).
6. a conclusion that included a summary of the new king's reign, demonstrating the divine blessing on his rule as evidenced by the expansion of his kingdom and the establishment of peace with surrounding nations (compare 2 sam. 8:1–18).

The similarities between the Apology of Hattusilis and 1 Samuel 15:1 through 2 Samuel 8:18 illustrate clearly how that part of 1 and 2 Samuel serves as an apology for David's reign. Part of the apology is the irrefutable evidence that God himself had chosen David for the throne (16:1–13). Initially, David was a surprising choice—an undistinguished member of a rural family. Yet his remarkable faith in the Lord distinguished David from his fellow Israelites and from saul (17:1–51). God shaped David’s character while he was on the run from saul’s erratic wrath. In these distressing times, David learned to trust in God for deliverance. Although he made mistakes, he always turned back to God for mercy. For this reason, David was called the man after God’s own heart (13:14).

CHRIST IN THE SCRIPTURES

First samuel focuses on the life of David and reveals details that definitely point to the one who would be called by his name. Like Jesus, David is born in the sleepy little village of Bethlehem. His reputation as a shepherd is validated by his years with his father’s flocks. This lowly shepherd becomes the king of the Jews. He is the anointed king who becomes the forerunner of the messianic king. Through years of struggle and danger, David tastes the kind of rejection Jesus would fully digest. Many of his psalms reveal his firsthand experience of being forsaken (Ps. 22; Matt. 27:46).

David is the most famous of Jesus’ earthly ancestors in the long and distinguished messianic line. In addition to being referred to as the “son of David” (Luke 18:38), Jesus is called “the seed of David according to the flesh” (Rom. 1:3) and “the Root and the offspring of David” (Rev. 22:16).

Polygamy

Polygamy was an accepted social custom throughout the ancient Middle east. It was also a common practice among the ancient Israelites. In ancient Israel, failure to have children was regarded as a family tragedy, for several reasons. In an agrarian culture, children were needed to help with the work of everyday life. Without sons, the family name would not be preserved, and without an heir, the family would be unable to maintain its place in the tribal allotments. Finally, a woman without children would never be the mother—or an ancestor—of the promised Messiah (Gen. 3:15). Elkanah most likely took a second wife, Peninnah, for a reason that was legitimate in the ancient world: his first wife was barren. At that time, the blame for not having children was always assigned to the woman, and barrenness was often the cause of divorce. Even though polygamy was an accepted custom, God's law warned rulers against marrying many women (Deut. 17:17).

LORD. <sup>10</sup><sup>m</sup> And she was in bitterness of soul, and prayed to the LORD and <sup>4</sup>wept in anguish. <sup>11</sup>Then she <sup>n</sup>made a vow and said, "O LORD of hosts, if You will indeed <sup>o</sup>look on the affliction of Your maidservant and <sup>p</sup>remember me, and not forget Your maidservant, but will give Your maidservant a male child, then I will give him to the LORD all the days of his life, and <sup>q</sup>no razor shall come upon his head." <sup>12</sup>And it happened, as she continued praying before the LORD, that Eli watched

1:1 Ramathaim Zophim is another name for Ramah (v. 19), a village about five miles north of Jerusalem. The mountains of Ephraim refers to the hill country primarily occupied by the tribe of Ephraim. Elkanah, whose Hebrew name means "God has Created," was a Levite (1 Chr. 6:26, 34). He is referred to as an Ephraimite since he lived in the territory of Ephraim.

1:3 yearly: God's law called for the Israelites to attend three annual pilgrim festivals in Jerusalem (ex. 34:23; Deut. 16:16). The LORD of hosts is a military designation referring to God as the one who commands the angelic armies of heaven (1 Kin. 22:19; Luke 2:13; Rev. 19:14) and the armies of Israel (17:45). Shiloh, located about 20 miles north of Jerusalem, was the religious center for the nation at this time and the location of the tabernacle (Josh. 18:1). Eli, Hophni, and Phinehas served as priests at Shiloh, officiating at the sacrifices presented in the court of the tabernacle. Eli may mean "God is high." Hophni means "Tadpole." Phinehas may come from an Egyptian word meaning "Black one."

1:4, 5 The double portion was designed to compensate Hannah for her lack of children and demonstrate Elkanah's love for her. The LORD had closed her womb: God is the one who provides the ability to conceive children (see Gen. 33:5; Ps. 127:3).

1:6 Her rival refers to Peninnah, Elkanah's other wife, who took every occasion to flaunt her children before Hannah.

1:7 she went up: God's law demanded that the men of Israel appear before Him on three festival occasions. Many brought their families with them, but it was not required that they do so. This verse shows

Hannah's devotion to the Lord in that she also made annual treks to Shiloh to worship God. she wept and did not eat: Peninnah's constant taunting drove Hannah to depression.

1:8 While Peninnah provoked Hannah, Elkanah sought to encourage her. He suggested that his love for Hannah was a greater blessing than having ten sons.

1:9 eating and drinking: The worship of God involved not only the sacrifice of animals, but also lavish banquets of meat and wine. Eli, Israel's high priest and judge (4:18), was from the family of Ithamar, Aaron's fourth son (1 Kin. 2:27; 1 Chr. 24:1, 3). The last high priest mentioned before him was Phinehas, the son of Eleazar (Judg. 20:28). It is not known why or how the office of high priest passed from the house of Eleazar to that of Ithamar. The doorpost of the tabernacle refers to the entrance of the place of worship, where people would approach Eli for judicial rulings.

1:11 Within the context of her prayer, Hannah made a vow to God. She promised that if God would give her a son, the child would be given back to God. Levites customarily served from age 25 to 50 (Num. 4:3; 8:24-26). Yet Hannah dedicated her son for lifelong service. The words no razor shall come upon his head refer to the law of the Nazirite (Num. 6:2-6). The Nazirite vow involved a designated period of time (usually no more than a few weeks or months) during which there was a commitment to refrain completely from wine, from cutting the hair, and touching any dead body. Hannah promised that her son would be a Nazirite for life.

1:12-14 Eli watched her mouth: From a distance, Eli was unable her mouth. <sup>13</sup>Now Hannah spoke in her heart; only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard. Therefore Eli thought she was drunk. <sup>14</sup>So Eli said to her, “How long will you be drunk? Put your wine away from you!”

Samuel Is Born and Dedicated

Hannah's Prayer

 Nor is there any g rock like our God.

<sup>3</sup> “Talk no more so very proudly;

to understand what hannah was saying. Because of the long time she spent in prayer, eli assumed that she had drunk too much wine.

1:15 Intoxicating drink is an older translation of the word meaning “beer.” Poured out my soul before the LORD is an excellent description of fervent prayer (see Ps. 62:8; Phil. 4:6, 7; 1 Pet. 5:7).

1:16 The hebrew for wicked woman, literally “daughter of Belial,” means “without value.” Belial was later used as a proper name for satan (see 2 Cor. 6:15).

1:17, 18 Go in peace: hannah’s changed countenance seems to indicate that she experienced God’s peace (see Phil. 4:6, 7) as she waited for the answer to her prayer.

1:19 Elkanah knew Hannah means that he slept with her (see Gen. 4:1). The word remembered indicates that God began to intervene on hannah’s behalf to answer her prayer.

1:20 The birth of hannah’s son is part of a long history of godly women and men praying for a child as God’s gift (see Gen. 12:1–3). When hannah gave birth, she named her son Samuel, which means “Name of God.”

1:22 until the child is weaned: hebrew children were normally weaned when they were two or three years old.

1:23 according to the law, elkanah might have declared hannah’s vow a rash promise and prohibited her from fulfilling it (Num. 30:10–15). The fact that he did not do so shows his love and esteem for hannah.

1:24, 25 three bulls: God’s law required that a burnt offering be given at the completion of a special vow (Num. 15:3, 8). Two of the bulls likely served as a present for eli and the third one was sacrificed. One ephah was roughly five gallons. A skin of wine was for the drink offering.

1:26, 27 hannah offered a testimony of what God had accomplished on her behalf. By telling others, she exalted God and praised him for his gracious acts toward her.

1:28 lent him to the LORD: The hebrew word translated lent has the idea of a complete giving up of the child to God. they worshiped: The hebrew word for worship means “bow down.” This is the humble response of grateful people who acknowledge the majesty of God.

2:1 hannah began her prayer by rejoicing in the Lord for having been given a child. My horn is exalted: used figuratively, a horn represents power and strength, like that of an ox (see Dan. 7:21; Zech. 1:18–21). With exalted horn means with head high, conscious of strength. hannah’s sense of strength was in God, who had answered her prayer.

2:2 No one is holy like the LORD: That which is holy is marked off, separated, and withdrawn from ordinary use. Holy is the opposite of profane or common. The image of a rock when applied to God, speaks of his eternity, stability, and reliability (see Deut. 32:4; 2 sam. 22:2, 3).

2:3 hannah addressed all the proud, not only Peninnah, but all who

 Ramah. But the child <sup>4</sup> ministered to the LORD before Eli the priest.

The Wicked Sons of Eli

<sup>b</sup> they did not know the LORD. <sup>13</sup> And the priests’ custom with the people was that when any man offered a sacrifice, the priest’s servant would come with a three-pronged fleshhook in his hand while the meat was boiling. <sup>14</sup> Then he would thrust it into the pan, or kettle, or cal-dron, or pot; and the priest would take for himself all that the fleshhook brought up. So they did in <sup>c</sup> Shiloh to all the Israelites who came there. <sup>15</sup> Also, before they <sup>d</sup> burned the fat, the priest’s servant would come and say to the man who sacrificed, “Give meat for roasting to the priest, for he will not take boiled meat from you, but raw.”

<sup>16</sup> And if the man said to him, “They should really burn the fat first; then you boast. since the God of knowledge knows all things, he will appraise our performance along with our words and our promises.

2:4, 5 hannah mentioned three examples—military power, wealth, and the birth of children—of how God reverses human circumstances, humbling the proud and exalting the lowly. Mary made the same point in her song (Luke 1:46–55).

2:6 The word grave refers to the place of the dead for both the righteous and the wicked (see Gen. 37:35). The sovereign God who brings death also brings up from the grave. This verse may refer to God’s power to resurrect the dead (see Ps. 16:10; Dan. 12:2).

2:7, 8 dust . . . ash heap: These parallel terms describe the festering compost piles outside the city walls where people dumped their refuse, including the ash from ovens. It was there that beggars and lepers would sit and solicit alms. hannah used the image to indicate the deepest degradation: God assists those in the worst circumstances (see Ps. 113:7–9).

2:9, 10 In line with the pattern of ancient wisdom literature, hannah contrasted the righteous and the wicked. The Lord would keep His saints from stumbling, but the adversaries of the LORD would face certain calamity. The hebrew word for anointed means “Messiah.” This phrase points to the ultimate king, before whom every knee shall bow (see Phil. 2:10). hannah saw the work of God in granting her a child as another step in the fulfillment of his promise to the mothers of Israel, that he would one day provide through them a Messiah.

2:12 Were corrupt is literally “were sons of Belial,” persons of no value (30:22). did not know the LORD: They had no personal, intimate knowledge. The priests were teachers of God’s law and officiated at his sacrifices. how tragic for them to know so much about the things of God and yet not know him personally.

2:13–15 The priests’ rightful share of a sacrifice was the breast and the right thigh of the animal (Lev. 7:34). eli’s sons sinned by taking any part they wanted and demanding the meat immediately, before the part consecrated to God, the fat, had been burned on the altar (Lev. 3:3, 5).

2:16 if the man said: In this instance, the layperson knew God’s Word and the importance of obedience better than the priests.

darkness

(heb. choshek) (2:9; Gen. 1:2; Job 10:21; Is. 5:30; 9:2; Joel 2:2, 31) strong’s #2822

Darkness existed before the light of creation (Gen. 1:2).
 since darkness was associated with the chaos that existed before the creation, it came to be associated with evil, bad luck, or affliction (Job 17:12; 21:17). Darkness was also equated with death. In sheol, the land of the dead, there is only darkness (Job 10:21, 22; 38:17). Darkness symbolizes human ignorance of God’s will, and thus is associated with sin (Job 24:13–17). Darkness also describes the condition of those who have not yet seen the light concerning Jesus (John 1:4, 5; 12:35; eph. 5:14) and those who deliberately turn away from the light (John 3:19, 20). hating the light will bring condemnation (Col. 1:13; 2 Pet. 2:17). Living in extreme darkness describes those who at the end of time have not repented (Rev. 16:10; 18:23).

may take as much as your heart desires,” he would then answer him, “No, but you must give it now; and if not, I will take it by force.”

Samuel's Childhood Ministry

Prophecy Against Eli's Household

<sup>22</sup>Now Eli was very old; and he heard everything his sons did to all Israel, <sup>9</sup>and how they lay with <sup>n</sup>the women who assembled at the door of the tabernacle of meeting. <sup>23</sup>So he said to them, “Why do you do such things? For I hear of your

2:17 abhorred: eli's sons dishonored God by doing their priestly duties with irreverence and disrespect. Those who regularly handle the things of God are sometimes in grave danger of carelessly and presumptuously performing the sacred duties entrusted to them.

2:18 The linen ephod was a sleeveless garment that was worn by priests, especially when officiating at the altar (see 2:28; 22:18; ex. 28:6-14). o occasionally it was worn by others engaged in religious ceremonies, such as David (2 sam. 6:14), and here by samuel.

2:19 The little robe made by hannah is different from the ephod mentioned in v. 18. It was probably a long outer garment like those worn by people of rank or special status. The fact that hannah made such a robe indicated her love for her son, whom she could visit only on rare occasions.

2:20 the loan that was given: The word loan here indicates a complete giving up of the child to God (1:28).

2:21 visited Hannah: God came to hannah to grant her request, as he had to sarah (Gen. 21:1). In his gracious condescension, he comes near to his people to meet their needs (see Ruth 1:8). In other circumstances, God's visit may be for the purpose of judgment (see hos. 1:4).

2:23, 24 eli's protests seem weak in view of the enormity of his sons' sins.

One Woman's Devotion

out of the materialism and ruthlessness of Israel during the period of the judges, hannah emerged as a woman of faith. From her home in the hills north of Jerusalem, she had traveled to shiloh, the national place of worship. Her sadness of heart and persistence in prayer contrasted sharply with the prevalent corruption in worship led by eli's sons (2:12-17).

Hannah bringing Samuel to Eli

hannah's personal life was one of despair in her childlessness as she recoiled from Peninnah's pestering reproaches. Her prayer exhibited selflessness as she pled for a son whom she might present to God for his use (1:11). Clearly, hannah was loved and valued for herself by her husband, elkanah, but even the intensity of a devoted husband's love could not penetrate her inner disquiet nor overcome her yearning for a child (1:8). The throbbing emotions of her despair were so evident in hannah's prayers that the aged eli accused her of drunkenness. But beyond her prayers and tears, a vow erupted. hannah, in effect, made a pact with God; she pledged to give back to him the precious life he might give to her. God honored her bold and decisive act.

hannah's faith was rewarded, and she named her son samuel (in hebrew, "Name of God") because she "asked for him from the LORD" (1:20). according to custom, she probably nursed him several years, giving time for her to convey to samuel her own spirit of deep reverence and piety and also to knit her heart with his through maternal bonding. Nonetheless, she kept her word to the Lord. Into the defiled worship center she placed her very young, impressionable son. although humanly it seemed to border on foolishness, this was an act of saintly sacrifice. her commitment was to God; her gift had been pre-arranged with him. With prophetic insight she planted the next generation just as promised.

samuel grew up to become the last judge, an outstanding and gifted prophet, and the one who would anoint the first two kings of Israel. samuel was the pivotal spiritual leader who turned the nation toward Yahweh. his mother hannah played her part in this spiritual awakening as she trusted God, leaving for all posterity an example of determined devotion in her motherhood.

<sup>27</sup>Then a <sup>t</sup>man of God came to Eli and said to him, "Thus says the LORD: <sup>u</sup>"Did I not clearly reveal Myself to the house of your father when they were in Egypt in Pharaoh's house? <sup>28</sup>Did I not <sup>v</sup>choose him out of all the tribes of Israel to be My priest, to offer upon My altar, to burn incense, and to wear an ephod before Me? And <sup>w</sup>did I not give to the house of your father all the offerings of the children of Israel made by fire? <sup>29</sup>Why do you <sup>x</sup>kick at My sacrifice and My offering which I have commanded in My <sup>y</sup>dwelling place, and honor your sons more than <sup>z</sup>Me, to make yourselves fat with the best of all the offerings of Israel My people?"

<sup>30</sup>Therefore the LORD God of Israel says: <sup>a</sup>"I said indeed that your house and the house of your father would walk before Me forever.' But now the LORD says: <sup>b</sup>'Far be it from Me; for those who honor Me I will honor, and <sup>c</sup>those who despise Me shall be lightly esteemed. <sup>31</sup>Behold, <sup>d</sup>the days are coming that I will cut off your <sup>2</sup>arm and the arm of your father's house, so that there will not be an old man in your house. <sup>32</sup>And you will see an enemy in My dwelling place, despite all the good which God does for Israel. #### Samuel's First Prophecy

3 Now <sup>a</sup>the boy Samuel ministered to the LORD before Eli. And <sup>b</sup>the word of the LORD was rare in those days; there was no widespread revelation. <sup>2</sup>And it came to pass at that time, while Eli was lying down in his place, and when his eyes had begun to grow <sup>c</sup>so dim that he could not see, <sup>3</sup>and before <sup>d</sup>the lamp of God went out in the <sup>1</sup>tabernacle of the LORD where the ark of God was, and while Samuel was lying down, <sup>4</sup>that the LORD called Samuel. And he answered, "Here I am!" <sup>5</sup>So he ran to Eli and said, "Here I am, for you called me."

And he said, "I did not call; lie down again." And he went and lay down.

<sup>6</sup>Then the LORD called yet again, "Samuel!"

So Samuel arose and went to Eli, and said, "Here I am, for you called me." He

2:26 Compare the description of samuel's childhood with that of Jesus (Luke 2:52). The contrast between samuel and eli's sons is inescapable.

2:27 The man of God was an unidentified prophet or spokesman for the Lord. Your father is a reference to aaron, the brother of Moses and Miriam and the divinely appointed founder of the priestly house in Israel (ex. 4:14-16; Num. 3:1-4).

2:29 eli had warned his sons of divine judgment (v. 25), but he had never really rebuked them for their sins (3:13). By neglecting his parental duty, he was in effect favoring his sons above God.

2:30 I said: as descendants of aaron, eli's family benefited from the promise God had given to aaron and his sons that they would be a priesthood forever (ex. 29:9).

2:31-34 The prophet predicted the destruction of the priestly family of eli. The judgment was partially fulfilled in the massacre of the priests of Nob (22:11-19), and was ultimately fulfilled when the priesthood was transferred to the family of Zadok in the time of solomon (1 kin. 2:26, 27, 35).

2:34 The deaths of Hophni and Phinehas would validate the truth of the prophecy (4:17).

2:35 The faithful priest refers to Zadok, who was faithful to God and to the line of David and solomon (1 kin. 1:7, 8; 2:26, 27, 35). To build him a sure house means to guarantee a long line of succession for this faithful priest.

2:36 The impoverishment predicted here was probably fulfilled when a biathar, a descendant of eli, was dismissed from the priesthood by solomon (see 1 kin. 2:27).

3:1 The word translated boy means "youth." It was used of David when he slew Goliath (17:33). rare in those days: samuel was called at a time of extremely limited prophetic activity, probably because there were so few faithful Israelites who would listen (Judg. 21:25).

3:2 lying down in his place: eli apparently was quartered in the court of the tabernacle, where cells were built for the priests who served the sanctuary.

3:3 The lamp of God is the gold lampstand that was located in the holy place of the tabernacle (see ex. 27:20, 21; Lev. 24:2-4). The fact that it had not yet gone out indicates that samuel's call took place just before dawn.

3:4-8 Three times samuel mistook God's voice for the voice of eli. samuel had been assisting eli in serving the tabernacle, but he did not yet know the LORD in an intimate and personal way. he had never heard God's voice. he had never received the word of the LORD by divine revelation.

answered, “I did not call, my son; lie down again.” <sup>7</sup> (Now Samuel <sup>e</sup> did not yet know the LORD, nor was the word of the LORD yet revealed to him.)

<sup>8</sup> And the LORD called Samuel again the third time. So he arose and went to Eli, and said, “Here I am, for you did call me.”

Then Eli perceived that the LORD had called the boy. <sup>9</sup> Therefore Eli said to Samuel, “Go, lie down; and it shall be, if He calls you, that you must say, <sup>f</sup> ‘Speak, LORD, for Your servant hears.’” So Samuel went and lay down in his place.

<sup>10</sup> Now the LORD came and stood and called as at other times, “Samuel! Samuel!”

And Samuel answered, “Speak, for Your servant hears.”

<sup>11</sup> Then the LORD said to Samuel: “Behold, I will do something in Israel <sup>g</sup> at which both ears of everyone who hears it will tingle. <sup>12</sup> In that day I will perform against Eli <sup>h</sup> all that I have spoken concerning his house, from beginning to end. <sup>13</sup> <sup>i</sup> For I have told him that I will <sup>j</sup> judge his house forever for the iniquity which he knows, because <sup>k</sup> his sons made themselves vile, and he <sup>l</sup> did not <sup>2</sup> restrain them. <sup>14</sup> And therefore I have sworn to the house of Eli that the iniquity of Eli’s

<sup>15</sup> So Samuel lay down until <sup>3</sup> morning, and opened the doors of the house of the LORD. And Samuel was afraid to tell Eli the vision. <sup>16</sup> Then Eli called Samuel and said, “Samuel, my son!”

He answered, “Here I am.”

<sup>17</sup> And he said, “What is the word that the LORD spoke to you? Please do not hide it from me. <sup>n</sup> God do so to you, and more also, if you hide anything from me of all the things that He said to you.” <sup>18</sup> Then Samuel told him everything, and hid nothing from him. And he said, <sup>o</sup> “It is the LORD. Let Him do what seems good to Him.”

<sup>19</sup> So Samuel <sup>p</sup> grew, and <sup>q</sup> the LORD was with him <sup>r</sup> and let none of his words <sup>4</sup> fall to the ground. <sup>20</sup> And all Israel <sup>s</sup> from Dan to Beersheba knew that Samuel had been <sup>5</sup> established as a prophet of the LORD. <sup>21</sup> Then the LORD appeared again in Shiloh. For the LORD revealed Himself to Samuel in Shiloh by <sup>t</sup> the word of the LORD.

The Ark of God Captured

Now Israel went out to battle against the Philistines, and encamped beside

3:10 the LORD came and stood: These words reflect samuel’s very real sense of God’s presence. This appears to have been a theophany, a visible appearance of God, as in Gen. 12:7.

3:12 from beginning to end: The judgment would extend from the death of eli’s sons and continue until the whole prophecy given by the man of God (2:27–36) was fulfilled.

3:13 I have told him: The message was given through the anonymous “man of God” (2:27–36). I will judge: No descendants of eli would serve as priest. made themselves vile: These were supposed to have been the esteemed priests of God, but they turned their privilege into disaster. he did not restrain them: here we learn of eli’s personal failure as a father. The word translated restrain occurs only here in the hebrew Bible. It suggests a rebuke that sets things right.

3:14 shall not be atoned: eli and his sons were guilty of presumptuous sin (see Num. 15:30, 31). for such a sin, there was no atoning sacrifice.

3:15 The doors of the house refers to the entrance of the court of the tabernacle. after the people settled in Canaan, the tabernacle was set up permanently at shiloh, and a walled enclosure with doors replaced the curtains which once surrounded the sanctuary.

3:17 The phrase God do so to you, and more also is an oath. eli was saying, “May God do something terrible, and worse, if you don’t tell me the truth.”

3:18 Let Him do: eli submitted to God and accepted God’s judgment. even with all his failures as a father, eli remained faithful to God.

3:19 the LORD was with him: This was the key to samuel’s success as a prophet (see Matt. 28:20). God remained with him. let none of his words fall: all the prophecies God delivered through samuel were fulfilled.

3:20 The expression Dan to Beersheba denotes the whole territory of Israel, from its most northern to its most southern point (see Judg. 20:1). The term prophet means “spokesman” and refers to one who speaks for another (see ex. 7:1, 2).

4:1 The Philistines, known in egyptian texts as the “sea Peoples,” were Indo-europeans who migrated from the aegean Islands and a sia Minor to the eastern Mediterranean coastal region in the twelfth century B.C. Migrations had occurred earlier, for a braham and Isaac had contact with the Philistines as early as the twentieth century B.C. With their aggressive invasions and the fortress cities at a shkelon, a shddo, ekron, Gath, and Gaza, the Philistines established strong political and military control of the southern coastal plain of Palestine. With their iron weapons, the Philistines became a significant threat to israelite security. The battle mentioned here took place between Ebenezer and Aphek. The name ebenezzer means “stone of help,” and it commemorates Israel’s victory at the same site about 20 years later (7:12). a phok, located 13 miles northeast of Joppa, was a strategic border city at the northern limit of Philistine territory (29:1).

The hebrew word translated hears also means “to listen” or “to obey.” This important o T word appears over 1,100 times. It implies that the listener is giving his or her total attention to the one who is speaking. In some cases, the word connotes more than listening and indicates obedience to what has been said. a braham was blessed not only for hearing, but for obeying God’s voice (see Gen. 22:18 where the word is translated obeyed). In the present passage samuel is listening for God’s word and is determined to obey it. This young man is an example of the kind of person God delights to use—one who is always ready to receive his Word and follow it.

Dan to Beersheba

Dan was located further north than any other village in Israel during much of the oT period. Archaeologists excavating at Dan have uncovered remains that include an intact Middle Bronze Age mud-brick, triple-arch gateway as well as pagan altars dated to the period of Israel's divided monarchy. Beersheba was the chief city of the Negev, situated in the territory of Simeon. Midway between the Mediterranean sea and the southern end of the Dead sea, Beersheba was considered the southern extremity of the Promised Land, giving rise to the often-used expression, "all Israel from Dan to Beersheba" (1 sam. 3:20).

And when they joined battle, Israel was <sup>2</sup>defeated by the Philistines, who killed about four thousand men of the army in the field. <sup>3</sup>And when the people had come into the camp, the elders of Israel said, "Why has the LORD defeated us today before the Philistines? <sup>c</sup>Let us bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD from Shiloh to us, that when it comes among us it may save us from the hand of our enemies." <sup>4</sup>So the people sent to Shiloh, that they might bring from there the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hosts, <sup>d</sup>who dwells between <sup>e</sup>the cherubim. And the <sup>f</sup>two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

<sup>5</sup>And when the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Israel shouted so loudly that the earth shook. <sup>6</sup>Now when the Philistines heard the noise of the shout, they said, "What does the sound of this great shout in the camp of the Hebrews mean?" Then they understood that the ark of the LORD had come into the camp. <sup>7</sup>So the Philistines were afraid, for they said, "God has come into the camp!" And they said, <sup>8</sup>"Woe to us! For such a thing has never happened before. <sup>8</sup>Woe to us! Who will deliver us from the hand of these mighty gods? These are the gods who struck the Egyptians with all the plagues in the wilderness. <sup>9</sup><sup>h</sup>Be strong and conduct yourselves like men, you Philistines, that you do not become servants of the Hebrews, <sup>i</sup>as they have been to you. <sup>3</sup>Conduct yourselves like men, and fight!"

Death of Eli

4:2 The field refers to the flat coastal plain where the Philistines were able to use their chariots to great advantage (13:5).

4:3 The term people refers to the fighting men of Israel before there was a standing Israelite army. Elders refers to the family heads who gave leadership in politics and war before the creation of the monarchy. In preparation for their next battle with the Philistines, the Israelites brought the ark of the covenant from the tabernacle in Shiloh to the battlefield. It was the custom of ancient warriors to take symbols of their gods into battle so that their gods would deliver them (see 2 sam. 5:21; 1 Chr. 14:12). This apparently was Israel's plan. They failed to recognize that God would be with them even if the ark was in shiloh! it may save us: It seems that the Israelites viewed the ark superstitiously, believing divine power to be in the ark itself rather than in God.

4:4 who dwells between the cherubim: Cherubim are angels generally regarded as guardians of God's holiness (see Gen. 3:24; ex. 25:22; 2 sam. 6:2; 2 kin. 19:15; Ps. 80:1; 99:1; Is. 37:16; Ezek. 10:9). God revealed himself to Moses from between the two cherubim mounted at opposite ends of the mercy seat of the ark of the covenant (ex. 25:22; Num. 7:89).

4:5, 7 the earth shook: The presence of the ark gave the Israelites a false sense of victory. God has come into the camp: The shouting of the Israelites at the sight of the ark struck fear in the hearts of the Philistines. They clearly viewed the ark as some sort of idol.

4:8 these mighty gods: The Philistines were polytheists, and they assumed that the Israelites also had many gods. The Philistines had heard the report of what God had accomplished for his people at the time of the exodus (see Deut. 2:25).

4:11 The loss of the ark, symbolic of God's presence among his people, was a great tragedy for Israel—even worse than the loss of life (v. 10). The ark probably never returned to shiloh. The Lord destroyed shiloh because of the wickedness of his people (Jer. 7:12), and archaeological excavations indicate that the city was destroyed around 1050 B.C., perhaps by the Philistines. The deaths of eli's sons, Hophni and Phinehas, mark the first step in God's judgment on the house of eli (2:34).

4:12 Torn clothes and dirt on the head were traditional signs of mourning (see Josh. 7:6).

4:13 by the wayside: eli was sitting by the city gate (v. 18), anxiously awaiting news of the battle.

was Eli, sitting on <sup>o</sup>a seat <sup>5</sup>by the wayside watching, for his heart <sup>6</sup>trembled for the ark of God. And when the man came into the city and told it, all the city cried out. <sup>14</sup>When Eli heard the noise of the outcry, he said, “What does the sound of this tumult mean?” And the man came quickly and told Eli. <sup>15</sup>Eli was ninety-eight years old, and <sup>p</sup>his eyes were so <sup>7</sup>dim that he could not see.

<sup>16</sup>Then the man said to Eli, “I am he who came from the battle. And I fled today from the battle line.”

And he said, <sup>q</sup>“What happened, my son?”

<sup>17</sup>So the messenger answered and said, “Israel has fled before the Philistines, and there has been a great slaughter among the people. Also your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead; and the ark of God has been captured.”

<sup>18</sup>Then it happened, when he made mention of the ark of God, that Eli fell off the seat backward by the side of the gate; and his neck was broken and he died, for the man was old and heavy. And he had judged Israel forty years.

Ichabod

<sup>19</sup>Now his daughter-in-law, Phinehas' wife, was with child, due to be delivered; and when she heard the news that the ark of God was captured, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she bowed herself and gave birth, for her labor pains came upon her. <sup>20</sup>And about the time of her death <sup>r</sup>the women who stood by her said to her, “Do not fear, for you have borne a son.” But she did not answer, nor did she <sup>s</sup>regard it. <sup>21</sup>Then she named the child <sup>s</sup>Ichabod,<sup>9</sup> saying, <sup>t</sup>“The glory has departed from Israel!” because the ark of God had been captured and because of her father-in-law and her husband. <sup>22</sup>And she said,

The Philistines and the Ark

And they answered, “Let the ark of the God of Israel be carried away to <sup>m</sup>Gath.” So they carried the ark of the God of Israel away. <sup>9</sup>So it was, after they had carried it away, that <sup>n</sup>the hand of the LORD was against the city with a very great destruction; and He struck the men of the city, both small and great, <sup>4</sup>and tumors broke out on them.

<sup>10</sup>Therefore they sent the ark of God

4:18 The loss of the ark was a catastrophic blow. In response, eli fell off his chair and died—another sign of God’s judgment on the house of eli (2:33–36).

4:20 Like Rachel (Gen. 35:16–20), the wife of Phinehas died in childbirth. The words you have borne a son were spoken to comfort her as she was dying.

4:21 She possibly refers to the midwife attending the birth of eli’s grandson. The name Ichabod, meaning “No Glory,” reflected Israel’s circumstances. The loss of the ark meant the absence of God’s glory in Israel.

5:1 Ashdod, one of the five chief Philistine cities, was about three miles inland from the Mediterranean sea and about 22 miles south of Joppa.

5:2 Dagon, the chief god of the Philistines, was thought to control the weather and the fertility of the land. This god appears to be a Philistine adaptation of the Canaanite god Baal, who is sometimes referred to in ancient literature as the “son of Dagon.” Philistia was an important grain-producing region; the worship of Dagon was thought to ensure a good crop.

5:3, 4 Twice the idol of Dagon fell prostrate before the ark—as if worshipping the Israelite God. The second time the head and hands were broken off. This was recorded in order to demonstrate the foolishness of worshipping an impotent god.

5:5 The destruction of Dagon’s idol resulted in the foolish Philistine custom of stepping over the threshold of Dagon’s temple (see Zeph. 1:9), a apparently the threshold came to be regarded as taboo because of its contact with Dagon’s hands and head (v. 4).

5:6 The Hebrew word translated tumors literally means “swellings” and may refer to any kind of tumor, swelling, or boil.

5:8 Lords refers to the rulers of the five cities of Philistia (6:4). To free themselves from the plague associated with the presence of the Israelite ark, they sent the ark to Gath, one of these cities.

5:10 The ark was sent next to Ekron, about six miles north of Gath. to kill us: having heard of the plague associated with the ark, the citizens of ekron were less than enthusiastic about receiving the Israelite war trophy into their city.

to Ekron. So it was, as the ark of God came to Ekron, that the Ekronites cried out, saying, “They have brought the ark of the God of Israel to us, to kill us and our people!”<sup>11</sup> So they sent and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines, and said, “Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it go back to its own place, so that it does not kill us and our people.” For there was a deadly destruction throughout all the city; the hand of God was very heavy there.<sup>12</sup> And the men who did not die were stricken with the tumors, and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

The Ark Returned to Israel

6 Now the ark of the LORD was in the country of the Philistines seven months.<sup>2</sup> And the Philistines called for the priests and the diviners, saying, “What shall we do with the ark of the LORD? Tell us how we should send it to its place.”

<sup>3</sup> So they said, “If you send away the ark of the God of Israel, do not send it empty; but by all means return it to Him with a trespass offering. Then you will be healed, and it will be known to you why His hand is not removed from you.”

<sup>4</sup> Then they said, “What is the trespass offering which we shall return to Him?”

They answered, <sup>d</sup> “Five golden tumors and five golden rats, according to the number of the lords of the Philistines. For the same plague was on all of you and on your lords.<sup>5</sup> Therefore you shall make images of your tumors and images of your rats that ravage the land, and you shall give glory to the God of Israel; perhaps He will lighten His hand from you, from your gods, and from your land.<sup>6</sup> Why then do you harden your hearts as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? When He did mighty things among them, did they not

6:2 Diviners claimed to be able to predict the future and determine the will of their gods by observing such omens as the flight pattern of birds or the liver of a sacrificed animal (see Num. 22).

6:3 The priests and diviners advised the Philistine leaders to present an offering to appease the God of Israel in order to end the plague. In their understanding, the God of Israel was another deity among many, who had won some sort of contest with their god Dagon. trespass offering: The gift was to be a compensation for trespassing against God by capturing the ark.

6:4 The offering of gold was fashioned to resemble the tumors and rats that plagued the people. the number of the lords of the Philistines: The offering corresponded to the number of Philistine cities and their respective lords or kings.

6:5 give glory to the God of Israel: By sending the gifts back with the ark, the Philistines acknowledged that it was God who had afflicted them with tumors. This recognition would add to his glorious reputation among the nations.

6:6 The Philistine priests and diviners recalled the experience of the Egyptians and Pharaoh, who hardened their hearts against God at the time of the exodus. God's salvation of the Israelites was internationally known (see Deut. 4).

6:7 The use of a new cart and cows that had never been yoked was designed to show special reverence for God on the part of the Philistines. take their calves home: The natural inclination of cows would be to return home with their calves. This was a test as to whether God was behind the plagues.

6:8, 9 let it go: Where the cows went was going to be left up to God. if it goes up the road: If the two cows left their calves this would be a clear sign to the Philistines that the plague of tumors had been the judgment of Israel's God. Beth Shemesh, a Levitical city (see Josh. 21:16), was close to the border of Philistia, about eight miles east of Ekron. The name Beth Shemesh means “house of the sun.” It is likely that this ancient Canaanite city had been known for its temple to the sun god.

this great evil. But if not, then <sup>o</sup>we shall know that it is not His hand that struck us—it happened to us by chance.”

<sup>10</sup>Then the men did so; they took two milk cows and hitched them to the cart, and shut up their calves at home. <sup>11</sup>And they set the ark of the LORD on the cart, and the chest with the gold rats and the images of their tumors. <sup>12</sup>Then the cows headed straight for the road to Beth Shemesh, and went along the <sup>p</sup>highway, lowing as they went, and did not turn aside to the right hand or the left. And the lords of the Philistines went after them to the border of Beth Shemesh.

<sup>13</sup>Now the people of Beth Shemesh were reaping their <sup>q</sup>wheat harvest in the valley; and they lifted their eyes and saw the ark, and rejoiced to see it. <sup>14</sup>Then the cart came into the field of Joshua of Beth Shemesh, and stood there; a large stone was there. So they split the wood of the cart and offered the cows as a burnt offering to the LORD. <sup>15</sup>The Levites took down the ark of the LORD and the chest that was with it, in which were the articles of gold, and put them on the large stone. Then the men of Beth Shemesh offered burnt offerings and made sacrifices the same day to the LORD. <sup>16</sup>So when <sup>r</sup>the five lords of the Philistines had seen it, they returned to Ekron the same day.

<sup>19</sup>Then <sup>u</sup>He struck the men of Beth Shemesh, because they had looked into the ark of the LORD. <sup>4</sup>He <sup>v</sup>struck fifty thousand and seventy men of the people, and the people lamented because the LORD had struck the people with a great slaughter.

The Ark at Kirjath Jearim

Samuel Judges Israel

<sup>2</sup>So it was that the ark remained in Kirjath Jearim a long time; it was there twenty years. And all the house of Israel lamented after the LORD.

<sup>3</sup>Then Samuel spoke to all the house of Israel, saying, “If you <sup>d</sup>return to the LORD

6:12 along the highway: The hebrew literally reads “along one highway,” indicating that the cows did not deviate onto any side roads. The lowing of the cattle was their plaintive crying for their calves. These cows were drawn by a strong power in the opposite direction from where their natural inclination would lead them. This would make an undeniable impression on the Philistine farmers, who knew the strong maternal instincts of cows.

6:13 wheat harvest: Wheat planted in the fall and harvested in the spring.

6:14 offered the cows as a burnt offering: although Deut. 12:4–14 required that sacrifices be offered only at the central sanctuary, it seems that this law would not have been applied in view of the recent destruction of shiloh. since Beth shemesh was a Levitical city (see Josh. 21:16), there would have been priests available to officiate at the sacrifice.

6:15 Mosaic law stipulated that only the Levites could handle the ark, and even they could not touch it directly (Num. 4:5, 15). offerings . . . sacrifices: These were in addition to those mentioned in v. 14.

6:16 The lords or kings of the Philistine cities had followed the ark at a distance to see what would become of it.

6:17 although there is no indication in the text that the ark was ever in Gaza or Ashkelon, these cities apparently fell under the same plague as the other Philistine cities; therefore, they contributed to the trespass offering (v. 3).

6:18 Abel here is unrelated to the name of a dam and eve’s son (see Gen. 4:2). This term may be a place or site name that more precisely locates the large stone.

6:19 The Lord brought judgment upon certain men of Beth Shemesh who were guilty of the presumptuous sin of gazing into the ark. They had shown a lack of reverence for the holy things of God and had directly violated Mosaic law (Num. 4:20).

6:20 Who is able to stand: since God is holy, he requires those who minister or serve him to be separated from all that is contrary to his holy character. The people responded in terror and frustration. They knew of the troubles that the ark had brought to the Philistines; now, they believed, they were next.

6:21 The people of Beth shemesh were so disturbed by the tragedy that they requested the inhabitants of Kirjath Jearim to remove the ark from their city. kirjath Jearim was about ten miles west of Jerusalem.

7:1 Eleazar, whose name means “God Is help” or “God Is Power,” was consecrated (lit. “set apart”) to care for the ark. eleazar was probably a member of the priestly family since there was no judgment on his ministry before the ark.

7:2 it was there twenty years: Most likely, it was 20 years before samuel called the assembly at Mizpah (v. 5). The ark remained at kirjath Jearim for about a hundred years. It was taken there just after the battle of a phek around 1104 B.C. and remained there until David brought it to Jerusalem in his first year as king over all Israel, around 1003 B.C. (see 2 sam. 5:5; 6:1–18).

7:3 If you return to the LORD: Repentance from sin and expressions of loyalty to God were prerequisites for the restoration of divine blessing (Deut. 30:1–10; 2 Chr. 7:14). The expression foreign gods is a general term for the idols of Canaan. Ashtoreths is the plural form of the name of the Canaanite goddess of fertility,

Capture and Return of the Ark

with all your hearts, then <sup>e</sup>put away the foreign gods and the <sup>f</sup>Ashtoreths <sup>1</sup> from among you, and <sup>g</sup>prepare your hearts for the LORD, and <sup>h</sup>serve Him only; and He will deliver you from the hand of the Philistines.” <sup>4</sup>So the children of Israel put away the <sup>i</sup>Baals and the <sup>2</sup>Ashtoreths, and served the LORD only.

<sup>7</sup>Now when the Philistines heard that the children of Israel had gathered together at Mizpah, the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel. And when the children of Israel heard of it, they were afraid of the Philistines. <sup>8</sup>So the children of Israel said to Samuel, <sup>o</sup>“Do not cease to cry out to the LORD our God for us, that He may save us from the hand of the Philistines.”

<sup>9</sup>And Samuel took a <sup>p</sup>suckling lamb and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the LORD. Then <sup>q</sup>Samuel cried out to the LORD for Israel, and the LORD answered him. <sup>10</sup>Now as Samuel was offering up the burnt offering, the Philistines drew near to battle against Israel. <sup>r</sup>But the LORD thundered with a loud thunder upon the Philistines that day, and so confused them that they were overcome before Israel. <sup>11</sup>And the men of Israel went out of Mizpah and pursued the Philistines, and <sup>3</sup>drove them back as far as below Beth Car. <sup>12</sup>Then Samuel <sup>s</sup>took a stone and set it up between Mizpah and Shen, and called its name <sup>4</sup>Ebenezer, saying, “Thus far the LORD has helped us.”

<sup>13</sup>So the Philistines were subdued, and they <sup>u</sup>did not come anymore into the territory of Israel. And the hand of the LORD was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel. <sup>14</sup>Then the cities which the Philistines had taken from Israel were restored to Israel, from Ekron to Gath; and Israel recovered its territory from the hands of the Philistines. Also there was peace between Israel and the Amorites.

<sup>15</sup>And Samuel <sup>v</sup>judged Israel all the days of his life. <sup>16</sup>He went from year to year on a circuit to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah, and judged Israel in all those places. <sup>17</sup>But <sup>w</sup>he always returned to sexuality, and war. The rites connected with her worship usually involved sacred prostitution. sexual rituals in the Canaanite temples were designed to prompt the gods to make the earth fertile.

7:4 The Baals: In ancient sculptures, Baal was depicted with a horned helmet. In one hand he grasped a club or mace and in the other a shaft of lightning or a spear with leaves. In some sculptures, he stood on the back of a bull. The plurals Baals and Ashtoreths refer either to the many images of these gods or to the various local forms under which these gods were worshipped.

7:5 samuel gathered the people for a prayer meeting at Mizpah, about eight miles north of Jerusalem. The city was the capital of Judah after the fall of Jerusalem (see 2 kin. 25:22–25). I will pray: samuel, like his mother (1:10–16; 2:1–10), repeatedly exhibited a commitment to prayer (8:6; 12:19, 23; Ps. 99:6; Jer. 15:1).

7:6 poured it out: The pouring of water was symbolic of repentance (Ps. 62:8; Lam. 2:19). Samuel judged: samuel acted as chief magistrate, rendering decisions and settling disputes.

7:7 The Israelite gathering at Mizpah alerted the Philistines of a potential uprising. They immediately organized an attack.

7:8 Do not cease to cry out to the LORD: The Israelites did not want to engage in battle unless samuel was praying for victory. In contrast to the debacle at a phek (ch. 4), the Israelites were no longer depending on the ark as a magical talisman. They now wanted to depend solely on the power of God through prayer.

7:9 a suckling lamb: according to Lev. 22:27, no animal could be sacrificed until it was at least eight days old.

7:12, 13 To commemorate the victory and acknowledge the Lord’s intervention, samuel set up a memorial stone on the battlefield and named it Ebenezer, meaning “stone of help.” samuel followed Joshua’s practice of commemorating the victories of God for his people with stone markers (see Josh. 4). The victory at ebenezer was so decisive that the Philistines made no more attacks against the Israelites during samuel’s judgeship.

7:14 Ekron and Gath were Philistine cities near Israel (5:8, 10). The frontier settlements which the Israelites had been forced to evacuate could now be taken again. Amorites may refer to the original inhabitants of Canaan (see Gen. 15:16), or to the hill dwellers of southern Canaan (see Num. 13:29; Josh. 10:5).

7:16 In addition to his religious duties as prophet, samuel served as a circuit judge. Bethel, the “house of God,” was where Jacob had his famous dream (Gen. 28:10–22). Gilgal was where the Israelites had first camped after crossing the Jordan River to conquer Canaan (Josh. 4:19, 20). It was about one mile from Jericho.

7:17 Ramah was about five miles north of Jerusalem.

Ramah, for his home was there. There he judged Israel, and there he <sup>x</sup>built an altar to the LORD.

Israel Demands a King

<sup>4</sup>Then all the elders of Israel gathered together and came to Samuel at Ramah, <sup>5</sup>and said to him, “Look, you are old, and your sons do not walk in your ways. Now <sup>g</sup>make us a king to judge us like all the nations.”

<sup>6</sup>But the thing <sup>h</sup>displeased Samuel when they said, “Give us a king to judge us.” So Samuel <sup>i</sup>prayed to the LORD. <sup>7</sup>And the LORD said to Samuel, “Heed the voice of the people in all that they say to you; for <sup>j</sup>they have not rejected you, but <sup>k</sup>they have rejected Me, that I should not reign over them. <sup>8</sup>According to all the works which they have done since the day that I brought them up out of Egypt, even to this day—with which they have forsaken Me and served other gods—so they are doing to you also. <sup>9</sup>Now therefore, heed

8:1 made his sons judges: It was highly unusual for samuel to appoint his sons to assist him in judging cases. Judges were individually appointed by God, not by their fathers.

8:2 Joel means “The Lord Is God.” Abijah means “My father is the Lord.” Beersheba was at the southern extremity of Israel (3:20), about 48 miles south of Jerusalem. It was here that a braham and Isaac had dug wells and formed alliances with a bimelech, king of the Philistines (Gen. 21:22–34; 26:1–33).

8:5 make us a king: Two factors contributed to the elders’ request for a king: (1) the corruption of samuel’s sons, and (2) their desire to follow the pattern of all the nations.

8:6 There is nothing wrong with the concept of a monarchy. God had made provisions in his law for the appointment of a king over his people (Deut. 17:14, 15). Yet samuel was displeased because he felt that the demand for a king indicated a rejection of his own leadership. samuel took the matter to God in prayer.

8:7, 8 they have rejected Me: The error of the elders of Israel was their failure to recognize God as their true king (12:12). to you also: The Lord drew a parallel between the Israelites’ forgetfulness of his gracious acts and their lack of appreciation for samuel.

8:9 forewarn them: samuel was called to warn the Israelites that a king would not solve all of their problems. In fact, having a king would create many hardships. The word behavior refers to the “right” or “prerogative” that the king would claim. Israel’s king would rule with arbitrary and absolute power.

Who Is “Called”?

are only certain people “called” by God to do important work for him? Many people assume that occupations such as the pastorale or missionary work are true “callings” that have significance before God, while other jobs are just jobs.

even though work is an important part of life, by itself it falls far short of describing the significance of an individual. There are many other aspects to being a person—personal growth and development, family, citizenship, friendships, and faith. so to define oneself by one’s occupation is inadequate. It tends to place more value on the self than on God, more on activity than on character, and more on success than on relationships. In short, it tends to equate employment with human worth.

from the Bible’s point of view, “calling” describes all of the responsibility of all believers to serve God with all of their lives:

Every believer is called to belong to God. Paul indicated to the Christians at Rome that both he and they had the same calling (Rom. 1:1, 6). Likewise, he wrote to the believers in ephesus that just as there is one spirit and one body (that is, the church), “you were called in one hope of your calling” (eph. 4:4).

Every believer is called a child of God. In his love, God brings us into his family (1 John 3:1), through faith in Christ Jesus.

Every believer is called to accept the work of Christ on his or her behalf. Though we are sinners deserving of judgment, Christ’s death on the cross has “justified” us, made us able to stand before a holy God and receive his salvation and grace (Rom. 8:28–30; 2 Tim. 1:9). for this we have every reason to live lives of gratitude (1 Thess. 2:13).

Every believer is called to become like Christ. Living the life God calls us to involves change in which we take on the character of Christ. That means resisting the temptation to turn away from him, even though others may encourage us to do so (Gal. 1:6–9). It involves fleeing evil and pursuing good, fighting to maintain our faithfulness (1 Tim. 6:11, 12). Just as Christ is holy, so we are to develop holiness in everything we do (1 Pet. 1:15; 3:9). as we pursue Christlikeness, we can do so with the certainty that the Lord is helping us, equipping us for every good work (Phil. 2:12, 13; 2 Pet. 1:3–10).

Every believer is called to serve God and other people. Christ has called us to himself to live out our faith in a manner that is worthy of him (eph. 4:1–4). We have the privilege of declaring God’s work through everything we do and say (1 Pet. 2:9, 10, 21).

Every believer is called to become a citizen of the new heaven and new earth. The Christian life leads ultimately to the end of being “glorified,” raised up to stand with Christ in eternal glory, pure and holy at last (1 Pet. 5:10; 2 Pet. 3:10, 11). In that day, we will celebrate the final coming together of Christ and all his faithful ones (Rev. 19:9, 10). our obedience to the Lord right now confirms this ultimate calling (Matt. 5:19).

If you are a believer in Christ, you have the same, significant calling as any other believer in Christ, no matter what your workday occupation may be. Calling is not just a matter of what job one has; it means living as a child of God. Is that the calling that you are pursuing?

their voice. However, you shall solemnly forewarn them, and <sup>l</sup>show them the behavior of the king who will reign over them.”

<sup>10</sup>So Samuel told all the words of the LORD to the people who asked him for a king. <sup>11</sup>And he said, <sup>m</sup>“This will be the behavior of the king who will reign over you: He will take your <sup>n</sup>sons and appoint them for his own <sup>o</sup>chariots and to be his horsemen, and some will run before his chariots. <sup>12</sup>He will <sup>p</sup>appoint captains over his thousands and captains over his fifties, will set some to plow his ground and reap his harvest, and some to make his weapons of war and equipment for his chariots. <sup>13</sup>He will take your daughters to be perfumers, cooks, and bakers. <sup>14</sup>And <sup>q</sup>he will take the best of your fields, your vineyards, and your olive groves, and give them to his servants. <sup>15</sup>He will take a tenth of your grain and your vintage, and give it to his officers and servants. <sup>16</sup>And he will take your male servants, your female servants, your finest <sup>1</sup>young men, and your donkeys, and put them to his work. <sup>17</sup>He will take a tenth of your sheep. And you will be his servants. <sup>18</sup>And you will cry out in that day because of your king whom you have chosen for yourselves, and the LORD <sup>r</sup>will not hear you in that day.”

<sup>19</sup>Nevertheless the people <sup>s</sup>refused to obey the voice of Samuel; and they said, “No, but we will have a king over us, <sup>20</sup>that we also may be <sup>t</sup>like all the nations, and that our king may judge us and go out before us and fight our battles.”

And Samuel said to the men of Israel, “Every man go to his city.”

Saul Chosen to Be King

9 There was a man of Benjamin whose name was <sup>a</sup>Kish the son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Bechorath, the son of Aphiah, a Benjamite, a mighty man of <sup>1</sup>power. <sup>2</sup>And he had a choice and handsome son whose name was Saul. There was not a more handsome person than he among the children of Israel. <sup>b</sup>From his shoulders upward he was taller than any of the people.

<sup>3</sup>Now the donkeys of Kish, Saul’s father, were lost. And Kish said to his son Saul, “Please take one of the servants with you, and arise, go and look for the donkeys.” <sup>4</sup>So he passed through the mountains of Ephraim and through the land of <sup>c</sup>Shalisha, but they did not find them. Then they passed through the land of Shaalim, and they were not there. Then he passed through the land of the Benjamites, but they did not find them.

<sup>5</sup>When they had come to the land of <sup>d</sup>Zuph, Saul said to his servant who was with him, “Come, let <sup>e</sup>us return, lest my father cease caring about the donkeys and become worried about us.”

<sup>6</sup>And he said to him, “Look now, there is in this city <sup>f</sup>a man of God, and he is an honorable man; <sup>g</sup>all that he says surely comes to pass. So let us go there; perhaps he can show us the way that we should go.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Saul said to his servant, “But look, if we go, <sup>h</sup>what shall we bring the man? For the bread in our vessels is all gone, and there is no present to bring to the man of God. What do we have?”

<sup>8</sup>And the servant answered Saul again and said, “Look, I have here at hand one-fourth of a shekel of silver. I will give that

8:11-17 first, a king would draft young men to serve in the military, farm his fields, and prepare for war. Run before his chariots is a reference to the king’s state carriage. Runners would serve as messengers, announcing the king’s coming. second, a king would draft young women to work in his palace and serve in his court. Third, a king would tax the people’s crops and flocks. he would take the best of their products. take a tenth: The proceeds of this tithe would be used to pay the salaries of the king’s officers and servants. fourth, a king would appropriate the servants of the Israelites and their finest young men and donkeys. Citizens would be forced into the king’s service as well as slaves. fifth, the king would take away the people’s personal freedom.

8:18 cry out . . . not hear: since the Israelites were deliberately choosing their own path, they could not expect God to deliver them from the trouble that would inevitably result.

8:20 and fight our battles: The Israelites were looking for human leadership on the battlefield, instead of recognizing that God would lead them in battle—and win (see ex. 15:3).

8:21 Samuel heard . . . and he repeated them: samuel acted as mediator between the people and God.

9:1 saul’s father, Kish, was from the tribe of Benjamin. The term

a mighty man of power suggests that he was something like a feudal lord—a wealthy landowner and a leader in time of war. The same term is used of Boaz (Ruth 2:1).

9:2 Saul means “a sked for.” Choice suggests that saul was in the prime of manhood. Both his physical stature—taller than any—and personal appearance—handsome—were striking. saul was endowed with what seemed to be great potential for leadership and service. In these respects, saul was a king like those of “all the nations” (8:5).

9:4 The search for his father’s donkeys took saul north from his home at Gibeah (10:26), through the mountains of Ephraim. ephraim was the tribal inheritance of Joseph’s son (see Gen. 41:50-52), directly north of Benjamin (see Josh. 16).

9:6 This city refers to Ramah, samuel’s home after the destruction of shiloh (1:1; 8:4). The term man of God refers to someone who was recognized for his prophetic ministry (see 1 kin. 12:22; 13:1; 2 kin. 23:17).

9:8 saul’s servant unexpectedly produced one-fourth of a shekel of silver, which would serve as adequate compensation for the prophet’s ministry. a shekel was about 11.4 grams.

to the man of God, to tell us our way.”<sup>9</sup> (Formerly in Israel, when a man <sup>i</sup>went <sup>2</sup>to inquire of God, he spoke thus: “Come, let us go to the seer”; for he who is now called a prophet was formerly called ja seer.)

<sup>10</sup>Then Saul said to his servant, <sup>3</sup>“Well said; come, let us go.” So they went to the city where the man of God was.

<sup>11</sup>As they went up the hill to the city, <sup>k</sup>they met some young women going out to draw water, and said to them, “Is the seer here?”

<sup>12</sup>And they answered them and said, “Yes, there he is, just ahead of you. Hurry now; for today he came to this city, because <sup>l</sup>there is a sacrifice of the people today <sup>m</sup>on the high place. <sup>13</sup>As soon as you come into the city, you will surely find him before he goes up to the high place to eat. For the people will not eat until he comes, because he must bless the sacrifice; afterward those who are invited will eat. Now therefore, go up, for about this time you will find him.” <sup>14</sup>So they went up to the city. As they were coming into the city, there was Samuel, coming out toward them on his way up to the high place.

<sup>17</sup>So when Samuel saw Saul, the LORD said to him, <sup>r</sup>“There he is, the man of whom I spoke to you. This one shall reign over My people.” <sup>18</sup>Then Saul drew near to Samuel in the gate, and said, “Please tell me, where is the seer’s house?”

<sup>19</sup>Samuel answered Saul and said, “I am the seer. Go up before me to the high place, for you shall eat with me today; and tomorrow I will let you go and will tell you all that is in your heart. <sup>20</sup>But as for <sup>s</sup>your donkeys that were lost three days ago, do not be anxious about them, for they have been found. And <sup>5</sup>on whom ‘is all the desire of Israel? Is it not on you and on all your father’s house?”

<sup>21</sup>And Saul answered and said, <sup>u</sup>“Am I not a Benjamite, of the <sup>v</sup>smallest of the tribes of Israel, and <sup>w</sup>my family the least of all the families of the <sup>6</sup>tribe of Benjamin? Why then do you speak like this to me?”

<sup>22</sup>Now Samuel took Saul and his servant and brought them into the hall, and had them sit in the place of honor among those who were invited; there were about thirty persons. <sup>23</sup>And Samuel said to the cook, “Bring the portion which I gave you, of which I said to you, ‘Set it apart.’” <sup>24</sup>So the cook took up <sup>x</sup>the thigh with its upper part and set it before Saul. And Samuel said, “Here it is, what was kept back. It was set apart for you. Eat; for until this time it has been kept for you, since I said I invited the people.” So Saul ate with Samuel that day.

<sup>25</sup>When they had come down from the high place into the city, <sup>7</sup>Samuel spoke with Saul on <sup>y</sup>the top of the house. <sup>26</sup>They arose early; and it was about the dawning of the day that Samuel called to Saul on the top of the house, saying, “Get up, that I may send you on your way.” And Saul arose, and both of them went outside, he and Samuel.

Saul Anointed King

<sup>27</sup>As they were going down to the outskirts of the city, Samuel said to Saul,

9:9 This verse is an explanatory note of an ancient custom to later Israelite readers. Seer refers to one who is able to see what is hidden from the eyes of ordinary people. Prophet refers to one who speaks for God (see ex. 7:1).

9:12 a high place was an elevated site of worship located on a hill or on an artificial platform in a temple. The Canaanites were known for building their places of worship on hills (see Num. 33:52; Deut. 12:2–5). Nevertheless, pious Israelites appear to have used such facilities legitimately after the destruction of shiloh and before the construction of solomon’s temple (see 1 kin. 3:2). sadly, the misuse of such high places to worship false gods eventually undermined the worship of God and contributed to the rise of idolatry in Israel (see 1 kin. 11:7; 12:26–33).

9:16 It seems significant that saul is referred to here as commander (also translated as “prince,” “ruler,” or “leader”), rather than as king. The royal throne ultimately belonged to the line of Judah (see Gen. 49:9, 10).

9:18 a king Samuel directions to the seer’s house at the entrance of the city was the final step in a remarkable sequence of events which God sovereignly superintended to bring about the anointing of saul.

9:19 All that is in your heart does not seem to refer to the matter of the donkeys, for Samuel immediately assured saul that the donkeys had been found. Perhaps saul was brooding over the problem of the Philistines.

9:21 smallest of the tribes: Benjamin was the second smallest tribe at the first census following the exodus (Num. 1:36, 37). The tribe was reduced to six hundred fighting men during the punishment of Benjamin for the atrocity at Gibeah (see Judg. 19; 20). the least of all the families: If saul’s father was “a mighty man of power,” these words contain a certain amount of self-deprecation (v. 1).

9:22 The hall was where local dignitaries sat for sacrificial feasts at the high place.

9:24 Giving saul the thigh was intended to honor him in the presence of the other guests (see Gen. 43:34).

9:25 a house in ancient Israel usually had a flat roof which could be used for drying flax or as a place to relax. It appears that saul slept on the roof (v. 26).

9:27 Tell the servant to go on: The anointing of saul was private. Later, he would be publicly installed as king before all Israel (10:17–27).

Roofs

The roof was an important part of a house in biblical times. a person could climb to the roof by a flight of stairs along the outside wall. In most cases the roof was flat, but sometimes the builders made domes over the more important rooms. Jewish law required each house to have a railing around the roof to keep anyone from falling off. adjoining houses often shared the same roof, and low walls on the roof marked the borders of each house. The builders covered roofs with a type of cement that hardened under the sun. some houses had tiles or flat bricks on the roof. The Israelites used their roofs as a place of retreat and meditation. They dried linen, flax, corn, figs, and other fruits on the rooftops and sometimes slept there at night. They also used their rooftops for private conferences and even worship.

“Tell the servant to go on ahead of us.” And he went on. “But you stand here <sup>δ</sup>awhile, that I may announce to you the word of God.”

10 Then <sup>a</sup>Samuel took a flask of oil and poured it on his head, <sup>b</sup>and kissed him and said: “Is it not because <sup>c</sup>the LORD has anointed you commander over <sup>d</sup>His <sup>1</sup>inheritance? <sup>2</sup>When you have departed from me today, you will find two men by <sup>e</sup>Rachel’s tomb in the territory of Benjamin <sup>f</sup>at Zelzah; and they will say to you, “The donkeys which you went to look for have been found. And now your father has ceased caring about the donkeys and is worrying about <sup>g</sup>you, saying, “What shall I do about my son?”” <sup>3</sup>Then you shall go on forward from there and come to the terebinth tree of Tabor. 10:1 the LORD has anointed you: There were two kinds of anointings in the biblical period. a ceremonial anointing involved pouring olive oil on the head or body of the person to be honored (see Ps. 133:2), an official anointing used the same process but signified a consecration or setting apart for religious service (see ex. 29:7; 30:25; Lev. 8:12). The anointing of a ruler was actually a religious act. That is why David had such high regard for saul, refusing to lift a hand against “the LORD’s anointed” (24:6). His inheritance: The land of Israel was God’s gift to his people, but it would return to God’s direct control should the people prove unfit to manage it (see Deut. 27–30).

10:2 Rachel’s tomb: Rachel had died giving birth to Benjamin on a journey from Bethel to Bethlehem, and she was buried along the way (Gen. 35:16–20). in the territory of Benjamin: Rachel was buried near Bethlehem, which is in Judah (Gen. 35:16–20). Perhaps her burial site was very close to the border between Benjamin and Judah.

10:3 The terebinth, sometimes translated “oak” or “elm,” refers to a strong tree, native to the land of Israel, which grows to a height of around 35 feet. Tabor is an apparent reference to Mt. Tabor, in the Valley of Jezreel, where these trees were prominent.

10:4 f or strangers to offer saul two loaves of bread would have been a remarkable sign. Their bread would have been for use in the worship of God. f or them, giving the bread to saul substituted for a sacred act.

10:5 The hebrew word translated hill probably refers to Gibeah, saul’s hometown (11:4). Gibeah of God was perhaps the full name of the city, due to its proximity to a significant high place (v. 13).

Philistine garrison: The Philistines dominated the land and had set up a military outpost in saul’s hometown. A group of prophets may refer to members of the “school of the prophets,” which was probably instituted by samuel for the purpose of preparing young men for prophetic ministry.

10:6 The Spirit of the LORD refers to the same holy spirit who came upon o thniel, Gideon, Jephthah, and samson (see Judg. 3:10; 6:34; 11:29; 13:25; 14:6, 19; 15:14). The expression be turned into another man may mean spiritual regeneration or a marked advance in spiritual growth.

<sup>o</sup>God is with you. <sup>8</sup>You shall go down before me <sup>p</sup>to Gilgal; and surely I will come down to you to offer burnt offerings and make sacrifices of peace offerings. <sup>q</sup>Seven days you shall wait, till I come to you and show you what you should do.”

<sup>9</sup>So it was, when he had turned his back to go from Samuel, that God <sup>3</sup>gave him another heart; and all those signs came to pass that day. <sup>10</sup><sup>r</sup>When they came there to the hill, there was <sup>s</sup>a group of prophets to meet him; then the Spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied among them. <sup>11</sup>And it happened, when all who knew him formerly saw that he indeed prophesied among the prophets, that the people said to one another, “What is this that has come upon the son of Kish? <sup>t</sup>Is Saul also among the prophets?” <sup>12</sup>Then a man from there answered and said, “But <sup>u</sup>who is their father?” Therefore it became a proverb: “Is Saul also among the prophets?” <sup>13</sup>And when he had finished prophesying, he went to the high place.

So he said, “To look for the donkeys. When we saw that they were nowhere to be found, we went to Samuel.”

<sup>15</sup>And Saul’s uncle said, “Tell me, please, what Samuel said to you.”

<sup>16</sup>So Saul said to his uncle, “He told us plainly that the donkeys had been <sup>w</sup>found.” But about the matter of the kingdom, he did not tell him what Samuel had said.

Saul Proclaimed King

<sup>20</sup>And when Samuel had <sup>b</sup>caused all the tribes of Israel to come near, the tribe of Benjamin was chosen. <sup>21</sup>When he had caused the tribe of Benjamin to come near by their families, the family of Matri was chosen. And Saul the son of Kish was chosen. But when they sought him, he could not be found. <sup>22</sup>Therefore they <sup>c</sup>inquired of the LORD further, “Has the man come here yet?”

And the LORD answered, “There he is, hidden among the equipment.”

<sup>23</sup>So they ran and brought him from there; and when he stood among the people, <sup>d</sup>he was taller than any of the people from his shoulders upward. <sup>24</sup>And Samuel said to all the people, “Do you see him <sup>e</sup>whom the LORD has chosen, that there is no one like him among all the people?”

So all the people shouted and said, <sup>f</sup>“Long <sup>5</sup>live the king!”

10:9 God gave him another heart: In Hebrew this expression literally reads, “God changed him for another heart.” There is debate as to whether this refers to a work of God’s spirit which prepared Saul for kingship or to the act of spiritual regeneration. It may seem that Saul’s subsequent attitudes and behavior do not reflect a genuine spiritual life. Yet Saul seems to have struggled with sin and desired to worship God (14:34, 35; 15:24–34).

10:10 God worked through his spirit in Saul’s life so that he was able to exercise a prophetic gift. This was not a vocation for Saul but an opportunity.

10:11 As a result of the spirit’s mighty working in Saul, the people asked, Is Saul also among the prophets? Some have taken this as an expression of contempt, but this implies a low view of prophets and prophecy. Rather, the question simply expresses surprise at Saul’s sudden change in character.

10:12 But who is their father: The implication of this question is that the fathers of the prophets were not important people. The prophets in any case did not obtain their gift by inheritance, but by God’s will.

10:17 Mizpah was where the Israelites had gathered for a time of spiritual revival before their victory over the Philistines (7:5).

10:19 rejected your God: Samuel reiterated his earlier admonition (8:10–18), warning the people of their attitude—which was actually a rejection of God’s kingship. Clans were a smaller family unit than tribes.

10:20, 21 The choice of Saul as Israel’s first monarch was made by casting lots, a means of determining God’s will in answer to “yes” and “no” questions. The lots were cast like dice. The principle underlying the use of lots was an active confidence in God’s control of all events.

10:22 hidden among the equipment: This may reflect Saul’s modesty, or perhaps his hesitancy and self-doubt over assuming the position of national leader.

10:24 The phrase him whom the Lord has chosen reflects the sovereignty of God in the area of his permissive will. Although the Israelites decided to have a king, it was the Lord who selected Saul.

king

(heb. melek) (10:24; Deut. 17:14) strong’s #4428

The term king may describe a petty ruler of a small city (Josh. 10:3) or a monarch of a vast empire (Esth. 1:1–5). An ancient king’s jurisdiction included the military (8:20), the economy (1 kin. 10:26–29), international diplomacy (1 kin. 5:1–11), and the legal system (2 sam. 8:15). He also functioned as a spiritual leader (2 kin. 23:1–24), although Israel’s kings were prohibited from some priestly functions (13:9–14). The Bible presents David as an example of the righteous king who set his heart on faithfully serving God (acts 13:22). God’s promise to give David an everlasting kingdom (2 sam. 7:16) has been fulfilled in Jesus Christ, whose human ancestry is through the royal family of David (Luke 2:4).

<sup>25</sup>Then Samuel explained to the people <sup>g</sup>the behavior of royalty, and wrote it in a book and laid it up before the LORD. And Samuel sent all the people away, every man to his house. <sup>26</sup>And Saul also went home <sup>h</sup>to Gibeah; and valiant men went with him, whose hearts God had touched. <sup>27</sup><sup>i</sup>But some <sup>j</sup>rebels said, “How can this man save us?” So they despised him, <sup>k</sup>and brought him no presents. But he <sup>l</sup>held his peace.

Saul Saves Jabesh Gilead

11 Then <sup>a</sup>Nahash the Ammonite came up and <sup>l</sup>encamped against <sup>b</sup>Jabesh Gilead; and all the men of Jabesh said to Nahash, <sup>c</sup>“Make a covenant with us, and we will serve you.”

<sup>2</sup>And Nahash the Ammonite answered them, “On this condition I will make a covenant with you, that I may put out all your right eyes, and bring <sup>d</sup>reproach on all Israel.”

<sup>3</sup>Then the elders of Jabesh said to him, “Hold off for seven days, that we may send messengers to all the territory of Israel. And then, if there is no one to <sup>2</sup>save us, we will come out to you.”

<sup>4</sup>So the messengers came <sup>e</sup>to Gibeah of Saul and told the news in the hearing of the people. And <sup>f</sup>all the people lifted up their voices and wept. <sup>5</sup>Now there was Saul, coming behind the herd from the field; and Saul said, “What troubles the people, that they weep?” And they told him the words of the men of Jabesh. <sup>6</sup><sup>g</sup>Then the Spirit of God came upon Saul when he heard this news, and his anger was greatly aroused. <sup>7</sup>So he took a yoke of oxen and <sup>h</sup>cut them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the territory of Israel by the hands of messengers, saying, <sup>i</sup>“Whoever does not go out with Saul and Samuel to battle, so it shall be done to his oxen.”

And the fear of the LORD fell on the people, and they came out <sup>3</sup>with one consent. <sup>8</sup>When he numbered them in <sup>j</sup>Bezek, the children <sup>k</sup>of Israel were three hundred thousand, and the men of Judah thirty thousand. <sup>9</sup>And they said to the messengers who came, “Thus you shall say to the men of Jabesh Gilead: “Tomorrow, by the time the sun is hot, you shall have help.” Then the messengers came and reported it to the men of Jabesh, and they were glad. <sup>10</sup>Therefore the men of Jabesh said, “Tomorrow we will come out to you, and you may do with us whatever seems good to you.”

<sup>11</sup>So it was, on the next day, that <sup>l</sup>Saul put the people <sup>m</sup>in three companies; and they came into the midst of the camp in the morning watch, and killed Ammonites until the heat of the day. And it happened that those who survived were scattered, so that no two of them were left together.

<sup>12</sup>Then the people said to Samuel, <sup>n</sup>“Who is he who said, “Shall Saul reign over us?” <sup>o</sup>Bring the men, that we may put them to death.”

<sup>14</sup>Then Samuel said to the people,

10:25 the behavior of royalty: samuel taught the people what to expect from a king, possibly reviewing his instruction in 8:11–18 and God’s laws for kingship in Deut. 17:14–20.

10:26 Gibeah, located just three miles north of Jerusalem, served as the first capital of the Israelite monarchy.

10:27 Some rebels questioned saul’s military leadership and refused to honor him with the gifts customarily given a king. But saul held his peace in order not to provoke the situation.

11:1 Nahash, whose name means “serpent,” was commander of the ammonites, descendants of Lot who occupied the fringes of the desert east of the territories of Gad and Manasseh (see Gen. 19:38). Jabesh Gilead is the Israelite city of Jabesh, located in the region of Gilead east of the Jordan.

11:2 put out all your right eyes: The condition of surrender demanded by Nahash was not only cruel and humiliating but would have made the Israelite warriors unable to fight.

11:3 The elders of Jabesh Gilead asked for seven days in which to find help before conceding defeat. Nahash agreed to the proposal, since he apparently was not prepared to take the city by force and wanted to avoid a long and costly siege.

11:5 Saul, coming behind the herd: Although saul had been appointed king, he did not assume governmental authority at once. saul continued farming until he could answer Israel’s expectations of him as king by delivering the Israelites from their enemies (8:20).

11:6 the Spirit of God came upon Saul: The holy spirit empowered saul to deliver the citizens of Jabesh.

11:7 Two oxen were customarily yoked together for work. saul’s call to arms was accompanied by a threat. his distribution of the pieces of the oxen throughout Israel is reminiscent of the grisly story of Judg. 19:27—20:1. The fear of the LORD begins with an awesome awareness of who God is (Prov. 2:5) and ends with a proper response to good and evil (Prov. 16:6).

11:8 Bezek was 13 miles northeast of shechem, due west of Jabesh Gilead on the other side of the Jordan. The distinction made between Israel and Judah in the numbering of the warriors (15:4; 17:52) may indicate that the book was either written or edited after the division of the monarchy in 930 B.C.

11:10 The message to Nahash may have been designed to lull the ammonites into a false sense of security.

11:11 saul divided his forces into three companies so that he could attack at the same time from different directions (see Judg. 7:16). the morning watch: The Israelites divided the night into three watches—9 to 12, 12 to 3, and 3 to 6 in the morning (see ex. 14:24–27; Judg. 7:19; Lam. 2:19). saul’s attack probably took place at dawn, before the ammonites had armed themselves for battle.

11:12 saul’s victory over the ammonites gave him the support and allegiance of the people of Israel. some went so far as to suggest that those who had previously questioned his rule should be put . . . to death (10:27).

11:13 the LORD has accomplished salvation in Israel: saul recognized that the victory over the ammonites could be attributed to God alone and refused to heed the suggestion of his overly zealous supporters.

11:14, 15 It was to Gilgal, the first Israelite camp west of the Jordan

“Come, let us go <sup>r</sup> to Gilgal and renew the kingdom there.” <sup>15</sup> So all the people went to Gilgal, and there they made Saul king <sup>s</sup> before the LORD in Gilgal. <sup>t</sup> There they made sacrifices of peace offerings before the LORD, and there Saul and all the men of Israel rejoiced greatly.

Samuel's Address at Saul's Coronation

<sup>4</sup> And they said, <sup>i</sup> “You have not cheated us or oppressed us, nor have you taken anything from any man’s hand.”

And they answered, “He is witness.”

at the time of the conquest (Josh. 5:10), that Samuel called the tribes to renew the kingdom. Although the monarchy had been inaugurated at Mizpah, there had been some question there about Saul’s qualifications and abilities to lead in battle (10:17–27). As a result of Saul’s victory over the Ammonites, the Israelites enthusiastically endorsed his kingship.

12:2 walking before you: Saul was leading Israel and attending to the nation’s needs. Samuel referred to the two reasons cited by the elders of Israel in their demand for a king: (1) Samuel’s old age and (2) his sons, who had demonstrated their unworthiness for public office (8:5).

12:3–5 Samuel began his charge to Israel by establishing his own integrity. before the LORD and before His anointed: Samuel asked whether anyone wanted to accuse him before God and His anointed king. The Israelites cleared Samuel of any impropriety or injustice in the administration of his duties as judge. Samuel’s past record was established to inspire confidence in his present exhortation.

12:7 Righteous acts refers to the benefits that God had bestowed on His people. These acts testified to the righteousness of God in blessing His people by fulfilling His covenant promises.

12:8 Samuel summarized the descent of Jacob’s family into Egypt

(Gen. 46), the Egyptian oppression (ex. 1:8–22), the exodus from Egypt (ex. 2–15), and the conquest of Canaan (Josh. 1–12).

12:9 Samuel recounted the nation’s apostasy and subsequent divine discipline. Sisera was a Canaanite general (Judg. 4:2–22). Moab: The Moabites were descendants of the incestuous relationship of Lot and his eldest daughter (Gen. 19:30–37). The Moabite oppression is recorded in Judg. 3:12–30.

12:10 After a period of oppression, the Israelites repented and cried out to the LORD for deliverance. The Baals and Ashtoreths were Canaanite fertility deities (7:3, 4).

12:11 Jerubbaal, also known as Gideon, delivered Israel from the Midianites (see Judg. 6–8). Jephthah defeated the Ammonites (see Judg. 11).

12:12 The threat of Nahash was probably felt long before the threatened attack of Jabesh Gilead (11:1–3) and was probably a factor in Israel’s request for a king (8:20).

12:14 The fear of the LORD is not merely a pious attitude but a serious and obedient response to the revelation of God’s holy character.

12:15 The consequences for disobeying God’s covenant are outlined in Deut. 28:15–68.

12:17, 18 The season for wheat harvest in Israel is the months of will send thunder and <sup>l</sup>rain, that you may perceive and see that <sup>m</sup>your wickedness is great, which you have done in the sight of the LORD, in asking a king for yourselves.”

<sup>18</sup>So Samuel called to the LORD, and the LORD sent thunder and rain that day; and <sup>n</sup>all the people greatly feared the LORD and Samuel.

<sup>19</sup>And all the people said to Samuel, <sup>o</sup>“Pray for your servants to the LORD your God, that we may not die; for we have added to all our sins the evil of asking a king for ourselves.”

rael, <sup>2</sup>Saul chose for himself three thousand men of Israel. Two thousand were with Saul in <sup>a</sup>Michmash and in the mountains of Bethel, and a thousand were with <sup>b</sup>Jonathan in <sup>c</sup>Gibeah of Benjamin. The rest of the people he sent away, every man to his tent.

<sup>3</sup>And Jonathan attacked <sup>d</sup>the garrison of the Philistines that was in <sup>e</sup>Geba, and the Philistines heard of it. Then Saul blew the trumpet throughout all the land, saying, “Let the Hebrews hear!” <sup>4</sup>Now all Israel heard it said that Saul had attacked a garrison of the Philistines, and that Israel had also become <sup>2</sup>an abomination to the Philistines. And the people were called together to Saul at Gilgal.

<sup>5</sup>Then the Philistines gathered together to fight with Israel, <sup>3</sup>thirty thousand chariots and six thousand horsemen, and people <sup>f</sup>as the sand which is on the seashore in multitude. As for Saul, he was still in Gilgal, and all the people followed him trembling. <sup>8</sup>Then he waited seven days, according to the time set by Samuel. But Samuel did not come to Gilgal; and the people were

8 / 1 sam. 10:8

May and June. send thunder and rain: The land of Israel receives its rainfall during the winter season. For rain to fall during the wheat harvest would be most unusual. The miracle was intended to convince the people of their great wickedness in demanding a king. The miracle also served to enhance Israel’s respect for both the LORD and Samuel.

12:20 Do not fear: By this samuel meant, “Do not fear the death penalty for disobedience.”

12:21 Empty things refers to false gods and idols (see Is. 44:9–20).

12:22 His great name’s sake: In ancient times, one’s name stood for one’s character. The name of God speaks of his reputation and attributes. For God to abandon his people would be inconsistent with his reputation for faithfulness (see ex. 34:6; Deut. 31:6; Josh. 1:5; heb. 13:5).

12:23 samuel assured the people that he would not forget to pray for them. For samuel, a lack of prayer was a moral compromise, a sin. In fact, his life illustrates the importance of prayer (7:5; see 1 Thess. 5:17; James 5:16).

12:25 The words swept away anticipate God’s ultimate judgment of captivity and exile from the land (Deut. 28:41, 63, 64).

13:1 one year . . . two years: This verse provides a chronological note recording the date of this encounter with the Philistines relative to saul’s reign as king. since acts 13:21 reveals that saul ruled over Israel 40 years, the two years must refer to the period of reign up to a particular event—likely saul’s encounter with the Philistines described in this chapter.

13:2 although saul had raised a citizen militia to rescue Jabesh Gilead (11:7–9), here he selected and trained a regular, standing army. Michmash was seven miles north of Jerusalem. Gibeah of Benjamin was four miles southeast of Michmash.

13:3 While saul was in Michmash, his son Jonathan attacked the Philistine garrison at Geba, about a mile southwest of Michmash. The two sites are separated by a deep ravine. The trumpet was a ram’s horn used to signal and summon the military. Hebrews refers to the Israelites. The name may be connected with the name eber, the ancestor of a braham (Gen. 10:24), or it may be related to the hebrew verb meaning “to cross over,” since a braham “crossed over” to the land of Canaan.

13:4 Saul had attacked: either Jonathan had been acting under saul’s orders or saul took credit for his son’s victory. saul withdrew his army to Gilgal in keeping with samuel’s instructions to him at his anointing (10:8).

13:5 Beth Aven was about a half mile west of Michmash.

13:6 the people hid in caves: The limestone of the hill country region contains many natural caves which could be used as hideouts in time of attack.

13:7 The land of Gad and Gilead refers to the region south and north of the River Jabbok, which flows into the Jordan from the east. Gilgal, located northeast of Jericho in the Jordan valley, was the appointed place of saul’s meeting with samuel (v. 8).

13:8, 9 Waited seven days refers to the instruction given to saul by samuel after his anointing (10:8). samuel had told saul to wait seven days at Gilgal until samuel came to offer sacrifices. Concerned that the people were losing courage and starting to scatter, saul assumed priestly prerogatives and offered the burnt offering himself (see Lev. 1). With this action, saul tragically disobeyed both the law of Moses and the instructions of God’s prophet.

scattered from him. <sup>9</sup>So Saul said, “Bring a burnt offering and peace offerings here to me.” And he offered the burnt offering. <sup>10</sup>Now it happened, as soon as he had finished presenting the burnt offering, that Samuel came; and Saul went out to meet him, that he might <sup>4</sup>greet him.

<sup>11</sup>And Samuel said, “What have you done?”

Saul said, “When I saw that the people were scattered from me, and that you did not come within the days appointed, and that the Philistines gathered together at Michmash, <sup>12</sup>then I said, ‘The Philistines will now come down on me at Gilgal, and I have not made supplication to the LORD.’ Therefore I felt compelled, and offered a burnt offering.”

in three companies. One company turned onto the road to <sup>r</sup>Ophrah, to the land of Shual, <sup>18</sup>another company turned to the road to <sup>s</sup>Beth Horon, and another company turned to the road of the border that overlooks the Valley of <sup>t</sup>Zeboim toward the wilderness.

Jonathan Defeats the Philistines

14 Now it happened one day that Jonathan the son of Saul said to the young man who <sup>1</sup>bore his armor, “Come, let us go over to the Philistines’ garrison that is on the other side.” But he did not tell his father. <sup>2</sup>And Saul was sitting in the outskirts of <sup>a</sup>Gibeah under a pomegranate tree which is in Migron. The people who were with him were about six hundred men. <sup>3b</sup>Ahijah the son of Ahitub, <sup>c</sup>Ichabod’s brother, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eli, the LORD’s priest in Shiloh, was <sup>d</sup>wearing an ephod. But the people did not know that Jonathan had gone.

13:10–12 as soon as he had finished: samuel’s delay may have been intended as a test of saul’s obedience. saul cited four justifications for his disobedience: (1) the soldiers were scattering; (2) samuel had not come as promised; (3) the Philistines were gathering their forces at Michmash; and (4) there was imminent danger of Philistine attack.

13:13 saul’s principal sin was failing to keep the commandment God had given through samuel (10:8).

13:14 your kingdom shall not continue: although saul would retain his throne, his descendants would not carry on his dynasty. A man after His own heart is God’s description of David, a man with many faults, but a man whose spirit was sensitive to God’s will. 13:15 saul’s army had dwindled from three thousand (v. 2) to only six hundred men.

13:17 The Philistines sent their raiders to harass the Israelites in the hopes of weakening Israelite resolve or of forcing a decisive engagement. Ophrah was located about seven miles north of Michmash.

13:18 The twin towns of Beth Horon (upper and Lower) were located west of Geba, about two miles apart on a ridge guarding the approach to the hill country from the coastal plain.

13:19 no blacksmith: The Canaanites and Philistines learned how to forge iron from the hittites. although they were not great in numerical strength, the Philistines were able to dominate Israel. By the end of David’s reign, the Israelites also had acquired iron technology (see 1 Chr. 22:3).

13:20 Sharpen may also be translated “forge.” The plowshare is the metal part of the plow that penetrates and breaks up the soil. a mattock is like a pickaxe but has blades instead of points. It is used for digging and breaking up soil that cannot be reached by a plow.

13:21 The pim was approximately two-thirds of a shekel. Based on what is known of ancient Israel’s economy, the charge was exorbitant. The points of the goads refers to the sharp ends of prods used to direct cattle. The Israelites did not have the resources to forge iron implements for agriculture, much less for warfare.

13:22 The weapons available to the Israelite soldiers would have included slings, bows and arrows, and numerous instruments made of bronze.

13:23 The pass of Michmash is the deep gorge that separated Michmash and Geba.

14:1 he did not tell his father: saul would have thought Jonathan’s plan was reckless.

14:2 Gibeah, saul’s home, was about three miles southwest of Geba, where Jonathan was camped at the Philistine garrison he had captured (13:3, 16). Migron was located near Gibeah.

14:3 The genealogy of Ahijah, the high priest and descendant of Eli, is given in full. his name means “My Brother Is the LORD.”

<sup>4</sup>Between the passes, by which Jonathan sought to go over <sup>e</sup> to the Philistines' garrison, there was a sharp rock on one side and a sharp rock on the other side. And the name of one was Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh. <sup>5</sup>The front of one faced northward opposite Michmash, and the other southward opposite Gibeah.

<sup>6</sup>Then Jonathan said to the young man who bore his armor, "Come, let us go over to the garrison of these <sup>f</sup>uncircumcised; it may be that the LORD will work for us. For nothing restrains the LORD <sup>g</sup> from saving by many or by few."

<sup>7</sup>So his armorbearer said to him, "Do all that is in your heart. Go then; here I am with you, according to your heart."

<sup>8</sup>Then Jonathan said, "Very well, let us cross over to these men, and we will show ourselves to them. <sup>9</sup>If they say thus to us, 'Wait until we come to you,' then we will stand still in our place and not go up to them. <sup>10</sup>But if they say thus, 'Come up to us,' then we will go up. For the LORD has delivered them into our hand, and <sup>h</sup>this will be a sign to us."

<sup>11</sup>So both of them showed themselves to the garrison of the Philistines. And the Philistines said, "Look, the Hebrews are coming out of the holes where they have <sup>i</sup>hidden." <sup>12</sup>Then the men of the garrison called to Jonathan and his armorbearer, and said, "Come up to us, and we will <sup>2</sup>show you something."

Jonathan said to his armorbearer, "Come up after me, for the LORD has delivered them into the hand of Israel." <sup>13</sup>And Jonathan climbed up on his hands and knees with his armorbearer after him; and they <sup>j</sup>fell before Jonathan. And as he came after him, his armorbearer killed them. <sup>14</sup>That first slaughter which Jonathan and his armorbearer made was about twenty men within about <sup>3</sup>half an acre of land.

<sup>15</sup>And <sup>k</sup>there was <sup>4</sup>trembling in the camp, in the field, and among all the people. The garrison and <sup>l</sup>the raiders also trembled; and the earth quaked, so that it was <sup>m</sup>a very great trembling. <sup>16</sup>Now the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin looked, and there was the multitude, melting away; and they <sup>n</sup>went here and there. <sup>17</sup>Then Saul said to the people who were with him, "Now call the roll and see who has gone from us." And when they had called the roll, surprisingly, Jonathan and his armorbearer were not there. <sup>18</sup>And Saul said to Ahijah, "Bring the <sup>5</sup>ark of God here" (for at that time the <sup>5</sup>ark of God was with the children of Israel). <sup>19</sup>Now it happened, while Saul <sup>o</sup>talked to the priest, that the noise which was in the camp of the Philistines continued to increase; so Saul said to the priest, "Withdraw your hand." <sup>20</sup>Then Saul and all the people who were with him assembled, and they went to the battle; and indeed <sup>p</sup>every man's sword was against his neighbor, and there was very great confusion. <sup>21</sup>Moreover the Hebrews who were with the Philistines before that time, who went up with them into the camp from the surrounding country, they also joined the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan. <sup>22</sup>Likewise all the men of Israel who <sup>q</sup>had hidden in the mountains of Ephraim, when they heard that the Philistines fled, they also followed hard after them in the battle. <sup>23</sup><sup>r</sup>So the LORD saved Israel that day, and the battle shifted <sup>s</sup>to Beth Aven.

Saul's Rash Oath

<sup>24</sup>And the men of Israel were distressed that day, for Saul had <sup>t</sup>placed the people under oath, saying, "Cursed is the man who eats any food until evening, before I have taken vengeance on my enemies." So none of the people tasted

14:6 The term uncircumcised was an Israelite designation for the Gentiles, who did not share the distinctive mark of God's people under the old covenant (see Gen. 17:10–14).

14:9–12 The assault of Jonathan and his armorbearer on Michmash was an act of faith, not a foolhardy adventure. The response of the Philistines, come up to us, was taken as a sign that God was leading and would grant them victory. The taunting words of the Philistines were turned into a challenge for the young men to display faith in God.

14:14 about half an acre: The Hebrew text reads "half a yoke of land." a yoke of land was the area a pair of oxen could plow in one day.

14:15 The defeat of the garrison at Michmash left the Philistines in a state of panic. The earth quaked may refer to an actual earthquake, which added to the panic and confusion of the Philistines, or it may be a way of saying that the Philistines were shaking from fear.

14:17 call the roll: Saul had to have the troops mustered before he realized that his own son was not present.

14:18, 19 Bring the ark of God here: according to 7:2, the ark at this time was at Kirjath Jearim. There is no mention of its being moved before it was brought to Jerusalem by David. The ancient Greek translation of 1 Samuel reads "ephod," and this may be what is meant. The urim and Thummim were kept in the breastplate of the ephod and were used to determine the will of God (see ex. 28:30; Num. 27:21; 1 sam. 23:9–12). <sup>f</sup> Furthermore, a hijah was present and wearing the ephod (v. 3). Withdraw your hand: a disturbance in the Philistine camp distracted Saul from his consultation with the priest (that is, a hijah), and he canceled the inquiry.

14:20 against his neighbor: There was such confusion in the Philistine camp that it was hard to tell friend from foe.

14:21 The Hebrews who were with the Philistines were deserters or mercenaries.

14:22 The mountains of Ephraim refers to the mountainous region occupied by the tribe of Ephraim, just north of Benjaminite territory.

14:24 Cursed is the man: Saul foolishly ordered that none of his soldiers should eat until he had taken vengeance on his enemies. Unlike Jonathan, he did not view the battle as the Lord's (v. 12).

food. <sup>25</sup> Now all the people of the land came to a forest; and there was <sup>v</sup> honey on the ground. <sup>26</sup> And when the people had come into the woods, there was the honey, dripping; but no one put his hand to his mouth, for the people feared the oath. <sup>27</sup> But Jonathan had not heard his father charge the people with the oath; therefore he stretched out the end of the rod that was in his hand and dipped it in a honeycomb, and put his hand to his mouth; and his <sup>6</sup> countenance brightened. <sup>28</sup> Then one of the people said, “Your father strictly charged the people with an oath, saying, ‘Cursed is the man who eats food this day.’” And the people were faint.

<sup>29</sup> But Jonathan said, “My father has troubled the land. Look now, how my countenance has brightened because I tasted a little of this honey. <sup>30</sup> How much better if the people had eaten freely today of the spoil of their enemies which they found! For now would there not have been a much greater slaughter among the Philistines?”

<sup>31</sup> Now they had <sup>7</sup> driven back the Philistines that day from Michmash to Ajialon. So the people were very faint. <sup>32</sup> And the people rushed on the <sup>8</sup> spoil, and took sheep, oxen, and calves, and slaughtered them on the ground; and the people ate them <sup>w</sup> with the blood. <sup>33</sup> Then they told Saul, saying, “Look, the people are sinning against the LORD by eating with the blood!”

So he said, “You have dealt treacherously; roll a large stone to me this day.” <sup>34</sup> Then Saul said, “Disperse yourselves among the people, and say to them, ‘Bring me here every man’s ox and every man’s sheep, slaughter them here, and eat; and do not sin against the LORD by eating with the blood.’” So every one of the people brought his ox with him that night, and slaughtered it there. <sup>35</sup> Then Saul <sup>x</sup> built an altar to the LORD. This was the first altar that he built to the LORD.

<sup>36</sup> Now Saul said, “Let us go down after the Philistines by night, and plunder them until the morning light; and let us not leave a man of them.”

And they said, “Do whatever seems good to you.”

Then the priest said, “Let us draw near to God here.”

<sup>37</sup> So Saul <sup>y</sup> asked counsel of God, “Shall I go down after the Philistines? Will You deliver them into the hand of Israel?” But <sup>z</sup> He did not answer him that day. <sup>38</sup> And Saul said, <sup>a</sup> “Come over here, all you chiefs of the people, and know and see what this sin was today. <sup>39</sup> For <sup>b</sup> as the LORD lives, who saves Israel, though it be in Jonathan my son, he shall surely die.” But not a man among all the people answered him. <sup>40</sup> Then he said to all Israel, “You be on one side, and my son Jonathan and I will be on the other side.”

And the people said to Saul, “Do what seems good to you.”

And Jonathan told him, and said, <sup>f</sup> “I only tasted a little honey with the end of the rod that was in my hand. So now I must die!”

<sup>45</sup> But the people said to Saul, “Shall Jonathan die, who has accomplished this great deliverance in Israel? Certainly not! <sup>i</sup> As the LORD lives, not one hair of his head shall fall to the ground, for he has worked <sup>j</sup> with God this day.” So the people rescued Jonathan, and he did not die.

<sup>46</sup> Then Saul returned from pursuing the Philistines, and the Philistines went to their own place.

Saul's Continuing Wars

<sup>47</sup> So Saul established his sovereignty over Israel, and fought against all his enemies on every side, against Moab, against

14:25 The bees had produced so much honey that it had flowed from their combs in the trees to the ground.

14:27 Due to his absence (vv. 1–17), Jonathan had not heard his father’s oath. He did what any reasonable soldier would do and helped himself to some honey as he pursued the Philistines.

14:31 Ajialon was located at the edge of the Philistine coastal plain, about 18 miles west of Michmash.

14:32 ate them with the blood: The Israelite soldiers began to eat the captured Philistine livestock without first draining the blood, in violation of God’s law (Lev. 17:10–14).

14:33, 34 roll a large stone: Saul realized the serious nature of the offense and had a stone table set up to slaughter the animals and drain the blood properly.

14:35 Saul built an altar to thank God for his victory over the Philistines.

14:36–38 Let us draw near to God: Saul was anxious to finish off the Philistines but decided to ask for God’s counsel about it. God’s silence was taken by Saul as an evidence of sin in the camp.

14:39 he shall surely die: This was Saul’s second foolish oath (v. 24).

14:46 their own place: As a result of Israel’s victory, the Philistines left the hill country and returned to their settlements on the coastal plain.

the people of <sup>k</sup>Ammon, against Edom, against the kings of <sup>l</sup>Zobah, and against the Philistines. Wherever he turned, he <sup>l</sup>harassed them. <sup>48</sup>And he gathered an army and <sup>m</sup>attacked <sup>2</sup> the Amalekites, and delivered Israel from the hands of those who plundered them.

<sup>52</sup>Now there was fierce war with the Philistines all the days of Saul. And when Saul saw any strong man or any valiant man, <sup>r</sup>he took him for himself.

Saul Spares King Agag

15 Samuel also said to Saul, <sup>a</sup>“The LORD sent me to anoint you king over His people, over Israel. Now therefore, heed the voice of the words of the LORD. <sup>2</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘I will punish Amalek for what he did to Israel, <sup>b</sup>how he ambushed him on the way when he came up from Egypt. <sup>3</sup>Now go and <sup>c</sup>attack <sup>1</sup> Amalek, and <sup>d</sup>utterly destroy all that they have, and do not spare them. <sup>4</sup>So Saul gathered the people together and numbered them in Telaim, two hundred thousand foot soldiers and ten thousand men of Judah. <sup>5</sup>And Saul came to a city of Amalek, and lay in wait in the valley.

Saul Rejected as King

<sup>10</sup>Now the word of the LORD came to Samuel, saying, <sup>11</sup><sup>n</sup>“I greatly regret that I have set up Saul as king, for he has <sup>o</sup>turned back from following Me, <sup>p</sup>and has not performed My commandments.” And it <sup>q</sup>grieved Samuel, and he cried out to the LORD all night. <sup>12</sup>So when Samuel rose early in the morning to meet Saul, it was told Samuel, saying, “Saul went to <sup>r</sup>Carmel, and indeed, he set up a mon-

Dead sea. Zobah was the ramean kingdom in the Bekah Valley. The Philistines occupied the coastal plain west of the hill country.

14:48 The victory over the Amalekites, nomadic desert tribesmen who lived south of the hill country, is recorded in 15:1-9.

14:49 In 1 sam. 31:2 and 1 Chr. 8:33, the names of saul's four sons are given as Jonathan, a binadab, Malchishua, and esh-Baal (Ishbosheth in 2 sam. 2:8). Jishui is probably a second name for a binadab.

14:50 Ahinoam means “My Brother Is Pleasant.”

15:1 The LORD sent me: samuel referred to his part in saul's appointment to add weight and authority to the command that he was about to give.

utterly destroyed

(heb. charam) (15:9; ex. 22:20; Deut. 13:15; Josh. 6:18) strong's #2763

In the ancient world, anything sacred or defiled was considered inappropriate for common use. This hebrew verb refers to the “setting apart” of inappropriate things, usually because of defilement associated with idol worship. according to Deut. 13:12-15, Israel was to destroy everyone and everything that was wicked enough to be considered defiled. Violation of this command cost a chan his life (Josh. 7) and saul his throne (15:9-11). Paul reminds us that we are all wicked, and as a result are defiled and deserve destruction. Yet God in his mercy has chosen to save those who place their trust in Jesus (Rom. 3:10-26).

15:2 The malekites were a nomadic people who lived in the region of the Negev, the dry land south of Judah (see Num. 13:29).

15:3 The expression utterly destroy is literally “to put under a ban,” similar to the ban placed on Jericho at the time of the conquest (Josh. 6:17, 18). The fact that no spoil was to be taken reflects God's judgment on the sins of the amalekites (Deut. 7:2-6; 12:2, 3; 20:16-18). While such judgment is severe, it came at the command of a holy and just God. a holy God cannot let sin go unpunished.

15:4 men of Judah: early in the period of the united monarchy, the distinctions between the northern tribes of Israel and the southern tribe of Judah began to be noted (11:8).

15:6 The Kenites, who had been loosely associated with the Israelites since Moses' marriage to the daughter of Jethro, a kenite (see Judg. 1:16; 4:11), were a nomadic offshoot of the Midianites (Num. 10:29).

15:7 Havilah refers to a district of northeast arabia. Shur was the western part of the sinai peninsula bordering egypt. The campaign against the Amalekites covered extensive territory.

15:8 took Agag king of the Amalekites alive: This was a direct violation of the Lord's command (v. 3). saul devoted the rest of the people to the ban but saved the life of the king.

15:9 By sparing Agag and the best of the spoil, saul was following his own desires instead of serving as an agent of God's judgment. Perhaps he wanted to gain prestige by bringing home the spoil of the malekites.

15:12 Carmel, located seven miles south of hebron, would have been on saul's route home. The monument that saul set up was probably intended to commemorate the victory over the malekites. saul then returned to Gilgal, where the Israelites had convened before their war with the Philistines (13:8-15).

ument for himself; and he has gone on around, passed by, and gone down to Gilgal.”<sup>13</sup> Then Samuel went to Saul, and Saul said to him, <sup>s</sup>“Blessed are you of the LORD! I have performed the commandment of the LORD.”

<sup>14</sup>But Samuel said, “What then is this bleating of the sheep in my ears, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear?”

<sup>15</sup>And Saul said, “They have brought them from the Amalekites; <sup>t</sup>for the people spared the best of the sheep and the oxen, to sacrifice to the LORD your God; and the rest we have utterly destroyed.”

<sup>16</sup>Then Samuel said to Saul, “Be quiet! And I will tell you what the LORD said to me last night.”

And he said to him, “Speak on.”

<sup>17</sup>So Samuel said, <sup>u</sup>“When you were little in your own eyes, were you not head of the tribes of Israel? And did not the LORD anoint you king over Israel? <sup>18</sup>Now the LORD sent you on a mission, and said, ‘Go, and utterly destroy the sinners, the Amalekites, and fight against them until they are <sup>2</sup>consumed.’ <sup>19</sup>Why then did you not obey the voice of the LORD? Why did you swoop down on the <sup>3</sup>spoils, and do evil in the sight of the LORD?”

<sup>x</sup>“Has the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices,

As in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, <sup>y</sup>to obey is better than sacrifice,

And to heed than the fat of rams.

<sup>23</sup> For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft,

And stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry.

Because you have rejected the word of the LORD,

<sup>z</sup>He also has rejected you from being king.”

<sup>24</sup><sup>a</sup>Then Saul said to Samuel, “I have sinned, for I have transgressed the commandment of the LORD and your words, because I <sup>b</sup>feared the people and obeyed their voice. <sup>25</sup>Now therefore, please pardon my sin, and return with me, that I may worship the LORD.”

<sup>26</sup>But Samuel said to Saul, “I will not return with you, <sup>c</sup>for you have rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD has rejected you from being king over Israel.”

<sup>27</sup>And as Samuel turned around to go away, <sup>d</sup>Saul seized the edge of his robe, and it tore. <sup>28</sup>So Samuel said to him, <sup>e</sup>“The LORD has torn the kingdom of Israel from you today, and has given it to a neighbor of yours, who is better than you. <sup>29</sup>And also the Strength of Israel <sup>f</sup>will not lie nor relent. For He is not a man, that He should relent.”

<sup>30</sup>Then he said, “I have sinned; yet <sup>g</sup>honor me now, please, before the elders of my people and before Israel, and return with me, that I may worship the LORD your God.” <sup>31</sup>So Samuel turned back after Saul, and Saul worshiped the LORD.

<sup>32</sup>Then Samuel said, “Bring Agag king of the Amalekites here to me.” So Agag came to him cautiously.

15:13 Blessed are you is a form of ancient greeting (see Gen. 24:31). Note that saul's words I have performed the commandment of the LORD are the exact opposite of God's evaluation (v. 11).

15:15 When confronted by samuel, saul excused his disobedience by blaming the people. he also sought to justify sparing the best of the sheep and the oxen by suggesting that he intended them for sacrifice.

15:20 I have obeyed the voice of the LORD: Given another chance by samuel to get things right with God, saul persisted in affirming his innocence.

15:22 to obey is better than sacrifice: samuel emphasized that sincerity and obedience were the prerequisites for worship that pleased God.

15:23 saul's independent, rebellious actions were as much a denial of God's authority as the recognition of satan's supernatural power through witchcraft. Witchcraft was condemned by the law of Moses (Lev. 19:26, 31; Deut. 18:9-14) and was punishable by death (ex. 22:18). saul's stubborn disobedience was essentially an act of idolatry because it elevated his will above God's will. He also has rejected you: saul failed to realize that he was not a sovereign and independent ruler like other monarchs. Instead, he was an agent and representative of the divine king. saul's rejection of God's word resulted in the rejection of saul as God's royal representative.

15:24 I have sinned: In response to samuel's rebuke, saul confessed his sin and explained that because he feared the people, he obeyed their voice. saul led the people by catering to their wishes.

15:26 how sad the words of samuel must have been. saul had disobeyed God one time too many; for him, there was no return.

15:28 The accidental tearing of samuel's robe (v. 27) served as a sign that God had torn the kingdom from saul. f for a similar incident, see 1 kin. 11:30. The neighbor who would receive the kingdom was David (16:11-13).

15:29 the Strength of Israel: This designation of God occurs only here in the Bible. The phrase can also mean “the Glory of Israel.” will not lie nor relent: God's decision to reject saul was irrevocable.

15:30, 31 saul's requests for forgiveness and desire to worship God suggest that, despite his flaws, he was a sincere believer in God. samuel may have discerned that saul's confession in v. 30 was more sincere than the one recorded earlier (v. 24).

15:32, 33 Bring Agag: samuel determined to do what saul had not done. he executed a gag in order to obey God's clear command (v. 3). The verb translated hacked . . . in pieces may simply mean

And Agag said, “Surely the bitterness of death is past.”

<sup>33</sup> But Samuel said, <sup>h</sup> “As your sword has made women childless, so shall your mother be childless among women.” And Samuel hacked Agag in pieces before the LORD in Gilgal.

<sup>34</sup> Then Samuel went to <sup>i</sup> Ramah, and Saul went up to his house at <sup>j</sup> Gibeah of Saul. <sup>35</sup> And <sup>k</sup> Samuel went no more to see Saul until the day of his death. Nevertheless Samuel mourned for Saul, and the LORD regretted that He had made Saul king over Israel.

David Anointed King

16 Now the LORD said to Samuel, <sup>a</sup> “How long will you mourn for Saul, seeing I have rejected him from reigning over Israel? <sup>b</sup> Fill your horn with oil, and go; I am sending you to <sup>c</sup> Jesse the Bethlehemite. For <sup>d</sup> I have <sup>1</sup> provided Myself a king among his sons.”

<sup>2</sup> And Samuel said, “How can I go? If Saul hears it, he will kill me.”

But the LORD said, “Take a heifer with you, and say, <sup>e</sup> ‘I have come to sacrifice to the LORD.’ <sup>3</sup> Then invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will show you what you shall do; you shall anoint for Me the one I name to you.”

<sup>4</sup> So Samuel did what the LORD said, and went to Bethlehem. And the elders of the town <sup>f</sup> trembled at his coming, and said, <sup>g</sup> “Do you come peaceably?”

<sup>5</sup> And he said, “Peaceably; I have come to sacrifice to the LORD. <sup>h</sup> Sanctify<sup>2</sup> yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice.” Then he consecrated Jesse and his sons, and invited them to the sacrifice.

<sup>6</sup> So it was, when they came, that he looked at <sup>i</sup> Eliab and <sup>j</sup> said, “Surely the LORD’s anointed is before Him!”

BIBLE TIMES & CULTURE NOTES

Anointing

anointing with oil signified the act of installing a person into a special office or setting apart an object for sacred rites. Thus, the Lord told samuel, “fill your horn with oil, and go” when sending him to anoint Israel’s next king, the young boy David. While priests, prophets, and kings in Israel were all anointed to their offices, the OT phrase “the anointed one” or “the LORD’s anointed” is almost exclusively a reference to Israel’s king (24:6; Ps. 2:2). Some psalmists speak of an anointed Davidic ruler who will reign forever with righteousness and perfect peace (Ps. 2: 45; 132). These passages prophetically foreshadow the coming divine king—Jesus, the Messiah (heb. 1:5, 8, 9).

<sup>8</sup> So Jesse called Abinadab, and made him pass before Samuel. And he said, “Neither has the LORD chosen this one.” <sup>9</sup> Then Jesse made Shammah pass by. And he said, “Neither has the LORD chosen this one.” <sup>10</sup> Thus Jesse made seven of his sons pass before Samuel. And Samuel said to Jesse, “The LORD has not chosen “executed.” before the LORD: The execution was an expression of divine judgment.

15:35 See evidently means “to give attention” or “to regard with interest.” The point is that God was through with saul as king, and so was samuel.

16:1—31:13 The next section records David’s rise to the throne. David was known as a man after God’s heart (13:14). his faith was so exemplary that centuries later God was pleased to be called “the God of David” (2 kin. 20:5; Is. 38:5). David contributed to the worship of the Lord by planning the building of the temple (2 Chr. 28:11—29:2) and by writing many psalms (2 sam. 23:1).

16:1 Fill your horn: The ram’s horn served as a vessel for the anointing olive oil (10:1). Jesse the Bethlehemite was the son (or descendant) of obed, the son of Ruth and Boaz (Ruth 4:21, 22). I have provided Myself a king: God made it clear to samuel that this king would be of his choosing.

16:2 samuel’s concern for his life was not unwarranted in light of saul’s suspicious nature and spiritual degeneracy (18:11). A heifer is a young cow. say, ‘I have come to sacrifice’: God did not instruct samuel to lie, but instead he provided a legitimate opportunity for samuel to visit with Jesse and his family. By performing the anointing in Bethlehem while officiating at a sacrifice, samuel would avoid arousing the suspicions of saul.

16:4 Because samuel’s visit was unexpected, the elders of the town wondered if he had come to execute judgment (7:15, 16).

16:5 The hebrew word for peaceably means “things as they ought to be.” The word sanctify means “to set oneself apart” by means of ceremonial washings and purifications (ex. 19:10, 14, 22). he consecrated Jesse and his sons: a parently, samuel personally supervised the purification of the father and his sons.

16:6, 7 Eliab means “My God Is father.” said: samuel was probably saying these things to himself. the appearance and stature of Jesse’s oldest son, eliab, commended him to leadership. But these were the very things that had commended saul (9:2). Instead of looking at appearances, God searched the heart. Thus God gave samuel a new perspective. The state of a man’s heart was far more significant than natural ability and physical appearance.

16:8, 9 Abinadab means “My father Is Noble.” Shammah may come from the word that means “he hears.” The parade of sons began with the oldest, in a typical patriarchal manner. The assumption was that the firstborn would receive a higher rank than his brothers. Yet often God’s way surprisingly reversed this expectation.

these.”<sup>11</sup> And Samuel said to Jesse, “Are all the young men here?” Then he said, “There remains yet the youngest, and there he is, keeping the <sup>o</sup>sheep.”

And Samuel said to Jesse, “Send and bring him. For we will not <sup>5</sup>sit down till he comes here.”<sup>12</sup> So he sent and brought him in. Now he was <sup>p</sup>ruddy, <sup>q</sup>with <sup>6</sup>bright eyes, and good-looking.<sup>7</sup> And the LORD said, “Arise, anoint him; for this is the one!”<sup>13</sup> Then Samuel took the horn of oil and anointed him in the midst of his brothers; and <sup>s</sup>the Spirit of the LORD came upon David from that day forward. So Samuel arose and went to Ramah.

A Distressing Spirit Troubles Saul

<sup>17</sup>So Saul said to his servants, <sup>8</sup>“Provide me now a man who can play well, and bring him to me.”

Harp

The musical instrument mentioned more often than any other in the Bible is the harp or lyre. Scholars believe these two instruments were similar in function and design, but the harp was probably a larger version. David played a harp to soothe the “distressing spirit” that troubled King Saul. Although David apparently plucked the strings with his fingers, the harp was usually played by stroking the strings with a pick, much as a guitar is played. The harp had from 3 to 12 strings. Considered an aristocratic instrument, harps were often made of silver or ivory. Other words used for these two instruments by various translations of the Bible are psaltery, lute, and viol. The smaller lyre was used both for sacred and secular purposes. The lute was an even smaller version of the harp or lyre, consisting of only 3 strings.

16:11 Are all the young men here: After looking at Jesse’s seven sons, Samuel wondered if someone had been left out. In fact, the youngest was out in the field, caring for his father’s flock. keeping the sheep: In ancient times, both divine and human rulers were frequently compared to shepherds (see Ezek. 34). The famous Babylonian king Hammurabi described himself as a shepherd for his people. The fact that David was tending the sheep at this particular moment is something of a divine foreshadowing of his appointment as the king of Israel.

16:12 Ruddy means “reddish,” referring to complexion and perhaps hair color. bright eyes: The Hebrew words may also be rendered beauty of eyes. good-looking: God made it clear to Samuel that he did not choose David on the basis of his good looks (v. 7). This was a bonus to David’s inner worth. the LORD said: It is not clear whether anyone but Samuel heard these words of God. anoint him: David was anointed with olive oil. This religious ritual consecrated him to the kingship.

16:13 In Hebrew, came upon means “rushed upon.” David was empowered by God’s holy Spirit for the work of ruling God’s people, just as Saul had been (10:10). David means “Beloved.”

16:14, 15 departed from Saul: After the Spirit of God came upon David, Saul was no longer empowered by the Spirit to serve as king. It appears that the ministry of the Holy Spirit was selective and temporary in the lives of OT believers. distressing spirit from the LORD: This affliction has been understood in various ways: (1) demon possession as divine punishment; (2) demonic attack or influence; (3) an evil messenger, like the one sent to entice a hab (1 kin. 22:20–23); or (4) a spirit of discontent created by God in Saul’s heart (see Judg. 9:23). Whatever it was, it was immediately noticed by Saul’s servants (18:10).

16:16, 17 Whatever Saul’s problem was, it was temporarily relieved by music (v. 23). It was generally believed in ancient times that music had a beneficial influence on those with sullen or morbid natures.

16:18 a mighty man of valor, a man of war: David the shepherd boy had not yet demonstrated his military abilities. The glowing description given by the courtier may have been exaggerated but was included here by the author because it anticipated what David would become in light of his reputation (17:34, 35).

16:21 David’s appointment as Saul’s armorbearer may have taken place after his victory over Goliath (17:55–58). Perhaps it is mentioned here because it fits well with the theme of David’s early service in Saul’s court. Alternatively, it is possible that David was first in favor with Saul, then fell from favor only to be restored again.

16:22 Stand before me was an expression for entering the king’s service (see 1 kin. 10:8).

16:23 Empowered by the Spirit of God, David was able to drive away would take a harp and play it with his hand. Then Saul would become refreshed and well, and the distressing spirit would depart from him.

David and Goliath

17 Now the Philistines gathered their armies together to battle, and were gathered at <sup>a</sup>Sochoh, which belongs to Judah; they encamped between Sochoh and Azekah, in Ephes Dammim. <sup>2</sup>And Saul and the men of Israel were gathered together, and they encamped in the Valley of Elah, and drew up in battle array against the Philistines. <sup>3</sup>The Philistines stood on a mountain on one side, and Israel stood on a mountain on the other side, with a valley between them.

with me and kill me, then we will be your servants. But if I prevail against him and kill him, then you shall be our servants and <sup>e</sup>serve us." <sup>10</sup>And the Philistine said, "I <sup>f</sup>defy the armies of Israel this day; give me a man, that we may fight together." <sup>11</sup>When Saul and all Israel heard these words of the Philistine, they were dismayed and greatly afraid.

<sup>17</sup>Then Jesse said to his son David, "Take now for your brothers an ephah of this dried grain and these ten loaves, and run to your brothers at the camp. <sup>18</sup>And carry these ten cheeses to the captain of their thousand, and <sup>l</sup>see how your brothers fare, and bring back news of them." <sup>19</sup>Now Saul and they and all the men of Israel were in the Valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistines.

<sup>20</sup>So David rose early in the morning, the distressing spirit (v. 14) with his soothing music (18:10). The verse suggests a lengthy period of time.

17:1 The Philistine and Israelite armies were gathered in the elah Valley, about 15 miles west of David's hometown of Bethlehem. The Philistines were camped between Azekah and Sochoh, on a hill (v. 3) south of the valley. a zekah, strategically located on a hill, was one of a string of fortresses built along the western boundary of Judah to guard the major roads penetrating the region. sochoh was one of the cities that would later be fortified by Rehoboam (see 2 Chr. 11:7). The description, which belongs to Judah, reminds us that the Philistines were encroaching on Judean lands.

17:2, 3 The Valley of Elah is an east-west valley leading from the hill country of Judah toward the lowlands of the Philistines. The valley would have been suitable for the Philistine chariots had it not been for a steep ravine that extended up the middle of the valley. The war chariot of the Philistines had iron fittings and was the most advanced weapon of the day. Probably the ravine prevented a full-scale assault by the Philistines, causing the long delay before engaging in battle (v. 16).

17:4 champion: The hebrew expression is literally "a man who is a go-between," meaning a warrior who will fight in single combat as a stand-in for the entire army. his opponent needed to be as strong as he was. The most likely person to serve in this role was saul. When he was chosen as king, it was noted that saul stood head and shoulders over his countrymen (9:2). However, saul made no move to oppose the braggart buffoon from Philistia. The cubit was about 18 inches and a span was 9 inches. Thus Goliath stood 9 feet, 9 inches tall.

17:5, 6 bronze helmet: ordinary troops had leather helmets. Goliath's coat of mail was made of overlapping plates of bronze sewn on leather. This armor weighed five thousand shekels or about 125 pounds. bronze armor refers to the greaves that protected Goliath's legs. bronze javelin: This oversized weapon was designed for hurling. Between his shoulders means strapped to his back.

17:7 The spear was a weapon designed for hand-to-hand combat, like a long sword. six hundred shekels: The head of Goliath's spear weighed about 17 pounds. shield-bearer: There are two different hebrew words for "shield." one refers to a small round shield usually worn on the left arm. The other, used here, refers to a much larger, oblong shield, often carried by the shield-bearer as the soldier moved into battle. Goliath was a veritable war machine.

17:10 Defy is an unusually harsh word, meaning "to put under reproach" (vv. 25, 26), as the account later makes clear, the defiant taunts of Goliath were as much against the God of Israel as against the fighters (vv. 26, 36).

17:11 they were dismayed and greatly afraid: The army was sick with dread. Perhaps the Israelites had forgotten the victories God had given Israel in times past. forgetfulness of God's past deliverance diminishes one's confidence in the face of present conflict.

17:12 that Ephrathite: ephrathah was a family name in the tribe of Judah, the area where Bethlehem was located (see Mic. 5:2).

17:17-19 In ancient times, soldiers usually lived off the land they conquered or depended on personal supplies that they or someone else brought from home. Jesse sent David with provisions—grain, loaves, and cheeses—for his sons and their officers. a ephah was a measure of grain, about five gallons.

17:20-22 rose early in the morning: These are the same words left the sheep with a keeper, and took the things and went as Jesse had commanded him. And he came to the camp as the army was going out to the fight and shouting for the battle. <sup>21</sup>For Israel and the Philistines had drawn up in battle array, army against army. <sup>22</sup>And David left his supplies in the hand of the supply keeper, ran to the army, and came and greeted his brothers. <sup>23</sup>Then as he talked with them, there was the champion, the Philistine of Gath, Goliath by name, coming up from the armies of the Philistines; and he spoke <sup>m</sup>according to the same words. So David heard them. <sup>24</sup>And all the men of Israel, when they saw the man, fled from him and were dreadfully afraid. <sup>25</sup>So the men of Israel said, “Have you seen this man who has come up? Surely he has come up to defy Israel; and it shall be that the man who kills him the king will enrich with great riches, <sup>n</sup>will give him his daughter, and give his father’s house exemption from taxes in Israel.”

<sup>28</sup>Now Eliab his oldest brother heard when he spoke to the men; and Eliab’s <sup>t</sup>anger was aroused against David, and he said, “Why did you come down here? And with whom have you left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know your pride and the insolence of your heart, for you have come down to see the battle.”

<sup>29</sup>And David said, “What have I done now? <sup>u</sup>Is there not a cause?” <sup>30</sup>Then he turned from him toward another and <sup>v</sup>said the same thing; and these people answered him as the first ones did.

<sup>31</sup>Now when the words which David spoke were heard, they reported them to Saul; and he sent for him. <sup>32</sup>Then David said to Saul, <sup>w</sup>“Let no man’s heart fail because of him; <sup>x</sup>your servant will go and fight with this Philistine.”

<sup>34</sup>But David said to Saul, “Your servant used to keep his father’s sheep, and when a <sup>z</sup>lion or a bear came and took a lamb out of the flock, <sup>35</sup>I went out after it and struck it, and delivered the lamb from its mouth; and when it arose against me, I caught it by its beard, and struck and killed it. <sup>36</sup>Your servant has killed both lion and bear; and this uncircumcised Philistine will be like one of them, seeing he has defied the armies of the living God.” <sup>37</sup>Moreover David said, <sup>a</sup>“The LORD, who delivered me from the paw of the lion and from the paw of the bear, He will deliver me from the hand of this Philistine.”

And Saul said to David, <sup>b</sup>“Go, and the LORD be with you!”

<sup>40</sup>Then he took his staff in his hand; and he chose for himself five smooth stones from the brook, and put them in a shepherd’s bag, in a pouch which that were used of a brahm when he set out on his fateful journey to Moriah (see Gen. 22:3). going out to the fight: The soldiers were going out to the battle line, but only to shout their taunts. the supply keeper: This wording suggests that what David did for his brothers was an ordinary service performed by families for their sons on the battlefield.

17:24 fled . . . afraid: The fear of the Israelite army was shameful. Perched on the fortified hillside, none of them was in immediate danger.

17:25 saul promised riches, exemption from taxes and the duty of public service, and his daughter’s hand in marriage to the one who would defeat Goliath.

17:26 Uncircumcised is used as an expression of contempt for a pagan person.

17:28 David’s oldest brother, Eliab, was rather abrupt with David. pride . . . insolence: This language is similar to that used to describe the rage of Joseph’s brothers against him (Gen. 37).

17:29 Is there not a cause: David protested his innocence of the charges of pride (v. 28). There was reason to be agitated—not at David, but at the Philistine.

17:32 your servant will go: David weighed the difficulties from a divine perspective. here was an opportunity for God to display his power.

17:34–37 David’s past victories over a lion and a bear gave him the faith to trust God for victory over Goliath. for David, the issue was more a theological crisis—the Israelites’ lack of faith—than a military one.

17:38, 39 Instead of putting on his own armor, trusting God, and going to the field of battle, saul attempted to put the oversized armor on a young boy. saul’s armor was designed for a large man. David could not even walk in it, much less fight in it.

17:40 his staff: unprepared to face Goliath as an armed soldier, David prepared to face him as a shepherd. five smooth stones: David’s experience had taught him how important shape, size, and uniformity were to achieve accuracy with a sling. a sling was the typical equipment of a shepherd. It was a hollow pocket of leather attached to two cords. Putting a stone in the pouch, the slinger would whirl it around his head to build up momentum. Releasing one of the cords would hurl the stone at its target. slingers were a regular part of armies in the ancient Middle east (see Judg. 20:16).

he had, and his sling was in his hand. And he drew near to the Philistine. <sup>41</sup>So the Philistine came, and began drawing near to David, and the man who bore the shield went before him. <sup>42</sup>And when the Philistine looked about and saw David, he disdained<sup>4</sup> him; for he was only a youth, <sup>43</sup>ruddy and good-looking. <sup>43</sup>So the Philistine said to David, “Am I a dog, that you come to me with sticks?” And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. <sup>44</sup>And the Philistine said to David, “Come to me, and I will give your flesh to the birds of the air and the beasts of the field!”

<sup>45</sup>Then David said to the Philistine, “You come to me with a sword, with a spear, and with a javelin. <sup>46</sup>But I come to you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom you have defied. <sup>46</sup>This day the LORD will deliver you into my hand, and I will strike you and take your head from you. And this day I will give the carcasses of the camp of the Philistines to the birds of the air and the wild beasts of the earth, <sup>47</sup>that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel. <sup>47</sup>Then all this assembly shall know that the LORD does not save with sword and spear; for the battle is the LORD’s, and He will give you into our hands.”

<sup>48</sup>So it was, when the Philistine arose and came and drew near to meet David, that David hurried and ran toward the army to meet the Philistine. <sup>49</sup>Then David put his hand in his bag and took out a stone; and he slung it and struck the Philistine in his forehead, so that the stone sank into his forehead, and he fell on his face to the earth. <sup>50</sup>So David prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and a stone, and struck the Philistine and killed him. But there was no sword in the hand of David. <sup>51</sup>Therefore David ran and stood over the Philistine, took his <sup>o</sup>sword and drew it out of its sheath and killed him, and cut off his head with it.

1 o Gen. 44:30

And when the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, <sup>p</sup>they fled. <sup>52</sup>Now the men of Israel and Judah arose and shouted, and pursued the Philistines as far as the entrance of <sup>s</sup>the valley and to the gates of Ekron. And the wounded of the Philistines fell along the road to <sup>q</sup>Shaaraim, even as far as Gath and Ekron. <sup>53</sup>Then the children of Israel returned from chasing the Philistines, and they plundered their tents. <sup>54</sup>And David took the head of the Philistine and brought it to Jerusalem, but he put his armor in his tent.

And Abner said, “As your soul lives, O king, I do not know.”

So David answered, <sup>u</sup>“I am the son of your servant Jesse the Bethlehemite.”

Saul Resents David

18 Now when he had finished speaking to Saul, <sup>a</sup>the <sup>1</sup>soul of Jonathan was knit to the soul of David, <sup>b</sup>and Jon-

17:42 David lacked the signs of age and the scars that one would expect of a battle-seasoned champion. Unlike most soldiers of Israel, he had not yet grown a beard.

17:43 The appearance of a boy as his challenger offended the pride of Goliath. Further, Goliath saw the shepherd’s staff (v. 40) and was angry because David appeared as if he were out to beat a dog instead of a giant. cursed David: Goliath treated David as contemptible. The word translated cursed is the same word used in Gen. 12:3, since Goliath had cursed one of God’s people, God was bound by his covenant to curse Goliath.

17:45 Hosts refers to the armies of heaven and of Israel, over whom God is Commander in Chief. The name of the LORD speaks of God’s covenantal relationship with the Israelites. David was depending on the power of God as the Warrior and Defender of his people (see ex. 15:3).

17:46, 47 David intended his victory to demonstrate to all the earth that (1) the God of Israel exists and (2) he delivers his own against overwhelming odds. David’s words the battle is the LORD’s put the contest into proper perspective.

17:48, 49 hurried and ran: Part of David’s strategy was to rush the giant. Guided by the Lord, David skillfully hit the right spot on his forehead with a powerful blow.

17:51 cut off his head: This was an indignity to a fallen foe and the decisive sign that he was dead. It filled the Philistines with terror.

17:52 The Israelites pursued the Philistines north toward Ekron and east toward Gath, Shaaraim, meaning “Two Gates,” is mentioned in Josh. 15:36 next to sochoh and a zekah.

17:54 At this time, a part of Jerusalem was occupied by Israelites, but the citadel of Jebus was still in the hands of the Jebusites (Josh. 15:63). Later, it was captured by David when he became king over all Israel (2 sam. 5:6–9). David took Goliath’s head to the part of the city that was under Israelite control. David kept Goliath’s armor, but the giant’s sword was later deposited in the sanctuary at Nob (21:9).

17:55 Abner, one of Saul’s generals, was also Saul’s cousin (14:50). He was another seasoned soldier who was silent and inactive in the face of Goliath’s taunting words. whose son is this youth: How does this question fit with the fact that David had been serving as a musician in Saul’s court (16:18–23)? Saul’s unstable mental condition (16:14, 15) may have affected his memory. Saul may have recognized David as his court musician but forgotten the name of David’s father. He would need to know it in order to reward David’s family (v. 25). It is also possible that in his question, Saul’s principal interest was not David’s identity, but the possibility that David was a contender for the throne of Israel.

17:56–58 your servant Jesse: In identifying his father, David likely intended to emphasize that Jesse was no threat to the king, that he was a loyal servant of Saul.

athan loved him as his own soul. <sup>2</sup>Saul took him that day, <sup>c</sup>and would not let him go home to his father's house anymore. <sup>3</sup>Then Jonathan and David made a <sup>d</sup>covenant, because he loved him as his own soul. <sup>4</sup>And Jonathan took off the robe that was on him and gave it to David, with his armor, even to his sword and his bow and his belt.

<sup>5</sup>So David went out wherever Saul sent him, and <sup>2</sup>behaved wisely. And Saul set him over the men of war, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people and also in the sight of Saul's servants. <sup>6</sup>Now it had happened as they were coming home, when David was returning from the slaughter of the <sup>3</sup>Philistine, that <sup>e</sup>the women had come out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing, to meet King Saul, with tambourines, with joy, and with musical instruments. <sup>7</sup>So the women <sup>f</sup>sang as they danced, and said:

<sup>8</sup>Then Saul was very angry, and the saying <sup>h</sup>displeased him; and he said, “They have ascribed to David ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed only thousands. Now what more can he have but <sup>i</sup>the kingdom?” <sup>9</sup>So Saul <sup>4</sup>eyed David from that day forward.

David Marries Michal

18:2 Like his son Jonathan, saul was captivated by David. he conscripted him anew to his court (16:19–23; 17:15).

18:3 This covenant was a mutual agreement in which David and Jonathan were bound to care for the needs and attend to the interests of each other. It was a treaty as between equals, yet these two men were not exactly equals. such a relationship had to be initiated by Jonathan because he was a member of the royal household. as his own soul: These words, repeated for emphasis (v. 1), describe the unselfish nature of Jonathan's love for David.

18:4 sword . . . bow . . . belt: These were treasured items that would not have been casually surrendered. With these gifts Jonathan ratified his covenant with David. In retrospect, Jonathan's action was symbolic of a transfer of royal power from saul's family to David.

18:5 behaved wisely: This description is a part of an ongoing subtle contrast between David and saul. The phrase reveals that David was acting with skill and achieving success. It should be contrasted with the description of unwise actions of saul (13:13). set him over the men of war: David did not replace a bner (17:55); he was simply acknowledged as a national military hero.

18:6 when David was returning: an event in the immediate aftermath of the famous battle of ch. 17 is mentioned here. Women came together from across the land to celebrate the national victory and their new national champion. to meet King Saul: The suggestion is that this was the usual pattern.

18:7 The popular song which celebrated David's military achievements became widely known, even among the Philistines (21:11). thousands . . . ten thousands: The poetic use of exaggeration is evident here. David had not yet slain even a dozen people, much less thousands. The women did not intend to offend the king; they were simply praising God for his ever-increasing benefits to the nation.

18:8 the saying displeased him: saul saw David's abilities and achievements as undercutting his own prominence among the people. the kingdom: To saul, there appeared to be no honor left for David except for him to take the throne. Ironically, this is exactly what God had determined.

18:10 The expression he prophesied can be used of legitimate prophecy or the erratic prophetic ecstasy associated with the ravings of false prophets and pagan priests (1 kin. 18:29; 22:12). Whatever the case here, God was judging saul for his previous disobedience by allowing his mind to become troubled.

18:14 the LORD was with him: David's relationship with God was the key to his success.

18:16 he went out and came in before them: David's military activities elevated him to prominence before the people.

18:17 While saul had previously promised to give his daughter to the man who killed Goliath (17:25), here he linked the marriage to future conquests, hoping that David would be killed by the Philistines.

dancing

(heb. mecholah) (18:6; 21:11; 29:5) strong's #4246

The verbal root of this hebrew word means “to whirl” or “to move in a circle.” This is probably indicative of the type of dancing described here. When this word is used, there is regularly an association with joy, sometimes contrasted with mourning (Ps. 30:11; Jer. 31:4, 13; Lam. 5:15). singing and playing instruments (especially the tambourine) are often mentioned in connection with dancing (ex. 15:20; Judg. 11:34; Ps. 150:4). although women usually do the dancing, men are also said to dance (Jer. 31:13). The ancient Israelites danced to celebrate the victories that God had given them (18:6; ex. 15:20; Judg. 11:34). This was an exuberant expression of praise for their Creator and Deliverer (Ps. 149:3; 150:4; Jer. 31:4).

and what is my life or my father's family in Israel, that I should be son-in-law to the king?"<sup>19</sup> But it happened at the time when Merab, Saul's daughter, should have been given to David, that she was given to <sup>y</sup>Adriel the <sup>z</sup>Meholathite as a wife.

<sup>20a</sup> Now Michal, Saul's daughter, loved David. And they told Saul, and the thing pleased him. <sup>21</sup> So Saul said, "I will give her to him, that she may <sup>b</sup>be a snare to him, and that <sup>b</sup>the hand of the Philistines may be against him." Therefore Saul said to David a second time, <sup>c</sup>"You shall be my son-in-law today."

<sup>22</sup> And Saul commanded his servants, "Communicate with David secretly, and say, 'Look, the king has delight in you, and all his servants love you. Now therefore, become the king's son-in-law.'"

<sup>23</sup> So Saul's servants spoke those words in the hearing of David. And David said, "Does it seem to you a light thing to be a king's son-in-law, seeing I am a poor and lightly esteemed man?" <sup>24</sup> And the servants of Saul told him, saying, <sup>7</sup>"In this manner David spoke."

Saul's daughter, loved him; <sup>29</sup> and Saul was still more afraid of David. So Saul became David's enemy <sup>8</sup>continually. <sup>30</sup> Then the princes of the Philistines <sup>j</sup>went out to war. And so it was, whenever they went out, that David <sup>k</sup>behaved more wisely than all the servants of Saul, so that his name became highly esteemed.

Saul Persecutes David

19 Now Saul spoke to Jonathan his son and to all his servants, that they should kill <sup>a</sup>David; but Jonathan, Saul's son, <sup>b</sup>delighted greatly in David. <sup>2</sup> So Jonathan told David, saying, "My father Saul seeks to kill you. Therefore please be on your guard until morning, and stay in a secret place and hide. <sup>3</sup> And I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where you are, and I will speak with my father about you. Then what I observe, I will tell <sup>c</sup>you."

<sup>6</sup> So Saul heeded the voice of Jonathan, and Saul swore, "As the LORD lives, he shall not be killed." <sup>7</sup> Then Jonathan called David, and Jonathan told him all these things. So Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his presence <sup>k</sup>as in times past.

18:21, 23 that she may be a snare to him: saul hoped that offering Michal in marriage would lead to David's death. I am a poor . . . man: David did not have the resources to bring a wedding dowry fit for a king (v. 25).

18:25 In many cultures of the ancient Middle east, a dowry was paid by the bridegroom to the father of the bride as economic compensation for the loss of a daughter who helped around the home. one hundred foreskins: The foreskins would be proof that David had killed that many Philistines.

18:26, 27 the days had not expired: a pparently there was a time limit during which David had to fulfill the conditions of the dowry. two hundred men: David provided twice the number that saul required.

18:30 The war with the Philistines continued, as did David's brave exploits. behaved more wisely: This significant phrase meaning "to act with skill" is again contrasted with the phrase meaning "to play the fool," used of saul in 13:13. David's successful military engagements gained him increasing honor and recognition.

19:1 When saul's scheming efforts failed, he brought Jonathan and all his servants into the plot. a pparently, saul did not know about the friendship of David and Jonathan.

19:2, 3 Loyal to his covenant of friendship, Jonathan pledged to intervene on David's behalf before his father (18:3).

19:4, 5 his servant: Jonathan's strongest argument was that David's actions demonstrated loyalty to saul. innocent blood: Jonathan reminded his father of God's law. By having David killed, saul would incur the guilt of bloodshed (see Deut. 19:10).

19:6, 7 Saul swore: following the normal form for making such an oath, saul says literally, "if he would die!" he means, "I will not allow him to die."

19:8 David's actions are contrasted with saul's. each time there was war with the Philistines, David had more opportunities for great exploits. saul himself no longer went to war. he stayed at home sulking about David's victories.

LORD came upon Saul as he sat in his house with his spear in his hand. And David was playing music with his hand.<sup>10</sup> Then Saul sought to pin David to the wall with the spear, but he slipped away from Saul's presence; and he drove the spear into the wall. So David fled and escaped that night.

<sup>11</sup> Saul also sent messengers to David's house to watch him and to kill him in the morning. And Michal, David's wife, told him, saying, "If you do not save your life tonight, tomorrow you will be killed."<sup>12</sup> So Michal <sup>o</sup>let David down through a window. And he went and fled and escaped. <sup>13</sup> And Michal took <sup>1</sup>an image and laid it in the bed, put a cover of goats' hair for his head, and covered it with clothes. <sup>14</sup> So when Saul sent messengers to take David, she said, "He is sick."

<sup>15</sup> Then Saul sent the messengers back to see David, saying, "Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may kill him."<sup>16</sup> And when the messengers had come in, there was the image in the bed, with a cover of goats' hair for his head. <sup>17</sup> Then Saul said to Michal, "Why have you deceived me like this, and sent my enemy away, so that he has escaped?"

And Michal answered Saul, "He said to me, 'Let me go! <sup>p</sup>Why should I kill you?'"

<sup>18</sup> So David fled and escaped, and went to <sup>q</sup>Samuel at <sup>r</sup>Ramah, and told him all that Saul had done to him. And he and Samuel went and stayed in Naioth. <sup>19</sup> Now it was told Saul, saying, "Take note, David is at Naioth in Ramah!" <sup>20</sup> Then <sup>s</sup>Saul sent messengers to take David. <sup>t</sup>And when they saw the group of prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing as leader over them, the Spirit of God came upon the messengers of Saul, and they also "prophesied."<sup>21</sup> And when Saul was told, he sent other messengers, and they prophesied likewise. Then Saul sent messengers again the third time, and they prophesied also. <sup>22</sup> Then he also went to Ramah, and came to the great well that is at Sechu. So he asked, and said, "Where are Samuel and David?"

And someone said, "Indeed they are at Naioth in Ramah."<sup>23</sup> So he went there to Naioth in Ramah. Then <sup>v</sup>the Spirit of God was upon him also, and he went on and prophesied until he came to Naioth in Ramah. <sup>24</sup> <sup>w</sup>And he also stripped off his clothes and prophesied before Samuel in like manner, and lay down <sup>x</sup>naked all that day and all that night. Therefore they say, <sup>y</sup>"Is Saul also among the prophets?"

Jonathan's Loyalty to David

20 Then David fled from Naioth in Ramah, and went and said to Jonathan, "What have I done? What is my iniquity, and what is my sin before your father, that he seeks my life?"

<sup>2</sup> So Jonathan said to him, "By no means! You shall not die! Indeed, my father will do nothing either great or small without first telling me. And why should my father hide this thing from me? It is not so!"

<sup>3</sup> Then David took an oath again, and said, "Your father certainly knows that I have found favor in your eyes, and he has said, 'Do not let Jonathan know this, lest he be grieved.' But <sup>a</sup>truly, as the LORD lives and as your soul lives, there is but a step between me and death."

<sup>4</sup> So Jonathan said to David, "Whatever you yourself desire, I will do it for you."

19:11 tomorrow you will be killed: Because of her great love for her husband, Michal told David about saul's plot. The story of David's escape is alluded to in the title of Ps. 59.

19:13 The hebrew word for image is used elsewhere in scripture to indicate household idols (see Gen. 31:19, 30–35; Judg. 18:17–26; 2 kin. 23:24; ezek. 21:21; Zech. 10:2). some have suggested that here the word means a life-sized object of a man. however, there is no evidence that ancient Israelites kept such objects in their homes. The cover of goats' hair and clothes was used to make it appear that David was still in bed.

19:14 He is sick: Michal loved her husband so much that she was willing to go against her father's wishes, to lie for David and even to die for him. The fact that she lied is a part of the drama of the story and does not endorse the practice of lying.

19:15 saul's decaying mental and spiritual state is reflected in his words to his messengers. he feared and hated David so much that he was willing to murder a man lying sick in his bed.

19:18, 19 facing a serious personal crisis, David went to Samuel at Ramah for help. Together David and samuel went to Naioth ("Dwellings"), a community within the city of Ramah.

19:20, 21 The working of God's Spirit distracted saul's messengers from their purpose and protected his servant David.

19:22 Sechu is not mentioned elsewhere in the Bible. It was probably north of Jerusalem in the region of Gibeah and Ramah.

19:24 lay down naked: a ncient Israelite culture looked with disdain on nudity in public. It is probable that saul removed his royal robe but retained his inner tunic. here saul's plan to kill David was totally thwarted by God's protective hand.

20:2 You shall not die: Jonathan was certain that saul would not kill David. It is possible that Jonathan was unaware of the events of 19:8–24 and was trusting in saul's solemn oath not to kill David (19:6).

20:3 David impressed the seriousness of the situation on Jonathan with an oath. Do not let Jonathan know this: David suggested that saul had kept his plans from Jonathan to avoid causing his son grief.

20:4 Jonathan's words reflected his covenant of friendship with David (18:3). he had vowed to help David.

20:5, 6 The first day of the month, the New Moon, was observed as a religious festival (Num. 10:10; 28:11–15). It was customarily celebrated with a sacrificial meal and rest from work (see 2 kin. 4:23; Is. 1:13; a mos 8:5). yearly sacrifice: a apparently Jesse's family gathered for a special time of worship during the New Moon celebration (v. 5).

should not fail to sit with the king to eat. But let me go, that I may <sup>e</sup>hide in the field until the third day at evening. <sup>6</sup>If your father misses me at all, then say, ‘David earnestly asked permission of me that he might run over <sup>d</sup>to Bethlehem, his city, for there is a yearly sacrifice there for all the family.’ <sup>7c</sup>If he says thus: ‘It is well, your servant will be safe. But if he is very angry, be sure that <sup>f</sup>evil is determined by him.’ <sup>8</sup>Therefore you shall <sup>g</sup>deal kindly with your servant, for <sup>h</sup>you have brought your servant into a covenant of the LORD with you. Nevertheless, <sup>i</sup>if there is iniquity in me, kill me yourself, for why should you bring me to your father?”

<sup>9</sup>But Jonathan said, “Far be it from you! For if I knew certainly that evil was determined by my father to come upon you, then would I not tell you?”

<sup>10</sup>Then David said to Jonathan, “Who will tell me, or what if your father answers you roughly?”

<sup>11</sup>And Jonathan said to David, “Come, let us go out into the field.” So both of them went out into the field. <sup>12</sup>Then Jonathan said to David: “The LORD God of Israel is witness! When I have <sup>l</sup>sounded out my father sometime tomorrow, or the third day, and indeed there is good toward David, and I do not send to you and tell you, <sup>13</sup>may <sup>j</sup>the LORD do so and much more to Jonathan. But if it pleases my father to do you evil, then I will report it to you and send you away, that you may go in safety. And <sup>k</sup>the LORD be with you as He has <sup>l</sup>been with my father. <sup>14</sup>And you shall not only show me the kindness of the LORD while I still live, that I may not die; <sup>15</sup>but <sup>m</sup>you shall not <sup>2</sup>cut off your kindness from my <sup>3</sup>house forever, no, not when the LORD has cut off every one of the enemies of David from the face of the earth.” <sup>16</sup>So Jonathan made a covenant with the <sup>4</sup>house of David, saying, “Let the LORD require it at the hand of David’s enemies.”

<sup>17</sup>Now Jonathan again caused David to vow, because he loved him; <sup>o</sup>for he loved him as he loved his own soul. <sup>18</sup>Then Jonathan said to David, <sup>p</sup>“Tomorrow is the New Moon; and you will be missed, because your seat will be empty. <sup>19</sup>And when you have stayed three days, go down quickly and come to <sup>q</sup>the place where you hid on the day of the deed; and remain by the stone Ezel. <sup>20</sup>Then I will shoot three arrows to the side, as though I shot at a target; <sup>21</sup>and there I will send a lad, saying, ‘Go, find the arrows.’ If I expressly say to the lad, ‘Look, the arrows are on this side of you; get them and come’—then, <sup>r</sup>as the LORD lives, there is safety for you and no harm. <sup>22</sup>But if I say thus to the young man, ‘Look, the arrows are beyond you’—go your way, for the LORD has sent you away. <sup>23</sup>And as for <sup>s</sup>the matter which you and I have spoken of, indeed the LORD be between you and me forever.”

<sup>28</sup>So Jonathan <sup>u</sup>answered Saul, “David earnestly asked permission of me to go to Bethlehem. <sup>29</sup>And he said, ‘Please let me go, for our family has a sacrifice in the city, and my brother has commanded me to be there. And now, if I have found favor in your eyes, please let me get away and see my brothers.’ Therefore he has not come to the king’s table.”

20:8 The words deal kindly may also be rendered “show covenant loyalty.” In other words, David was asking Jonathan to be faithful to his word. he had initiated a covenant of friendship (18:3). if there is iniquity: since David had done no wrong, he was certainly not worthy of death.

20:12, 13 If the news was good toward David, Jonathan would send a messenger to inform his friend. If the news was evil, then Jonathan would inform David personally. all of this was couched in a solemn oath.

20:14, 15 the kindness of the LORD: Jonathan used the same hebrew word meaning “covenant loyalty” that David had used earlier (v. 8). Both Jonathan and David were appealing to their covenant of friendship as a basis for acts of kindness. Whatever the outcome of the rift between saul and David, Jonathan appealed to David to protect his own life and the lives of his descendants. Jonathan knew that David might someday take the throne—and he was well aware of the ancient custom of a new king killing the offspring of his predecessor (see 1 kin. 15:29; 16:11; 2 kin. 10:7).

20:16, 17 Jonathan and David reaffirmed their covenant of friendship. Jonathan made a covenant: This refers to the agreement Jonathan sought from David in vv. 14, 15. Let the LORD require it: Jonathan prayed that the Lord would hold David accountable to the obligations of the covenant. o ut of love for David, Jonathan again requested that David reaffirm his vow (18:1; 19:1). David and Jonathan were holding each other accountable.

20:19 The stone Ezel was likely a familiar landmark.

20:23 Jonathan declared that the LORD would be a witness to the covenant of protection which he had arranged with David (vv. 14–16).

20:25–27 he is unclean: Noticing that David’s seat was empty, saul assumed that ritual uncleanness must have prevented his participation in the feast (see Lev. 7:20, 21; 15:16). since ritual uncleanness was only temporary, saul’s suspicions were aroused when David was absent on the second night of the feast. The reference to Abner suggests that David might have been threatening a bner’s position as the general of the army.

<sup>30</sup>Then Saul's anger was aroused against Jonathan, and he said to him, "You son of a perverse, rebellious woman! Do I not know that you have chosen the son of Jesse to your own shame and to the shame of your mother's nakedness?"
<sup>31</sup>For as long as the son of Jesse lives on the earth, you shall not be established, nor your kingdom. Now therefore, send and bring him to me, for he <sup>6</sup>shall surely die."

<sup>34</sup>So Jonathan arose from the table in fierce anger, and ate no food the second day of the month, for he was grieved for David, because his father had treated him shamefully.

<sup>35</sup>And so it was, in the morning, that Jonathan went out into the field at the time appointed with David, and a little lad <sup>was</sup> with him. <sup>36</sup>Then he said to his lad, "Now run, find the arrows which I shoot." As the lad ran, he shot an arrow beyond him. <sup>37</sup>When the lad had come to the place where the arrow was which

Jonathan had shot, Jonathan cried out after the lad and said, "Is not the arrow beyond you?" <sup>38</sup>And Jonathan cried out after the lad, "Make haste, hurry, do not delay!" So Jonathan's lad gathered up the arrows and came back to his master. <sup>39</sup>But the lad did not know anything. Only Jonathan and David knew of the matter. <sup>40</sup>Then Jonathan gave his <sup>8</sup>weapons to his lad, and said to him, "Go, carry them to the city."

<sup>41</sup>As soon as the lad had gone, David arose from a place toward the south, fell on his face to the ground, and bowed down three times. And they kissed one another; and they wept together, but David more so. <sup>42</sup>Then Jonathan said to David, <sup>y</sup>"Go in peace, since we have both sworn in the name of the LORD, saying, 'May the LORD be between you and me, and between your descendants and my descendants, forever.'" So he arose and departed, and Jonathan went into the city.

David and the Holy Bread

21 Now David came to Nob, to Ahimelech the priest. And <sup>a</sup>Ahimelech was <sup>b</sup>afraid when he met David, and said to him, "Why <sup>are</sup> you alone, and no one is with you?"

20:30, 31 your mother's nakedness: saul suggested that Jonathan and his mother with him were shameful because of Jonathan's apparently despicable behavior. a ware of David's increasing popularity, saul knew that David would likely displace Jonathan from the throne. here, saul demonstrated his selfish concern for his family's welfare over God's sovereign will. Compare eli's appropriate response to God's judgment (3:18).

20:35–40 on the third day, Jonathan went to the field to signal to David that he should flee the court of saul. however, Jonathan's love for David would not allow him to stop at a mere signal. he got rid of his servant on a ruse and at great personal risk went to meet David one last time.

20:41, 42 Before parting, David and Jonathan wept together. Both were valiant warriors but also men of tender hearts. They were loyal friends and committed to each other even in difficult circumstances. at their parting, the two friends reiterated their covenant of friendship (18:3; 20:14–16).

21:1 Nob was a priestly community; the tabernacle was relocated there after the destruction of shiloh. Ahimelech, the great-grandson of eli (1:9), was serving as high priest. his name means "My

The Sinful and Sad Life of Saul

Passage	Saul's Sinful Choice	Sad Consequence
1 Sam. 13:5–23	He assumed a priestly role and offered sacrifices before battle.	The prophet Samuel announced God's choice of a new king.
14:1–52	He made a foolish oath.	The people turned against him.
15:1–9	He disobeyed God's instructions by not completely destroying Agag.	Samuel announced God's utter rejection of him as king.
18:10–16	He personally tried to kill David.	He was overcome by fear and an evil spirit.
19:1–7	He ordered the murder of David.	He became paranoid.
19:8–10	He again tried to kill David.	He was tormented by an evil spirit.
19:11–24	He continued his murderous campaign against David.	He became jealous and fearful of David.
20:1–42	He tried to get his son Jonathan to assist in killing David.	He became violent toward his own son Jonathan.
22:6–23	He ordered Doeg to kill the priests of Nob.	He slipped further into madness and depravity.
28:7–25	He visited a witch.	He became terrified of his future death.
31:4	He committed suicide.	A man with great potential died in great shame.

<sup>2</sup>So David said to Ahimelech the priest, “The king has ordered me on some business, and said to me, ‘Do not let anyone know anything about the business on which I send you, or what I have commanded you.’ And I have directed my young men to such and such a place. <sup>3</sup>Now therefore, what have you on hand? Give me five loaves of bread in my hand, or whatever can be found.”

<sup>5</sup>Then David answered the priest, and said to him, “Truly, women have been kept from us about three days since I came out. And <sup>3</sup>the <sup>e</sup>vessels of the young men are holy, and the bread is in effect common, even though it was consecrated <sup>f</sup>in the vessel this day.”

<sup>6</sup>So the priest <sup>g</sup>gave him holy bread; for there was no bread there but the showbread <sup>h</sup>which had been taken from before the LORD, in order to put hot bread in its place on the day when it was taken away.

<sup>7</sup>Now a certain man of the servants of Saul was there that day, detained before the LORD. And his name was <sup>i</sup>Doeg, an Edomite, the chief of the herdsmen who belonged to Saul.

<sup>8</sup>And David said to Ahimelech, “Is there not here on hand a spear or a sword? For I have brought neither my sword nor my weapons with me, because the king’s business required haste.”

<sup>9</sup>So the priest said, “The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom you killed in <sup>j</sup>the Valley of Elah, <sup>k</sup>there it is, wrapped in a cloth behind the ephod. If you will take that, take it. For there is no other except that one here.”

And David said, “There is none like it; give it to me.”

David Flees to Gath

<sup>10</sup>Then David arose and fled that day from before Saul, and went to Achish the king of Gath. <sup>11</sup>And <sup>l</sup>the servants of Achish said to him, “Is this not David the king of the land? Did they not sing of him to one another in dances, saying:

<sup>m</sup>“Saul has slain his thousands,

David's Four Hundred Men

22 David therefore departed from there and <sup>a</sup>escaped <sup>b</sup>to the cave of Brother Is king.” was afraid: his fear may have been due to rumors of a breach between saul and David. since David was a respected soldier and a member of the royal court, it would be unusual for him to travel alone.

21:2 The king has ordered me: David deceived ahimelech into believing that he was on a secret mission for the king. his lie unwittingly precipitated a tragedy for the priests of nob (22:6–19).

I have directed my young men: David apparently had arranged a rendezvous with a small band of men (21:4, 5; 22:2; see Matt. 12:3, 4).

21:3–5 no common bread: In response to David’s request for provisions, ahimelech explained that the only bread available was holy bread, sometimes called the “showbread,” which had been displayed before the Lord in the tabernacle (see ex. 25:23–30; Lev. 24:5–9), according to God’s law, this bread could be eaten only by priests. David explained to ahimelech that his men had avoided ritual impurity, having had no contact with women for three days (see ex. 19:15; Lev. 15:16–18).

in effect common: David argued that the bread was no longer sacred because new bread had replaced it before the Lord. 21:6 the priest gave him holy bread: The Talmud explains this apparent breach of the law on the basis that the preservation of life takes precedence over nearly all other commandments in the Law (see Lev. 24:9). Jesus referred to this incident in Matt. 12:2–4; Mark 2:25, 26, in his discussion with the Pharisees concerning the sabbath. The spirit of the Law was kept by ahimelech’s compassionate act.

21:7 Doeg, an Edomite, witnessed the encounter between David and ahimelech and passed the word along to the king. Doeg was not at the tabernacle as a spy but as a man detained before the LORD—that is, under a spiritual vow.

21:9 having fled Gibeah without weapons, David laid claim to the sword of Goliath, whom David had killed in the Valley of Elah (17:40–51). The sword was wrapped in a cloth to prevent the blade from rusting and had been placed behind the ephod, the high priest’s ceremonial robes.

21:10 Achish ruled the city of Gath, one of the five major cities of the Philistines (6:17). Various sites have been proposed for the location of Gath. The most widely accepted is about 12 miles southeast of a shdod.

21:11 David the king: This remark is an exaggeration of a rumored takeover of the throne by David. his military exploits certainly commended him to kingship. The popular song sung in his honor after his victory over Goliath had reached the ears of the Philistines (18:7; 29:5).

21:12, 13 These verses provide the background for Ps. 34 and perhaps Ps. 56. In Ps. 34, Achish is referred to as a bimelech, which was apparently a dynastic title used by the Philistine rulers (Gen. 20:2; 26:1). very much afraid: David’s life was in jeopardy. If the superscription of Ps. 56 relates to this incident, David was seized by the Philistines. he had come for a place of refuge from saul but found himself in the hands of the Philistines. Madness was associated in ancient times with being controlled by a powerful spirit. David changed his demeanor and behaved as though he were insane, writing graffiti on the doors of the gates and drooling.

21:14, 15 Achish had no interest in adding an insane soldier to his army. The title of Ps. 34 indicates the conclusion of this incident. The king “drove him away, and he departed.”

22:1 after David’s escape from Gath, he gathered his family and followers at a cave near the city of a dullam, about 10 miles southeast

Adullam. So when his brothers and all his father's house heard it, they went down there to him. <sup>2c</sup> And everyone who was in distress, everyone who was in debt, and everyone who was <sup>1</sup>discontented gathered to him. So he became captain over them. And there were about <sup>4</sup>four hundred men with him.

<sup>3</sup>Then David went from there to Mizpah of <sup>e</sup>Moab; and he said to the king of Moab, "Please let my father and mother come here with you, till I know what God will do for me." <sup>4</sup>So he brought them before the king of Moab, and they dwelt with him all the time that David was in the stronghold.

Saul Murders the Priests

<sup>6</sup>When Saul heard that David and the men who were with him had been discovered—now Saul was staying in <sup>g</sup>Gibeah under a tamarisk tree in Ramah, with his spear in his hand, and all his servants standing about him— <sup>7</sup>then Saul said to his servants who stood about him, "Hear now, you Benjamites! Will the son of Jesse <sup>h</sup>give every one of you fields and vineyards, and make you all captains of thousands and captains of hundreds?"

of Gath and 16 miles southwest of Jerusalem. The cave of Adullam was where David composed Ps. 142 and possibly Ps. 57.

22:2 David soon attracted a considerable following of those who were oppressed and discontented with saul's rule. Everyone who was in debt apparently refers to those who were in danger of being sold into slavery by their creditors (2 kin. 4:1). Captain is a general term for a political, military, or religious leader. The four hundred men soon grew to six hundred (23:13). They were a group of drifters and debtors, troublemakers and those who were troubled. David expressed his disappointment when he realized that none of the men were there to support him (Ps. 142:4).

22:3 The name Mizpah means "Watchtower"; this was probably a fortress in Moab. The region of Moab was located east of the Dead sea. David's family connection with the Moabites is related in the story of Ruth (Ruth 1:4–18; 4:21, 22).

22:5, 6 Following the advice of the prophet Gad (2 sam. 24:11), David left the stronghold and hid in the forest of Hereth, the location of which is unknown. The tamarisk tree is well-suited for hot, dry places, growing well on sandy, desert soils (Gen. 21:33).

22:7 the son of Jesse: saul perhaps was unwilling to refer to David by name (20:30, 31). saul suggested that the Benjamites could not expect blessings under the rule of David, who was from the tribe of Judah.

<sup>8</sup>All of you have conspired against me, and there is no one who reveals to me that <sup>i</sup>my son has made a covenant with the son of Jesse; and there is not one of you who is sorry for me or reveals to me that my son has stirred up my servant against me, to lie in wait, as it is this day.”

<sup>11</sup>So the king sent to call Ahimelech the priest, the son of Ahitub, and all his father’s house, the priests who were in Nob. And they all came to the king. <sup>12</sup>And Saul said, “Hear now, son of Ahitub!”

He answered, “Here I am, my lord.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Saul said to him, “Why have you conspired against me, you and the son of Jesse, in that you have given him bread and a sword, and have inquired of God for him, that he should rise against me, to lie in wait, as it is this day?”

<sup>14</sup>So Ahimelech answered the king and said, “And who among all your servants is as <sup>o</sup>faithful as David, who is the king’s son-in-law, who goes at your bidding, and is honorable in your house? <sup>15</sup>Did I then begin to inquire of God for him? Far be it from me! Let not the king impute anything to his servant, or to any in the house of my father. For your servant knew nothing of all this, little or much.”

<sup>16</sup>And the king said, “You shall surely die, Ahimelech, you and all <sup>p</sup>your father’s house!” <sup>17</sup>Then the king said to the guards who stood about him, “Turn and kill the priests of the LORD, because

David Saves the City of Keilah

23 Then they told David, saying, “Look, the Philistines are fighting against <sup>a</sup>Keilah, and they are robbing the threshing floors.”

<sup>2</sup>Therefore David <sup>b</sup>inquired of the LORD, saying, “Shall I go and <sup>l</sup>attack these Philistines?”

And the LORD said to David, “Go and attack the Philistines, and save Keilah.”

<sup>3</sup>But David’s men said to him, “Look, we are afraid here in Judah. How much more then if we go to Keilah against the armies of the Philistines?” <sup>4</sup>Then David inquired of the LORD once again.

22:9, 10 Doeg sought to ingratiate himself with saul by betraying Ahimelech, the high priest who gave David provisions and a weapon (21:1–9). he inquired of the LORD for him: This is not mentioned in 21:1–9, although a himelech seems to admit it in v. 15. 22:14, 15 as faithful as David: In answering the charges against himself, Ahimelech inadvertently defended David. To hear the loyalty and faithfulness of David defended must have annoyed saul considerably. knew nothing: a himelech made a case for his innocence by declaring his ignorance of the breach that had occurred between saul and David.

22:17, 18 would not lift their hands to strike the priests: The soldiers attending saul knew better than to raise their weapons against the priests of the living God. They must have viewed the sentence as unjust or an act of sacrilege. seeing a further opportunity to win saul’s favor, Doeg, a Gentile, carried out the slaughter of the 85 priests (21:7).

22:20 Abiathar had not been among the 85 priests killed by Doeg at Gibeah. he escaped from Nob before the massacre. according to 23:6, he met up with David at keilah.

22:22 I have caused the death of all the persons: David recognized that his deception led to the massacre of the priests and their families (21:1–9). In the sovereignty of God, the destruction of the priests of Nob was a partial fulfillment of the prophesied judgment on eli’s house (2:27–36). But the sovereignty of God never nullifies personal responsibility for one’s actions (a cts 2:23).

22:23 he who seeks my life seeks your life: David and a biathar were both regarded as enemies by saul. safe: David offered a biathar protection. The priest remained with David and provided a valuable service (23:9). he brought the ephod with him and inquired of the Lord for David (23:2, 6).

23:1 Instead of turning to saul, their king, the people of Keilah appealed to David for deliverance from the Philistines. Located in a region of low hills about 15 miles southwest of Jerusalem, keilah belonged to the tribe of Judah (Josh. 15:44). Threshing floors were hard, flat surfaces where grain was trampled or crushed to separate it from the straw. sometimes threshing floors served as storage areas. The Philistines raided the threshing floors after the Israelites had harvested and processed the grain.

23:2, 3 David inquired of the LORD: David sought the will of God concerning whether the Lord had called him to deliver keilah. David recognized that need does not necessarily constitute a call to a particular ministry. here in Judah: The men had taken risks in associating themselves with David in Israelite territory, but they sensed that there would be increased risks if they left the hill country of Judah.

And the LORD answered him and said, “Arise, go down to Keilah. For I will deliver the Philistines into your hand.”<sup>5</sup> And David and his men went to Keilah and fought with the Philistines, struck them with a mighty blow, and took away their livestock. So David saved the inhabitants of Keilah.

<sup>6</sup> Now it happened, when Abiathar the son of Ahimelech fled to David at Keilah, that he went down with an ephod in his hand.

<sup>7</sup> And Saul was told that David had gone to Keilah. So Saul said, “God has delivered him into my hand, for he has shut himself in by entering a town that has gates and bars.”<sup>8</sup> Then Saul called all the people together for war, to go down to Keilah to besiege David and his men.

<sup>9</sup> When David knew that Saul plotted evil against him, he said to Abiathar the priest, “Bring the ephod here.”<sup>10</sup> Then David said, “O LORD God of Israel, Your servant has certainly heard that Saul seeks to come to Keilah to destroy the city for my sake.<sup>11</sup> Will the men of Keilah deliver me into his hand? Will Saul come down, as Your servant has heard? O LORD God of Israel, I pray, tell Your servant.”

And the LORD said, “He will come down.”

<sup>12</sup> Then David said, “Will the men of Keilah deliver me and my men into the hand of Saul?”

And the LORD said, “They will deliver you.”

<sup>13</sup> So David and his men, about six hundred, arose and departed from Keilah and went wherever they could go. Then it was told Saul that David had escaped from Keilah; so he halted the expedition.

David in Wilderness Strongholds

<sup>14</sup> And David stayed in strongholds in the wilderness, and remained in the mountains in the Wilderness of Ziph. Saul sought him every day, but God did not deliver him into his hand.<sup>15</sup> So David saw that Saul had come out to seek his life. And David was in the Wilderness of Ziph in a forest.<sup>16</sup> Then Jonathan, Saul's son, arose and went to David in the woods and strengthened his hand in God.<sup>17</sup> And he said to him, “Do not fear, for the hand of Saul my father shall not find you. You shall be king over Israel, and I shall be next to you.<sup>18</sup> Even my father Saul knows that.”<sup>19</sup> So the two of them made a covenant before the LORD. And David stayed in the woods, and Jonathan went to his own house.

<sup>19</sup> Then the Ziphites came up to Saul at Gibeah, saying, “Is David not hiding with us in strongholds in the woods, in the hill of Hachilah, which is on the south of Jeshimon?”<sup>20</sup> Now therefore, O king, come down according to all the desire of your soul to come down; and our part shall be to deliver him into the king's hand.”

<sup>21</sup> And Saul said, “Blessed are you of the LORD, for you have compassion on me.<sup>22</sup> Please go and find out for sure, and see the place where his hideout is, and who has seen him there. For I am told he is very crafty.<sup>23</sup> See therefore, and take knowledge of all the lurking places where he hides; and come back to me with certainty, and I will go with you. And it shall be, if he is in the land, that I will search for him throughout all the clans of Judah.”

<sup>24</sup> So they arose and went to Ziph before Saul. But David and his men were

23:6 Abiathar did not join up with David until he was at Keilah. The account of this meeting was apparently included earlier to complete the narrative of what happened to the priests of Nob (22:20–23). The ephod was the outer vest of the priest. Its value was probably due to the urim and Thummim attached to the breastplate. By means of the urim and Thummim, God could be consulted and his will determined (see ex. 28:30; Num. 27:21).

23:7, 8 a town that has gates and bars: saul assumed that it would be easier to capture David in a fortified city than to chase him all over the wilderness. saul had not fought against the Philistines, the enemies of his people, for some time. But in an attempt to capture David, he was willing to destroy an entire Jewish town.

23:9–12 Bring the ephod here: David sought the will of God through the urim and Thummim, which were attached to or inside the breastplate of the ephod (v. 6). David used the ephod to find out whether he was safe staying in keilah. he asked two questions of the Lord: (1) Would saul come to keilah in pursuit of him? (2) Would the people of keilah betray him to saul? David received a “yes” answer to both questions.

23:13, 14 The number of David's followers had increased 50 percent, from four hundred (22:2) to six hundred. Strongholds refers to the various hideouts where David and his followers found refuge. The Wilderness of Ziph is the barren region about four miles southeast of hebron. This region had many ravines and caves in which David's men could hide.

23:16–18 Jonathan . . . went to David: This was the custom between the two; Jonathan initiated their friendship. To visit David, his father's archenemy, would have been risky for Jonathan. his hand in God: Both men had a fervent love for God, and Jonathan encouraged David to continue his obedient walk with the Lord. Jonathan recognized that David was destined to be Israel's next king and was content to take second place beside him because it was God's will. Finally, David and Jonathan renewed the covenant of friendship and protection which they had established earlier (18:3; 20:14–17).

23:19–29 While fleeing in the wilderness, David narrowly escaped being captured by saul. This incident provides the historical background for Ps. 54.

23:19 Jeshimon may not be a proper name but a term meaning “waste” or “desert.” The term is used here of the barren wilderness of Judah, which is in the vicinity of Ziph.

23:22, 23 crafty: David's boyhood work as a shepherd gave him plenty of opportunity to learn the geography of the region and to become familiar with the hiding places of the wilderness.

23:24 By the time the Ziphites returned to Ziph, David and his men had moved to the Wilderness of Maon, a desert region to the in the Wilderness <sup>p</sup> of Maon, in the plain on the south of Jeshimon. <sup>25</sup>When Saul and his men went to seek him, they told David. Therefore he went down <sup>6</sup> to the rock, and stayed in the Wilderness of Maon. And when Saul heard that, he pursued David in the Wilderness of Maon. <sup>26</sup>Then Saul went on one side of the mountain, and David and his men on the other side of the mountain. <sup>q</sup>So David made haste to get away from Saul, for Saul and his men <sup>r</sup> were encircling David and his men to take them.

<sup>27s</sup> But a messenger came to Saul, saying, “Hurry and come, for the Philistines have invaded the land!” <sup>28</sup> Therefore Saul returned from pursuing David, and went against the Philistines; so they called that place <sup>7</sup> the Rock of Escape. <sup>29</sup> Then David went up from there and dwelt in strongholds at <sup>t</sup> En Gedi.

David Sparing Saul

24 Now it happened, <sup>a</sup> when Saul had returned from following the Philistines, that it was told him, saying, “Take note! David is in the Wilderness of En Gedi.” <sup>2</sup> Then Saul took three thousand chosen men from all Israel, and <sup>b</sup> went to seek David and his men on the Rocks of the Wild Goats. <sup>3</sup> So he came to the sheepfolds by the road, where there was a cave; and <sup>c</sup> Saul went in to <sup>d</sup> attend to his needs. (<sup>e</sup> David and his men were staying in the recesses of the cave.) <sup>4f</sup> Then the men of David said to him, “This is the day of which the LORD said to you, ‘Behold, I will deliver your enemy into your hand, that you may do

And Saul got up from the cave and went on his way.

<sup>8</sup> David also arose afterward, went out of the cave, and called out to Saul, saying, “My lord the king!” And when Saul looked behind him, David stooped with his face to the earth, and bowed down. <sup>9</sup> And David said to Saul: <sup>j</sup> “Why do you listen to the words of men who say, ‘Indeed David seeks your harm?’ <sup>10</sup> Look, this day your eyes have seen that the LORD delivered you today into my hand in the cave, and someone urged me to kill you. But my eye spared you, and I said, ‘I will not stretch out my hand against my lord, for he is the LORD’s anointed.’ <sup>11</sup> Moreover, my father, see! Yes, see the corner of your robe in my hand! For in that I cut off the corner of your robe, and did not kill you, know and see that there is <sup>k</sup> neither evil nor rebellion in my hand, and I have not sinned against you. Yet you <sup>l</sup> hunt my life to take it. <sup>12</sup> <sup>m</sup> Let the LORD judge between you and me, and let the LORD avenge me on you. But my hand shall not be against you. <sup>13</sup> As the proverb of the ancients says, <sup>n</sup> “Wicked-south. Maon, a city of the Judean hill country (see Josh. 15:55), was located about five miles south of Ziph.

23:25–28 Although Saul and his men managed to surround David’s hideout, a report of a raid by the Philistines forced Saul to withdraw, allowing David to escape.

23:28 The place of David’s near capture was named the Rock of Escape to commemorate his deliverance.

24:3 En Gedi, meaning “spring of the kid,” was an oasis east of Hebron, very near the shore of the Dead Sea. The site was noted in biblical times for the fresh water spring and lush vineyards (see song 1:14).

24:2 The Rocks of the Wild Goats is another name for the area of En Gedi.

24:3 sheepfolds: At night, shepherds in this wild area would gather their sheep into a protective rock enclosure. A low stone wall would keep the sheep from wandering. The shepherd would position himself at the entrance of the sheepfold to guard against animals of prey and thieves. Often a cave with a wall built across its mouth served as a sheepfold in the wilderness.

24:4 the LORD said to you: These words are not recorded elsewhere in Scripture. Perhaps they are given as the interpretation of the immediate events by David’s men. corner of Saul’s robe: Saul may have laid his robe aside, enabling David to cut off a piece unobserved. The piece of cloak would serve as proof that Saul had been completely at David’s mercy.

24:5 David’s heart troubled him: David was conscience-stricken.

he knew it was wrong to assault the Lord’s anointed king (vv. 6, 10), even though David had not really done anything to hurt the king physically, the fact that he had reached out with his knife troubled him.

24:6 The LORD forbid: David had a high regard for the LORD’s anointed king. To cut off a portion of Saul’s robe constituted for David an act of disrespect for God’s representative, even though that man was seeking to take David’s life.

24:8, 9 My lord the king: These words of respect from the voice that Saul knew well must have been quite stunning to him. and bowed down: This was not religious worship but an act of respect for Saul’s position as king. David seeks your harm: Some people in Saul’s court were falsely accusing David of trying to overthrow Saul.

24:10 the LORD delivered you today into my hand: David recognized God’s sovereignty in bringing about the circumstances that gave him an opportunity to kill Saul.

24:11 My father is a warm term of affection and respect (see 2 Kin. 5:13; 6:21). It also reminded Saul that David was in fact his son-in-law.

your robe: There could be no clearer evidence that David was not out to harm the king.

24:12 David dedicated to the LORD the matter of his relationship with Saul. God alone could settle the matter and bring about perfect justice (see Deut. 32:35; Rom. 12:17–21).

24:13 Wickedness proceeds from the wicked: The meaning of the proverb is that only a wicked man would seek to do evil against another. Since David did not take advantage of the opportunity to kill Saul, he was most certainly a good man.

ness proceeds from the wicked.' But my hand shall not be against you. <sup>14</sup>After whom has the king of Israel come out? Whom do you pursue? <sup>o</sup>A dead dog? <sup>p</sup>A flea? <sup>15</sup><sup>q</sup>Therefore let the LORD be judge, and judge between you and me, and <sup>r</sup>see and <sup>s</sup>plead my case, and deliver me out of your hand."

David and the Wife of Nabal

<sup>2</sup>Now there was a man <sup>d</sup>in Maon whose business was in <sup>e</sup>Carmel, and the man was very rich. He had three thousand sheep and a thousand goats. And he was shearing his sheep in Carmel. <sup>3</sup>The name of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail. And she was a woman of good understanding and beautiful appearance; but the man was harsh and evil in his doings. He was of the house of <sup>f</sup>Caleb.

<sup>4</sup>When David heard in the wilderness that Nabal was <sup>g</sup>shearing his sheep, <sup>5</sup>David sent ten young men; and David said to the young men, "Go up to Carmel, go to Nabal, and greet him in my name. <sup>6</sup>And thus you shall say to him who lives in prosperity: <sup>h</sup>Peace be to you, peace to your house, and peace to all that you have! <sup>7</sup>Now I have heard that you have shearers. Your shepherds were with us, and we did not hurt them, <sup>i</sup>nor was there anything missing from them all the while they were in Carmel. <sup>8</sup>Ask your young men, and they will tell you. Therefore <sup>2</sup>let my young men find favor in your eyes, for we come on <sup>j</sup>a feast day. Please give whatever comes to your hand to your servants and to your son David."

<sup>9</sup>So when David's young men came, they spoke to Nabal according to all these words in the name of David, and waited.

<sup>10</sup>Then Nabal answered David's servants, and said, <sup>k</sup>"Who is David, and

24:14 David likened himself to a dead dog and a flea in contrast with the king of Israel. how could something as worthless as a dead dog or as insignificant as a flea be of any danger to saul?

24:16, 17 The words my son serve here as an expression of endearment. Saul lifted up his voice and wept: saul's tears reflect his remorse at seeking to do David harm. however, it was a short-lived remorse (26:2).

24:19 may the LORD reward you with good: saul prayed for God's blessing on David.

24:21 swear now to me by the LORD: saul asked David to commit himself by oath to (1) preserve saul's family and (2) preserve saul's name.

24:22 David swore to Saul: David agreed to saul's requests and kept his promise (see 2 sam. 9:1-13; 21:6-8). While saul returned home to Gibeah (10:26), David remained in hiding. he apparently had no great confidence in the lasting value of saul's expression of remorse.

25:1 Then Samuel died: samuel's death may have taken place while David was in the Wilderness of en Gedi (24:1). his death (or at least the recording of it) came at a propitious time. David had just been acknowledged as the successor of saul by the king himself, and there was a short-lived truce between the two parties. samuel's popularity was evidenced by the fact that the nation of Israel assembled at Ramah to honor him at his burial. after samuel's death, David journeyed south to the Wilderness of Paran, a desert area in the northeast region of the sinai peninsula.

25:2 Maon was located in the Judean hill country (see Josh. 15:55), about eight miles south of hebron. Carmel was located on the edge of the Judean wilderness, about a mile north of Maon. Like the times of harvest, the shearing of the sheep was a festive occasion.

25:3 The personal conduct of Nabal suggests that his name, meaning "fool," was appropriate (v. 25). It is not known whether he used this name himself or whether it was something other people called him. Nabal was a descendant of the house of Caleb, which had occupied the area at the time of the conquest (see Judg. 1:20). Abigail, a woman of wisdom and beauty, stood in stark contrast to the foolish nature of her husband. her name may mean "My father Is Rejoicing."

25:4-9 Nabal lived in a wilderness area and owned thousands of sheep and goats, and so was a prime target for thieves. David and his men had generously protected Nabal's flocks and possessions (vv. 15, 16, 21). since it was the time of sheep shearing, Nabal would have had plenty of cash from the sale of wool to reward David and his men for their services.

25:7 nor was there anything missing: David and his men had provided protection and had not taken advantage of their position or authority.

25:8 David sent his men on a feast day, when most people display an extra measure of generosity. Please give whatever comes to your hand: a pparently, no price had been set for the services rendered.

25:10 Who is David: Nabal pretended not to know David. he added insult to injury by suggesting that David might be just another runaway servant.

who is the son of Jesse? There are many servants nowadays who break away each one from his master. <sup>11</sup> Shall I then take my bread and my water and my <sup>3</sup> meat that I have killed for my shearers, and give it to men when I do not know where they are from?"

<sup>12</sup> So David's young men turned on their heels and went back; and they came and told him all these words. <sup>13</sup> Then David said to his men, "Every man gird on his sword." So every man girded on his sword, and David also girded on his sword. And about four hundred men went with David, and two hundred <sup>m</sup> stayed with the supplies.

<sup>20</sup> So it was, as she rode on the donkey, that she went down under cover of the hill; and there were David and his men, coming down toward her, and she met them. <sup>21</sup> Now David had said, "Surely in vain I have protected all that this fellow has in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed of all that belongs to him. <sup>23</sup> Now when Abigail saw David, she <sup>x</sup> dismounted quickly from the donkey, fell on her face before David, and bowed down to the ground. <sup>24</sup> So she fell at his feet and said: "On me, my lord, on me let this iniquity be! And please let your maidservant <sup>6</sup> speak in your ears, and hear the words of your maidservant. <sup>25</sup> Please, let not my lord <sup>7</sup> regard this scoundrel Nabal. 25:11 Nabal lived in a region where water was scarce (see Josh. 15:19).

(heb. nasa') (25:28; Gen. 4:13; Ps. 32:1, 5) strong's #5375

This hebrew word means basically "to lift up," "to bear," or "to take away." The word can apply to a person lifting up various objects including one's hand in an oath (ezek. 20:5, 6), one's face to show favor (Num. 6:24-26), and one's voice in sorrow or joy (Gen. 27:38; Is. 24:14). The sense of "bearing" is often used in reference to sin or its punishment. Thus this hebrew word was used to describe how the scapegoat "bore" the sins of Israel (Lev. 16:22) and how the suffering servant would "bear" the sins of the world (Is. 53:12). The idea of "taking away" is also frequently associated with sin. This activity is usually identified as a characteristic of God (Num. 14:18; Mic. 7:18). The NT describes God's forgiveness by stating that Jesus both bore our sins and took them away (1 Pet. 2:24; 1 John 3:5).

brew phrase translated scoundrel is literally "son of Belial" or "son of worthlessness."

25:18 Taking matters into her own hands, a bigail gathered an abundance of goods to compensate David and his men. skins of wine: In ancient times, wine was carried in flexible containers made from animal skins. The hebrew seah was a measure equivalent to one-third of an ephah or about one-fifth of a bushel.

25:19 Go on before me: a bigail wisely sent the provisions ahead to forestall any hostility caused by her husband's insulting behavior.

25:22 May God do so, and more also: David made an oath calling down God's judgment on his enemies should he fail to kill everyone who worked for Nabal.

25:23, 24 a bigail's acts of humility were in strong contrast to the boorish behavior of her husband (vv. 10, 11). she did everything she could to show respect to David when he was angry and to obtain his forgiveness for the wrong Nabal had committed against him.

25:25 For as his name is, so is he: The name Nabal was quite fitting for a foolish man. a bigail's humor at her husband's expense was designed to save his life (vv. 21, 22).

25:26 as the LORD lives: a bigail showed herself to David to be a woman of truthfulness, piety, and faith.

25:27 This present means the provisions mentioned in v. 18. These gracious gifts expressed a bigail's desire to make things right.

25:28 an enduring house: a bigail's words indicate that she expected David to succeed saul and enjoy a lengthy line of successors (v. 30).

my lord an enduring house, because my lord <sup>e</sup> fights the battles of the LORD, <sup>f</sup> and evil is not found in you throughout your days. <sup>29</sup> Yet a man has risen to pursue you and seek your life, but the life of my lord shall be <sup>g</sup> bound in the bundle of the living with the LORD your God; and the lives of your enemies He shall <sup>h</sup> sling out, as from the pocket of a sling. <sup>30</sup> And it shall come to pass, when the LORD has done for my lord according to all the good that He has spoken concerning you, and has appointed you <sup>i</sup> ruler over Israel, <sup>31</sup> that this will be no grief to you, nor offense of heart to my lord, either that you have shed blood without cause, or that my lord has avenged himself. But when the LORD has dealt well with my lord, then remember your maidservant.”

<sup>32</sup> Then David said to Abigail: “Blessed is the LORD God of Israel, who sent you this day to meet me! <sup>33</sup> And blessed is your advice and blessed are you, because you have <sup>k</sup> kept me this day from coming to bloodshed and from avenging myself with my own hand. <sup>34</sup> For indeed, as the LORD God of Israel lives, who has <sup>l</sup> kept me back from hurting you, unless you had hurried and come to meet me, surely <sup>m</sup> by morning light no males would have been left to Nabal!” <sup>35</sup> So David received from her hand what she had brought him, and said to her, <sup>n</sup> “Go up in peace to your house. See, I have heeded your voice and <sup>o</sup> respected your person.”

<sup>36</sup> Now Abigail went to Nabal, and there he was, <sup>p</sup> holding a feast in his house, like the feast of a king. And Nabal’s heart was merry within him, for he was very drunk; therefore she told him nothing, little or much, until morning light. <sup>37</sup> So it was, in the morning, when the wine had gone from Nabal, and his wife had told him these things, that his heart died within him, and he became like a stone. <sup>38</sup> Then it happened, after about ten days, that the LORD <sup>q</sup> struck Nabal, and he died.

<sup>39</sup> So when David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, <sup>r</sup> “Blessed be the LORD, who has <sup>s</sup> pleaded the cause of my reproach from the hand of Nabal, and has <sup>t</sup> kept His servant from evil! For the LORD has “returned the wickedness of Nabal on his own head.”

And David sent and proposed to Abigail, to take her as his wife. <sup>40</sup> When the servants of David had come to Abigail at Carmel, they spoke to her saying, “David sent us to you, to ask you to become his wife.”

David Spares Saul a Second Time

26 Now the Ziphites came to Saul at Gibeah, saying, <sup>a</sup> “Is David not hiding in the hill of Hachilah, opposite Jeshimon?” <sup>2</sup> Then Saul arose and went down to the Wilderness of Ziph, having <sup>b</sup> three thousand chosen men of Israel with him, to seek David in the Wilderness of Ziph. <sup>3</sup> And Saul encamped in the hill of Hachilah, which is opposite Jeshimon, by the road. But David stayed in the wilderness, and he saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness. <sup>4</sup> David therefore sent out spies, and understood that Saul had indeed come.

<sup>5</sup> So David arose and came to the place

25:29, 31 bound in the bundle of the living: This metaphor reflects the custom of binding valuables in a bundle to protect them from injury. The point here is that God cares for his own as a man cares for his valuable treasure. sling out: This metaphor signifies God’s complete rejection of David’s enemies. no grief to you: a bigail sought to show David that the present slight was nothing compared to his future glory.

25:35 respected your person: a literal translation of this phrase would be “I lift up your face.” This is the opposite of a bigail’s bowing down before David when she first met him (vv. 23, 24).

25:37, 38 his heart died within him . . . like a stone: Nabal apparently suffered a stroke and became paralyzed. the Lord struck Nabal: Nabal’s death was the result of God’s judgment.

25:39 David gave praise to the Lord for it was God who had exacted justice and not David himself. This story is a splendid example of the biblical motif “Vengeance is Mine, I will repay,” says the Lord” (Rom. 12:19; cf. Deut. 32:35).

25:41 to wash the feet of the servants: Washing the feet of others was a servant’s task. A bigail expressed her willingness to do the most menial jobs. This was a genuine expression of her gratitude to David. 25:43 Ahinoam became the mother of David’s oldest son, a mnon (2 sam. 3:2). Jezreel is not the city in the north, but a town in the hill country of Judah (Josh. 15:56).

25:44 David was without Michal, his first wife (18:27). saul had given her to another man during David’s absence.

26:1 The Ziphites were from Ziph, four miles southeast of hebron. They traveled about 25 miles north to report to saul at Gibeah. The hill of Hachilah has been identified with a ridge about 6 miles southeast of Ziph (23:19). Jeshimon is probably not a proper name but a term meaning “waste” or “desert.” The term is most likely used here of the barren wilderness of Judah, which is in the vicinity of Ziph and extends east toward the Dead sea.

26:2 a apparently forgetful of the events of 24:16–22, saul led his men into the wilderness in pursuit of David. The similarities between the events of ch. 24 and the events here are striking. The Wilderness of Ziph refers to the desert region around Ziph and eastward.

26:5 Abner the son of Ner had served as a very successful commander of saul’s army.

where Saul had encamped. And David saw the place where Saul lay, and <sup>e</sup>Abner the son of Ner, the commander of his army. Now Saul lay within the camp, with the people encamped all around him. <sup>6</sup>Then David answered, and said to Ahimelech the Hittite and to Abishai <sup>d</sup>the son of Zeruiah, brother of <sup>e</sup>Joab, saying, “Who will <sup>f</sup>go down with me to Saul in the camp?”

And <sup>g</sup>Abishai said, “I will go down with you.”

<sup>7</sup>So David and Abishai came to the people by night; and there Saul lay sleeping within the camp, with his spear stuck in the ground by his head. And Abner and the people lay all around him. <sup>8</sup>Then Abishai said to David, <sup>h</sup>“God has delivered your enemy into your hand this day. Now therefore, please, let me strike him <sup>i</sup>at once with the spear, right to the earth; and I will not have to strike him a second time!”

<sup>13</sup>Now David went over to the other side, and stood on the top of a hill afar off, a great distance being between them.

<sup>14</sup>And David called out to the people and to Abner the son of Ner, saying, “Do you not answer, Abner?”

Then Abner answered and said, “Who are you, calling out to the king?”

<sup>15</sup>So David said to Abner, “Are you not a man? And who is like you in Israel? Why then have you not guarded your lord the king? For one of the people came in to destroy your lord the king. <sup>16</sup>This thing that you have done is not good. For the king of Israel has come out to seek <sup>t</sup>a flea, as when one hunts a partridge in the mountains.”

<sup>21</sup>Then Saul said, <sup>u</sup>“I have sinned. Return, my son David. For I will harm you no more, because my life was precious in your eyes this day. Indeed I have played the fool and erred exceedingly.”

26:6 Ahimelech the Hittite was a non-Israelite who had joined David’s force, probably as a mercenary soldier. The hittites were a powerful, military people who ruled central Asia Minor during the second millennium B.C. Abishai, David’s nephew (see 1 Chr. 2:15, 16), volunteered to go with David into saul’s camp. a bishai became a leader among David’s men (2 sam. 23:18).

26:7 saul’s spear was a symbol of his authority (18:10; 19:9).

26:8 Abishai seems to have had a bloodthirsty nature (see 2 sam. 16:9; 19:21). he promised not to strike saul a second time—meaning that his first blow would be fatal.

26:9, 10 David once again refused to stretch out his hand against the LORD’s anointed (ch. 24). he would not assassinate Israel’s divinely appointed king (10:1). the LORD shall strike him: David knew that God would remove saul from office according to his own perfect timing.

26:11, 12 take now the spear and the jug of water: These items would prove that David had been close enough to saul to kill him but had refrained from doing so. David’s visit to saul’s camp went undetected because the Lord had caused a deep sleep to fall upon the soldiers.

26:14 calling out to the king: David did not shout directly to saul; instead, he taunted a bner, saul’s general.

26:16 The spear and the jug of water served as evidence of a bner’s negligence and proof of David’s goodwill.

26:17 Is that your voice, my son David: saul recognized the familiar voice, as he had near the cave at en Gedi (24:16).

26:19 If the LORD has stirred you up against me: David contemplated the possibility that God was using saul as an agent of divine discipline. If this was the case, David expressed his willingness to offer an atoning sacrifice—an offering. on the other hand, he called for God’s judgment on any evil men who had stirred up saul against David. Go, serve other gods: This phrase reflects David’s view that his exile was virtually equivalent to being forced to abandon the worship of God, since there were no sanctuaries to God outside Israelite territory.

26:20, 21 David likened saul’s actions to pursuing a flea (24:14), hardly fitting for a royal figure. The partridge was known to flee for safety by running rather than flight. When fatigued, it could be captured with sticks or a net. saul once again confessed his sin (24:17). he asked David to return home, promising not to make another attempt on his life.

26:23 Righteousness and faithfulness are characteristics of God himself, which believers may share.

LORD <sup>w</sup> repay every man for his righteousness and his faithfulness; for the LORD delivered you into my hand today, but I would not stretch out my hand against the LORD's anointed. <sup>24</sup>And indeed, as your life was valued much this day in my eyes, so let my life be valued much in the eyes of the LORD, and let Him deliver me out of all tribulation.”

<sup>25</sup>Then Saul said to David, “May you be blessed, my son David! You shall both do great things and also still <sup>x</sup>prevail.”

So David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

David Allied with the Philistines

27 And David said in his heart, “Now I shall perish someday by the hand of Saul. There is nothing better for me than that I should speedily escape to the land of the Philistines; and Saul will <sup>1</sup>despair of me, to seek me anymore in any part of Israel. So I shall escape out of his hand.” <sup>2</sup>Then David arose <sup>a</sup>and went over with the six hundred men who were with him <sup>b</sup>to Achish the son of Maoch, king of Gath. <sup>3</sup>So David dwelt with Achish at Gath, he and his men, each man with his household, and David

26:24, 25 David requested that his life be valued as much as he valued saul’s life. as the two parted, saul recognized that David would eventually prevail (24:20). This was the last meeting between saul and David.

27:1 Now I shall perish someday by the hand of Saul: The evidence pointed to the contrary (13:14; 23:17; 24:20). Perhaps David was depressed. as he had done earlier in fleeing from saul, David journeyed west toward the coastal plain and entered the land of the Philistines.

27:2 Various sites have been suggested for the location of Gath. The most widely accepted is about 12 miles east of a shdod, or about 24 miles west of Jerusalem. achish seems to have welcomed David. Perhaps he had heard of the split between David and saul and was anxious to strengthen his own army with David’s six hundred fighting men.

27:3, 4 David dwelt with Achish at Gath: David’s move to Philistine territory delivered him from the immediate danger of saul and provided him an opportunity to further develop his leadership and military skills (vv. 8–12). his time in Philistia also gave David knowledge of the geography of the region, which would serve him well during his later Philistine wars. as David had probably expected, his sojourn in Philistia put an end to saul’s pursuit of him.

with his two wives, Ahinoam the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the Carmelitess, Nabal's widow. <sup>4</sup>And it was told Saul that David had fled to Gath; so he sought him no more.

<sup>5</sup>Then David said to Achish, "If I have now found favor in your eyes, let them give me a place in some town in the country, that I may dwell there. For why should your servant dwell in the royal city with you?" <sup>6</sup>So Achish gave him Ziklag that day. Therefore <sup>d</sup>Ziklag has belonged to the kings of Judah to this day. <sup>7</sup>Now <sup>2</sup>the time that David <sup>e</sup>dwelt in the country of the Philistines was one full year and four months.

would save neither man nor woman alive, to bring news to Gath, saying, "Lest they should inform on us, saying, 'Thus David did.'" And thus was his behavior all the time he dwelt in the country of the Philistines. <sup>12</sup>So Achish believed David, saying, "He has made his people Israel utterly abhor him; therefore he will be my servant forever."

28 Now <sup>a</sup>it happened in those days that the Philistines gathered their armies together for war, to fight with Israel. And Achish said to David, "You assuredly know that you will go out with me to battle, you and your men."

<sup>2</sup>So David said to Achish, "Surely you know what your servant can do."

And Achish said to David, "Therefore I will make you one of my chief guardians forever."

Saul Consults a Medium

27:5 why should your servant dwell in the royal city: David suggested to a chish that it was too great an honor for him to continue to dwell in Gath, the city of the king. Perhaps David wanted to be free from constant surveillance by the Philistine authorities and from continued exposure to Philistine religious practices.

27:6 a chish established David as his vassal over Ziklag, one of the cities of the Israelite Negev. The city was originally assigned to Judah (see Josh. 15:31) and was located about 13 miles north of Beersheba. Therefore Ziklag has belonged to the kings of Judah to this day: This editorial note must have been added to the historical narrative after the division of the monarchy (930 B.C.). Before that time, there were "kings of Israel," but not of Judah.

27:7 Ziklag remained David's headquarters until saul's death, when David moved to hebron (2 sam. 1:1–4).

27:8 During his sojourn in Philistia, David convinced a chish that he was serving the Philistines. Yet he used Ziklag as a base for raids on desert tribes in the northern Sinai. These peoples were enemies of the Israelites. The Geshurites lived to the southwest of Israel (see Josh. 13:2), between Philistia and Egypt. The Girzites are mentioned only here. The Amalekites were a nomadic people who lived in the dry land south of the hill country (see Num. 13:29). Shur was the border region separating Egypt from northern Sinai. The Israelites had wandered in this region after crossing the Red sea (see ex. 15:22).

27:10 Where have you made a raid today: Although David pretended to serve the interests of a chish, he was actually attacking the enemies of Israel. The southern area of the Jerahmeelites was the part of the Negev occupied by the family of Jerahmeel, one of the clans of Judah (1 Chr. 2:9). The Kenites, who were loosely associated with the Israelites since Moses' marriage into the family of Jethro, a Kenite (see Judg. 4:11), were a nomadic offshoot of the Midianites (Num. 10:29). In fact, David was on friendly terms with both the Jerahmeelites and Kenites (30:29).

27:11 The complete destruction of human life seems to be the only way David was able to avoid discovery. David might also have reasoned that he was working to complete the destruction of the people of the land that had not been done fully during the time of the conquest (see Josh. 23:4, 5).

27:12 he will be my servant forever: David's deception was so effective that Achish concluded that his switch in allegiance was permanent.

28:1 in those days: The events of ch. 28 occurred during the time David was living at Ziklag as a vassal of the Philistine king. gathered their armies: All the time Saul was king, the Philistines were at war with Israel (14:52). you will go out with me: since David was a vassal of Achish, the Philistines expected him to join them in their campaign against Saul. David faced a terrible dilemma.

28:2 Surely you know what your servant can do: The words of David were deliberately ambiguous. His life would have been at risk had he refused to join a chish so he was forced to wait for God's deliverance. one of my chief guardians: David found himself not only in the Philistine army but assigned as one of the king's chief bodyguards.

28:3 Samuel had died: he could no longer be counted on to bring forth a word from the Lord. The term mediums refers to necromancers, those who presume to communicate with the dead. Spiritists is a general term for those who have contact with spirits. In keeping with God's law, persons associated with necromancy and spiritism had been expelled from the land of Israel (ex. 22:18; Lev. 19:31; Deut. 18:9–14). The medium at En Dor was one of the few such persons still known to live in the land (v. 7).

28:4 The village of Shunem was situated in the Valley of Jezreel, on the south slope of the hill of Moreh. The Israelite forces were camped about five miles south of the Philistines on the mountain range of Gilboa.

28:5 Saul was so afraid of the forthcoming battle that his heart trembled greatly. Saul's persistent disobedience had left him completely without confidence in God's presence and protection.

<sup>7</sup>Then Saul said to his servants, “Find me a woman who is a medium, <sup>k</sup>that I may go to her and inquire of her.”

And his servants said to him, “In fact, there is a woman who is a medium at En Dor.”

<sup>8</sup>So Saul disguised himself and put on other clothes, and he went, and two men with him; and they came to the woman by night. And <sup>l</sup>he said, “Please conduct a séance for me, and bring up for me the one I shall name to you.”

<sup>9</sup>Then the woman said to him, “Look, you know what Saul has done, how he has <sup>m</sup>cut off the mediums and the spiritists from the land. Why then do you lay a snare for my life, to cause me to die?”

<sup>10</sup>And Saul swore to her by the LORD, saying, “As the LORD lives, no punishment shall come upon you for this thing.”

<sup>11</sup>Then the woman said, “Whom shall I bring up for you?”

And he said, “Bring up Samuel for me.”

<sup>12</sup>When the woman saw Samuel, she cried out with a loud voice. And the woman spoke to Saul, saying, “Why have you deceived me? For you are Saul!”

<sup>13</sup>And the king said to her, “Do not be afraid. What did you see?”

And the woman said to Saul, “I saw <sup>n</sup>a <sup>1</sup> spirit ascending out of the earth.”

<sup>14</sup>So he said to her, “What is his form?”

And she said, “An old man is coming up, and he is covered with <sup>o</sup>a mantle.” And Saul perceived that it was Samuel, and he stooped with his face to the ground and bowed down.

<sup>15</sup>Now Samuel said to Saul, “Why have you <sup>p</sup>disturbed me by bringing me up?”

<sup>16</sup>Then Samuel said: “So why do you ask me, seeing the LORD has departed from you and has become your enemy?”

<sup>17</sup>And the LORD has done for <sup>2</sup>Himself <sup>s</sup>as He spoke by me. For the LORD has torn the kingdom out of your hand and given it to your neighbor, David. <sup>18</sup><sup>t</sup>Because you did not obey the voice of the LORD nor execute His fierce wrath upon

28:6 God did not answer Saul by dreams as he had Joseph (Gen. 37:5–10); nor by the Urim and Thummim as he had the high priest (ex. 28:30; Num. 27:21); nor by prophetic revelation as he had samuel (3:10–21).

28:7 Find me a woman who is a medium: Rather than repent of his sin and continue to seek God’s forgiveness, saul turned to a forbidden source of counsel (ex. 22:18; Lev. 19:31; Deut. 18:9–14). This tragic decision resulted in his death (1 Chr. 10:13). The law of the Lord called for the death penalty on mediums (Lev. 20:27). En Dor was located in the Jezreel Valley, about a mile northeast of the hill of Moreh.

28:8 Saul disguised himself: In light of his purge of mediums and spiritists from the land, saul could not expect much help should his identity be known. Conduct a séance for me literally means “bring up for me.”

28:9 Why then do you lay a snare for my life: The woman was aware of what saul had done to those of her profession. she recognized the risk of being punished with death for practicing necromancy (see ex. 22:18) and sought to make sure that her visitor was not laying a trap.

28:10 Saul swore to her by the Lord: While engaging in a practice that was practically a denial of God’s sovereign control of everything, saul swore in God’s name that he would protect the woman.

28:11 saul sought the help of Samuel because he had anointed him as king and had spoken God’s word to saul before (10:1).

28:12 When the woman saw Samuel: When her séance really worked, the seer finally saw that her client was saul. The appearance of samuel has been interpreted in various ways. It has been suggested that the appearance took place in saul’s mind, as part of his psychological breakdown. The church fathers believed that a demon impersonated samuel and appeared to saul. o thers have thought that the medium was a fraud who tricked saul into thinking that he saw samuel. It seems best to follow the early view that this was a genuine appearance of samuel which God himself brought about. several points favor this interpretation: (1) The medium was surprised (v. 12); (2) saul identified the figure as samuel (v. 14); (3) the message samuel spoke was clearly from God (vv. 16–19); (4) the text says that the figure was samuel (vv. 12, 15, 16). There is no inherent difficulty with God bringing back the spirit of samuel from heaven and allowing him to appear to saul—in spite of the woman’s evil profession.

28:14 The mantle was a prophet’s robe, such as the one samuel had worn when he was alive. It was this robe that saul once had torn (15:27).

28:15 The words bringing me up may be understood as meaning simply “up from the grave.” This phrase indicates that the Israelites believed in life after death.

28:16 The Lord has departed from you: These startling words are merely a restatement of what saul himself acknowledged in v. 15. samuel was not so much making an affirmation as he was pointing out the contradiction between saul’s words and actions. even though saul had said that God had departed from him, he was still seeking a word from the prophet of God.

28:18 samuel traced saul’s disobedience and judgment back to his failure to destroy the malekites, particularly a gag (15:2–9).

inquired

(heb. sa'al) (17:56; 28:6; Judg. 18:5; Job 8:8) strong’s #7592

The basic sense of this word is “to ask something of someone.” one can ask for an object (1:20; Ps. 137:3) or for information (Gen. 43:7; Job 38:3). The hebrew phrase translated “inquired of the LORD” occurs eleven times in the o T, all in Judges and 1 and 2 samuel (Judg. 20:23; 2 sam. 2:1). The hebrew verb itself occurs a total of 172 times in the o T. o n three occasions the context indicates the meaning “to lend” (1:28 [twice]; 2:20), and in another three passages it means “to borrow” (ex. 22:14; 2 kin. 4:3; 6:5). Thus when the children of Israel left egypt they probably asked, not borrowed, the goods they took with them (ex. 3:22; 11:2; 12:35). This hebrew word is broad enough to encompass the idea of prayer, as in the famous verse: “Pray [ask] for the peace of Jerusalem” (Ps. 122:6).

The Medium of En Dor: An Accomplice to Disobedience

saul's desperate attempt to learn the future on the eve of battle introduces the medium of en Dor into scripture. The medium, a mere prop on history's stage, set the scene for saul's final disobedience to God, which ended in judgment (1 Chr. 10:13, 14). There was a tragic submissiveness in her repeated compliance to saul's evil request.

The medium lived in eleventh-century B.C. en Dor, a Canaanite city three miles southwest of Mount Tabor and within the territory of Manasseh's tribe. she practiced divination. During saul's time, the term "medium" meant one who consulted the dead on behalf of the living. Witchcraft had flourished in the nations Israel had been commanded to expel during the conquest of the Promised Land. Manasseh, however, had not driven the Canaanites from en Dor (Josh. 17:12, 13).

Though the medium likely was pagan, she knew her craft was forbidden. all forms of witchcraft had been condemned by God (ex. 22:18; Lev. 19:31; 20:6, 27; Deut. 18:10–12, 14); saul himself had exercised civil authority and driven mediums from the land (1 sam. 28:3). Yet this medium was still in Israel, and her presence was known (1 sam. 28:7).

The woman was cautious and suspicious of a trap when asked to bring up samuel (1 sam. 28:9), but she quickly complied to saul's request after being assured of personal safety. her fearful shock at the sight of samuel implied that she had never experienced the appearance of such a figure. With sudden clairvoyance, she recognized saul and boldly challenged the king with his own deception (28:12). a gain saul assured her safety, and she responded to his request.

When saul fell to the ground in despair, the woman showed natural sympathy as she prepared food to try to revive his strength (28:22). as she coaxed saul to respond, she twice referred to herself with the submissive phrase "your maidservant" (28:21, 22). Then she put forth her best hospitality in preparing a royal meal.

The medium of en Dor stands, however, as an example of one who, while doing good in practicing human kindness, did evil in disobeying God. she will be remembered as one who chose to be an accomplice to king saul in his personal disobedience to God.

"Amalek, therefore the LORD has done this thing to you this day. <sup>19</sup>Moreover the LORD will also deliver Israel with you into the hand of the Philistines. And tomorrow you and your sons will be with <sup>v</sup>me. The LORD will also deliver the army of Israel into the hand of the Philistines."

<sup>20</sup>Immediately Saul fell full length on the ground, and was dreadfully afraid because of the words of Samuel. And there was no strength in him, for he had eaten no food all day or all night.

<sup>21</sup>And the woman came to Saul and saw that he was severely troubled, and said to him, "Look, your maidservant has obeyed your voice, and I have <sup>w</sup>put my life in my hands and heeded the words which you spoke to me. <sup>22</sup>Now therefore, please, heed also the voice of your maidservant, and let me set a piece of bread before you; and eat, that you may have strength when you go on your way."

<sup>23</sup>But he refused and said, "I will not eat."

So his servants, together with the woman, urged him; and he heeded their voice. Then he arose from the ground and

The Philistines Reject David

And Achish said to the princes of the Philistines, "Is this not David, the servant of Saul king of Israel, who has been with me <sup>e</sup>these days, or these years? And to this day I have <sup>f</sup>found no fault in him since he defected to me."

<sup>4</sup>But the princes of the Philistines were angry with him; so the princes of

28:19, 20 saul and his sons would die in the battle with the Philistines the very next day. The words with me simply refer to the grave. This text is not intended to provide a final answer concerning saul's spiritual status. at the very least, it assumes the reality of life after death. no strength: saul's sinful actions in seeking out a medium resulted in his complete collapse. he was terrified, sick, and totally weakened.

28:24 Unleavened bread was baked without yeast and could be prepared without waiting for it to rise.

29:1, 2 Aphek was about 13 miles northeast of Joppa. a fountain which is in Jezreel: The Israelites gathered at a prominent but unidentified spring in the Valley of Jezreel. passed in review: a par- tently, the Philistine troops convened at an agreed-upon rendezvous to be reviewed and arranged in companies.

29:3 David was in a predicament, for he would not fight against his own people. he could do nothing but wait for the Lord to provide him with a means of escape from this dangerous situation. Achish came quickly to David's defense when the other princes questioned David's loyalty. a chish had found no fault with David since his "defection" from saul.

29:4 Make this fellow return: a chish was unsuccessful in per- suading his fellow princes and soldiers to accept David and his men the Philistines said to him, <sup>d</sup>“Make this fellow return, that he may go back to the place which you have appointed for him, and do not let him go down with us to <sup>h</sup>battle, lest <sup>i</sup>in the battle he become our adversary. For with what could he reconcile himself to his master, if not with the heads of these <sup>j</sup>men?” <sup>5</sup>Is this not David, <sup>k</sup>of whom they sang to one another in dances, saying:

<sup>l</sup>Saul has slain his thousands,

<sup>6</sup>Then Achish called David and said to him, “Surely, as the LORD lives, you have been upright, and <sup>m</sup>your going out and your coming in with me in the army is good in my sight. For to this day <sup>n</sup>I have not found evil in you since the day of your coming to me. Nevertheless the lords do not favor you. <sup>7</sup>Therefore return now, and go in peace, that you may not displease the lords of the Philistines.”

<sup>8</sup>So David said to Achish, “But what have I done? And to this day what have you found in your servant as long as I have been with you, that I may not go and fight against the enemies of my lord the king?”

<sup>9</sup>Then Achish answered and said to David, “I know that you are as good in my sight <sup>o</sup>as an angel of God; nevertheless <sup>p</sup>the princes of the Philistines have said, ‘He shall not go up with us to the battle.’ <sup>10</sup>Now therefore, rise early in the morning with your master’s servants <sup>q</sup>who have come with <sup>2</sup>you. <sup>11</sup>So David and his men rose early to depart in the morning, to return to the land of the Philistines. <sup>r</sup>And the Philistines went up to Jezreel.

David's Conflict with the Amalekites

30 Now it happened, when David and his men came to <sup>a</sup>Ziklag, on the third day, that the <sup>b</sup>Amalekites had invaded the South and Ziklag, attacked Ziklag and burned it with fire, <sup>2</sup>and had taken captive the <sup>c</sup>women and those who were there, from small to great; they did not kill anyone, but carried them away and went their way. <sup>3</sup>So David and his men came to the city, and there it was, burned with fire; and their wives, their sons, and their daughters had been taken captive. <sup>4</sup>Then David and the people who were with him lifted up their voices and wept, until they had no more power to weep. <sup>5</sup>And David’s two <sup>d</sup>wives, Ahinoam the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the widow of Nabal the Carmelite, had been taken captive. <sup>6</sup>Now David was greatly distressed, for <sup>e</sup>the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was <sup>f</sup>grieved, every man for his sons and his daughters. <sup>f</sup>But David strengthened himself in the LORD his God.

<sup>7</sup>Then David said to Abiathar the priest, Ahimelech’s son, “Please bring the ephod here to me.” And <sup>h</sup>Abiathar brought the ephod to David. <sup>8</sup><sup>i</sup>So David inquired of the LORD, saying, “Shall I pursue this troop? Shall I overtake them?”

And He answered him, “Pursue, for you shall surely overtake them and without fail recover all.”

<sup>9</sup>So David went, he and the six hundred as part of the Philistine forces. They feared that David and his men might switch their allegiance back to saul. see 14:21 for an example of what they feared.

29:5 Saul has slain his thousands: The popular Israelite taunt song (18:7) continued to echo in the ears of the Philistines (21:11).

29:6 Achish was thoroughly deceived by David’s display of loyalty. as the LORD lives: a chish swore by the name of the God of Israel to impress David with the sincerity of his confidence in him. a chish had been close enough to David to know the language that David would understand best. The lords here are the Philistine rulers.

29:7, 8 go in peace: This farewell was much more than a courtesy. a chish was releasing David from any further obligation that he had incurred when a chish had made David a vassal king in Ziklag (27:6). But what have I done: David, who seems to have been a pretty fair actor, feigned surprise that a chish would dismiss him from the engagement.

29:9 a chish had been deceived by David. Good here means “blameless.” The comparison with an angel of God appears again in 2 sam. 14:17.

29:10 your master’s servants: a chish was referring to saul as David’s master.

29:11 a fter the departure of David and his men, the Philistines marched north from a phek (v. 1) to the Valley of Jezreel.

30:1 The attack on Ziklag took place on the third day after David and his men left the Philistine army at a phek. The Amalekites were a nomadic people who roamed the Negev, the dry land south of the hill country (see Num. 13:29). f or their attack on the Israelites after the exodus from egypt (ex. 17:8–13), they were placed under divine judgment (Deut. 25:19).

30:2–4 carried them away: Rather than kill the citizens of Ziklag, the a malekites probably intended to make them slaves. a mong those who were taken captive were David’s two wives (v. 5), along with the wives and children of his men.

30:6 David faced a serious crisis in his leadership. he was distressed not only because of his personal grief but by the difficult situation pressing on him. the people spoke of stoning him: It is often the nature of unhappy people to vent their frustration through acts of hostility against their leaders (see ex. 17:4). strengthened himself in the LORD his God: unlike saul, David knew where to turn in a time of crisis (see Phil. 4:13). he had learned to wait on God, confident of God’s eventual deliverance (see Ps. 40:1–3).

30:7 Abiathar, whose name means “The Great o ne Is f ather,” was the son of Ahimelech, the high priest from whom David had received provisions at Nob (21:1–9). The urim and Thummim were attached to the breastplate of the ephod that David requested be brought to him (see ex. 28:30). By means of the urim and Thummim, God could be consulted and his will determined.

30:9 The Brook Besor emptied into the Mediterranean sea just south of the Philistine city of Gaza (6:17).

men who were with him, and came to the Brook Besor, where those stayed who were left behind. <sup>10</sup>But David pursued, he and four hundred men; <sup>j</sup>for two hundred stayed behind, who were so weary that they could not cross the Brook Besor.

<sup>11</sup>Then they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to David; and they gave him bread and he ate, and they let him drink water. <sup>12</sup>And they gave him a piece of <sup>k</sup>a cake of figs and two clusters of raisins. So <sup>l</sup>when he had eaten, his strength came back to him; for he had eaten no bread nor drunk water for three days and three nights. <sup>13</sup>Then David said to him, “To whom do you belong, and where are you from?”

And he said, “I am a young man from Egypt, servant of an Amalekite; and my master left me behind, because three days ago I fell sick. <sup>14</sup>We made an invasion of the southern area of <sup>m</sup>the Cherethites, in the territory which belongs to Judah, and of the southern area <sup>n</sup>of Caleb; and we burned Ziklag with fire.”

<sup>15</sup>And David said to him, “Can you take me down to this troop?”

So he said, “Swear to me by God that you will neither kill me nor deliver me into the hands of my <sup>o</sup>master, and I will take you down to this troop.”

<sup>16</sup>And when he had brought him down, there they were, spread out over all the land, <sup>p</sup>eating and drinking and dancing, because of all the great spoil which they had taken from the land of the Philistines and from the land of Judah. <sup>17</sup>Then David attacked them from twilight until the evening of the next day.

Not a man of them escaped, except four hundred young men who rode on camels and fled. <sup>18</sup>So David recovered all that the Amalekites had carried away, and David rescued his two wives. <sup>19</sup>And nothing of theirs was lacking, either small or great, sons or daughters, spoil or anything which they had taken from them; <sup>q</sup>David recovered all. <sup>20</sup>Then David took all the flocks and herds they had driven before those other livestock, and said, “This is David’s spoil.”

<sup>21</sup>Now David came to the <sup>r</sup>two hundred men who had been so weary that they could not follow David, whom they also had made to stay at the Brook Besor. So they went out to meet David and to meet the people who were with him. And when David came near the people, he <sup>2</sup>greeted them. <sup>22</sup>Then all the wicked and <sup>s</sup>worthless<sup>3</sup> men of those who went with David answered and said, “Because they did not go with us, we will not give them any of the spoil that we have recovered, except for every man’s wife and children, that they may lead them away and depart.”

<sup>23</sup>But David said, “My brethren, you shall not do so with what the LORD has given us, who has preserved us and delivered into our hand the troop that came against us. <sup>24</sup>For who will heed you in this matter? But <sup>t</sup>as his part is who goes down to the battle, so shall his part be who stays by the supplies; they shall share alike.” <sup>25</sup>So it was, from that day forward; he made it a statute and an ordinance for Israel to this day.

30:10 weary: The weariness of David’s men was due to the fact that they had traveled about 80 miles from a phek to Ziklag (29:1; 30:1), only to set off immediately in pursuit of the a malekites.

30:11, 12 found an Egyptian: a sick slave had been left by the a malekites to die in the wilderness (v. 13). Life had been so devalued by the a malekites that it was considered more economical to replace a slave than provide medical treatment for him when he was sick. cake of figs and two clusters of raisins: These foods were a regular part of the diet of David’s men (25:18).

30:14 The Cherethites (see 2 sam. 8:18; 15:18; 20:7, 23) were a clan closely related to, if not actually a part of, the Philistines (see ezek. 25:16; Zeph. 2:5). The southern area of Caleb refers to the part of Judah which was inherited by Caleb (Judg. 1:20).

worthless

(heb. beliya'al) (30:22; Job 34:18; Prov. 6:12) strong’s #1100

This word has the basic sense of “unworthy” and “wicked.” It occurs in the oT most frequently in phrases like “worthless men” (30:22; Prov. 6:12) and “worthless rogues” (2 Chr. 13:7). Worthless people are said to dig up evil (Prov. 16:27) and to plot wickedness (Nah. 1:11). This word became a proper name for satan during the intertestamental period; thus Paul asked, “What accord has Christ with Belial?” (2 Cor. 6:15).

30:15 In exchange for protection, the egyptian agreed to lead David and his men to the a malekites.

30:16 eating and drinking and dancing: The a malekites were enjoying the booty they had taken from Philistia and Judah, including Ziklag.

30:17–20 Twilight here probably means just before first light in the morning. It is likely that David attacked the a malekites in the early morning and that the battle continued through the next day. God was faithful to his earlier promise (v. 8); David’s men were able to recover their wives and possessions. Not only did the men of David recover their own possessions, but they were able to capture the flocks and herds of the a malekites. These animals were driven before the other livestock as they returned triumphantly to Ziklag. 30:22, 23 wicked and worthless men: These men insisted that the spoil captured from the a malekites should not be divided with the men who stayed at the Brook Besor with the supplies. with what the LORD has given us: David pointed out that the booty captured from the a malekites was actually a gift from God, who had given them the victory.

30:24 For who will heed you in this matter: David questioned whether the men who waited at the Brook Besor would accept the proposal of the warriors who wanted to exclude them from any part in the spoil. they shall share alike: David’s band of warriors were one, although they had different strengths and abilities. They would share equally in the fruits of victory.

30:26–31 David also shared the booty taken from the a malekites with the elders of Judah. This goodwill gesture helped David re-

Bow and Arrow

Bows were the most characteristic weapons of warfare in the oT period, serving often as the decisive element in a battle. Simple bows, composed of a piece of wood and string, did not have much power or range, so the composite bow was developed early in the history of the Middle East. The composite bow was a combination of wood and animal horn. This combination of materials provided the bow with the flexibility and strength needed for effective combat. The bow was usually the first weapon fired in an open-field battle because the archers of the hostile armies could send arrows long distances. When attacking a city, the archers of the attacking army would try to pick city defenders off the walls. Archers of the defending city would use their bows to try to keep the army from getting close enough to break down the city's defenses.

establish his relationships among the leaders of Judah after his stay in Philistine territory.

30:27 Bethel is not the well-known city of Benjamin, but probably the Bethel of Josh. 19:4. Ramoth of the South may be the same city as Ramah of the south (Josh. 19:8), whose location is uncertain. Jattir, a Levitical city (see Josh. 21:14) allotted to Judah (see Josh. 15:48), was about 13 miles southwest of Hebron.

30:28 Aroer was a village about 12 miles southeast of Beersheba. The village of Siphmoth has not been identified. Eshtemoa was a Levitical city (see Josh. 21:14) in the hill country of Judah.

30:29 Rachal is of uncertain location. The Jerahmeelites were one of the clans of Judah (1 Chr. 2:9).

30:30 Hormah was where the Israelites were first defeated by the Canaanites (Num. 14:45). The location of the city, allotted to Judah (see Josh. 15:30) and to Simeon (see Josh. 19:4), is uncertain.

Chorashan and Athach are also of uncertain location.

30:31 Hebron, also known as Kirjath Arba (Gen. 23:2), was soon to become David's capital (see 2 sam. 5:3). Hebron was captured by Joshua and given to Caleb (Josh. 14:13). It was a Levitical city (Josh. 21:11) and a city of refuge (Josh. 20:7).

31:1 Mount Gilboa was a small mountain range in the eastern part of the Jezreel valley.

31:2 Saul's fourth son, Ishbosheth, was apparently not present at this battle, since a brother promoted him to king after Saul's death (2 sam. 2:8-10).

31:4 Saul took a sword and fell on it: This account of Saul's death is different from that given by the malekites in 2 sam. 1:6-10. His story was probably a fabrication intended to win David's approval.

31:5 In a demonstration of loyalty, Saul's armorbearer joined his master in death.

<sup>11</sup><sup>n</sup>Now when the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul, <sup>12</sup><sup>o</sup>all the valiant men arose and traveled all night, and took the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Beth Shan; and they came to Jabesh and <sup>p</sup>burned them there. <sup>13</sup>Then they took their bones and <sup>q</sup>buried them under the tamarisk tree at Jabesh, <sup>r</sup>and fasted seven days.

31:6 all his men: This does not refer to the whole army (v. 7), but rather to men who were particularly associated with saul, perhaps his royal bodyguards.

31:7 The other side of the valley refers to the Valley of Jezreel. they forsook the cities and fled: as a result of Israel's defeat, many of the cities of northern Israel were abandoned. The people fled to remote regions to escape the Philistine menace.

31:8, 9 the Philistines came to strip the slain: Battlefield looting was the rule in ancient times. The victors gathered clothes, weapons, and armor from the slain. to proclaim it in the temple of their idols: The victory of the Philistines was announced to assembled worshipers as a public testimony of the greatness of their gods in overcoming the Israelites.

31:10 The armor of saul was placed in the temple dedicated to the worship of ashtoreth, or Ishtar, the Canaanite goddess of fertility and war. Beth Shan was at the junction of the Jezreel and Jordan valleys, about four miles west of the Jordan. although saul's body was fastened to the wall of the city, 1 Chr. 10:10 records that his head was displayed in the temple of Dagon.

31:11 The inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead had been delivered from the threats of Nahash the ammonite by saul in his first military campaign as king of Israel (11:1-11).

31:12 the valiant men arose: out of gratitude to saul for delivering their city, the men of Jabesh Gilead risked their lives to recover the bodies of saul and his sons and to give them a proper burial. burned them: Cremation was not the normal practice for disposing of the dead among the ancient hebrews. The reason they burned the bodies of saul and his sons may be that the corpses had been mutilated by the Philistines (v. 9).

31:13 although the bodies of saul and his sons were burned, the bones were recovered and buried. Later, David exhumed the bodies of saul and Jonathan and had them reburied in Benjamin (2 sam. 21:11-14). fasted seven days: In ancient Israel, fasting was a way of expressing sorrow in mourning. With their fasting, the men of Jabesh showed their respect for Israel's first king.

THE SECOND BOOK OF SAMUEL

SECOND SAMUEL recounts the triumphs and defeats of King David. From his rise to the throne to his famous last words, this biography describes a remarkable, divinely-inspired leader. As king, David took a divided and defeated Israel from his predecessor King Saul and built a prominent nation. Like most political biographies, 2 Samuel highlights the character traits that enabled David to succeed—his reliance on God for guidance (2:1), his sincerity (5:1–5), and his courage (5:6, 7). But the book also describes the tragic consequences of David’s lust (12:1–23) and pride (24:1–17). By presenting both the strengths and the weaknesses of David, the book gives a complete picture of a very real person—a person from whom we can learn.

Title Second Samuel is named after the prophet Samuel, even though he does not appear in the narratives of the book. This is because 1 and 2 Samuel were originally one volume. When the Hebrew Scriptures were translated into the Greek language (around 150 B.C.), the books of Samuel and Kings were united as a complete history of the Hebrew monarchy. This collection was divided into four sections: First, Second, Third, and Fourth Kingdoms. Samuel and Kings were later separated again, but the divisions of the Greek translation persisted. The result was a 1 and 2 Samuel and a 1 and 2 Kings, corresponding to the four sections of Kingdoms in the Septuagint.

Author and Date Jewish tradition holds that the prophet Samuel wrote 1 Samuel 1–24, and that the prophets Nathan and Gad composed the rest of 1 Samuel and all of 2 Samuel. It is quite evident that some sections of 1 Samuel and all of 2 Samuel were written after the death of Samuel (1 Sam. 25:1; 28:3). Indeed, some notes may have been added even after the division of the monarchy in 930 B.C. (1 Sam. 27:6). In the absence of any reference to the fall of Samaria, the capital of the northern kingdom, it is reasonable to assume that the books were complete by 722 B.C. The majority of the composition of the Books of Samuel may have been done during David and Solomon’s reigns (c. 1010–930 B.C.), with only a small number of notations coming from later periods.

Historical Setting Second Samuel covers the period from the death of Saul (c. 1010 B.C.) to the end of David’s career (c. 970 B.C.). During the 40 years of his reign, David welded the loose-knit tribes together into a strong monarchy and transformed the youthful nation into a military power able to dominate surrounding nations.

After capturing the Jebusite fortress Jerusalem, David made it his capital. This new site became the powerful geographical base for the establishment of David’s empire. Then David began to free the Israelite territory from Philistine and Canaanite domination. In doing so, David extended his kingdom by military conquests to the north, south, east, and west (see ch. 8).

In addition to military conquest, David was the first of Israel’s kings to use marriage alliances as an important dimension of the nation’s foreign policy. Marriage alliances between royal houses as a means of concluding treaties and cementing relationships between states were common occurrences in the ancient Middle East. The first such marriage alliance is alluded to in 3:3, where Absalom, David’s third son, is called “the son of Maacah, the daughter of Talmai, king of Geshur.”

The Gihon spring (see 2 Sam. 5:8) provided a natural water source for ancient Jerusalem.

Todd Bolen/www.BiblePlaces.com

David's conquests and alliances gave him control of territory from the border of Egypt to the Euphrates. This was largely due to David's strong military presence in comparison with the general weakness that characterized Egypt and Mesopotamia at this time. For a brief period, Israel was as strong as any nation of the ancient world.

Theme The unifying theme of 2 Samuel is the establishment of the kingdom of Israel, progressing from a diverse group of divided and warring tribes to a solidified kingdom under David. However, the purpose for recording these events was not merely to have an "official" record of David's reign. Throughout the narrative, there is a continuing interest in the rule of God over his people. The book emphasizes that it was God who rejected Saul for his disobedience, chose David for the throne, and disciplined David for his pride. God was still the true king of Israel.

The key to David's successful reign was his relationship with the Lord. God had described him as a man after his own heart (1 Sam. 13:14). In his youth, David had demonstrated his strong faith in God by challenging a giant with only a few stones and his faith in God's strength (1 Sam. 17:45–51). In his adulthood, he continued to rely on God for guidance and strength (2:1; 5:19). Early in his reign, he demonstrated the importance of his religious convictions to all Israel by bringing the ark of the covenant to Jerusalem in the midst of a lavish celebration before the Lord (6:1–23). Following that, his eagerness to build a temple for the glory of the Lord was known to all (7:1–3). With such actions and the numerous songs he wrote in praise of God, David led the Israelites back to the true worship of God. Even when he sinned, he demonstrated to the people his repentant heart before the living God (12:13–23; 24:17–25). In the final analysis, David's religious leadership was the most significant part of his reign.

Through all the triumphs and tragedies of David's reign, God was acting in the national and personal events of his people in order to accomplish his will. The Lord gave David a glimpse of his ultimate will in the promises he gave him, commonly called the Davidic covenant (7:12–16). In this unconditional covenant, God promised David an eternal dynasty, an eternal throne, and an eternal kingdom. Ultimately, a righteous king greater than David was coming. He would be David's son and would rule from David's throne forever (Is. 9:7). This promised king is Jesus (see Luke 1:31–33; John 1:49).

CHRIST IN THE SCRIPTURES

In spite of his sins of adultery, murder, and deceit (chs. 11–24), David remains a man after God's own heart. This is seen in his response and faithful attitude toward God. Like Jesus, David characterizes his reign with justice, wisdom, integrity, courage, and compassion. His throne is none other than the one that belonged to Melchizedek (see Gen. 14:18). Although David barely compares to the king, Jesus Christ, he comes closer than anyone else in scripture. In 2 Samuel, God makes a covenant with David (7:4–17). Without understanding the magnitude of it, the shepherd-turned-king receives God's three-fold promise of an eternal kingdom, throne, and seed. Amazingly, these are the same three promises given to Jesus (Luke 1:32, 33).

And on a curious note, David ruled for a time in Hebron before the 33 years he reigned in Jerusalem. Jesus' life on earth as king of the Jews was also for 33 years, but this was only a continuation of his majestic rule in heaven that preceded his incarnation.

The Report of Saul's Death

Now it came to pass after the <sup>a</sup>death of Saul, when David had returned from <sup>b</sup>the slaughter of the Amalekites, and David had stayed two days in Ziklag, <sup>2</sup>on the third day, behold, it happened that <sup>c</sup>a man came from Saul's camp <sup>d</sup>with his clothes <sup>1</sup>torn and dust on his head. So it was, when he came to David, that he <sup>e</sup>fell to the ground and prostrated himself.

<sup>3</sup>And David said to him, "Where have you come from?"

So he said to him, "I have escaped from the camp of Israel."

<sup>4</sup>Then David said to him, <sup>f</sup>"How did the matter go? Please tell me."

And he answered, "The people have fled from the battle, many of the people are fallen and dead, and Saul and <sup>g</sup>Jonathan his son are dead also."

<sup>5</sup>So David said to the young man who told him, "How do you know that Saul and Jonathan his son are dead?"

<sup>13</sup>Then David said to the young man who told him, "Where are you from?"

And he answered, "I am the son of an alien, an Amalekite."

<sup>15</sup>Then <sup>r</sup>David called one of the young men and said, "Go near, and execute him!" And he struck him so that he died.

The Song of the Bow

1:1 The death of Saul is recorded in 1 sam. 31:3–5. The Amalekites were a nomadic, marauding people who roamed the southern part of Canaan. They were fierce enemies of Israel until they were brought under Israelite control in the time of David. Ziklag was one of the Israelite cities of the southern desert or Negev, originally assigned to Judah (Josh. 15:31). David was granted authority over the city when he served as vassal to a chish, king of Gath (1 sam. 27:6).

1:2 clothes torn and dust on his head: The man was in mourning (1 sam. 4:12). he fell to the ground to show his support for David as saul's successor to the throne of Israel. In these actions of mourning and humility, the man attempted to demonstrate respect for both the dead king and the one who was to become king.

1:3 escaped from the camp of Israel: The army of Israel had fallen in defeat to the Philistines, but the man had escaped from the battlefield.

1:6–10 The a malekite's report of saul's death is different from the account in 1 sam. 31:4, which states that saul died by falling on his sword. It appears that the a malekite's story was a fabrication. Perhaps he sought recognition or reward from David by claiming to have slain saul.

1:6 Mount Gilboa is a small mountain range located in the eastern part of the Jezreel valley.

1:9 In this context, anguish refers to the agony of death.

1:10 I was sure that he could not live: according to the a malekite's story, since saul had no hope of recovery, there was justification in putting him to death. The crown was a mark of royalty. The bracelet was an ornament worn on the upper part of the arm. apparently, it was the custom for kings to go into battle in royal regalia (see 1 kin. 22:30). The a malekite brought these items to David in order to substantiate his story.

1:11 tore them: Tearing one's clothes was a traditional expression of mourning in ancient times (3:31; see Gen. 37:34).

1:12 the people of the Lord: David and his associates mourned not only for the fallen king and prince, but also for those who had died from the ranks of saul's army. This is surprising, for it was the same army that had been attempting to capture and kill David. he did not see them as enemies, but as members of God's family.

1:13 Where are you from: David's question might have been designed to determine whether the a malekite resided in Israel or in a malekite territory to the south. he might have been wondering how the man could be so ignorant of David's respect for saul's life.

1:14 David's use of the phrase the LORD's anointed indicates that even though saul was his enemy, David respected saul's divine right to be king. With saul's anointing, God had declared a sacred relationship between himself and saul (see 1 sam. 10:1); saul as king served as God's representative and ruler over his people. David repeatedly refused to harm him because of this (1 sam. 24:6; 26:9).

1:15 execute him: David apparently believed the a malekite's story and had him put to death on the basis of his own testimony. David's execution of the a malekite was a strong statement to those under his command that he had no part in saul's death and did not reward it in any way. Thus he exemplified respect for authority and distanced himself from the charge of being a usurper.

1:16 Your blood is on your own head: The a malekite, not the executioner, was morally accountable for the shedding of his own blood.

1:18 The hebrew phrase the children of Judah means not young people but the descendants or tribe of Judah. The Song of the Bow: The words for "the song of" do not appear in the hebrew, leading some to suggest that the men of Judah were to be instructed in warfare and the use of the bow (Ps. 18:34; 144:1; 149:6). o others

David Anointed King of Judah

2 It happened after this that David

 I go up to any of the cities of Judah?"
 And the LORD said to him, "Go up."
 David said, "Where shall I go up?"

suggest that the poem was known as The Song of the Bow, based on the reference in v. 22. It is also possible the title refers to the tune for the song. The Book of Jasher was perhaps a collection of hymns about Israel's wars, in which important events and national figures were commemorated in poetry (Num. 21:14–18; Josh. 10:13).

1:19 The beauty of Israel refers to saul and Jonathan. High places alludes to Mt. Gilboa (v. 6), where the warriors died.

1:20 Gath and Ashkelon are mentioned as representatives of the Philistine cities (see 1 sam. 6:17) that would rejoice over the deaths of Israel's royal family. These two cities joined with Ekron, Gaza, and Ashdod to form the Philistine pentapolis, or five-city league.

1:21 no dew nor rain: a curse was pronounced on the mountains of Gilboa, the scene of the military disaster (1:6; 1 sam. 31:8). not anointed with oil: shields were normally wiped with oil to cleanse, polish, and protect them. saul's shield was declared useless because it had not protected him from death.

1:23, 24 Eagles and lions were poetic symbols of speed and strength. weep over Saul: David invited the women of Israel to lead in public lamentation for saul, whose military exploits elevated the standard of royalty and enriched the nation (1 sam. 14:47). David did not want the women of Philistia to sing (v. 20), but he invited the women of Israel to lament.

1:25 How the mighty have fallen: The poetic repetition of these words from v. 19 prepares the reader for the shift in focus of the poem to Jonathan.

1:26 The hebrew word for distressed means a tightness or constriction, as though life itself were closing in. Your love: David compared Jonathan's love with that of women in its depth and loyalty. David was not afraid to speak of his deep and genuine love for his friend.

1:27 How the mighty have fallen: The third repetition of this phrase (compare vv. 19, 25) brings the psalm to its painful conclusion. The phrase weapons of war is a figurative reference to the fallen warriors.

2:1 David inquired of the LORD: Before taking an important step, it was David's custom to seek the will of the Lord (1 sam. 23:2; 30:8). This was sometimes done by means of the urim and Thummim which were attached to the breastplate of the priest's ephod (see ex. 28:30; Lev. 8:8; Num. 27:21; Deut. 33:8; 1 sam. 23:6–9; ezra 2:63; Neh. 7:65). The Lord directed David to Hebron (1 sam. 30:31). Its central location—about 20 miles south of Jerusalem—and defensive position made it a suitable capital for David.

2:2 his two wives: David's marriages to a bigail and ahinoam are recorded in 1 sam. 25:2–43.

2:3 The ancient name for hebron was kirjath arb (see Gen. 23:2), meaning "Town of four." apparently, the town had four suburbs, one of which must have been Mamre (Gen. 35:27); hence, one may speak of the cities of Hebron (Josh. 21:11).

2:4 anointed David: This is actually the second anointing of David. The first had been performed by the prophet samuel while saul was still king (1 sam. 16:13). The first anointing was a mark of God's intention; this second anointing was the recognition by the people of Judah that David was truly the Lord's anointed (5:3). Jabesh Gilead was on the north bank of the Jabbok River, about seven miles east of the Jordan. The men of Jabesh Gilead had risked their lives to provide saul and Jonathan a proper burial (1 sam. 31:11–13).

2:5–7 sent messengers: David's sincere action of appreciation for the kindness of the men also announced to them that he was ready to act on their behalf, because he was now the anointed king of the tribe of Judah. let your hands be strengthened: David made an messengers to the men of Jabesh Gilead, and said to them, <sup>h</sup>“You are blessed of the LORD, for you have shown this kindness to your lord, to Saul, and have buried him. <sup>6</sup>And now may <sup>i</sup>the LORD show kindness and truth to you. I also will repay you this kindness, because you have done this thing. <sup>7</sup>Now therefore, let your hands be strengthened, and be valiant; for your master Saul is dead, and also the house of Judah has anointed me king over them.”

Ishbosheth Made King of Israel

<sup>8</sup>But <sup>j</sup>Abner the son of Ner, commander of Saul’s army, took <sup>1</sup>Ishbosheth the son of Saul and brought him over to <sup>k</sup>Mahanaim; <sup>9</sup>and he made him king over <sup>l</sup>Gilead, over the <sup>m</sup>Ashurites, over <sup>n</sup>Jezeel, over Ephraim, over Benjamin, and over all Israel. <sup>10</sup>Ishbosheth, Saul’s son, was forty years old when he began to reign over Israel, and he reigned two years. Only the house of Judah followed David. <sup>11</sup>And <sup>o</sup>the <sup>2</sup>time that David was king in Hebron over the house of Judah was seven years and six months.

Israel and Judah at War

<sup>12</sup>Now Abner the son of Ner, and the servants of Ishbosheth the son of Saul, went out from Mahanaim to <sup>p</sup>Gibeon. <sup>13</sup>And <sup>q</sup>Joab the son of Zeruiah, and the servants of David, went out and met them by <sup>r</sup>the pool of Gibeon. So they sat down, one on one side of the pool and the other on the other side of the pool. <sup>14</sup>Then Abner said to Joab, “Let the young men now arise and compete before us.”

And Joab said, “Let them arise.”

<sup>15</sup>So they arose and went over by number, twelve from Benjamin, followers of Ishbosheth the son of Saul, and twelve from the servants of David. <sup>16</sup>And each one grasped his opponent by the head and thrust his sword in his opponent’s side; so they fell down together. Therefore that place was called <sup>3</sup>the Field of Sharp Swords, which is in Gibeon. <sup>17</sup>So there was a very fierce battle that day, and Abner and the men of Israel were beaten before the servants of David.

<sup>18</sup>Now the <sup>3</sup>three sons of Zeruiah were there: Joab and Abishai and Asahel. And Asahel was <sup>t</sup>as fleet of foot <sup>u</sup>as a wild gazelle. <sup>19</sup>So Asahel pursued Abner, and in going he did not turn to the right hand or to the left from following Abner.

<sup>20</sup>Then Abner looked behind him and said, “Are you Asahel?”

He answered, “I am.”

<sup>21</sup>And Abner said to him, “Turn aside to your right hand or to your left, and lay hold on one of the young men and take his armor for yourself.” But Asahel would not turn aside from following him. <sup>22</sup>So Abner said again to Asahel, “Turn aside from following me. Why should I strike you to the ground? How then could I face your brother Joab?” <sup>23</sup>However, he refused to turn aside. Therefore Abner struck him <sup>v</sup>in the stomach with appeal to the men of Gilead for their strong support of his kingship. However, their loyalty to Saul’s dynasty prevailed, and Jabesh Gilead became the headquarters of Ishbosheth, David’s rival.

2:8 Ishbosheth means “Man of shame.” His original name esh-Baal, meaning “Man of the Master” or “Man of the Lord,” was changed because “Baal” suggested Baal worship (1 Chr. 8:33; 9:39). Mahanaim, the capital of Gilead, was north of the Jabkok (1 kin. 4:14). It was named by Jacob when he saw the encampment of the angels of God around his own camp (Gen. 32:2). The name means “Double Camp.”

2:9 Gilead usually refers to the central part of the Israelite territory east of the Jordan; here the term probably refers more generally to all of that territory. Ashurites is apparently a variant of the term a sherites (Judg. 1:32), referring to the tribe of a sher. The territory of a sher extended north from Mt. Carmel along the Mediterranean coast and east into the foothills of the mountains of Galilee. Jezeel refers to the broad valley between the mountains of Galilee and the mountain range to the south. Ephraim and Manasseh occupied the central district north of Benjamin, the small plateau just north of Jerusalem.

2:10, 11 While David was king in Hebron for seven and a half years, Ishbosheth reigned for only two years. The difference may mean that Ishbosheth took about five years to recover the northern territory from the Philistines after Saul’s defeat. His reign of two years would be his reign over “all Israel” (v. 9).

2:12, 13 Gibeon was about six miles northwest of Jerusalem. pool of Gibeon: excavations at el-Jib—the site of Gibeon—uncovered a rock-cut pool 37 feet in diameter and 82 feet deep. A spiral staircase of 79 steps cut in the rock leads to the bottom. The pool was meant either to store rainwater or to provide access to the water table.

Joab: David’s nephew became a competent military commander of David’s forces (10:7–14; 12:26–28).

2:14–17 Abner proposed a contest between champions to determine the outcome of the conflict between Ishbosheth and David (1 sam. 17:38–54). This was not a friendly game that he proposed; it was a fight to the death in order to determine a victor. Yet the outcome of the contest would presumably save many lives. The two groups of twelve faced each other. Two champions contended at a time, each killing the other, until all 24 had died. Had one group of champions clearly triumphed over the other, the contest would have determined the future ruler of Israel. fierce battle: since the contest between the champions was a draw, warfare between the two armies ensued, with David’s men claiming victory.

2:18 Joab, Abishai, and Asahel were brothers, all sons of David’s sister Zeruiah (1 Chr. 2:13–16). The wild gazelle was renowned in Israel for its beauty and swiftness.

2:19 Asahel knew that if Abner was dead, Ishbosheth’s power base would dissolve, and the tribes could be united under king David.

2:21 Abner, confident that he could defeat a sahel, wanted to avoid the blood feud that would likely develop if he were to kill Joab’s brother. It also appears that a sahel, renowned for his speed (v. 18), did not have on the body armor that would have made a fight with a bnr a fair contest. A bnr pleaded with a sahel to turn aside or at least to put on armor.

2:23 Unable to deter a sahel from pursuing him, a bnr stabbed him with the blunt end of his spear, which was the end opposite the spear head. It was probably pointed so that it could be stuck in the ground (1 sam. 26:7).

the blunt end of the spear, so that the spear came out of his back; and he fell down there and died on the spot. So it was that as many as came to the place where Asahel fell down and died, stood <sup>w</sup>still.

<sup>27</sup>And Joab said, “As God lives, <sup>5</sup>unless <sup>x</sup>you had spoken, surely then by morning all the people would have given up pursuing their brethren.” <sup>28</sup>So Joab blew a trumpet; and all the people stood still and did not pursue Israel anymore, nor did they fight anymore. <sup>29</sup>Then Abner and his men went on all that night through the plain, crossed over the Jordan, and went through all Bithron; and they came to Mahanaim.

<sup>30</sup>So Joab returned from pursuing Abner. And when he had gathered all the people together, there were missing of David’s servants nineteen men and Asahel. <sup>31</sup>But the servants of David had struck down, of Benjamin and Abner’s men, three hundred and sixty men who died. <sup>32</sup>Then they took up Asahel and buried him in his father’s tomb, which was in <sup>y</sup>Bethlehem. And Joab and his men went all night, and they came to Hebron at daybreak.

3 Now there was a long <sup>a</sup>war between the house of Saul and the house of David. But David grew stronger and stronger, and the house of Saul grew weaker and weaker.

Sons of David

Abner Joins Forces with David

<sup>6</sup>Now it was so, while there was war between the house of Saul and the house of David, that Abner was strengthening his hold on the house of Saul.

<sup>7</sup>And Saul had a concubine, whose name was <sup>g</sup>Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah. So Ishbosheth said to Abner, “Why have you <sup>h</sup>gone in to my father’s concubine?”

<sup>8</sup>Then Abner became very angry at the words of Ishbosheth, and said, “Am I a dog’s head that belongs to Judah? Today I show loyalty to the house of Saul your father, to his brothers, and to his friends, and have not delivered you into the hand of David; and you charge me today with a

2:25 the children of Benjamin: The men of saul’s tribe were among the strongest supporters of a bner and Ishbosheth.

2:26–28 devour forever: Recognizing that continued fighting would only result in further loss of life and deepened hostility, a bner and Joab agreed to call off the conflict. The use of silver trumpets to signal the army was established at the time of Moses (Num. 10:1–10). here, the trumpet, a ram’s horn or shofar, was used to mark a truce between the warring sides.

2:29 a bner’s army retreated across the Jordan and returned to Mahanaim, Ishbosheth’s headquarters (vv. 8, 12).

2:32 after burying a sahel at Bethlehem, 6 miles south of Jerusalem, Joab and his men marched another 14 miles to Hebron, David’s capital (v. 1).

3:1 a long war: The conflict between the followers of saul and the followers of David was not limited to the battle recorded in ch. 2. hostilities continued between the two royal houses, with David gradually gaining ascendancy.

3:2 David began his reign in Judah with two wives, a hinoam and a bigail. In hebron, he married four more wives, each of whom bore him a son. This was despite the warning against polygamy in Deut. 17:17. Amnon, notorious for having violated his sister Tamar, was later murdered by a bsalom (ch. 13). a mnon’s mother, Ahinoam, is not the same as saul’s wife a hinoam (1 sam. 14:50).

3:3 Chileab is called Daniel in 1 Chr. 3:1. The story of his mother, Abigail, is found in 1 sam. 25. she is not the same as a bigail the mother of a masa (17:25). Absalom died at the hands of Joab

(18:14). a bsalom’s mother, Maacah, is identified as the daughter of Talmai, king of Geshur. Geshur was the a ramean kingdom on the east side of the Jordan, northeast of the sea of Galilee. David used marriage alliances to conclude treaties and cement relations between Israel and foreign nations. however, such alliances were forbidden by God’s law (see Deut. 7:3).

3:4 Adonijah attempted to take his father’s throne just before David proclaimed solomon king (1 kin. 1). Shephatiah and his mother, Abital, are mentioned only here and in 1 Chr. 3:3.

3:5 Ithream and his mother, Eglah, are mentioned only here and in 1 Chr. 3:3. in Hebron: These six sons, each from a different mother, constituted the royal family during David’s reign over the house of Judah. The dynastic lists in Chronicles include four sons of David by Bathsheba (1 Chr. 3:5) and nine other sons whose mothers are not named (1 Chr. 3:6–8).

3:6, 7 The phrase strengthening his hold implies that a bner was usurping Ishbosheth’s authority, becoming the power behind the throne. father’s concubine: Ishbosheth’s charge, that a bner was having sexual relations with one of saul’s concubines, was serious. The royal harem was the property of the king’s successor. Taking a king’s concubine was tantamount to claiming the throne (16:20–22).

3:8 Am I a dog’s head: In the ancient Middle east, dogs were scavengers, living off dead animals and garbage, and were viewed with contempt (9:8; Deut. 23:18; 1 sam. 17:43; 1 kin. 22:38; 2 kin. 9:36). that belongs to Judah: since Judah was the enemy of Israel, this phrase intensifies the metaphor.

fault concerning this woman? <sup>9j</sup> May God do so to Abner, and more also, if I do not do for David <sup>k</sup> as the LORD has sworn to him— <sup>10</sup> to transfer the kingdom from the <sup>2</sup> house of Saul, and set up the throne of David over Israel and over Judah, <sup>l</sup> from Dan to Beersheba.” <sup>11</sup> And he could not answer Abner another word, because he feared him.

<sup>12</sup> Then Abner sent messengers on his behalf to David, saying, “Whose is the land?” saying also, “Make your covenant with me, and indeed my hand shall be with you to bring all Israel to you.”

<sup>17</sup> Now Abner had communicated with the elders of Israel, saying, “In time past you were seeking for David to be king over you. <sup>18</sup> Now then, do it!” <sup>19</sup> For the LORD has spoken of David, saying, ‘By the hand of My servant David, <sup>5</sup> I will save

<sup>20</sup> So Abner and twenty men with him came to David at Hebron. And David made a feast for Abner and the men who were with him. <sup>21</sup> Then Abner said to David, “I will arise and go, and <sup>t</sup> gather all Israel to my lord the king, that they may make a covenant with you, and that you may <sup>u</sup> reign over all that your heart desires.” So David sent Abner away, and he went in peace.

Joab Murders Abner

<sup>22</sup> At that moment the servants of David and Joab came from a raid and brought much <sup>6</sup> spoil with them. But Abner was not with David in Hebron, for he had sent him away, and he had gone in peace. <sup>23</sup> When Joab and all the troops that were with him had come, they told Joab, saying, “Abner the son of Ner came to the king, and he sent him away, and he has gone in peace.” <sup>24</sup> Then Joab came to the king and said, “What have you done? Look, Abner came to you; why is it that you sent him away, and he has already gone? <sup>25</sup> Surely you realize that Abner the son of Ner came to deceive you, to

3:9, 10 The phrase may God do so to Abner is a prayer for divine judgment should a bner fail to keep his oath. The words as the LORD has sworn indicate that a bner knew that David had been divinely chosen to succeed saul (vv. 17, 18). The expression from Dan to Beersheba is used to refer to the whole territory of Israel from its northern to its southern border, a distance of about 150 miles (Judg. 20:1; 1 sam 3:20).

3:12 Whose is the land: The implication here is that the land could be David’s if he entered into a binding agreement with a bner, because it was a bner who actually held all the power.

3:13 David’s first wife Michal (1 sam. 18:17–27) was left in Gibeah when David fled from saul’s court (1 sam. 19:11–17). she was later given by saul, perhaps out of spite, to a man named Palti (1 sam. 25:44).

3:14 David’s request for Michal was formally addressed to Ishbosheth. This might have been a difficult demand for Ishbosheth since Michal was his sister. however, he was powerless to thwart a bner’s plan. a hundred foreskins: David mentioned the number which saul had originally asked for; David actually paid him double (1 sam. 18:25–27).

3:16 Michal’s second husband appears brokenhearted at her forced removal from his home. Nothing is said of Michal’s feelings; however she grew to despise David (6:16). Bahurim was near Jerusalem, east of o livet (16:5).

3:17, 18 For the LORD has spoken: The Bible does not record elsewhere the divine promise quoted by a bner and referred to in vv. 9, 10. It is possible that this was a revelation that God gave to him alone.

3:19 David faced the most opposition from saul’s tribe, Benjamin. a bner personally campaigned for David’s kingship in this tribe. after winning support for David in Israel, a bner proceeded to Hebron (2:1) to announce the people’s decision to acknowledge David as king.

3:22, 23 The words gone in peace are repeated (v. 21), to emphasize that the hostilities between David and a bner had been resolved.

3:24, 25 What have you done: Learning of a bner’s visit, Joab challenged the king for allowing the commander of a hostile army and a cousin of saul to come and go from hebron without being apprehended and put to death. he insisted that a bner was trying to trick David with a display of good faith and sincerity, and that his real purpose was to gather intelligence.

covenant

(heb. berith) (3:12; 23:5; Gen. 6:18; 15:18; ex. 2:24; Jer. 31:31) strong’s #1285

Generally, the word covenant refers to an agreement between two or more parties. The term often refers to God’s self-imposed obligation to reconcile fallen humanity to himself. God’s redemptive plans throughout history promise salvation and blessing to those who obediently serve him. God made several covenants with his people in the o T. he made a covenant with Noah after the flood (Gen. 9:9–17), a covenant with a braham (Gen. 17:15, 16), and a covenant with David (see 23:5). These covenants prefigure the supreme covenant made through Christ’s sacrifice on the Cross. Jesus initiated the New Covenant which Jeremiah foresaw (Jer. 31:31–34).

know <sup>v</sup> your going out and your coming in, and to know all that you are doing.”

<sup>26</sup> And when Joab had gone from David's presence, he sent messengers after Abner, who brought him back from the well of Sirah. But David did not know it. <sup>27</sup> Now when Abner had returned to Hebron, Joab <sup>w</sup> took him aside in the gate to speak with him privately, and there <sup>7</sup> stabbed him <sup>x</sup> in the stomach, so that he died for the blood of <sup>y</sup> Asahel his brother.

<sup>28</sup> Afterward, when David heard it, he said, “My kingdom and I are <sup>8</sup> guiltless before the LORD forever of the blood of Abner the son of Ner. <sup>29</sup> Let it rest on the head of Joab and on all his father's house; and let there never fail to be in the <sup>9</sup> house of Joab one <sup>a</sup> who has a discharge or is a leper, who leans on a staff or falls by the sword, or who lacks bread.”

David's Mourning for Abner

<sup>31</sup> Then David said to Joab and to all the people who were with him, <sup>c</sup> “Tear your clothes, <sup>d</sup> gird yourselves with sackcloth, and mourn for Abner.” And King David followed the coffin. <sup>32</sup> So they buried Abner in Hebron; and the king lifted up his voice and wept at the grave of Abner, and all the people wept. <sup>33</sup> And the king sang a lament over Abner and said:

Then all the people wept over him again.

<sup>35</sup> And when all the people came <sup>f</sup> to persuade David to eat food while it was still day, David took an oath, saying, <sup>g</sup> “God do so to me, and more also, if I taste bread or anything else <sup>h</sup> till the sun goes down!” <sup>36</sup> Now all the people took note of it, and it pleased them, since whatever the king did pleased all the people. <sup>37</sup> For all the people and all Israel understood that day that it had not been the king's intent to kill Abner the son of Ner. <sup>38</sup> Then the king said to his servants, “Do you not know that a prince and a great man has fallen this day in Israel? <sup>39</sup> And I am weak today, though anointed king; and these men, the sons of Zeruiah, <sup>i</sup> are too harsh for me. <sup>j</sup> The LORD shall repay the evildoer according to his wickedness.”

Ishbosheth Is Murdered

4 When Saul's <sup>1</sup> son heard that Abner had died in Hebron, <sup>a</sup> he <sup>2</sup> lost heart, and all Israel was <sup>b</sup> troubled. <sup>2</sup> Now Saul's son had two men who were captains of troops. The name of one was Baanah and the name of the other Rechab, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, of the children of Benjamin. (For <sup>c</sup> Beeroth also was <sup>3</sup> part of Benjamin, <sup>3</sup> because the Beerothites fled to <sup>d</sup> Gittaim and have been sojourners there until this day.)

<sup>4</sup> Jonathan, Saul's son, had a son who was lame in his feet. He was five years old when the news about Saul and Jonathan came <sup>f</sup> from Jezreel; and his nurse took him up and fled. And it happened, as she made haste to flee, that he fell and became lame. His name was <sup>g</sup> Mephibosheth. <sup>4</sup>

3:27 stabbed him: This was an act of treachery, especially in hebron, a city of refuge (Josh. 20:7). In a city of refuge, a blood avenger could not slay a murderer without a trial (Num. 35:22–25). Joab wanted to avenge the death of Asahel his brother, who was killed in the course of a battle (2:18–23).

3:28, 29 My kingdom and I: David issued a public proclamation denying any involvement in the murder of a bner. The death of a bner was not only an act of treachery, but also a great blow to David's hopes for a peaceable unification of the nation under his control. Let it rest on the head of Joab: This verse forms a strong curse on the household of Joab. Both a discharge (see Lev. 15:2–33) and leprosy (see Lev. 13) made the afflicted person ritually unclean, an outcast from the community. The phrase leans on a staff describes one who is crippled, lame, or blind.

3:30 Abishai was Joab's other brother (2:18). his involvement in the murder of a bner is mentioned only here.

3:31 Tear your clothes: These actions were associated in ancient times with mourning the dead (1:11; Gen. 37:34). Sackcloth was coarse material, in contrast to more comfortable clothing. followed the coffin: David led the funeral procession.

3:33, 34 as a fool dies: Certainly a warrior like a bner deserved a more noble death. how much better for a bner to have died fighting than to have been stabbed to death while under a promise of safe passage. Your hands were not bound: a bner was not guilty of any crime that required him to be bound with chains and fetters.

3:35 The murder of a bner had the potential of breaking the fragile union of the twelve tribes. David refused to participate in the meal that was customarily served to mourners after the burial as evidence of his genuine remorse. In his oath God do so to me, and more also, David prayed that God would do the worst thing imaginable should he eat food before sunset (compare a similar oath by a bner in 3:9).

3:36, 37 All Israel refers to the people of the northern tribes and the Benjamites, who would be inclined to suspect David of plotting the murder of Ishbosheth's military commander. All the people became confident of David's innocence.

3:38 His servants refers to David's confidential servants or advisors. The words a prince and a great man reflect how highly David regarded a bner.

4:1 Saul's son Ishbosheth lost the heart to act as king, since a bner, his primary supporter, was gone. Israel was troubled at the possibility of an attack by David's men.

4:2, 3 The fact that Baanah and Rechab were from the tribe of Benjamin, the tribe of saul, makes their actions all the more reprehensible. Beeroth was one of the four cities of the Gibeonites (Josh. 9:17), with whom Joshua had made a covenant. <sup>f</sup> or some reason, the Beerothites fled to Gittaim and their city was reoccupied by Benjamites (Neh. 11:33).

4:4 Merib-Baal, which means “The Master Is a dvocate,” was the original name of Jonathan's son (1 Chr. 8:34; 9:40). The author of samuel changed it to Mephibosheth, meaning “he scatters shame,” apparently to avoid the idolatrous implications of the word Baal.

<sup>5</sup>Then the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah, set out and came at about the heat of the day to the <sup>h</sup>house of Ishbosheth, who was lying on his bed at noon. <sup>6</sup>And they came there, all the way into the house, as though to get wheat, and they <sup>5</sup>stabbed him <sup>i</sup>in the stomach. Then Rechab and Baanah his brother escaped. <sup>7</sup>For when they came into the house, he was lying on his bed in his bedroom; then they struck him and killed him, beheaded him and took his head, and were all night escaping through the plain. <sup>8</sup>And they brought the head of Ishbosheth to David at Hebron, and said to the king, “Here is the head of Ishbosheth, the son of Saul your enemy, <sup>j</sup>who sought your life; and the LORD has avenged my lord the king this day of Saul and his descendants.”

<sup>9</sup>But David answered Rechab and Baanah his brother, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, and said to them, “As the LORD lives, <sup>k</sup>who has redeemed my life from all adversity, <sup>10</sup>when <sup>l</sup>someone told me, saying, ‘Look, Saul is dead,’ thinking to have brought good news, I arrested him and had him executed in Ziklag—the one who thought I would give him a reward for his news. <sup>11</sup>How much more, when wicked men have killed a righteous person in his own house on his bed? Therefore, shall I not now <sup>m</sup>require his <sup>6</sup>blood

But they took the head of Ishbosheth and buried it in the <sup>o</sup>tomb of Abner in Hebron.

David Reigns over All Israel

5 Then all the tribes of Israel <sup>a</sup>came to David at Hebron and spoke, saying, “Indeed <sup>b</sup>we are your bone and your flesh. <sup>2</sup>Also, in time past, when Saul was king over us, <sup>c</sup>you were the one who led Israel out and brought them in; and the LORD said to you, <sup>d</sup>“You shall shepherd My people Israel, and be ruler over Israel.”” <sup>3e</sup>Therefore all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, <sup>f</sup>and King David made a covenant with them at Hebron <sup>g</sup>before the LORD. And they anointed David king over Israel. <sup>4</sup>David was <sup>h</sup>thirty years old when he began to reign, and <sup>i</sup>he reigned forty years. <sup>5</sup>In Hebron he reigned over Judah <sup>j</sup>seven years and six months, and in Jerusalem he reigned thirty-three years over all Israel and Judah.

The Conquest of Jerusalem

4:5 The house of Ishbosheth was at Mahanaim (2:8, 12). Ishbosheth was taking his midday rest, as perhaps were the members of the palace guard.

4:7 The murderers fled by way of the plain, meaning by way of the Jordan valley.

4:8–10 Rechab and Baanah brought the head of Ishbosheth to David, perhaps in hopes of receiving a reward. They used the spiritual language the LORD has avenged to describe their despicable actions. Yet their lofty words did not fool David. The oath as the LORD lives implies that David was under God’s protection. There was no need to kill Ishbosheth to defend David’s life. Someone was the malekite who claimed to have killed saul (1:2–16).

4:11 Ishbosheth was viewed as a righteous person since he was innocent of any wicked deed or crime. He had simply assumed royal power after the death of his father saul.

4:12 The execution of the assassins was justified on the basis of Gen. 9:5. Their corpses were hanged, or impaled, by the pool in Hebron, which was frequented daily by the people of the city. Their bodies warned the people of the consequences of such foolish and evil actions. David demonstrated his respect for the slain son of saul by having the head of Ishbosheth buried in a bner’s grave at hebron.

5:1 All the tribes refers to tribal leaders, such as elders and heads of clans (v. 3). We are your bone and your flesh means “we are your relatives” (Gen. 29:14; Judg. 9:2). The representatives of the tribes of Israel acknowledged their solidarity as a people.

5:2 The words led Israel out speak of David’s service as a military leader during saul’s reign. The word shepherd is a vivid metaphor of the relationship between a king and his people. The scriptures apply this metaphor both to God and to human rulers (Ps. 23:1; ezeq. 34:1–10).

5:3 before the LORD: Making a covenant was not merely a civil arrangement but a sacred occasion. they anointed: This was David’s third anointing (2:4; 1 sam. 16:13). his first anointing was in anticipation of his rule; his second was acknowledgment of his rule over Judah; his third was acknowledgment of his rule over the entire nation.

5:6–9 David’s first move as king was to conquer Jebus, which came to be known as Jerusalem. The name Jerusalem may mean “foundation of Peace.” The city was strategically located in the hill country near the border of Judah and Benjamin, making it a foreign wedge between the northern and southern tribes. Although the city was attacked by men from both Benjamin and Judah, the Jebusites were not driven out of Jerusalem at the time of the conquest (Josh. 15:63; Judg. 1:21). an earlier name of Jerusalem was salem, known

The name Jerusalem is related to the word for “peace” (see the psalmist’s prayer for “the peace of Jerusalem,” Ps. 122:6). During the reign of king David, Jerusalem was made the political and religious capital of Israel and became central to the unfolding of God’s redemptive plan. Jerusalem is described variously in the oT as: the city of God (Ps. 87:1–3); the place where God has put his name (2 kin. 21:4); a place of salvation (Is. 46:13); the throne of God (Jer. 3:17); and a holy city (Is. 52:1). The prophets foresaw an approaching time when Jerusalem would be judged because of its iniquity (Mic. 4:10–12), but in pronouncing judgment they could also see its glorious restoration (Is. 40:2; 44:25–28; Dan. 9:2; Zeph. 3:16–20). This vision of a restored Jerusalem included the hope of a New Jerusalem in which God would gather all his people (Is. 65:17–19; Rev. 21:1, 2).

itants of the land, who spoke to David, saying, “You shall not come in here; but the blind and the lame will repel you,” thinking, “David cannot come in here.”<sup>7</sup> Nevertheless David took the stronghold of Zion<sup>m</sup> (that is, the City of David).

<sup>8</sup> Now David said on that day, “Whoever climbs up by way of the water shaft and defeats the Jebusites (the lame and the blind, who are hated by David’s soul), he shall be chief and captain.” Therefore they say, “The blind and the lame shall not come into the house.”

because of its righteous king Melchizedek (Gen. 14:18–20). Mt. Moriah—where a braham had prepared to offer Isaac—was also located at Jerusalem (Gen. 22:2).

5:6 The Jebusites were one of the Canaanite tribes living in the Promised Land (Gen. 10:16–18). Jerusalem was on a hill just south of Mt. Moriah, with steep cliffs on all sides except the north, making it a natural fortress. The defenders felt able to boast that the blind and the lame would be enough to defeat David.

5:7 Jerusalem is referred to as the stronghold of Zion. The word Zion originally applied to the Jebusite stronghold, which became the City of David after its capture. As the city expanded to the north, encompassing Mt. Moriah, the temple mount came to be called Zion (Ps. 78:68, 69), eventually the term was used as a synonym for Jerusalem (Is. 40:9).

5:8 The water shaft extended about 230 feet up from the Gihon spring to the top of the hill where the Jebusite fortress was situated (2 Chr. 32:30). The tunnel gave the city a secure water supply in the event of a siege. The phrase the lame and the blind became something of a taunt, which David turned first into a challenge, and then into a victory song.

5:9 The term City of David is used in Luke 2:11 to refer to Bethlehem, the city of David’s birth. Here the term refers to Zion, the city from which he ruled Israel.

5:10 God of hosts may also be translated “God of a rmies” (6:2). The hosts are the armies of angels that are at the Lord’s command (v. 24).

5:11, 12 Tyre, located on the Mediterranean coast north of Israel, was a Phoenician city noted for its commerce, craftsmen, and wealth. Hiram’s kindness toward David was probably prompted by substantial historical evidence, both biblical and extra-biblical, places the temple of Solomon on the holy spot where King David built an altar to the Lord. David had purchased the land from Araunah the Jebusite, who was using the exposed bedrock as a threshing floor (2 Sam. 24:18–25). Tradition claims a much older sanctity for the site, associating it with the altar of Brahmah on Mount Moriah (Gen. 22:1–19; 2 Chr. 3:1). The writer of Genesis equates Moriah with “the Mount of the Lord” (Gen. 22:14).

c. 1000 B.C.

Less than 11 acres in size, Jebus, a Canaanite city, could well defend itself against attack, with walls atop steep canyons and shafts reaching an underground water source. David captured the stronghold c. 1000 B.C. and made it his capital.

Cedar

The most valuable and majestic trees described in the Bible are the “cedars of Lebanon.” These trees grow to a height of 70–80 feet, with long, spreading branches. The trunks of some cedars are 30–40 feet in circumference. These huge trees continue to grow for hundreds of years. They were symbols of strength and durability and noted for their toughness. The cedar produces five-inch cones that take three years to mature and from which fragrant sap exudes. The wood is red and free of knots, and because of its bitterness, repels insects and resists rot. Cedar wood was used for building David’s and Solomon’s houses, making idols, and constructing ships. Cedars grow on Mt. Lebanon today; but less than a dozen of these trees stand in the actual groves mentioned by the Bible, near the Lebanon coast of the Mediterranean.

search for David. And David heard of it <sup>z</sup> and went down to the stronghold. <sup>18</sup> The Philistines also went and deployed themselves in <sup>a</sup> the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>19</sup> So David <sup>b</sup> inquired of the LORD, saying, “Shall I go up against the Philistines? Will You deliver them into my hand?”

And the LORD said to David, “Go up, for I will doubtless deliver the Philistines into your hand.”

economic interests, for he could profit from trade with Israel. The house that Hiram had built for David must have been sumptuous for the place and time. Most buildings in Israel were made of stone. The use of cedar wood added elegance to David’s palace. Certainly he spoke of his home with reasonable pride (7:2).

5:13 These marriages reflect David’s involvement in international treaties and alliances which were sealed with the marriage of a king’s daughter to the other participant in the treaty. Concubines, wives who did not have the legal rights of a true wife, were part of a royal harem. The status of kings in ancient times was often measured in part by the size of their harems. Yet for Israel’s kings, there had been a warning from God against acquiring many wives (Deut. 17:17).

5:14 Shammua is known as shimea in 1 Chr. 3:5. shammua, shobab, Nathan, and Solomon were David’s sons by Bathsheba (1 Chr. 3:5), the wife of Uriah. David planned Uriah’s death so that he could marry Bathsheba (ch. 11). The child born of David and Bathsheba’s affair died in infancy (12:15–23).

5:15, 16 The lists in 1 Chr. 3:5–9 and 14:4, 5 record two additional sons, Nogah and another eliphelet (elpelet in 1 Chr. 14:4).

5:17 The Hebrew word translated stronghold means “mountain fortress,” suggesting a fortress other than Jerusalem. Therefore, it is possible that these attacks took place between the time when David was anointed over all Israel (v. 4) and when he captured Jerusalem (vv. 6–10).

5:18 The Valley of Rephaim, or “Valley of the Giants” (21:15–22), extends southwest from Jerusalem toward the coastal plain. The significance of the valley as a strategic approach to Jerusalem is evidenced by the fact that the Philistines made a second attempt to capture the city from this route (v. 22).

5:19 a was his custom. David inquired of the LORD before engaging the Philistines in battle (see 2:1; 1 sam. 23:2; 30:8). In matters of warfare, David was not presumptuous. He wished to know the will of God in choosing his battles and their timing.

5:21 The idol images which the Philistines had taken into battle to assure them of victory were captured and carried away by David’s men. This looting would have been regarded by the Philistines as a defeat of their gods by the God of Israel. According to 1 Chr. 14:12, David and his men burned the idols.

5:25 The Geba mentioned here is not the Geba of 1 sam. 13:3, which was 6 miles north of Jerusalem. This Geba was most likely located south, in the Valley of Rephaim. Gezer was about 20 miles northwest of Jerusalem.

6:1 The thirty thousand men were not all the men of Israel capable of bearing arms, but the best of them.

6:2 Baale Judah, meaning “Masters of Judah,” was also called Baalath and kirjath Jearim (Josh. 15:9; 1 Chr. 13:6). It was a city on the border of Judah and Benjamin, about 10 miles northwest of Jerusalem. the Name, the LORD of Hosts: The personal name of

<sup>9</sup>David was afraid of the LORD that day; and he said, "How can the ark of the LORD come to me?" <sup>10</sup>So David would not move the ark of the LORD with him into the <sup>i</sup>City of David; but David took it aside into the house of Obed-Edom the <sup>j</sup>Gittite. <sup>11</sup><sup>k</sup>The ark of the LORD remained in the house of Obed-Edom the Gittite three months. And the LORD <sup>l</sup>blessed Obed-Edom and all his household.

BIBLE TIMES &amp; CULTURE NOTES

Dancing

among the Israelites, dancing generally occurred among women, either singly or in groups. It was a way of celebrating joyous occasions. Indeed, dancing became a symbol of joy, the opposite of mourning. Dancing by the Israelites was usually accompanied by the rhythmic beating of timbrels—or tambourines. On great national occasions, Israel also praised the Lord with stringed instruments, flutes, and cymbals. Men and women never danced together, even on those occasions where both sexes participated in the sacred professional dances, they always danced separately (Ps. 68:25; Jer. 31:13). Dancing for sensual entertainment was unheard of in Israel. Salome's infamous dance, which won her John the Baptist's head on a platter, was in the tradition of Greek dancing, a sensual art form rather than an act of worship (Matt. 14:6).

<sup>12</sup>Now it was told King David, saying, "The LORD has blessed the house of Obed-Edom and all that belongs to him, because of the ark of God." <sup>m</sup>So David went and brought up the ark of God from the house of Obed-Edom to the City of David with gladness. <sup>13</sup>And so it was, when <sup>n</sup>those bearing the ark of the LORD had gone six paces, that he sacrificed <sup>o</sup>oxen and fatted sheep. <sup>14</sup>Then David <sup>p</sup>danced <sup>7</sup>before the LORD with all his might; and David was wearing <sup>q</sup>a linen ephod. <sup>15</sup><sup>r</sup>So David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the LORD with shouting and with the sound of the trumpet.

God is revealed in ex. 3:13-15, where the context reveals that the Lord is the mighty God of the patriarchs who intervenes on behalf of his people. at times the Name of God is accompanied by the designation "of hosts" (5:10), referring to the angelic armies of the universe (see 1 kin. 22:19; Luke 2:13) as well as the armies of Israel (1 sam. 17:45). Cherubim are angelic beings generally regarded as guardians of God's holiness (see Gen. 3:24; ex. 25:22; Ps. 80:1; 99:1). God revealed himself to Moses from between the two cherubim mounted at opposite ends of the mercy seat over the ark of the covenant (ex. 25:22; Num. 7:89).

6:3 they set the ark of God on a new cart: The law was specific that the ark was to be carried by the sons of kohath, not by a cart or any other vehicle (see ex. 25:14, 15; Num. 3:30, 31). David was doing what the Philistines had done (1 sam. 6:7, 8). The ark had been taken to the house of Abinadab after its recovery from the Philistines (see 1 sam. 7:1, 2). The sons of Abinadab should probably be understood in a broader sense as "the descendants of a binadab."

6:5 Played literally means they "made merry" with dancing and music (v. 21). The worshippers had a variety of string, wind, and percussion instruments. Sistrums refers to egyptian instruments consisting of rings hanging loosely on metal rods that make a rattling sound when shaken.

6:6 a threshing floor was a place for processing grain, separating kernels from the chaff (Ruth 3:2). In order to steady the ark when it seemed as though it would fall, Uzzah put out his hand.

6:7 a though uzzah's violation was unintentional, his error cost him his life. God had warned his people that not even the Levites could touch the holy objects of the tabernacle; the death penalty had been specified for violators (Num. 4:15).

6:8 David became angry—not at himself for the carelessness that resulted in this calamity, but at God. He named the place of the tragedy Perez Uzzah, recalling what had happened.

6:9 David was afraid of the Lord: The tragedy of uzzah rekindled a necessary "fear of God" in the heart of David. Properly understood (see eccl. 12:13, 14), the fear of the Lord is essential to the pursuit of obedience and holiness.

6:10 Obed-Edom was a Levite of the family of korah, and later one of the doorkeepers for the ark (see 1 Chr. 15:18, 24; 26:4-8). he was called the Gittite because he was from the Levitical city of Gath Rimmon (see Josh. 21:24).

6:13 This time the ark was carried (see ex. 25:14, 15), rather than transported by cart. some interpreters think that the procession was halted and sacrifices were offered every six paces. It is also possible that the sacrifices were offered only once after the ark bearers had advanced the first six paces, thus consecrating the solemn procession.

6:14 The hebrew word translated danced literally means "whirled." The linen ephod was a short, sleeveless garment worn by priests (see 1 sam. 2:18). David wore it to honor the Lord in view of his priestly activities that day (v. 13).

6:15 Shouting was an expression of celebration and triumph (see ls. 44:23). The trumpet refers to the ram's horn or the shofar (2:28).

<sup>16</sup>Now as the ark of the LORD came into the City of David, <sup>s</sup>Michal, Saul's daughter, looked through a window and saw King David leaping and whirling before the LORD; and she despised him in her heart. <sup>17</sup>So <sup>t</sup>they brought the ark of the LORD, and set it in <sup>u</sup>its place in the midst of the tabernacle that David had erected for it. Then David <sup>v</sup>offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD. <sup>18</sup>And when David had finished offering burnt offerings and peace offerings, <sup>w</sup>he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of hosts. <sup>19x</sup>Then he distributed among all the people, among the whole multitude of Israel, both the women and the men, to everyone a loaf of bread, a piece of meat, and a cake of raisins. So all the people departed, everyone to his house.

<sup>21</sup>So David said to Michal, "It was before the LORD, <sup>b</sup>who chose me instead of your father and all his house, to appoint me ruler over the <sup>c</sup>people of the LORD, over Israel. Therefore I will play music before the LORD. <sup>22</sup>And I will be even

God's Covenant with David

7 Now it came to pass <sup>a</sup>when the king was dwelling in his house, and the LORD had given him rest from all his enemies all around, <sup>2</sup>that the king said to Nathan the prophet, "See now, I dwell in <sup>b</sup>a house of cedar, <sup>c</sup>but the ark of God dwells inside tent <sup>d</sup>curtains."

<sup>3</sup>Then Nathan said to the king, "Go, do all that is in your <sup>e</sup>heart, for the LORD is with you."

6:17 David erected a tent, no doubt patterned after the tabernacle of Moses, to serve as a temporary shelter for the ark until a more permanent building could be constructed. burnt offerings: see Lev. 1. peace offerings: see Lev. 3.

6:18 he blessed the people: David acted as a priest for the congregation; in this respect, he is a type of the savior Jesus who is the great king and Priest.

6:19 a distinctive feature of the peace offering (v. 17) was that a portion would be eaten by the worshiper as a fellowship meal before the Lord. David shared this meal with those who participated in the celebration. A cake of raisins was a sweet treat (song 2:5) sometimes used for religious offerings in Canaanite rites (hos. 3:1) as well as in the worship of God.

6:20 to bless his household: at the moment of his greatest spiritual experience, David took pleasure in the prospect of bringing God's blessing to his home, only to be met by the curses of his wife. The scornful remark about David's uncovering himself no doubt refers to the priestly attire worn by the king instead of his royal robes (v. 14). Dancing about in this short garment, David had exposed more of himself than Michal thought appropriate. The term base fellows refers to empty persons, those of no value or worth.

6:21 David rebuked Michal by reminding her that God had chosen him in place of her father saul, an evidence of divine blessing on his religious commitment and enthusiasm.

6:22 David declared that he would gladly be even more undignified and humble in his own sight to worship the Lord and to be held in honor by those who shared his spiritual values.

6:23 Michal's childlessness was the result of either estrangement from David, or perhaps divine punishment because of her refusal to join in the celebration of God's name. Thus there was no successor to the throne from the house of saul. his sons were all dead, and his daughter remained childless. It is evident from this verse that Michal had not had children with Palti during her years as his wife.

7:1 The house refers to the palace that the Phoenicians had built for David (5:11). Rest from all his enemies probably refers to the peace that prevailed after David's defeat of the Philistines (5:17-25).

7:2 Nathan was a personal advisor to David, as a prophet (ex. 7:1, 2), he spoke for God, advising David on religious matters. Nathan later confronted David regarding his sins of adultery and murder (12:1-15). he helped Bathsheba secure the throne for s olomon (see 1 kin. 1:10-45), aided in the establishment of music in the temple worship (see 2 Chr. 29:25), and chronicled the reigns of David and s olomon (see 1 Chr. 29:29; 2 Chr. 9:29). although there was nothing immoral about dwelling in a house of cedar, David realized he had to give his attention to spiritual priorities.

7:3 Nathan encouraged the king to follow the leading of his heart and build a temple for the ark. however, he spoke on the basis of his own understanding and not as a word from the Lord. his words the LORD is with you indicate in this context a general blessing and not a specific utterance of God.

7:5 although Nathan had at first encouraged David to build a temple for the ark (v. 3), the Lord revealed that this was not his intention at all. The question Would you build a house for Me to dwell in implied a negative answer.

7:6 A tent was a traveler's dwelling. The tabernacle was the portable structure or the "dwelling place" of God in the midst of his people (see ex. 25:9, 22).

7:7 Throughout the history of God's dealings with the Israelites, never once did he reprove them for failing to build him a permanent sanctuary. The word shepherd is a metaphor of leadership and was used throughout the ancient Middle east to refer to national leaders (see ezek. 34:2). The Great shepherd is, of course, God (see Ps. 23).

7:8 The formal and profound nature of the text is emphasized by the use of the name LORD of hosts. God reminded David of his gracious shall you say to My servant David, “Thus says the LORD of hosts: <sup>k</sup>“I took you from the sheepfold, from following the sheep, to be ruler over My people, over Israel. <sup>9</sup>And <sup>l</sup>I have been with you wherever you have gone, <sup>m</sup>and have <sup>1</sup>cut off all your enemies from before you, and have made you a great name, like the name of the great men who are on the earth. <sup>10</sup>Moreover I will appoint a place for My people Israel, and will <sup>n</sup>plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own and move no more; <sup>o</sup>nor shall the sons of wickedness oppress them anymore, as previously, <sup>11</sup><sup>p</sup>since the time that I commanded judges to be over My people Israel, and have caused you to rest from all your enemies. Also the LORD <sup>2</sup>tells you <sup>q</sup>that He will make you a <sup>3</sup>house.

<sup>12</sup><sup>r</sup>“When your days are fulfilled and you <sup>s</sup>rest with your fathers, <sup>t</sup>I will set up your seed after you, who will come from your body, and I will establish his kingdom. <sup>13</sup><sup>u</sup>He shall build a house for My name, and I will <sup>v</sup>establish the throne of his kingdom forever. <sup>14</sup><sup>w</sup>I will be his Father, and he shall be <sup>x</sup>My son. If he commits iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men and with the <sup>4</sup>blows of the sons of men. <sup>15</sup>But My mercy shall not depart from him, <sup>y</sup>as I took it from Saul, whom I removed from before you. <sup>16</sup>And <sup>z</sup>your house and your kingdom shall be established forever before <sup>5</sup>you. Your throne shall be established forever.””

<sup>17</sup>According to all these words and according to all this vision, so Nathan spoke to David.

David's Thanksgiving to God

<sup>18</sup>Then King David went in and sat before the LORD; and he said: <sup>a</sup>“Who am I, O Lord God? And what is my house, that You have brought me this far? <sup>19</sup>And yet this was a small thing in Your sight, O Lord God; and You have also spoken of Your servant's house for a great while to come. <sup>b</sup>Is this the manner of man, O Lord God? <sup>20</sup>Now what more can David say to You? For You, Lord God, <sup>c</sup>know Your servant. <sup>21</sup>For Your word's sake, and according to Your own heart, You have done all these great things, to make Your servant know them. <sup>22</sup>Therefore <sup>d</sup>You are great, <sup>6</sup>O Lord God. For <sup>e</sup>there is none like You, nor is there any God besides You, according to all that we have heard with our <sup>f</sup>ears. <sup>23</sup>And who is like Your people, like Israel, <sup>g</sup>the one nation on the earth whom God went to redeem for Himself as a people, to make for Himself a name—and to do for Yourself great and awesome deeds for Your land—before <sup>h</sup>Your people whom You redeemed for Yourself from Egypt, the nations, and their gods? <sup>24</sup>For <sup>i</sup>You have made Your people Israel Your very own people forever; <sup>j</sup>and You, LORD, have become their God.

<sup>25</sup>“Now, O LORD God, the word which You have spoken concerning Your servant and concerning his house, establish it forever and do as You have said. <sup>26</sup>So let Your name be magnified forever, saying, ‘The LORD of hosts is the God over Israel.’ And let the house of Your servant David be established before You. <sup>27</sup>For You, O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, have dealings in taking him from the humble role of a shepherd to serve as king over his people.

7:9 A great name or reputation was highly valued by the Hebrews. as God promised to make the name a great name (see Gen. 12:2), so he promised David that his name would be renowned.

7:10 God promised to provide Israel a secure dwelling place in the land of Israel. No longer would the Israelites be exposed to repeated attacks from their enemies, as had happened during the time of the judges.

7:11 house: David wanted to build God a house—that is, a temple (vv. 2-7). Instead, God intended to build David a house—that is, a dynasty of long duration.

7:12 The first provision of the Davidic covenant was that David would have a son for whom God would establish a kingdom.

7:13 House here refers to the temple (see 1 kin. 6). God also promised to establish the throne of Solomon's kingdom forever (see 1 Chr. 22:6-10). This is not to say that Solomon would rule forever. Rather, the right to rule, represented by the image of the throne, would always belong to his descendants. further, there would always be a male heir who would be able to rule.

7:14 iniquity: The sins of David's sons would require divine chastening (1 kin. 11:1-13). The rod of men and blows of the sons of men would serve as instruments of chastening (1 kin. 11:14, 23).

7:15 although Solomon's sins would justify chastening, God promised that his mercy would not be removed, as was necessary in the case of Saul (1 sam. 13:13, 14; 15:22, 23).

7:18 The words sat before the LORD indicate that David was in the tent which served to house the ark. Who am I, O Lord God: David's rhetorical question reflected his sense of unworthiness to have been extended such a gracious promise (vv. 12-16).

7:19 David acknowledged that what God had done for him so far was far greater than anything he deserved. as if this were only a small thing, God now extended the promise concerning David's dynasty far into the future. all of human history leads inevitably to the rule of Christ on earth. This is its destiny, its prophetic fulfillment, the final meaning of all history.

7:22 All that we have heard with our ears refers to the shared tradition regarding God's work in history (Deut. 4:32-40).

7:24 Your people Israel: at the heart of God's promise to David was the continuation of his promise to the nation of Israel (see Gen. 12:1-3).

7:25 having praised God for his gracious works, David prayed for the fulfillment of the promise. as David undoubtedly knew, God's will would be accomplished whether he prayed for it or not. But like David, when we pray in God's will for God's will, we become part of his will. We also become an expectant people, ready to respond to God with great praise when he has accomplished his will (see Ps. 142).

7:26 The name of God refers here to his reputation. David wanted God's reputation to be magnified through the fulfillment of his promise.

Chariots

The chariot rivaled the composite bow in its effectiveness as a weapon, but only wealthier nations could establish and maintain a chariot force. Chariots were introduced in Mesopotamia about 2800 B.C. The advantage of the chariot is that it can bring great firepower quickly to the key point of the battle. Chariots came in many different forms. They could be two-wheeled or four-wheeled, drawn by two to four horses. Some chariots would carry as many as four warriors. In combat a chariot usually carried two soldiers—a driver who controlled the reins and a warrior who needed both arms free to fire his bow. In some cases, depending on the nation and the period of history, a third person might serve as a shield bearer to protect both the warrior and the driver. The warrior was usually equipped with a bow, as well as a medium-range weapon, such as the javelin or spear.

revealed this to Your servant, saying, ‘I will build you a house.’ Therefore Your servant has found it in his heart to pray this prayer to You.

<sup>28</sup>“And now, O Lord God, You are God, and <sup>b</sup>Your words are true, and You have promised this goodness to Your servant. <sup>29</sup>Now therefore, let it please You to bless the house of Your servant, that it may continue before You forever; for You, O Lord God, have spoken it, and with Your blessing let the house of Your servant be blessed <sup>l</sup>forever.”

David's Further Conquests

<sup>5</sup><sup>g</sup>When the Syrians of Damascus came to help Hadadezer king of Zobah, David killed twenty-two thousand of the Syrians. <sup>6</sup>Then David put garrisons in Syria of Damascus; and the Syrians became David's servants, and brought tribute. 7:28 You are God, and Your words are true: David acknowledged that God could be trusted to fulfill His promise.

8:1 The Philistines seem to have migrated from the Aegean Islands and Asia Minor to the eastern Mediterranean region around 1200 B.C. They settled on the coastal plain of Israel and developed a relatively advanced culture and a powerful army. The Philistines were a major threat to Israel during the reigns of Saul and David (see 5:17; 1 sam. 13:5; 17:1; 23:1; 28:1).

8:2 The Moabites were descendants of the incestuous relationship between Lot and his older daughter (see Gen. 19:36, 37). These people occupied the land opposite Judah, east of the Jordan River and the Dead Sea. This verse may indicate that David spared the young Moabites (whose height was a line) and executed the adults (whose height was two lines). In any event, the survivors became vassals, or servants of David. Centuries later, the Moabites won their freedom from being vassals to Israel (see 2 kin. 1:1).

8:3 David's campaign to the north resulted in the defeat of Hadadezer, who ruled the Aramean kingdom of Zobah, which extended north of Damascus.

8:4 hamstrung: David disabled the horses by cutting the back sinews of the hind legs to prevent them from being used for military activity (see Josh. 11:6, 9).

8:5 Damascus, located at an oasis near the foot of the Anti-Lebanon mountains, was one of the most strategically located cities of the ancient world. Damascus lay at the crossroads of the two main international highways—the Via Maris, leading south and west to Egypt, and the king's highway, leading from the east side of the Jordan south to a rabia.

8:6 The garrisons of Israelite soldiers were intended to keep the Syrians of Damascus under David's control.

of Hadadezer, and brought them to Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup> Also from <sup>4</sup> Betah and from <sup>j</sup> Berothai, <sup>5</sup> cities of Hadadezer, King David took a large amount of bronze.

David's Administration

David's Kindness to Mephibosheth

9 Now David said, "Is there still anyone who is left of the house of Saul, that I may <sup>a</sup> show him <sup>1</sup> kindness for Jonathan's sake?"

<sup>2</sup> And there was a servant of the house of Saul whose name was <sup>b</sup> Ziba. So when they had called him to David, the king said to him, "Are you Ziba?"

He said, "At your service!"

<sup>3</sup> Then the king said, "Is there not still someone of the house of Saul, to whom I may show <sup>c</sup> the kindness of God?"

And Ziba said to the king, "There is still a son of Jonathan who is <sup>d</sup> lame in his feet."

<sup>4</sup> So the king said to him, "Where is he?"

And Ziba said to the king, "Indeed he is in the house of <sup>e</sup> Machir the son of Ammiel, in Lo Debar."

<sup>5</sup> Then King David sent and brought him out of the house of Machir the son of Ammiel, from Lo Debar.

<sup>6</sup> Now when <sup>f</sup> Mephibosheth <sup>2</sup> the son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, had come to David, he fell on his face and prostrated himself. Then David said, "Mephibosheth?"

And he answered, "Here is your servant!"

<sup>7</sup> So David said to him, "Do not fear, for I will surely show you kindness for Jonathan your father's sake, and will restore to you all the land of Saul your grandfather; and you shall eat bread at my table continually."

8:8 Betha, an Aramean city, was also known as Tibhath (see 1 Chr. 18:8). Berothai, also known as Berothah (see Ezek. 47:16), was about 30 miles northwest of Damascus.

8:9 Hamath was about 100 miles northeast of Damascus.

8:10 The rich gifts of Toi, king of Hamath, reflect his desire to establish friendly relations with his powerful new neighbor. The gifts may also indicate that Toi voluntarily submitted to David and became his vassal.

8:11 The silver and gold that David received from the nations he conquered were turned over to the priests to be used in building the temple (see 1 kin. 7:51).

8:13 Name refers to the reputation David gained as a result of his military exploits.

8:15 David reigned over all Israel: as a result of David's conquests, the sovereignty of Israel extended from the Gulf of a Qaba and the River of Egypt to the Euphrates River—the very region God had promised Abraham in Gen. 15:18. The words translated judgment and justice together mean "genuine justice." David was careful to see that the decisions he made and the laws he enforced were "fair and right" for all.

8:16 Joab, the commander-in-chief of David's army, had led the successful attack on the city of Jebus, which became David's capital, Jerusalem (see 1 Chr. 11:6, 7). Joab was David's nephew; Zerui-ah, his mother, was David's sister (see 1 Chr. 2:13-16). Jehoshaphat the recorder kept track of state business, brought appropriate concerns to the king's attention, and advised him on official matters. His career extended into the reign of Solomon (see 1 kin. 4:3).

8:17 Zadok and Ahimelech are mentioned as the principal priests during David's reign (see 15:24; 1 sam. 22:20-23; 1 kin. 1:7, 8). The scribe served as secretary of state, drafting official documents, handling correspondence, and maintaining court records.

8:18 Chief ministers were confidential advisors.

9:1 for Jonathan's sake: David and Jonathan had entered into a covenant of friendship and protection that was to extend to their offspring (see 1 sam. 18:3, 4; 20:14, 15, 42).

9:2 Ziba was a servant of King Saul (16:1-4; 19:29).

9:3 The kindness of God recalls the words of the oath that Jonathan had David swear (see 1 sam. 20:14).

9:4 Machir the son of Ammiel was a man, apparently of wealth and position, who extended hospitality to David during a Balaam's revolt (17:27-29). Lo Debar was about ten miles south of the Sea of Galilee just east of the Jordan.

9:5 once he was made aware of Jonathan's son, David did not hesitate to fulfill his covenant commitment to his friend. He immediately sent for Mephibosheth to be brought to Jerusalem.

9:7 Do not fear: Mephibosheth had good reason to be afraid. It was usual in the ancient Middle East for founders of new dynasties to kill the children of former rulers to keep them from trying to regain the throne in the name of their families. The land of Saul refers to the house and property at Gibeon which was claimed by David when battle array at the entrance of the gate. And <sup>k</sup>the Syrians of Zoba, Beth Rehob, Ish-Tob, and Maacah were by themselves in the field.

<sup>9</sup>When Joab saw that the battle line was against him before and behind, he chose some of Israel's best and put them in battle array against the Syrians. <sup>10</sup>And the rest of the people he put under the command of <sup>l</sup>Abishai his brother, that he might set them in battle array against the people of Ammon. <sup>11</sup>Then he said, "If the Syrians are too strong for me, then you shall help me; but if the people of Ammon are too strong for you, then I will come and help you. <sup>12</sup>m Be of good courage, and let us *n*be strong for our people and for the cities of our God. And may *o*the LORD do what is good in His sight."

<sup>13</sup>So Joab and the people who were with him drew near for the battle against the Syrians, and they fled before him. <sup>14</sup>When the people of Ammon saw that the Syrians were fleeing, they also fled before Abishai, and entered the city. So Joab returned from the people of Ammon and went to *n*Jerusalem.

walled city if the battle turned against them. The mercenary soldiers were in more exposed positions in the field.

10:9 before and behind: Joab had allowed himself to become trapped between two enemy forces—the Syrians and the ammonites. If he attacked either enemy separately, his rear troops would be exposed to the other. Joab decided to risk attacking both forces at the same time.

10:10 Abishai, Joab's brother, was placed in command of the rest of the militia in order to attack the people of Ammon. a bishai was one of David's mighty men (23:18). he was a brave warrior (see 1 sam. 26:6–9) and a successful commander (see 1 Chr. 18:12, 13), but was impetuous and perhaps even bloodthirsty (16:9; 19:21). he had played a part in the murder of a bner (3:30).

10:12 Joab's exhortation, be of good courage, and let us be strong, is reminiscent of God's charge to Joshua at the beginning of the conquest (see Josh. 1:6, 7). may the LORD do what is good in His sight: having done his best to prepare for the battle, Joab took confidence in the sovereignty of God.

10:14 as the battle turned against the Syrians, the people of Ammon fled for shelter behind their city walls. The city refers to Rabbah (11:1), the capital of the ammonites.

10:16 Hadadezer ruled the aramean kingdom of Zobah, which extended north of Damascus (8:3). The River refers to the euphrates, designated by God as the northeast boundary of the Promised Land (see Gen. 15:18).

10:18 seven hundred charioteers: according to 1 Chr. 19:18, "seven thousand" charioteers were killed. one of these texts must be the result of a copyist's error. Probably seven hundred is correct. 10:19 All the kings who had been vassal rulers under Hadadezer transferred their allegiance to David. The word served indicates that they submitted to Israel's authority and brought them tribute (8:2).

11:1 kings in the ancient Middle east went to battle in the spring of the year, when they could be assured of good weather and an abundance of food along the way. David sent Joab and his army to besiege the ammonite capital of Rabbah. But instead of going off to war with his army, David remained at Jerusalem.

11:2 from the roof he saw a woman bathing: In ancient times, Israelite houses had an enclosed courtyard. Bathsheba was actually in her own house. very beautiful: scripture rarely describes the physical appearance of people, but both Bathsheba and David (1 sam. 16:12) are described as being of exceptionally fine appearance.

11:3 Bathsheba means "Daughter of sheba." In 1 Chr. 3:5, her name is given as Bathshua.

11:4 she came to him: David was using his power as king to take advantage of uriah's wife. It is difficult to know what Bathsheba's part was in all of this. cleansed from her impurity: Lev. 15:19–24 called for seven days of purification following a woman's monthly period.

11:5 told David: In Lev. 20:10 the command is clear that both parties in an adulterous relationship were to be put to death. But in practice, a woman who became pregnant might be forced to bear the shame and guilt alone. Bathsheba's situation was precarious because it would have been known that her husband was off at war.

sent Uriah to David. <sup>7</sup>When Uriah had come to him, David asked how Joab was doing, and how the people were doing, and how the war prospered. <sup>8</sup>And David said to Uriah, “Go down to your house and <sup>j</sup>wash your feet.” So Uriah departed from the king’s house, and a gift of food from the king followed him. <sup>9</sup>But Uriah slept at the <sup>k</sup>door of the king’s house with all the servants of his lord, and did not go down to his house. <sup>10</sup>So when they told David, saying, “Uriah did not go down to his house,” David said to Uriah, “Did you not come from a journey? Why did you not go down to your house?”

<sup>11</sup>And Uriah said to David, <sup>l</sup>“The ark and Israel and Judah are dwelling in tents, and <sup>m</sup>my lord Joab and the servants of my lord are encamped in the open fields. Shall I then go to my house to eat and drink, and to lie with my wife? As you live, and <sup>n</sup>as your soul lives, I will not do this thing.”

<sup>12</sup>Then David said to Uriah, “Wait here today also, and tomorrow I will let you depart.” So Uriah remained in Jerusalem that day and the next. <sup>13</sup>Now when David called him, he ate and drank

<sup>14</sup>In the morning it happened that David <sup>p</sup>wrote a letter to Joab and sent it by the hand of Uriah. <sup>15</sup>And he wrote in the letter, saying, “Set Uriah in the forefront of the <sup>3</sup>hottest battle, and retreat from him, that he may <sup>q</sup>be struck down and die.” <sup>16</sup>So it was, while Joab besieged the city, that he assigned Uriah to a place where he knew there were valiant men. <sup>17</sup>Then the men of the city came out and fought with Joab. And some of the people of the servants of David fell; and Uriah the Hittite died also.

<sup>18</sup>Then Joab sent and told David all the things concerning the war, <sup>19</sup>and charged the messenger, saying, “When you have finished telling the matters of the war to the king, <sup>20</sup>if it happens that the king’s wrath rises, and he says to you: ‘Why did you approach so near to the city when you fought? 11:8 Go down to your house and wash your feet: David encouraged Uriah to visit his wife. It is likely that David’s words, “wash your feet,” meant that Uriah should sleep with his wife that night. The gift of food was given by David for Uriah and Bathsheba to enjoy together, to encourage them to be intimate.

11:11 The ark accompanied the army on their military campaign (see 15:24; 1 sam. 4:3).

11:14, 15 how sad that David would use the dangers of war to achieve his own ends, that he would send to his death an innocent man, and that he would have no thought of God, while Uriah was consumed with righteousness.

11:16 Valiant means outstanding in battle. David sent Uriah to where he thought the fighting would be fiercest.

11:19 charged the messenger: Joab anticipated David’s anger over the loss of life and the questions he would ask about why this was allowed to happen.

11:21 Abimelech the son of Jerubbesheth refers to the son of Gideon. Jerubbesheth is also called Jerubbaal or Gideon (see Judg.

An Innocent Victim

Uriah the Hittite was one of David’s mighty men (23:39). The name Uriah means “flame of the Lord” or “The Lord Is Light.” The fact that he is called a Hittite suggests that he may have been a foreign mercenary who had become a worshiper of Israel’s God. Immediately, a contrast is set before the reader. On the one hand there was David, the Lord’s anointed, the regent of God on earth. On the other hand there was Uriah, a convert—a man who was not born in the faith of Israel, but who willingly chose it for his own.

David used his authority as king to take advantage of Uriah’s wife Bathsheba while Uriah was fighting a war for Israel. As a result of David’s sin, Bathsheba became pregnant. David attempted to cover things up by calling Uriah home from battle. If Uriah had relations with his wife while on leave, he might believe the child was his.

However, Uriah, the ever-dedicated soldier, refused to enjoy the comforts of home while his comrades were on the battlefield. In this, he showed himself to be more righteous than David. Uriah’s words in 11:11 must have stung David’s conscience. He had neglected his duty. Moreover, he had stolen the wife of one of his best soldiers while his warriors risked their lives for him. Yet David persisted in covering up his sin; he attempted to break Uriah’s resolve by giving him too much to drink. But even the effects of alcohol did not soften Uriah’s determination. Once again, he refused to enjoy the comforts offered him.

Failing to cover up sin, David plotted the loyal soldier’s death. Perhaps David could not face the shame of seeing Uriah after the warrior had learned that David had slept with his wife. David’s orders—which were carried back to the battle lines by Uriah himself—were for Joab, the commander of the army, to put Uriah in the heat of battle, and then to withdraw the other soldiers so that Uriah would be left alone and killed. So Uriah died in battle.

After Uriah’s death, David took Bathsheba as his wife as soon as possible, to make it appear that the child was legitimate. However, “the thing that David had done displeased the Lord” (11:27). Although David had managed to conceal his sin from the people, God knew about it all. David’s sin would not go unpunished (ch. 12). Even the king of Israel had to submit to God’s discipline.

a millstone on him from the wall, so that he died in Thebez? Why did you go near the wall?”—then you shall say, ‘Your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead also.’”

<sup>22</sup>So the messenger went, and came and told David all that Joab had sent by him. <sup>23</sup>And the messenger said to David, “Surely the men prevailed against us and came out to us in the field; then we drove them back as far as the entrance of the gate. <sup>24</sup>The archers shot from the wall at your servants; and some of the king’s servants are dead, and your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead also.”

<sup>25</sup>Then David said to the messenger, “Thus you shall say to Joab: ‘Do not let this thing <sup>5</sup>displease you, for the sword devours one as well as another. Strengthen your attack against the city, and overthrow it.’ So encourage him.”

<sup>26</sup>When the wife of Uriah heard that Uriah her husband was dead, she mourned for her husband. <sup>27</sup>And when her mourning was over, David sent and brought her to his house, and she <sup>8</sup>became his wife and bore him a son. But the thing that David had done <sup>4</sup>displeased <sup>6</sup>the LORD.

Nathan’s Parable and David’s Confession

flocks and herds. <sup>3</sup>But the poor man had nothing, except one little ewe lamb which he had bought and nourished; and it grew up together with him and with his children. It ate of his own food and drank from his own cup and lay in his bosom; and it was like a daughter to him. <sup>4</sup>And a traveler came to the rich man, who refused to take from his own flock and from his own herd to prepare one for the wayfaring man who had come to him; but he took the poor man’s lamb and prepared it for the man who had come to him.”

<sup>5</sup>So David’s anger was greatly aroused against the man, and he said to Nathan, “As the LORD lives, the man who has done this <sup>1</sup>shall surely die! <sup>6</sup>And he shall restore <sup>c</sup>fourfold for the lamb, because he did this thing and because he had no pity.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Nathan said to David, “You are the man! Thus says the LORD God of Israel: ‘I <sup>d</sup>anointed you king over Israel, and I delivered you from the hand of Saul. <sup>8</sup>I gave you your master’s house and your master’s wives into your keeping, and gave you the house of Israel and Judah. And if that had been too little, I also would have given you much more! <sup>9</sup><sup>e</sup>Why have you <sup>f</sup>despised the commandment of the LORD, to do evil in His sight? <sup>g</sup>You have killed Uriah the Hittite with the sword; you have taken his wife to be your wife, and have killed him with the sword of the people of Ammon. <sup>10</sup>Now therefore, <sup>h</sup>the sword shall never depart

6:32). a bimelech’s death during the siege of Thebez is recorded in Judg. 9:50–55. Was it not a woman? For a soldier to die at the hand of a woman was regarded as practically a fate worse than death (see Judg. 9:54).

11:23, 24 The report revealed that Joab did not follow David’s orders exactly. David had told Joab to have uriah killed by withdrawing soldiers from around him, leaving him to face the enemy alone. Perhaps Joab thought that this would be an obvious betrayal and would be difficult to explain to the other officers in the army. Instead, he devised a plan to have the soldiers fight near the wall. This maneuver endangered more soldiers and resulted in greater loss of life.

11:27 when her mourning was over: ordinarily, Israelites mourned a death for seven days (see 1 sam. 31:13).

12:1 There were two men: as a king, David was the highest judge and the court of final appeal. The words one rich and the other poor present the story as a morality tale that would gain David’s attention without raising his suspicions.

12:3 The poor man’s ewe lamb was more a dearly loved pet than a farm animal. The details about sharing food and drink emphasize how precious the lamb was to the poor man.

12:4 he took the poor man’s lamb: These words are reminiscent of 11:4, “David sent messengers, and took her.”

12:5 David’s anger was greatly aroused at the loathsome injustice that had been done. the man who has done this shall surely die: No capital crime had been committed; ordinarily, the rich man would not have been executed. Ironically, it was David who deserved to die for the crimes of adultery and murder (see Lev. 20:10; 24:17).

12:6 he shall restore fourfold: David demanded that restitution be made to the poor man according to the Law of Moses (see ex. 22:1).

12:7 You are the man: It took courage and a strong commitment to the Lord for Nathan to speak these words to the king. David in his wrath could have retaliated against the prophet and had him executed. Nathan continued to present the words of God. It was the Lord who had made David king (see 2:4; 5:3; 1 sam. 16:13), and it was he who had delivered David from saul (see 1 sam. 19:8–24).

12:8 your master’s wives: saul had had one wife, a hinoam (see 1 sam. 14:50), and one concubine, Rizpah (3:7). There is no indication that David married either of them after saul’s death, since a hinoam was the mother of David’s wife Michal (see 1 sam. 14:49, 50), the law prohibited her from becoming David’s wife (see Lev. 18:17). The word translated wives may also be translated “women,” including the female servants and courtesans that became David’s when he became king. I also would have given you much more: The grace of God to David was not something that was about to be exhausted; all David had to do was ask, and God would have granted him favor upon favor.

12:9 you despised the commandment of the Lord: David had broken the tenth, the seventh, and the sixth commandments (ex. 20:1–17; Deut. 5:6–21), the ones about coveting, adultery, and murder. The word translated despised means “to think light of.” This is the same term used of esau, who despised his birthright (Gen. 25:34). killed him with the sword of the people of Ammon: although David’s own sword was clean, there was still blood on his hands.

12:10, 11 The judgment pronounced on David and his family was threefold: (1) Bloodshed would persist all the days of David’s life; from your house, because you have despised Me, and have taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife.<sup>11</sup> Thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, I will raise up adversity against you from your own house; and I will <sup>i</sup>take your wives before your eyes and give them to your neighbor, and he shall lie with your wives in the sight of this sun. <sup>12</sup>For you did it secretly, <sup>j</sup>but I will do this thing before all Israel, before the sun.’”

And Nathan said to David, “The LORD also has <sup>m</sup>put away your sin; you shall not die. <sup>14</sup>However, because by this deed you have given great occasion to the enemies of the LORD <sup>n</sup>to blaspheme, the child also who is born to you shall surely die.”<sup>15</sup> Then Nathan departed to his house.

The Death of David's Son

And the <sup>o</sup>LORD struck the child that Uriah's wife bore to David, and it became ill. <sup>16</sup>David therefore pleaded with God for the child, and David fasted and went in and <sup>p</sup>lay all night on the ground. <sup>17</sup>So the elders of his house arose and went to him, to raise him up from the ground. But he would not, nor did he eat food with them. <sup>18</sup>Then on the seventh day it came to pass that the child died. And the servants of David were afraid to tell him that the child was dead. For they said, “Indeed, while the child was alive, we spoke to him, and he would not heed our voice. How can we tell him that the child is dead? He may do some harm!”

<sup>19</sup> When David saw that his servants were whispering, David perceived that the child was dead. Therefore David said to his servants, “Is the child dead?”

And they said, “He is dead.”

<sup>20</sup> So David arose from the ground, washed and <sup>q</sup>anointed himself, and changed his clothes; and he went into the house of the LORD and <sup>r</sup>worshiped. Then he went to his own house; and when he requested, they set food before him, and he ate. <sup>21</sup> Then his servants said to him, “What is this that you have done? You fasted and wept for the child while he was alive, but when the child died, you arose and ate food.”

<sup>22</sup> And he said, “While the child was alive, I fasted and wept; <sup>s</sup>for I said, ‘Who can tell whether <sup>2</sup>the LORD will be gracious to me, that the child may live?’

<sup>23</sup> But now he is dead; why should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go <sup>t</sup> to him, but <sup>u</sup>he shall not return to me.”

Solomon Is Born

(2) David's own family would bring adversity against him; (3) David's wives would be taken by another. These predictions of judgment were fulfilled in the violation of Tamar (13:11–14), the violent deaths of a mmon and a bsalom (13:28, 29; 18:15), and a bsalom's public appropriation of David's concubines (16:22).

12:12 David's sin was private, but God's discipline and correction were public.

12:13 I have sinned against the Lord: David did not attempt to rationalize his sin or to make an excuse for himself. a fuller expression of David's confession is found in Ps. 51. The Lord also has put away your sin: God accepted David's confession and extended divine forgiveness. you shall not die: This is an evidence of divine grace. David was deserving of the death penalty for adultery and murder (see Lev. 20:10; Num. 35:31–33). God's grace is able to circumvent his own plan for punishment.

12:14 although David's sin was forgiven, the child born of his adulterous relationship with Bathsheba would die. David's actions had given an opportunity for the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme. The Lord could not ignore David's sins and give unbelievers an opportunity to say, “The God of Israel must not be very holy. Look how he tolerates sin in the life of the king!” While God forgives sin, he does not necessarily remove its consequences (Gal. 6:7).

12:15 the child: The baby seems not to have lived long enough to be named. Normally a child would be named at the time of circumcision, the eighth day (Luke 1:59).

12:16 pleaded: In this verse, we sense the heart of David in anguish before the Lord. fasted: fasting is an expression of the intensity of a petitioner's concern.

12:17 The elders of his house were the senior officials and advisors of David's royal court.

12:18 the servants of David were afraid: Those who had observed the intensity of David's grief before the death of his child expected that his rage would be uncontrollable when he learned that the baby had died.

12:20 So David arose from the ground: usually, we think of the process of grieving as following the death of a loved one. In David's case, his grieving began when the child became ill. once the child was dead, there was nothing he could do but worship the Lord. he went into the house of the Lord: David left his palace and ascended Mt. Moriah to worship at the tabernacle.

12:22 Who can tell: These words give us a remarkable insight into the meaning of prayer. as long as there is any possibility of God intervening in a new way, prayer should continue unabated. If one's hope is in God, then there is never the sense that it is too late until it is too late. God may intervene at the very last moment. should he intervene and find us not still at prayer?

12:23 I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me: The child could not return to life, but David would someday join his son in death.

12:24 The name Solomon is related to the hebrew word for peace, and means “Peaceable” or “Peaceful.” the Lord loved him: God was not going to strike this child as he had the first one (v. 15). This child was God's choice.

12:25 Nathan the prophet was sent by the Lord to give solomon the name Jedidiah, meaning “Beloved of the Lord” (v. 24). The hebrew name is related to David's name, meaning “Beloved.” The divinely sanctioned name, spoken by the prophet of the Lord, was the final symbol of God's forgiveness in the lives of David and Bathsheba.

David's Conquests

once he had become king over all Israel (2 sam. 5:1–5), David

- (1) conquered the Jebusite fortress of Zion/Jerusalem and made it his royal city (5:6–10);
- (2) received the recognition of and assurance of friendship from hiram of Tyre, king of the Phoenicians (5:11, 12);
- (3) decisively defeated the Philistines so that their hold on Israelite territory was broken and their threat to Israel eliminated (5:17–25; 8:1);
- (4) defeated the Moabites and imposed his authority over them (8:2);
- (5) crushed the syrian kingdoms of hadadezer (king of Zobah), Damascus, and Maacah and put them under tribute (8:3–8; 10:6–19). Talmi, the syrian king of Geshur, apparently had made peace with David while he was still reigning in hebron and sealed the alliance by giving his daughter Maacah in marriage to David (3:3; cf. 1 Chr. 2:23);
- (6) subdued edom and incorporated it into his empire (8:13, 14);
- (7) defeated the ammonites and brought them into subjection (12:26–31);
- (8) subjugated the remaining Canaanite cities that had previously maintained their independence from Israel, such as Beth shean, Megiddo, Taanach, and Dor.

since David had earlier crushed the amalekites (1 sam. 30:17, 18), his wars thus completed the conquest begun by Joshua and secured all the borders of Israel. his empire (united Israel plus the subjugated kingdoms) reached from ezion Geber on the eastern arm of the Red sea to the euphrates River.

Rabbah Is Captured

Amnon and Tamar

13 After this <sup>a</sup>Absalom the son of David had a lovely sister, whose name was <sup>b</sup>Tamar; and <sup>c</sup>Amnon the son of David loved her. <sup>2</sup>Amnon was so distressed over his sister Tamar that he became sick; for she was a virgin. And it was improper for Amnon to do anything to her. <sup>3</sup>But Amnon had a friend whose name was Jonadab <sup>d</sup>the son of Shimeah, David’s brother. Now Jonadab was a very crafty man. <sup>4</sup>And he said to him, “Why are you, the king’s son, becoming thinner day after day? Will you not tell me?”

Amnon said to him, “I love Tamar, my brother Absalom’s sister.”

<sup>5</sup>So Jonadab said to him, “Lie down on your bed and pretend to be ill. And when your father comes to see you, say to him, ‘Please let my sister Tamar come and give me food, and prepare the food in my sight, that I may see it and eat it from her hand.’” <sup>6</sup>Then Amnon lay down and pretended to be ill; and when the king came to see him, Amnon said to the king, “Please let Tamar my sister come and <sup>e</sup>make a couple of cakes for me in my sight, that I may eat from her hand.”

<sup>7</sup>And David sent home to Tamar, saying, “Now go to your brother Amnon’s house, and prepare food for him.” <sup>8</sup>So Tamar went to her brother Amnon’s house; and he was lying down. Then she took flour and kneaded it, made cakes in his sight, and baked the cakes. <sup>9</sup>And she took the pan and placed them out before him, but he refused to eat. Then Amnon said, <sup>f</sup>“Have everyone go out from me.” And they all went out from him. <sup>10</sup>Then Amnon said to Tamar, “Bring the food into the bedroom, that I may eat from your hand.” And Tamar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them to Amnon her brother in the bedroom. <sup>11</sup>Now when she had brought them to him to eat, <sup>g</sup>he took hold of her and said to her, “Come, lie with me, my sister.”

12:27 taken the city’s water supply: Joab assured that once he had done this the city could not hold out against a siege.

12:28, 29 lest I take the city: Joab wanted David to have the credit for defeating Rabbah and conquering the people of Ammon. So it was that David arrived with his elite corps and won the victory that was years in the making.

12:30 a talent of gold: The crown weighed about 75 pounds. It was an example of the opulence of the spoils from the city, which came in great abundance. It is possible that the crown was a symbol of the Ammonite god Milcom (see 1 Kin. 11:5).

12:31 saws and iron picks and iron axes: The foreign policy of ancient Israel was announced in Deut. 20. The Israelites were to exterminate the Canaanites and subjugate the other nations as God’s judgment on the sins of those peoples. David punished the Ammonites in forced work parties with various tools and implements.

13:1 Absalom and Tamar were children of David and Maacah, daughter of Talmi, king of Geshur (3:3). Amnon, David’s firstborn son, was the child of a Hittite, the woman from Jezreel (3:2). loved her: Amnon’s love for his half-sister was polluted by the passion of lust.

13:2 it was improper for Amnon to do anything to her: Marriage to a sister or half-sister was forbidden by the Law of Moses (see Lev. 18:11).

13:3 Jonadab was a cousin to both Amnon and Tamar. The Hebrew word translated crafty is the same one used elsewhere for those who are “wise,” “technically skilled,” or “experienced.”

13:4, 5 becoming thinner: Amnon’s lust for his sister had made him obsessive; his was a self-destructive course of life. Sadly, he would destroy others as well. pretend to be ill: Jonadab, Amnon’s shrewd cousin, devised a plan to lure unsuspecting Tamar into Amnon’s bedroom. Feigning illness would be a means of gaining sympathy and avoiding the usual proprieties.

13:7, 8 your brother Amnon’s house: Apparently the royal princes had separate residences. This allowed Amnon to put his evil plan into action without the knowledge of the other members of the family. made cakes in his sight: Amnon was able to look from his bedroom into the courtyard where the baking was being done.

13:12 While Canaanites and foreigners might have condoned such practices, incest was forbidden among Israelites (see Lev. 18:9, 11; 20:17). The words disgraceful thing translate a word used elsewhere to refer to a grave sin or sexual offense (see Gen. 34:7; Judg. 20:6).

13:13 The word translated fools is related to the word translated disgraceful thing in v. 12. he will not withhold me from you: While the law forbade incestuous marriage (see Lev. 18:11), this regulation may not always have been strictly observed. It is also possible that Tamar made this suggestion as a way of escaping her immediate danger, with no real thought to the possibility of marriage.

you.”<sup>14</sup> However, he would not heed her voice; and being stronger than she, he<sup>k</sup> forced her and lay with her.

<sup>15</sup> Then Amnon hated her<sup>2</sup> exceedingly, so that the hatred with which he hated her was greater than the love with which he had loved her. And Amnon said to her, “Arise, be gone!”

<sup>16</sup> So she said to him, “No, indeed! This evil of sending me away is worse than the other that you did to me.”

But he would not listen to her.<sup>17</sup> Then he called his servant who attended him, and said, “Here! Put this woman out, away from me, and bolt the door behind her.”<sup>18</sup> Now she had on<sup>l</sup> a robe of many colors, for the king’s virgin daughters wore such apparel. And his servant put her out and bolted the door behind her.

years, that Absalom<sup>q</sup> had sheepshearers in Baal Hazor, which is near Ephraim; so Absalom invited all the king’s sons.<sup>24</sup> Then Absalom came to the king and said, “Kindly note, your servant has sheepshearers; please, let the king and his servants go with your servant.”

<sup>25</sup> But the king said to Absalom, “No, my son, let us not all go now, lest we be a burden to you.” Then he urged him, but he would not go; and he blessed him.

<sup>26</sup> Then Absalom said, “If not, please let my brother Amnon go with us.”

And the king said to him, “Why should he go with you?”<sup>27</sup> But Absalom urged him; so he let Amnon and all the king’s sons go with him.

<sup>28</sup> Now Absalom had commanded his servants, saying, “Watch now, when Amnon’s<sup>r</sup> heart is merry with wine, and when I say to you, ‘Strike Amnon!’ then kill him. Do not be afraid. Have I not commanded you? Be courageous and<sup>3</sup> valiant.”<sup>29</sup> So the servants of Absalom<sup>s</sup> did to Amnon as Absalom had commanded. Then all the king’s sons arose, and each one got on<sup>t</sup> his mule and fled.

13:14 he forced her: The word can also mean, “he humiliated her.”

13:15 Amnon hated her exceedingly: a mnon’s lustful passion, once gratified, turned to hatred. Probably there was a measure of self-hatred as well.

13:16 The words at the end of the verse, but he would not listen to her, repeat the phrasing of v. 14.

13:17 It is difficult to translate the contempt which a mnon had for Tamar. Referring to Tamar, a mnon commanded his servant in a tone one might use to speak of dumping trash.

13:18 she had on a robe of many colors: The exact meaning of this phrase is debated; recent study suggests that it refers to a long garment with sleeves.

13:19 Tamar put ashes on her head, and tore her robe: These were traditional signs of grief and mourning among peoples of the ancient Middle east (see Job 1:20; 2:12). laid her hand on her head: This is another expression of mourning (see Jer. 2:37). Tamar had much to mourn. She had lost her virginity, shamed by her own brother, she was as good as dead—the prospect of marriage and family was ruined.

13:20 hold your peace . . . do not take this thing to heart: a bsalom’s words seem cold and heartless. apparently, he wanted to avoid a public scandal. a bsalom planned to take revenge, but wished to conceal his plan at that time. Desolate, the term used to describe Tamar as she lived in the home of her brother a bsalom, is used of ravaged cities and ruined lands (see Is. 6:11).

13:21 David was very angry over a mnon’s violation of Tamar, but did not wish to punish his son. This may have been because a mnon was David’s firstborn (3:2) and was expected to succeed him on the throne. a mnon deserved the death penalty (see Lev. 20:17).

13:23 a bsalom delayed his revenge two full years, evidently to catch a mnon off guard. a bsalom planned to murder his brother to avenge his sister’s rape and perhaps to enhance his own chances of making a bid for the throne. having carefully planned the murder of his brother, a bsalom invited the king’s sons to a sheep shearing festival at Baal Hazor, a mountain about 15 miles north of Jerusalem. Ephraim here is not the tribe but a city about two miles south of Baal hazor (see 2 Chr. 13:19; John 11:54).

13:25 David declined the invitation, offering the excuse that he did not want to be a burden on a bsalom. he blessed him: David wished a bsalom well. Given the outcome of the story, David’s memory of his blessing on a bsalom must have been a grief to him (v. 36).

13:26, 27 Why should he go with you: a bsalom’s request seems to have aroused David’s suspicions. after all, David knew about the blood feud between the two brothers (v. 22). Nevertheless, a bsalom persuaded his father to allow a mnon and the rest of the king’s sons to attend the celebration.

13:28 a bsalom’s servants planned to attack a mnon when his heart was merry with wine—that is, after the wine had dulled his senses and put him off guard. Have I not commanded you: These words indicate that a bsalom would take full responsibility for the slaying.

13:30 Absalom has killed all the king’s sons: The report that reached David was greatly exaggerated. This news must have been utterly shattering to David.

13:31 tore his garments: Tearing one’s clothes was a sign of grief and mourning (1:11; 13:19).

13:32 Jonadab, a cousin both of a mnon and Tamar, had helped a mnon plan his encounter with Tamar (v. 3). Shimeah was David’s

Donkeys and Mules

As obedient servants, donkeys stand about four feet high and are usually gray, reddish-brown, or white. The long-suffering donkey often won the affection of the household and was decorated with beads and bright ribbons, but his true role was to serve as a work animal. He trampled seed, turned the millstone to grind grain, and pulled the plow. These animals could carry great weight in spite of their small size, since they required only a fraction as much fodder as a horse, they were also more economical to own. The donkey was a safe and comfortable animal to ride. The offspring of a male donkey (jack) and female horse (mare) was a mule. The mule had the sure-footedness and endurance of the donkey, coupled with the greater size and strength of the horse. Crossbreeding like this was outlawed among the Jewish people (Lev. 19:19), but from David's time mules were imported and increasingly used by the Israelites.

side behind <sup>4</sup>him. <sup>35</sup>And Jonadab said to the king, “Look, the king’s sons are coming; as your servant said, so it is.” <sup>36</sup>So it was, as soon as he had finished speaking, that the king’s sons indeed came, and they lifted up their voice and wept. Also the king and all his servants wept very bitterly.

Absalom Returns to Jerusalem

14 So Joab the son of Zeruiah perceived that the king’s heart was concerned <sup>a</sup>about Absalom. <sup>2</sup>And Joab sent to <sup>b</sup>Tekoa and brought from there a wise woman, and said to her, “Please pretend to be a mourner, <sup>c</sup>and put on mourning apparel; do not anoint yourself with oil, but act like a woman who has been mourning a long time for the dead. <sup>3</sup>Go to the king and speak to him in this manner.” So Joab <sup>d</sup>put the words in her mouth.

<sup>4</sup>And when the woman of Tekoa <sup>1</sup>spoke to the king, she <sup>e</sup>fell on her face to the ground and prostrated herself, and said, <sup>f</sup>“Help, O king!”

And she answered, <sup>g</sup>“Indeed I am a widow, my husband is dead. <sup>6</sup>Now your the young men, the king’s sons, for only Amnon is dead. For by the command of Absalom this has been determined from the day that he forced his sister Tamar. <sup>33</sup>Now therefore, <sup>x</sup>let not my lord the king take the thing to his heart, to think that all the king’s sons are dead. For only Amnon is dead.”

older brother, the third son of Jesse (called shammah in 1 sam. 16:9; 17:13; shimea in 1 Chr. 2:13). Jonadab knew that Absalom’s treachery had been brewing ever since the violation of his sister by Amnon.

13:34 The statement Absalom fled is repeated three times (vv. 37, 38) to contrast Absalom’s flight with the return of the rest of David’s sons. The young man who was keeping watch refers to the watchman on the city walls whose job was to alert the citizens of approaching danger (see ezek. 3:17).

13:37 Talmai was Absalom’s grandfather, the father of David’s wife Maacah (3:3). He ruled as king of the territory of Geshur, northeast of the sea of Galilee. And David mourned for his son: This mourning must refer to a mnon, who had been killed. But it is somewhat ambiguous, placed in the context of Absalom’s exile. It is possible that David’s grief over the exile of Absalom was also an intense pain to him (v. 39).

13:39 As David’s grief over Amnon’s death gradually diminished, he longed to go to Absalom: apparently, David wanted to see Absalom, but thought it inappropriate in view of the circumstances, or impossible due to the distance and royal commitments.

14:1 the king’s heart: Joab’s long association with David enabled him to know the king’s thoughts. He was well aware that the king longed to be reconciled with his son, but that apart from some external prompting, he was not about to make the first move.

14:2 Tekoa, the hometown of the prophet Amos, was on the edge of the hill country, about six miles south of Bethlehem. do not anoint yourself with oil: olive oil was used in ancient times as a soothing lotion that made the skin and hair shine. Its use is associated with celebration and joy (see Ps. 104:15; 133:2).

14:3–5 Joab gave the woman the story to tell to the king. As a wise woman (v. 2), she would know how to reply to David’s responses and questions. fell on her face: The woman bowed before the king as a preliminary sign of her request for help. The same word is used for bowing before God when one comes into his presence for holy worship. my husband is dead: although she had already described herself as a widow, these words may have been added for emotional effect.

14:6 The mention of two sons must have struck a chord in David; certainly he could not have been impassive when she described the one killing the other.

maidservant had two sons; and the two fought with each other in the field, and there was no one to part them, but the one struck the other and killed him.<sup>7</sup> And now the whole family has risen up against your maidservant, and they said, ‘Deliver him who struck his brother, that we may execute him<sup>h</sup> for the life of his brother whom he killed; and we will destroy the heir also.’ So they would extinguish my ember that is left, and leave to my husband neither name nor remnant on the earth.”

<sup>8</sup> Then the king said to the woman, “Go to your house, and I will give orders concerning you.”

<sup>10</sup> So the king said, “Whoever says anything to you, bring him to me, and he shall not touch you anymore.”

<sup>11</sup> Then she said, “Please let the king remember the LORD your God, and do not permit<sup>k</sup> the avenger of blood to destroy anymore, lest they destroy my son.”

And he said, <sup>14</sup> “As the LORD lives, not one hair of your son shall fall to the ground.”

<sup>12</sup> Therefore the woman said, “Please, let your maidservant speak another word to my lord the king.”

And he said, “Say on.”

<sup>13</sup> So the woman said: “Why then have you schemed such a thing against<sup>m</sup> the people of God? For the king speaks this thing as one who is guilty, in that the king does not bring<sup>n</sup> his banished one home again. <sup>14</sup> For we<sup>o</sup> will surely die and become like water spilled on the ground, Yet God does not<sup>p</sup> take away a life; but He<sup>q</sup> devises means, so that His banished ones are not<sup>3</sup> expelled from Him. <sup>15</sup> Now therefore, I have come to speak of this thing to my lord the king because the people have made me afraid. And your maidservant said, ‘I will now speak to the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his maidservant. <sup>16</sup> For the king will hear and deliver his maidservant from the hand of the man who would destroy me and my son together from the <sup>r</sup>inheritance of God.’ <sup>17</sup> Your maidservant said, ‘The word of my lord the king will now be comforting; for<sup>s</sup> as the angel of God, so is my lord the king in <sup>t</sup>discerning good and evil. And may the LORD your God be with you.’”

<sup>18</sup> Then the king answered and said to the woman, “Please do not hide from me anything that I ask you.”

And the woman said, “Please, let my lord the king speak.”

<sup>19</sup> So the king said, “Is the hand of Joab with you in all this?” And the woman answered and said, “As you live, my lord the king, no one can turn to the right hand or to the left from anything that my lord the king has spoken. For your servant Joab commanded me, and<sup>u</sup> he put all these words in the mouth of your maidservant. <sup>20</sup> To bring about this change of affairs your servant Joab has done this thing; but my lord is wise, <sup>v</sup> according to the wisdom of the angel of God, to know everything that is in the earth.”

<sup>21</sup> And the king said to Joab, “All right, I have granted this thing. Go therefore, bring back the young man Absalom.”

14:7 that we may execute him: The punishment for murder was death. The issue seemed clear, but the consequences for the woman were intolerable. So they would extinguish my ember: The woman used a graphic picture of the extinction of her family. The demise of a family name and the end of a surviving remnant or family line were crucial matters to the Hebrew people.

14:8 David apparently wanted to put the woman off with a promise of future action. Perhaps he was seeking to avoid having to defend the guilty son who was worthy of death. Perhaps he wanted to meet with his counselors or pray to the Lord for direction.

14:9, 10 let the iniquity be on me and on my father’s house: The persistent woman expressed her willingness to bear any guilt if David would let the blood of her son go unavenged. David gave the persistent woman assurances of his protection, but was unwilling at this point to offer protection to her son.

14:11 The Hebrew phrase avenger of blood joins the term sometimes translated kinsman redeemer to the word for blood. The kinsman redeemer is the protector of family rights. Here, the protector of the family would be expected to bring vengeance on one who had taken the life of a family member. Cities of refuge had been established under Moses for protection from the blood avenger in cases where the killing was accidental (see Num. 35:9–34). In this case, the woman pressed David to the limit with respect to her son. David promised that not one hair of her son’s head would fall to the ground.

14:13 you schemed such a thing against the people of God: She accused David of doing to the nation what her enemy was trying to do to her (v. 7)—taking away the heir to the throne. his banished one: although not formally banished, Absalom was in his extended exile from Israel.

14:14 For we will surely die: The woman may be referring to a mnon (13:28–33), a mnon was dead, and no amount of punishment against a bsalom would bring him back to life. God does not take away a life: God’s will is to forgive sinners. The divine example is set in significant contrast with David, who had refused to forgive his son a bsalom.

14:15 After speaking of David’s treatment of a bsalom, the woman returned to her story about her own family. the people have made me afraid: The woman said she was afraid that she would lose her own son to the avenger of blood (v. 7).

14:16 the man who would destroy me: although the woman’s life was not in jeopardy, the death of the son would mean the extinction of her family, depriving her of a future share in the workings of God among his people.

14:17 as the angel of God: The woman suggested that the king had superhuman ability in the exercise of judgment. She used flattery and an appeal to piety to get David to act.

14:19, 20 David recognized the hand of Joab in the woman’s charge. The woman explained that Joab was simply trying to be an agent for change in the relationship between David and a bsalom.

<sup>22</sup>Then Joab fell to the ground on his face and bowed himself, and <sup>4</sup>thanked the king. And Joab said, “Today your servant knows that I have found favor in your sight, my lord, O king, in that the king has fulfilled the request of his servant.” <sup>23</sup>So Joab arose <sup>w</sup>and went to Geshur, and brought Absalom to Jerusalem. <sup>24</sup>And the king said, “Let him return to his own house, but <sup>x</sup>do not let him see my face.” So Absalom returned to his own house, but did not see the king’s face.

David Forgives Absalom

<sup>25</sup>Now in all Israel there was no one who was praised as much as Absalom for his good looks. <sup>y</sup>From the sole of his foot to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him. <sup>26</sup>And when he cut the hair of his head—at the end of every year he cut it because it was heavy on him—when he cut it, he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred shekels according to the king’s standard. <sup>27</sup><sup>z</sup>To Absalom were born three sons, and one daughter whose name was Tamar. She was a woman of beautiful appearance.

<sup>28</sup>And Absalom dwelt two full years in Jerusalem, <sup>a</sup>but did not see the king’s face. <sup>29</sup>Therefore Absalom sent for Joab, to send him to the king, but he would not come to him. And when he sent again the second time, he would not come. <sup>30</sup>So he said to his servants, “See, Joab’s field is near mine, and he has barley there; go and set it on fire.” And Absalom’s servants set the field on fire.

<sup>31</sup>Then Joab arose and came to Absalom’s house, and said to him, “Why have your servants set my field on fire?”

<sup>32</sup>And Absalom answered Joab, “Look, I sent to you, saying, ‘Come here, so that I may send you to the king, to say, “Why have I come from Geshur? It would be better for me to be there still.”’ Now therefore, let me see the king’s face; but <sup>b</sup>if there is iniquity in me, let him execute me.”

<sup>33</sup>So Joab went to the king and told him. And when he had called for Absalom, he came to the king and bowed himself on his face to the ground before the king. Then the king <sup>c</sup>kissed Absalom.

Absalom’s Treason

15 After this <sup>a</sup>it happened that Absalom <sup>b</sup>provided himself with chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him. <sup>2</sup>Now Absalom would rise early and stand beside the way to the gate. So it was, whenever anyone who had a <sup>c</sup>lawsuit<sup>1</sup> came to the king for a decision, that Absalom would call to him and say, “What city are you from?” And he would say, “Your servant is from such and such a tribe of Israel.” <sup>3</sup>Then Absalom would say to him, “Look, your <sup>2</sup>case is good and right; but there is no <sup>3</sup>deputy of the king to hear you.” <sup>4</sup>Moreover Absalom would say, <sup>d</sup>“Oh, that I were made judge in the land, and everyone who has any suit or cause would come to me; then I would give him justice.” <sup>5</sup>And so it was, whenever anyone came near to

14:22 the king has filled the request of his servant: apparently, Joab had made other attempts to bring about the reconciliation of David and a bsalom.

14:23 David’s unwillingness to go himself may reflect some reluctance to forgive his son. Geshur was northeast of the sea of Galilee. Talmi, a bsalom’s grandfather and the father of David’s wife Maacah, ruled the region (3:3; 13:37).

14:24–26 do not let him see my face: David refused to grant an immediate audience to his son because he had not forgotten a bsalom’s heinous crime. his good looks: a bsalom must have had the look of royalty. Many people must have viewed him as Israel’s next king. By his charm and personal appeal, he later was able to lead the nation in a rebellion against his father (15:1–12). The reference to a bsalom’s long hair provides the background for the account of his death (18:9). Two hundred shekels was a considerable weight, about five pounds.

14:27 In addition to three sons, a bsalom had a daughter whom he named Tamar, perhaps after his sister (13:1). apparently, a bsalom’s sons died in infancy. When he set up a pillar in Jerusalem to memorialize his name, he mentioned having no sons (18:18).

14:29 Joab’s failure to heed a bsalom’s summons seems inconsistent with his earlier effort to bring about a bsalom’s return (v. 22). Joab’s refusal to go to a bsalom no doubt contributed to a bsalom’s simmering resentment of the royal house.

14:32 Come here, so that I may send you to the king: Perhaps Joab resented being treated like a bsalom’s servant. if there is iniquity in me, let him execute me: a bsalom pleaded that his offense either be punished or completely forgiven.

14:33 the king kissed Absalom: The kiss was the symbol of their reconciliation. although David and a bsalom were reconciled, the seeds of bitterness that had been sown would soon bear the fruit of conspiracy and rebellion. David’s protracted delay in coming to terms with his son ultimately led to disaster. f for the moment, though, there was peace.

15:1–3 chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him: This royal treatment was intended to attract attention to a bsalom and to remind the people of his relationship to David as heir to the throne (1 kin. 1:5). The runners would announce the coming of his chariot. a bsalom would stand along the way leading to the royal palace, welcoming and showing interest in visitors who had come to Jerusalem to present their cases before the king. good and right: a bsalom ingratiated himself to the people. o nly those who really had a complaint would make the arduous trip to Jerusalem in the hope that they might find favor with the king. When they were told that they were right, but that the present administration would not help, their frustration was only increased. no deputy of the king to hear you: The implication of a bsalom’s remark was that David was too busy to hear the case, yet too jealous of his own authority to delegate someone to deal with the concern.

15:4 a dministration of justice, the proper relationship between people in society according to God’s standard of righteousness, was a major concern of o T rulers and prophets (8:15; 1 kin. 3:28; 10:9; Is. 1:17; a mos 5:24). a bsalom was playing on the people’s emotions when he presented himself as the answer to their need for justice, but had none to give them.

15:5, 6 When anyone approached a bsalom with a show of rever-bow down to him, that he would put out his hand and take him and <sup>e</sup>kiss him. <sup>6</sup>In this manner Absalom acted toward all Israel who came to the king for judgment. <sup>f</sup>So Absalom stole the hearts of the men of Israel.

<sup>9</sup>And the king said to him, “Go in peace.” So he arose and went to Hebron.

David Escapes from Jerusalem

<sup>19</sup>Then the king said to <sup>x</sup>Ittai the Gittite, “Why are you also going with us? Return and remain with the king. For you are a foreigner and also an exile from your own place. <sup>20</sup>In fact, you came only yesterday. Should I make you wander up and down with us today, since I go <sup>y</sup>I know not where? Return, and take your brethren back. Mercy and truth be with you.”

<sup>21</sup>But Ittai answered the king and said,

ence or respect, the prince would extend his hand, as one would with an equal. In ancient times, a kiss could serve as a greeting—a sign of friendship, affection, and loyalty (19:39). Absalom stole the hearts: Through personal charm and promises, a bsalom managed to win the affection and loyalty of the Israelites.

15:7, 8 a bsalom sought David’s permission to move to Hebron, about 20 miles south of Jerusalem, where he would have more freedom to start a rebellion. s since a bsalom was born in hebron (3:2, 3), it would probably not seem unusual to David that he would want to fulfill his vow there. Geshur in Syria was the region northeast of the sea of Galilee.

15:10 sent spies: a way from the attention of David and those loyal to him, a bsalom began to enlist conspirators and sympathizers to join him in the forthcoming revolt. The slogan Absalom reigns in Hebron purposely alluded to David’s kingship. David had been anointed king in hebron (2:1–7; 5:1–5).

15:11 a bsalom invited two hundred unsuspecting men to join him in hebron for the supposed fulfillment of his vow (vv. 7, 8). No doubt he hoped they would give their support to him when they realized what was happening.

15:12 Ahithophel was from Giloh, a city in the mountains of Judah (Josh. 15:51).

15:13 The hearts of the men of Israel: By his deceptive practices, a bsalom had gained the sympathy and support of the Israelites. one of the reasons he may have been able to do this was David’s troubling rise to power. When David’s power in Judah was confined to hebron (ch. 2), he was resented by the supporters of saul in the rest of the country. old suspicions and resentments could be stroked again by a person who knew how to use people to his own advantage—an indisputable ability in which a bsalom excelled.

15:14 Arise, and let us flee: David seems to have been taken completely by surprise. he was unprepared to thwart a bsalom’s rebellion. he fled from Jerusalem to avoid unnecessary risk of life and the tragedy of a military assault on the capital city.

15:15 The loyalty of David’s servants must have been a real encouragement in a time of such disloyalty from David’s own family.

15:17 a after leaving Jerusalem, David and the royal family stopped at the east edge of town before crossing the kidron (v. 23), to allow his royal bodyguard to pass in review before him (v. 18). The need to flee the palace was immediate. But before those with him dashed off in headlong flight, David gathered them together to take stock of matters and to plan their next move.

15:18 The Cherethites and Pelethites were elite units of David’s army. These trusted troops of David were not Israelites, but mercenaries from a variety of nations, possibly Crete and Philistia. They had been with David for years, owed him their loyalty, and would defend him and his family to the death. Gittites were either Philistine mercenary soldiers whom David had recruited during his stay in Gath (see 1 sam. 21:10–15) or David’s original followers from Gath (1 sam. 23:13).

15:19 remain with the king: David gave his foreign mercenaries the chance to leave him. a s foreigners, they were not obligated to fight in the coming civil war.

15:20 you came only yesterday: This is an obvious exaggeration, but reflects the fact that Ittai’s association with David had been brief. he did not have the long-term relationship with David that the troops mentioned in v. 18 had. Mercy and truth be with you: David used the covenantal language of the biblical faith in his blessing on Ittai.

15:21 As the Lord lives: With these words, the foreign military officer declared his abiding faith in and commitment to the God of Israel. These are words of the strongest oath, and they distinguish the true believer in various periods of Israel’s history (see 1 kin. 17:1, 12; 18:10). whether in death or life: Ittai’s words are similar to those of another foreigner who came to faith in God—Ruth of Moab (Ruth 1:16, 17). Ittai’s later appointment as commander of a third of the army (18:2) was David’s way of showing his gratitude for such loyalty.

<sup>z</sup>“As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, surely in whatever place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, even there also your servant will be.”

<sup>22</sup>So David said to Ittai, “Go, and cross over.” Then Ittai the Gittite and all his men and all the little ones who were with him crossed over. <sup>23</sup>And all the country wept with a loud voice, and all the people crossed over. The king himself also crossed over the Brook Kidron, and all the people crossed over toward the way of the <sup>a</sup>wilderness.

<sup>24</sup>There was <sup>b</sup>Zadok also, and all the Levites with him, bearing the <sup>c</sup>ark of the covenant of God. And they set down the ark of God, and <sup>d</sup>Abiathar went up until all the people had finished crossing over from the city. <sup>25</sup>Then the king said to Zadok, “Carry the ark of God back into the city. If I find favor in the eyes of the LORD, He <sup>e</sup>will bring me back and show me both it and <sup>f</sup>His dwelling place. <sup>26</sup>But if He says thus: ‘I have no <sup>g</sup>delight in you,’ here I am, <sup>h</sup>let Him do to me as seems good to Him.” <sup>27</sup>The king also said to Zadok the priest, “*Are you not a i*seer?<sup>7</sup> Return to the city in peace, and <sup>j</sup>your two sons with you, Ahimaaz your son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar. <sup>28</sup>See, <sup>k</sup>I will wait in the plains of the <sup>30</sup>So David went up by the Ascent of the Mount of Olives, and wept as he went up; and he <sup>l</sup>had his head covered and went <sup>m</sup>barefoot. <sup>32</sup>Now it happened when David had come to the top of the mountain, where he worshiped God—there was Hushai the <sup>r</sup>Archite coming to meet him <sup>s</sup>with his robe torn and dust on his head. <sup>33</sup>David said to him, “If you go on with me, then you will become <sup>t</sup>a burden to me. <sup>34</sup>But if you return to the city, and say to Absalom, <sup>u</sup>‘I will be your servant, O king; as I was your father’s servant previously, so I will now also be your servant,’ then you may defeat the counsel of Ahithophel for me. <sup>35</sup>And do you not have Zadok and Abiathar the priests with you there? 15:23 The Brook Kidron is a small stream that flows through the valley separating Jerusalem and the Mount of Olives during the rainy season (October through March). The way of the wilderness refers to the road leading through the wilderness of Judah to Jericho and down to the fords of the Jordan River.

15:24–26 Zadok and Abiathar were the main priests functioning during David’s reign. They were loyal to David. They wanted to bring the ark, which David had brought to Jerusalem with a great celebration (ch. 6), back into the city. It was David who was going into exile, not the Lord; the symbol of God’s presence with his people would remain in the place of worship for the entire community. He will bring me back: David committed the entire situation to the sovereign care and will of God. Contrast David’s submission to the Lord’s will to a bsalom’s deceitful words (v. 8). His dwelling place refers to the tabernacle that had been set up for the ark (7:6).

15:27 Are you not a seer: a prophet could come from any tribe, even from among the sons of aaron. Thus a priest could also be a prophet of the Lord (see Zech. 1:1). David wanted the priests to remain in Jerusalem to minister in the tabernacle and intercede before God for him. Perhaps God would grant them a message that they could relay to him.

15:28 The plains of the wilderness refers to the Jordan valley near Jericho. until word comes from you to inform me: as vv. 35, 36 further explain, Zadok and a biathar were to remain in Jerusalem to gather information for David. They could return a message from the Lord as well as news from the enemy camp.

15:30 head covered . . . barefoot: These were outward signs of mourning (see Jer. 14:3; ezeq. 24:17). The Mount of Olives was located east of Jerusalem.

15:31 Ahithophel was Bathsheba’s grandfather (11:3). a wise counselor (16:23), he had been in David’s service (v. 12) but had switched his allegiance to a bsalom. David prayed for his enemy to be confused. The name a hithophel may mean “Brother of folly.” If so, it may have been a name given to him later on account of his defection from David.

15:32–34 where he worshiped God: Prior to the building of the Jerusalem temple, there was apparently a place of worship located on the Mount of Olives. Hushai proved to be a loyal friend of David (15:37; 16:16). Archite was the name of a family living on the southern boundary of ephraim, between Bethel and a taroth (see Josh. 16:2). hushai’s torn robe and the dust on his head were signs of grief (1:11; 13:19). Rather than joining David’s followers, hushai was directed to return to Jerusalem to thwart the counsel that a hithophel would be giving to a bsalom.

15:35, 36 hushai was given a key role in relaying information about the enemy to David through Zadok and Abiathar and their sons, Ahimaaz and Jonathan.

ark

(heb. aron) (6:2; 15:24; ex. 25:10; 1 sam. 4:3) strong’s #727

This hebrew word can be translated chest (2 kin. 12:9) or sarcophagus (Gen. 50:26), but usually appears in the phrase ‘aron haberith, which means “ark of the covenant.” The ark was a wooden chest overlaid with gold (ex. 25:10–22), housing the Ten Commandments (ex. 40:20), a aron’s staff, and a pot of manna (heb. 9:4). It sat in the Most Holy Place as a reminder of Israel’s covenant with God and his presence among them. When the Israelites became careless with the ark (1 sam. 4:1–11), God allowed it to be captured in order to demonstrate that his covenant relationship with them transcended symbols and superstitions. What he required was continual obedience to his covenant and a contrite heart surrendered to him (Ps. 51:17; Is. 57:15).

deed they have there <sup>w</sup>with them their two sons, Ahimaaz, Zadok's son, and Jonathan, Abiathar's son; and by them you shall send me everything you hear."

Mephibosheth's Servant

16 When<sup>a</sup> David was a little past the top of the mountain, there was <sup>b</sup>Ziba the servant of Mephibosheth, who met him with a couple of saddled donkeys, and on them two hundred loaves of bread, one hundred clusters of raisins, one hundred summer fruits, and a skin of wine. <sup>2</sup>And the king said to Ziba, "What do you mean to do with these?"

So Ziba said, "The donkeys are for the king's household to ride on, the bread and summer fruit for the young men to eat, and the wine for <sup>c</sup>those who are faint in the wilderness to drink."

<sup>3</sup>Then the king said, "And where is your <sup>d</sup>master's son?"

<sup>e</sup>And Ziba said to the king, "Indeed he is staying in Jerusalem, for he said, 'Today the house of Israel will restore the kingdom of my father to me.'"

<sup>4</sup>So the king said to Ziba, "Here, all that belongs to Mephibosheth is yours."

And Ziba said, "I humbly bow before you, that I may find favor in your sight, my lord, O king!"

the house of Saul, whose name was <sup>g</sup>Shimei the son of Gera, coming from there. He came out, cursing continuously as he came. <sup>6</sup>And he threw stones at David and at all the servants of King David. And all the people and all the mighty men were on his right hand and on his left. <sup>7</sup>Also Shimei said thus when he cursed: "Come out! Come out! You <sup>h</sup>bloodthirsty man, <sup>h</sup>you <sup>2</sup>rogue! <sup>8</sup>The LORD has <sup>i</sup>brought upon you all <sup>j</sup>the blood of the house of Saul, in whose place you have reigned; and the LORD has delivered the kingdom into the hand of Absalom your son. So now you are caught in your own evil, because you are a <sup>3</sup>bloodthirsty man!"

<sup>9</sup>Then Abishai the son of Zeruiah said to the king, "Why should this <sup>k</sup>dead dog <sup>l</sup>curse my lord the king? Please, let me go over and take off his head!"

<sup>10</sup>But the king said, <sup>m</sup>"What have I to do with you, you sons of Zeruiah? So let him curse, because <sup>n</sup>the LORD has said to him, 'Curse David.' <sup>o</sup>Who then shall say, 'Why have you done so?'"

<sup>11</sup>And David said to Abishai and all his servants, "See how <sup>p</sup>my son who <sup>q</sup>came from my own body seeks my life. How much more now <sup>r</sup>may this Benjaminite? Let him alone, and let him curse; for so the LORD has ordered him. <sup>12</sup>It may be that the LORD will look on <sup>4</sup>my affliction, and that the LORD will <sup>r</sup>repay me with <sup>s</sup>good for his cursing this day." <sup>13</sup>And as David and his men went along the road, Shimei went along the hillside opposite him and cursed as he went, threw stones at him and <sup>5</sup>kicked up dust. <sup>14</sup>Now the king

15:37 The word friend can mean a counselor or an advisor (see 1 kin. 4:5).

16:1 Ziba, a long-time servant of both saul and Mephibosheth, assisted David and his party with provisions for their initial flight. Summer fruits probably refers to fresh figs (see Mic. 7:1) or fig cakes (see 1 sam. 25:18). skin of wine: In ancient times, wine was carried in animal-skin containers. The skin expanded with the liquid when it fermented (see Matt. 9:17).

16:3 Your master's son is a reference to Mephibosheth. Ziba had been in the service of Jonathan, father of Mephibosheth (9:2, 9). Today the house of Israel will restore the kingdom of my father to me: according to Ziba, Mephibosheth was staying in Jerusalem in hopes that a bsalom's rebellion would result in his elevation to the throne. even though David had shown special concern for Mephibosheth (ch. 9), the latter may have had some thoughts that this might be the time to advance the cause of the dynasty of saul. 16:5 Bahurim was near Jerusalem, east of the Mount of o lives (3:16). Shimei the son of Gera was a distant relative of saul (see 19:16-23; 1 kin. 2:8, 9, 36-46). cursing continuously: These were not simple insults or merely the words of someone with a foul mouth. shimei was asking God to destroy David (see Num. 22:6).

16:6 threw stones: Throwing stones is a gesture of contempt, as if the fleeing king were merely a stray dog. stones can also be dangerous weapons, as is shown by the fact that stoning was a normal means of capital punishment among the hebrews (see also 1 kin. 21:13). All the mighty men refers to David's royal troops and bodyguards (17:8).

16:7, 8 Come out might be rephrased, "Go out" (into banishment and exile) or "Begone!" You bloodthirsty man: David was a man of war, and he was guilty of killing uringiah (11:14-27). But shimei blamed the demise of saul's family on David (v. 5)—an unjust charge (ch. 1). You rogue, literally "man of Belial," is an epithet against David that means worthless or useless. The blood of the house of Saul may refer to the murders of Ishbosheth and a bner, although David was completely innocent of their deaths (3:22-4:12).

16:9 Abishai was a nephew of David, the son of David's sister Zeruiah (1 Chr. 2:16). he was consistently devoted to David (19:21, 22; 1 sam. 26:8). In the ancient Middle east, a dead dog was something utterly contemptible (3:8).

16:10 What have I to do with you: This idiom means that David did not share the feelings and views of a bishai. sons of Zeruiah: a apparently David considered that Joab, also a son of Zeruiah (1 Chr. 2:16), would share a bishai's willingness to kill shimei. the LORD has said to him, 'Curse David': David might have remembered God's promise "to raise up adversity" for his sin with Bathsheba (12:11) and took shimei's cursing as part of this discipline.

16:11 David argued that if his own son showed him no loyalty, there was no reason to expect respect from the Benjaminite, that is, a person from the tribe of saul.

16:12 the LORD will repay me with good: David hoped that the Lord would look upon his repentant heart and render a blessing to compensate for shimei's curse.

and all the people who were with him became weary; so they refreshed themselves there.

The Advice of Ahithophel

<sup>15</sup>Meanwhile <sup>t</sup>Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, came to Jerusalem; and Ahithophel was with him. <sup>16</sup>And so it was, when Hushai the Archite, <sup>u</sup>David's friend, came to Absalom, that <sup>v</sup>Hushai said to Absalom, "Long live the king! Long live the king!"

<sup>17</sup>So Absalom said to Hushai, "Is this your loyalty to your friend? <sup>w</sup>Why did you not go with your friend?"

<sup>18</sup>And Hushai said to Absalom, "No, but whom the Lord and this people and all the men of Israel choose, his I will be, and with him I will remain. <sup>19</sup>Furthermore, <sup>x</sup>whom should I serve? Should I not serve in the presence of his son? As I have served in your father's presence, so will I be in your presence."

<sup>20</sup>Then Absalom said to <sup>y</sup>Ahithophel, "Give advice as to what we should do."

<sup>21</sup>And Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Go in to your father's <sup>z</sup>concubines, whom he has left to keep the house; and all Israel will hear that you <sup>a</sup>are abhorred by your father. Then <sup>b</sup>the hands of all who are with you will be strong." <sup>22</sup>So they pitched a tent for Absalom on the top of the house, and Absalom went in to his father's concubines <sup>c</sup>in the sight of all Israel.

<sup>23</sup>Now the advice of Ahithophel, which he gave in those days, was as if one had inquired at the oracle of God. So was all the advice of Ahithophel <sup>d</sup>both with David and with Absalom.

17 Moreover Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Now let me choose twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue David tonight. <sup>21</sup>I will come upon him while he is <sup>a</sup>weary and weak, and make him <sup>1</sup>afraid. And all the peo-

16:15 Ahithophel, David's former counselor (15:12), had switched his allegiance to a bsalom (15:31). In this context, the men of Israel refers to a bsalom's followers.

16:16–18 Long live the king: hushai deceptively professed loyalty to a bsalom. In fact, these words could easily have applied to David for he was still the divinely sanctioned king. By using his words carefully, hushai was able to lead his hearers to think he was praising a bsalom, when in fact he was shouting for David. your friend: a bsalom apparently was referring to hushai's title, "David's friend" (15:37). whom the Lord: With these well-planned words, hushai professed allegiance to whomever the Lord would choose as king. his I will be: hushai's real allegiance was with David, who he knew was God's chosen one.

16:19 in the presence of his son: hushai wished to imply that his allegiance to a bsalom was the natural outgrowth of his loyalty to David. It was appropriate for a son to succeed his father, and for supporters of the dynasty to give their allegiance to the new king.

16:22 Concubines were unofficial wives. In ancient times, taking over a king's harem was a recognized means of claiming the throne.

When a hithophel advised a bsalom to have sexual relations with David's concubines, he knew that this would finalize the breach between a bsalom and David. It was an irrevocable action. The tent that a bsalom pitched in the sight of all Israel was probably a bridal tent. a bsalom made the people of Israel fully aware that he was engaging in sexual relations with his father's concubines. Putting the tent on the roof of the palace was an insolent act that was guaranteed to stir the populace one way or another.

16:23 at the oracle of God: a hithophel had acquired such a reputation that his counsel was taken to be equivalent to a word from the Lord. he was not a prophet, but his words were received as if they were prophetic.

17:1, 2 a hithophel realized that the fleeing king was in a vulnerable situation. he counseled a bsalom to pursue and kill David and his followers in order to eliminate any chance that David would regain the throne. The twelve thousand men that he asked for would likely have had an easy time defeating the weary troops of David.

I will strike only the king: Despite his celebrated wisdom, a hithophel underestimated the loyalty of David's crack troops. a hithophel

David's Reverses

- Bathsheba became pregnant (11:5).
- David and Bathsheba's child died (12:18).
- Amnon seduced Tamar (13:14).
- Absalom murdered Amnon (13:29).
- Absalom usurped the throne (16:15).
- A plague ravaged the Israelites (24:15).

ple who are with him will flee, and I will <sup>b</sup>strike only the king. <sup>3</sup>Then I will bring back all the people to you. When all return except the man whom you seek, all the people will be at peace.” <sup>4</sup>And the saying pleased Absalom and all the <sup>c</sup>elders of Israel.

The Advice of Hushai

<sup>5</sup>Then Absalom said, “Now call Hushai the Archite also, and let us hear what he <sup>d</sup>says too.” <sup>6</sup>And when Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom spoke to him, saying, “Ahithophel has spoken in this manner. Shall we do as he says? If not, speak up.”

<sup>7</sup>So Hushai said to Absalom: “The advice that Ahithophel has given is not good at this time. <sup>8</sup>For,” said Hushai, “you know your father and his men, that they are mighty men, and they are enraged in their minds, like <sup>e</sup>a bear robbed of her cubs in the field; and your father is a man of war, and will not camp with the people. <sup>9</sup>Surely by now he is hidden in some pit, or in some other place. And it will be, when some of them are overthrown at the first, that whoever hears it will say, ‘There is a slaughter among the people who follow Absalom.’ <sup>10</sup>And even he who is valiant, whose heart is like the heart of a lion, will <sup>f</sup>melt completely. For all Israel knows that your father is a mighty man, and those who are with him are valiant men. <sup>11</sup>Therefore I advise that all Israel be fully gathered to you, <sup>g</sup>from Dan to Beersheba, <sup>h</sup>like the sand that is by the sea for multitude, and that you go to battle in person. <sup>12</sup>So we will come upon him in some place where he may be found, and we will fall on him as the dew falls on the ground. And of him and all the men who are with him there shall not be left so much as one. <sup>13</sup>Moreover, if he has withdrawn into a city, then all Israel shall bring ropes to that city; and we will <sup>i</sup>pull it into the river, until there is not one small stone found there.”

<sup>14</sup>So Absalom and all the men of Israel said, “The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than the advice of Ahithophel.” For <sup>j</sup>the LORD had purposed to defeat the good advice of Ahithophel, to the intent that the LORD might bring disaster on Absalom.

Hushai Warns David to Escape

<sup>15</sup><sup>k</sup>Then Hushai said to Zadok and Abiathar the priests, “Thus and so Ahithophel advised Absalom and the elders of Israel, and thus and so I have advised. <sup>16</sup>Now therefore, send quickly and tell David, saying, ‘Do not spend this night <sup>l</sup>in the plains of the wilderness, but speedily cross over, lest the king and all the people who are with him be swallowed up.’” <sup>17</sup><sup>m</sup>Now Jonathan and might have been able to defeat David in a surprise raid, but David’s loyal warriors would not have scattered.

17:3 I will bring back all the people: a hithophel tried to persuade a bsalom that if he killed only David, the people would align themselves with a bsalom, and peace would be restored in the land.

17:5 a though a bsalom was pleased with a hithophel’s counsel (v. 4), he did not accept it immediately. he summoned Hushai (16:16) to get a second opinion on the matter.

17:7 Hushai, David’s confidant, set about to frustrate a hithophel’s wise counsel. he realized that the plan proposed by a hithophel would prove fatal for David. The words at this time leave room for an appreciation of a hithophel’s past counsel and might have been intended to deter suspicion over his critical evaluation.

17:8 Mighty men are heroic fighting men. like a bear robbed of her cubs: hushai used a strong simile to depict the ferocity of David and his men. There is no more dangerous foe in the woods than a mother bear who believes her cubs to be in danger. will not camp with the people: hushai suggested that David, as an experienced warrior, would not camp with the civilian refugees. he would know that doing so would leave him vulnerable to attack and capture.

17:9 hidden in some pit: The countryside of Judah was riddled with caves, ravines, and hiding places. a slaughter: hushai suggested that David could not be taken without some loss of life, and this would give rise to the rumor that a bsalom was suffering a severe defeat.

17:10 Valiant means well-trained and able to fight. will melt completely: hushai suggested that even the bravest of a bsalom’s soldiers would yield to panic when facing David and his veterans.

17:11, 12 all Israel: hushai advised that a bsalom was going to need a larger army than he presently had, and that a bsalom himself should lead the force into battle. Dan to Beersheba means the whole country, from Dan in the north to Beersheba in the south, a distance of about 150 miles. like the sand: hushai used this figure of speech to describe the army that would be needed to destroy David’s forces. hushai knew it would take time to gather so many men, and that time was what David needed the most. in some place: The implication of this remark is that a bsalom did not know where David was hiding.

17:13 The river means any river, not necessarily the Jordan.

17:15 Zadok and Abiathar the priests had stayed in Jerusalem at David’s request (15:24–29). David had arranged for them to gather information about a bsalom’s activities and forward it to him through their sons (15:35, 36).

17:16 The plains of the wilderness means the Jordan valley in the vicinity of Jericho (15:28). hushai told David to cross the Jordan since he could not be sure that a bsalom would act on his counsel.

17:17, 18 Jonathan and Ahimaaz were the sons of a biathar and ### advice

(heb. ’etsah) (17:7; Job 38:2; Ps. 1:1; Prov. 8:14) strong’s #6098

This hebrew term has two primary meanings: “counsel” and “plan.” Both senses are used of God (Jer. 32:19; Is. 5:19) and man (2 kin. 18:20; Prov. 20:5). While the counsel of the Lord stands forever, he brings the counsel of the nations to nothing (Ps. 33:10, 11; Prov. 21:30). one of the psalmists prayed to be guided by God’s counsel, a prayer not made by the rebellious people of isaiah’s day (Ps. 73:24; Is. 30:1). The hebrew kings typically sought counsel from advisors who were old, experienced, and wise; however, Rehoboam tragically sought out the counsel of his peers (1 kin. 12:8, 13; ezeq. 7:26). solomon describes those who heed counsel as being wise (Prov. 12:15; 19:20), and the psalmists proclaimed their reliance on God’s counsel (Ps. 16:7; 73:24).

Ahimaaz <sup>n</sup> stayed at <sup>o</sup> En Rogel, for they dared not be seen coming into the city; so a female servant would come and tell them, and they would go and tell King David. <sup>18</sup> Nevertheless a lad saw them, and told Absalom. But both of them went away quickly and came to a man's house <sup>p</sup> in Bahurim, who had a well in his court; and they went down into it. <sup>19</sup> <sup>q</sup> Then the woman took and spread a covering over the well's mouth, and spread ground grain on it; and the thing was not known. <sup>20</sup> And when Absalom's servants came to the woman at the house, they said, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?"

So <sup>r</sup> the woman said to them, "They have gone over the water brook."

And when they had searched and could not find them, they returned to Jerusalem. <sup>21</sup> Now it came to pass, after they had departed, that they came up out of the well and went and told King David, and said to David, <sup>s</sup> "Arise and cross over the water quickly. For thus has Ahithophel advised against you." <sup>22</sup> So David and all the people who were with him arose and crossed over the Jordan. By morning light not one of them was left who had not gone over the Jordan.

Absalom's Defeat and Death

Zadok. En Rogel was a spring or well south of Jerusalem at the junction of the hinnoom and kidron valleys (Josh. 15:7; 18:16). a female servant: The young men would arouse suspicion by coming into the city, so a woman servant served as an intermediary. a lad saw them: The efforts of Jonathan and Ahimaaz to avoid detection were unsuccessful. Bahurim was on the east side of the Mount of Olives (16:5). The word translated well may also refer to a pit or cistern. Apparently, there was no water in it at this time.

17:22 Although the Jordan was not a large river, crossing it could be dangerous, even at the fords. David was safer once he got his family and followers across that barrier. There is a certain sadness in what David had to do. While the tribal allotments of ancient Israel included land on both sides of the Jordan, there was always an emotional understanding that the "real" land of Israel was west of the Jordan. David was truly in exile. Later, his enemies would charge him with having "fled from the land" (19:9).

17:23 Ahithophel committed suicide when he learned that his advice was not being followed. He apparently realized that Absalom's cause was doomed, and that when David returned he would be put to death as a disloyal subject.

17:24 Mahanaim was formerly Ishbosheth's capital (2:8). It was east of the Jordan and north of the Jabbok.

17:25 Absalom put his army under the command of Amasa, since Joab had remained loyal to David. who had gone in to Abigail: This is not the usual phrase for marriage, perhaps indicating that a bigamist did not leave her father's authority completely.

17:26 Gilead refers to the mountainous region east of the Jordan and between the Yarmuk valley to the north and the Jabbok valley to the south. Gilead was famous in biblical times for its forests (Jer. 22:6), pasture lands (Num. 32:1-4), and the medicinal balms made from its plants (Jer. 8:22; 46:11).

17:27 When David arrived in the fortified city of Mahanaim, he found a gracious reception. Shobi was a vassal king under David who ruled Rabbah, the capital of Ammon. Lo Debar was about ten miles south of the sea of Galilee, east of the Jordan River in the Jordan valley (9:4). Barzillai was an old man of great wealth (19:31-39; 1 kin. 2:7).

17:29 The rulers showed compassion to David and his weary followers. Jesus taught that kindness done to others in need would not be forgotten (Matt. 25:34-36).

18:1 To prepare for battle, David counted and reviewed his fighting forces. captains of thousands: although only a small contingent of troops left Jerusalem with David, other loyal followers soon rallied to his cause.

18:2 David divided his men into three companies—a frequent military tactic in ancient times (see Judg. 7:16; 1 sam. 11:11). Abishai, the oldest son of David's sister Zeruiah (1 Chr. 2:16), was noted for his brave but impetuous spirit (3:30; 16:9; 1 sam. 26:6-9). Joab, the younger brother of a bishai, had become commander of David's army as a result of his heroic leadership in the capture of Jerusalem (1 Chr. 11:4-6). Little is known of Ittai except that he was strongly committed to serving David and the Lord (15:19-22).

18:3 You shall not go out: Although David wanted to accompany his men into battle (v. 2), he was persuaded not to go, both for his own protection and for the safety of Mahanaim (17:27).

not go out! For if we flee away, they will not care about us; nor if half of us die, will they care about us. But you are worth ten thousand of us now. For you are now more help to us in the city.”

<sup>4</sup>Then the king said to them, “Whatever seems best to you I will do.” So the king stood beside the gate, and all the people went out by hundreds and by thousands. <sup>5</sup>Now the king had commanded Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, saying, “Deal gently for my sake with the young man Absalom.” <sup>6</sup>And all the people heard when the king gave all the captains orders concerning Absalom.

<sup>6</sup>So the people went out into the field of battle against Israel. And the battle was in the <sup>f</sup>woods of Ephraim. <sup>7</sup>The people of Israel were overthrown there before the servants of David, and a great slaughter of twenty thousand took place there that day. <sup>8</sup>For the battle there was scattered over the face of the whole countryside, and the woods devoured more people that day than the sword devoured.

<sup>9</sup>Then Absalom met the servants of David. Absalom rode on a mule. The mule went under the thick boughs of a great terebinth tree, and <sup>9</sup>his head caught in the terebinth; so he was left hanging between heaven and earth. And the mule which was under him went on. <sup>10</sup>Now a certain man saw it and told Joab, and said, “I just saw Absalom hanging in a terebinth tree!”

<sup>11</sup>So Joab said to the man who told him, “You just saw him! And why did you not strike him there to the ground? I would have given you ten shekels of silver and a belt.”

<sup>12</sup>But the man said to Joab, “Though I were to receive a thousand shekels of silver in my hand, I would not raise my hand against the king’s son. <sup>h</sup>For in our hearing the king commanded you and Abishai and Ittai, saying, <sup>2</sup>“Beware lest anyone touch the young man Absalom!” <sup>13</sup>Otherwise I would have dealt falsely against my own life. For there is nothing hidden from the king, and you yourself would have set yourself against me.”

<sup>14</sup>Then Joab said, “I cannot linger with you.” And he took three spears in his hand and thrust them through Absalom’s heart, while he was still alive in the midst of the terebinth tree. <sup>15</sup>And ten young men who bore Joab’s armor surrounded Absalom, and struck and killed him.

<sup>16</sup>So Joab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing Israel. For Joab held back the people. <sup>17</sup>And they took Absalom and cast him into a large pit in the woods, and <sup>i</sup>laid a very large heap of stones over him. Then all Israel <sup>j</sup>fled, everyone to his tent.

<sup>18</sup>Now Absalom in his lifetime had taken and set up a <sup>3</sup>pillar for himself, which is in <sup>k</sup>the King’s Valley. For he said, <sup>l</sup>“I have no son to keep my name in remembrance.” He called the pillar after his own name. And to this day it is called Absalom’s Monument.

David Hears of Absalom’s Death

<sup>19</sup>Then <sup>m</sup>Ahimaaz the son of Zadok said, “Let me run now and take the news to the king, how the LORD has <sup>4</sup>avenged him of his enemies.”

<sup>20</sup>And Joab said to him, “You shall not take the news this day, for you shall take the news another day. But today you shall take no news, because the king’s son is dead.” <sup>21</sup>Then Joab said to the Cushite, “Go, tell the king what you have seen.” So the Cushite bowed himself to Joab and ran.

<sup>22</sup>And Ahimaaz the son of Zadok said again to Joab, “But <sup>5</sup>whatever happens, please let me also run after the Cushite.”

18:6 the woods of Ephraim: The battle took place in a dense forest north of the Jabbok River, east of the Jordan.

18:7, 8 a bsalom’s newly organized army, the people of Israel, were no match for the experienced soldiers of David. the woods devoured: Because of the rugged nature of the terrain and dense growth in the forest, more deaths resulted from the pursuit than from actual combat.

18:9 the terebinth, sometimes translated oak or elm, was a strong tree, native to the land of Israel. It grows to a height of around 35 feet.

18:11 ten shekels: The shekel was the basic unit of weight, equal to 11.3 grams or about a half ounce. The belt was part of a soldier’s equipment (1 sam. 18:4; 1 kin. 2:5).

18:12–14 against the king’s son: The soldier had not forgotten David’s command not to harm Absalom (v. 5), since the spears did not kill a bsalom immediately (v. 15), the word translated heart may refer to a bsalom’s trunk.

18:16 Joab blew the trumpet to signal the army to stop its pursuit. The death of a bsalom meant the end of the rebellion. The trumpet was a ram’s horn or shofar (2:28; 6:15).

18:17 Rather than returning a bsalom’s body to Jerusalem for honorable burial, Joab had it buried in a large pit in the forest. The heap of stones that covered the grave may have been symbolic of a stoning, the legal penalty due a rebel son (Deut. 21:20, 21).

18:18 The King’s Valley was near Jerusalem (Gen. 14:17). to this day: The great monument that absalom had erected for himself was still in existence when the narrator wrote this section of 2 samuel.

18:19 Ahimaaz with Jonathan had carried the message from Zadok and a biathar, urging David to flee across the Jordan (17:20, 21). The word avenged is used here in the sense of “delivered.”

18:21–23 Cushite means someone of the land from Cush, the remote region of what is today southern egypt and sudan. let me also run: a himaaz could not be restrained from also running to David with the good news of victory. The plain was the floor of the Jordan valley. a himaaz took a longer route, but avoided the hilly terrain on the road taken by the Cushite.

So Joab said, “Why will you run, my son, since you have no news ready?”

<sup>23</sup> “But whatever happens,” he said, “let me run.”

So he said to him, “Run.” Then Ahimaaz ran by way of the plain, and outran the Cushite.

<sup>24</sup> Now David was sitting between the <sup>n</sup> two gates. And the watchman went up to the roof over the gate, to the wall, lifted his eyes and looked, and there was a man, running alone. <sup>25</sup> Then the watchman cried out and told the king. And the king said, “If he is alone, there is news in his mouth.” And he came rapidly and drew near.

<sup>26</sup> Then the watchman saw another man running, and the watchman called to the gatekeeper and said, “There is another man, running alone!”

And the king said, “He also brings news.”

<sup>27</sup> So the watchman said, <sup>6</sup> “I think the running of the first is like the running of Ahimaaz the son of Zadok.”

And the king said, “He is a good man, and comes with <sup>o</sup> good news.”

<sup>28</sup> So Ahimaaz called out and said to the king, <sup>7</sup> “All is well!” Then he bowed down with his face to the earth before the king, and said, <sup>p</sup> “Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delivered up the men who raised their hand against my lord the king!”

Ahimaaz answered, “When Joab sent the king’s servant and me your servant, I saw a great tumult, but I did not know what it was about.”

<sup>30</sup> And the king said, “Turn aside and stand here.” So he turned aside and stood still.

<sup>31</sup> Just then the Cushite came, and the Cushite said, “There is good news, my lord the king! For the LORD has avenged you this day of all those who rose against you.”

<sup>32</sup> And the king said to the Cushite, “Is the young man Absalom safe?”

So the Cushite answered, “May the enemies of my lord the king, and all who rise against you to do harm, be like that young man!”

David’s Mourning for Absalom

<sup>33</sup> Then the king was deeply moved, and went up to the chamber over the gate, and wept. And as he went, he said thus: <sup>4</sup> “O my son Absalom—my son, my son Absalom—if only I had died in your place! O Absalom my son, <sup>r</sup> my son!”

19 And Joab was told, “Behold, the king is weeping and <sup>a</sup> mourning for Absalom.” <sup>2</sup> So the victory that day was <sup>turned</sup> into <sup>b</sup> mourning for all the people. For the people heard it said that day, “The king is grieved for his son.”

<sup>5</sup> Then <sup>f</sup> Joab came into the house to the king, and said, “Today you have disgraced all your servants who today have saved your life, the lives of your sons and daughters, the lives of your wives and the lives of your concubines, <sup>6</sup> in that you love your enemies and hate your friends. For you have declared today that you <sup>2</sup> regard neither princes nor servants; for today I perceive that if Absalom had lived and all of us had died today, then it would have pleased you well. <sup>7</sup> Now therefore,

18:24 two gates: The city of Mahanaim evidently had a double gate. Between the outer and inner gates there were probably stone benches. The roof over the gate refers to the gatehouse or fortress located on the wall over the city gate. The watchman at the gate was responsible to warn the city of an approaching army and to announce the arrival of important visitors. Lifted his eyes is a common Hebrew idiom that means “looked” (Gen. 22:4).

18:25, 26 If he is alone: The fact that only one runner was approaching led David to assume that the news was good. Perhaps he assumed that a group of men running toward the gate would have indicated a rout. Yet the approach of another man complicated the picture.

18:28 All is well: The messenger’s greeting was shalom, the word usually translated peace. your God: Ahimaaz recognized God’s strong association with David.

18:29 Is the young man Absalom safe: David expressed his first concern, his interest in the welfare of his son. Ahimaaz did not give a straight answer to David, though he knew that Absalom was dead (v. 20).

18:31, 32 the LORD has avenged: Like Ahimaaz (v. 28), the Cushite gave God credit for delivering David. Furthermore he gave an honest answer to David’s question about Absalom, although his words were carefully worded so as to soften the blow.

18:33 Was deeply moved can mean “quaked” or “quivered.” David was overcome with sorrow.

19:2, 3 the victory that day was turned into mourning: David’s unrestrained expression of grief over the death of his son turned the well-deserved victory celebration into a day of mourning, not so much for Absalom himself, but for the grief brought upon David by his death (18:33). the people stole back into the city: What a description for the return of victorious warriors! Like cowards who had fled from battle, David’s soldiers crept back into the city of Mahanaim (17:27), hoping to escape notice.

19:4 David covered his face as an expression of mourning (15:30). my son: his words, which were so touching when first announced (18:33), take on a grating sound when repeated many times.

19:5, 6 you have disgraced all your servants: Joab argued that by honoring his rebel son and neglecting his loyal soldiers, David had shamed and embarrassed those who had served him well. Your enemies: literally “those who hate you.” Your friends: literally “those who love you.” Princes refers to the captains of the army.

19:7 Speak comfort may be rephrased “speak to the heart.” David arise, go out and speak <sup>3</sup>comfort to your servants. For I swear by the LORD, if you do not go out, not one will stay with you this night. And that will be worse for you than all the evil that has befallen you from your youth until now.” <sup>8</sup>Then the king arose and sat in the <sup>g</sup>gate. And they told all the people, saying, “There is the king, sitting in the gate.” So all the people came before the king.

For everyone of Israel had <sup>h</sup>fled to his tent.

David Returns to Jerusalem

<sup>9</sup>Now all the people were in a dispute throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, “The king saved us from the hand of our <sup>i</sup>enemies, he delivered us from the hand of the <sup>j</sup>Philistines, and now he has <sup>h</sup>fled from the land because of Absalom. <sup>10</sup>But Absalom, whom we anointed over us, has died in battle. Now therefore, why do you say nothing about bringing back the king?”

<sup>11</sup>So King David sent to <sup>l</sup>Zadok and Abiathar the priests, saying, “Speak to the elders of Judah, saying, ‘Why are you the last to bring the king back to his house, since the words of all Israel have come to the king, to his <sup>very</sup> house? <sup>12</sup>You are my brethren, you are <sup>m</sup>my bone and my flesh. Why then are you the last to bring back the king?’ <sup>13</sup>” And say to Amasa, ‘Are you not my bone and my flesh? <sup>o</sup>God do so to me, and more also, if you are not commander of the army before me <sup>4</sup>continually in place of Joab.’”

<sup>14</sup>So he swayed the hearts of all the men of Judah, <sup>p</sup>just as the heart of one man, so that they sent this word to the king: “Return, you and all your servants!”

David’s Mercy to Shimei

Now Shimei the son of Gera fell down before the king when he had crossed the Jordan. <sup>19</sup>Then he said to the king, <sup>v</sup>“Do not let my lord <sup>5</sup>impute iniquity to me, or remember what <sup>w</sup>wrong your servant did on the day that my lord the king left Jerusalem, that the king should <sup>x</sup>take it to heart. <sup>20</sup>For I, your servant, know that I have sinned. Therefore here I am, the first to come today of all <sup>y</sup>the house of Joseph to go down to meet my lord the king.”

would have to speak words of encouragement if he expected his troops to continue their support of his kingship.

19:8 The gate was the primary meeting place in ancient cities. So all the people came before the king: although not directly stated, the context implies that David followed Joab’s counsel by expressing appreciation to his loyal troops and faithful followers. For everyone of Israel had fled to his tent: This parenthetical note indicates that the rebellion ended and a bsalom’s followers returned home.

19:9, 10 The movement to restore David to power was not unanimous. some Israelites thought that because he had fled from the land, David lost his right to rule. There may also have been some fear that David would avenge himself on those who had supported a bsalom.

19:11 Zadok and Abiathar were priests who had remained in Jerusalem at David’s request during the rebellion (15:24–29). The elders of Judah were reluctant to call David back to Jerusalem, perhaps because of their part in a bsalom’s insurrection (15:10, 11). David asked his friends, the priests, to begin the movement to invite David back to his throne. apparently, he did not want to come into Jerusalem without public support for his rule.

19:12 My brethren refers to the elders of Judah (v. 11). David knew that he needed the support of his own tribe and its leaders to resume his leadership over the nation. Without their full support there was no hope for the renewal of his kingship.

19:13 Amasa, David’s nephew, had commanded the army of a bsalom (17:25). David offered him Joab’s position as commander-in-chief of David’s army. This offer was intended to secure the allegiance of a masa and the rebel army, as well as to discipline Joab for killing a bsalom against his orders (18:14, 15).

19:14 David’s acts of diplomacy were effective; he was invited to return as king. The fact that David was the anointed of the Lord meant that God would ensure that David would be restored. But David could not simply wait in exile in a foreign land. he had to act on the belief that God would continue to work h is will.

19:15 Gilgal, the first place the Israelites camped after they crossed the Jordan (Josh. 4:19, 20), was about a mile from Jericho.

19:16 Shimei, who had cursed David when he was forced to leave Jerusalem, no doubt feared that David would punish him for this outrageous behavior (16:5–8). he hurried to meet the king so he could make amends.

19:17 a thousand men of Benjamin: This large contingent was a very good sign to David that his old hostilities with the family of saul were over at last. they went over the Jordan: Ziba and his sons forded the Jordan to assist David and his family in crossing.

19:19 what wrong your servant did: shimei’s confession showed genuine repentance and godly sorrow. he added no excuse, self-justification, or explanation (compare saul’s behavior in 1 sam. 13:11, 12; 15:20, 21).

19:20 The designation house of Joseph was sometimes applied to the northern tribes (Ps. 78:67; ezek. 37:16) since ephraim, the tribe of Joseph’s son (see Gen. 48:5, 13–20), was the largest and most powerful tribe in the north.

19:21–23 Abishai once again (16:9, 10) called for the death of shimei for cursing God’s anointed (23:1). What have I to do with you: David often had to quell the fiery spirit of his nephew (16:10).

22 And David said, <sup>b</sup>“What have I to do with you, you sons of Zeruiah, that you should be adversaries to me today? <sup>c</sup>Shall any man be put to death today in Israel? For do I not know that today I am king over Israel?” 23 Therefore <sup>d</sup>the king said to Shimei, “You shall not die.” And the king swore to him.

David and Mephibosheth Meet

24 Now <sup>e</sup>Mephibosheth the son of Saul came down to meet the king. And he had not cared for his feet, nor trimmed his mustache, nor washed his clothes, from the day the king departed until the day he returned in peace. 25 So it was, when he had come to Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said to him, <sup>f</sup>“Why did you not go with me, Mephibosheth?”

26 And he answered, “My lord, O king, my servant deceived me. For your servant said, ‘I will saddle a donkey for myself, that I may ride on it and go to the king,’ because your servant is lame. 27 And <sup>g</sup>he has slandered your servant to my lord the king, <sup>h</sup>but my lord the king is like the angel of God. Therefore do what is good in your eyes. 28 For all my father’s house were but dead men before my lord the king. <sup>i</sup>Yet you set your servant among those who eat at your own table. Therefore what right have I still to <sup>6</sup>cry out anymore to the king?”

29 So the king said to him, “Why do you speak anymore of your matters? I have said, ‘You and Ziba divide the land.’”

30 Then Mephibosheth said to the king, “Rather, let him take it all, inasmuch as my lord the king has come back in peace to his own house.”

down from Rogelim and went across the Jordan with the king, to escort him across the Jordan. 32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, eighty years old. And <sup>k</sup>he had provided the king with supplies while he stayed at Mahanaim, for he was a very rich man. 33 And the king said to Barzillai, “Come across with me, and I will provide for you while you are with me in Jerusalem.”

34 But Barzillai said to the king, “How long have I to live, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem? 35 I am today <sup>l</sup>eighty years old. Can I discern between the good and bad? Can your servant taste what I eat or what I drink? Can I hear any longer the voice of singing men and singing women? Why then should your servant be a further burden to my lord the king? 36 Your servant will go a little way across the Jordan with the king. And why should the king repay me with such a reward? 37 Please let your servant turn back again, that I may die in my own city, near the grave of my father and mother. But here is your servant <sup>m</sup>Chimham; let him cross over with my lord the king, and do for him what seems good to you.”

38 And the king answered, “Chimham shall cross over with me, and I will do for him what seems good to you. Now whatever you request of me, I will do for you.” 39 Then all the people went over the Jordan. And when the king had crossed over, the king <sup>n</sup>kissed Barzillai and blessed him, and he returned to his own place.

The Quarrel About the King

40 Now the king went on to Gilgal, and <sup>7</sup>Chimham went on with him. And all the people of Judah escorted the king, David had spared shimei’s life once before because of the timing of his attack on him; here he spared his life again because of the timing of shimei’s repentance. You shall not die: The amnesty granted shimei was apparently conditioned on his continued loyalty. When David was near death, he ordered that shimei be put to death by solomon (1 kin. 2:8, 9, 36–46). David could not put shimei to death himself because of his oath; however, his son could do it if there were just cause.

19:24 Mephibosheth was actually the son of Jonathan and the grandson of Saul (4:4; 9:1–13). Ziba claimed that Mephibosheth, in the turmoil of a bsalom’s revolt, sought to advance the cause of the house of saul (16:1–4). cared for his feet: The personal neglect of Mephibosheth must have been striking, he intended his personal appearance to be a sign of mourning David’s absence.

19:26–30 Mephibosheth claimed that Ziba had taken advantage of him, since he was not able to saddle or mount his donkey without help. he has slandered your servant: at this point, David faced a dilemma. Who was telling the truth—Mephibosheth or Ziba?

Why do you speak anymore: David found the whole issue too complex to sort out. divide the land: In this way, both Ziba and Mephibosheth would be provided for in a generous manner (see 16:14). let him take it all: Mephibosheth’s final words indicated his submission to David’s decision.

19:32–34 very aged: The 80-year-old Barzillai had proven himself to be an extraordinary help to David during David’s exile. This was an opportunity for David to repay his kindness. very rich: Barzillai did not need money; David’s offer of a royal pension was based on his loyal friendship.

19:35, 36 Can I discern between the good and bad: There was no effective contrast between the opportunity David offered and Barzillai’s present living situation at Mahanaim. What real difference would the change make in his life, since he was too old to enjoy the pleasures of the court? In going a little way across the Jordan with David, Barzillai fulfilled his duty as a gracious host.

19:37, 38 Chimham was later identified by the historian Josephus as Barzillai’s son (see 1 kin. 2:7). I will do for him: Because of his love for Barzillai, David promised to give a royal patronage to Chimham. This was similar to the provision David had made for Mephibosheth because of his love for Jonathan (ch. 9).

19:40 The term all is figurative. It means that as a whole Judah supported David. Half means that the people of Israel were less enthusiastic.

and also half the people of Israel. <sup>41</sup>Just then all the men of Israel came to the king, and said to the king, “Why have our brethren, the men of Judah, stolen you away and <sup>o</sup>brought the king, his household, and all David’s men with him across the Jordan?”

<sup>42</sup>So all the men of Judah answered the men of Israel, “Because the king is <sup>p</sup>a close relative of ours. Why then are you angry over this matter? Have we ever eaten at the king’s expense? Or has he given us any gift?”

<sup>43</sup>And the men of Israel answered the men of Judah, and said, “We have <sup>q</sup>ten shares in the king; therefore we also have more right to David than you. Why then do you despise us—were we not the first to advise bringing back our king?”

Yet <sup>r</sup>the words of the men of Judah were <sup>s</sup>fiercer than the words of the men of Israel.

The Rebellion of Sheba

20 And there happened to be there a <sup>1</sup>rebel, whose name was Sheba the son of Bichri, a Benjaminite. And he blew a trumpet, and said:

“We have no share in David,
Nor do we have inheritance in the son of Jesse;

<sup>3</sup>Now David came to his house at Jerusalem. And the king took the ten women, <sup>d</sup>his concubines whom he had left to keep the house, and put them in seclusion and supported them, but did not go in to them. So they were shut up to the day of their death, living in widowhood.

<sup>4</sup>And the king said to Amasa, <sup>e</sup>“Assemble the men of Judah for me within three days, and be present here yourself.” <sup>5</sup>So Amasa went to assemble the men of Judah. But he delayed longer than the set time which David had appointed him. <sup>6</sup>And David said to <sup>f</sup>Abishai, “Now Sheba the son of Bichri will do us more harm than Absalom. Take <sup>g</sup>your lord’s servants and pursue him, lest he find for himself fortified cities, and escape us.” <sup>7</sup>So Joab’s men, with the <sup>h</sup>Cherethites, the Pelethites, and <sup>i</sup>all the mighty men, went out after him. And they went out of Jerusalem to pursue Sheba the son of Bichri. <sup>8</sup>When they were at the large stone which is in Gibeon, Amasa came before them. Now Joab was dressed in battle armor; on it was a belt with a sword fastened in its sheath at his hips; and as he was going forward, it fell out. <sup>9</sup>Then Joab said to Amasa, “Are you in health, my brother?” <sup>j</sup>And Joab took Amasa by the beard with his right hand to kiss him. <sup>10</sup>But Amasa did not notice the sword that was in Joab’s hand. And <sup>k</sup>he struck him with it <sup>l</sup>in the stomach, and his entrails poured out on the ground; and he did not strike him again. Thus he died.

Then Joab and Abishai his brother pursued Sheba the son of Bichri. <sup>11</sup>Meanwhile one of Joab’s men stood near Amasa, and said, “Whoever favors Joab and whoever is for David—follow Joab!” <sup>12</sup>But Amasa wallowed in his blood in the middle of the highway. And when

19:41, 42 stolen you away: The people of Israel were annoyed by the fact that David’s supporters in Judah had the greater part in bringing the king back from exile east of the Jordan. The men of Judah pointed out that even though they had a tribal relationship with David, they had never taken advantage of their privileged position.

19:43 The people of Israel were claiming a greater share in David’s kingship since Israel’s northern territory was formed by ten tribes. fiercer: This bitterness between the tribes of Israel and the tribe of Judah would lead finally to the division of the nation at the time of the death of Solomon, David’s son (1 Kin. 12). In the present situation, it threatened to erupt into civil war—which would take place under the leadership of Sheba (ch. 20).

20:1 Sheba was from Benjamin, the same tribe as Saul. The term rebel, which also means “worthless person,” suggests that Sheba was a scoundrel. trumpet: as was usual for military signals (2:28; 15:10; 18:16; 20:22), Sheba sounded a shofar or ram’s horn. We have no share in David: These three lines of poetry form a campaign slogan or song of rebellion. Every man to his tents may be paraphrased, “Let’s go back home, and from there we can resist the king.”

20:2 every man of Israel: There was a general rebellion among the northern tribes. From the Jordan as far as Jerusalem: The people along David’s route to Jerusalem expressed their loyalty to the king.

20:4 Amasa, who had commanded a Basalom’s army (17:25), had been offered Joab’s position as commander-in-chief of David’s army (19:13). Apparently, he accepted the offer and was commissioned to put down Sheba’s rebellion.

20:5, 6 But he delayed: Amasa’s delay in carrying out David’s order to gather forces against Sheba’s rebellion could have resulted in a disaster like that of a Basalom’s revolt. Abishai, Joab’s older brother (1 Chr. 2:16), was enlisted to take command of the soldiers of Judah and put down Sheba’s revolt. David knew that Sheba’s revolt was potentially more dangerous than a Basalom’s, since Sheba’s rebellion was based on long-standing tribal animosity between Israel and Judah.

20:7 Joab’s men are distinguished from the rest of David’s army, apparently, Joab maintained his own group of elite soldiers.

20:8, 9 Gibeon was about six miles northwest of Jerusalem. Joab apparently adjusted his sword so that it fell from the sheath as he stepped forward to greet Amasa (v. 4), assuming a mere accident, Amasa did not pay attention to the weapon in Joab’s left hand (v. 10). Are you in health, my brother: The term translated health is the Hebrew word shalom, meaning “peace.” Brother is not just a formality here; Joab and Amasa were cousins, sons of two of David’s sisters (1 Chr. 2:16, 17). Joab took Amasa by the beard: This friendly greeting, a preliminary to a kiss, was now a preparation for killing him.

20:12 wallowed in his blood: The bloody spectacle of a man lying on the road caused the soldiers to stop and think about what it the man saw that all the people stood still, he moved Amasa from the highway to the field and threw a garment over him, when he saw that everyone who came upon him halted. <sup>13</sup>When he was removed from the highway, all the people went on after Joab to pursue Sheba the son of Bichri.

<sup>14</sup>And he went through all the tribes of Israel to <sup>m</sup>Abel and Beth Maachah and all the Berites. So they were gathered together and also went after <sup>2</sup>Sheba. <sup>15</sup>Then they came and besieged him in Abel of Beth Maachah; and they <sup>n</sup>cast up a siege mound against the city, and it stood by the rampart. And all the people who were with Joab battered the wall to throw it down.

<sup>16</sup>Then a wise woman cried out from the city, “Hear, hear! Please say to Joab, ‘Come nearby, that I may speak with you.’” <sup>17</sup>When he had come near to her, the woman said, “Are you Joab?”

He answered, “I am.”

Then she said to him, “Hear the words of your maidservant.”

And he answered, “I am listening.”

<sup>18</sup>So she spoke, saying, “They used to talk in former times, saying, ‘They shall surely seek guidance at Abel,’ and so they would end disputes. <sup>19</sup>I am among the peaceable and faithful in Israel. You seek to destroy a city and a mother in Israel. Why would you swallow up <sup>o</sup>the inheritance of the LORD?”

<sup>20</sup>And Joab answered and said, “Far be it, far be it from me, that I should swallow up or destroy! <sup>21</sup>That is not so. But a man from the mountains of Ephraim, Sheba the son of Bichri by name, has raised his hand against the king, against

So the woman said to Joab, “Watch, his head will be thrown to you over the wall.” <sup>22</sup>Then the woman <sup>p</sup>in her wisdom went to all the people. <sup>23</sup>And <sup>q</sup>Joab was over all the army of Israel; Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites; <sup>24</sup>Adoram was <sup>r</sup>in charge of revenue; <sup>s</sup>Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder; <sup>25</sup>Sheva was scribe; <sup>t</sup>Zadok and Abiathar were the priests; <sup>26</sup><sup>u</sup>and Ira the Jairite was <sup>3</sup>a chief minister under David.

David Avenges the Gibeonites

21 Now there was a famine in the days of David for three years, year after year; and David <sup>a</sup>inquired of the LORD. And the LORD answered, “It is because of Saul and his <sup>1</sup>bloodthirsty house, because he killed the Gibeonites.”

<sup>2</sup>So the king called the Gibeonites and spoke to them. Now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but <sup>b</sup>of the remnant of the Amorites; the children of Israel had sworn protection to them, but Saul had sought to kill them <sup>c</sup>in his zeal for the children of Israel and Judah.

<sup>3</sup>Therefore David said to the Gibeonites, “What shall I do for you? And with what shall I make atonement, that you may bless <sup>d</sup>the inheritance of the LORD?”

might mean to follow Joab. o one of the soldiers finally covered the corpse so that the shocking scene would not impede the movement of the soldiers any further.

20:14 He probably refers to sheba, who traveled the land attempting to raise popular support for his rebellion. Abel and Beth Maachah were cities in northern Galilee so closely connected that they became identified. They were four miles west of Dan (1 kin. 15:20; 2 kin. 15:29).

20:15 A siege mound was used in ancient warfare to allow soldiers to reach the top of a city wall. The mound consisted of dirt and debris placed against the wall.

20:18, 19 The wise woman explained to Joab that Abel was famous for the wisdom and counsel offered by its citizens. In addition to being peaceable and faithful, a bel was noted as a mother city, or a recognized leader in the region. The citizens had done nothing to deserve the city's destruction.

20:21, 22 his head will be thrown to you: Convinced that the death of Sheba would end the siege, the people of a bel cut off his head and threw it over the wall to Joab.

20:23 Joab was the overall commander of David's army, while Benaiah was in charge of the Cherethites and the Pelethites, foreign mercenaries who fought for David.

20:24, 25 Revenue may refer to forced labor (see 1 kin. 12:18). The recorder, meaning “one who causes to remember,” was responsible for keeping official records. David's scribe was the king's official secretary. 20:26 Ira replaced David's sons (8:18) as chief minister, a word customarily translated priest.

21:1 Famine was a means of divine chastening intended to lead God's people to repentance (Deut. 28:47, 48). he killed the Gibeonites: a bout 400 years earlier, the Gibeonites had deceived Joshua and the Israelites into making a treaty that guaranteed their protection and security (Josh. 9:3-27). saul had broken that agreement by putting some Gibeonites to death (v. 9). This incident was not recorded elsewhere.

21:2 The Gibeonites were Canaanites living near the site of present-day el-Jib, about six miles northwest of Jerusalem. Amorites is used here as a general designation for the original population of Canaan (Gen. 15:16). saul's zeal for the children of Israel and Judah led him to attempt to exterminate the foreign element from the land of Israel. Righteous zeal can be an act of heroic faith (Num. 25). But when zeal is misdirected, it can have serious consequences (see Rom. 10:2; Phil. 3:6).

21:3 The word translated make atonement means to remove sin or defilement by offering a substitute or paying a ransom. David offered to make a settlement with the Gibeonites for the wrong saul had done. that you may bless the inheritance of the LORD: David wanted the Gibeonites once again to look with favor upon the people of Israel.

4 And the Gibeonites said to him, “We will have no silver or gold from Saul or from his house, nor shall you kill any man in Israel for us.”

So he said, “Whatever you say, I will do for you.”

5 Then they answered the king, “As for the man who consumed us and plotted against us, that we should be destroyed from remaining in any of the territories of Israel, 6 let seven men of his descendants be delivered <sup>e</sup> to us, and we will hang them before the LORD <sup>f</sup> in Gibeah of Saul, <sup>g</sup> whom the LORD chose.”

And the king said, “I will give them.”

7 But the king spared <sup>h</sup> Mephibosheth the son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, because of <sup>i</sup> the LORD’s oath that was between them, between David and Jonathan the son of Saul. 8 So the king took Armoni and Mephibosheth, the two sons of <sup>j</sup> Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom she bore to Saul, and the five sons of <sup>k</sup> Michal the daughter of Saul, whom she <sup>l</sup> brought up for Adriel the son of Barzillai the Meholahite; 9 and he delivered them into the hands of the Gibeonites, and they hanged them on the hill <sup>k</sup> before the LORD. So they fell, all seven together, and were put to death in the days of harvest, in the first days, in the beginning of barley harvest.

10 Now <sup>l</sup> Rizpah the daughter of Aiah took sackcloth and spread it for herself on the rock, <sup>m</sup> from the beginning of harvest until the late rains poured on them from heaven. And she did not allow the birds of the air to rest on them by day nor the beasts of the field by night.

11 And David was told what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, the concubine of Saul, had done. 12 Then David went and took the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son, from the men of <sup>n</sup> Jabesh Gilead who had stolen them from the street of <sup>4</sup> Beth Shan, where the <sup>o</sup> Philistines had hung them up, after the Philistines had struck down Saul in Gilboa. 13 So he brought up the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son from there; and they gathered the bones of those who had been hanged. 14 They buried the bones of Saul and Jonathan his son in the country of Benjamin in <sup>p</sup> Zelah, in the tomb of Kish his father. So they performed all that the king commanded. And after that <sup>q</sup> God heeded the prayer for the land.

Philistine Giants Destroyed

15 When the Philistines were at war again with Israel, David and his servants with him went down and fought against the Philistines; and David grew faint. 16 Then Ishbi-Benob, who was one of the sons of <sup>5</sup> the <sup>r</sup> giant, the weight of whose bronze spear was three hundred shekels, who was bearing a new sword, thought he could kill David. 17 But <sup>s</sup> Abishai the son of Zeruiah came to his aid, and struck the Philistine and killed him. Then the men of David swore to him, saying, <sup>t</sup> “You shall go out no more with us to battle, lest you quench the <sup>u</sup> lamp of Israel.”

18<sup>v</sup> Now it happened afterward that there was again a battle with the Philistines

21:4–6 No amount of monetary compensation, silver or gold, would satisfy the Gibeonites for the wrong that was done. Nor shall you kill any man in Israel for us may also be translated, “It is not for us to put a man to death in Israel.” The implication would then be that they had no authority, as a subject people, for taking blood vengeance. The Gibeonites sought justice in keeping with the principle of Num. 35:31, that a life demands a life. They asked David for royal authority to execute seven of saul’s descendants. The term hang suggests some form of solemn execution, followed by the public exposure of the dead body, which was impaled on a post (Num. 25:4). The words before the LORD indicate that the judgment was intended to satisfy divine justice (v. 1). Gibeah, about three miles north of Jerusalem, had been saul’s capital (1 sam. 10:26).

21:7 because of the LORD’s oath: Because of David’s covenant of friendship with Jonathan, his son Mephibosheth was spared (1 sam. 18:3; 20:8, 16). f or the story of Mephibosheth, see 4:4; 9:1–13; 16:1–4; 19:24–30.

21:8 Mephibosheth, the son of Rizpah, is not the same as Jonathan’s son of the same name (v. 7). Rizpah was saul’s concubine (3:7). The Barzillai mentioned here is not the same as David’s loyal friend of 17:27.

21:9 they hanged them: God’s law explicitly prohibited the punishment of a son for the sins of his father (Deut. 24:16; 2 kin. 14:6, ezeq. 18:1–4, 14–17). since there is no condemnation of David in the text and since God apparently honored the action and ended the famine (v. 14), it is possible that those who were executed had been implicated in the killing of the Gibeonites.

21:10 Rizpah remained near the bodies, protecting them from scavengers, from the barley harvest to the early rains (late april to october).

21:12, 13 Beth Shan was at the junction of the Jezreel and Jordan valleys, about four miles west of the Jordan. from the street: a apparently the bodies of Saul and Jonathan had been suspended on a wall along a main street of the Philistine city (1 sam. 31:10). Gilboa is a small mountain range in the eastern part of the Jezreel valley (1 sam. 31:1). Those who had been hanged refers to the seven sons in vv. 8–10.

21:14 Zelah was a town allotted to Benjamin (Josh. 18:28). God heeded the prayer for the land: Divine justice had been satisfied. God responded to the prayers of his people, bringing an end to the famine.

21:15–22 This section records the exploits of David and his men against the Philistines. The word translated giant throughout this section (vv. 16, 18, 20, 22) means one of the Rephaim, a people living in Canaan who were noted for their large size (Gen. 15:19–21; Num. 13:33; Deut. 2:11).

21:16 The spear of Ishbi-Benob weighed three hundred shekels, or approximately seven and a half pounds.

21:17 Abishai was Joab’s brother (3:30; 16:9–11; 20:6; 1 sam. 26:6–9). You shall go out no more with us: David’s men did not want him to risk his life in battle. The lamp of Israel refers to David, whose life and leadership provided righteous guidance for the people of Israel.

21:18 Sibbechai the Hushathite is listed in 1 Chr. 11:29 with David’s mighty men.

<sup>20</sup>Yet again <sup>z</sup>there was war at Gath, where there was a man of great stature, who had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot, twenty-four in number; and he was born to <sup>9</sup>the giant. <sup>21</sup>So when he <sup>a</sup>defied Israel, Jonathan the son of <sup>1</sup>Shimea, David's brother, killed him.

<sup>22b</sup>These four were born to <sup>2</sup>the giant in Gath, and fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

Praise for God's Deliverance

22 Then David <sup>a</sup>spoke to the LORD the words of this song, on the day when the LORD had <sup>b</sup>delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. <sup>2</sup>And he <sup>c</sup>said:

<sup>d</sup>“The LORD is my rock and my <sup>e</sup>fortress and my deliverer;
<sup>3</sup> The God of my strength, <sup>f</sup>in whom I will trust;
 My <sup>g</sup>shield and the <sup>h</sup>horn <sup>1</sup> of my salvation,
 My <sup>i</sup>stronghold and my <sup>j</sup>refuge;
 My Savior, You save me from violence.
<sup>4</sup> I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised;
 So shall I be saved from my enemies.
<sup>5</sup> “When the waves of death surrounded me,
 The floods of ungodliness <sup>2</sup>made me afraid.
<sup>6</sup> The <sup>k</sup>sorrows of Sheol surrounded me;
 The snares of death confronted me.
<sup>7</sup> In my distress <sup>l</sup>I called upon the LORD,
 And cried out to my God;
 He <sup>m</sup>heard my voice from His temple,
 And my cry entered His ears.

21:21 Jonathan was David's nephew, the son of Shimea.

22:1 While this psalm later became part of the congregational worship of Israel (Ps. 18), it began as David's personal and earnest expression of praise to the LORD. This song was composed when God delivered David from the hand of Saul during David's wilderness exploits. Perhaps an incident such as the one recorded in 1 sam. 23:24–28 provided the impetus for David to write this “song of testimony.”

22:3 the horn of my salvation: The horn of an animal was used for protection and defense. hence, the horn stands for might and power.

22:4 To be praised means “to be boasted about joyfully.” God is not only worthy of our contemplative worship, but also to be celebrated for what he does for us.

22:6 Sheol is used in Hebrew poetry as a synonym for death. Many believe the word is derived from the Hebrew word meaning “to ask” or “to enquire.” In the OT, sheol is described as a place of “dust,” referring to death (Job 17:16), as a place of “corruption” (Ps. 16:10), and as a “Pit” (Isa. 14:15).

22:7–15 These verses describe God's active intervention in terms reminiscent of his appearance to Moses at Mt. Sinai, with earthquakes, thunder, darkness, and lightning (ex. 19:16–20; Ps. 68).

- And He <sup>4</sup> was seen <sup>s</sup> upon the wings of the wind.
- 12 He made <sup>d</sup> darkness canopies around Him,
Dark waters and thick clouds of the skies.
- 13 From the brightness before Him

- 14<sup>c</sup> The LORD <sup>u</sup> thundered from heaven,

- 15 He sent out <sup>v</sup> arrows and scattered them;
Lightning bolts, and He vanquished them.
- 16 Then the channels of the sea <sup>w</sup> were seen,
The foundations of the world were uncovered,
At the <sup>x</sup> rebuke of the LORD,
At the blast of the breath of His nostrils.
- 17<sup>c</sup> He <sup>y</sup> sent from above, He took me,
He drew me out of many waters.
- 18 He delivered me from my strong enemy,
From those who hated me;
For they were too strong for me.
- 19 They confronted me in the day of my calamity,
But the LORD was my <sup>z</sup> support.
- 20<sup>a</sup> He also brought me out into a broad place;
He delivered me because He <sup>b</sup> delighted in me.
- 21<sup>c</sup> The <sup>c</sup> LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;

22:16 The imagery used here recalls the miraculous parting of the Red sea (see ex. 14).

22:21 according to my righteousness: David believed that God would deal with people according to their conduct, punishing the wicked and blessing the righteous (Deut. 30:15–20). These words may appear self-righteous, but they must be compared with David's own confessions of sinfulness (compare 12:13; Ps. 38:1–10). his righteousness was based on God's unflinching kindness to him (v. 51; Ps. 38:15).

22:22 I have kept the ways of the Lord: one thinks of David's rash action of adultery with Bathsheba and his sending uriah to die. how then could he say these words? Perhaps this psalm was written before those events had taken place. Yet, there were doubtless many other sins in David's life even before the sins of great notoriety. In any event, David was forgiven those sins when he acknowledged them to the Lord. a s is the case with believers today, David could stand in a position of righteousness even as he strove, by the power of God's spirit, to live in righteousness.

22:24 David did not claim sinless perfection. The word blameless is used of a person who is sound, wholesome, and has integrity (Gen. 17:1).

22:30 run against a troop: David refers to a successful military pursuit (see 1 sam. 30:8).

22:32 who is God: The rhetorical question emphasizes the reality of God in contrast with false gods and idols (see Is. 40:25).

22:34 Deer are noted for their swiftness, agility, and surefootedness. They are also a picture of graceful beauty.

22:35 It would take unusual strength to bend a bow of bronze (see Job 20:24).

- Your gentleness has made me great.
 37 You <sup>w</sup>enlarged my path under me;
 So my feet did not slip.
- 38<sup>a</sup> “I have pursued my enemies and

David's Last Words

23 Now these are the last words of David.

- Thus* says David the son of Jesse;
Thus says <sup>a</sup>the man raised up on high, <sup>b</sup>The anointed of the God of Jacob,
 And the sweet psalmist of Israel:
- 2 “The <sup>c</sup>Spirit of the LORD spoke by me,
 And His word was on my tongue.
- 3 The God of Israel said,
<sup>d</sup>The Rock of Israel spoke to me:
 ‘He who rules over men must be just,
 Ruling <sup>e</sup>in the fear of God.
- 4 And <sup>f</sup>he shall be like the light of the morning when the sun rises,
 A morning without clouds,
 Like the tender grass springing out of the earth,
 By clear shining after rain.’
- 5 “Although my house is not so with God,

22:41 the necks of my enemies: This metaphor is taken from the custom of a victorious king putting his foot on the neck of a defeated foe as a sign of complete overthrow (see Ps. 110:1).

22:44 as the head of the nations: Through his military exploits and international agreements, David was able to exercise control over many surrounding nations.

22:47 The LORD lives: This shout of faith became a motto in biblical times, particularly when shouted in contrast to the false gods of other nations, who had no life. Like a Rock, God is strong, steadfast, and a place of refuge (see Ps. 91:1-3). Perhaps this metaphor recalled to David the many times he had taken refuge in rocks to elude his pursuers (1 sam 23:25).

22:50 Because God delivered his own (vv. 48, 49), David vowed to praise him. The word translated give thanks means “to confess publicly” or “to give public acknowledgment.” It is the primary Hebrew word for praise in the Book of Psalms.

22:51 His anointed: David referred to himself as God’s royal representative on earth. But the word anointed also points to David’s descendant, king Jesus. He is the ultimate anointed one, the meaning of the name Messiah. The name derived from the Greek word for anointed is Christ. It is not just the “last name” of Jesus, but his great title: he is the anointed one who is anticipated by the promises of the OT.

23:1 The Hebrew word for thus says is a stylized term that is often used in prophetic speech. It adds significance to what is said and may be translated “the solemn utterance” or “a revelation.” This is a very impressive term in Hebrew poetry; here it is used twice in one verse. raised up on high: David recalled his humble origins as a son of Jesse, whom God sovereignly exalted to the throne of Israel. the sweet psalmist of Israel: of 150 psalms in the Book of Psalms, 73 are attributed to David by the text. No person in the scriptures is more closely associated with music in the worship of the Lord than King David.

23:2 The spirit of the LORD spoke: David claimed to speak the words of God through his inspired poetry (see Ps. 139:4). This is a claim to the divine inspiration of the scriptures, just as much as are the NT passages 2 Tim. 3:16; Heb. 1:1, 2; 2 Pet. 1:19-21.

23:3, 4 He who rules over men: David voiced God’s expectations for rulers. Bringing blessing like the light dawn after the rain, like a clear morning, like tender grass—each of these similes speaks of new life, purity, and refreshment. The function of the king was not to impoverish the nation. Instead, the king was to ennoble the people as he presented to them the refreshing will of God.

23:5 The establishment of the everlasting covenant that God made with David is recorded in 7:12-16. here and in Ps. 89 are

- <sup>6</sup> Yet He has made with me an everlasting covenant, Ordered in all things and secure.
 For this is all my salvation and all my desire;
 Will He not make it increase?
<sup>6</sup> But the sons of rebellion shall all be as thorns thrust away,
 Because they cannot be taken with hands.
<sup>7</sup> But the man who touches them
 Must be <sup>1</sup> armed with iron and the shaft of a spear,
 And they shall be utterly burned with fire in their place.”

David's Mighty Men

Philistines. So the LORD brought about a great victory.

<sup>13</sup> Then <sup>m</sup> three of the thirty chief men went down at harvest time and came to David at <sup>n</sup> the cave of Adullam. And the troop of Philistines encamped in <sup>o</sup> the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>14</sup> David was then in <sup>p</sup> the stronghold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethlehem. <sup>15</sup> And David said with longing, “Oh, that someone would give me a drink of the water from the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate!” <sup>16</sup> So the three mighty men broke through the camp of the Philistines, drew water from the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate, and took it and brought it to David. Nevertheless he would not drink it, but poured it out to the LORD. <sup>17</sup> And he said, “Far be it from me, O LORD, that I should do this! Is this not <sup>q</sup> the blood of the men who went in jeopardy of their lives?” Therefore he would not drink it.

These things were done by the three mighty men.

<sup>20</sup> Benaiah was the son of Jehoiada, the son of a valiant man from <sup>s</sup> Kabzeel, <sup>6</sup> who had done many deeds. <sup>t</sup> He had killed two lion-like heroes of Moab. He also had gone down and killed a lion in the midst of a pit on a snowy day. <sup>21</sup> And he killed an Egyptian, <sup>7</sup> a spectacular man. The Egyptian had a spear in his hand; so he went down to him with a staff, wrested

David's celebrations of the covenant in song. Will He not make it increase: This rhetorical question expresses David's faith that God would carry out his promise. The covenant was based on God's sovereign, unchangeable will.

23:6, 7 sons of rebellion: The hebrew word used here is one of contempt and scorn. It is the word that wicked shimei hurled at David when the latter was fleeing from the rebellion of his son Absalom (16:7). The word was also used to describe Sheba, the scoundrel from the tribe of Benjamin (20:1). David anticipated God's judgment upon the ungodly, who are likened to thorns fit only to be burned.

23:8 The term mighty men suggests that these were the elite of David's troops, possibly his personal bodyguards. These men were heroes in the full sense of the word. Their listing must have inspired others to attain to such accomplishments. eight hundred: although 1 Chr. 11:11 records three hundred, this figure is probably accurate (v. 18).

23:13, 14 The Valley of Rephaim was a route to Jerusalem (5:18). Bethlehem, David's hometown (1 sam. 16:1–13), was about six miles south of Jerusalem.

23:16 poured it out to the Lord: The water had been provided at such great risk that David regarded it as too precious to drink, and offered it as a sacrifice. ordinarily, wine was used for a drink offering (Lev. 23:13, 18, 37); here, water more costly than the finest wine was poured in celebration before the Lord.

23:17 David calls the water blood because it was brought to him at the risk of life.

23:18 The exploits of Abishai, the brother of Joab, are detailed in the record of the life of David (2:18; 10:10; 1 sam. 26:6–9).

23:20–23 Benaiah served as commander over the Cherethites and the Pelethites (8:18). he was in charge of David's personal bodyguards. The term his guard means “his obedience”—that is, those who were bound to obey and protect David. snowy day: a light snowfall is not unusual in the Judean hill country during the winter.

mighty men

This word emphasizes excellence. In the o T, it is used for the excellence of a lion (Prov. 30:30), of good or bad men (Gen. 10:9; 1 Chr. 19:8), of giants (Gen. 6:4), of angels (Ps. 103:20), or even God (Deut. 10:17; Neh. 9:32). The phrase “mighty God” is used three times in the o T, including Isaiah's messianic prophecy of the birth of Jesus (Is. 9:6; 10:21; Jer. 32:18). The scriptures state that the mighty man is not victorious because of his strength (Ps. 33:16) but because of his understanding and knowledge of the Lord (Jer. 9:23, 24).

David's Census of Israel and Judah

<sup>2</sup>So the king said to Joab the commander of the army who was with him, “Now go throughout all the tribes of Israel,

The Judgment on David's Sin

23:24–39 thirty: The list actually contains 31 names. Apparently, the number of active soldiers in this unit was kept close to 30. With minor variations, this list is also recorded in 1 Chr. 11:26–41.

23:39 thirty-seven: This figure includes the three (vv. 8–17); Abishai and Benaiah (vv. 18–23); the 31 (vv. 24–39); and David's commander, Joab (v. 37).

24:3 why does my lord the king desire this thing: Joab, for all his faults, saw the error in David's plan (1 Chr. 21:3) and raised his protest in the form of a question. Why was this census considered sinful when God had commanded a numbering in the time of Moses (Num. 1:1–3)? David may have been trusting in military strength rather than God's protective care (Deut. 17:16). Verse 9 suggests that this census was the first step in preparing for a military draft. God's plan seems to have been for Israel to have a citizen army rather than a large standing army, so that Israel would trust in his protection.

24:5 The numbering began in the territory east of the Jordan. Aroer was about 14 miles east of the Dead sea on the north bank of the Arnon River. Jazer was east of the Jordan, about six and a half miles west of present-day Amman.

24:6 Gilead was east of the Jordan between the Jabbok and Yarmuk Rivers. Dan Jaan is thought to refer to the city of Dan, about 23 miles north of the sea of Galilee. Sidon was on the Mediterranean coast north of Tyre.

24:7 Tyre was on the Mediterranean coast about 35 miles northwest of the sea of Galilee. The Hivites were Canaanites who occupied the region of Lebanon (Judg. 3:3), shechem (Gen. 34:2), and Gibeon (Josh. 9:3). Canaanites is a general term for the non-Israelite inhabitants of the land. Beersheba was in the desert parts of Judah about 28 miles southwest of Hebron.

24:9 men who drew the sword: The numbers given refer only to men of military age. It is impressive that the division of Israel and Judah was so well established. This division would in the end result in a divided kingdom. The numbers—800,000 in Israel and 500,000 in Judah—are clearly rounded figures.

24:10 David's heart condemned him: David fell into sin on several occasions, but his heart was always sensitive to God's righteous will. He quickly confessed his wrong and sought restoration with the Lord. The text still does not state precisely what the sin was. However, we may surmise that David's intent in numbering the people had some sinister aspect to it—perhaps pride in the size of his empire.

ing, the word of the LORD came to the prophet <sup>q</sup>Gad, David's <sup>r</sup>seer, saying, <sup>12</sup>“Go and tell David, ‘Thus says the LORD: “I offer you three things; choose one of them for yourself, that I may do it to you.’”’ <sup>13</sup>So Gad came to David and told him; and he said to him, “Shall <sup>s</sup>seven<sup>3</sup> years of famine come to you in your land? Or shall you flee three months before your enemies, while they pursue you? Or shall there be three days’ plague in your land? Now consider and see what answer I should take back to Him who sent me.”

<sup>17</sup>Then David spoke to the LORD when he saw the angel who was striking the people, and said, “Surely <sup>y</sup>I have sinned, and I have done wickedly; but these sheep, what have they done? Let Your hand, I pray, be against me and against my father’s house.”

The Altar on the Threshing Floor

<sup>18</sup>And Gad came that day to David and said to him, <sup>z</sup>“Go up, erect an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.” <sup>19</sup>So David, according to the word of Gad, went up as the LORD commanded. <sup>20</sup>Now Araunah looked, and saw the king and his servants coming toward him. So Araunah went out and bowed before the king with his face to the ground.

<sup>21</sup>Then Araunah said, “Why has my lord the king come to his servant?”

<sup>22</sup>Now Araunah said to David, “Let my lord the king take and offer up whatever seems good to him. <sup>c</sup>Look, here are oxen for burnt sacrifice, and threshing implements and the yokes of the oxen for wood. <sup>23</sup>All these, O king, Araunah has given to the king.”

And Araunah said to the king, “May the LORD your God <sup>d</sup>accept you.”

<sup>24</sup>Then the king said to Araunah, “No, but I will surely buy it from you for a price; nor will I offer burnt offerings to the LORD my God with that which costs me nothing.” So <sup>e</sup>David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver. <sup>25</sup>And David built there an altar to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. <sup>f</sup>So the LORD heeded the prayers for the land, and <sup>g</sup>the plague was withdrawn from Israel.

24:11 Gad, David’s prophet or seer, is first mentioned in 1 sam. 22:5. he may have been one of the writers or contributing editors of 2 samuel.

24:13 David was given a choice of three punishments for his sin: (1) seven years of famine, (2) three months of flight, or (3) three days of plague. Moses warned of all of these punishments for those who broke God’s covenant (Deut. 28:15–68).

24:14 let us fall into the hand of the LORD: David calculated that God would be more merciful than a person. he apparently took the third option, a plague. Mercies speaks of a mother’s tender compassion for her child. even in the exercise of his wrath, God has mercy on those he disciplines (hab. 3:2).

24:15 The nature of the plague is not specified, only that its origin was from the Lord. The number of those who died was very high, over three times the number of soldiers of a bsalom’s army who perished in his abortive rebellion (18:7).

24:16 The judgment was carried out by the angel of the LORD (Judg. 6:11–22). In a demonstration of divine grace, God withheld the plague from destroying the people of Jerusalem. a threshing floor is a hard, flat surface where wheat is crushed to separate the kernels from the straw. Araunah, called o rnan in 2 Chr. 3:1, was a Jebusite, one of the original inhabitants of Jerusalem.

24:17 David interceded on behalf of the people—these sheep—regarding the plague. he once again confessed his sin (v. 10) and asked God to hold him, rather than the people, accountable.

24:22 Threshing implements refers to the heavy, wooden sleds which were dragged over wheat during the threshing process to break it up.

24:23, 24 a raunah wanted to give David the threshing floor and the oxen for sacrifice. David was unwilling to offer to the Lord that which cost him nothing. This is a powerful principle for all worship and service before the Lord. If there is no cost, there is no real sacrifice. David understood and practiced the principle of sacrificial giving to the Lord (see 2 Cor. 8:1–4). the threshing floor: The threshing floor was located on Mt. Moriah, where a braham had bound Isaac (Gen. 22:2). Later, solomon would build the temple at this site (1 kin. 6; 1 Chr. 21:27–22:1; 2 Chr. 3:1). Fifty shekels of silver paid only for the threshing floor, the oxen, and the implements. The land that surrounded the threshing floor would cost considerably more—600 shekels or 15 pounds of gold (1 Chr. 21:25).

24:25 The burnt offering was the principal atoning sacrifice for unintentional sins (Lev. 1:1–17; 6:8–13). It was completely consumed upon the altar, except for the hide, which was given to the officiating priest. The peace offering was an optional sacrifice, which did not form any part of the regular offerings required in the tabernacle or temple (Lev. 3:1–17; 7:11–34). It was a voluntary expression of thanksgiving or worship. The preservation of Jerusalem and the purchase of the temple site prepared the way for the coming of David’s successor, king solomon. he would build the temple for the true worship of Israel’s God.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE KINGS

FIRST KINGS records the lives of a number of famous people, both good and evil. King David, King Solomon, and the Queen of Sheba are famous examples of righteous people searching after God's wisdom. On the other hand, Ahab and Jezebel are two notorious examples of wicked people discarding God's law and rebelling against Him. To confront a man as wicked as Ahab, God sent someone more than equal to the task, the prophet Elijah. Often described as Israel's greatest and most dramatic prophet, Elijah displayed at Mount Carmel in an unforgettable way the power of God over the false god Baal and his four hundred prophets.

In the final analysis, 1 Kings is the story of one people headed down two different paths. It is a story of good kings and bad kings, true prophets and false prophets, and of disobedience and loyalty to God. Most importantly, it is a story of Israel's spiritual odyssey and God's faithfulness to His people.

Author and Composition First and Second Kings were originally one book in the Hebrew canon, as were the books of Samuel. The translators of the Septuagint, the Greek Old Testament of about 150 B.C., joined Samuel and Kings together and divided the resulting book into four parts. When Samuel and Kings were separated later, these four parts became 1 and 2 Samuel and 1 and 2 Kings.

Traditionally, Jeremiah was identified as the author of 1 and 2 Kings. However, contemporary critical scholarship has suggested that the books were the result of a compilation process that began with its initial composition in the late seventh century B.C. and concluded in the middle of the sixth century B.C. The proponents of this view have identified a Deuteronomistic school of writers as the source of 1 and 2 Kings because of the emphasis in these books on religious orthodoxy (the Law and the temple), the ministry of the prophets, and the central place of the Davidic dynasty.

Evangelical biblical scholars have largely rejected the idea of a Deuteronomistic school of writers. Many continue to endorse the traditional view that Jeremiah wrote the books of the Kings. They cite as evidence for his authorship his priestly origin, his prophetic activity, his access to governmental authorities at the highest level, and his great personal involvement in the complex religious, social, and political activities that occurred during the collapse and fall of Judah in the early sixth century B.C. Certainly no other single person would have been in a better position to know the spiritual situation of the day and to have access to the state records, historical information, and source material necessary for writing 1 and 2 Kings.

Nevertheless, differences in writing style between the books of Jeremiah and Kings, as well as distinctions in the use of the names of Judah's kings make any final determination of the authorship of the books of the Kings uncertain. If due weight is given to the long section dealing with Judah (2 Kin. 18:1—25:26), it may reasonably be said that both books of Kings, except the final appended historical notice (2 Kin. 25:27–30), are the work of an author who lived through the last days of Judah and the fall of Jerusalem in 586 B.C. Perhaps the spiritual reform that followed the recovery of the Book of the Law during Josiah's reign (c. 622 B.C.) provided the necessary impetus for the author to gather up his sources and write an account of Israel's faithfulness to the covenant from the days of David until his own time.

to compose a work covering nearly four hundred years, the author of the Book of Kings would need excellent source material. Three sources are specifically named: (1) the Book of the Acts of Solomon (11:41), which detailed the events of the Solomonic era; (2) the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel (cited 17 times in 14:19–15:31), which were the court records of the northern kingdom; and (3) the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah (mentioned 15 times in 1 Kin. 14:29–2 Kin. 24:5), which were court records of the southern kingdom. Furthermore, the author might have had biographical accounts of David (1:1–2:11), Elijah, and Elisha (1 Kin. 16:29–2 Kin. 9:37), and access to the Book of Isaiah (compare Is. 36–39 to 2 Kin. 18:13–20:19). Such material was preserved in priestly and prophetic centers in both the northern and southern kingdoms.

Historical Content The author of 1 and 2 Kings was heir to a long history of God's dealing with His people. In the Books of Kings, the narrator presents a selected rehearsal of the events of the nation covering the period from the death of King David in the early tenth century B.C. to the fall of Jerusalem around 586 B.C. The author's focus is on the spiritual successes and failures in Israel's history.

First Kings begins this narrative with a detailed account of the great Solomonic era (971–930 B.C.; chs. 1–11). The narrative highlights Solomon's godly wisdom (1 Kin. 3; 4), his building projects, the temple and palace complex (1 Kin. 5–8), and then Solomon's spiritual failures toward the end of his reign. After Solomon's demise, the book addresses the division of the kingdom into a northern kingdom (Israel), made up of ten tribes under Jeroboam I, and a southern kingdom, centered in Judah under Solomon's son Rehoboam as king (12:1–24). Thereafter, the different fortunes of the two kingdoms are traced in terms of the blessings and punishments that come as a result of the people's obedience or disobedience to God's law. The sorry picture of Israel's growing apostasy is sketched up to the accession of Ahaziah in the northern kingdom (853–852 B.C.) and the reign of Jehoshaphat in the south (872–847 B.C.). During this period, the two kingdoms had to face the rising imperialism of Assyria, particularly during the reigns of the Assyrian kings, Ashurnasirpal II (883–859 B.C.) and Shalmaneser III (859–824 B.C.).

Thus the narrative of 1 Kings stretches from the high prosperity of the Solomonic kingdom in the tenth century B.C. to the insecurity of the mid-ninth century B.C. During this period, the internal spiritual weakness of the two Israelite kingdoms that would one day spell their defeat was beginning to take shape. The book covers an era of dramatic change.

Purpose The author's purpose in writing 1 and 2 Kings was not primarily to provide historical information. Instead, the author wanted to evaluate Israel's spiritual odyssey that resulted in God's chastisement (2 Kin. 17:7–23; 24:18–20). As a result, the author devotes considerable attention to evaluating the kings according to the way they responded to the responsibilities detailed in the Mosaic and Davidic covenants. The author notes specifically those who handled such responsibilities well, such as Hezekiah and Josiah. Moreover, the ministry of the prophets as god's authoritative messengers is highlighted. Particular attention is given to the ministries of Elijah (1 Kin. 17–19; 21; 2 Kin. 2:1–11) and Elisha (2 Kin. 2:12–8:15).

in the entire account, the author repeatedly underscores the necessity for a genuinely godly walk—one in obedience to god's law. Particularly in the accounts relating to Elijah, the author contrasts the true worship of the living god with the false religion of the Canaanites (1 Kin. 17; 18). the main difference between the true god and the false gods is that the living god faithfully fulfills His promises (1 Kin. 8:20, 23–26). Hence, the author pays special attention to god's promises in the Davidic covenant. in that covenant, god had promised to bless israel (1 Kin. 2:4, 5, 45; 3:6, 14; 6:12, 13; 2 Kin. 8:19). Yet this blessing was tied to obedience: israel's only hope for god's blessing and true success lay in obedience to god's word (1 Kin. 2:2–4). the failures of the israelites to walk in god's ways and their subsequent chastisement can serve as a warning to us. At the same time, the prophets, who stood up for god's truth in a period of decline, can motivate us to stand for truth and righteousness in our time.

CHRIST IN THE SCRIPTURES

Although he was not all that intelligent morally, solomon's mind-boggling wisdom points ahead to the One the apostle Paul would call the "wisdom from god" (1 Cor. 1:30). Yet in spite of solomon's wisdom, splendor, and influence, when Jesus comes onto the scene and announces His arrival, it is only fitting that He say, "indeed a greater than solomon is here" (Matt. 12:42).

But solomon is not the only Messianic prototype in 1 Kings. Later in the book we are introduced to Elijah (18:1). it is true that he actually resembles John the Baptist more than Jesus, but his prophetic ministry—punctuated with miracles of feeding people with small amounts of food and raising a child from the dead—hints at the Messiah to come. And on the Mount of transfiguration, it is Moses and Elijah who appear with Jesus (Matt. 17:3).

Adonijah Presumes to Be King

Now King David was <sup>a</sup>old, <sup>1</sup>advanced in years; and they put covers on him, but he could not get warm. <sup>2</sup>Therefore his servants said to him, “Let a young woman, a virgin, be sought for our lord the king, and let her <sup>2</sup>stand before the king, and let her care for him; and let her lie in your bosom, that our lord the king may be warm.” <sup>3</sup>So they sought for a lovely young woman throughout all the territory of Israel, and found <sup>b</sup>Abishag the <sup>c</sup>Shunammite, and brought her to the king. <sup>4</sup>The young woman was very lovely; and she cared for the king, and served him; but the king did not know her.

BIBLE TIMES & CULTURE NOTES

Chronology of Kings

the chronology of 1 and 2 Kings is an ongoing problem for scholars. the dating may be affected by several factors:

1. Coregencies. In many cases, father and son may have ruled jointly for some years, making it almost impossible to date their reigns without overlapping.
2. Accession and non-accession-year dating. In accession-year dating, the reckoning of the new king’s reign does not begin officially until the new year. In non-accession-year dating, the last months of the preceding king’s reign are reckoned as one year, while the remaining months are also reckoned as a full year for the new ruler. To further complicate matters, Israel used non-accession-year dating until about 900 B.C., then changed to accession-year dating. Judah used accession-year dating until about 850 B.C., then adopted the other method.
3. Religious and civil new years. Years were reckoned both from tishri to tishri (the seventh month) and from nisan to nisan (the first month).

<sup>11</sup>So Nathan spoke to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon, saying, “Have you not heard that Adonijah the son of <sup>q</sup>Haggith has become king, and David our lord does not know it?” <sup>12</sup>Come, please, let me now give you advice, that you may save your own life and the life of your son Solomon. <sup>13</sup>Go immediately to King David

1:1–2:11 this section places Solomon’s reign in the context of the provisions of the Davidic covenant (2 sam. 7). the narrator emphasizes that Solomon’s accession to the throne was the Lord’s sovereign will.

1:1–3 David was about 70 years old at the time of his death (2 sam. 5:4; 1 Chr. 29:26–28), and the long years of warfare had doubtlessly taken their physical toll. warm: Using a healthy person’s body warmth to care for a sick person is a medical procedure noted by the second-century Greek physician Galen and the Jewish historian Josephus.

1:5 the name of David’s fourth son, Adonijah, means “the Lord is My Lord” (2 sam. 3:2–4). Amnon and Absalom, David’s first and third sons, both experienced violent deaths (2 sam. 13:28, 29; 18:14). Chileab, his second son, apparently died at an early age. I will be king: Adonijah, the oldest surviving son, might have assumed that he would inherit the crown even though Solomon had been designated as successor (1:13, 17, 30; 2:15; 1 Chr. 22:9, 10). Adonijah evidently knew of the intended royal succession, because he deliberately avoided inviting those who would support the king’s choice (vv. 8, 10). Adonijah thus exalted himself against God’s will.

1:6 rebuked: While David had been a most capable leader and a man of deep spiritual sensitivity, he had not exercised proper parental discipline of his children (2 sam. 13:21–39; 14:18–24).

1:7 in gaining important allies to support his quest for the crown, Adonijah sought the assistance of Joab, David’s general, and Abiathar, the high priest.

1:8 Zadok was descended from the priestly line of Eleazar (2 sam. 8:17). Benaiah served as the commander of the king’s bodyguard and was considered one of David’s mighty men (2 sam. 23:20–23). the prophet Nathan had long been David’s confidant, spiritual advisor, and conscience (2 sam. 12:1–25). Shimei is probably the man who later became Solomon’s district governor (4:18); he should not be confused with David’s foolish enemy, Shimei the son of Gera (see 2:8; 2 sam. 19:18–23).

1:9 Zohelath means “serpent.” Perhaps this was the shape of an outcropping of rock that was a well-known rendezvous point. Adonijah’s ceremonial meal was held at En Rogel near the intersection of the Hinnom and Kidron valleys, a place well situated for Adonijah’s purposes. En Rogel had positive associations with David (2 sam. 17:17).

1:11 it is a mark of David’s integrity that Nathan, who had confronted him with his terrible sin, was still welcome in the royal household (2 sam. 12:1–15). Nathan went to Bathsheba because she would not want to see Adonijah displace her son Solomon as heir to the throne. As David’s wife, Bathsheba had immediate access to him, and she also had considerable influence in civil and social matters (15:10–13; 19:1–3; 21:5–15, 25). if Adonijah became king she and Solomon could probably expect to die in a royal purge of all potential claimants to the throne (compare 15:29; 16:11; 2 Kin. 9:30–37; 10:1–17; 11:1).

1:12–27 Nathan and Bathsheba planned together (v. 14) how Nathan could confirm Bathsheba’s report to the king. Nathan knew of David’s solemn oath to Bathsheba (vv. 13, 30; see Lev. 19:12), but and say to him, ‘Did you not, my lord, O king, swear to your maidservant, saying, <sup>r</sup>“Assuredly your son Solomon shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne?”’ Why then has Adonijah become king?’ <sup>14</sup>Then, while you are still talking there with the king, I also will come in after you and confirm your words.’

<sup>15</sup>So Bathsheba went into the chamber to the king. (Now the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was serving the king.) <sup>16</sup>And Bathsheba bowed and did homage to the king. Then the king said, “What is your wish?”

<sup>17</sup>Then she said to him, “My lord, <sup>s</sup>you swore by the LORD your God to your maidservant, saying, ‘Assuredly Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne.’ <sup>18</sup>So now, look! Adonijah has become king; and now, my lord the king, you do not know about it. <sup>19</sup>He has sacrificed oxen and fattened cattle and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the sons of the king, Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander of the army; but Solomon your servant he has not invited. <sup>20</sup>And as for you, my lord, O king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, that you should tell them who will sit on the throne of my lord the king after him. <sup>21</sup>Otherwise it will happen, when my lord the king <sup>u</sup>rests with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon will be counted as offenders.”

<sup>22</sup>And just then, while she was still talking with the king, Nathan the prophet also came in. <sup>23</sup>So they told the king, saying, “Here is Nathan the prophet.” And when he came in before the king, he bowed down before the king with his face to the ground. <sup>24</sup>And Nathan said, “My lord, O king, have you said, ‘Adonijah shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne?’ <sup>25</sup>For he has gone down today, and has sacrificed oxen and fattened cattle and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the king’s sons, and

David Proclaims Solomon King

<sup>28</sup>Then King David answered and said, “Call Bathsheba to me.” So she came into the king’s presence and stood before the king. <sup>29</sup>And the king took an oath and said, <sup>x</sup>“As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my life from every distress, <sup>30</sup><sup>y</sup>just as I swore to you by the LORD God of Israel, saying, ‘Assuredly Solomon your son shall be king after me, and he shall sit on my throne in my place,’ so I certainly will do this day.”

<sup>32</sup>And King David said, “Call to me Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada.” So they came before the king. <sup>33</sup>The king also said to them, <sup>a</sup>“Take with you the servants of your lord, and have Solomon my son ride on my own <sup>b</sup>mule, and take him down to ‘Gihon.’ <sup>34</sup>There let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet <sup>d</sup>anoint him king over Israel; and <sup>e</sup>blow the horn, and say, <sup>1</sup>“Long live King Solomon!’” <sup>35</sup>Then you shall come up after him, and he shall come and sit on my throne, and he shall be king in my place. For I have appointed him to be ruler over Israel and Judah.”

<sup>36</sup>Benaiah the son of Jehoiada answered the king and said, <sup>f</sup>“Amen! May the LORD God of my lord the king say so was concerned that David might fail to act quickly against Adonijah’s attempted usurpation of the crown. Bathsheba’s report of the crisis was couched in terms that would provoke in David a proper sense of alarm.

1:25, 26 giving the names of Abiathar, who was with Adonijah, and of Zadok, Benaiah, and Solomon, who were not, helped David see the situation that was developing.

1:27 Has this thing been done: nathan’s question was both respectful and tactical. David had to act, even though he was reluctant to oppose his rebellious son (see the story of the rebellion of Absalom, 2 sam. 15–18).

1:29 An oath in the name of the LORD was the strongest oath a faithful israelite would take (see 17:1). During the Ot period, israelites would use very strong language in oaths (see ruth’s words to naomi, ruth 1:17). Jesus told His followers to avoid oaths completely (see Matt. 5:33–37). who has redeemed my life: in these words of praise, David celebrated the innumerable times that the Lord had acted on his behalf, to deliver him from his enemies and from his own sins. some of David’s psalms were written in connection with those times of god’s deliverance (Ps. 40; 142).

1:31 King David live forever: Bathsheba put her seal on the occasion by bowing before him and expressing the hope that his kingdom would never end.

1:32, 33 David summoned the recognized leaders in israel who had not been party to the conspiracy (vv. 8, 10, 26) to lend their support to the coronation of solomon. solomon’s prestige would be enhanced by riding upon the royal mule (2 sam. 13:29; 18:9; Zech. 9:9; Matt. 21:5). Gihon was a spring, the principal water supply for Jerusalem. it was in the Kidron valley east of the city.

1:34–37 the plans for public proclamation, with David’s sanction and with a priestly blessing, were designed to let the people of the city know that solomon was to be the next king of israel.

too. <sup>37g</sup>As the LORD has been with my lord the king, even so may He be with Solomon, and <sup>h</sup>make his throne greater than the throne of my lord King David.”

<sup>41</sup>Now Adonijah and all the guests who were with him heard it as they finished eating. And when Joab heard the sound of the horn, he said, “Why is the city in such a noisy uproar?” <sup>42</sup>While he was still speaking, there came <sup>n</sup>Jonathan, the son of Abiathar the priest. And Adonijah said to him, “Come in, for <sup>o</sup>you are a prominent man, and bring good news.”

<sup>43</sup>Then Jonathan answered and said to Adonijah, “No! Our lord King David has made Solomon king. <sup>44</sup>The king has sent with him Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, the Cherethites, and the Pelethites; and they have made him ride on the king’s mule. <sup>45</sup>So Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king at Gihon; and they have gone up from there rejoicing, so that the city is in an uproar. <sup>49</sup>So all the guests who were with Adonijah were afraid, and arose, and each one went his way.

<sup>52</sup>Then Solomon said, “If he proves himself a worthy man, <sup>v</sup>not one hair of him shall fall to the earth; but if wickedness is found in him, he shall die.” <sup>53</sup>So King Solomon sent them to bring him down from the altar. And he came and fell down before King Solomon; and Solomon said to him, “Go to your house.”

David’s Instructions to Solomon

2 Now <sup>a</sup>the days of David drew near that he should die, and he <sup>l</sup>charged Solomon his son, saying: <sup>2b</sup>“I go the way of all the earth; <sup>c</sup>be strong, therefore, and prove yourself a man. <sup>3</sup>And keep the charge of the LORD your God: to walk in His ways, to keep His statutes, His commandments, His judgments, and His testimonies, as it is written in the Law of Moses, that you may <sup>d</sup>prosper in all that you do and wherever you turn; <sup>4</sup>that the LORD may <sup>e</sup>fulfill His word which He spoke concerning me, saying, <sup>f</sup>“If your

1:38 t he Cherethites and Pelethites were David’s bodyguard (2 sam. 8:18; 15:18; 20:7). t their association with David stretched back to his days among the Philistines, with whom both groups are usually identified (1 sam. 30:13, 14; Ezek. 25:16; Zeph. 2:5).

1:39, 40 solomon’s anointing by the priest Zadok was normal procedure for an uninterrupted succession to the throne. When there was an interruption in the dynastic line, the anointing was performed by a prophet (see 19:15–18; 2 Kin. 9:1–10). Every priestly anointing would recall the words of Ps. 2, in accordance with the words of the Davidic covenant of 2 sam. 7. t he anointing announced that the anointed one was now the adopted son of the living god. Every anointing in the Ot points forward to the ultimate Anointed One, the Messiah Jesus. t he blowing of the horn celebrated and announced the anointing of a new king. t he joy of the people seemed boundless, as the earth seemed to split with their sound.

1:41–49 t he noise first, and then the news of the anointing of solomon at gihon, quickly reached Adonijah and his party at En <sup>r</sup>ogel just a few hundred feet further south (v. 9). t his led to the complete demoralization of the coconspirators of Adonijah.

1:50–53 Adonijah’s quest for mercy at the bloodstained (Lev. 4:7, 18, 25, 30) horns of the altar (v. 50) was in keeping with the traditional function of the altar as a haven of refuge for those who had committed unintentional crimes (Ex. 21:12–14). Later Joab also would try to find safety there (2:28).

1:53 Even though David was still alive (see 2:1–12) and the coronation had not yet taken place, the public celebration at his prophetic anointing at gihon (1:38–40) was basically the same as declaring Solomon israel’s king. t he name solomon is related to the Hebrew word for “peace,” and the verb meaning “to be complete.” Go to your house: solomon gave temporary clemency to his half brother, likely out of respect for his father.

2:1–3 he charged Solomon: David was following spiritual precedent as well as the custom of the ancient Middle East by passing on instruction to his son (see 1 Chr. 28; 29). David’s charge to solomon was reminiscent of Moses’ words to the israelites (Deut. 31:6) and the Lord’s admonition to Joshua (Josh. 1:6, 7, 9). t he specific instructions given here echo the standards of righteousness associated with the Mosaic covenant (Deut. 5:33; 8:6, 11; 11:1, 22).

2:4 not lack a man: god had made an unconditional covenant with David (2 sam. 7:12–16; 1 Chr. 17:11–14), granting to him a continual posterity and a royal dynasty. Although the Davidic covenant was an everlasting sacred promise, individual kings through their evil behavior could fail to receive the benefits of the covenant (see Ps. 89:3, 4, 14–24, 27–37). t he line of promise would be preserved and

And he shed the blood of war in peacetime, and put the blood of war on his belt that was around his waist, and on his sandals that were on his feet. <sup>6</sup>Therefore do <sup>l</sup>according to your wisdom, and do not let his gray hair go down to the grave in peace.

Death of David

Israel "would not lack a man," but there would come a time when the promised ruler would not be on an earthly throne (Hos. 3:4). God's prophets predict that the heir of the throne of David will yet reign over a repentant, regathered, and restored Israel (see Jer. 33:19-26; Ezek. 34:22-31) in fulfillment of the promises contained in the Abrahamic, Davidic, and new covenants (Ezek. 37:21-28; Mic. 7:18-20). The text reveals that all this will be realized in Jesus Christ, the savior King (Acts 3:25, 26; 15:16, 17; gal. 3:26-29; rev. 3:21), who is David's Heir in the ultimate sense (Acts 2:22-36).

2:5-9 David's parting advice singled out some problems that had not been solved. One concerned Joab, the bold, headstrong Joab had murdered two generals (2 sam. 3:27; 20:10) and David's son Absalom (2 sam. 18:14); he also had joined Adonijah's ill-fated conspiracy (1:7, 19). Another problem concerned Shimei, who had treated the king shamefully on a previous occasion (2 sam. 16:5-13; 19:16-23). gray hair: Both Joab and Shimei had lived a long time without requital for their wicked deeds. The aged king knew that these men would likely continue to be a problem to Solomon even as they had been to him.

2:7 David also included directions of kindness for the household of Barzillai, who had stood by him throughout the period associated with Absalom's rebellion (2 sam. 17:27-29; 19:31-39). to eat at the king's table carried with it not only distinct honor, but royal favor (see 2 sam. 9:7; 2 Kin. 25:29). It meant that the royal household would make provision for this family in perpetuity.

2:10 There is a so-called tomb of David today on Mt. Zion in Jerusalem marking approximately where he might have been buried.

omon sat on the throne of his father David; and his kingdom was <sup>g</sup>firmly established.

Solomon Executes Adonijah

<sup>13</sup>Now Adonijah the son of Haggith came to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon. So she said, <sup>z</sup>“Do you come peaceably?”

And he said, “Peaceably.” <sup>14</sup>Moreover he said, “I have something to say to you.”

And she said, “Say it.”

<sup>15</sup>Then he said, “You know that the kingdom was <sup>a</sup>mine, and all Israel had set their expectations on me, that I should reign. However, the kingdom has been turned over, and has become my brother’s; for <sup>b</sup>it was his from the LORD. <sup>16</sup>Now I ask one petition of you; do not <sup>3</sup>deny me.”

And she said to him, “Say it.”

<sup>17</sup>Then he said, “Please speak to King Solomon, for he will not refuse you, that he may give me <sup>c</sup>Abishag the Shunammite as wife.”

<sup>18</sup>So Bathsheba said, “Very well, I will speak for you to the king.”

<sup>19</sup>Bathsheba therefore went to King Solomon, to speak to him for Adonijah. And the king rose up to meet her and <sup>d</sup>bowed down to her, and sat down on his throne and had a throne set for the king’s mother; <sup>e</sup>so she sat at his right hand. <sup>20</sup>Then she said, “I desire one small petition of you; do not <sup>4</sup>refuse me.”

And the king said to her, “Ask it, my mother, for I will not refuse you.”

<sup>21</sup>So she said, “Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah your brother as wife.”

<sup>22</sup>And King Solomon answered and said to his mother, “Now why do you ask Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Ask for him the kingdom also—for he is my <sup>f</sup>older brother—for him, and for <sup>g</sup>Abiathar the priest, and for Joab the son of Zeruiah.” <sup>23</sup>Then King Solomon swore by the LORD, saying, <sup>h</sup>“May God do so to me, and more also, if Adonijah has not spoken this word against his own life! <sup>24</sup>Now therefore, as the LORD lives, who has confirmed me and set me on the throne of David my father, and who has established a <sup>5</sup>house for me, as He <sup>i</sup>promised, Adonijah shall be put to death today!”

<sup>25</sup>So King Solomon sent by the hand of <sup>j</sup>Benaiah the son of Jehoiada; and he struck him down, and he died.

Abiathar Exiled, Joab Executed

<sup>26</sup>And to Abiathar the priest the king said, “Go to <sup>k</sup>Anathoth, to your own fields, for <sup>6</sup>you are deserving of death; but I will not put you to death at this time, <sup>l</sup>because you carried the ark of the Lord God before my father David, and because you were afflicted every time my father was afflicted.” <sup>27</sup>So Solomon removed Abiathar from being priest to the LORD, that he might <sup>m</sup>fulfill the word of the LORD which He spoke concerning the house of Eli at Shiloh.

<sup>28</sup>Then news came to Joab, for Joab <sup>n</sup>had defected to Adonijah, though he had not defected to Absalom. So Joab fled to the tabernacle of the LORD, and <sup>o</sup>took hold of the horns of the altar. <sup>29</sup>And King Solomon was told, “Joab has fled to the tabernacle of the LORD; there he is, by the altar.” Then Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, saying, “Go, <sup>p</sup>strike him down.” <sup>30</sup>So Benaiah went to the tabernacle of the LORD, and said to him, “Thus says the king, <sup>q</sup>‘Come out!’”

And he said, “No, but I will die here.” And Benaiah brought back word to the king, saying, “Thus said Joab, and thus he answered me.”

<sup>31</sup>Then the king said to him, <sup>r</sup>“Do as he has said, and strike him down and bury him, <sup>s</sup>that you may take away from me and from the house of my father the innocent blood which Joab shed. <sup>32</sup>So the LORD <sup>t</sup>will return his <sup>7</sup>blood on his head, because he struck down two men more righteous <sup>u</sup>and better than he, and killed them with the sword—<sup>v</sup>Abner the son of Ner, the commander of the army of Israel, and <sup>w</sup>Amasa the son of Jether, the commander of the army of Judah—though my father David did not know

2:13, 17 come peaceably: Adonijah would have Bathsheba believe that his request for Abishag was simply compensation for not receiving the crown that all had expected to go to him. Yet Adonijah’s plea carried with it serious ramifications. Taking a member of the king’s harem would normally be interpreted as a claim to the throne (2 sam. 3:7-10; 12:8; 16:21, 22). Abishag had cared for David in his old age (1:1-4, 15).

2:22 the kingdom also: Solomon not only saw through Adonijah’s plot, but recognized Joab and Abiathar as fellow conspirators. All three were dealt with severely (vv. 23-35).

2:25 hand of Benaiah: His mighty man of David did not participate in Adonijah’s plots (1:8, 26). Furthermore, he participated in the anointing of Solomon at Gihon (1:38).

2:27 When Abiathar was removed from office as a priest, his influence was greatly restricted. Solomon spared Abiathar’s life in recognition of his past service to God and David (2 sam. 15:24, 29; 1 Chr. 15:11-15). With this act God’s word to Eli came to fulfillment. Eli’s descendants were removed from serving the Lord (1 sam. 2:30-33).

2:28 Because Joab was a murderer (2 sam. 3:27; 18:14; 20:10), he could not claim the protective sanctity of the horns of the altar (1:50). Therefore, he could not escape execution (vv. 29-31).

it. <sup>33</sup> Their blood shall therefore return upon the head of Joab and <sup>x</sup> upon the head of his descendants forever. <sup>y</sup> But upon David and his descendants, upon his house and his throne, there shall be peace forever from the LORD.”

<sup>34</sup> So Benaiah the son of Jehoiada went up and struck and killed him; and he was buried in his own house in the wilderness. <sup>35</sup> The king put Benaiah the son of Jehoiada in his place over the army, and the king put <sup>z</sup> Zadok the priest in the place of <sup>a</sup> Abiathar.

Shimei Executed

<sup>36</sup> Then the king sent and called for <sup>b</sup> Shimei, and said to him, “Build yourself a house in Jerusalem and dwell there, and do not go out from there anywhere. <sup>37</sup> For it shall be, on the day you go out and cross <sup>c</sup> the Brook Kidron, know for certain you shall surely die; <sup>d</sup> your <sup>e</sup> blood shall be on your own head.”

<sup>38</sup> And Shimei said to the king, “The saying is good. As my lord the king has said, so your servant will do.” So Shimei dwelt in Jerusalem many days.

<sup>39</sup> Now it happened at the end of three years, that two slaves of Shimei ran away to <sup>e</sup> Achish the son of Maachah, king of Gath. And they told Shimei, saying, “Look, your slaves are in Gath!” <sup>40</sup> So Shimei arose, saddled his donkey, and went to Achish at Gath to seek his slaves. And Shimei went and brought his slaves from Gath. <sup>41</sup> And Solomon was told that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath and had come back. <sup>42</sup> Then the king sent and called for Shimei, and said to him, “Did I not make you swear by the LORD, and warn you, saying, ‘Know for certain that on the day you go out and travel anywhere, you shall surely die?’ And you said to me, ‘The word I have heard is good.’ <sup>43</sup> Why then have you not kept the oath of the LORD and the commandment that I gave you?” <sup>44</sup> The king said more-

<sup>46</sup> So the king commanded Benaiah the son of Jehoiada; and he went out and struck him down, and he died. Thus the <sup>i</sup> kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon.

Solomon Requests Wisdom

<sup>6</sup> <sup>m</sup> And Solomon said: “You have shown great mercy to Your servant David my father, because he <sup>n</sup> walked before You in truth, in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with You; You have continued this great kindness for him, and You <sup>o</sup> have given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day. <sup>7</sup> Now, O LORD my God, You have made Your servant king instead of my father David, but I am a <sup>p</sup> little child; I do not know how

2:35 solomon then decisively appointed his two loyalists to the positions vacated. Benaiah became the captain of the army and Zadok the high priest. Zadok was a descendant of Eleazar, the son of Aaron (see 1 Chr. 6:4-8).

2:36-46 At first solomon placed Shimei under an extended house arrest rather than executing him outright for his shameful treatment of David (see 2:8, 9). However, shimei felt he must pursue two slaves that had run away. t his disobedience led to his death. all the wickedness: shimei had openly opposed and cursed David (2 sam. 16:5-13; 19:16-23). He openly violated the terms of the agreement with solomon (vv. 36, 37). By executing Joab and shimei and removing Abiathar, solomon fulfilled David’s instructions to him (vv. 5, 8) and also solved the problem of a hostile high priest.

3:1 married: in the ancient Middle East, political alliances were often ratified by the marriage of the son of one king to the daughter of another. Except in unusual circumstances, the pharaohs of Egypt did not observe this custom (but see 1 Chr. 4:17, 18). t herefore, the giving of Pharaoh’s daughter to solomon attested to the israelite king’s growing prestige and importance to the Egyptian king. Pharaoh gave the important town of ezer to the couple as a wedding present (9:16). house of the Lord: Both solomon’s palace and the temple are called a house. Just as solomon occupied the palace, the Lord was considered uniquely present with His people in the temple.

3:2 Whether the worship ceremonies took place in specially constructed enclosures or at an open-air sanctuary (13:32), such hilltop areas or high places provided a setting where Canaanite religious rites could be infiltrated into israel’s worship (11:7; 2 Kin. 16:4).

3:5 Gibeon is a hill about six miles northwest of Jerusalem.

3:7 t he term for child often refers to a servant or to an inexperienced person still in training for a profession (see 19:21; 20:14, 15; 2 Kin. 4:12). With proper humility, solomon stressed his relative youth and inexperience.

to go out or come in. <sup>8</sup>And Your servant is in the midst of Your people whom You <sup>v</sup>have chosen, a great people, <sup>s</sup>too numerous to be numbered or counted. <sup>9</sup>Therefore give to Your servant an <sup>2</sup>understanding heart <sup>u</sup>to judge Your people, that I may <sup>v</sup>discern between good and evil. For who is able to judge this great people of Yours?"

<sup>10</sup>The speech pleased the Lord, that Solomon had asked this thing. <sup>11</sup>Then God said to him: "Because you have asked this thing, and have <sup>w</sup>not asked long life for yourself, nor have asked riches for yourself, nor have asked the life of your enemies, but have asked for yourself understanding to discern justice, <sup>12,x</sup>behold, I have done according to your words; <sup>y</sup>see, I have given you a wise and understanding heart, so that there has not been anyone like you before you, nor shall any like you arise after you. <sup>13</sup>And I have also <sup>z</sup>given you what you have not asked: both <sup>a</sup>riches and honor, so that there shall not be anyone like you among the kings all your days. <sup>14</sup>So <sup>b</sup>if you walk in My ways, to keep My statutes and My commandments, <sup>c</sup>as your father David walked, then I will <sup>d</sup>lengthen <sup>3</sup>your days."

Solomon's Wise Judgment

<sup>16</sup>Now two women who were harlots came to the king, and <sup>g</sup>stood before him. <sup>17</sup>And one woman said, "O my lord, this woman and I dwell in the same house; and I gave birth while she was in the house. <sup>18</sup>Then it happened, the third day after I had given birth, that this woman also gave birth. And we were together; <sup>4</sup>no one was with us in the house, except the two of us in the house. <sup>19</sup>And this woman's son died in the night, because she lay on him. <sup>20</sup>So she arose in the middle of the night and took my son from my side, while your maidservant slept, and laid him in her bosom, and laid her dead child in my bosom. <sup>21</sup>And when I rose in the morning to nurse my son, there he was, dead. But when I had examined him in the morning, indeed, he was not my son whom I had borne."

<sup>22</sup>Then the other woman said, "No! But the living one is my son, and the dead one is your son."

And the first woman said, "No! But the dead one is your son, and the living one is my son."

Thus they spoke before the king.

<sup>23</sup>And the king said, "The one says, 'This is my son, who lives, and your son is the dead one'; and the other says, 'No! But your son is the dead one, and my son is the living one.'" <sup>24</sup>Then the king said, "Bring me a sword." So they brought a sword before the king. <sup>25</sup>And the king said, "Divide the living child in two, and give half to one, and half to the other."

<sup>26</sup>Then the woman whose son was living spoke to the king, for <sup>h</sup>she yearned with compassion for her son; and she said, "O my lord, give her the living child, and by no means kill him!"

But the other said, "Let him be neither mine nor yours, but divide him."

<sup>27</sup>So the king answered and said, "Give the first woman the living child, and by no means kill him; she is his mother."

<sup>28</sup>And all Israel heard of the judgment which the king had rendered; and they feared the king, for they saw that the <sup>i</sup>wisdom of God was in him to administer justice.

Solomon's Administration

4 So King Solomon was king over all Israel. <sup>2</sup>And these were his officials: Azariah the son of Zadok, the priest; <sup>3</sup>Eliohoreph and Ahijah, the sons of Shisha,

3:9 an understanding heart: t he phrase suggested not only the willingness and patience to listen to all sides of an issue, but also the desire for the ability to reason.

3:12 god answered solomon's request in abundant measure, granting him not only an understanding heart, but one that was wise for handling the crucial affairs of life in a fair and skillful manner. t he abilities that god gave to solomon were truly exceptional.

3:13 what you have not asked: Because s olomon chose a greater gift than riches and honor, god promised him everything else as well (Matt. 6:33).

3:15 a dream: Dreams were one of the ways that god revealed His will (gen. 20:3; 37:5; Dan. 2:3). Although David had brought the ark of the covenant to Jerusalem (2 sam. 6), the tabernacle and its furnishings remained in gibeon, which served as an important worship center (v. 4; see 2 Chr. 1:3-5).

3:16 t he fact that harlots could appear before s olomon suggested that he made himself available to persons of all stations of life who had a legitimate claim for justice.

3:26 yearned with compassion: Her love as a mother made her give up her own child rather than see it die.

3:28 wisdom . . . justice: t hese important qualities which marked solomon's reign from the beginning would characterize the rule of israel's Messiah in a far greater way (is. 11:1-5).

4:1-6 solomon's wisdom was also demonstrated in his appointment of proper officials for all the needs of state. For civil affairs, solomon appointed scribes and a chief officer over the district officials (Azariah). He chose Benaiah to replace Joab as commander for the army (see also 2:35) and a head of forced labor. As a part of his personal staff, he appointed a special advisor, the king's friend; a chief of protocol, the recorder; and a minister of palace and state, to be over the household. t his last position became a powerful office in royal administration. Men who occupied this powerful position were Obadiah (18:3), Eliakim (2 Kin. 18:18), and shebna (is. 22:15).

4:18 n not the same person as the Shimei at 2:8. t his shimei may be the shimei of 1:8—a supporter of Solomon.

4:20, 21 numerous as the sand: God fulfilled His promise to make Abraham's descendants numerous, a great nation (gen. 15:5, 18). Solomon's kingdom extended far beyond the traditional boundaries of Israel. t through this greatly expanded empire, Jewish people not only traveled to far-flung regions, but they took with them their knowledge of the living God. River: t the Euphrates.

4:22 kors: t the kor was the same size as the homer (Ezek. 45:14), six and a quarter bushels, a normal load for a donkey.

4:23 oxen ... fowl: Meat was a rare item in a person's diet, suggestive of a feast (Prov. 9:2).

4:24, 25 t he name Solomon is related to the word peace. it is fitting for this name to be associated with the time of Israel's great reign of peace. t the vine and fig tree are symbols of God's blessing for those who obey His covenant.

4:26 forty thousand stalls: some Greek manuscripts read four thousand (a figure also found in 2 Chr. 9:25). According to 10:26 and 2 Chr. 1:14, Solomon had 1,400 chariots. since three horses were considered a chariot team and would be quartered together, four thousand would be about the number of horses Solomon needed.

4:27, 28 t the immense provisions needed for the royal house (vv. 22, 23) were supplied monthly by each of the 12 governors (see 4:7–19).

4:29 in addition to giving Solomon, literally, a hearing (3:9) and discerning (3:12) heart, God gave him largeness (or breadth) of heart. All three Hebrew terms underscore Solomon's understanding. t this verse describes Solomon's understanding as limitless and immeasurable, like the sand on the seashore, just like the numbers of the Israelites (v. 20).

4:30 t the term men of the East has been associated with Mesopotamia (gen. 29:1), the east bank of the Jordan (is. 11:14), or with Arabia in general (Judg. 6:3, 33; 7:12). All these are places whose inhabitants had a reputation for wisdom (see Obad. 8). t the fabled reputation of the wisdom of Egypt had been attested to in Egyptian literature for more than a millennium before Solomon's time.

4:31 Ethan the Ezrahite: see the title of Ps. 89. Heman: see 1 Chr. 16:42 (where Jeduthun may be the same as Ethan).

his fame was in all the surrounding nations. <sup>32h</sup>He spoke three thousand proverbs, and his <sup>i</sup>songs were one thousand and five. <sup>33</sup>Also he spoke of trees, from the cedar tree of Lebanon even to the hyssop that springs out of the wall; he spoke also of animals, of birds, of creeping things, and of fish. <sup>34</sup>And men of all nations, from all the kings of the earth who had heard of his wisdom, <sup>j</sup>came to hear the wisdom of Solomon.

Solomon Prepares to Build the Temple

- <sup>3</sup> <sup>d</sup>You know how my father David could not build a house for the name of the LORD his God <sup>e</sup>because of the wars which were fought against him on every side, until the LORD put <sup>1</sup>his foes under the soles of his feet.
- <sup>4</sup> But now the LORD my God has given me <sup>f</sup>rest<sup>2</sup> on every side; there is neither adversary nor <sup>3</sup>evil occurrence.
- <sup>5</sup> <sup>g</sup>And behold, <sup>4</sup>I propose to build a house for the name of the LORD my God, <sup>h</sup>as the LORD spoke to my father David, saying, “Your son, whom I will set on your throne in your place, he shall build the house for My name.”

wages for your servants according to whatever you say. For you know there is none among us who has skill to cut timber like the Sidonians.

<sup>7</sup>So it was, when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly and said, Blessed be the LORD this day, for He has given David a wise son over this great people!

<sup>8</sup>Then Hiram sent to Solomon, saying:

I have considered the message which you sent me, and I will do all you desire concerning the cedar and cypress logs.

<sup>9</sup> My servants shall bring them down <sup>j</sup>from Lebanon to the sea; I will float them in rafts by sea to the place you indicate to me, and will have them broken apart there; then you can take them away. And you shall fulfill my desire <sup>k</sup>by giving food for my household.

<sup>12</sup>So the LORD gave Solomon wisdom, <sup>m</sup>as He had promised him; and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and the two of them made a treaty together.

4:32–34 proverbs . . . songs: solomon was the author of a large part of the Book of Proverbs. He is also traditionally assigned the authorship of the song of solomon, Ps. 72 and 127, and Ecclesiastes.

5:1 Hiram: t his Phoenician king ruled over tyre for 34 years (978–944 B.C.). Loved reflects traditional Middle Eastern diplomatic vocabulary for political alliances and reinforces the biblical evidence that Hiram was David’s friend and ally (v. 12; see 2 sam. 5:11, 12). Hiram initiated the relationship with solomon, based on his earlier relationship with David. When solomon wrote to Hiram (vv. 2–6), he spoke freely of the Lord as the god of David and himself. Hiram responded with praise (v. 7).

5:3 house: Although god did not allow David to build the temple (2 sam. 7:13), David made preparations for it (1 Chr. 21:18—22:19; 28:9—29:19). name: god’s name was associated with His revealed character and reputation (see Ex. 3:14, 15), as well as His sovereign ownership of everything (Ex. 20:24; Ps. 22:22).

5:4 t he shift from “the LORD his god” (v. 3) to the Lord my God demonstrates that solomon and his father had the same faith.

5:6 cedars . . . Lebanon: in addition to the Bible, other ancient literature attests to the extensive use of wood from the cedar trees of Lebanon for building and furnishing temples and palaces. t he principal building material in Jerusalem was limestone. none among us: since israel did not have cedar forests like those in Lebanon, the israelites did not have workmen skilled in building with it.

5:7 Blessed be the Lord: t he acknowledgment of another people’s deity is well known both in the Bible (10:9; Dan. 3:28) and in other ancient Middle Eastern literature.

5:8–11 Hiram’s reply indicates that he was a shrewd businessman. n ot only would solomon pay the wages of Hiram’s servants, but he would make the payments to Hiram (vv. 6, 11; 2 Chr. 2:10). in addition to men and material, Hiram also supplied gold to solomon, for which he apparently demanded collateral (9:10–14), and which solomon could later redeem (2 Chr. 8:1, 2).

understanding

(Heb. tebunah) (4:29; Job 12:13; Prov. 3:13; 21:30) strong’s #8394

t he verbal root of this noun means “to distinguish” or “to discern.” t hus this noun conveys the idea of discernment. t he Hebrew word is directly connected to the idea of wisdom in 22 passages, including Prov. 8 where they are both personified (7:14; Ex. 31:3; Prov. 8:1; 10:23). Due to its close association with wisdom, the word occurs often in Proverbs. solomon contrasted understanding with folly (Prov. 14:29; 15:21; 18:2). He also exhorted his son to apply his heart to understanding (Prov. 2:2). Ultimately all discernment is from the Lord (Prov. 2:6), whose wisdom is infinite (Ps. 147:5; is. 40:28).

<sup>13</sup>Then King Solomon raised up a labor force out of all Israel; and the labor force was thirty thousand men. <sup>14</sup>And he sent them to Lebanon, ten thousand a month in shifts: they were one month in Lebanon and two months at home; <sup>15</sup>Adoniram was in charge of the labor force. <sup>15</sup><sup>o</sup>Solomon had seventy thousand who carried burdens, and eighty thousand who quarried stone in the mountains, <sup>16</sup>besides three thousand <sup>7</sup>three hundred from the <sup>o</sup>chiefs of Solomon's deputies, who supervised the people who labored in the work. <sup>17</sup>And the king commanded them to quarry large stones, costly stones, and <sup>q</sup>hewn stones, to lay the foundation of the <sup>8</sup>temple. <sup>18</sup>So Solomon's builders, Hiram's builders, and the Gebalites quarried them; and they prepared timber and stones to build the <sup>9</sup>temple.

6:1 four hundred and eightieth year: Many scholars take this date as the key date for establishing the time of the Exodus. the division of the kingdom at the death of solomon can be dated at 930 B.C. (11:41-43). Allowing 40 years for solomon's rule (11:42), the fourth year of his reign would be 966 B.C. if the Exodus took place 480 years before 966 B.C., its date was 1446 B.C. some consider this date too early for what occurs in the Book of Exodus and date the Exodus in the thirteenth century B.C. they suggest that the 480 years may be a round figure representing 12 generations, or that it may have been arrived at by adding the length of various concurrent or overlapping periods as though they were placed in one lineal string of eras.

6:2 house... for the LORD: For the interior of the temple solomon followed the floor plan of the tabernacle but doubled its dimensions. sixty cubits: the standard cubit was about 18 inches. the dimensions here are approximately 90 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 45 feet high. solomon's temple was constructed on Mt. Moriah (2 Chr. 3:1; see gen. 22:2) at the threshing floor of Ornan (or Araunah, 2 sam. 24:24). Like the tabernacle, the temple was divided into the Most Holy Place, the holy place, and an outer courtyard. the outer court contained a bronze altar for sacrifices and a brass basin set on the backs of 12 bulls. On the east end of the temple there was a porch. Before the entrance to the porch were two freestanding pillars: Jachin (to the right) and Boaz (to the left; see 7:21). Passing over the front porch one would enter the holy place. A veil separated the holy place from the Most Holy Place, in which were housed the ark and the mercy seat guarded by two cherubim. Only the priests could enter the temple itself to minister before the Lord.

6:5, 6 three-storied chambers were built along the temple's outer walls. A series of ledges served as resting places for the beams of the floors. this meant that the three floors were progressively wider as one went up.

6:7 the rock was precut at the quarry for its proper fit in the temple building, so no... tool was heard at the temple itself. this required a high degree of skill in measuring, cutting, and fitting the immense stones in place.

the stones that littered the landscape of the ancient Middle East were used in numerous ways. they were the building material for houses, city walls, and fortifications (5:17; 2 Kin. 12:12). stones were also used for religious purposes, to build sacred pillars (gen. 35:14) and altars (Deut. 27:5). sometimes stones were piled up as a memorial that marked the site of a divine revelation (gen. 28:18, 22) or a significant event in the life of an individual (gen. 31:46) or a nation (4:6). Because a stone was commonly used as a foundation for a structure, god Himself was called the "stone of israel" (gen. 49:24). But isaiah also described the Lord as "a stone of stumbling" for those israelites who rejected Him (is. 8:14). these same images were applied to Jesus Christ in the nt (is. 28:16; 1 Pet. 2:4-8).

<sup>14</sup>So Solomon built the temple and finished it. <sup>15</sup>And he built the inside walls of the temple with cedar boards; from the floor of the temple to the ceiling he paneled the inside with wood; and he covered the floor of the temple with planks

6:11 word of the LORD: t his message to solomon might have come by means of a prophet. On other occasions, solomon had more personal encounters with the Lord (3:5; 9:2; 11:11).

6:12, 13 t he most important work of solomon was certainly the building of the temple. god promised to bless solomon and his work if he faithfully obeyed His commands.

6:19 The ark of the covenant of the LORD (Deut. 10:8; Josh. 3:11) is so named because it housed the two stone tablets of the covenant—the ten Commandments (Deut. 10:1–5). t he ark symbolized the presence of the sovereign god in the midst of His people (8:10, 11; Josh. 3:13).

6:20 the inner sanctuary: t he Most Holy Place was a cube of 30 feet. with pure gold: t he amount of gold is given as six hundred talents, or about 23 tons, in 2 Chr. 3:8.

Sparing No Expense

Whenever modern-day churches draw up plans and budgets for buildings in which to worship, they face an age-old tension: What is appropriate for a worship center in terms of size, materials, beauty, and expense? For solomon, there seems to have been only one answer to that question as he proposed to build god’s temple: spare no expense! Consider the costliness of solomon’s temple:

- It was made of the most precious of building materials, many of them imported: cedar (5:6), quarried stone (5:15–18), gold (6:20–22), olive wood (6:23–28, 31–33), cypress (6:34), and bronze (7:13–47).
- The project employed 30,000 laborers (5:13), 150,000 stonemasons and haulers (5:15), and 3,300 supervisors (5:16).
- The temple was paneled with cedar, some of which was ornately carved (6:9, 15–18).
- Its floors and walls were overlaid with gold (6:20–22).
- It was furnished with items of finely crafted wood and gold (6:23–35; 7:48–50).
- So much bronze was used that its weight (and therefore cost) was not determined (7:45–47).
- The work continued nonstop for seven years (6:37–38).

Was solomon justified in incurring such an expense? t he question is not easily answered.

On the one hand, the project contributed to a number of problems of solomon’s reign: heavy taxation, a growing underclass of foreigners, and the depletion of the forests of Lebanon. t he temple was not the sole cause of these troubles (9:15–19), but it was built with a policy of “only the best” that seemed to typify the solomonic kingdom.

On the other hand, solomon apparently recognized that architecture is not neutral; it makes a statement. t he temple was a remarkable work of art, built to the glory of god (8:12, 13). god apparently approved of solomon’s achievement, for He blessed the sanctuary with His presence (8:10, 11).

Yet even as the construction went forward, the Lord reminded His builder that what mattered was not a house of cedar and gold, but the keeping of the Law (6:11–13). Perhaps that is the most important architectural principle of all when it comes to houses of worship: it is not the size, beauty, or expense of the structure, but the sincere devotion and obedience of those who worship in the structure. After all, the Lord does not dwell only in sanctuaries built by people, but in the people themselves (8:27; Acts 7:48; 17:24; 1 Cor. 6:19, 20).

He stretched gold chains across the front of the inner sanctuary, and overlaid it with gold. <sup>22</sup> The whole temple he overlaid with gold, until he had finished all the temple; also he overlaid with gold <sup>n</sup> the entire altar that was by the inner sanctuary.

<sup>36</sup> And he built the <sup>s</sup> inner court with three rows of hewn stone and a row of cedar beams.

So he was <sup>u</sup> seven years in building it.

Solomon's Other Buildings

7 But Solomon took <sup>a</sup> thirteen years to build his own house; so he finished all his house.

6:23 t he two cherubim were overlaid with gold and set so as to face the door to the holy place (2 Chr. 3:12, 13). t hese cherubim were large, standing 15 feet high. t hey were in addition to the two cherubim on the mercy seat (8:6–8). A cherub was probably similar to the winged sphinxes common in ancient Middle Eastern sculpture. t hese creatures had a human face, a lion's body, and wings (see Ex. 25:19).

6:27 t he inner room symbolized the dwelling place of the living god among His people. Only one person would enter this room, and that was the high priest on one day of the year.

6:29, 30 t he decoration of the temple must have been exquisite. cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers: t hese same three figures are mentioned in vv. 32, 35. t he temple was decorated with beautiful carvings, even in places most people would never see. t he beauty of the building was a symbol of the beauty of god's presence.

6:31 t he entrance to the inner sanctuary was two doors made of olive wood. A veil or curtain hung there as well (Ex. 26:31–36; 2 Chr. 3:14).

6:33, 34 Double-leaved, foldable doors made of cypress wood gave access to the holy place.

6:36 t he use of the inner court was restricted to the priests.

6:37, 38 seven years: t he period of time was necessary because of the greatness of the task. s olomon had immense crews of men engaged in the building of the temple (see 5:13–18).

7:1, 2 s olomon's desire to complete the Lord's house before building his own house is commendable. House of the Forest of Lebanon: r ows of cedar pillars as well as the free use of cedar throughout this building, gave a forest-like appearance to it. t he building apparently was used at least in part as an armory (10:16, 17; is. 22:8).

gold

(Heb. zahab) (6:20; 2 sam. 21:4; 2 Chr. 9:1, 9; Job 23:10) strong's #2091

t his word almost always denotes the substance of gold, although occasionally it represents an alloy of gold (10:16) or the color gold (Zech. 4:12). gold symbolized wealth and was quite often mentioned along with silver, both of which were abundant during s olomon's reign (gen. 13:2; 2 Chr. 1:15; Ezek. 16:13). in the Ot, most references to gold relate to the tabernacle or to s olomon's temple and palace (Ex. 25:3; 2 Chr. 2:7; 9:13–27). Although gold was valued highly and continues to be, the scripture asserts that certain qualities are to be valued more: wisdom (Job 28:17), loving favor (Prov. 22:1), and the judgments, law, and commandments of the Lord (Ps. 19:9, 10; 119:72, 127).

<sup>6</sup>He also made the Hall of Pillars: its length was fifty cubits, and its width thirty cubits; and in front of them was a portico with pillars, and a canopy was in front of them.

<sup>7</sup>Then he made a hall for the throne, the Hall of Judgment, where he might judge; and it was paneled with cedar from floor to <sup>3</sup>ceiling.

<sup>8</sup>And the house where he dwelt had another court inside the hall, of like workmanship. Solomon also made a house like this hall for Pharaoh's daughter, <sup>c</sup>whom he had taken as wife.

7:6, 7 t he Hall of Pillars was a colonnaded entry hall to the Hall of Judgment. t he Hall of Judgment was where the king could hear and decide cases too difficult for lesser officials.

7:8 house where he dwelt: solomon's own house and that of Pharaoh's daughter are mentioned last. t he gate between the palace complex and the temple area is called "the gate of the escorts" (2 Kin. 11:19).

Solomon's Temple

t he temple of solomon, located near the king's palace, functioned as god's royal palace and israel's national center of worship. t he Lord said to solomon, "i have consecrated this house . . . to put My name there forever, and My eyes and My heart will be there perpetually" (1 Kin. 9:3). By its cosmological and royal symbolism, the sanctuary taught the absolute sovereignty of the Lord over the whole creation and his special headship over israel.

t he floor plan is a type that has a long history in semitic religion, particularly among the West semites. An early example of the tripartite division into portico, main hall, and inner sanctuary has been found at syrian Ebla (c. 2300 B.C.) and, much later but more contemporaneous with solomon, at 'Ain Dara in north syria (tenth century B.C.) and at tell taynat in southeast t urkey (eighth century B.C.). Like solomon's, the temples at 'Ain Dara and at tell taynat had three divisions, had two columns supporting the entrance, and were located adjacent to the royal palace.

Many archaeological parallels can be drawn to the methods of construction used in the temple, e.g., the "hewn stone and . . . cedar beams" technique described in 1 Kin. 6:36. interestingly, evidence for the largest bronze-casting industry ever found in the Holy Land comes from the same locale and period as that indicated in scripture: Zarethan in the Jordan valley c. 1000 B.C.

Temple source materials are subject to academic interpretation, and subsequent art reconstructions vary.

This model recognizes influence from the wilderness tabernacle, accepts general Near Eastern cultural diffusion, and rejects overt pagan Canaanite symbols. It uses known archaeological parallels to supplement the text and assumes interior dimensions from 1 Kin. 6:17–20.

<sup>9</sup>All these were of costly stones cut to size, trimmed with saws, inside and out, from the foundation to the eaves, and also on the outside to the great court. <sup>10</sup>The foundation was of costly stones, large stones, some ten cubits and some eight cubits. <sup>11</sup>And above were costly stones, hewn to size, and cedar wood. <sup>12</sup>The great court was enclosed with three rows of hewn stones and a row of cedar beams. man; his contributions to the work on the temple were extensive (7:40–47).

7:15–22 Among the major works of Hiram were the freestanding pillars of bronze near the entrance of the temple. <sup>t</sup>hese were objects of great beauty and gave the appearance of formidable strength. <sup>t</sup>hese pillars spoke of the power and might of god.

Temple Furnishings

glimpses of the rich ornamentation of Solomon's temple can be gained through recent discoveries that illumine the text of 1 Kin. 6–7.

A stone incense altar having four horns on the corners was found at Megiddo. it provides a clear idea of the shape of the gold incense altar in the temple.

4 TABLE FOR THE SHOWBREAD

<sup>t</sup>he table for the showbread was made of gold.

5 LAMPSTAND

ten lampstands were in the temple, five on each side of the sanctuary (1 Kin. 7:49), to which were added ten tables (2 Chr. 4:8). <sup>r</sup>itual sevenfold lamps have been found at several places in Israel, including Hazor and Dothan. <sup>t</sup>he stand itself is modeled on bronze ones from the excavations at Megiddo.

<sup>19</sup>The capitals which were on top of the pillars in the hall were in the shape of lilies, four cubits. <sup>20</sup>The capitals on the two pillars also had pomegranates above, by the convex surface which was next to the network; and there were <sup>j</sup>two hundred such pomegranates in rows on each of the capitals all around.

The Sea and the Oxen

The Carts and the Lavers

<sup>27</sup>He also made ten <sup>9</sup>carts of bronze; four cubits was the length of each cart, four cubits its width, and three cubits its height. <sup>28</sup>And this was the design of the carts: They had panels, and the panels were between frames; <sup>29</sup>on the panels that were between the frames were lions, oxen, and cherubim. And on the frames was a pedestal on top. Below the lions and oxen were wreaths of plaited work. <sup>30</sup>Every cart had four bronze wheels and axles of bronze, and its four feet had supports. Under the laver were supports of cast bronze beside each wreath. <sup>31</sup>Its opening inside the crown at the top was one cubit in diameter; and the opening was round, shaped like a pedestal, one and a half cubits in outside diameter; and also on the opening were engravings, but the panels were square, not round. <sup>32</sup>Under the panels were the four wheels, and the axles of the wheels were joined to the cart. The height of a wheel was one and a half cubits. <sup>33</sup>The workmanship of the wheels was like the workmanship of a chariot wheel; their axle pins, their rims, their spokes, and their hubs were all of cast bronze. <sup>34</sup>And there were four supports at the four corners of each cart; its supports were part of the cart itself. <sup>35</sup>On the top of the cart, at the height of half a cubit, it was perfectly round. And on the top of the cart, its flanges and its panels were of the same casting. <sup>36</sup>On the plates of its flanges and on its panels he engraved cherubim, lions, and palm trees, wherever there was a clear space on each, with wreaths all around. <sup>37</sup>Thus he made the ten carts. All of them were of <sup>1</sup>the same mold, one measure, and one shape.

Furnishings of the Temple

<sup>40</sup><sup>p</sup>Huram<sup>3</sup> made the lavers and the shovels and the bowls. So Hiram finished doing all the work that he was to do for King Solomon for the house of the LORD: <sup>41</sup>the two pillars, the two bowl-shaped capitals that were on top of the two pillars; the two <sup>9</sup>networks covering the two bowl-shaped capitals which were on top of the pillars; <sup>42</sup><sup>r</sup>four hundred pomegranates for the two networks (two rows of pomegranates for each network, to cover the two bowl-shaped capitals that were on

7:21 Jachin . . . Boaz: giving symbolic names to the pillars helped teach their meaning in the true worship of the living god. Jachin means “He Will Establish.” Boaz may mean “in Him is strength.” Another possible meaning is “He is Quick.” <sup>t</sup>these two free-standing pillars were placed near the porch in front of the temple (2 Chr. 3:17). <sup>t</sup>here is a question about the height of the capitals. Verse 16 records it as five cubits (as does Jer. 52:22), but 2 Kin. 25:17 as three cubits. <sup>t</sup>his apparent discrepancy may involve simply a difference in what was measured, with 2 Kin. 25:17 recording the size of only the upper portion of the capitals.

7:23–26 Cast in one piece and set upon 12 bronze oxen, the Sea of cast bronze replaced the laver of washings for the tabernacle (Ex. 30:17–21). While the quantity of water held by the sea is given here as two thousand baths (about 11,500 gallons), three thousand baths (17,500 gallons) is recorded in 2 Chr. 4:5. <sup>t</sup>he figure in 2 Chronicles could be an error of copying (in the previous verse the number three occurs four times), or possibly it is an example of using different standards for the length of the cubit.

7:27–38 <sup>t</sup>he ten carts each containing a bronze laver (v. 38) were arranged beside the molten sea, five on either side, and were used for rinsing the burnt offerings (2 Chr. 4:6). <sup>t</sup>these carts were both functional and ornamental.

top of the pillars); <sup>43</sup>the ten carts, and ten lavers on the carts; <sup>44</sup>one Sea, and twelve oxen under the Sea; <sup>45</sup>the pots, the shovels, and the bowls.

<sup>51</sup>So all the work that King Solomon had done for the house of the LORD was finished; and Solomon brought in the things <sup>a</sup>which his father David had dedicated: the silver and the gold and the furnishings. He put them in the treasuries of the house of the LORD.

The Ark Brought into the Temple

<sup>10</sup>And it came to pass, when the priests came out of the holy place, that the cloud <sup>p</sup>filled the house of the LORD, <sup>11</sup>so that the priests could not continue ministering because of the cloud; for the <sup>q</sup>glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD.

7:48 The furnishings of the temple were designed to correspond with similar furnishings in the tabernacle. t he golden altar replaced the altar of incense (Ex. 30:2-4), ten golden tables (2 Chr. 4:8) took the place of the table of the presence (Ex. 25:23-30), and ten lampstands were substituted for the one golden lampstand (Ex. 25:31-40). Although there were ten tables and lampstands where before there was one, their functions remained the same, all ten being considered one unit (see 2 Chr. 29:18).

7:51 t he gifts of David dedicated to service in the temple were probably stored in one of the side chambers. David's personal example of giving (see 1 Chr. 29:1-9) provided a high model of godly concern in leadership.

8:1 Having been brought to Jerusalem previously (2 sam. 6), the ark of the covenant was now put in its place in the temple. Because the temple was completed in the eighth month of s olomon's eleventh year of reign, s olomon must have waited some 11 months for the dedication of the temple. t his would allow all the furnishings to be completed and installed, final touches to be added, and ample preparation to be made for this solemn yet joyful event. t he feast of tabernacles, occurring at the conclusion of the ceremonial year and commemorating god's granting of rest in the Promised Land to His people would provide a particularly appropriate occasion. Moreover, the covenant renewal observed in connection with this great feast (Deut. 31:10) made this time all the more appropriate. Accordingly, the festal season was lengthened to two weeks to allow the sacredness and joy of these days to have their full effect (see 2 Chr. 5:11-13).

8:3, 4 t he holy ark was carried by the priests; all was done as god's law demanded.

8:5-7 t he joy of the people is seen in the abundance of sacrifices of sheep and oxen. t he placement of the holy ark in its proper place without incident was truly a reason to celebrate. t hey had brought the symbol of the living god into the shrine which had been built to honor Him.

8:8 poles could be seen: t his statement probably means that the carrying poles of the ark, which were not to be removed from their rings (Ex. 25:15), were so long that if one were to attempt to see their length, one would have to look into the Most Holy Place to see their ends. t he ark with its poles was thus aligned crosswise to the door (or north to south).

8:9 t he two tablets of stone upon which the ten Commandments were inscribed were known as the "tablets of the covenant" (Deut. 9:9) and were kept in the ark (Deut. 10:1-5, 8) along with the jar of manna (Ex. 16:33, 34) and Aaron's rod that budded (n um. 17:10).

8:10, 11 As a cloud had covered the tabernacle and god's glory had filled it when it was inaugurated (Ex. 40:34, 35), so now a cloud filled the temple. t his visible presence of god's dwelling with His people—sometimes called the "shekinah glory"—gave the people assurance and incentive for obedient and holy living.

12<sup>r</sup> Then Solomon spoke:

“The LORD said He would dwell <sup>s</sup> in the dark cloud.

13<sup>t</sup> I have surely built You an exalted house,

“And a place for You to dwell in forever.”

Solomon's Speech at Completion of the Work

14 Then the king turned around and <sup>v</sup> blessed the whole assembly of Israel, while all the assembly of Israel was standing. 15 And he said: <sup>w</sup> “Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who <sup>x</sup> spoke with His mouth to my father David, and with His hand has fulfilled it, saying, <sup>16</sup> “Since the day that I brought My people Israel out of Egypt, I have chosen no city from any tribe of Israel in which to build a house, that <sup>y</sup> My name might be there; but I chose <sup>z</sup> David to be over My people Israel.’ 17 Now <sup>a</sup> it was in the heart of my father David to build a <sup>4</sup> temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel. <sup>18<sup>b</sup></sup> But the LORD said to my father David, ‘Whereas it was in your heart to build a temple for My name, you did well that it was in your heart. <sup>19</sup> Nevertheless <sup>c</sup> you shall not build the temple, but your son who will come from your body, he shall build the temple for My name.’ <sup>20</sup> So the LORD has fulfilled His word which He spoke; and I have <sup>5</sup> filled the position of my father David, and sit on the throne of Israel, <sup>d</sup> as the LORD promised; and I have built a temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel. <sup>21</sup> And there I have made a place for the ark, in which is <sup>e</sup> the covenant of the

Solomon's Prayer of Dedication

22 Then Solomon stood before <sup>f</sup> the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the assembly of Israel, and <sup>g</sup> spread out his hands toward heaven; <sup>23</sup> and he said: “LORD God of Israel, <sup>h</sup> there is no God in heaven above or on earth below like You, <sup>i</sup> who keep Your covenant and mercy with Your servants who <sup>j</sup> walk before You with all their hearts. <sup>24</sup> You have kept what You promised Your servant David my father; You have both spoken with Your mouth and fulfilled it with Your hand, as it is this day. <sup>25</sup> Therefore, LORD God of Israel, now keep what You promised Your servant David my father, saying, <sup>k</sup> “You shall not fail to have a man sit before Me on the throne of Israel, only if your sons take heed to their way, that they walk before Me as you have walked before Me.’ <sup>26<sup>l</sup></sup> And now I pray, O God of Israel, let Your word come true, which You have spoken to Your servant David my father.

27<sup>m</sup> “But <sup>n</sup> will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, heaven and the <sup>n</sup> heaven of heavens cannot contain You. How much less this temple which I have built! <sup>28</sup> Yet regard the prayer of Your servant and his supplication, O LORD my God, and listen to the cry and the prayer which Your servant is praying before You today: <sup>29</sup> that Your eyes may be open toward this <sup>6</sup> temple night and day, toward the place of which You said, <sup>o</sup> “My name shall be <sup>p</sup> there,’ that You may hear the prayer which Your servant makes <sup>q</sup> toward this

8:12, 13 Then Solomon spoke: god’s dwelling in dark clouds is often mentioned in the scriptures (Ex. 19:9; 20:21). t his is a sign of His transcendence. Yet He is both near and far, both immanent and transcendent. god is obscured by a dark cloud; but at the same time He chooses to be present in His exalted house.

8:14–21 Here is a model for public declaration in a formal setting. t throughout there is glory given to the Lord, as well as a fair assessment of the work of His people in accomplishing His will.

8:20 the LORD has fulfilled: israel’s god is a keeper of promises. His promise to give Abraham’s descendants a land (gen. 15:13, 14, 18–21; see Josh. 14:12–15) had been provisionally realized (Josh. 21:43–45). solomon also appropriated god’s promise to David (see 2 sam. 7:12–18). s subsequent kings in the Davidic line could likewise by faith enjoy the blessings of god promised in the Davidic covenant (see Ps. 89:3, 4, 19–24, 27–37; see Ps. 2).

8:22–30 solomon had begun his reign with a conscious dependence on god (3:9). His long public prayer (vv. 22–53) recognized that continuing need in his life (vv. 26, 28) and the lives of his people (vv. 30, 31, 33, 35, 38, 44, 46–48). in his prayer solomon stressed god’s faithfulness, and the need for similar faithfulness on the part of israel, rulers and people alike, if god’s full blessings were to be realized.

8:27 heaven . . . temple: t he god of scripture is infinite; all that He has made, vast as creation may be, finally has its limits. n o mere building, n o matter how wonderful, can be thought of as the dwelling place of god. Yet in His grace the Lord condescends to be viewed as having His dwelling among men. god’s dwelling in a temple prefigured the incarnation when the Creator became man, born in a stable in Bethlehem.

supplication

(Heb. techinah) (8:28; Jer. 42:2, 9; Dan. 9:20) strong’s #8467

t his word signifies a petition for favor or mercy. supplication is almost always directed to god; but Jeremiah used the word twice to represent a formal petition he made to a king (Jer. 37:20; 38:26). Of the 24 occurrences of this word in the Ot, 13 are in connection with solomon’s prayer dedicating the temple (8:23–9:3; 2 Chr. 6:14–42). Other words with the same root (and indicating supplication) occur seven times in the same context. s supplication is generally a petition for god to be merciful in the impending distress; thus personal enemies are cited on several occasions (Ps. 55:1–3; 119:70; Jer. 36:7). t he Bible specifically records that god heard the supplications of David (Ps. 6:9), solomon (9:3), and of wicked King Manasseh, who humbled himself before god (2 Chr. 33:12, 13).

<sup>33</sup> “When Your people Israel are defeated before an enemy because they have sinned against You, and <sup>v</sup> when they turn back to You and confess Your name, and pray and make supplication to You in this temple, <sup>34</sup> then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of Your people Israel, and bring them back to the land which You gave to their <sup>w</sup> fathers.

<sup>35</sup> “When the heavens are shut up and there is no rain because they have sinned against You, when they pray toward this place and confess Your name, and turn from their sin because You afflict them, <sup>36</sup> then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of Your servants, Your people Israel, that You may <sup>y</sup> teach them <sup>z</sup> the good way in which they should walk; and send rain on Your land which You have given to Your people as an inheritance.

<sup>37</sup> “When there is famine in the land, pestilence or blight or mildew, locusts or grasshoppers; when their enemy besieges them in the land of their <sup>7</sup> cities; whatever plague or whatever sickness there is; <sup>38</sup> whatever prayer, whatever supplication is made by anyone, or by all Your people Israel, when each one knows the plague of his own heart, and spreads out his hands toward this temple: <sup>39</sup> then hear in heaven Your dwelling place, and forgive, and act, and give to everyone according to all his ways, whose heart You know (for You alone <sup>b</sup> know the hearts of all the sons of men), <sup>40</sup> <sup>c</sup> that they may fear You all the days that they live in the land which You gave to our fathers.

8:30 since god was present in the temple in Jerusalem, prayer was to be directed toward this place (see Ex. 15:17; Dan. 6:10).

8:31, 32 solomon’s first request asks for righteous judgment. in such situations where there was insufficient evidence to establish a charge, the accused was obliged to take an oath declaring his innocence.

8:33 sinned against You: solomon’s second request asks for forgiveness of sin, where sin against god has caused israel to be defeated.

8:35–40 solomon’s third and fourth requests deal with healing the land after distress or drought due to the people’s sin (see Deut. 28:21–24, 38, 42, 52, 59–61). the remedy in such cases of judgment is repentance and prayer for forgiveness, followed by renewed faithfulness to the standards of god’s covenant.

8:41–43 solomon’s fifth request deals with prayer by a foreigner. Unlike god’s people or resident aliens within the commonwealth of israel (see Deut. 10:18, 19), foreigners have no particular claim on the ear of god. But god’s people expected foreigners to be drawn to Him through the worship of His people.

8:44–53 solomon’s sixth and seventh requests concern matters relative to wartime situations. Battle (v. 44) was to be waged in accordance with divine directions (Deut. 20; 21:10–14) and could be lost by disobedience (see Deut. 28:64–68; Josh. 7). Believers must face all of life’s crucial encounters with trust in god and faithful adherence to the standards of His word (Ps. 91; 119:57–61, 161–168, 173–176).

Solomon Blesses the Assembly

<sup>54</sup>r And so it was, when Solomon had finished praying all this prayer and supplication to the LORD, that he arose from before the altar of the LORD, from kneeling on his knees with his hands spread up to heaven. <sup>55</sup>Then he stood <sup>s</sup>and blessed all the assembly of Israel with a loud voice, saying: <sup>56</sup>“Blessed be the LORD, who has given <sup>t</sup>rest<sup>2</sup> to His people Israel, according to all that He promised. <sup>u</sup>There has not failed one word of all His good promise, which He promised through His servant Moses. <sup>57</sup>May the LORD our God be with us, as He was with our fathers. <sup>v</sup>May He not leave us nor forsake us, <sup>58</sup>that He may <sup>w</sup>incline our hearts to Himself, to walk in all His ways, and to keep His commandments and His statutes and His judgments, which He commanded our fathers. <sup>59</sup>And may these words of mine, with which I have made supplication before the LORD, be near the LORD our God day and night, that He may maintain the cause of His servant and the cause of His people Israel, as each day may require, <sup>60</sup>x that all the peoples of the earth may know that <sup>y</sup>the LORD is God; there is no other. <sup>61</sup>Let your <sup>z</sup>heart therefore be <sup>3</sup>loyal to the LORD our God, to walk in His statutes and keep His commandments, as at this day.”

LORD, twenty-two thousand bulls and one hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the LORD. <sup>64</sup>On <sup>b</sup>the same day the king consecrated the middle of the court that was in front of the house of the LORD; for there he offered burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the <sup>c</sup>bronze altar that was before the LORD was too small to receive the burnt offerings, the grain offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings.

God's Second Appearance to Solomon

8:54 he arose . . . from kneeling: t he parallel account of 2 Chr. 6:12-42 records that solomon knelt on a tall platform that he had built for the occasion in order that all might see him praying before god. Chronicles reports that s olomon closed his prayer with a plea (see Ps. 132:8-10) that god would continue residing with His people and remembering His promises to David (2 Chr. 6:41, 42). t he writer of Kings records s olomon's dedicatory blessing on the congregation of israel, in which s olomon praises god for giving the people their present rest (vv. 54-66; see Deut. 12:9-25), invokes god's continued presence and direction of His people (vv. 57-60), and challenges the people to be loyal to god and His laws (v. 61). Chronicles adds that solomon's prayer and blessing were accompanied by heavenly fire that consumed the sacrifice on the altar (2 Chr. 7:1-3).

8:60 all the peoples: t his verse does not limit god to the Jews only but includes gentiles as well.

8:61 t he Hebrew term translated loyal basically means “at peace with,” hence, “complete” or “perfect” (see also 11:4; 15:3, 14).

8:62-66 t he ceremony concluded with many special sacrifices (v. 62) and ended on a high note of joyful (v. 66) praise and thanksgiving to god for His goodness.

9:1-9 the second time: god had appeared previously to solomon in gibeon (3:4-15), t he Lord's warning was a necessary reminder for solomon, who would come to compromise the conditions required for enjoying god's blessing. solomon would have to endure the consequences of disobedience (see 11:1-11).

but go and serve other gods and worship them, <sup>7m</sup> then I will <sup>2</sup> cut off Israel from the land which I have given them; and this house which I have consecrated <sup>n</sup> for My name I will cast out of My sight. <sup>o</sup> Israel will be a proverb and a byword among all peoples. <sup>8</sup> And as for <sup>p</sup> this house, which is exalted, everyone who passes by it will be astonished and will hiss, and say, <sup>q</sup> “Why has the LORD done thus to this land and to this house?” <sup>9</sup> Then they will answer, “Because they forsook the LORD their God, who brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have embraced other gods, and worshiped them and served them; therefore the LORD has brought all this <sup>r</sup> calamity on them.”

Solomon and Hiram Exchange Gifts

<sup>10</sup> Now <sup>s</sup> it happened at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the two houses, the house of the LORD and the king’s house <sup>11t</sup> (Hiram the king of Tyre had supplied Solomon with cedar and cypress and gold, as much as he desired), that King Solomon then gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee. <sup>12</sup> Then Hiram went from Tyre to see the cities which Solomon had given him, but they did not please him. <sup>13</sup> So he said, “What kind of cities are these which you have given me, my brother?” <sup>u</sup> And he called them the land of <sup>3</sup> Cabul, as they are to this day. <sup>14</sup> Then Hiram sent the king one hundred and twenty talents of gold.

Solomon’s Additional Achievements

9:10–14 t hese twenty cities (v. 11) lay east and southeast of Acco in the tribal allotment to Asher. Apparently they had been ceded to Hiram as collateral for the gold necessary for furnishing the temple and palace complex. Hiram’s displeasure with them would later result in Solomon’s redeeming the towns by repaying the debt in some other manner (see 2 Chr. 8:1, 2).

9:14 one hundred and twenty talents of gold: t his is an immense amount (see also the gift of the queen of sheba in 10:10). A talent was said to be the full load one man could carry (see 2 Kin. 5:23); it was equal to three thousand shekels, or about 70 pounds.

9:15 t he identification and location of the Millo are uncertain. Probably the word refers to architectural terraces and buttressing on the slope of the eastern hill of Jerusalem. Hazor, Megiddo, and Gezer: t hese three cities were important commercial, administrative, and military centers for Solomon. Archaeological excavations have un-

Forced Labor

Adoram (or Adoniram), David’s superintendent of forced labor, kept his job under Solomon. t he need for forced labor increased during Solomon’s reign because of the building of the temple, as well as the construction of palaces and fortifications. Solomon also had extensive personal properties that required maintenance and needed a large work squad. During Solomon’s reign, the superintendent of forced labor held an important office, for he supervised the work of thousands of people. Adoniram was responsible for 150,000 foreign men in the labor force with 3,600

Israelite supervisors over them. He also had 30,000 Israelites working for him, supervised by 300 officers. t he entire structure of nearly 184,000 men must have been well organized and carefully policed, but we have no way of knowing exactly how that was done. We do not know whether the army or a special force was responsible to see that the work was done.

covered common design elements in the walls and gates of all three. 9:16 Gezer, which had been a strong Canaanite city, was part of Ephraim’s territorial assignment. Ephraim had never taken Gezer; however, Egypt had conquered the city, its key location on the edge of the lowlands west of Jerusalem made it a splendid gift for Pharaoh to give on the occasion of his daughter’s marriage to Solomon. 9:17, 18 t hree cities were key to Solomon’s defensive strategy. Lower Beth Horon and Baalath served to defend Judah’s western front. Tadmor is probably the important commercial city in Syria, later known as Palmyra.

9:20, 21 t he five nations listed here are peoples who constituted the early inhabitants of Canaan. s everal such lists are given in the Ot (see Josh. 3:10). Solomon assigned their surviving members to work on public projects in accordance with the principle of compulsory labor (see 5:13).

<sup>25</sup><sup>q</sup>Now three times a year Solomon offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar which he had built for the LORD, and he burned incense with them on the altar that was before the LORD. So he finished the temple.

The Queen of Sheba's Praise of Solomon

king that he could not explain it to her. <sup>4</sup>And when the queen of Sheba had seen all the wisdom of Solomon, the house that he had built, <sup>5</sup>the food on his table, the seating of his servants, the service of his waiters and their apparel, his cup-bearers, <sup>c</sup>and his entryway by which he went up to the house of the LORD, there was no more spirit in her. <sup>6</sup>Then she said to the king: "It was a true report which I heard in my own land about your words and your wisdom. <sup>7</sup>However I did not believe the words until I came and saw with my own eyes; and indeed the half was not told me. Your wisdom and prosperity exceeded the fame of which I heard. <sup>8</sup><sup>d</sup>Happy are your men and happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you and hear your wisdom! <sup>9</sup><sup>e</sup>Blessed be the LORD your God, who <sup>f</sup>delighted in you, setting you on the throne of Israel! Because the LORD has loved Israel forever, therefore He made you king, <sup>g</sup>to do justice and righteousness."

<sup>13</sup>Now King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba all she desired, whatever she asked, besides what Solomon had given her according to the royal generosity. So she turned and went to her own country, she and her servants.

9:25 These three times a year included the Feasts of Unleavened Bread, Pentecost, and tabernacles (see Deut. 16:16). Not only did Solomon show himself a faithful spiritual shepherd by leading his people in worship, but continual attention to prescribed religious duties would keep the temple finished, or properly maintained.

9:26 Ezion Geber was at the head of the modern gulf of Aqaba. Its key location as an outlet to the Red Sea and the regions beyond made it commercially important to Solomon and to Hiram, his Phoenician trading partner (2 Chr. 8:17, 18).

9:28 One of the main commercial sites reached via Ezion Geber, Ophir may have supplied gold for Solomon to repay his debt to Hiram (see 5:8-11; 9:11-14). Solomon also received a generous gift of gold from the queen of Sheba (10:10).

10:1 Located in southwestern Arabia (present-day Yemen), Sheba was the homeland of the Sabaeans, a people whose far-flung commercial enterprises stretched from Syria to East Africa to distant India. The Sabaeans dealt in such precious commodities as gold, gemstones, perfumes, and rare spices. The queen of Sheba came to ask Solomon hard questions to satisfy her own mind and to examine his wisdom. She serves as an example of what must have happened on a lesser scale throughout the reign of Solomon. His wisdom, which became proverbial (4:29-34), was an attractive force. Wise men and sages from other cultures came to Jerusalem and learned of the wisdom that is rooted in the fear of God (Prov. 1:7).

10:3-9 Solomon's brilliant replies to the queen of Sheba's difficult questions (v. 3), as well as the skillful use of his wisdom for the needs and interests of his kingdom convinced her that such wisdom must be divinely bestowed. Her acknowledgment of Solomon's God and the Lord's covenant faithfulness toward Israel does not necessarily mean that she made a commitment of personal faith in the Lord. Such recognition of foreign deities was common in the literature of the ancient world. However, the possibility exists that she experienced a spiritual awakening as a result of her time with Solomon (see 5:7).

10:10 one hundred and twenty talents: Solomon used the gold not only to furnish the temple (6:20-35; 7:49-51) and palace (10:18-21) but also to make five hundred ornamental shields, which were placed in the House of the Forest of Lebanon (10:16, 17).

Solomon's Great Wealth

<sup>14</sup>The weight of gold that came to Solomon yearly was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold, <sup>15</sup>besides that from the <sup>1</sup>traveling merchants, from the income of traders, <sup>m</sup>from all the kings of Arabia, and from the governors of the country.

and gold, garments, armor, spices, horses, and mules, at a set rate year by year.

Solomon's Heart Turns from the LORD

11 But <sup>a</sup>King Solomon loved <sup>b</sup>many foreign women, as well as the daughter of Pharaoh: women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonians, and Hittites—<sup>2</sup>from the nations of whom the LORD had said to the children of Israel, <sup>c</sup>“You shall not intermarry with them, nor they with you. Surely they will turn away your hearts after their gods.” Solomon clung to these in love. <sup>3</sup>And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines; and his wives turned away his heart. <sup>4</sup>For it was so, when Solomon was old, <sup>d</sup>that his wives turned his heart after other gods; and his <sup>e</sup>heart was not <sup>1</sup>loyal to the LORD his God, <sup>f</sup>as was the heart of his father David. <sup>5</sup>For Solomon went after <sup>g</sup>Ashto-

10:16, 17 Made of wood (or basketwork) and covered with gold plating, these shields were intended for ceremonial occasions.

10:18 t the throne of ivory was probably made of wood inlaid with ivory, as well as being overlaid with finest gold. solomon received ivory as a result of his trading ventures with Hiram (v. 22).

10:22 solomon's merchant ships are linked to his commercial arrangements with Hiram.

10:24, 25 all the earth: t his phrase refers to the international reputation of solomon's wisdom.

10:26 one thousand four hundred chariots: t he reasonableness of the figure given here may be seen in that shalmaneser iii of Assyria reports that at the Battle of Qarqar (853 B.C.) he faced a combined enemy chariot force of 3,900, some two thousand of whom were supplied by israel.

10:27 silver . . . cedar: t he point is that israel under solomon enjoyed its greatest period of prosperity. t his time of prosperity and peace also must have allowed for the growth of scholarship and for arts and music.

10:28 Keveh is probably the city of Que attested in a ninth century B.C. inscription found in southern Asia Minor. Que is probably also the Cilicia of classical literature (see Acts 6:9).

11:1 many foreign women: t he word order in the Hebrew text emphasizes the word foreign, with a secondary emphasis on the adjective many. solomon had committed two egregious sins. taking foreign wives violated the Lord's prohibitions against marrying Canaanite women (v. 2; Ex. 34:12-17; Deut. 7:1-3); taking many wives violated the standard of monogamy established at the beginning (gen. 2:24, 25), and resulted in rampant polygamy, something god had also forbidden to israel's future kings (Deut. 17:17). Doubtless many of solomon's marriages were in accord with the common ancient Middle Eastern convention of sealing alliances by marriages between members of the royal houses contracting the alliances. solomon's yielding to the customs of the day would have serious spiritual consequences for himself (vv. 3-13) and his people (2 Kin. 17:7-20).

11:2 clung to these in love: Our harsh assessment of solomon's many wives is mitigated somewhat by the use of this phrase (compare also, “King solomon loved,” in v. 1).

11:3 seven hundred . . . three hundred: if the reference to 60 queens and 80 concubines in song 6:8 is to solomon's wives, it represents a much earlier period in solomon's reign.

11:4 Although it is true that David did not always live up to god's standards, he was loyal to god and trusted Him implicitly, even when he was rebuked for his sins (see 2 sam. 12:13; Ps. 32:1-5; 53:1-5). Because of the influence of his many wives, solomon compromised his faith by worshiping foreign gods.

11:5 Ashtoreth was a Canaanite goddess of love and war. Milcom was the national god of the Ammonites.

<sup>9</sup>So the LORD became angry with Solomon, because his heart had turned from the LORD God of Israel, <sup>m</sup>who had appeared to him twice, <sup>10</sup>and <sup>n</sup>had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods; but he did not keep what the LORD had commanded. <sup>11</sup>Therefore the LORD said to Solomon, “Because you have done this, and have not kept My covenant and My statutes, which I have commanded you, <sup>o</sup>I will surely tear the kingdom away from you and give it to your <sup>p</sup>servant. <sup>12</sup>Nevertheless I will not do it in your days, for the sake of your father David; I will tear it out of the hand of your son. <sup>13q</sup>However I will not tear away the whole kingdom; I will give <sup>r</sup>one tribe to your son <sup>s</sup>for the sake of My servant David, and for the sake of Jerusalem <sup>t</sup>which I have chosen.”

Adversaries of Solomon

Hadad was still a little child. <sup>18</sup>Then they arose from Midian and came to Paran; and they took men with them from Paran and came to Egypt, to Pharaoh king of Egypt, who gave him a house, apportioned food for him, and gave him land. <sup>19</sup>And Hadad found great favor in the sight of Pharaoh, so that he gave him as wife the sister of his own wife, that is, the sister of Queen Tahpenes. <sup>20</sup>Then the sister of Tahpenes bore him Genubath his son, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaoh's house. And Genubath was in Pharaoh's household among the sons of Pharaoh.

<sup>21x</sup>So when Hadad heard in Egypt that David <sup>4</sup>rested with his fathers, and that Joab the commander of the army was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, <sup>5</sup>“Let me depart, that I may go to my own country.”

<sup>22</sup>Then Pharaoh said to him, “But what have you lacked with me, that suddenly you seek to go to your own country?”

So he answered, “Nothing, but do let me go anyway.”

Jeroboam's Rebellion

11:7 t he use of a high place in association with the worship of foreign gods shows the terrible danger that the high places presented to israel (see 3:2-4; 14:23; see also Mic. 1:3). Chemosh was the national god of Moab. His worship was practiced repeatedly by god's people (see 2 Kin. 23:13). t he veneration of this deity is also attested in the recently discovered Ebla tablets in a form that suggests his association with the city of Carchemish along the upper bend of the Euphrates r iver. Molech is associated with human sacrifice and with Baal (Jer. 7:31, 32; 19:5, 6; 32:35).

11:9-13 god appeared twice before to s olomon (3:5; 9:2). solomon's spiritual odyssey may be seen in the details of his three audiences with god. While god graciously postponed the division of s olomon's kingdom until after his death, internal troubles appeared while he was still alive (vv. 14-40).

11:11 your servant: t hat is, Jeroboam the son of nebat (see 11:26; 12:20).

11:13 one tribe: t he tribe is Judah, the principal tribe of the southern kingdom. s imeon had assimilated with Judah by this time (see also 12:17, 20, 21).

11:14-22 Hadad the Edomite was one of the survivors who had escaped when David defeated the Edomite army (see 2 sam. 8:13, 14). Pharaoh's ready reception and favorable treatment of Hadad probably had political ramifications, the pharaoh seeing in him a potential future ally on israel's border.

11:23-25 Having escaped David's earlier campaigns against the Arameans (2 sam. 8:3-6), Rezon would later become king of Damascus and his people would remain a constant threat to israel.

11:26 t he Ephraimite Jeroboam, at first a highly gifted, trusted official for solomon (v. 28) would come under solomon's wrath (v. 40). Like Hadad the Edomite (v. 17), he fled to Egypt where he found refuge. Eventually Jeroboam was instrumental in bringing about the prophesied schism of the country (12:2-19). He became the first king of the northern kingdom (12:20).

11:26, 27 this is what caused: t he phrasing suggests that there was a problem in the building projects that led to Jeroboam's rebellion. t hese two verses explain something about Jeroboam's background. He was a major officer of one of the large work groups. Among the projects to which Jeroboam had been assigned were the building of the Millo (see at 9:15), and the repair of the City of David.

Zereda, whose mother's name was Zeruah, a widow, <sup>b</sup>also <sup>c</sup>rebelled against the king.

<sup>29</sup> Now it happened at that time, when Jeroboam went out of Jerusalem, that the prophet <sup>f</sup>Ahijah the Shilonite met him on the way; and he had clothed himself with a new garment, and the two were alone in the field. <sup>30</sup> Then Ahijah took hold of the new garment that was on him, and <sup>g</sup>tore it into twelve pieces. <sup>31</sup> And he said to Jeroboam, "Take for yourself ten pieces, for <sup>h</sup>thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Behold, I will tear the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon and will give ten tribes to you <sup>32</sup> (but he shall have one tribe for the sake of My servant David, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel), <sup>33</sup> <sup>i</sup>because <sup>7</sup>they have forsaken Me, and worshiped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the people of Ammon, and have not walked in My ways to do what is right in My eyes and keep My statutes and My judgments, as did his father David. <sup>34</sup> However I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand, because I have made him ruler all the days of his life for the sake of My servant David, whom I chose because he kept My commandments and

Death of Solomon

<sup>41</sup> Now <sup>o</sup>the rest of the acts of Solomon, all that he did, and his wisdom, are they not written in the book of the acts of Solomon? <sup>42</sup> <sup>p</sup>And the period that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel was forty years. <sup>43</sup> <sup>q</sup>Then Solomon <sup>8</sup>rested with his fathers, and was buried in the City of David his father. And Rehoboam his son reigned in his <sup>r</sup>place.

The Revolt Against Rehoboam

12 And <sup>a</sup>Rehoboam went to <sup>b</sup>Shechem, for all Israel had gone to Shechem to make him king. <sup>2</sup> So it

11:29 t he prophecy of Ahijah of shiloh was fulfilled literally (12:1–20). Ahijah, whose name means “My Brother is the Lord,” would remain god’s loyal prophet down into his old age (14:1–18).

11:30–32 god had already warned solomon that all but one tribe would be taken away from solomon’s heir (v. 13; see 12:20). Only ten tribes, however, are promised to Jeroboam. t he twelfth tribe might be simeon, which was absorbed by Judah. Possibly Benjamin existed as a buffer state between israel and Judah, at times linked with the southern kingdom (2 Chr. 11:3; 14:8) and at times with the northern kingdom.

11:33 they have forsaken Me: see the list of particulars in vv. 4–8.

11:36 t his is a biblical image of one of the divinely intended functions of Davidic kings in ancient israel. in the midst of the darkness of a pagan world, the Davidic kings were to be a lamp to the nations, in anticipation of the Coming One who is the Light of the World (see John 1:1–9; see also 15:4; 2 samuel 21:17; 2 Kin. 8:19; 2 Chr. 21:7).

11:38 an enduring house: Although god gave Jeroboam the opportunity to establish a lasting dynasty, he proved unworthy (see 12:25–33; 14:10–18). Jeroboam’s name would forever be associated with the spiritual infidelity that would ultimately bring the northern kingdom to ruin (see 2 Kin. 17:21–23).

11:40 solomon, whose reign was characterized by peace more than that of any other king in Jerusalem (see again 4:24), ended his life in strife as he sought to kill Jeroboam. Shishak (or sheshonq i, 945–924 B.C.) was the first paraoh of Egypt’s strong twenty-second dynasty. ironically, this future destroyer of israel appears here as a protector of one of its future kings.

11:41–43 Because of his considerable sin, the golden era that solomon initiated would die with him. Had he lived out his life in righteousness, and had he taught his son r ehoboam to succeed him in true justice, the golden era might have endured for generations.

11:41 The book of the acts of Solomon is mentioned only here; compare the references to the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of israel (14:19) and the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah (14:29). it is likely that the author of the present Book of Kings drew on these sources.

11:42 t he symmetry of the forty years (see also 2:10–12) of the reigns of David and solomon may be a providential congruity, speaking of god’s blessing on each of their reigns.

11:43 rested with his fathers: t he meaning of this idiom in the Hebrew Bible is burial in the same place as one’s ancestors. t here may also be an indirect reference to life after death. Rehoboam his son: it is usual in a royal obituary to state who it was that followed the deceased on the throne. t his provides a sense of continuity.

12:1 Rehoboam became a means of prompting civil war and the secession of the ten northern tribes. situated in Ephraim, Shechem was an important center of israelite activity. By going for his coronation to a place with ancient ties to the history of his people, and which was situated in the region of the northern tribes, doubtless r ehoboam believed that he was making a strategic move. t he term

The Divided Kingdom

930–586 B.C.

The division of Solomon's kingdom had geographical and political causes, with roots reaching back to earlier tribal rivalries. Israel was closer to Phoenician cities and major trade routes than Judah, whose heartland was a plateau-like ridge higher than the district around Samaria.

The Syrian wars were fierce and destructive contests between the kingdom of Damascus and Israel during the greater part of the ninth century. These wars ended with the conquests of Jeroboam II and an era of great prosperity for Israel.

The campaigns of Tiglath-Pileser III of Assyria were enormously destructive, following a celebrated pattern of siege warfare. By 732 B.C. the northern kingdom was tributary to the Assyrians.

1 The final capture and destruction of Samaria took place in 722/721 B.C. after a long siege. The surviving inhabitants were exiled to distant places in the Assyrian Empire, and new settlers were brought to Samaria.

2 The Benjamite frontier was an issue that brought Judah and Israel into conflict early in their history. After a struggle between Asa and Baasha, the border was finally fixed south of Bethel in the territory of Benjamin.

The role of Mesha, king of Moab, was first that of a vassal and then a rebel, as both the Bible and the Mesha Stele make clear.

Periods of expansion and contraction characterized the two kingdoms during the period 930–722 B.C. Judah was to some extent protected by its geography, but Israel was forced to develop an efficient standing army with substantial chariotry to defend against frequent attacks. Assyrian records mention that Ahab of Israel provided 2,000 chariots—by far the largest contingent in the anti-Assyrian alliance—in the battle of Qarqar in 853 B.C.

3 Judah's prosperity was intermittent and depended in large part on control of the trade routes to Egypt and the Red Sea. Border fortresses in the Judahite desert guarded the approaches from Edom. The "front door" of Judah was through Lachish and from there up to Hebron and Jerusalem. The capital was besieged many times, most forcefully by the Assyrians in 701 B.C. and by the Babylonians in 597 and 586, leading to the destruction of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar and marking the end of the monarchy.

An impressive devotion to the Davidic dynastic line characterized the southern kingdom and helped to maintain stability, in contrast to the more mercurial northern kingdom.

happened, when <sup>c</sup>Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard it (he was still in <sup>d</sup>Egypt, for he had fled from the presence of King Solomon and had been dwelling in Egypt), <sup>3</sup>that they sent and called him. Then Jeroboam and the whole assembly of Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying, <sup>4</sup>“Your father made our <sup>e</sup>yoke <sup>f</sup>heavy; now therefore, lighten the burdensome service of your father, and his heavy yoke which he put on us, and we will serve you.”

<sup>5</sup>So he said to them, “Depart for three days, then come back to me.” And the people departed.

<sup>6</sup>Then King Rehoboam consulted the elders who stood before his father Solomon while he still lived, and he said, “How do you advise me to answer these people?”

<sup>7</sup>And they spoke to him, saying, <sup>f</sup>“If you will be a servant to these people today, and serve them, and answer them, and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants forever.”

<sup>8</sup>But he rejected the advice which the elders had given him, and consulted the young men who had grown up with him, who stood before him. <sup>9</sup>And he said to them, “What advice do you give? How should we answer this people who have spoken to me, saying, ‘Lighten the yoke which your father put on us?’”

<sup>10</sup>Then the young men who had grown up with him spoke to him, saying, “Thus you should speak to this people who have spoken to you, saying, ‘Your father made our yoke heavy, but you make it lighter on us’—thus you shall say to them: ‘My little finger shall be thicker than my father’s waist! <sup>11</sup>And now, whereas my father put a heavy yoke on you, I will add to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with <sup>2</sup>scourges!’”

<sup>12</sup>So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had directed, saying, “Come back to me the third day.” <sup>13</sup>Then the king answered

BIBLE TIMES & CULTURE NOTES

The Divided Kingdom

tensions had existed between the tribes since the time of the judges, especially between Judah in the south and Ephraim, the most influential tribe in the north. Solomon’s taxation to fund the building of the temple and palace in the southern city of Jerusalem alienated the northern tribes even further. After Solomon’s death, his son Rehoboam was approached by the people of Israel with a request for tax relief. Rehoboam rejected their request, and the nation split into two kingdoms. Rehoboam remained king of the southern kingdom (Judah) while Jeroboam became king of the northern kingdom (Israel). The northern kingdom of Israel collapsed in 722 B.C. when the Assyrians destroyed its capital, Samaria. The southern kingdom of Judah survived until 586 B.C., when it fell to the Babylonians.

the people <sup>3</sup>roughly, and rejected the advice which the elders had given him; <sup>14</sup>and he spoke to them according to the advice of the young men, saying, “My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with <sup>4</sup>scourges!” <sup>15</sup>So the king did not listen to the people; for <sup>g</sup>the turn of events was from the LORD, that He might fulfill His word, which the LORD had <sup>h</sup>spoken by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

<sup>16</sup>Now when all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, the people answered the king, saying:

<sup>i</sup>“What share have we in David?

We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse.

To your tents, O Israel!

Now, see to your own house, O David!”

So Israel departed to their tents. <sup>17</sup>But Rehoboam reigned over <sup>j</sup>the children of Israel who dwelt in the cities of Judah.

all Israel refers to representatives of the northern tribes who had convened to consider the confirmation of Rehoboam as king of all the land.

12:4 A system of forced labor had been imposed by Solomon to accomplish and maintain his building projects (see 5:13–18). Because this burdensome service was especially hateful to the northern tribes, relief from it was a crucial issue.

12:6, 7 By elders is meant the chief government officials who had advised Rehoboam’s father Solomon (see 4:1–19). Their advice was to show moderation and temperance.

12:8, 9 the young men were men of Rehoboam’s generation whom he had appointed to government office.

12:10, 11 little finger . . . father’s waist: The advice of Rehoboam’s own advisors was that the system of forced labor should be intensified until its sting became like that of a scorpion. Scourges were leather whips that could have more than one tail to which barbed points or metal spikes were attached.

12:15 from the Lord: Even at this crucial time of national schism, God was sovereignly working through human events to accomplish His will, which had been made known through earlier prophecy (11:29–39).

12:16 What share have we in David: The ancient rivalry felt by the northern tribes now came to a peak in resentment against the tribe of Judah and the house of David. Saul was from the tribe of Benjamin and had been regarded as “one of their own.” David, from the south, had seemed distant. Rehoboam’s insensitivity to the volatile situation led to a division of the nation.

12:17 cities of Judah: The southern section also included the <sup>18</sup>Then King Rehoboam <sup>k</sup>sent Adoram, who was in charge of the revenue; but all Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. Therefore King Rehoboam mounted his chariot in haste to flee to Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>So <sup>l</sup>Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

<sup>20</sup>Now it came to pass when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had come back, they sent for him and called him to the congregation, and made him king over all <sup>m</sup>Israel. There was none who followed the house of David, but the tribe of Judah <sup>n</sup>only.

Jeroboam's Gold Calves

<sup>28</sup>Therefore the king asked advice, <sup>v</sup>made two calves of gold, and said to the people, “It is too much for you to go up to Jerusalem. <sup>w</sup>Here are your gods, O Israel, which brought you up from the land of Egypt!” <sup>29</sup>And he set up one in <sup>x</sup>Bethel, and the other he put in <sup>y</sup>Dan. <sup>30</sup>Now this thing became <sup>z</sup>a sin, for the people went to worship before the one as far as Dan. <sup>31</sup>He made <sup>6</sup>shrines on the high places, <sup>a</sup>and made priests from every class of people, who were not of the sons of Levi.

<sup>32</sup>Jeroboam <sup>7</sup>ordained a feast on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, like <sup>b</sup>the feast that was in Judah, and offered sacrifices on the altar. So he did at Bethel, sacrificing to the calves that he had made. <sup>c</sup>And at Bethel he installed the priests of the high places which he had made. <sup>33</sup>So he made offerings on the altar which he tribal allotment of simeon. But simeon was absorbed by Judah; their allotment was “within the inheritance of the children of Judah” (Josh. 19:1).

12:19 t hat is, to the day of the narrator. in the end, israel’s rebellion was its own destruction.

12:20 Jeroboam . . . king: t he coronation of Jeroboam had been prophesied by Ahijah the prophet of the Lord (see 11:29–31). n one-theless, the actual coronation apparently was done apart from priest or prophet of the Lord; there was no divine anointing, no true religious ceremony. Only the kings of the southern kingdom would have the sanction of the Davidic covenant (see 2 sam. 7).

12:21 r e hoboam’s first inclination when he arrived in Jerusalem was to lead a war of reprisal against israel. Benjamin: People of the border tribe might have gone either direction.

12:22 According to 2 Chr. 12:15, i ddo the prophet and Shemaiah together wrote a history of r e hoboam’s reign.

12:23, 24 this thing is from Me: t he foolish behavior of r e hoboam brought about god’s judgment in dividing the nation into two new kingdoms.

12:25 built Shechem: t hat is, he fortified the ancient site (see 12:1). t his strategic and historic city became the first capital of the northern kingdom. in fortifying this site, Jeroboam seems to have wanted to associate his reign with classic religious sites from the early history of israel.

12:26, 27 However, Jeroboam knew in his heart that merely having a new presence in shechem and Penuel would not in itself make the people of the northern kingdom forget the glories of the temple in Jerusalem.

12:28 n ot only would they strike a familiar chord from israel’s history, but the two calves of gold would arouse the interest of the remaining Canaanites in the northern kingdom. t he result of Jeroboam’s action was religious confusion and apostasy; it would bring god’s sure condemnation (see 14:9). it should be recognized that this is the first time the scriptures mention any deliberate attempt to establish a heterodox doctrine, a substandard cult as an official practice for the nation of israel. While judgment was announced on this apostasy (ch. 13), the execution of this judgment would not take place for over two hundred years (the schism came in 930 B.C.); the destruction of the northern kingdom did not come until 722 B.C.). Jeroboam appealed to the people in several ways: (1) traveling all the way to Jerusalem was too far, and it was unnecessary. (2) t hese calves were gods. (3) t hese calves were worshiped by their ancestors.

12:29 Bethel was north of Jerusalem in Benjamite territory, although its precise location is uncertain. it has been identified with Beitin; recent archaeological discoveries suggest tell Bireh. Ai was nearby. in any case, Bethel had enjoyed a prominent place in israelite history throughout the earlier patriarchal (gen. 28:10–21) and post-conquest (Judg. 20:26–31) eras. Dan was in the northern portion of israel. it was known as Laish and Leshem (Josh. 19:47; Judg. 18:7) until its capture by the Danites (Judg. 18:29). By that time it had already achieved a reputation as a center for pagan worship (Judg. 18:30). Jeroboam’s choice of these two sites was a brilliant move. He had one site in the northernmost part of his kingdom and another in the southernmost part; both had long ties to israel’s past. n o longer must the people make the long, arduous, and dangerous trip to Jerusalem. Jeroboam said, in effect, “We have brought religion to you.”

12:30 t he divine declaration is simple: this thing became a sin. t he exclusive claim of Jerusalem as the central place of the worship of god in the holy temple (see 6:1) was now being ignored by the people of israel.

12:31–33 Jeroboam’s new religious institutions included starting a new religious order that did not include the Levites; setting up shrines at high places (see 3:2, 3); and replacing the Feast of tabernacles with a fall festival in the eighth month. His various attempts at religious innovation would quickly incur god’s denunciation (ch. 13) and earn him a reputation that would live in spiritual infamy (13:33, 34; 22:52).

had made at Bethel on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, in the month which he had <sup>d</sup>devised in his own heart. And he <sup>8</sup>ordained a feast for the children of Israel, and offered sacrifices on the altar and <sup>e</sup>burned incense.

The Message of the Man of God

<sup>4</sup>So it came to pass when King Jeroboam heard the saying of the man of God, who cried out against the altar in Bethel, that he stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, “Arrest him!” Then his hand, which he stretched out toward him, withered, so that he could not pull it back to himself. <sup>5</sup>The altar also was split apart, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>Then the king answered and said to the man of God, “Please <sup>f</sup>entreat the favor of the LORD your God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored to me.”

So the man of God entreated the LORD, and the king’s hand was restored to him, and became as before. <sup>7</sup>Then the king said to the man of God, “Come home with me and refresh yourself, and <sup>g</sup>I will give you a reward.”

Death of the Man of God

<sup>11</sup>Now an <sup>j</sup>old prophet dwelt in Bethel, and his <sup>3</sup>sons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Bethel; they also told their father the words which he had spoken to the king. <sup>12</sup>And their father said to them, “Which way did he go?” For his sons <sup>4</sup>had seen which way the man of God went who came from Judah. <sup>13</sup>Then he said to his sons, “Saddle the donkey for me.” So they saddled the donkey for him; and he rode on it, <sup>14</sup>and went after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oak. Then he said to him, “Are you the man of God who came from Judah?”

And he said, “I am.”

<sup>15</sup>Then he said to him, “Come home with me and eat bread.”

<sup>18</sup>He said to him, “I too am a prophet as you are, and an angel spoke to me by the word of the LORD, saying, ‘Bring him back with you to your house, that he may eat bread and drink water.’” (He was lying to him.)

<sup>19</sup>So he went back with him, and ate bread in his house, and drank water.

13:1 man of God: t his prophet is unknown to us. t he phrase by the word of the LORD occurs seven times in this chapter (vv. 1, 2, 5, 9, 17, 18, 32) and emphasizes that the man of god was functioning at the command of god and in god’s power. Jeroboam . . . altar to burn incense: Having established his own deviant religion and his apostate priesthood, Jeroboam hardly had compunctions about serving priestly functions.

13:3 t he word sign indicates something miraculous (Ex. 4:21; Jer. 33:20, 21). Miraculous signs may indicate either the intended purpose of the deed or its wondrous effects, both ideas often occurring together (see Deut. 6:22; Ps. 78:43).

13:4, 5 Unlike David, who confessed his sin when he was accused by nathan the man of god (see 2 sam. 12:13), the wicked Jeroboam sought to arrest his accuser. instead he found his own arm “arrested” and the altar destroyed.

13:6–10 in mercy, the prophet was used by god to heal the hand of the king, but he would have none of his hospitality or reward.

13:6 the LORD your God: t his language may be simply deferential to the prophet, but here it may indicate a recognition by Jeroboam that he was no longer really serving the living god. 13:8 not go in: in biblical times, sharing a meal was more than just a social custom. it implied an intimate fellowship. g reat religious ceremonies from the Passover to the Lord’s table center on people eating together. t he prophet did not want his act of mercy to suggest that god accepted Jeroboam’s deviant worship.

13:11 Besides being an important cult center (see 12:29), Bethel may have had one of the early prophetic schools (see 2 Kin. 2:3–7). an old prophet: Perhaps the aged prophet had been previously associated with such a group. Whatever his status then, at this point he clearly tells lies (see v. 18).

13:12–18 t he prophet was clearly an apostate. He had not spoken against Jeroboam; instead, he boldly lied to the Lord’s true prophet.

13:19 went back with him: t he man of god had withstood Jeroboam’s attempt to save face by having the prophet stay with him (v. 7), yet now the prophet failed to discern the deception and plainly violated god’s clear instructions (v. 9). t he prophet would pay a terrible price for his disobedience (v. 24).

<sup>20</sup>Now it happened, as they sat at the table, that the word of the LORD came to the prophet who had brought him back; <sup>21</sup>and he cried out to the man of God who came from Judah, saying, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Because you have disobeyed the word of the LORD, and have not kept the commandment which the LORD your God commanded you, <sup>22</sup>but you came back, ate bread, and drank water in the <sup>m</sup>place of which the LORD said to you, “Eat no bread and drink no water,” your corpse shall not come to the tomb of your fathers.’”

<sup>23</sup>So it was, after he had eaten bread and after he had drunk, that he saddled the donkey for him, the prophet whom he had brought back. <sup>24</sup>When he was gone, <sup>n</sup>a lion met him on the road and killed him. And his corpse was thrown on the road, and the donkey stood by it. The lion also stood by the corpse. <sup>25</sup>And there, men passed by and saw the corpse thrown on the road, and the lion standing by the corpse. Then they went and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

<sup>26</sup>Now when the prophet who had brought him back from the way heard it, he said, “It is the man of God who was disobedient to the word of the LORD. Therefore the LORD has delivered him to the lion, which has torn him and killed him, according to the word of the LORD which He spoke to him.” <sup>27</sup>And he spoke to his sons, saying, “Saddle the donkey for me.” So they saddled it. <sup>28</sup>Then he went and found his corpse thrown on the road, and the donkey and the lion standing by the corpse. The lion had not eaten the corpse nor torn the donkey. <sup>29</sup>And the prophet took up the corpse of the man of God, laid it on the donkey, and brought it back. So the old prophet came to the city to mourn, and to bury him. <sup>30</sup>Then he laid the corpse in his own tomb; and they mourned over him, saying, <sup>o</sup>“Alas, my brother!” <sup>31</sup>So it was, after he had buried him, that he spoke to his sons, saying, “When I am dead, then bury me in the tomb where the man of God is buried; <sup>p</sup>lay my bones beside his bones. <sup>32</sup><sup>q</sup>For the <sup>6</sup>saying which he cried out by the word of the LORD against the altar in Bethel, and against all the <sup>7</sup>shrines on the high places which are in the cities of <sup>r</sup>Samaria, will surely come to pass.”

Judgment on the House of Jeroboam

14 At that time Abijah the son of Jeroboam became sick. <sup>2</sup>And Jeroboam said to his wife, “Please arise, and disguise yourself, that they may not recognize you as the wife of Jeroboam, and go to Shiloh. Indeed, Ahijah the prophet is there, who told me that <sup>a</sup>I would be king over this people. <sup>3</sup><sup>b</sup>Also take <sup>1</sup>with you ten loaves, some cakes, and a jar of honey, and go to him; he will tell you what will become of the child.” <sup>4</sup>And Jeroboam’s wife did so; she arose <sup>c</sup>and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Ahijah. But Ahijah could not see, for his eyes were <sup>2</sup>glazed by reason of his age.

<sup>5</sup>Now the LORD had said to Ahijah, “Here is the wife of Jeroboam, coming to ask you something about her son, for he

13:20 Whatever his motives were for bringing the man of god to his house, the aged prophet now received a true word from god. He realized too late his awful part in the condemnation of the man of god. the divine sentence (v. 22) would be speedily executed (v. 24).

13:24 the way the lion stood by both the man of god and his donkey shows that the lion did not kill for food but was god’s executioner (see vv. 25, 26, 28).

13:29–32 the old prophet was brought back to biblical faith at the sight of the death of the true prophet from Judah. the true but disobedient prophet had paid a terrible price for his disobedience to what he knew to be the word of god (vv. 20–24).

13:32 the saying . . . will surely come to pass: his confession proclaims renewal of faith in god’s word by the prophet who had become deceitful. the mercy of god is at His disposal! the Lord had healed the hand of Jeroboam (v. 6) because of His mercy, and the Lord restored the faith of the deceitful prophet because of His mercy as well.

13:32 cities of Samaria: the city of samaria did not in fact come into being for nearly a half century (see 16:24), but the author mentions it here from his own later perspective.

13:33 r rather than learning from the report of this incident, Jeroboam became even more set in his evil way. His apostasy would earn for him his reputation as the one who “made israel sin” (16:26).

14:1 Abijah: the name means “My Father is the Lord.”

14:2 in a time of distress Jeroboam turned not to one of his own prophets but to the true prophet of god who had predicted his kingship (11:29–39). Although Ahijah was now old (v. 4), his spiritual insight was not so dim that he could not see through disguised human intentions (v. 5).

14:3 ten loaves: the gifts that Jeroboam’s wife took along are not those customarily given by a king (see 2 Kin. 8:7–9) but rather were common fare (see 1 sam. 9:6–8). Jeroboam no doubt was hoping he could deceive the prophet by sending a simple gift.

14:4 Located about 20 miles north of Jerusalem, Shiloh had been the religious center for the nation during the time of the judges and was the location of the tabernacle (Josh. 18:1; 1 sam. 1:3). the city was destroyed by the Philistines after the loss of the ark (1 sam. 4:1–11; Jer. 7:12–15).

14:4–6 Although he could not see, Ahijah could “see” by means of the revelation of the living god.

is sick. Thus and thus you shall say to her; for it will be, when she comes in, that she will pretend to be another woman.”

<sup>6</sup>And so it was, when Ahijah heard the sound of her footsteps as she came through the door, he said, “Come in, wife of Jeroboam. Why do you pretend to be another person? For I have been sent to you with bad news. <sup>7</sup>Go, tell Jeroboam, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel: <sup>d</sup>“Because I exalted you from among the people, and made you ruler over My people Israel, <sup>8</sup>and <sup>e</sup>tore the kingdom away from the house of David, and gave it to you; and yet you have not been as My servant David, <sup>f</sup>who kept My commandments and who followed Me with all his heart, to do only what was right in My eyes; <sup>9</sup>but you have done more evil than all who were before you, <sup>g</sup>for you have gone and made for yourself other gods and molded images to provoke Me to anger, and <sup>h</sup>have cast Me behind your back— <sup>10</sup>therefore behold! <sup>i</sup>I will bring disaster on the house of Jeroboam, and <sup>j</sup>will cut off from Jeroboam every male in Israel, <sup>k</sup>bond and free; I will take away the remnant of the house of Jeroboam, as one takes away refuse until it is all gone. <sup>11</sup>The dogs shall eat <sup>l</sup>whoever belongs to Jeroboam and dies in the city, and the birds of the air shall eat whoever dies in the field; for the LORD has spoken!” <sup>12</sup>Arise therefore, go to your own house. <sup>m</sup>When your feet enter the city, the child shall die. <sup>13</sup>And all Israel shall mourn for him and bury him, for he is the only one of Jeroboam who shall <sup>3</sup>come to the grave, because in him <sup>n</sup>there is found something good toward the LORD God of Israel in the house of Jeroboam.

<sup>17</sup>Then Jeroboam’s wife arose and departed, and came to <sup>u</sup>Tirzah. <sup>v</sup>When she came to the threshold of the house, the child died. <sup>18</sup>And they buried him; and all Israel mourned for him, <sup>w</sup>according to the word of the LORD which He spoke through His servant Ahijah the prophet.

Death of Jeroboam

<sup>19</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, how he <sup>x</sup>made war and how he reigned, indeed they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel. <sup>20</sup>The period that Jeroboam reigned was twenty-two years. So he rested with his fathers. Then <sup>y</sup>Nadab his son reigned in his place.

Rehoboam Reigns in Judah

<sup>21</sup>And Rehoboam the son of Solomon reigned in Judah. <sup>2</sup>Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he became king. He reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city <sup>a</sup>which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put His name there. <sup>b</sup>His mother’s name was Naamah, an Ammonitess. <sup>22</sup><sup>c</sup>Now Judah did evil in the sight of the LORD, and they <sup>d</sup>provoked Him to jealousy with their sins which they committed, more than all that their fathers had done. <sup>23</sup>For they also built for them-

14:7-16 Despite the prophetic sanction of the establishment of his kingdom (v. 7), Jeroboam’s sins were severe enough to prevent his house from staying on the throne of Israel (vv. 8-10). Worse news still would come for his family, for the child would die just as his mother returned to her city, Tirzah (vv. 12, 13, 17). Moreover, an enemy would rise to destroy the household of the king (vv. 14-16).

14:10 bond and free: Like “heaven and earth” in Gen. 1:1, the two opposites together mean totality, or all kinds and classes of people (see 2 Kin. 14:26).

14:11 Dogs were scavengers in the ancient Middle East and came to symbolize the dregs of society (see 2 Kin. 8:13).

14:13 something good: Abijah’s character receives special divine consideration. Although the age of Jeroboam’s son is not certain, he may have been quite young.

14:14 cut off the house: As prophesied here, the end of Jeroboam’s line would soon be accomplished (15:27-16:7).

14:15 god had promised that He would uproot Israel should it violate its covenantal obligations (Deut. 28:63, 64). wooden images: the worship carried on here concerns the goddess Asherah. She had become associated with Baal (Judg. 3:7; 2 Kin. 23:4). Her worship would become one of the sins that would bring about the downfall of the northern kingdom (2 Kin. 17:9-11), see also 16:33.

14:17 Famed for its beauty (song 6:4), Tirzah was a royal retreat and the capital of the northern kingdom’s first two dynasties (see 15:33).

14:18 all Israel mourned: the sorrow of the people was also part of Ahijah’s prophecy (v. 13).

14:19 The book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel is mentioned often in 1 Kings as an early source book for the history of the northern kingdom. These chronicles should not be confused with the biblical books of 1 and 2 Chronicles.

14:20 Each of the subsequent kings of Israel would be judged against the example of the wickedness of Jeroboam (see 15:34). Only with Ahab (see 16:31) was a worse pattern set.

14:21 the city which the LORD had chosen: these words celebrate not only Jerusalem (Deut. 12:1-19) but also the Davidic kingship.

14:22 Judah did evil: Although Rehoboam apparently began his reign well (see 2 Chr. 11:5-17, 23), his spiritual condition soon deteriorated (2 Chr. 12:1). Despite the fact that Judah had several spiritually sensitive kings, apostasy ultimately took its toll in the southern kingdom, just as it also did in the northern kingdom (2 Kin. 17:18-20).

14:23 the high places were a problem throughout the history of Judah and Israel (Mic. 1:3). At times, the worship offered on them might have been done sincerely, in the true worship of God selves <sup>e</sup>high <sup>7</sup> places, <sup>f</sup>sacred pillars, and <sup>g</sup>wooden images on every high hill and <sup>h</sup>under every green tree. <sup>24</sup><sup>i</sup> And there were also <sup>8</sup>perverted persons in the land. They did according to all the <sup>j</sup>abominations of the nations which the LORD had cast out before the children of <sup>k</sup>Israel.

Abijam Reigns in Judah

Asa Reigns in Judah

(see 3:2-4; see also 2 Kin. 12:3). But these were also the places in which Canaanite worship rites were practiced in honor of Baal and where other foreign gods were worshiped as well. Sacred pillars refers to standing pillars of stone or wood. god had prohibited israel from setting these up (see Deut. 16:22). Wooden images is literally "Asherahs" (see v. 15), and refers to obscene wooden symbols that were associated with the sexual worship of the Canaanite deity of that name.

14:24 perverted persons: Male prostitutes were part of the fertility rituals of ancient Canaan (see Deut. 23:18). Here the word is a term that means "devoted to sacred service." abominations: t his is an exceedingly strong term; it describes perverted activities that impelled god to dispossess the Canaanite peoples from their land (see Deut. 18:9, 12).

14:25 Shishak: Although Jerusalem and Judah were spared total annihilation at this time because r ehoboam repented, Jerusalem was looted as a result of the sins that took place "on his watch" (2 Chr. 12:1-9). Egyptian records confirm that s hishak's invasion was widespread and highly successful.

14:26-28 t he sacking of treasures of the house of the LORD (v. 26) is particularly shocking, when we think of the long and detailed description of solomon's greatest accomplishment, the building and furnishing of the holy temple in Jerusalem (chs. 6-8).

14:27 bronze shields: A compelling symbol of the ruin of the temple treasures is seen in the change from shields of gold (v. 26; see 10:16, 17) to bronze.

14:29 The book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah is mentioned 15 times in Kings. Apparently it was an official record of events in the southern kingdom down to the days of Jehoiakim. n either this work nor "the chronicles of the kings of israel" (v. 19) is to be confused with the biblical books of Chronicles.

14:30 t he early history of r ehoboam and Jeroboam (see 11:26-12:17) led to their continuing enmity and war.

15:1 Although it may reflect a popular name for Abijah (2 Chr. 12:16), Abijam is a strange name for a king of Judah, as it ties together the Hebrew word for "Father" with the Hebrew word for "sea"—normally a deity of Canaan. it is possible that this name reflects the Canaanite influence that had come even into the royal family this early in Judah's reign. t he alternative name Abijah is a standard name of praise to god. it means "My Father is the Lord."

15:2 t he daughter of Uriel of gibeah (2 Chr. 13:2) and tamar (see 2 sam. 14:27), Maachah was the granddaughter of Abishalom and the favorite of r ehoboam's 18 wives. A woman of strong will, she wielded a good deal of influence during the reign of her son Abijam and her grandson Asa. t he mothers of the kings of Judah are named to show that the claims to the throne are legitimate.

15:3 t he word translated loyal here denotes one who is wholly devoted to god. Contrast this negative assessment of Abijam with the positive use of the same term when Asa is evaluated (15:14).

15:4 for David's sake: t hat is, because of god's love for David and the promise He had made to him (see 2 sam. 7). lamp: t his is one of the lovely images of god's intended blessing on the Davidic house.

15:5 t he quality of David's reign is celebrated. Uriah: At the same time, his most grievous sin is not omitted (2 sam. 11; 12).

15:6 Because r ehoboam reigned until his fifty-eighth year (14:21), Abijam probably knew little respite from war (see 14:30). Abijam did at least trust god during the war against Jeroboam, and god gave him a decisive victory (see 2 Chr. 13:2-20).

15:7, 8 t his follows the pattern established for recording the obituaries of the kings of Judah.

15:9 Asa: t he meaning of his name is perhaps "Healer."

king of Israel, Asa became king over Judah. <sup>10</sup> And he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem. His grandmother's name was Maachah the granddaughter of Abishalom. <sup>11</sup> Asa did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, as did his father David. <sup>12</sup> And he banished the <sup>4</sup>perverted persons from the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made. <sup>13</sup> Also he removed <sup>n</sup>Maachah his grandmother from being queen mother, because she had made an obscene image of <sup>5</sup>Asherah. And Asa cut down her obscene image and <sup>o</sup>burned it by the Brook Kidron. <sup>14</sup> <sup>p</sup>But the <sup>6</sup>high places were not removed. Nevertheless Asa's <sup>q</sup>heart was loyal to the LORD all his days. <sup>15</sup> He also brought into the house of the LORD the things which his father <sup>r</sup>had dedicated, and the things which he himself had dedicated: silver and gold and utensils.

<sup>23</sup> The rest of all the acts of Asa, all his might, all that he did, and the cities which he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? But <sup>f</sup>in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet. <sup>24</sup> So Asa <sup>7</sup>rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David his father. <sup>g</sup> Then <sup>h</sup>Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place.

Nadab Reigns in Israel

<sup>25</sup> Now <sup>i</sup>Nadab the son of Jeroboam became king over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Judah, and he reigned over Israel two years. <sup>26</sup> And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in <sup>j</sup>his sin by which he had made Israel sin.

<sup>27</sup> <sup>k</sup> Then Baasha the son of Ahijah, of the house of Issachar, conspired against him. And Baasha killed him at <sup>l</sup>Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines, while Nadab and all Israel laid siege to Gibbethon. <sup>28</sup> Baasha killed him in the third year of Asa king of Judah, and

15:12 perverted persons: t his term is used for sacred prostitutes in the Canaanite religious practices (22:46; 2 Kin. 23:7).

15:13 removed Maachah: Asa's many spiritual activities (see 2 Chr. 14:2-5; 15:1-18) are telescoped into a few statements here (vv. 11-15). Although the reforms mentioned in vv. 11, 12 took place early in Asa's reign (see 2 Chr. 14:2-5), the chronicler indicates (2 Chr. 15:16) that the deposing of Maachah took place in the fifteenth year of his rule (895 B.C.). Maachah's removal came as a result of a time of covenant renewal (2 Chr. 15:1-15) and a consequent reaction against her vile idolatry.

15:14 in some instances the high places were intended as places where the Lord was worshipped (see 3:2; 1 sam. 9:12); in other cases they were used for pagan purposes (see 2 Chr. 14:2-3).

15:16 war: t here were periods of peace between the two nations (see the league of Ahab and Jehoshaphat in ch. 22). But this was a period of warfare, particularly in the border areas.

15:17 Ramah was about five and a half miles north of Jerusalem on the main north-south commercial route through the land, and it was therefore of great importance to both kingdoms. it gave east-west access to both the foothills of Ephraim and the Mediterranean coast, so it was of strategic military importance as well. Baasha was striking a blow for control of the center of the land.

15:18 to stave off the penetration of israel into Judah, King Asa plundered the temple for money to try to make a military alliance with Damascus. since the campaign mentioned here took place in the first decade of the ninth century B.C., the king involved was Ben-Hadad i (900-860 B.C.). Tabrimmon: t here is a deliberate change in the Hebrew spelling of this name, based on an antipathy toward the god who is represented in the original name. instead of writing Tab-Ramman, meaning "t hunderer," an epithet of the storm god Hadad (see Zech. 12:11), the author wrote Tab-Rimmon, the Hebrew word meaning "Pomegranate."

15:19 Asa apparently suggested that for all practical purposes a treaty between the house of David and Damascus had been in effect since the days of solomon.

15:21 t he retreat of Baasha from r amah was due to the renewed treaty between Asa of Judah and Ben-Hadad of Damascus.

15:22 Asa's swift action in taking r amah allowed him to dismantle its fortifications and the use of the material to fortify two nearby strategic Benjaminite towns, Geba and Mizpah. t he control of these three sites afforded advanced defensive protection for Jerusalem and northern Judah.

15:25, 26 Nadab: His name means "generous" or "noble," but he did not live up to his name.

15:27, 28 Baasha killed him: As Baasha, a military commander for nadab, had done to his master, so it would be done to his own house. Zimri, one of the commanders of his chariot corps, would conspire against Baasha's son Elah and kill him (16:9, 10).

reigned in his place. <sup>29</sup>And it was so, when he became king, that he killed all the house of Jeroboam. He did not leave to Jeroboam anyone that breathed, until he had destroyed him, according to <sup>m</sup>the word of the LORD which He had spoken by His servant Ahijah the Shilonite, <sup>30n</sup>because of the sins of Jeroboam, which he had sinned and by which he had made Israel sin, because of his provocation with which he had provoked the LORD God of Israel to anger.

<sup>31</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? <sup>32o</sup>And there was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days.

Baasha Reigns in Israel

<sup>33</sup>In the third year of Asa king of Judah, Baasha the son of Ahijah became king over all Israel in Tirzah, and reigned twenty-four years. <sup>34</sup>He did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in <sup>p</sup>the way of Jeroboam, and in his sin by which he had made Israel sin.

16 Then the word of the LORD came to <sup>a</sup>Jehu the son of <sup>b</sup>Hanani, against <sup>c</sup>Baasha, saying: <sup>2d</sup>“Inasmuch as I lifted you out of the dust and made you ruler over My people Israel, and <sup>e</sup>you have walked in the way of Jeroboam, and have made My people Israel sin, to provoke Me to anger with their sins, <sup>3</sup>surely I will <sup>f</sup>take <sup>1</sup>away the posterity of Baasha and the posterity of his house, and I will make your house like <sup>g</sup>the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat. <sup>4</sup>The dogs shall eat <sup>h</sup>whoever belongs to Baasha and dies in the city, and the birds of the air shall eat whoever dies in the fields.”

<sup>5</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Baasha, what he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? <sup>6</sup>So Baasha <sup>2</sup>rested with his fathers and was buried in <sup>j</sup>Tir-

zah. Then Elah his son reigned in his place.

<sup>7</sup>And also the word of the LORD came by the prophet <sup>k</sup>Jehu the son of Hanani against Baasha and his house, because of all the evil that he did in the sight of the LORD in provoking Him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the house of Jeroboam, and because <sup>l</sup>he killed them.

Elah Reigns in Israel

<sup>8</sup>In the twenty-sixth year of Asa king of Judah, Elah the son of Baasha became king over Israel, and reigned two years in Tirzah. <sup>9m</sup>Now his servant Zimri, commander of half his chariots, conspired against him as he was in Tirzah drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza, <sup>n</sup>steward<sup>3</sup> of his house in Tirzah. <sup>10</sup>And Zimri went in and struck him and killed him in the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned in his place.

<sup>11</sup>Then it came to pass, when he began to reign, as soon as he was seated on his throne, that he killed all the household of Baasha; he <sup>o</sup>did not leave him one male, neither of his relatives nor of his friends. <sup>12</sup>Thus Zimri destroyed all the household of Baasha, <sup>p</sup>according to the word of the LORD, which He spoke against Baasha by Jehu the prophet, <sup>13</sup>for all the sins of Baasha and the sins of Elah his son, by which they had sinned and by which they had made Israel sin, in provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger <sup>q</sup>with their <sup>4</sup>idols.

<sup>14</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

Zimri Reigns in Israel

<sup>15</sup>In the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, Zimri had reigned in Tirzah seven days. And the people were encamped <sup>r</sup>against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines. <sup>16</sup>Now the

15:29, 30 t he death of nadab was in line with prophetic fulfillment, an act of god's judgment on the house of Jeroboam i (see 14:9, 16). nonetheless, the manner of his death was condemned by god through His prophet Jehu (see 16:2, 7).

15:33 Baasha . . . in Tirzah: t he second capital of israel (see 14:17) was located in the highlands of ephraim between shechem (the first capital, see 12:25) and Mt. gilboa.

15:34 did evil: Political exchange had not signaled any improvement in the spiritual climate of israel.

16:1-7 As the son of the prophet Hanani whom Asa had executed (2 Chr. 16:7-10), Jehu (not to be confused with Jehu the king of israel; see 2 Kin. 9:2) came from the southern kingdom. His long prophetic ministry lasted into the days of Jehoshaphat. Like his father before him, he confronted sin fearlessly—even in the royal house.

16:4 in the ancient Middle East considerable attention was given to the proper care of the body of the deceased. Usually the body was interred on the day of death. When a body was left to the dogs and the birds, an intolerable feeling of shame extended to all family and friends of the deceased. For examples, see the ignoble ends of King Ahab (22:38) and Queen Jezebel (2 Kin. 9:33-37).

16:8 t he first two dynasties of israel ended in tragedy. Like Jeroboam's son nadab (15:28), Baasha's son Elah was assassinated. t here were three more claimants to the throne before the year 885 B.C. was finished: Zimri, t ibni, and Omri. With the advent of Omri, israel's third dynasty would be established.

16:10-12 t he assassination of Elah and the annihilation of his house by Zimri (v. 12), while treacherous, had prophetic sanction because of the wickedness of Elah and his father Baasha.

16:13 idols: Here the plural of the term for "vapor" is used. t his is a contemptuous term describing the deities of false, pagan theology.

16:15 As Baasha had done (15:29), so Zimri also fulfilled prophecy against a royal house (vv. 8-14).

people who were encamped heard it said, “Zimri has conspired and also has killed the king.” So all Israel made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel that day in the camp. <sup>17</sup>Then Omri and all Israel with him went up from Gibbethon, and they besieged Tirzah. <sup>18</sup>And it happened, when Zimri saw that the city was <sup>5</sup>taken, that he went into the citadel of the king’s house and burned the king’s house <sup>6</sup>down upon himself with fire, and died, <sup>19</sup>because of the sins which he had committed in doing evil in the sight of the LORD, <sup>3</sup>in walking in the <sup>4</sup>way of Jeroboam, and in his sin which he had committed to make Israel sin.

<sup>20</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Zimri, and the treason he committed, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

Omri Reigns in Israel

<sup>21</sup>Then the people of Israel were divided into two parts: half of the people followed Tibni the son of Ginath, to make him king, and half followed Omri. <sup>22</sup>But the people who followed Omri prevailed over the people who followed Tibni the son of Ginath. So Tibni died and Omri reigned. <sup>23</sup>In the thirty-first year of Asa king of Judah, Omri became king over Israel, and reigned twelve years. Six years he reigned in <sup>u</sup>Tirzah. <sup>24</sup>And he bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two talents of silver; then he built on the hill, and called the name of the city which he built, <sup>v</sup>Samaria,<sup>7</sup> after the name of Shemer, owner of the hill. <sup>25</sup><sup>w</sup>Omri did evil in the eyes of the LORD, and did worse than all who were before him. <sup>26</sup>For he <sup>x</sup>walked in all the ways of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in his sin by which he had made Israel sin, provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger with their <sup>y</sup>idols.<sup>8</sup>

<sup>27</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Omri which he did, and the might that he showed, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

<sup>28</sup>So Omri rested with his fathers and was buried in Samaria. Then Ahab his son reigned in his place.

Ahab Reigns in Israel

<sup>29</sup>In the thirty-eighth year of Asa king of Judah, Ahab the son of Omri became king over Israel; and Ahab the son of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years. <sup>30</sup>Now Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the LORD, more than all who were before him. <sup>31</sup>And it came to pass, as though it had been a trivial thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, <sup>z</sup>that he took as wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal, king of the <sup>a</sup>Sidonians; <sup>b</sup>and he went and served Baal and worshiped him. <sup>32</sup>Then he set up an altar for Baal in <sup>c</sup>the temple of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.

16:18 Because he burned the king’s house in Tirzah, Zimri may have contributed to Omri’s building of a new capital city and royal residence (v. 24), perhaps one that could be defended better.

16:21 The source of Omri’s political base is not certain. According to Josephus, Tibni was killed in the dynastic power struggles that brought in the dynasty of Omri.

16:23–28 Although Omri reigned for only 12 short years, he was one of the more impressive of the kings of Israel in terms of his accomplishments. He invaded Moab and figured prominently in an alliance aimed at stopping the westward advance of the rising power of Assyria. His exploits are commemorated in the Moabite stone and the Assyrian annals. Indeed, he was so important to the Assyrians that they called Israel “the House of Omri” long after his death. Yet the author of Kings describes little of Omri’s achievements, because he did evil in the eyes of the Lord.

16:24 Omri’s choice of Samaria as the site for his new capital city was doubtless motivated by several factors: its central geographic setting, its commercial location, and its defensive potential. As a Canaanite territory, it had political, ethnic, and religious independence from all previous allegiances.

16:30, 31 The first level of evaluation of Ahab is the same as that given to his father (compare v. 30 with v. 25). a trivial thing: By these words we realize that in Ahab we come to the very lowest point in the degeneration of the spiritual life of the kings of Israel. Each of the kings of the northern kingdom from Nadab (15:26), Jeroboam’s son, to Omri (16:26), Ahab’s father, had been guilty of walking in the perverse pathway of Jeroboam. Ahab acted as though the sins of Jeroboam were a trivial thing. He did this in two ways: first, in his politically important marriage to Jezebel; second, in his promotion of Baal worship as the state religion. As in the case of the foreign wives of Solomon before him (11:1–13), Ahab’s marriage produced tragic results. Jezebel could influence Ahab to be wicked (ch. 21). However, when she was absent from Ahab, he had moments of relatively good behavior (ch. 20). Her father was both king and priest of Baal in Sidon; similarly, Jezebel was princess and priestess of Baal. Her Phoenician name was Abizabel, meaning “My Father (Baal) is noble.” The Hebrew scribes deliberately dropped a letter from her name. Thus she would be known forever as Jezebel, a dishonorable name meaning “Lacking Honor.” he went and served Baal and worshiped him: The outrage is that Ahab had gone quite beyond a mere combining of beliefs. He became a full-fledged worshiper of Baal, the Canaanite deity, for whom his wife Jezebel was a priestess.

16:32, 33 Further, Ahab established an altar for Baal, a temple of Baal, and a wooden image. In these actions Ahab went a con-

Baal

(Heb. ba’al) (16:31; 18:21; Judg. 2:13; 2 Kin. 10:20) strong’s #1168

Baal was a pagan god of storms and fertility, worshiped throughout the ancient Middle East because of his association with powerful forces. His name literally means “Owner,” “Master,” or “Husband.” In Canaanite literature, Baal is often associated with the fertility goddess Asherah, whose sacred “Asherah poles” are mentioned numerous times in the OT (2 Kin. 21:7). Worship of these pagan deities involved self-mutilation, ritual prostitution, and infant sacrifice. Despite these despicable practices, the Israelites themselves adopted Baal worship—a factor which eventually led to God’s punishment (Judg. 2:11–15; Jer. 19:4–6).

Elijah Proclaims a Drought

<sup>2</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to him, saying, <sup>3</sup> “Get away from here and turn eastward, and hide by the Brook Cherith, which flows into the Jordan. <sup>4</sup> And it will be that you shall drink from the brook, and I have commanded the <sup>f</sup> ravens to feed you there.”

<sup>5</sup> So he went and did according to the word of the LORD, for he went and stayed by the Brook Cherith, which flows into the Jordan. <sup>6</sup> The ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening; and he drank from the brook. <sup>7</sup> And it happened after a while that the brook dried up, because there had been no rain in the land.

Elijah and the Widow

which belongs to <sup>h</sup> Sidon, and dwell there. See, I have commanded a widow there to provide for you.” <sup>10</sup> So he arose and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, indeed a widow was there gathering sticks. And he called to her and said, “Please bring me a little water in a cup, that I may drink.” <sup>11</sup> And as she was going to get it, he called to her and said, “Please bring me a morsel of bread in your hand.”

<sup>12</sup> So she said, “As the LORD your God lives, I do not have bread, only a handful of flour in a bin, and a little oil in a <sup>1</sup> jar; and see, I am gathering a couple of sticks that I may go in and prepare it for myself and my son, that we may eat it, and <sup>i</sup> die.”

<sup>13</sup> And Elijah said to her, “Do not fear; go and do as you have said, but make me a small cake from it first, and bring it to me; and afterward make some for yourself and your son. <sup>14</sup> For thus says the LORD God of Israel: ‘The bin of flour shall not be used up, nor shall the jar of oil run dry, until the day the LORD sends rain on the earth.’”

<sup>15</sup> So she went away and did according to the word of Elijah; and she and he and her household ate for many days. <sup>16</sup> The bin of flour was not used up, nor did the jar of oil run dry, according to the word of the LORD which He spoke by Elijah.

Elijah Revives the Widow's Son

<sup>17</sup> Now it happened after these things that the son of the woman who owned the house became sick. And his sickness was so <sup>2</sup> serious that <sup>3</sup> there was no

siderable distance in establishing the Baal cult as the state religion of Israel. <sup>t</sup> the worship of Baal in Israel would ultimately spell the end of both kingdoms (see 2 Kin. 17:16–23; Jer. 2:1–3:25). <sup>t</sup> the sin that Ahab and Jezebel brought into the nation of Israel was a total rejection of the living God.

16:34 in defiance of Joshua’s curse (Josh. 6:26, 27), Hiel built Jericho. Jericho had been occupied at various times (see Judg. 3:13), but not as a permanently occupied fortified city. Either Hiel offered his sons as foundation sacrifices (following ancient custom) or they died in some mishap. One way or the other, Joshua’s curse was carried out.

17:1 no prophet had arisen since Moses (Deut. 18:15–19) like Elijah. His name means “*t*he Lord is My god.” Elijah would speak for God fearlessly in the midst of the spiritual vacuum that gripped the northern kingdom throughout the days of Ahab, Ahaziah, and Jehoram. Tishbite has been understood traditionally as referring to a town named *t*ishbe or as designation for the settlers in Gilead. A formal, solemn oath (see David’s words in 1:19), as the LORD God of Israel lives, was also a brilliant declaration. Elijah, who stood unafraid before the king of Israel, unannounced and uninvited, could do so because he stood before One whose glory, majesty, and power were infinitely greater than Ahab’s. dew nor rain: Because the Canaanite belief was that only Baal could govern the dew and the rain, Elijah’s pronouncement was as an immediate challenge: Who is really God, Baal or the Lord? (see 18:21; Deut. 28:12; 33:28).

17:5 The Brook Cherith was across the Jordan, far from the palace in Samaria.

17:6 <sup>t</sup> the Lord of all creation may use any means He wishes to feed His prophet, even the ravens.

17:9 Zarephath was in Phoenician territory, seven miles south of Sidon, the stronghold of Baal. <sup>t</sup> the Lord’s sustaining Elijah first by a raven and then by a widow provided the prophet with a dramatic test of faith at the outset of his ministry. <sup>t</sup> the widow, too, would be taught the value of trusting in God alone (v. 24). Many widows were exceptionally poor, as they had few options in an agrarian culture. <sup>t</sup> his one was in a desperate plight when she encountered God’s prophet.

17:12 the Lord your God: <sup>t</sup> the widow of Zarephath was a woman of faith in the living God, even though she lived in a foreign land. Bread here denotes a round cake. <sup>t</sup> the flour bin was a large earthenware container (gen. 24:14), while jar denotes a smaller, portable container such as a jug or flask.

17:13 me . . . first: Elijah’s challenge to the widow would call for faith in the midst of her desperate circumstances.

17:14 The Lord God of Israel acknowledges the woman’s identification of the Lord as Elijah’s God (v. 12), but also points the widow directly to Him who is the sustainer of all.

17:15, 16 While an apostate Israelite nation suffered because of the drought, God supplied the daily necessities to a non-Israelite who willingly took Him at His word. <sup>t</sup> the fresh supply of oil and flour each day would be a reminder to both the prophet and the widow of the value of personal trust in Him who alone is sufficient to meet every need (see Phil. 4:19).

breath left in him. <sup>18</sup> So she said to Elijah, <sup>j</sup> “What have I to do with you, O man of God? Have you come to me to bring my sin to remembrance, and to kill my son?”

<sup>19</sup> And he said to her, “Give me your son.” So he took him out of her arms and carried him to the upper room where he was staying, and laid him on his own bed. <sup>20</sup> Then he cried out to the LORD and said, “O LORD my God, have You also brought tragedy on the widow with whom I lodge, by killing her son?” <sup>21</sup> <sup>k</sup> And he stretched himself out on the child three times, and cried out to the LORD and said, “O LORD my God, I pray, let this child’s soul come back to him.” <sup>22</sup> Then the LORD heard the voice of Elijah; and the soul of the child came back to him, and he <sup>l</sup> revived.

<sup>23</sup> And Elijah took the child and brought him down from the upper room into the house, and gave him to his mother. And Elijah said, “See, your son lives!”

<sup>24</sup> Then the woman said to Elijah, “Now by this <sup>m</sup> I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in your mouth is the truth.”

Elijah’s Message to Ahab

18 And it came to pass after <sup>a</sup> many days that the word of the LORD came to Elijah, in the third year, saying, “Go, present yourself to Ahab, and <sup>b</sup> I will send rain on the earth.”

<sup>2</sup> So Elijah went to present himself to Ahab; and there was a severe famine in Samaria. <sup>3</sup> And Ahab had called Obadiah, who was <sup>1</sup> in charge of his house. (Now Obadiah feared the LORD greatly. <sup>4</sup> For so it was, while Jezebel <sup>2</sup> massacred the prophets of the LORD, that Obadiah had

<sup>7</sup> Now as Obadiah was on his way, suddenly Elijah met him; and he <sup>e</sup> recognized him, and fell on his face, and said, “Is that you, my lord Elijah?”

<sup>8</sup> And he answered him, “It is I. Go, tell your master, ‘Elijah is here.’”

<sup>9</sup> So he said, “How have I sinned, that you are delivering your servant into the hand of Ahab, to kill me? <sup>10</sup> As the LORD your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my master has not sent someone to hunt for you; and when they said, ‘He is not here,’ he took an oath from the kingdom or nation that they could not find you. <sup>11</sup> And now you say, ‘Go, tell your master, ‘Elijah is here’!’ <sup>12</sup> And it shall come to pass, as soon as I am gone from you, that <sup>d</sup> the Spirit of the LORD will carry you to a place I do not know; so when I go and tell Ahab, and he cannot find you, he will kill me. But I your servant have feared the LORD from my youth. <sup>13</sup> Was it not reported to my lord what I did when Jezebel killed the prophets of the LORD, how I hid one hundred men of the LORD’s prophets, fifty to a cave, and fed them with bread and water? <sup>14</sup> And now you say, ‘Go, tell your master, ‘Elijah is here.’” He will kill me!”

<sup>15</sup> Then Elijah said, “As the LORD of

17:18 Sin is not always the immediate cause of suffering (see John 9:3; Heb. 12:7–11).

17:19 Elijah stayed in an upper room, temporary quarters on the roof accessible from outside the house. t his arrangement reserved the privacy of all parties and protected the widow’s reputation in the community.

17:21 Elijah’s action in the stretching out of himself on the dead lad three times may symbolize the power of the thrice holy god (see num. 6:24–26; is. 6:3). Elisha later would perform a similar act (2 Kin. 4:34; see also Acts 20:10).

17:21, 22 cried . . . heard: t he scriptural motif of crying and being heard, or calling and being answered, is a theme that emphasizes intimacy of fellowship or communion (see Ps. 22:24; 91:15; 102:1, 2).

17:24 now . . . I know: t he widow’s belief had now grown into fullness of faith. t hat Elijah was indeed a “man of god” (v. 18) had been proved by word and deed. t he entire incident demonstrates that the Lord is the god of israelite and gentile alike (see Acts 10:34, 35; 11:18; r om. 3:29), and that He is the author of life itself (see Luke 20:38; John 11:25, 26).

18:1 t he nt indicates that the drought ended in the fourth year (Luke 4:25; James 5:17). if the point of reckoning here is late in the third year, the end of the drought may well have not occurred until some three and a half years after its inception.

18:3 Although Jewish tradition has identified them, this Obadiah is probably not the author of the Book of Obadiah. nothing in that book points to so early a date as this time. t he Obadiah here is a highly sympathetic figure, whose great faith in god and heroic actions help us gain a more balanced picture of the situation of people of faith in israel at the time. in charge of his house: t his phrase reflects an official title (see 4:6). Obadiah was Ahab’s palace official and minister of state, in both cases serving as the king’s personal representative.

18:4 t hat there could be one hundred prophets for Obadiah to hide may be seen from the fact that associations of prophets who met and may even have lived together are known from this period onward (see 1 sam. 10:5; 2 Kin. 2:3–7; 6:1, 2). Over twenty thousand caves have been found in the vicinity of Mt. Carmel, many of them capable of holding 50 men.

18:5 Keeping horses alive was important to maintain military preparedness in a world where there was nearly always the threat of new hostilities.

18:12 Obadiah was not quite sure whether he could trust the Lord’s prophet. Obadiah recognized that god’s Holy spirit might come upon His servants (Judg. 6:34; 11:29) in such a way as to carry them to other places (Ezek. 8:3; 11:1). Obadiah had already jeopardized his life in hiding god’s prophets. r eporting Elijah’s presence without producing him to an already infuriated Ahab might well cost him his life (vv. 9, 14).

hosts lives, before whom I stand, I will surely present myself to him today.”

<sup>16</sup>So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him; and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

<sup>17</sup>Then it happened, when Ahab saw Elijah, that Ahab said to him, “Is that you, O troubler of Israel?”

<sup>18</sup>And he answered, “I have not troubled Israel, but you and your father’s house have, <sup>19</sup>in that you have forsaken the commandments of the LORD and have followed the Baals. <sup>19</sup>Now therefore, send and gather all Israel to me on <sup>19</sup>Mount Carmel, the four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal, <sup>19</sup>and the four hundred prophets of <sup>19</sup>Asherah, who <sup>19</sup>eat at Jezebel’s table.”

Elijah’s Mount Carmel Victory

<sup>20</sup>So Ahab sent for all the children of Israel, and <sup>20</sup>gathered the prophets together on Mount Carmel. <sup>21</sup>And Elijah came to all the people, and said, <sup>21</sup>“How long will you falter between two opinions? If the LORD is God, follow Him; but if Baal, <sup>21</sup>follow him.” But the people answered him not a word. <sup>22</sup>Then Elijah said to the people, <sup>22</sup>“I alone am left a prophet of the LORD; <sup>22</sup>but Baal’s prophets are four hundred and fifty men. <sup>23</sup>Therefore let them give us two bulls; and let them choose one bull for themselves, cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood, but put no fire under it; and I will prepare the other bull, and lay it on the wood, but put no fire under it. <sup>24</sup>Then you call on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the LORD; and the God who <sup>24</sup>answers by fire, He is God.”

So all the people answered and said, <sup>5</sup>“It is well spoken.”

<sup>25</sup>Now Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, “Choose one bull for yourselves and prepare it first, for you are many; and call on the name of your god, but put no fire under it.”

<sup>26</sup>So they took the bull which was given them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal from morning even till noon, saying, “O Baal, <sup>26</sup>hear us!” But there was <sup>26</sup>no voice; no one answered. Then they <sup>26</sup>leaped about the altar which they had made.

<sup>27</sup>And so it was, at noon, that Elijah mocked them and said, “Cry <sup>27</sup>aloud, for he is a god; either he is meditating, or he is busy, or he is on a journey, or perhaps he is sleeping and must be awakened.” <sup>28</sup>So they cried aloud, and <sup>28</sup>cut themselves, as was their custom, with <sup>28</sup>knives and lances, until the blood gushed out on them. <sup>29</sup>And when midday was past, <sup>29</sup>they prophesied until the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice. But there was <sup>29</sup>no voice; no one answered, no one paid attention.

<sup>30</sup>Then Elijah said to all the people, “Come near to me.” So all the people came near to him. <sup>30</sup>And he repaired the altar of the LORD that was broken down. <sup>31</sup>And Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, to whom the word of the LORD had come, saying, “Israel shall be your name.” <sup>32</sup>Then with the stones he built an altar <sup>32</sup>in the name of the LORD; and he made a trench around the altar large enough to hold two seahs of seed.

18:18 Baals: t he wording indicates that Ahab had a practice of attending services at various local shrines where this deity was worshipped.

18:19 t he wife of Ei, Asherah was a fertility goddess whose exploits and veneration were linked with Baal (see 14:15). t he worship of Baal and Asherah held a constant fascination for israel from earliest times (Ex. 34:13; n um. 25; Judg. 2:13) and eventually caused israel’s demise (2 Kin. 17:16–18).

18:22 Although there were other prophets alive at the time (v. 13), Elijah focused on the fact that he alone stood ready to confront the 450 prophets of Baal.

18:24 t he contest between the Lord and Baal would reveal who was the true god of storm. s uch a god would have lightning in his arsenal of weapons (see Ps. 18:12–14; Hab. 3:11). s ending fire for the wood and the offering would be a reasonable test of the power of the rival deities.

18:27 t he sharp words for he is a god were mocking and derisive. Perhaps their god was lost in thought, meditating, and simply needed them to call louder. Is busy is a euphemism. in his harsh attack on the folly of idolatry, Elijah suggested that the reason their god did not answer was that he had gone to a celestial men’s room.

18:30 repaired the altar: t his was an earlier altar that had been used by the true people of god on a legitimate high place (see 3:2–4). Elijah avoided all contact with the altar that was associated with Baal.

18:31 t he numerical symbolism of twelve stones cannot be missed. t he people of israel had descended from twelve tribes.

18:32 t he rebuilding of the altar in the name of the LORD would be a reminder that the Lord had not abdicated His position; He was still the god of all israel, including the northern kingdom, where pagan syncretism and full Baal worship prevailed.

name

(Heb. shem) (8:20; 18:24; Ex. 6:3) strong’s #8034

t he Hebrew word shem may be related to a root meaning “to mark,” but this is uncertain. in Bible times, a person’s name not only served as a means of identification, but it could also describe a person’s character, position, or destiny (see 1 sam. 25:25 for the meaning of nabal’s name, “Fool”). sometimes a person was renamed, reflecting a change in that person’s character or status (see gen. 35:10). t he various names of god are especially important. Each name reveals a particular aspect of His nature (for example, god Most High or the Lord of Hosts). For this reason, His name is to be honored and should never be used irreverently (Ex. 20:7). By sharing His name with israel, god indicated the intimacy of His covenantal relationship with them (Ex. 3:13–15).

<sup>33</sup> And he <sup>w</sup> put the wood in order, cut the bull in pieces, and laid it on the wood, and said, “Fill four waterpots with water, and <sup>x</sup> pour it on the burnt sacrifice and on the wood.” <sup>34</sup> Then he said, “Do it a second time,” and they did it a second time; and he said, “Do it a third time,” and they did it a third time. <sup>35</sup> So the water ran all around the altar; and he also filled <sup>y</sup> the trench with water.

<sup>36</sup> And it came to pass, at the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came near and said, “LORD <sup>z</sup> God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, <sup>a</sup> let it be known this day that You are God in Israel and I am Your servant, and that <sup>b</sup> I have done all these things at Your word. <sup>37</sup> Hear me, O LORD, hear me, that this people may know that You are the LORD God, and that You have turned their hearts back to You again.”

<sup>38</sup> Then <sup>c</sup> the fire of the LORD fell and consumed the burnt sacrifice, and the wood and the stones and the dust, and it licked up the water that was in the trench. <sup>39</sup> Now when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces; and they said, <sup>d</sup> “The LORD, He is God! The LORD, He is God!”

The Drought Ends

<sup>41</sup> Then Elijah said to Ahab, “Go up, eat and drink; for there is the sound of abundance of rain.” <sup>42</sup> So Ahab went up to eat and drink. And Elijah went up to the top of Carmel; <sup>h</sup> then he bowed down on the ground, and put his face between his knees, <sup>43</sup> and said to his servant, “Go up now, look toward the sea.”

So he went up and looked, and said, “There is nothing.” And seven times he said, “Go again.”

<sup>44</sup> Then it came to pass the seventh time, that he said, “There is a cloud, as small as a man’s hand, rising out of the sea!” So he said, “Go up, say to Ahab, <sup>1</sup> ‘Prepare your chariot, and go down before the rain stops you.’”

<sup>45</sup> Now it happened in the meantime that the sky became black with clouds and wind, and there was a heavy rain. So Ahab rode away and went to Jezreel. <sup>46</sup> Then the <sup>i</sup> hand of the LORD came upon Elijah; and he <sup>j</sup> girded <sup>2</sup> up his loins and ran ahead of Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

Elijah Escapes from Jezebel

19 And Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, also how he had <sup>a</sup> executed all the prophets with the sword. <sup>2</sup> Then Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah, saying, <sup>b</sup> “So let the gods do to me, and more also, if I do not make your life as the life of one of them by tomorrow about this time.” <sup>3</sup> And when he saw that, he arose and ran for his life, and went to Beersheba, which belongs to Judah, and left his servant there.

<sup>4</sup> But he himself went a day’s journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a <sup>1</sup> broom tree. And he <sup>c</sup> prayed that he might die, and said, “It is enough! Now, LORD, take my life, for I am no better than my fathers!”

18:33–35 third time: t he three applications of water not only made the sacrifice thoroughly soaked and beyond human trickery but may again attest the power of the thrice holy god (see 17:21).

18:36 t he phrase LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel so characteristic of worship in the early period (see gen. 50:24; Ex. 3:6, 15, 16), reminded Elijah’s hearers of the inviolability of the Abrahamic covenant. t he god of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, was still the god of the northern kingdom, and the nation’s only hope of life, protection, and blessing in the land of promise (Deut. 30:20; 2 Kin. 13:23).

18:37 Elijah’s prayer had two elements. First, he wished that the Lord would demonstrate clearly to the people that He alone is the living god. second, he prayed for the full revival of god’s people. t he first prayer would be answered in a dramatic manner.

18:38 s howing who really was the god of storm, Baal proved impotent, while the fire of the LORD destroyed everything on the site.

18:39 god’s power over fire, water, and rain (v. 45) demonstrated that He, not Baal, is the LORD, He is God!

18:40 The prophets were executed because of their blatant sin and the ruin they had brought upon the nation.

18:41, 42 t he respective reactions of the king and the prophet are enlightening. A compromising king, as bidden, gladly celebrated, while a faithful prophet bowed down and prayed for the promised result of the Lord’s miraculous victory.

18:44 t his cloud may have seemed as small as a man’s hand when it was first visible from Mt. Carmel’s height, but Elijah sensed the approach of the growing storm and warned Ahab that he had better hurry.

18:45 Elijah had announced more than three years earlier that there would be no more rain unless it came from the hand of the living god (see 17:1).

18:46 girded up his loins: Elijah tucked his garment into his sash, enabling him to run freely the 13 miles to Jezreel.

19:1, 2 t he report Ahab told Jezebel did not cause her to repent or to turn from Baal to god. Ahab merely reported the facts that led to her personal embarrassment. Her response was to issue a death warrant for Elijah.

19:3 Elijah understood Jezebel’s intentions when he saw her response, and he realized dejectedly that the Lord’s victory on Mt. Carmel would not necessarily bring a quick end to the paganism that was rampant in the land. Elijah faced profound disappointment when he saw that nothing really had changed. Despite the tremendous demonstration of the reality of god’s power on Mt. Carmel, the people would soon forget and revert to their old evil ways. He . . . ran for his life, not from fear, but from a desire that Jezebel not be the one to kill him. Actually he wished for death, but he prayed that his death would be at the Lord’s hand.

19:4 t he broom tree has sufficient foliage for shade and often grows to a height of ten feet. it grows abundantly in israel.

<sup>5</sup>Then as he lay and slept under a broom tree, suddenly an <sup>2</sup>angel touched him, and said to him, “Arise and eat.” <sup>6</sup>Then he looked, and there by his head was a cake baked on <sup>3</sup>coals, and a jar of water. So he ate and drank, and lay down again. <sup>7</sup>And the <sup>4</sup>angel of the LORD came back the second time, and touched him, and said, “Arise and eat, because the journey is too great for you.” <sup>8</sup>So he arose, and ate and drank; and he went in the strength of that food forty days and <sup>4</sup>forty nights as far as <sup>e</sup>Horeb, the mountain of God.

<sup>9</sup>And there he went into a cave, and spent the night in that place; and behold, the word of the LORD came to him, and He said to him, “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

God’s Revelation to Elijah

<sup>11</sup>Then He said, “Go out, and stand <sup>j</sup>on the mountain before the LORD.” And behold, the LORD <sup>k</sup>passed by, and <sup>l</sup>a great and strong wind tore into the mountains and broke the rocks in pieces before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind; and after the wind an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake; <sup>12</sup>and after the earthquake a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire; and after the fire <sup>5</sup>a still small voice.

<sup>13</sup>So it was, when Elijah heard it, that <sup>m</sup>he wrapped his face in his mantle and went out and stood in the entrance of the cave. <sup>n</sup>Suddenly a voice came to him, and said, “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

<sup>14</sup><sup>o</sup>And he said, “I have been very zealous for the LORD God of hosts; because the children of Israel have forsaken Your covenant, torn down Your altars, and killed Your prophets with the sword. I alone am left; and they seek to take my life.”

Elisha Follows Elijah

<sup>19</sup>So he departed from there, and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he was with the twelfth. Then Elijah passed by him and threw his <sup>x</sup>mantle on him. <sup>20</sup>And he left the oxen and ran after Elijah, and said, <sup>y</sup>“Please let me kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow you.”

And he said to him, “Go back again, for what have I done to you?”

<sup>21</sup>So Elisha turned back from him, and took a yoke of oxen and slaughtered them and <sup>z</sup>boiled their flesh, using the oxen’s equipment, and gave it to the people, and they ate. Then he arose and followed Elijah, and became his servant.

19:5, 6 god brought Elijah a cake and water, even as He had provided for him in earlier days (see ch. 17).

19:7 Although the angel of the LORD can at times refer to god Himself (Ex. 3:2-6), in the Book of Kings it means a supernatural messenger (2 Kin. 1:3; 19:35).

19:8 As it frequently does in the scriptures, Horeb refers to Mt. Sinai itself, “the mountain of god” (see Ex. 3:1).

19:10 zealous: Like Phinehas of old (num. 25:7-13), Elijah had a passion for god that made him stand against the idolatry he saw all around him. I alone am left: in his depression, he thought he alone was faithful to god. When he was killed, there would be no one left to serve god.

19:11, 12 the LORD was not in: Although each of the things mentioned in vv. 11, 12 could signal god’s presence (see Ex. 40:38; Zech. 14:4, 5; Acts 2:2, 3), Elijah learned that god is not just a god of the spectacular. At times, the work of god is experienced in a still small voice, “the sound of a gentle stillness.” Elijah had called for lightning, and he had called for fire and national revival. What Elijah did not see was that god was at work in the lives of many people (v. 18).

19:15 Elijah’s work for god was far from complete, but it would now take a new direction. Elijah would anoint Elisha (vv. 19-21), Elisha would anoint Hazael (2 Kin. 8:7-15), and Jehu would be anointed by Elisha’s servant (2 Kin. 9:1-10). t he importance of Elijah’s task may be seen in that Elisha became Elijah’s designated successor, and Jehu and Hazael became kings.

19:17 t he three individuals, Elisha, Jehu, and Hazael, were instruments of god. One would follow the other in works of judgment on god’s hard-hearted people.

19:18 t here were still many people who were faithful to the living god. Seven thousand had not stooped to worship Baal. Although in each generation there are great spiritual leaders who do the work of god, there is a community of god among everyday people whose lives are not spectacular but who live faithfully for god.

19:21 Unlike those whom Jesus would mention in his teachings (Matt. 8:18-22; Luke 9:57-62), Elisha turned back to his home only to break fully with his past. As Joshua had faithfully served Moses in a period of training for a position of great responsibility, so Elisha would humbly serve this later “Moses” until Elijah was taken into heaven (2 Kin. 2:1-12). t he use of the word servant of Elisha matches the use of this word for Gehazi, the servant of Elisha in 2 Kin. 4:12.

Lives of Elijah and Elisha

the life-and-death struggle with Baalism, acute in Elijah's day, intensified under Elisha and culminated in bloody purges of the priests of Baal. Ahab's line was overthrown, and reforms were promulgated by Jehu.

Elijah's rugged figure became a model of the ideal prophet in Israel. Jesus fulfilled 40 days and nights of desert fasting, as Elijah had done; many believed he was a reincarnated Elijah (see 1 Kin. 19:8; Matt. 4:2; 16:14).

Elisha also became a model for the prophets. Jesus' miracle of feeding the 5,000 was similar to Elisha's feeding 100 men with 20 barley loaves.

ELIJAH

Elijah of Tishbe was instrumental in Israel's reaction to Baalism. Jezebel of Tyre was symbolic of the nation's corruption.

- 1 Fed by ravens
- 2 Miracle of the widow's jar of oil
- 3 After the triumph on Mount Carmel, Elijah ordered the people to slaughter the prophets of Baal.
- 4 Elijah was so discouraged that he wanted to die. Fleeing to Sinai, he was told to anoint a new generation of political and religious leaders.
- 5 At Naboth's vineyard in Jezreel, God's servant confronted Jezebel's puppet, the king.

ELISHA

Elisha, like Elijah, performed miracles and was called "the chariots of Israel and their horsemen" (2 Kin. 13:14).

- 1 Born west of the Jordan, the prophet frequented shrines at Mount Carmel and Gilgal. Dothan, a flourishing town in this period, was probably his residence.
- 2 Spring healed
- 3 Jeered by youths
- 4 Elisha journeyed from Mount Carmel to Shunem to raise a child from the dead, as Elijah had done at Zarephath.
- 5 Vision of chariots of fire
- 6 Elisha and his servant anointed Hazael and Jehu, completing Elijah's commission at Horeb.

Ahab Defeats the Syrians

20 Now <sup>a</sup>Ben-Hadad the king of Syria gathered all his forces together; thirty-two kings were with him, with horses and chariots. And he went up and besieged <sup>b</sup>Samaria, and made war against it. <sup>2</sup>Then he sent messengers into the city to Ahab king of Israel, and said to him, “Thus says Ben-Hadad: <sup>3</sup>‘Your silver and your gold are mine; your loveliest wives and children are mine.’”

<sup>4</sup>And the king of Israel answered and said, “My lord, O king, just as you say, I and all that I have are yours.”

<sup>5</sup>Then the messengers came back and said, “Thus speaks Ben-Hadad, saying, ‘Indeed I have sent to you, saying, “You shall deliver to me your silver and your gold, your wives and your children”; <sup>6</sup>but I will send my servants to you tomorrow about this time, and they shall search your house and the houses of your servants. And it shall be, that whatever is <sup>1</sup>pleasant in your eyes, they will put it in their hands and take it.’”

<sup>7</sup>So the king of Israel called all the elders of the land, and said, “Notice, please, and see how this man seeks trouble, for he sent to me for my wives, my children, my silver, and my gold; and I did not deny him.”

<sup>8</sup>And all the elders and all the people said to him, “Do not listen or consent.”

<sup>9</sup>Therefore he said to the messengers of Ben-Hadad, “Tell my lord the king, ‘All that you sent for to your servant the first time I will do, but this thing I cannot do.’”

And the messengers departed and brought back word to him.

<sup>10</sup>Then Ben-Hadad sent to him and said, c“The gods do so to me, and more also, if enough dust is left of Samaria for a handful for each of the people <sup>2</sup>who follow me.”

<sup>12</sup>And it happened when Ben-Hadad heard this message, as he and the kings were <sup>e</sup>drinking at the <sup>3</sup>command post, that he said to his servants, “Get ready.” And they got ready to attack the city.

<sup>13</sup>Suddenly a prophet approached Ahab king of Israel, saying, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Have you seen all this great multitude? Behold, <sup>f</sup>I will deliver it into your hand today, and you shall know that I am the LORD.’”

<sup>14</sup>So Ahab said, “By whom?”

And he said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘By the young leaders of the provinces.’”

Then he said, “Who will set the battle in order?”

And he answered, “You.”

<sup>15</sup>Then he mustered the young leaders of the provinces, and there were two hundred and thirty-two; and after them he mustered all the people, all the children of Israel—seven thousand.

<sup>16</sup>So they went out at noon. Meanwhile Ben-Hadad and the thirty-two kings helping him were <sup>g</sup>getting drunk at the command post. <sup>17</sup>The young leaders of the provinces went out first. And Ben-Hadad sent out a patrol, and they told him, saying, “Men are coming out of Samaria!” <sup>18</sup>So he said, “If they have come out for peace, take them alive; and if they have come out for war, take them alive.”

<sup>19</sup>Then these young leaders of the provinces went out of the city with the

20:1 t he king of Syria was Ben-Hadad ii (860–842 b.c.). Although there is a modern nation called Syria, the ancient name for the people who had their capital in Damascus was Aramean, and their land was Aram (see 2 Kin. 5:1). One of the distinctive features of the ancient Middle East was the practice of forming alliances. Coalitions such as the thirty-two kings were common in times of war (gen. 14:1–16).

20:2 When he is associated with his wicked wife Jezebel, Ahab appears as thoroughly evil. But in this chapter he appears as a capable leader in a time of international turmoil, and as a person who had some sense of the power and presence of god (see vv. 13, 14).

20:3, 4 taken by themselves, Ben-Hadad’s words are mine meant no more than that Israel was a client state to the more powerful Aramean state. Ahab’s reply all . . . are yours would then have been acceptance of such a treaty, in which Israel was the subservient party.

20:5, 6 t he language was no longer that of political formalities; this was a demand for complete surrender of everything of value, of any person of worth, of whatever was pleasant in Ahab’s eyes, to be handed over to the foreign monarch.

20:7, 8 Ahab apparently held out little hope of withstanding so vast an enemy host. His elders (v. 8) counseled him against submitting.

20:10 Ben-Hadad’s boast was that his striking power was so great that Samaria would be ground to a powder, yielding barely enough for each of his soldiers to carry away a handful.

20:11 Ahab’s proverbial reply reminded Ben-Hadad that a boast alone would not get the job done.

20:12 t he notice that Ben-Hadad was drinking during the time he should have been preparing for battle shows his arrogance. He was celebrating victory before he had begun fighting (see v. 16).

20:13 t his prophet is not named. We are reminded that there were many true prophets of the Lord at the time (18:13; 20:35).

I will deliver . . . you shall know: Just as god had demonstrated His person and power on Mt. Carmel (ch. 18), He would now make Himself known to Ahab in the coming battle.

20:14, 15 t he prophet revealed the outlines of the strategy Ahab should use. to his credit, Ahab obeyed the divine command and mustered his force.

20:16 t his was an alliance of thirty-two kings from small areas in Aram and the surrounding territories. But they were all getting drunk—an arrogant act before the battle had even begun.

20:17–21 Ahab followed up his probing skirmish with a well-timed charge by his main striking force. Ben-Hadad, the king of the Arameans, barely escaped (v. 20) with his life. t he resulting great slaughter (v. 21) was a tremendous victory for the army of Ahab.

army which followed them. <sup>20</sup>And each one killed his man; so the Syrians fled, and Israel pursued them; and Ben-Hadad the king of Syria escaped on a horse with the cavalry. <sup>21</sup>Then the king of Israel went out and attacked the horses and chariots, and killed the Syrians with a great slaughter.

<sup>22</sup>And the prophet came to the king of Israel and said to him, “Go, strengthen yourself; take note, and see what you should do, <sup>h</sup>for <sup>4</sup>in the spring of the year the king of Syria will come up against you.”

The Syrians Again Defeated

<sup>23</sup>Then the servants of the king of Syria said to him, “Their gods are gods of the hills. Therefore they were stronger than we; but if we fight against them in the plain, surely we will be stronger than they. <sup>24</sup>So do this thing: Dismiss the kings, each from his position, and put captains in their <sup>5</sup>places; <sup>25</sup>and you shall muster an army like the army <sup>6</sup>that you have lost, horse for horse and chariot for chariot. Then we will fight against them in the plain; surely we will be stronger than they.”

And he listened to their voice and did so.

<sup>26</sup>So it was, in the spring of the year, that Ben-Hadad mustered the Syrians and went up to <sup>i</sup>Aphek to fight against Israel. <sup>27</sup>And the children of Israel were mustered and given provisions, and they went against them. Now the children of Israel encamped before them like two little flocks of goats, while the Syrians filled the <sup>j</sup>countryside.

<sup>28</sup>Then a <sup>k</sup>man of God came and spoke to the king of Israel, and said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Because the Syrians have said, “The LORD is God of the hills, but He is not God of the valleys,” therefore <sup>l</sup>I will deliver all this great multitude into your hand, and you shall know that I am the LORD.’” <sup>29</sup>And they encamped opposite each other for seven days. So it was that on the seventh day the battle was joined; and the children of Israel killed one hundred thousand foot soldiers of the Syrians in one day. <sup>30</sup>But the rest fled to Aphek, into the city; then a wall fell on twenty-seven thousand of the men who were left.

And Ben-Hadad fled and went into the city, into an inner chamber.

Ahab's Treaty with Ben-Hadad

<sup>31</sup>Then his servants said to him, “Look now, we have heard that the kings of the house of Israel are merciful kings. Please, let us <sup>m</sup>put sackcloth around our waists and ropes around our heads, and go out to the king of Israel; perhaps he will spare your life.” <sup>32</sup>So they wore sackcloth around their waists and put ropes around their heads, and came to the king of Israel and said, “Your servant Ben-Hadad says, ‘Please let me live.’”

And he said, “Is he still alive? He is my brother.”

<sup>33</sup>Now the men were watching closely to see whether any sign of mercy would come from him; and they quickly grasped at this word and said, “Your brother Ben-Hadad.”

So he said, “Go, bring him.” Then Ben-Hadad came out to him; and he had him come up into the chariot.

<sup>34</sup>So Ben-Hadad said to him, “The cities which my father took from your father I will restore; and you may set up marketplaces for yourself in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria.”

Then Ahab said, “I will send you away with this treaty.” So he made a treaty with him and sent him away.

Ahab Condemned

<sup>35</sup>Now a certain man of <sup>o</sup>the sons of the prophets said to his neighbor <sup>p</sup>by the word of the LORD, “Strike me, please.” And the man refused to strike him. <sup>36</sup>Then he said to him, “Because you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD,

20:22 t his is likely the same prophet through whom god had given an encouraging message (v. 13; contrast v. 35). Ahab ultimately trusted in human wisdom rather than divine standards (see v. 42). t he period of late spring to early summer was one of the two main seasons for military expeditions. Provisions were readily available for men and cattle. t he end of the rains allowed the movement of troops and provisions to be made more easily.

20:23 t he Aramean advisors reflected traditional ancient Middle Eastern theological conceptions. t heir gods' powers, such as their gods of the hills, were limited to particular locations. But the living god is not limited by time (Ps. 90:2) or space (Ps. 139:7-12). t his is a fact beyond the imagination of these pagan “theologians.”

20:26 t his Aphek is not the Philistine city where the ark was lost (see 1 sam. 4:1), but another location just east of the Jordan in northern gilead. Apparently the Arameans were launching their second campaign in the Jordan valley. t he Arameans would learn that the living god can deliver His people in the valley as well as the hills (see Ps. 23:4; Joel 3:12-14).

20:31 Ben-Hadad now appealed to Ahab's merciful nature. t he Aramean king sent his servants to Ahab in the traditional attire of submission and repentance.

20:32 t he term brother was commonly used when relations between kings were cordial (see 9:13). Ben-Hadad might have been implying, “We are both kings.”

20:35 t his certain man is probably a different prophet than the one mentioned earlier in the story (see vv. 13, 22). sons of the prophets: Although this term first occurs here, prophetic associations were known at least from samuel's time (1 sam. 10). Obadiah had only recently been instructed about rescuing such groups of prophets from Ahab's purge (18:13-14).

surely, as soon as you depart from me, a lion shall kill you.” And as soon as he left him, <sup>a</sup>a lion found him and killed him.

<sup>37</sup>And he found another man, and said, “Strike me, please.” So the man struck him, inflicting a wound. <sup>38</sup>Then the prophet departed and waited for the king by the road, and disguised himself with a bandage over his eyes. <sup>39</sup>Now <sup>r</sup>as the king passed by, he cried out to the king and said, “Your servant went out into the midst of the battle; and there, a man came over and brought a man to me, and said, ‘Guard this man; if by any means he is missing, <sup>s</sup>your life shall be for his life, or else you shall <sup>7</sup>pay a talent of silver.’ <sup>40</sup>While your servant was busy here and there, he was gone.”

Then the king of Israel said to him, “So shall your judgment be; you yourself have decided it.”

<sup>41</sup>And he hastened to take the bandage away from his eyes; and the king of Israel recognized him as one of the prophets. <sup>42</sup>Then he said to him, “Thus says the LORD: <sup>t</sup>‘Because you have let slip out of your hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore your life shall go for his life, and your people for his people.’”

<sup>43</sup>So the king of Israel <sup>u</sup>went to his house sullen and displeased, and came to Samaria.

Naboth Is Murdered for His Vineyard

21 And it came to pass after these things that Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard which was in <sup>a</sup>Jezreel, next to the palace of Ahab king of Samaria. <sup>2</sup>So Ahab spoke to Naboth, saying, “Give me your <sup>b</sup>vineyard, that I may have it for a vegetable garden, because it is near, next to my house; and for it I will give you a vineyard better than it. Or, if it seems good to you, I will give you its worth in money.”

<sup>3</sup>But Naboth said to Ahab, “The LORD forbid <sup>c</sup>that I should give the inheritance of my fathers to you!”

len and displeased because of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had spoken to him; for he had said, “I will not give you the inheritance of my fathers.” And he lay down on his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no food. <sup>5</sup>But <sup>d</sup>Jezebel his wife came to him, and said to him, “Why is your spirit so sullen that you eat no food?”

<sup>6</sup>He said to her, “Because I spoke to Naboth the Jezreelite, and said to him, ‘Give me your vineyard for money; or else, if it pleases you, I will give you another vineyard for it’ And he answered, ‘I will not give you my vineyard.’”

<sup>7</sup>Then Jezebel his wife said to him, “You now exercise authority over Israel! Arise, eat food, and let your heart be cheerful; I will give you the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.”

<sup>8</sup>And she wrote letters in Ahab’s name, sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters to the elders and the nobles who were dwelling in the city with Naboth. <sup>9</sup>She wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaim a fast, and seat Naboth <sup>1</sup>with high honor among the people; <sup>10</sup>and seat two men, scoundrels, before him to bear witness against him, saying, “You have <sup>e</sup>blasphemed God and the king.” Then take him out, and <sup>f</sup>stone him, that he may die.

<sup>11</sup>So the men of his city, the elders and nobles who were inhabitants of his city, did as Jezebel had sent to them, as it was written in the letters which she had sent to them. <sup>12</sup><sup>g</sup>They proclaimed a fast, and seated Naboth with high honor among the people. <sup>13</sup>And two men, scoundrels, came in and sat before him; and the scoundrels <sup>h</sup>witnessed against him, against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, “Naboth has blasphemed God and the king!” <sup>i</sup>Then they took him outside the city and stoned him with stones, so that he died. <sup>14</sup>Then they sent to Jezebel, saying, “Naboth has been stoned and is dead.”

20:42, 43 t he prophet’s dramatic tale is symbolic; as Ahab had judged the case, so he would be judged (see 22:29–37).

20:43 Sullen here connotes stubbornness as well as a downcast spirit. r ather than being grateful to god for the victories, Ahab resorts to human reason and adamantly refuses to change his ways.

21:1 Samaria was Ahab’s capital city; its name is used to represent all of israel (see 2 Kin. 1:3; 2 Chr. 24:23; Jon. 3:6).

21:2 echnically, all land was the Lord’s, who granted it in perpetuity to each israelite tribe and family (Lev. 25:23–28). Accordingly, the property belonged to Naboth (n um. 36:2–9). Even the king was obliged to obey the law (1 sam. 10:25). Ahab therefore negotiated with naboth for his property.

21:7 in reminding Ahab that he was king and could do as he pleased,

Jezebel reflected her Canaanite background where kings ruled absolutely (see Deut. 17:14–20; 1 sam. 8:11–18).

21:8 s uch letters would be written by royal scribes on scrolls or tablets and then sealed with the sender’s personal sign.

21:13 two men, scoundrels: t he charge against naboth was serious (see Ex. 22:28). Although two witnesses were required in capital cases (Deut. 17:6), these two men were scoundrels, easily bribed into giving false testimony (Prov. 19:28). naboth was executed outside the city as the Law required (Lev. 24:14). god’s law was followed in the manner and place of his death, though his execution was an outrage against the whole spirit of the Law. As in the case of Achan (Josh. 7:24, 25), naboth’s sons were stoned to death with him (see 2 Kin. 9:26), preventing any successor of naboth from seeking to undo the illegal land seizure.

<sup>15</sup>And it came to pass, when Jezebel heard that Naboth had been stoned and was dead, that Jezebel said to Ahab, “Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refused to give you for money; for Naboth is not alive, but dead.” <sup>16</sup>So it was, when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, that Ahab got up and went down to take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

The LORD Condemns Ahab

<sup>17</sup>Then the word of the LORD came to <sup>k</sup>Elijah the Tishbite, saying, <sup>18</sup>“Arise, go down to meet Ahab king of Israel, <sup>l</sup>who lives in Samaria. There he is, in the vineyard of Naboth, where he has gone down to take possession of it. <sup>19</sup>You shall speak to him, saying, “Thus says the LORD: “Have you murdered and also taken possession?”” And you shall speak to him, saying, “Thus says the LORD: <sup>m</sup>“In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth, dogs shall lick your blood, even yours.””

<sup>20</sup>So Ahab said to Elijah, <sup>n</sup>“Have you found me, O my enemy?”

And he answered, “I have found you, because <sup>o</sup>you have sold yourself to do evil in the sight of the LORD: <sup>21</sup>‘Behold, <sup>p</sup>I will bring calamity on you. I will take away your <sup>q</sup>posterity, and will cut off from Ahab <sup>r</sup>every male in Israel, both <sup>s</sup>bond and free. <sup>22</sup>I will make your house like the house of <sup>t</sup>Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of <sup>u</sup>Baasha the son of Ahijah, because of the provocation with which you have provoked Me to anger, and made Israel sin.’ <sup>23</sup>And <sup>v</sup>concerning Jezebel the LORD also spoke, saying, ‘The dogs shall eat Jezebel by the <sup>2</sup>wall of Jezreel.’ <sup>24</sup>The dogs shall eat <sup>w</sup>whoever belongs to Ahab and dies in the city, and the birds of the air shall eat whoever dies in the field.”

<sup>25</sup>But <sup>x</sup>there was no one like Ahab who sold himself to do wickedness in the

Micaiah Warns Ahab

22 Now three years passed without war between Syria and Israel. <sup>2</sup>Then it came to pass, in the third year, that <sup>a</sup>Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went down to visit the king of Israel.

<sup>3</sup>And the king of Israel said to his servants, “Do you know that <sup>b</sup>Ramoth in Gilead is ours, but we hesitate to take it out of the hand of the king of Syria?” <sup>4</sup>So he said to Jehoshaphat, “Will you go with me to fight at Ramoth Gilead?”

Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, <sup>c</sup>“I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses.” <sup>5</sup>Also Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, <sup>d</sup>“Please inquire for the word of the LORD today.”

<sup>6</sup>Then the king of Israel <sup>e</sup>gathered <sup>1</sup>the prophets together, about four hundred men, and said to them, “Shall I go against Ramoth Gilead to fight, or shall I refrain?”

So they said, “Go up, for the Lord will deliver it into the hand of the king.”

<sup>7</sup>And <sup>f</sup>Jehoshaphat said, “Is there not still a prophet of the LORD here, that we may inquire of <sup>2</sup>Him?”

<sup>8</sup>So the king of Israel said to Jehosha-

21:15 Because Naboth . . . was dead, the property was confiscated by the throne. Although Ahab apparently was unconcerned about how this took place, he could not escape his guilty conscience (v. 20).

21:19 soon Ahab's blood would be licked by dogs at the pool in samaria (22:37, 38). Ahab had lost all sense of god's law, the basic teaching of which was always love for god and for neighbor (see Matt. 22:37-40). Ahab's consistent idolatry demonstrated that he had no whole-hearted love for god (see 18:18). taking naboth's vineyard showed he had no love for his neighbor either.

21:25 the vacillating nature of Ahab's complex character is seen here. He could all too easily be led into wickedness by his wife. nevertheless, he could at times display courage (22:34, 35) and even real humility before god (v. 29). Unfortunately, he never really entered into a genuine spiritual relationship with god. the result was that he, like all who despise god's mercies (see 2 Pet. 3:5-10), would perish and leave his ill-gotten gain behind him (see Ps. 49:5-14).

22:1-3 Faced with the rising threat of Assyria, Ahab had failed to press his advantage of three years before. He had not reoccupied the strategic highlands of Ramoth in Gilead. in the days of solomon this area served as an administrative center (4:13), but apparently it was lost during the reign of Omri. now that Aram and israel as allies had successfully turned back s halmaneser iii of Assyria at Qarqar (853 B.C.), control of r amoth gilead was crucial.

22:4 Jehoshaphat was the fourth king of the southern kingdom. He was related to Ahab through the marriage of his son Jehoram to Ahab's daughter Athaliah (2 Kin. 8:18, 27). Jehoshaphat's relation to Ahab now placed him in the precarious position of going to war with Ahab against the Arameans.

22:5 Kings in the ancient Middle East commonly sought the will of the gods before entering battle (see Judg. 20:27, 28; 1 sam. 23:1-4). Jehoshaphat did not rely on Ahab's false prophets; he desired a true word of the LORD.

phat, “There is still one man, Micaiah the son of Imlah, by whom we may inquire of the LORD; but I hate him, because he does not prophesy good concerning me, but evil.”

And Jehoshaphat said, “Let not the king say such things!”

<sup>9</sup>Then the king of Israel called an officer and said, “Bring Micaiah the son of Imlah quickly!”

<sup>10</sup>The king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, having put on their robes, sat each on his throne, at a threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets prophesied before them. <sup>11</sup>Now Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah had made <sup>g</sup>horns of iron for himself; and he said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘With these you shall <sup>h</sup>gore the Syrians until they are destroyed.’” <sup>12</sup>And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, “Go up to Ramoth Gilead and prosper, for the LORD will deliver it into the king’s hand.”

<sup>13</sup>Then the messenger who had gone to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, “Now listen, the words of the prophets with one accord encourage the king. Please, let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak encouragement.”

<sup>14</sup>And Micaiah said, “As the LORD lives, <sup>i</sup>whatever the LORD says to me, that I will speak.”

<sup>15</sup>Then he came to the king; and the king said to him, “Micaiah, shall we go to war against Ramoth Gilead, or shall we refrain?”

And he answered him, “Go and prosper, for the LORD will deliver it into the hand of the king!”

<sup>16</sup>So the king said to him, “How many times shall I make you swear that you tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?”

<sup>17</sup>Then he said, “I saw all Israel <sup>j</sup>scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, ‘These have no master. Let each return to his house in peace.’”

<sup>18</sup>And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Did I not tell you he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?”

<sup>24</sup>Now Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah went near and <sup>o</sup>struck Micaiah on the cheek, and said, <sup>p</sup>“Which way did the spirit from the LORD go from me to speak to you?”

<sup>25</sup>And Micaiah said, “Indeed, you shall see on that day when you go into an <sup>q</sup>inner chamber to hide!”

<sup>26</sup>So the king of Israel said, “Take Micaiah, and return him to Amon the governor of the city and to Joash the king’s son; <sup>27</sup>and say, ‘Thus says the king: ‘Put this fellow in <sup>r</sup>prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and water of affliction, until I come in peace.’”

<sup>28</sup>But Micaiah said, “If you ever return in peace, <sup>s</sup>the LORD has not spoken by me.” And he said, “Take heed, all you people!”

Ahab Dies in Battle

<sup>29</sup>So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth Gilead. <sup>30</sup>And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and go into battle; but you put on your robes.” So the king of Israel <sup>t</sup>disguised himself and went into battle.

22:9 <sup>t</sup> the prophet Micaiah is not known except in connection with this incident (see 2 Chr. 18:8–27).

22:10 A threshing floor was often used by the Canaanites for holding court. <sup>t</sup>reshing floors could also be scenes of spiritual importance (see Judg. 6:36–40; 1 Chr. 21:15–22:1).

22:11 Zedekiah tried to validate his prophetic pronouncement with symbolic magic. <sup>t</sup>he horns symbolize great strength (n um. 24:8; Ps. 18:2), an idea reinforced by the use of iron. A goring horn is used elsewhere in scripture to symbolize victorious power (Dan. 8:7).

22:17 <sup>t</sup>he imagery of sheep and shepherd was familiar to Micaiah’s hearers (see Ezek. 34:12; Mark 14:27). Micaiah’s words are dramatic, emphasizing the gravity of Ahab’s projected venture and counteracting Zedekiah’s lies.

22:23 lying spirit: <sup>t</sup>hese prophets prophesied under the influence of evil, but their false predictions were just what Ahab wanted to hear.

22:30 By hiding himself behind a disguise, Ahab hoped he could thwart Micaiah’s prophecy of doom. Jehoshaphat’s participation in royal regalia in a battle where he did not even belong (2 Chr. 19:1–3) nearly cost him his life. Ben-Hadad tried to shorten the battle by finding and killing Ahab. Jehoshaphat’s life was spared not only by his timely cry but by god’s direct intervention (2 Chr. 18:31).

was, when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, “Surely it is the king of Israel!” Therefore they turned aside to fight against him, and Jehoshaphat <sup>w</sup>cried out. <sup>33</sup> And it happened, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned back from pursuing him. <sup>34</sup> Now a certain man drew a bow at random, and struck the king of Israel between the joints of his armor. So he said to the driver of his chariot, “Turn around and take me out of the battle, for I am wounded.”

<sup>35</sup> The battle increased that day; and the king was propped up in his chariot, facing the Syrians, and died at evening. The blood ran out from the wound onto the floor of the chariot. <sup>36</sup> Then, as the sun was going down, a shout went throughout the army, saying, “Every man to his city, and every man to his own country!”

<sup>37</sup> So the king died, and was brought to Samaria. And they buried the king in Samaria. <sup>38</sup> Then someone washed the chariot at a pool in Samaria, and the dogs licked up his blood while <sup>3</sup> the harlots bathed, according <sup>x</sup> to the word of the LORD which He had spoken.

<sup>39</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Ahab, and all that he did, <sup>y</sup> the ivory house which he built and all the cities that he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? <sup>40</sup> So Ahab <sup>4</sup>rested with his fathers. Then <sup>z</sup> Ahaziah his son reigned in his place.

BIBLE TIMES & CULTURE NOTES

Ivory

Because ivory comes from the tusks of elephants, it was hard to get in the Middle East. Elephants once lived in Syria, but the search for ivory killed off all of them by 800 B.C. Craftsmen around Beersheba made ivory figurines as early as 3500 B.C. Solomon’s merchant ships brought him ivory for his throne (1 Kin. 10:18–22). Ahab ordered his craftsmen to build an “ivory house,” because he so admired the fine ivory work done by the Phoenicians. Pieces of ivory were inlaid in the walls of this house, and it contained many hand-carved ivory figurines. These included figures of people, animals, flowers, plants, and mythological figures. When Assyrians forced the southern kingdom to pay tribute, it included gifts of ivory.

burn incense

(Heb. qatar) (13:1; 22:43; num. 16:40; 2 Chr. 13:11) strong's #6999

The Hebrew word has the basic meaning “to produce smoke.” It is used only in reference to religious offerings. The offerings are sometimes made to the Lord and sometimes to other gods (9:25; 12:33; 2 Kin. 22:17). In the Book of Leviticus, the word is used to speak of true worship that the Lord had ordained. But in the historical books of 1 Kings—2 Chronicles, the word is primarily used for the rituals of false worship. Even many of the “good” kings of Israel failed to abolish improper burning of incense (22:43; 2 Kin. 12:3; 14:4; 15:4, 35). Jeremiah often used the word to denounce the errors of his people, though he used it once to prophesy of a time when Israel would perpetually worship the true God (Jer. 1:16; 11:13; 33:14–18).

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE KINGS

FROM THE ASCENSION of the prophet Elijah to heaven through the eventual fall of Israel and Judah, 2 Kings continues the history begun in 1 Kings of one people and two kingdoms. The narrative does not merely celebrate the Israelites. Instead, it displays both high and low points in the history of Israel and Judah. While it is true that few of the kings of the northern kingdom of Israel are spoken of highly, the kings of the southern kingdom of Judah do not fare much better. First and Second Kings are more than a recounting of names and facts. The books describe a people without direction, leaders who failed to lead, and a God who was forced to discipline His rebellious people.

Author and Composition Like 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings were originally one book in Hebrew. The book was divided into two parts when the Old Testament was translated into Greek in about 150 B.C.

Hence debate over the authorship of 1 Kings applies equally to the authorship of 2 Kings. Many evangelical biblical scholars continue to endorse the traditional view that Jeremiah wrote the Books of the Kings. They point to Jeremiah's priestly origin, his prophetic activity, his access to governmental authorities at the highest level, and his close personal involvement in the complex religious, social, and political activities that occurred during the collapse and fall of Judah in the early sixth century B.C. Jeremiah was certainly in an ideal position to know the spiritual situation of the day and to have access to state records, historical information, and other source material necessary for writing such a book. Jeremiah could well have written and compiled the book during the period of religious reform led by King Josiah (22:8).

Historical Content Second Kings continues the history of the divided kingdom from the point where 1 Kings ends, with the reigns of Ahaziah in the northern kingdom (853–852 B.C.) and Jehoshaphat in the southern kingdom (872–847 B.C.) It traces the events in the rest of Israel's third dynasty, together with corresponding details in Judah during the reigns of Jehoram and Ahaziah. In so doing, it describes details especially relevant to the prophetic ministries of Elijah and Elisha (1:1—9:37). During this period, the northern kingdom faced continued pressure from Aram (Syria) under its kings Ben-Hadad II and Hazael, as well as new threats from the rising state of Assyria with its powerful King Shalmaneser III (858–824 B.C.).

The account of the fourth dynasty in Israel begins with a purge of the rampant Baal worship that had plagued the first three dynasties (10:1—15:12). Unfortunately, the founder of this dynasty, Jehu, was an opportunist who used the attack on Baal worship to further his own causes. Rather than keeping the Law completely, he perpetuated the apostate state religion initiated by Jeroboam I—the worship of the calves at Bethel and Dan. His successors in the fourth dynasty proved little better. The corresponding rulers of the southern kingdom ranged from the wicked Athaliah to Josiah and Amaziah, who received mild divine commendation. Externally, the Aramean menace was ended by the military campaign of Adad Nirari III of Assyria. Yet Assyria itself passed into a period of decline that spanned the first half of the eighth century B.C.

With the death of Zechariah in 752 B.C., the northern kingdom entered a time of rapid decline that mirrored its spiritual condition. The combined effects of spiritual apostasy and moral debauchery, together with unwise political entanglements with Assyria, ultimately brought the northern kingdom to its end in 722 B.C. Meanwhile, Jotham and his wicked son Ahaz were ruling the southern kingdom of Judah. Ahaz was so evil that even the godly Isaiah had little effect on the king's spiritual condition. The scriptures attribute Judah's ultimate demise to the idolatry of this king (2 Chr. 28:23).

The remainder of 2 Kings deals with the varying fortunes and spiritual pilgrimage of the southern kingdom, tracing Judah's history from the righteous Hezekiah (chs. 18–20) to the wicked sons of Josiah, under whom Jerusalem faced three invasions and deportations, the last in 586 B.C. Thus Judah was increasingly caught up in the complex international events that took place from the late eighth to the early sixth century B.C.

Judah's ability to maintain its identity in the midst of its powerful neighbors was due on the one hand to God, who was faithful to His covenant with the house of David, and on the other hand to the spiritual gains made during the reigns of its two faithful kings, Hezekiah (729–699 B.C.) and Josiah (640–609 B.C.). However, the forces of apostasy that had brought about the collapse of the northern kingdom also took their toll in the southern kingdom. Judah was led away captive, and their exile would last 70 years. 2 Kings ends on this tragic note. Only the final word of Jehoiachin's release provides a ray of hope in the darkness of captivity (25:27–30). The symbolic message is clear: the Lord would still fulfill His promise to restore His people (see 1 Kin. 8:46–53).

CHRIST IN THE SCRIPTURES

While Elijah pointed to Jesus but was a clearer forerunner of John the Baptist (Matt. 11:14; 17:10; Luke 1:17), it is the younger man for whom Elijah prepared the way, Elisha, who definitely reminds us of Jesus. When you stop and think about it, the similarities are impressive. Elijah (like John the Baptist) lived apart from people, and he stressed the law, judgment, and repentance. But Elisha, like Jesus, lived among the people and emphasized grace, life, and hope (see 4:8–37; 6:14–23; 8:7–15; 19:16–21).

God Judges Ahaziah

<sup>5</sup>And when the messengers returned to <sup>3</sup>him, he said to them, “Why have you come back?”

<sup>6</sup>So they said to him, “A man came up to meet us, and said to us, ‘Go, return to the king who sent you, and say to him, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are sending to inquire of Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.’”’”

<sup>7</sup>Then he said to them, “What kind of man was it who came up to meet you and told you these words?”

<sup>8</sup>So they answered him, <sup>f</sup>“A hairy man wearing a leather belt around his waist.” And he said, <sup>g</sup>“It is Elijah the Tishbite.”

<sup>9</sup>Then the king sent to him a captain of fifty with his fifty men. So he went up

<sup>10</sup>So Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, “If I am a man of God, then <sup>h</sup>let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men.” And fire came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty. <sup>11</sup>Then he sent to him another captain of fifty with his fifty men.

And he answered and said to him: “Man of God, thus has the king said, ‘Come down quickly!’”

<sup>12</sup>So Elijah answered and said to them, “If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men.” And the fire of God came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.

<sup>13</sup>Again, he sent a third captain of fifty with his fifty men. And the third captain of fifty went up, and came and <sup>4</sup>fell on his knees before Elijah, and pleaded with him, and said to him: “Man of God, please let my life and the life of these fifty servants of yours <sup>i</sup>be precious in your sight.” <sup>14</sup>Look, fire has come down from heaven and burned up the first two captains of fifties with their fifties. But let my life now be precious in your sight.”

<sup>15</sup>And the <sup>5</sup>angel of the LORD said to Elijah, “Go down with him; do not be afraid of him.” So he arose and went down with him to the king. <sup>16</sup>Then he said to him, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Because you have sent messengers to inquire of Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron,

1:1 Moab rebelled: t his chronological notice likely relates to the rebellion of Mesha, the well-known king of Moab. its placement here may serve merely as an indicator of the problems that would soon fall on israel.

1:2 Ahaziah: t he account of his brief, wicked reign begins in 1 Kin. 22:51. t he division of the Book of Kings into two parts was for the convenience of the translators, as is indicated by the fact that Ahaziah’s reign carries over from one book to the other without a break.

lattice of his upper room: Houses in ancient israel usually had one story. Palaces and grander houses would have had a second level. t he upper stories commonly had balconies enclosed with latticework, allowing for the flow of air while maintaining protection from the sun and a certain privacy. such latticework could easily be broken.

1:3 the angel of the LORD: At times this phrase refers to god. But often, and possibly here, this phrase speaks of one who is the Lord’s messenger, but who is somehow distinguished from Him. t he dramatic story of Elijah begins in 1 Kin. 17:1. no God in Israel: t he contempt of the Lord for the errant behavior of the king is palpable in these words. king of Samaria: A king was identified by his country or by his capital city (see 1 Kin. 21:1; 2 Chr. 24:23; Jon. 3:6). t his is just another title for the king of israel. god of Ekron: Ahaziah followed the Baal worship of his father. t he cult of Baal was strongly identified with Ekron, a city well known for its practice of divination (1 sam. 6:2; is. 2:6). Ahaziah sent his messenger to Ekron not only because the city was nearby but probably because he hoped to keep the nature and extent of his injury secret. in ancient times, a king who was seriously injured or ill would be vulnerable to opportunistic attempts on his life and throne. t hus in his own view, and likely through the counsel of his advisors, Ahaziah did the “smart thing.” it was not, however, the right thing.

1:4 t he determination of god was that the king would die for his sins. t he king had sought a divine message from a foreign god, but received the Lord’s word nonetheless.

1:5, 6 t he messengers of the king were prevented by Elijah from completing their errand. god did not want any sham message coming and encouraging the wicked king. He had already received the word of the living god (v. 4).

1:7, 8 Although hairy may refer to Elijah’s garments, the usual translation hairy man is supported by the ancient versions. Ahaziah knew the man was his opponent, Elijah the Tishbite (see 1 Kin. 17:1).

1:10 fire . . . from heaven: Heavenly fire could signal divine judgment (see gen. 19:24). Elijah had already called down such fire in his contest with the prophets of Baal (1 Kin. 18:36–38). t his fire was likely lightning. Baal was not the god of the storm he was reputed to be. t he god of israel was—and is—the Lord of creation.

1:13 Fifty men were a military unit attested elsewhere in the literature of the ancient Middle East. Each captain of fifty approached Elijah with a growing fear of the power of god associated with this great prophet.

is it because there is no God in Israel to inquire of His word? Therefore you shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.”

<sup>17</sup>So Ahaziah died according to the word of the LORD which Elijah had spoken. Because he had no son, Jehoram<sup>6</sup> became king in his place, in the second year of Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah.

<sup>18</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Ahaziah which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

Elijah Ascends to Heaven

2 And it came to pass, when the LORD was about to <sup>a</sup>take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elijah went with <sup>b</sup>Elisha from Gilgal. <sup>2</sup>Then Elijah said to Elisha, “Stay here, please, for the LORD has sent me on to Bethel.”

But Elisha said, “As the LORD lives, and <sup>d</sup>as your soul lives, I will not leave you!” So they went down to Bethel.

<sup>3</sup>Now <sup>e</sup>the sons of the prophets who were at Bethel came out to Elisha, and said to him, “Do you know that the LORD will take away your master <sup>f</sup>from over you today?”

And he said, “Yes, I know; keep silent!”

<sup>4</sup>Then Elijah said to him, “Elisha, stay here, please, for the LORD has sent me on to Jericho.”

But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you!” So they came to Jericho.

were at Jericho came to Elisha and said to him, “Do you know that the LORD will take away your master from over you today?”

So he answered, “Yes, I know; keep silent!”

<sup>6</sup>Then Elijah said to him, “Stay here, please, for the LORD has sent me on to the Jordan.”

But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you!” So the two of them went on. <sup>7</sup>And fifty men of the sons of the prophets went and stood facing them at a distance, while the two of them stood by the Jordan. <sup>8</sup>Now Elijah took his mantle, rolled it up, and struck the water; and <sup>f</sup>it was divided this way and that, so that the two of them crossed over on dry <sup>g</sup>ground.

<sup>9</sup>And so it was, when they had crossed over, that Elijah said to Elisha, “Ask! What may I do for you, before I am taken away from you?”

Elisha said, “Please let a double portion of your spirit be upon me.”

<sup>10</sup>So he said, “You have asked a hard thing. Nevertheless, if you see me when I am taken from you, it shall be so for you; but if not, it shall not be so.” <sup>11</sup>Then it happened, as they continued on and talked, that suddenly <sup>h</sup>a chariot of fire appeared with horses of fire, and separated the two of them; and Elijah <sup>i</sup>went up by a whirlwind into heaven.

<sup>12</sup>And Elisha saw it, and he cried out, <sup>j</sup>“My father, my father, the chariot of Israel and its horsemen!” So he saw him no more. And he took hold of his own clothes and tore them into two pieces.

1:17 So Ahaziah died: t he prophetic word was fulfilled as announced. no son: t his meant that the dynasty had ended. A king named Jehoram thus ruled in both kingdoms.

1:18 the rest of the acts: t his follows the usual pattern for recording the obituaries of the kings of the northern kingdom.

2:1 about to take up Elijah into heaven: t he story that follows is so extraordinary that the narrator introduces its subject early.

2:2-6 Stay here: t he tripling of these incidents is similar to the tripling of the incidents of ch. 1 (the three bands of 50 soldiers who came to seize Elijah). As the LORD lives: Elisha made a solemn promise three times in these same verses; he determined that he would remain by his master Elijah no matter what might occur.

2:3 take away: t he same Hebrew verb is used for Enoch's entrance to heaven (gen. 5:24), t he work that god was about to do had been divinely revealed to many of god's servants (see vv. 3, 5), t his widespread knowledge of god's purpose would protect against later denials by cynical persons that the event had ever taken place. keep silent: it is not clear what prompted Elisha's harsh words here (and in v. 5).

2:8 t he water was the Jordan river (vv. 7, 13), somewhere near Jericho. Elijah was like Moses in that his life and ministry show many parallels to that of israel's greatest prophet. As Moses had divided the waters of the red sea in the final act of the redemption of israel from Egypt (Ex. 14), so now Elijah replicated this miracle by dividing the waters of the Jordan. t he difference is that Elijah did not use the power of god as a great redeeming miracle as Moses had done, but as an almost casual demonstration of god's wonders as he was walking on his way.

2:9 double portion: Although the narrative reports twice as many miracles for Elisha as Elijah, that was not the point of Elisha's request. His real request was that he would be Elijah's spiritual successor (Deut. 21:17). it was not a double portion of Elijah's goods that Elisha wanted but a double portion of his spirit. in material things, the principal heir received a double portion of his father's goods. Elisha wanted the principle of primary inheritance to apply to spiritual things. nearby were all sorts of prophets. All of them would be his heirs. Any one of them might become the leading successor of Elijah. We may assume from the life he lived that Elisha's request was not due to pride. He simply wanted to be the man of god who would follow Elijah's model.

2:11 in one of the most dramatic scenes in the Bible, heaven opened, a fiery chariot with fiery horses appeared, a whirlwind blew, and the prophet of god vanished alive into heaven. t he fire associated with the chariot and the horses indicate the presence of god, much as the fiery angels do that isaiah saw stationed around the throne of god (see is. 6:2).

2:12 t he term my father underscores Elijah's relationship to Elisha as his spiritual mentor as well as the greatness of Elijah's reputation. t he whole phrase is repeated at Elisha's passing (13:14). While these words were a tribute to Elijah on this great occasion, Elisha's accompanying actions indicated his personal sorrow at the loss of his spiritual master and friend.

<sup>13</sup>He also took up the mantle of Elijah that had fallen from him, and went back and stood by the bank of the Jordan. <sup>14</sup>Then he took the mantle of Elijah that had fallen from him, and struck the water, and said, “Where is the LORD God of Elijah?” And when he also had struck the water, <sup>k</sup>it was divided this way and that; and Elisha crossed over.

<sup>15</sup>Now when the sons of the prophets who were <sup>l</sup>from <sup>2</sup>Jericho saw him, they said, “The spirit of Elijah rests on Elisha.” And they came to meet him, and bowed to the ground before him. <sup>16</sup>Then they said to him, “Look now, there are fifty strong men with your servants. Please let them go and search for your master, <sup>m</sup>lest perhaps the Spirit of the LORD has taken him up and cast him upon some mountain or into some valley.”

And he said, “You shall not send anyone.”

<sup>17</sup>But when they urged him till he was <sup>n</sup>ashamed, he said, “Send them!” Therefore they sent fifty men, and they searched for three days but did not find him. <sup>18</sup>And when they came back to him, for he had stayed in Jericho, he said to them, “Did I not say to you, ‘Do not go?’”

Elisha Performs Miracles

<sup>19</sup>Then the men of the city said to Elisha, “Please notice, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord sees; but the water is bad, and the ground barren.”

<sup>20</sup>And he said, “Bring me a new bowl, and put salt in it.” So they brought it to him. <sup>21</sup>Then he went out to the source of

<sup>23</sup>Then he went up from there to Beth-el; and as he was going up the road, some youths came from the city and mocked him, and said to him, “Go up, you bald-head! Go up, you baldhead!”

<sup>24</sup>So he turned around and looked at them, and <sup>q</sup>pronounced a curse on them in the name of the LORD. And two female bears came out of the woods and mauled forty-two of the youths.

<sup>25</sup>Then he went from there to <sup>r</sup>Mount Carmel, and from there he returned to Samaria.

Moab Rebels Against Israel

3 Now <sup>a</sup>Jehoram the son of Ahab became king over Israel at Samaria in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigned twelve years. <sup>2</sup>And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, but not like his father and mother; for he put away the sacred pillar of Baal <sup>b</sup>that his father had made. <sup>3</sup>Nevertheless he persisted in <sup>c</sup>the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin; he did not depart from them.

2:13 took up the mantle: Elijah had once laid this mantle on Elisha as a symbolic action (1 Kin. 19:19); now Elisha took up the prophetic status and ministry that the mantle symbolized.

2:14 t he mantle was only a symbol, but in the hands of Elijah it had been an instrument for the power of the living god. t he mantle had been for Elijah what the rod had been for Moses and Aaron (see Ex. 4:1-9; 7:9). it became the symbol of god’s power in the hands of Elisha.

2:15 The spirit of Elijah: t he prophets witnessed both the miracle of Elijah (v. 8) and the similar miracle of Elisha. in this way there would be common agreement that Elisha was the successor of Elijah. t hey bowed, not in worship, but in respect and submission to the will of god.

2:16 fifty strong men: groups of 50 men were often called upon to perform an arduous task (see 1:9-15). t he men decided they needed a search party. Even though they had received a revelation from god that Elijah would be taken to heaven (see v. 3), still they checked things out.

2:17 he was ashamed: Although these words may indicate Elisha’s sense of shame on behalf of his disciples for their disbelief, the use of the phrase elsewhere indicates that it means Elisha was worn out, no longer willing to resist (8:11; see Judg. 3:25). He came to the point where he gave in to their request.

2:20 Elisha performed a purification ceremony (see Lev. 2:13; n um. 18:19). t he salt taken from a new bowl and cast into the water symbolized the cleansing of the water for new use.

2:21, 22 t he miracle was done in the name of god; Elisha was only

His instrument. to this day: t hat is, at the day of the writing of the account.

2:23 Go up, you baldhead: While the severity of the sentence has been questioned, the words of the youths indicated their disbelief of Elijah’s “going up” into heaven (see v. 11) and their disrespect for god’s prophet. god did not tolerate blasphemy against Himself by the demeaning of Elijah’s departure, or the abuse of His prophet, whom He had called for an important task at a critical period in israel’s history.

2:25 Elisha made his home on Mount Carmel (see 4:25), as well as in Samaria (see 5:3).

3:2 sacred pillar of Baal: Probably this was a stone pillar or statue erected by Ahab and bearing an inscription and image of the god Baal. Although it was put away temporarily, it apparently was not destroyed, because it later became one of the objects of Jehu’s purge (10:26, 27).

3:4 Mesha king of Moab: t he existence of this Moabite king is confirmed by an inscription on a pillar known as the Moabite stone. t he inscription indicates that Omri had conquered the plains of Moab north of the Arnon r iver and that the area remained under israelite control throughout Ahab’s reign. t hus the events of this chapter probably took place after Jehoram’s accession and shortly before Jehoshaphat’s death in 847 b.c. (1:1). sheepbreeder: t his Hebrew word is used only of Mesha and of Amos the prophet (Amos 1:1). As for Mesha, his business must have been enormous if he could pay such an exorbitant tribute.

Moabite Stone

Discovered in Moab by a German missionary in 1868, this black basalt stone is nearly four feet high and contains about 34 lines of writing similar to Hebrew. The stone was probably erected about 850 B.C., and the story written on it celebrates King Mesha's overthrow of the nation of Israel (although the biblical account makes it clear that Israel was victorious in the battle). The stone shows that Mesha honors his god Chemosh in terms similar to the OT reverence for the Lord. Besides telling of his violent conquests, Mesha boasted on the stone of the building of cities (with Israelite forced labor) and the construction of cisterns, walls, gates, towers, a king's palace, and even a highway. The Moabite Stone has profound biblical relevance. Historically, it confirms OT accounts; it has a theological parallel to Israel's worship of one god, and it is valuable geographically because it mentions no less than 15 sites listed in the OT.

<sup>6</sup>So King Jehoram went out of Samaria at that time and mustered all Israel. <sup>7</sup>Then he went and sent to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, saying, “The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you go with me to fight against Moab?”

And he said, “I will go up; I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses.” <sup>8</sup>Then he said, “Which way shall we go up?”

And he answered, “By way of the Wilderness of Edom.”

<sup>9</sup>So the king of Israel went with the king of Judah and the king of Edom, and they marched on that roundabout route seven days; and there was no water for the army, nor for the animals that followed them. <sup>10</sup>And the king of Israel said, “Alas! For the Lord has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hand of Moab.”

<sup>11</sup>But <sup>h</sup>Jehoshaphat said, “Is there no prophet of the Lord here, that we may inquire of the Lord by him?”

So one of the servants of the king of Israel answered and said, “Elisha the son of Shaphat is here, who <sup>i</sup>‘poured’ <sup>j</sup>water on the hands of Elijah.”

<sup>12</sup>And Jehoshaphat said, “The word of the Lord is with him.” So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat and the king of Edom <sup>j</sup>went down to him.

<sup>13</sup>Then Elisha said to the king of Israel, <sup>k</sup>“What have I to do with you? <sup>l</sup>Go to <sup>m</sup>the prophets of your father and the <sup>n</sup>‘prophets of your mother.’”

But the king of Israel said to him, “No, for the Lord has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hand of Moab.”

<sup>14</sup>And Elisha said, <sup>o</sup>“As the Lord of hosts lives, before whom I stand, surely were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, I would not look at you, nor see you. <sup>15</sup>But now bring me <sup>p</sup>a musician.”

Then it happened, when the musician <sup>q</sup>played, that <sup>r</sup>the hand of the Lord came upon him. <sup>16</sup>And he said, “Thus says the Lord: <sup>s</sup>‘Make this valley full of <sup>2</sup>ditches.’ <sup>17</sup>For thus says the Lord: ‘You shall not see wind, nor shall you see rain; yet that valley shall be filled with water, so that you, your cattle, and your animals may drink.’ <sup>18</sup>And this is a simple matter in the sight of the Lord; He will also deliver the Moabites into your hand. <sup>19</sup>Also you shall attack every fortified city and every choice city, and shall cut down every good tree, and stop up every spring of water, and ruin every good piece of land with stones.”

<sup>20</sup>Now it happened in the morning, when <sup>t</sup>the grain offering was offered, that

3:6 The rebellion of Moab provoked Jehoram into a punitive war.

3:7 Will you go with me: Because Jehoshaphat was related to the throne of the northern kingdom through the marriage of his son Jehoram to Ahab's daughter Athaliah, it could be presumed that he would be available as an ally. Because Edom had been added to the orbit of Judah as a result of an earlier war, Jehoshaphat proposed that they march through Edom to attack the Moabite territory. His route for their forces would avoid Moabite border fortresses and bring the attack from their rear.

3:9, 10 The route was very difficult. no water: in such a military campaign as this, both men and animals needed more water than they could carry with them.

3:11 prophet of the Lord: A prophet or diviner often traveled with armies on their campaigns. While the account apparently focuses on the military campaign as such, the crucial role of Elisha in the story emphasizes the importance of the prophetic office in ancient Israel.

3:13 prophets of your father: Elisha spoke scathingly about the wicked kings of the north consulting with prophets of Baal (1:2, 3).

3:14 as the Lord of hosts lives . . . I stand: This is the same language used by Elijah (see 1 Kin. 17:1). I would not look at you: As a devotee of Baal, Jehoram had no claim on the favor of God. Nevertheless, he would enjoy the benefits of God's grace toward Jehoshaphat.

3:15 Elisha's call for a musician is an effort to achieve an atmosphere free of war and strife so that he might concentrate on the anticipated divine revelation.

3:16–19 As in connection with many OT miracles, the prophet's words carry instructions for human participation (4:3, 4, 41; 6:6), in order that man's faith and the divine provision may each have their proper part.

3:20 filled with water: The dry stream beds can easily overflow their banks in downpours of rain. Even distant areas can be flooded by water from faraway mountain streams swelled by heavy rains.

suddenly water came by way of Edom, and the land was filled with water.

<sup>21</sup>And when all the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to fight against them, all who were able to bear arms and older were <sup>3</sup>gathered; and they stood at the border. <sup>22</sup>Then they rose up early in the morning, and the sun was shining on the water; and the Moabites saw the water on the other side as red as blood. <sup>23</sup>And they said, “This is blood; the kings have surely struck swords and have killed one another; now therefore, Moab, to the spoil!”

<sup>24</sup>So when they came to the camp of Israel, Israel rose up and attacked the Moabites, so that they fled before them; and they entered their land, killing the Moabites. <sup>25</sup>Then they destroyed the cities, and each man threw a stone on every good piece of land and filled it; and they stopped up all the springs of water and cut down all the good trees. But they left the stones of “Kir Haraseth intact. However the slingers surrounded and attacked it.

<sup>26</sup>And when the king of Moab saw that the battle was too fierce for him, he took with him seven hundred men who drew swords, to break through to the king of Edom, but they could not. <sup>27</sup>Then <sup>v</sup>he took his eldest son who would have reigned in his place, and offered him as a burnt offering upon the wall; and there was great <sup>4</sup>indignation against Israel. <sup>w</sup>So they departed from him and returned to their own land.

Elisha and the Widow's Oil

4 A certain woman of the wives of <sup>a</sup>the sons of the prophets cried out to Elisha, saying, “Your servant my husband is dead, and you know that your servant feared the LORD. And the creditor is coming <sup>b</sup>to take my two sons to be his slaves.”

<sup>2</sup>So Elisha said to her, “What shall I do for you? Tell me, what do you have in the house?” And she said, “Your maid-servant has nothing in the house but a jar of oil.”

<sup>3</sup>Then he said, “Go, borrow vessels from everywhere, from all your neighbors—empty vessels; <sup>c</sup>do not gather just a few. <sup>4</sup>And when you have come in, you shall shut the door behind you and your sons; then pour it into all those vessels, and set aside the full ones.”

<sup>5</sup>So she went from him and shut the door behind her and her sons, who brought the vessels to her; and she poured it out. <sup>6</sup>Now it came to pass, when the vessels were full, that she said to her son, “Bring me another vessel.”

And he said to her, “There is not another vessel.” So the oil ceased. <sup>7</sup>Then she came and told the man of God. And he said, “Go, sell the oil and pay your debt; and you and your sons live on the rest.”

Elisha Raises the Shunammite's Son

<sup>8</sup>Now it happened one day that Elisha went to <sup>d</sup>Shunem, where there was a <sup>1</sup>notable woman, and she <sup>2</sup>persuaded him to eat some food. So it was, as often as he passed by, he would turn in there to eat some food. <sup>9</sup>And she said to her husband, “Look now, I know that this is a holy man of God, who passes by us regularly. <sup>10</sup>Please, let us make <sup>3</sup>a small upper room on the wall; and let us put a bed for him there, and a table and a chair and a lampstand; so it will be, whenever he comes to us, he can turn in there.”

<sup>11</sup>And it happened one day that he came there, and he turned in to the upper room and lay down there. <sup>12</sup>Then he said to <sup>e</sup>Gehazi his servant, “Call this Shunammite woman.” When he had called her, she stood before him. <sup>13</sup>And he said to him, “Say now to her, ‘Look, you have been concerned for us with all this care. What can I do for you? Do you want me to speak on your behalf to the king or to the commander of the army?’”

3:23 This is blood: t he red water looked like blood, and the Moabite king assumed falsely that the former enemies had once again fallen out with each other. it was a tragic miscalculation.

4:1 A certain woman: t he fate of widows was perilous in the ancient Middle East. A practical test of biblical piety was to observe how those in power treated widows and orphans (see Job 24:21; Ps. 146:9). creditor: Both the Bible (see Lev. 25:39–45) and other ancient laws permitted selling one’s family members into slavery for payment of debts. god’s law worked toward limiting the abuse and the length of time in such a situation.

4:2 t he small flask held olive oil intended for anointing, rather than food or fuel. such a small flask was not very valuable.

4:7 Elisha is called the man of God throughout this section (vv. 16, 21, 22, 25, 27). t he word god in Hebrew is literally “the god,” meaning the true or genuine god. sell . . . pay . . . live: Elisha met not only her immediate needs but the long-range ones as well.

4:8, 9 t he friendship of Elisha with the woman at Shunem is also similar to the friendship of Elijah with the widow of Zarephath (1 Kin. 17:8–16). holy man of God: t he adjective describes Elisha, a man she perceived was truly set apart for the ministry of god.

4:10 upper room: s uch quarters were commonly on the roof and could be reached from the outside. t his accommodated the guest while providing privacy. r ecognizing Elisha as one of god’s choice servants, the shunammite woman was especially concerned that the normal measures of hospitality be applied even more fully.

4:12 t he term for servant often means a person engaged in a period of training. r ather than looking down upon this role, such a servant could consider the position an opportunity. Often these were responsible duties. t he same word was also used of Elisha’s own relation to Elijah (1 Kin. 19:21). Unfortunately, g ehazi would not prove as worthy of his master’s trust as Elisha had been of Elijah’s.

She answered, “I dwell among my own people.”

<sup>14</sup>So he said, “What then is to be done for her?”

And Gehazi answered, “Actually, she has no son, and her husband is old.”

<sup>15</sup>So he said, “Call her.” When he had called her, she stood in the doorway. <sup>16</sup>Then he said, <sup>4</sup>“About this time next year you shall embrace a son.”

And she said, “No, my lord. Man of God, <sup>f</sup>do not lie to your maidservant!”

<sup>17</sup>But the woman conceived, and bore a son when the appointed time had come, of which Elisha had told her.

<sup>18</sup>And the child grew. Now it happened one day that he went out to his father, to the reapers. <sup>19</sup>And he said to his father, “My head, my head!”

So he said to a servant, “Carry him to his mother.” <sup>20</sup>When he had taken him and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees till noon, and then died. <sup>21</sup>And she went up and laid him on the bed of the man of God, shut the door upon him, and went out. <sup>22</sup>Then she called to her husband, and said, “Please send me one of the young men and one of the donkeys, that I may run to the man of God and come back.”

<sup>23</sup>So he said, “Why are you going to him today? It is neither the <sup>g</sup>New Moon nor the Sabbath.”

And she said, <sup>5</sup>“It is well.” <sup>24</sup>Then she saddled a donkey, and said to her servant, “Drive, and go forward; do not slacken the pace for me unless I tell you.” <sup>25</sup>And so she departed, and went to the man of God <sup>h</sup>at Mount Carmel.

So it was, when the man of God saw her afar off, that he said to his servant Gehazi, “Look, the Shunammite woman! <sup>26</sup>Please run now to meet her, and say to her, “Is it well with you? Is it well with your husband? Is it well with the child?”

And she answered, “It is well.” <sup>27</sup> Now when she came to the man of God at the hill, she caught him by the feet, but Gehazi came near to push her away. But the man of God said, “Let her alone; for her soul is in deep distress, and the LORD has hidden it from me, and has not told me.”

<sup>28</sup> So she said, “Did I ask a son of my lord? <sup>i</sup> Did I not say, ‘Do not deceive me?’”

<sup>29</sup> Then he said to Gehazi, <sup>j</sup> “Get <sup>6</sup> yourself ready, and take my staff in your hand, and be on your way. If you meet anyone, <sup>k</sup> do not greet him; and if anyone greets you, do not answer him; but <sup>l</sup> lay my staff on the face of the child.”

<sup>30</sup> And the mother of the child said, <sup>m</sup> “As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not <sup>n</sup> leave you.” So he arose and followed her. <sup>31</sup> Now Gehazi went on ahead of them, and laid the staff on the face of the child; but there was neither voice nor hearing. Therefore he went back to meet him, and told him, saying, “The child has <sup>o</sup> not awakened.”

<sup>32</sup> When Elisha came into the house, there was the child, lying dead on his bed. <sup>33</sup> He <sup>p</sup> went in therefore, shut the door behind the two of them, <sup>q</sup> and prayed to the LORD. <sup>34</sup> And he went up and lay on the child, and put his mouth on his mouth, his eyes on his eyes, and his hands on his hands; and <sup>r</sup> he stretched himself out on the child, and the flesh of the child became warm. <sup>35</sup> He returned and walked back and forth in the house, and again went up <sup>s</sup> and stretched himself out on him; then <sup>t</sup> the child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes. <sup>36</sup> And he called Gehazi and said, “Call this Shunammite woman.” So he

4:14–16 Elisha decided that the best thing he could do for the woman was promise her the birth of a son, despite her years of frustration about this. do not lie: t he shunammite woman felt that even Elisha could not fulfill such a promise.

4:17 t he birth of the son to the woman was similar to the fulfillment of the promise of god in the birth of isaac (gen. 21).

4:21 the bed of the man of God: t he shunammite’s action speaks strongly of her faith. Despite her overwhelming sorrow, she placed the fate of her child close to Elisha, through whose word, and by means of god’s mercy, she had gained her son in the first place. Placing the body on the bed of the man of god also kept his death a secret until she could reach Elisha, from whom she had once seen the impossible accomplished. Again, compare the story of Elijah and the son of the woman of Zarephath (1 Kin. 17:17–24).

4:23 New Moon . . . Sabbath: t here was no work on these days and so they would be most suitable for seeing the prophet (see Ex. 20:9–12; Amos 8:5).

4:26, 27 Elisha knew that something was wrong by the furious way she drove (v. 24), but god had not made the particular issue known to the prophet. the LORD has hidden: t he prophets did not know everything. t hey only knew what god made known to them (5:26).

caught him by the feet: t his action is a mark of humility and reverence (see Matt. 28:9).

4:28 Did I ask: Her pain in the death of her child was worse than the emptiness she had felt before he was born. it was the prophet’s fault, she charged. Yet it was to the prophet she had come for help.

4:29 Elisha’s staff, like Elijah’s mantle (see 2:13, 14), was symbolic of the power of god and the authority of the prophet. Laid upon the body of the child, the staff would signify that the prophet intended to come, and that he had faith that god would restore the boy.

4:30 As the LORD lives: With this oath, the woman asserted her faith in the living god (1 Kin. 17:1). Elisha had used similar language when he refused to leave Elijah (2:2, 4, 6). n ow he heard these words from her.

4:32–37 Elisha’s actions demonstrate that his faith was in the person and power of god alone, and not in the staff that symbolized his prophetic office. Although he repeated the symbolic actions learned from Elijah his teacher (see 1 Kin. 17:17–22), his faith transcended mere symbol and ritual. He sought god who alone can grant life and perform the miraculous (Ps. 36:9; 49:7–9). t he restoration of the boy’s life (compare vv. 32, 35) is a demonstration that life itself is in the hands of god (1 Kin. 17:23).

called her. And when she came in to him, he said, “Pick up your son.” <sup>37</sup> So she went in, fell at his feet, and bowed to the ground; then she “picked up her son and went out.

Elisha Purifies the Pot of Stew

<sup>38</sup> And Elisha returned to <sup>v</sup> Gilgal, and there was a <sup>w</sup> famine in the land. Now the sons of the prophets were <sup>x</sup> sitting before him; and he said to his servant, “Put on the large pot, and boil stew for the sons of the prophets.” <sup>39</sup> So one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine, and gathered from it a lapful of wild gourds, and came and sliced them into the pot of stew, though they did not know what they were. <sup>40</sup> Then they served it to the men to eat. Now it happened, as they were eating the stew, that they cried out and said, “Man of God, there is <sup>y</sup> death in the pot!” And they could not eat it.

<sup>41</sup> So he said, “Then bring some flour.” And <sup>z</sup> he put it into the pot, and said, “Serve it to the people, that they may eat.” And there was nothing harmful in the pot.

Elisha Feeds One Hundred Men

<sup>42</sup> Then a man came from <sup>a</sup> Baal Shalisha, <sup>b</sup> and brought the man of God bread of the firstfruits, twenty loaves of barley bread, and newly ripened grain in his knapsack. And he said, “Give it to the people, that they may eat.”

He said again, “Give it to the people, that they may eat; for thus says the LORD: <sup>d</sup> ‘They shall eat and have some left over.’”

<sup>44</sup> So he set it before them; and they ate <sup>e</sup> and had some left over, according to the word of the LORD.

Naaman's Leprosy Healed

5 Now <sup>a</sup> Naaman, commander of the army of the king of Syria, was <sup>b</sup> a great and honorable man in the eyes of his master, because by him the LORD had given victory to Syria. He was also a mighty man of valor, but a leper. <sup>2</sup> And the Syrians had gone out <sup>c</sup> on <sup>1</sup> raids, and had brought back captive a young girl from the land of Israel. She <sup>2</sup> waited on Naaman's wife. <sup>3</sup> Then she said to her mistress, “If only my master were with the prophet who is in Samaria! For he would heal him of his leprosy.” <sup>4</sup> And Naaman went in and told his master, saying, “Thus and thus said the girl who is from the land of Israel.”

<sup>5</sup> Then the king of Syria said, “Go now, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel.”

So he departed and <sup>d</sup> took with him ten talents of silver, six thousand shekels of gold, and ten changes of clothing. <sup>6</sup> Then he brought the letter to the king of Israel, which said,

Now be advised, when this letter comes to you, that I have sent Naaman my servant to you, that you may heal him of his leprosy.

<sup>7</sup> And it happened, when the king of Israel read the letter, that he tore his clothes and said, “Am I <sup>e</sup> God, to kill and make alive, that this man sends a man to me to heal him of his leprosy? Therefore please consider, and see how he seeks a quarrel with me.”

<sup>8</sup> So it was, when Elisha the man of God heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, that he sent to the king, saying, “Why have you torn your clothes? Please let him come to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Israel.”

4:38 Gilgal was the first place the israelites camped after crossing the Jordan into Canaan (Josh. 4:19, 20). gilgal was probably about one mile northeast of Jericho. sitting before him: Elisha sat at the head of the sons of the prophets.

4:39, 40 t he wild gourds were poisonous. death in the pot: t he reaction of the hungry men was immediate and frightening.

4:41 t he flour had no magical properties, of course. Elisha's faith in the living god effected the miraculous cure.

4:42–44 Baal Shalisha was near gilgal. t he firstfruits were to be presented to god and His priests (Lev. 23:15–17, 20). With an entrenched false priesthood and a debased state religion prevailing in the northern kingdom, the man brought his offering to Elisha. t he faithful prophet miraculously multiplied the loaves—with some left over.

5:1 t his Aramean general Naaman was a remarkable figure in biblical history. t his verse is filled with phrases describing his character, his honor, and his ability. s urprisingly, we read that his military victories were granted by the LORD. t he Hebrew word translated leper refers to any of several serious skin diseases (Lev. 13:1–46; num. 5:1–4), including certain fungus (Lev. 13:47–56; 14:33–57). t he king of Syria was Ben-Hadad ii (860–842 b.c.). He was a constant threat to the northern kingdom and would lead an invasion against it later (6:24—7:20).

5:2 captive . . . young girl: god used the testimony of a Jewish servant girl and brought the commanding general of israel's greatest military foe to biblical faith.

5:3 the prophet . . . in Samaria: Although Elisha traveled frequently and may sometimes have lived at Mt. Carmel (see 4:25), he apparently maintained a residence in the capital city of samaria (see vv. 9, 24; 2:25; 6:9—7:20).

5:4, 5 it is a measure of the respect that the Aramean king had for his general that he granted his unusual request. naaman's gifts are a measure of his wealth—and of his great personal need.

5:6 While such letters of introduction were common in the ancient Middle East, Ben-Hadad's frequent forays against israel made the king suspicious that the Aramean king was seeking a pretext for yet another invasion of israelite territory (see v. 2).

5:8 torn his clothes: tearing a robe could be a sign of grief or agitation (see 11:14), as well as a mark of the sorrow that leads to repentance (Joel 2:13).

<sup>9</sup>Then Naaman went with his horses and chariot, and he stood at the door of Elisha's house. <sup>10</sup>And Elisha sent a messenger to him, saying, "Go and <sup>f</sup>wash in the Jordan seven times, and your flesh shall be restored to you, and you shall be clean." <sup>11</sup>But Naaman became furious, and went away and said, "Indeed, I said to myself, 'He will surely come out to me, and stand and call on the name of the LORD his God, and wave his hand over the place, and heal the leprosy.' <sup>12</sup>Are not the <sup>3</sup>Abanah and the Pharpar, the rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? Could I not wash in them and be clean?" So he turned and went away in a rage. <sup>13</sup>And his <sup>g</sup>servants came near and spoke to him, and said, "My father, if the prophet had told you to do something great, would you not have done it? How much more then, when he says to you, 'Wash, and be clean?'" <sup>14</sup>So he went down and dipped seven times in the Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God; and his <sup>h</sup>flesh was restored like the flesh of a little child, and <sup>i</sup>he was clean.

<sup>15</sup>And he returned to the man of God, he and all his aides, and came and stood before him; and he said, "Indeed, now I know that there is <sup>j</sup>no God in all the earth, except in Israel; now therefore, please take <sup>k</sup>a gift from your servant."

<sup>16</sup>But he said, <sup>l</sup>"As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, <sup>m</sup>I will receive nothing." And he urged him to take it, but he refused.

<sup>17</sup>So Naaman said, "Then, if not, please let your servant be given two mule-loads of earth; for your servant will no longer offer either burnt offering or sacrifice to other gods, but to the LORD. <sup>18</sup>Yet in this

So he departed from him a short distance.

Gehazi's Greed

<sup>20</sup>But <sup>o</sup>Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said, "Look, my master has spared Naaman this Syrian, while not receiving from his hands what he brought; but as the LORD lives, I will run after him and take something from him." <sup>21</sup>So Gehazi pursued Naaman. When Naaman saw him running after him, he got down from the chariot to meet him, and said, "Is all well?"

<sup>22</sup>And he said, "All is <sup>p</sup>well. My master has sent me, saying, 'Indeed, just now two young men of the sons of the prophets have come to me from the mountains of Ephraim. Please give them a talent of silver and two changes of garments.'"

<sup>23</sup>So Naaman said, "Please, take two talents." And he urged him, and bound two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and handed them to two of his servants; and they carried them on ahead of him. <sup>24</sup>When he came to <sup>4</sup>the citadel, he took them from their hand, and stored them away in the house; then he let the men go, and they departed. <sup>25</sup>Now he went in and stood before his master. Elisha said to him, "Where did you go, Gehazi?"

And he said, "Your servant did not go anywhere."

5:9 at the door: For some reason Elisha did not meet with the general face to face. Perhaps it was because contact with one with skin disorder would render the prophet unclean and therefore cut off his ministry with others (see n um. 5:1–4).

5:10 Elisha's instruction for naaman to wash seven times in the Jordan emphasizes that the full cure for naaman's condition could be effected solely by the power of israel's sovereign god. t he proud Aramean needed a lesson in humility and putting his personal trust in god alone (see v. 15). t he issue was obedience.

5:11, 12 Understandably, naaman's initial response was one of disbelief and anger. t his seemed a very strange and humiliating command for a general in the army of Aram. What, after all, was the Jordan compared to the greater rivers of Aram?
